 the king and his princes, his wiues, and his con-cubines might drinke therein.

3 Then were brought the golden vessels, that were taken out of the Temple of the Lords house at Ierusalem, and the king and his princes, his wiues and his concubines dranke in them.

4 They dranke wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of siluer, of brasse, of yron, of wood, and of stone.

5 At the same houre appeared fingers of a mans hand, which wrote ouer against the candlestick vpon the plaister of the wall of the kings palace, and the king saw the palme of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the kings countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the ioynts of his loynes were loosed, and his knees smote one against the other.

7 Wherefore the king cried lowde, that they should bring the astrologians, the Chaldeans and the soothsayers. And the king spake, and sayd to the wife men of Babel, Whosoever can reade this writing, and declare me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and shall haue a chaine of gold about his necke, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdome.

8 Then came all the kings wife men, but they could neither reade the writing, nor shewe the king the interpretation.

9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his princes were astonied.

10 Now the Queen by reason of the talke of the King and his princes, came into the banquet house, and the Queenspake, and said, O King, liue for euer: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdome, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods, and in the dayes of thy father, light and vnderstanding and wise-dome like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him: whom the king Nebuchad-nezzar thy father, the king, I say, thy father, made chiefe of the enchanters, astrologians, Chaldeans, and soothsayers,

12 Because a more excellent spirit, and knowledge, and vnderstanding (for hee did expound dreames, and declare hard sentences, and dissolved doubts) were found in him, even in Daniel, whom the king named Belshazzar: nowe let Daniel be called, and he will declare the interpretation.

13 ¶ Then was Daniel brought before the king, and the king spake and said vnto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuitie of Iudah, whom my father the king brought out of Iewrie?

14 Now I haue heard of thee, that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and that light and vnderstanding, and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 Now therefore, wise men and Astrologians haue bene brought before mee, that they should reade this writing, and shew mee the interpretation thereof: but they could not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, that thou couldest shew interpretations, and disolue doubts: now if thou canst reade the writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and shalt haue a chaine of gold about thy necke, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel answered, and said before the king, Keepe thy rewards to thy selfe, and giue thy gifts to another: yet I will reade the writing vnto the king, and shew him the interpretation.

18 O king, heare thou, The most high God gaue vnto¹ Nebuchad-nezzar thy father a kingdome, and maiestie, and honour, and glory.

19 And for the maiestie that he gaue him, all people, nations and languages trembled, and feared before him: he put to death whom he would: he smote whom he would: whom he would he set vp, and whom he would he put downe.

20 But when his heart was puffed vp, and his minde hardened in pride, hee was depofed from his kingly throne, and they tooke his honour from him.

21 And hee was drisen from the sonnes of men, and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wilde asses: they fed him with grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of the heauen, till he knew that the most high God bare rule ouer the kingdome of men, and that he appointeth ouer it, whomsoever he pleaseth.

22 And thou his sonne, O Belsazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all these things,

23 But hast lift thy selfe vp against the Lord of heauen, and they haue brought the vessels of his House before thee, and thou and thy princes, thy wiues and thy concubines haue drunk wine in them, and thou hast praised the gods of silver and gold, of brasse, yron, wood and stone, which neither see, neither heare, nor vnderstand: and the God in whose hand thy breath is and all thy wayes, him hast thou not glorified.

24 Then was the palace of the hand sent from him, and hath written this writing.

25 And this is the writing that he hath written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL VPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing, MENE, God hath numbered thy kingdome, and hath finished it.

27 TEKEL, thou art weyed in the balance, and art found too light.

28 PERES, thy kingdome is diuided and giuen to the Medes and Persians.

29 Then at the commandement of Belsazzar they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chaine of gold about his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him that he should be the third ruler in the kingdome.

30 The same night was Belsazzar the king of the Caldeans slaine.

31 And Darius^o of the Medes tooke the kingdome, being threescore and two yeeres old.

It pleased Darius to set ouer the kingdome an hundred and twenty gouernours, which should be ouer the whole kingdome,

2 And ouer these, three rulers (of whom Daniel was one) that the gouernours might giue accompts vnto them, and the king should haue no damage.

3 Now this Daniel^b was preferred aboue the rulers and gouernours, because the spirit was excellent in him, and the king thought to set him ouer the whole realme.

4 Wherefore the rulers and gouernours sought an occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdome: but they could find none occasion nor fault: for hee was so faithfull that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

5 Then said these men, We shall not finde an occasion against this Daniel, except we find a gainst him concerning the Law of his God.

6 Therefore the rulers and these gouernours went together to the King, & said thus vnto him, King Darius liue for ever.

7 All the rulers of thy kingdome, the officers and gouernours, the counsellors and dukes haue consulted together to make a decree for the king, and to establish a statute, that whosoever shall aske a petition of any god or man for thirtie dayes saue of thee, O King, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

8 Now, O King, confirme the decree, and seale the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore King Darius sealed the writing and the decree.

10 Now when Daniel vnderstood that hee had sealed the writing, hee went into his house, and his window being open in his chamber toward Ierusalem, he kneeled vpon his knees threetimes a day, and prayed and praised his God, as he did alforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying, and making supplication vnto his God.

12 So they came and spake vnto the King concerning the Kings decree, Hast thou not sealed the decree, that euery man that shall make request to any God or man within thirtie dayes, saue to thee, O King, shall be cast into the den of Lions? The King answered, and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and sayd vnto the King, This Daniel which is of the children of the captiuitie of Iudah, regardeth not thee, O King, nor the decree that thou hast sealed, but maketh his petition threetimes a day.

14 When the King heard these words, he was fore displeased with himselfe, and set his heart on Daniel, to deliuer him: and hee laboured till the Sunne went downe, to deliuer him.

15 Then these men assembled vnto the King, and sayd vnto the King, Vnderstand, O King, that the lawe of the Medes and Persians^u, that no decree nor statute which the King confirmeth, b Or not be troubled.

b This heathen king preferred Daniel a stranger to all his nobles and familiars, because the graces of God were more excellent in him then in others. c Thus the wicked cannot abide the graces of God in others, but seeke by all occasions to deface them: therefore against such assaults there is no better remedie then to walke uprightly in the feare of God, and to haue a good conscience.

d Herein is condemned the wickedness of the king, who would be set vp as a god, and passed not what wicked lawes hee approved for the maintenance of the same.

e Because hee would not by his sentence show that hee consented to this wicked decree, hee set open his windows toward Ierusalem, when he prayed: both to stirre vp himselfe with the remembrance of Gods promise to his people, when they should pray toward that Temple, and also that other might see, that he would not suffer comfort in heart nor deed for these few daies to any thing that was contrary to Gods glory.

1 Before he read the writing, hee declared to the king his great ingratitude toward God, who could not be moued to giue him the glory, considering his wonderful worke toward his grandfather, and so sheweth that he doeth not fine of ignorance, but of malice.

u After that God had so long time deterred his anger, and patiently waited for thine amendment. n This word is twise written for the certaintie of the thing: shewing that God had most surely counted: signifying also that God hath appointed a terme for all kingdomes, and that a miserable end shall come on all that raise themselves against him. Or warning. o Cyrus his sonne in law gaue him this title of honour, although Cyrus in effect had the dominion.

f Thus the wicked maintain euill lawes by constancie, and authority, which is oft times either lightnesse, or stubburnesse, when as the innocents thereby perishe, and therefore gouernors neither ought to feare, nor be ashamed to breake such.

g This declareth that Darius was not touched with the true knowledge of God, because he doubted of his power.

h My iust cause & vprightnes in this thing wherein I was charged, is approved of God.

i For he did disobey the kings wicked commandement to obey God, and so did no injury to y^e king, who ought to command nothing whereby God should be dishonoured.

k Because he committed himself wholly vnto God whose cause he did defend, he was assured that nothing but good could come vnto him: wherein we see the power of faith, as Heb. 11. 33.

l This is a terrible example against all the wicked, which doe against their conscience make cruell lawes to destroy the children of God, and also admonish Princes how to punish such when their wickednes is come to light: though not in every point, or with like circumstances, yet to execute true iustice vpon them. m This proueth not that Darius did worship God aright, or els was conuerted: for then he would haue destroyed all superstition and idolatrie: and not ouely given God the chiefe place but also haue set him vp, & caused him to be honored according to his word: but this was a certaine confession of Gods power, whereunto he was compelled by this wonderfull miracle. n Which hath not only life in himselfe, but is the onely fountaine of life, and quickeneth all things, so that without him there is no life.

16 ¶ Then the King commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the denue of lions: now the king spake, and said vnto Daniel, Thy God, whom thou alway seruest, euē hee will deliuer thee.

17 And a stone was brought, and layd vpon the mouth of the denue, and the king sealed it with his owne signet, and with the signet of his princes, that the purpose might not bee changed, concerning Daniel.

18 Then the king went vnto his palace, and remained fasting, neither were the instruments of musike brought before him, and his sleepe went from him.

19 ¶ Then the king arose early in the morning, and went in all haste vnto the denue of lions.

20 And when he came to the denue, he cryed with a lamentable voyce vnto Daniel: and the king spake, and said to Daniel, O Daniel, the seruant of the liuing God, is not thy God (whom thou alway seruest) able to deliuer thee from the lions?

21 Then said Daniel vnto the King, O King, liue for euer.

22 My God hath sent his Angel and hath shut the lions mouthes, that they haue not hurt me: for my iustice was found out before him: and vnto thee, O King, I haue done no hurt.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, & commanded that they should take Daniel out of the denue: so Daniel was brought out of the denue, and no manner of hurt was found vpon him, because he ^k beleued in his God.

24 And by the commandement of the king these men which had accused Daniel, were brought, and were ^l cast into the denue of lions, euē they, their children, and their wiues: and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones apieces, or euer they came at the ground of the denue.

25 ¶ Afterward king Darius wrote, Vnto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the world: Peace be multiplied vnto you.

26 I make a decree that in all the dominion of my kingdom, men tremble and feare ^m before the God of Daniel: for he is the ⁿ liuing God, & remaineth for euer: and his kingdom shall not perish, and his dominion shall be euerlasting.

27 He rescueth and deliuereth, and he worketh signes and wonders in heauen and in earth: who hath deliuered Daniel from the power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reigne of Darius and in the reigne of Cyrus of Persia.

CHAP. VII.

3 A vision of foure beasts was shewed vnto Daniel. 8 The true borne of the fourth beast. 27 Of the euerlasting kingdome of Christ.

IN the first yeere of Belshazzar King of Babel, Daniel saw a dreame, and there were visions in his head, vpon his bedde: then he wrote the dreame, and declared the summe of the matter.

2 Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the foure winds of the heauen stoue vpon ^b the great sea:

3 And foure great beastes came vp from the sea one diuers from another.

4 The first was as a ^c lion, & had egles wings: I beheld, till the wings thereof were pluckt off, & it was lifted vp from the earth, and set vpon ^d his feete as a man, and a mans heart was giuen him.

5 And behold, another beast which was the second, was like a ^e beare, & stood vpon the ^e one side: and he had three ribs in his mouth between his teeth, & they said thus vnto him, Arise, and deuoure much flesh.

6 After this, I beheld, and loe, there was another like a ^f leopard, which had vpon his backe ⁱ foure wings of a foule: the beast had also foure heads, and ^k dominion was giuen him.

7 After this, I saw in the visions by night, and behold, the ^l fourth beast was fearefull and terrible and very strong. It had ^m great yron teeth: it deuoured and brake in pieces, & stamped ⁿ the residue vnder his feet: & it was vnlike to the beastes that were before it: for it had ^o ten hornes.

8 As I considered the hornes, beholde, there came vp among them another little ^p horne, before whom there were ^q three of the first hornes pluckt away: & behold, in his horne were ^r eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld till the ^s thrones were set vp, and the ^t Ancient of dayes did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the haire of his head like the pure wooll: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheelles, as burning fire.

10 A fiery streame issued, and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministred vnto him, and tennethousand ^u thousands stood before him: the iudgement was set, and the ^x bookes opened.

which had the empire among them after his death. Seleucus had Asia the great, Antigonus the Iesse, Callander and after him Antipater was King of Macedonia, and Ptolemus had Egypt. ^k It was not of himselfe nor of his owne power that he gate all these countreys: for his armie contained but thirty thousand men, and he ouercame in one battell Darius, which had ten hundred thousand, when he was so heauie with sleepe, that his eyes were scarce open, as the stories report: therefore this power was giuen him of God. ^l That is, the Romane Empire which was a monster and could not be compared to any beast, because the name of none was able to expresse it. ^m Signifying the tyranny and greedinesse of the Romanes. ⁿ That which the Romanes could not quietly enjoy in other countreys, they would giue it to other Kings and rulers, that that at all times when they would, they might take it againe: which liberalitie is here called the stamping of the rest vnder the feet. ^o That is, sundry and diuers prouinces which were gouerned by the deputies and proconsuls, whereof euery one might be compared to a King. ^p Which is meant of Iulius Caesar, Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, and Nero, &c. who were as Kings in effect, but because they could not rule, but by the consent of the Senate, their power is compared to a little horne. For Mahomet came not of the Romane Empire, and the Pope hath no vocation of gouernement: therefore this cannot be applied vnto them, and also in this prophetic the Prophets purpose is chiefly to comfort the Iewes vnto the reuelation of Christ. Some take it for the whole body of Antichrist. ^q Meaning a certaine portion of the tenne hornes: that is, a part from the whole estate was pluckt away. For Augustus tooke from the Senate the libertie of choosing the deputies to send into the prouinces, and tooke the gouernement of certaine countreys to himselfe. ^r These Romane Emperours at the first vsed a certaine humilitie and gentlenesse, and were content that others, as the Consuls, and Senate should beare the name of dignitie, so that they might haue the profite, and therefore in elections and counsils would beaue themselves according as did other Senators: yet against their enemies and those that would resist them, they were fierce & cruell, which is here meant by the proud mouth. ^s Meaning the places where God & his Angels should come to iudge these Monarchies, which iudgement should begin at the first coming of Christ. ^t That is, God which was before all times & is here described as mans nature is able to comprehend some portion of his glory. ^u That is, an infinite number of Angels, which were ready to execute his commandement. ^x This is meant of the first coming of Christ, when as the will of God was plainly reuelled by his Gospel.

b Which signified that there should be horrible troubles & afflictions in the world in all corners of the world, and at sundry times.

c Meaning, the Assyrian & Caldean empire, which was most strong and fierce in power, and most soone come to their authoritie, as though they had had wings to rise: yet their wings was pulled by the Persians, and they went on their lecture, and were made like other men which is here meant by mans heart.

d Meaning, the Persians which were barbarous and cruell.

e They were smal in the beginning and were shut vp in their mountains and had no brute.

f That is, destroyed many kingdomes, and was insatiable.

g To wit, the Angels by Gods commandement, who by this means punished the ingratitude of the world.

h Meaning, Alexander the King of Macedonia.

i That is, his foure chiefe captaines, k Meaning, the King of Macedonia.

l That is, his foure chiefe captaines,

m Signifying the tyranny and greedinesse of the Romanes.

n That which the Romanes could not quietly enjoy in other countreys, they would giue it to other Kings and rulers, that that at all times when they would, they might take it againe: which liberalitie is here called the stamping of the rest vnder the feet.

o That is, sundry and diuers prouinces which were gouerned by the deputies and proconsuls, whereof euery one might be compared to a King.

p Which is meant of Iulius Caesar, Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, and Nero, &c. who were as Kings in effect, but because they could not rule, but by the consent of the Senate, their power is compared to a little horne.

q Meaning a certaine portion of the tenne hornes: that is, a part from the whole estate was pluckt away.

r These Romane Emperours at the first vsed a certaine humilitie and gentlenesse, and were content that others, as the Consuls, and Senate should beare the name of dignitie, so that they might haue the profite, and therefore in elections and counsils would beaue themselves according as did other Senators: yet against their enemies and those that would resist them, they were fierce & cruell, which is here meant by the proud mouth.

s Meaning the places where God & his Angels should come to iudge these Monarchies, which iudgement should begin at the first coming of Christ.

t That is, God which was before all times & is here described as mans nature is able to comprehend some portion of his glory.

u That is, an infinite number of Angels, which were ready to execute his commandement.

x This is meant of the first coming of Christ, when as the will of God was plainly reuelled by his Gospel.

y Meaning, that he was astonied when he sawe these Emperours in such dignitie and pride, and so suddenly destroyed at the coming of Christ, when this fourth Monarchie was subiect to men of other nations.

2 As the three former Monarchies had an end at the time that God appointed, although they flourished for a time, so shall this fourth have, and they that patiently abide Gods appointment shall enjoy the promises a Which is meant of Christ, who had not yet taken vpon him mans nature, neither was the sonne of Dauid according to the flesh, as he was afterward: but appeared then in a figure, and that in the cloudes: that is, being separate from the common sort of men by manifest signes of his diuinity.

b To wit, when he ascended into the heauens, and his diuine maiesty appeared, and all power was giuen vnto him in respect of that that he was our Mediatour. c This is meant of the beginning of Christs kingdome when God the father gaue vnto him all dominion, as to the Mediatour, to the intent that he should gouerne here his Church in earth continually till the time that he brought them to eternall life. d Through the strangenesse of the vision.

e Meaning, of the Angels, as verse 10. f Because Abraham was appointed heire of all the worlde, Roim. 4. 13 and in him all the faithfull, therefore the kingdome thereof is theirs by right, which these foure beasts or tyrants should inuade, and vsurpe vntill the world were restored by Christ: and this was to confirme them that were in troubles, that their afflictions should haue an end at length. g That is, of the most high things, because God hath chosen them out of this world, that they should looke vpe to the heauens, whereon all their hope dependeth. h For the other three Monarchies were gouerned by a King, and the Romane empire by Consuls: the Romanes changed their gouernours yercly, and the other Monarchies retained them for terme of life: also the Romanes were the strongest of all the other, and were neuer quiet among themselves. i Reade verse 7. k This is meant of the fourth beast, which was more terrible then the other. l Meaning the Romane Emperours who were most cruel against the Church of God both of the Iewes & of the Gentiles. m Till God shewed his power in the person of Christ, and by the preaching of the Gospel gaue vnto his me rest, and so obtained a famous name in the world, and were called the Church of God, or the kingdome of God. n Reade the exposition hereof, verse 8. o That is, shall make wicked decrees and proclamations against Gods word, and send throughout all their dominion, to destroy all that did profess it.

11 Then I behelde, y because of the voice of the presumptuous words, which the horne spake: I beheld, euen till the beast was slaine, and his body destroyed, and giuen to the burning fire.

12 As concerning the other beasts, they had taken away their dominion: yet their liues were prolonged for a certaine time and season.

13 As I beheld in visions by night, beheld, a one like the sonne of man came in the cloudes of heauen, and b approached vnto the Ancient of dayes, and they brought him before him.

14 And he gaue him c dominion, and honour and a kingdome, that all people, nations and languages should serue him: his dominion is an euerlasting dominion, which shall neuer bee taken away: and his kingdome shall neuer bee destroyed.

15 I Daniel was d troubled in my spirit, in the middes of my body, and the visions of mine head made me afraid

16 Therefore I came vnto e one of them that stood by, and asked him the trueth of all this: so he tolde me, and shewed me the interpretation of these things.

17 These great beasts which are foure, are foure Kings, which shall arise out of the earth,

18 And they shall take the f kingdome of the Saints of the g most High, which shall possesse the Kingdome for euer, euen for euer and euer.

19 After this, I would know the trueth of the fourth beast, which was so h vntike to all the others, very fearefull, whose teeth were of yron, and his nailes of brasse: which deuoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the i residue vnder his feet.

20 Also to know of the ten hornes that were in his head, and of the other which came vp, before whom three fell, and of the horne that had eyes, & of the mouth that spake presumptuous things, whose k looke was more stout then his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the same l horne made battell against the Saints, yea, & preuailed against them,

22 Vntill m the Ancient of dayes came, and iudgement was giuen to the Saints of the most High: and the time approached, that the Saints possessed the kingdome.

23 Then he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdome in the earth, which shall be vnlike to all the kingdomes, and shall deuoure the whole earth, and shall tread it downe and breake it in pieces.

24 And the ten hornes out of this kingdome are ten Kings that shall rise: and another shall rise after them, and he shall be vnlike to the first, and he shall subdue n three kings,

25 And shall speake words against o the most

High, and shall consume the Saints of the most High, and thinke that he may p change times and lawes, and they shall be giuen into his hand vntil a q time, and times, and the diuiding of time.

26 But the r iudgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion to consume and destroy it vnto the end.

27 And the s kingdome, and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kingdome vnder the whole heauen shall bee giuen to the holy people of the most High, whose kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and all t powers shall serue and obey him.

28 Euen this is the ende of the matter, I Daniel had many u cogitations which troubled mee, and my countenance changed in mee: but I kept the matter in mine heart.

but at length he will assuage these troubles, & shorten the times for his elect sake, Matth. 24. 22. which is here meant by the diuiding of time. r God by his power shall restore things that were out of order, and so destroy this little horne, that it shall neuer rise vp again. s He sheweth wherfore the beast should be destroyed, to wit, that his Church might haue rest and quietnesse, which though they doe not fully enjoy here, yet they haue it in hope, and by the preaching of the Gospel enfully enjoy the beginning thereof, which is meant by these wordes: vnder the heauen: and therefore hee here speaketh of the beginning of Christs kingdome in this world, which kingdome the faithful haue by the participation that they haue with Christ their head. t That is, some of euery sort that beare rule. u Though he had many motions in his heart which moued him to and fro to seeke out this matter curiously: yet he was content with that which God reuealed, and kept it in memory, and wrote it for the vse of the Church.

CHAP. VIII.

A vision of a battell betwene a ramme and a goate. 20 The vnderstanding of the vision.

In the third yere of the reigne of king Belshazzar, a vision appeared vnto mee, euen vnto mee Daniel, a after that which appeared vnto mee at the first.

2 And I saw in a vision, and when I saw it, I was in the palace of Shushan, which is the prouince b of Elam, and in a vision me thought I was by the riuier of Vlai.

3 Then I looked vp and sawe, and behelde, there stood before the riuier a c ramme which had two hornes, and these two hornes were hie: but one was d higher then another, and the highest came vp last.

4 I saw the ramme pushing against the West, and against the North, and against the South: so that no e beasts might stand before him, nor could deliuer out of his hand, but he did what he listed, and became great.

5 And as I considered, beholde, f a goate came from the West over the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and this goate had an g horne that appeared betwene his eyes.

6 And he came vnto the ramme that had the two hornes, whome I had seene standing by the riuier, and ranne vnto him in his fierce rage.

7 And I sawe him come vnto the ramme, and being moued against him he h smote the ramme, and brake his two hornes: and there was no power in the ramme to stand against him, but he cast him downe to the ground, and stamped vpon him, and there was now that could deliuer the ramme out of his power.

8 Therefore the goate waxed exceeding great, and when he was at the strongest his great i horne was broken: & for it came vp foure that p These Emperours shall not consider that they haue their power of God, but thinke it is in their owne power to change Gods lawes and mans, and as it were the order of nature, as appeareth by Octavianus, Tiberius, Caligula, Nero, Domitianus, &c.

q God shall suffer them thus to rage against his Saints for a long time, which is meant by the time & times, r God by his power shall restore things that were out of order, and so destroy this little horne, that it shall neuer rise vp again. s He sheweth wherfore the beast should be destroyed, to wit, that his Church might haue rest and quietnesse, which though they doe not fully enjoy here, yet they haue it in hope, and by the preaching of the Gospel enfully enjoy the beginning thereof, which is meant by these wordes: vnder the heauen: and therefore hee here speaketh of the beginning of Christs kingdome in this world, which kingdome the faithful haue by the participation that they haue with Christ their head. t That is, some of euery sort that beare rule. u Though he had many motions in his heart which moued him to and fro to seeke out this matter curiously: yet he was content with that which God reuealed, and kept it in memory, and wrote it for the vse of the Church.

k appeared toward the foure winds of the heauen
9 And out of one of them came forth ^l a little horne, which waxed very great toward the South, and toward the East, and toward the pleasant land.
10 Yea, it grew vp vnto the hoste of heauen, and it cast downe some of the hoste, and of the starres to the ground, and trode vpon them,
11 And extolled himselfe against the prince of the hoste, from whom the daily sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his Sanctuary was cast downe.
12 And ^l a time shall bee giuen him over the daily sacrifice for the iniquitie: and it shall cast downe the truth to the ground, and thus shall it doe, and prosper.
13 Then I heard one of the Saints speaking, and one of the Saints spake vnto a certaine one, saying, How long shall endure the vision of the daily sacrifice, and the iniquitie of the desolation to tread both the Sanctuary and the y armie vnder foote?
14 And ² he answered me, Vnto the evening and the morning, two thousand and three hundredth: then shall the Sanctuary be cleansed.
15 ¶ Now when I Daniel had seene the vision, and sought for the meaning, beholde, there stood before me ^l like the similitude of a man.
16 And I heard a mans voyce betwene the bankes of Vlai, which called, and said, Gabriel, make this man to vnderstand the vision.
17 So he came where I stood: and when hee came, I was afraid, and fell vpon my face: but he said vnto me, Vnderstand, O sonne of man: for in the last time shall be the vision.
18 Now as he was speaking vnto me, I being asleepe fell on my face to the ground: but he touched me, and set me vp in my place.
19 And he said, Behold, I wil shew thee what shall be in the last ^l wrath: for in the end of the time appointed it shall come.
20 The ramme which thou sawest having two hornes, are the Kings of the Medes and Persians.
21 And the goate is the King of Grecia, and the great horne that is betwene his eyes, is the first King.
22 And that that is broken, and foure stood vp for it, are foure kingdomes, which shall stand vp ^l of that nation, but not ^l in his strength.
23 And in the end of their kingdome, when the rebellious shalbe consumed, a king of ^h fierce countenance, and vnderstanding darke sentences, shall stand vp.
24 And his power shalbe mighty, but not ^l in his strength: and hee shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the ^k mightie, and the holy people.
25 And through his ^l policie also he shal cause craft to prosper in his hand, and hee shall extoll himselfe in his heart, and by ^m peace shall destroy many: hee shall also stand vp against the prince of princes, but he shall be broken downe without hand.
26 And the vision of the evening and the morning, which is declared, is true: therefore seale thou vp the vision, for it shall be after many dayes.
27 And I Daniel was stricken and sicke ^l certaine dayes: but when I rose vp, I did the Kings businesse, and I was astonished at the vision, but none vnderstood it.

IN the first yeere of Darius the sonne of Ahasueros, of the seede of the Medes, which was made King ouer the realme of the Chaldeans, 2 Euen in the first yeere of his reigne, I Daniel vnderstood by ^c bookes the number of the yeeres, whereof the Lord had spoken vnto Ieremiah the Prophet, that he would accomplish seuentie yeeres in the desolation of Ierusalem.
3 And I turned my face vnto the Lord God, and fought by prayer and supplications with fasting and sackcloth and ashes.
4 And I prayed vnto the Lord my God, and made my confession, saying, O Lord God which art great and fearefull, and keepest couenant and mercie toward them which loue [†] thee, and toward them that keepe thy commandments,
5 We haue sinned and haue committed iniquitie, and haue done wickedly, yea, we haue rebelled, and haue departed from thy precepts, and from thy iudgements.
6 For we would not obey thy seruants the Prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, and to all the people of the land.
7 O Lord, [†] righteousnes belongeth vnto thee, and vnto vs [†] open shame, as appeareth this day vnto euery man of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, yea, vnto all Israel, both neere and farre off, through all the countreys, whither thou hast driuen them, because of their offences, that they haue committed against thee.
8 O Lord, vnto vs apperteineth open shame, to our Kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we haue sinned against thee.
9 Yet compassion and forgiuenesse is in the Lord our God, albeit we haue rebelled against him.
10 For we haue not obeyed the ^h voyce of the Lord our God, to walke in his lawes, which hee hath laid before vs by the ministry of his seruants the Prophets.
11 Yea, all Israel haue transgressed thy Law, and are turned backe, and haue not heard thy voyce: therefore the [†] curse is powred vpon vs, and the othe that is written in the Law of Moses excuseth the Kings because of their authoritie, but prayeth chiefly for them as the chiefe occasions of these great plagues. h He sheweth that they rebell against God, which serue him not according to his commandment and word. i As Deut. 17. 15 or the curse confirmed by an othe.

the servant of God, because wee have sinned against him.

12 And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against vs, and against our iudges that I iudged vs, by bringing vpon vs a great plague: for vnder the whole heauen hath not bene the like, as hath bene brought vpon Ierusalem.

13 All this plague is come vpon vs, as it is written in the Law of Moses: yet made wee not our prayer before the Lord our God, that wee might turne from our iniquities and vnderstand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord made readie the plague, and brought it vpon vs: for the Lord our God is righteous in al his works which he doth: for we would not heare his voyce.

15 * And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people out of the lande of Egypt with a mightie hand, and hast gotten thee renowne, as appeareth this day, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly.

16 O Lord, according to all thy ^k righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy wrath be turned away from the citie Ierusalem thine holy Mountaine: for because of our sinnes, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Ierusalem and thy people are a reproch to all that are about vs.

17 Now therefore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine vpon thy Sanctuary, that lieth waste for the Lords sake.

18 O my God, encline thine eare and heare: open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the citie whereupon thy Name is called: for wee do not present our supplications before thee for our owne ^m righteousness, but for thy great tender mercies.

19 O Lord heare, O Lord forgieue, O Lord consider, and do it: deferre not, for thine owne sake, O my God: for thy Name is called vpon thy citie, and thy people.

20 ¶ And whiles I was speaking and praying, and confessing my sinne, and the sinne of my people Israel, and did present my supplication before the Lord my God, for the holy Mountaine of my God,

21 Yea, while I was speaking in prayer, euen the man ⁿ Gabriel, whom I had seene before in the vision, came flying, and touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to giue thee knowledge and vnderstanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandement came forth, and I am come to shewe thee, for thou art greatly beloued: therefore vnderstand the matter and consider the vision.

24 Seuentie ^p weekes are determined vpon thy people, and vpon thine holy citie, to finish the wickednesse, and to seale vp the ^r sinnes, and to reconcile the iniquity, and to bring in euerlasting righteousness, and to seale vp the vision and prophesie, and to anoint the most Holy.

25 Know therefore and vnderstand that from the going forth of the commandement to bring againe the people, and to build Ierusalem, vnto Messiah the Prince, shall be seuen ^t weekes and ^u threescore and two weekes, and

26 And after threescore & two ^z weekes, shall Messiah be slaine, and shall ^y haue nothing, and the people of the ^z prince that shall come, shall destroy the citie and the Sanctuary, and the end thereof shall be with a flood: and vnto the end of the battell it shall be destroyed by desolations.

27 And he ^a shall confirme the couenant with many for one weeke: & in the mids of the weekes hee shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, ^c and for the ouerspreading of the abominations hee shall make it desolate, euen vntill the consummation determined shall bee powred vpon the desolate.

There appeareth vnto Daniel a man clothed in linnen, ¹¹ which sheweth him wherefore he is sent.

1 In the ^a third yeere of Cyrus King of Persia, a thing was reuealed vnto Daniel (whose name was called Belteshazzar) and the word was true, but the time appoynted was ^b long, and he vnderstood the thing, and had vnderstanding of the vision.

2 At the same time I Daniel was in heauines for three weeks of dayes.

3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint my selfe at all, til three weeks of dayes were fulfilled.

4 And in the foure and twentieth day of the ^c first moneth, as I ^d was by the side of that great riuer, euen Hiddekel,

5 And I lift mine eyes, and looked, and beholde, there was a man ^e clothed in linnen, whose loynes were girded with fine gold of ^f V-phaz.

6 His body also was like the Chrysolite, and his face (to looke vpon) like the lightning, and his eyes as lampes of fire, and his armes and his feete were like in colour to polished brasie, and the voyce of his wordes was likethe voyce of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me, saw not the vision: but a great feare fell vpon them, so that they fled away and hid themselves.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and sawe this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for ^f my strength was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no power.

9 Yet heard I the voyce of his wordes: and when I heard the voyce of his words, I slept on my face, and my face was toward the ground.

10 And behold, an ^g hand touched me, which set me vp vpon my knees and vpon the palmes of mine hands,

11 And he said vnto mee, O Daniel, a man greatly beloued, vnderstand the words that I speake vnto thee, and stand in thy place: for vnto thee am I now sent. And when he had said this word vnto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he vnto me, Feare not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou diddest set thine heart to vnderstand, and to humble thy selfe before thy God, thy wordes were heard, and I am come for thy words.

11 And the King of the South ſhall be angry, and ſhall come forth, and fight with him, even with the King of the North: for he ſhall ſet forth a great multitude, and the multitude ſhall be giuen into his hand.

12 Then the multitude ſhall be proude, and their heart ſhall be lifted vp: for hee ſhall caſt downe thouſands: but he ſhall not ſtill preuaile.

13 For the king of the North ſhall returne, and ſhall ſet forth a greater multitude than afore, and ſhall come forth (after certaine yeres) with a mightie armie, and great riches.

14 And at the ſame time there ſhall many ſtand vp againſt the king of the South: alſo there ſhall be ſonnes of thy people that exalt themſelves to eſtabliſh the viſion, but they ſhall fall.

15 So the King of the North ſhall come, and caſt vp a mount, and take the ſtrong citie: and the armes of the South ſhall not reſiſt, neither his choſen people, neither ſhall there be any ſtrength to withſtand.

16 But he that ſhall come, ſhall doe vnto him as he liſt, and none ſhall ſtand againſt him: and he ſhall ſtand in the pleaſant land, which by his hand ſhall be conſumed.

17 Again he ſhall ſet his face to enter with the power of his whole kingdom, and his confederates with him: thus ſhall he do, & he ſhall giue him his daughter of women to deſtroy her: but the Great, the ſon of Calinicus ſhall make war againſt Ptolemus Philopater the ſon of Philadelphus. For his elder brother Seleucus died, or was ſlaine while the warres were preparing. vp: ſo that al they that were occaſion of this marriage, were deſtroyed.

8 Meaning, that Ptolemus Epiphanes after the death of his father Philadelphus ſhould ſucceede in the kingdome being of the ſame ſtocke that Berenice was.

k Shee shall not agree to his wicked counsel, but shall love her husband, as her duty requireth, and not seeke his destruction.

l That is, toward Asia, Grecia, and those yles which are in the Sea called Mediterranean: for the Lewes called all countreyes yles which were diuided from them by sea. m For whereas Antiochus was wont to contemne the Romaues, and put their ambassadors to shame in all places, Antilius the Consul, or Lucius Scipio put him to flight, and caused his shame to turne on his owne head.

n By his wicked life, and obeying of foolish counsell.

o For feare of the Romaues hee shall flee to his holds.

p For when as vnder the pretence of pouertie hee would haue robbed the Temple of Iupiter Diodorus, the countrey men flew him.

q That is, Seleucus shall succcede his father Antiochus.

r Not by torren enemies, or battell, but by treason.

s Which was Antiochus Epiphanes, who as is thought was the occasion of Seleucus his brothers death, and was of a vile, cruell and flattering nature, and defrauded his brothers sonne of the kingdom, and starved the kingdom without the consent of the people.

t Hee sheweth that great forraigne powers shall come to helpe the yong sonne of Seleucus against his vnkle Antiochus: and yet shall be ouerthrowen. u Meaning Ptolemies Philometor Philopators sonne, who was this childes cousin germaine, and is here called the prince of the covenant, because he was the chiefe, & all other followed his conduct.

x For after the battell Philometor and his vnkle Antiochus made a league. y For he came vpon him at vnwares, and when hee suspected his vnkle Antiochus nothing.

z Meaning, in Egypt. a Hee will content himselfe with the small holds for a time, but euer labour by craft to attaine to the chiefe.

b He shall bee ouercome with treason. c Signifying his princes and the chiefe about him. d Declaring that his soldiers shall braut out & venture their life to slay and to be slaine for the safeguard of their prince. e The vnkle and the nephew shall take truce, and banquet together, yet in their hearts they shall imagine mischief one against the other. f Signifying, that it standeth not in the counsell of men, to bring things to passe, but in the prouidence of God, who ruleth the Kings by a secret bridle, that they cannot doe what they list themselves. g Which hee shall take of the Lewes in spoyleing Ierusalem and the Temple, and this is told them before to moue them to patience. h Knowing that all things are done by Gods prouidence. i That is, the Romaue power shall come against him: for P. Popilius the Ambassador appointed him to depart in the Romaue name, to which thing hee obeyed although with griefe, and to reuenge his rage hee came against the people of God the second time. k With the Lewes which shall forsake the covenant of the Lord: first hee was called against the Lewes by Iason the Priest, & this second time by Menelaus, he shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turne his face vnto the yles, & shall take many, but a prince shall cause his shame to light vpon him, besides that he shall cause his owne shame to turne vpon himselfe.

19 For he shall turne his face towardes the fortres of his owne land: but hee shall be ouerthrowen and fall, and be no more found.

20 Then shall stand vp in his place in the glory of the kingdom, one that shall raise taxes: but after few dayes he shall be destroyed, neither in wrath, nor in battell.

21 And in his place shall stand vp a vile person, to whom they shall not giue the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably, and obtaine the kingdom by flatteries.

22 And the armes shall be ouerthrowen with a flood before him, and shall be broken: and also the prince of the covenant.

23 And after the league made with him, hee shall worke deceitfully: for he shall come vp, and ouercome with a small people.

24 He shall enter into the quiet and plentifull prouince, and he shall doe that which his fathers haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he shall diuide among them the pray, and the spoile, and the substance, yea, and he shall forecast his deuises against the strong holds, euen for a time.

25 Also he shall stirre vp his power, and his courage against the King of the South, with a great armie, and the King of the South shall bee stirred vp to battell with a very great and mighty armie: but he shall not stand: for they shall forecast and practise against him.

26 Yea, they that feede of the portion of his meat, shall destroy him: and his armie shall ouerflow: and many shall fall, and be slaine.

27 And both these Kings hearts shall be to doe mischief, and they shall talke of deceit at one table: but it shall not auail: for yet the ende shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall hee returne into his land with great substance: for his heart shall be against the holy covenant: so shall he doe and returne to his owne land.

29 At the time appointed hee shall returne, and come toward the south: but the last shall not bee as the first.

30 For the shippes of Chittim shall come against him: therefore he shall be sorie and returne, and fret against the holy covenant: so shall hee doe, hee shall euen returne, and haue intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant.

31 And armes shall stand on his part, and they shall pollute the Sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall set vp the abominable defolation.

32 And such as wickedly breake the covenant, shall hee cause to sinne by flatterie: but the people that doe know their God, shall preuaile and prosper.

33 And they that vnderstand among the people, shall instruct many: yet they shall fall by sword, and by flame, by captiuitie and by spoyle many dayes.

34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little helpe: but many shall cleaue vnto then faintly.

35 And some of them of vnderstanding shall fall to trie them, and to purge, and to make them white, till the time be out: for there is a time appointed.

36 And the king shall doe what him list: he shall exalt himselfe, and magnifie himselfe against all, that is God, and shall speake maruelous things against the God of gods, and shall prosper, till the wrath be accomplished: for the determination is made.

37 Neither shall he regard the God of his fathers, nor the desires of women, nor care for any God: for he shall magnifie himselfe aboue all.

38 But in his place shall he honour the god Mauzzim, and the god whome his fathers knew not, shall he honour with gold and with siluer, and with precious stones, and pleasant things.

39 Thus shall hee doe in the holdes of Mauzzim with a strange god whom he shall acknowledge: hee shall increase his glory, and shall cause them to rule ouer many, and shall diuide the land for gain.

40 And at the ende of time shall the King of the South push at him, & the king of the North shall come against him like a whirlwinde with charres, and with horsemen, and with many ships, and hee shall enter into the countreies, and shall ouerflow and passe through.

41 He shall enter also into the pleasant land, and many countreies shall be ouerflowen: but these shall escape out of his hand, when Edom & Moab, and the chiefe of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall stretch forth his hands also vpon y countries, & the land of Egypt shall not escape.

43 But he shall haue power ouer the treasures of gold and of siluer, and ouer all the precious things of Egypt, and of the Libyans, and of the blacke Mores where he shall passe.

k A great nation of the wicked Lewes shall hold with Antiochus.

l So called because the power of God was nothing diminished, although this tyrant set vp in the Temple the image of Iupiter Olympius, and so began to corrupt the pure service of God.

m Meaning such as bare the name of Lewes, but in deed were nothing lesse, for they sold their soules and betrayed their brethren for gain.

n They that remaine constant among the people shall teach others by their example, and edifie many in the true religion.

o Whereby he exhorteth the godly to constancie, although they should perish a thousand times, and though their miseries endure neuer so long.

p As God will not leaue his Church delinque, yet will he not delinere it all at once, but so helpe, as they may still seeme to fight vnder the crosse, as hee did in the time of the Macabees wherof hee here prophesieth.

q That is, these shall be euen of this small number many hypocrites.

r To wit, of them that feare God & will lose their life for the defence of true religion.

s Signifying also that the Church must continually be tried & purged, and ought to looke for one persecution after another: for God hath appointed the time: therefore we must obey.

t Because the Angels purpose is to leue the whole course of the persecutions of the Lewes vnto the coming of Christ, he now speaketh of the monarchie of the Romaues which he noteth by the name of a king who were without all religion & contemned the true God.

u So long the tyrants shall preuaile as God hath appointed to punish his people: but hee sheweth that it is but for a time.

x The Romaues shall obserue no certaine forme of religion as other nations, but shall change their gods at their pleasures, yea, contemne them & prefer themselves to their gods.

y Signifying that they should be without all humanity: for the loue of women is taken for singular or great loue, as 2. Sam. 1. 26. y That is, the God of power and riches, they shall esteeme their owne power aboue all their gods & worship it.

z Vnder pretence of worshipping the gods, they shall enrich their city with the most precious iewels of all the world, because that hereby all men should haue them in admiration for their power & riches.

a Although in their hearts they had no religion, yet they did acknowledge the gods, and worshipped them in their temples, lest they should haue bin despised as Atheists: but this was to increase their fame & riches: and when they gate any country, they so made others the rulers therof.

b The profite euer came to the Romaues. b That is, both the Egyptians & the Syrians shall at length fight against the Romaues, but they shall be ouercome.

c The Angel forwarneth the Lewes when they should fee the Romaues invade them, & that the wicked should escape their hands, that then they should not thinke but that all this was done by Gods prouidence, forasmuch as he warned them of it so long afore, and therefore he would still preferue them.

d That is, one of long time accustomed to the harlot: nor as ife was corrupted of the S.

d Hearing that Crassus was slain, and Antonius distressed.

e For Augustus overcame the Parthians, and recovered that which Antonius had lost.

f The Romanes after this reigned quietly throughout all countrey, and from sea to sea, and in Iudea: but as length for their cruelty God shal destroy them.

CHAP. XII.

1 Of the deliuerance of the Church by Christ.

a The Angel here noteth two things: first that Church shalbe in great affliction & trouble at Christs coming, and next that God will send his Angel to deliuer it, whom here hee callith Michael, meaning Christ, which is published by the preaching of the Gospel.

b Meaning, all shal rise at the generall resurrection, which thing he here nameth because the faithfull shoulde haue euer respect to that: for in the earth there shall be no sure comfort, c Who haue kept the true feare of God and his religion. d He chiefly meaneth the ministers of Gods word, and next all the faithful which instruct the ignorant, and bring them to the true knowledge of God.

e Though the most part despise this prophesie, yet keepe thou it sure and esteeme it as a treasure. f Till the time that God hath appointed for the full reuelation of these things: and then many shall run to and fro to search the knowledge of these mysteries which things they obtaine nowe by the light of the Gospel.

44 But the tidings out of the East & the North shall trouble him: therefore he shall goe forth with great wrath to destroy & roote out many.

45 And he shall plant the tabernacles of his palace betwene the seas in the glorious and holy mountaine, yet he shal come to his end, and none shall helpe him.

And at that time shall Michael stand vp, the great prince, which standeth for the childre of thy people, and there shall be a time of trouble, such as neuer was since there began to be a nation vnto that same time: and at that time thy people shall be deliuered, every one that shall be found written in the booke.

2 And many of them that sleepe in the dust of the earth, shal awake, some to euerlasting life, and some to shame and perpetual contempt.

3 And they that be wise, shall shine, as the brightness of the firmament: and they that turne many to righteousnesse, shall shine as the starres, for euer and euer.

4 But thou, O Daniel, shut vp the words, and seale the booke: til the end of the time: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 Then I Daniel looked, and beholde, there stood other two, the one on this side of the brinke of the river, and the other on that side of the brinke of the river.

6 And one said vnto the man clothed in linen, which was vpon the waters of the river, When shall be the end of these wonders?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen which was vpon the waters of the river, wher he held vp his right hand, & his left hand vnto heauen, and sware by him that liueth for ever, that it shall tarie for a time, two times and an halfe: and when he shal haue accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 The I heard it, but I vnderstood it not: the said I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?

9 And he said, Go thy way Daniel: for the words are closed vp, and sealed, till the end of the time.

10 Many shall be purified, made white, & tried: but the wicked shall doe wickedly, and none of the wicked shall haue vnderstanding: but the wise shall vnderstand.

11 And from the time that the daily sacrifice shalbe taken away, and the abominable desolation set vp, there shall be a thousand, two hundred and ninety daies.

12 Blessed is he that waiteth & commeth to the thousand, three hundredth & three & thirty daies.

13 But goe thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest and stand vp in thy lot, at the end of the daies.

not in man to appoint the time of Christs coming, but that they are blessed that patiently abide his appearing. o The Angel warneth the Prophet patiently to abide, till the time appointed come, signifying that hee should depart this life, and rise againe with the elect, when God had sufficiently humbled and purged his Church.

g Which was Tygris.

h Which was as it were a double oth and did the more confirme the thing.

i Meaning, a long time, a longer time, and at length a short time, signifying that their troubles should haue an end.

k When the Church shalbe scattered & diminished in such sort as it shal seeme to haue no power.

l From the time that Christ by his sacrifice shall take away the sacrifice and ceremonies of the Law.

m Signifying that the time shall be long of Christs second coming, and yet the children of God ought not to be discouraged, though it be deferred.

n In this number he addeth a month and an halfe to the former number, signifying that it is that they are blessed that patiently abide his appearing.

o The Angel warneth the Prophet patiently to abide, till the time appointed come, signifying that hee should depart this life, and rise againe with the elect, when God had sufficiently humbled and purged his Church.

H O S E A.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that the ten tribes had fallen away from God by the wicked & subtil counsel of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, & instead of his true service commanded by his word, worshipped him according to their own fantasies & traditions of men, giuing themselves to most vile idolatry & superstition, the Lord from time to time sent them Prophets to call them to repentance: but they grew euill worse & worse, and still abused God benefits. Therefore now when their prosperitie was at the highest vnder Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash, God sent Hosea & Amos to the Israelites (as he did at the same time I saiah & Micah to them of Iudah) to condemne them of their ingratitude: and whereas they thought themselves to be greatly in the fauour of God, and to be his people, the Prophet called them bastards and children borne in adultery: and therefore sheweth them that God would take away their kingdom, & giue them to the Assyrians to bee led away captiues. Thus Hosea faithfully executed his office for the space of seventy yeeres, though they remained still in their vices and wickednesse, and derided the Prophets, and contemned Gods iudgements. And because they should neither be discouraged with threatenings only, nor yet flatter themselves by the sweetnes of Gods promises, he setteth before them the two principall parts of the Law, which are the promise of saluation, and the doctrine of life: for the first part he directeth the faithfull to Messiah, by whom onely they should haue true deliuerance: and for the second, he vseth threatenings and menaces to bring them from their wicked maners and vices, and this is the chiefe scope of all the Prophets, either by Gods promises to allure them to bee godly, or else by threatenings of his iudgements to feare them from vice: and albeit that the whole Law containe these two points, yet the Prophets moreouer note peculiarly both the time of Gods iudgements and the maner.

CHAP. I.

1 The time wherein Hosea prophesied. 2 The idolatrie of the people. 3 The calling of the Gentiles. 4 Christ is the head of all people.

He word of the Lord that came vnto Hosea the sonne of Beeri, in the dayes of Vzziah, otham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah kings of Iudah, & in the dayes of Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash king of Israel.

2 At the beginning the Lord spake by Hosea, and the Lord said vnto Hosea, Take vnto thee a wife of fornications, and children of fornications: for the land hath committed great whoredome, departing from the Lord.

a Called also Azariah, who being a leper was depofed from his kingdom. b So that it may be gathered by the reigne of these foure kings, that he preached aboue threecore yeeres.

c That is, one that of long time hath accustomed to play the harlot: not that the Prophet did this thing in effect, but he saw this in a vision, or else was commanded by God to set forth vnder this parable or figure the idolatrie of the Synagogue, and of the people her children.

3 So he went, and tooke Gomer, the daughter of Diblaim; which conceived and bare him a sonne.

4 And the Lord said vnto him, Call his name Izreel: for yet a little, and I will visit the blood of Izreel vpon the house of Iehu, and wil cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel.

5 And at that day will I also breake the bow of Israel in the valley of Izreel.

because Israel did presale with God: but that they were as bastards, & therefore should be called Izreelites, that is, scattered people, alluding to Izreel, which was the chiefe cite of the ten tribes vnder Ahab where Iehu shed much blood. 2. King. 10. 3. f I will be reuenged vpon Iehu for the blood that he shed in Izreel: for albeit God stirred him vp to execute his iudgements, yet he did them for his owne ambition, and not for the glorie of God. as the end declared: for he built vp that idolatrie which he had destroyed. g When the measure of their iniquitie is full, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their policie and forces.

d Gomer signifieth a consumption or corruption, & Diblaim clusters of figs, declaring that they were all corrupt like rotten figs.

e Meaning, that they should be no more called Israelites of the which name they boasted that they were all corrupt like rotten figs.

f I will be reuenged vpon Iehu for the blood that he shed in Izreel: for albeit God stirred him vp to execute his iudgements, yet he did them for his owne ambition, and not for the glorie of God. as the end declared: for he built vp that idolatrie which he had destroyed.

g When the measure of their iniquitie is full, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their policie and forces.

h I will be reuenged vpon Iehu for the blood that he shed in Izreel: for albeit God stirred him vp to execute his iudgements, yet he did them for his owne ambition, and not for the glorie of God. as the end declared: for he built vp that idolatrie which he had destroyed.

i When the measure of their iniquitie is full, and I shall take vengeance and destroy all their policie and forces.

k I will be reuenged vpon Iehu for the blood that he shed in Izreel: for albeit God stirred him vp to execute his iudgements, yet he did them for his owne ambition, and not for the glorie of God. as the end declared: for he built vp that idolatrie which he had destroyed.

h That is, not obtaining mercie: whereby he signifies, that Gods favour was departed from them. i For the Israelites neuer returned after that they were taken captiues by the Assyrians. k For after their captiuitie he restored them miraculously by means of Cyrus, Ezra 1.1. l That is, not my people. m Because they thought that God could not haue because in his promise except he had preferred them, he declareth, that though they were destroyed yet the true Israelites, which are the sonnes of the promise, should bee without number, which stand both of the Iewes, and the Gentiles Rom. 9.26: n To wit, after the captiuitie of Babylon when the Iewes were restored: but chiefly this is referred to the time of Christ, who should bee the head both of the Iewes and Gentiles. o The calamitie and destruction of Izeel shall bee so great, that to restore them shall bee as a miracle.

CHAP. II.

1 The people is called to repentance. 3 He sheweth their idolatry and threateneth them except they repent.

1 Say vnto your brethren, Amami, and to your sisters, Ruhamah,

2 Plead with your mother: plead with her: for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: but let her take away her fornications out of her sight, & her adulteries: fro between her breasts, 3 Left I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was borne, and make her as a wilderness, and leaue her like a dry land, and slay her for thirst.

4 And I will haue no pitie vpon her children: for they be the children of fornications.

5 For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them, hath done shamefully: for she said, I will goe after my louers that giue mee my bread and my water, my wooll, and my flaxe, mine oyle and my drinke.

6 Therefore behold, I will stoppe thy way with thornes, and make an hedge, that shee shall not finde her paths.

7 Though she follow after her louers, yet shall she not come at them: though shee seekethem, yet shall she not finde them: then shall she say, I will goe and returne to my first husband: for at that time was I better then now.

8 Now she did not know, that I gaue her corne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplied her siluer and gold, which they bestowed vpon Baal.

9 Therefore will I returne, and take away my corne in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will recover my wooll, and my flaxe lent for to couer her shame.

10 And now will I discover her lewdnesse in the sight of her louers, and no man shall deliuer her out of mine hand.

h I will punish her that then thou mayest try whether thine idolatry helpe thee, and bring thee into such streightnesse, that thou shalt haue no lust to play the wanton. i This hee speaketh of the faithfull, which are truly conuerted, and also sheweth the use and profit of Gods rods. k This declareth that idolaters despaire of Gods honour, when they attribute his benefits to their idoles. l Signifying, that God will take away his benefits when man by his ingratitude doeth abuse them. m That is, all her seruises, ceremonies and incantations whereby she worshipped her idoles.

11 I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast dayes, her new moones, and her Sabbaths, and all her solemne feasts.

12 And I will destroy her vines and her fig-trees, whereof shee hath said, These are my rewarde that my louers haue giuen me: and I will make them as a forest, and the wilde beastes shall eate them.

13 And I will visit vpon her the dayes of Baalim, wherein she burnt incense to them: and she decked her selfe with her earerings and her iewels, and she followed her louers, and forgate mee, saith the Lord.

14 Therefore behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speake friendly vnto her.

15 And I will giue her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of Achor for the doore of hope, and shee shall sing there as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when she came vp out of the land of Egypt.

16 And at that day, saith the Lord, thou shalt call me Ishi, and shalt call me no more Baali.

17 For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall bee no more remembered by their names.

18 And in that day wil I make a couenant for them with the wilde beasts, and with the fowles of the heauen, and with that that creepeth vpon the earth: and I will breake the bowe, and the sword and the battell out of the earth: and will make them to sleepe safely.

19 And I will marry thee vnto me for euer: yea, I will marry thee vnto me in righteousness, and in iudgement, and in mercy and in compassion.

20 I will euen marrie thee vnto me in faithfulness, and thou shalt know the Lord.

21 And in that day I wil heare, saith the Lord, I will euen heare the heauens, and they shall heare the earth,

22 And the earth shall heare the come, and the wine, and the oyle, and they shall heare Izeel.

23 And I will sowe her vnto me in the earth, and I wil haue mercie vpon her, that was not pitied, and I will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people: And they shall say, Thou art my God, hee will so blesse them that all creatures shall fauour them. y With a couenant that neuer shall be broken. z Then shall the heauen desire raine for the earth which shall bring forth for the vse of man. * Rom. 9.25. 1. pet. 2.10.

CHAP. III.

1 The Iewes that be cast off for their idolatry. 3 Afterward they shall returne to the Lord.

1 Then said the Lord to me, a Goe yet, and loue a woman (beloued of her husband, and was an harlot) according to the loue of the Lord toward the children of Israel: yet they looked to other gods, and loued the wine bottles.

2 So: I bought her to mee for fifteene pieces of siluer, and for an homer of barley, and an halfe homer of barley.

3 And I said vnto her, Thou shalt abide with me many daies: thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt be to none other man, and I will be so vnto thee.

4 For the children of Israel shall remaine and payed a small portion for her, lest shee perceiving the greatnesse of my loue should haue abused mee and not bene vnder duetie: for fifteene pieces of siluer were but halfe the price of a flauie, Exod. 21.32. d I will trie thee a long time as in thy widowhood whether thou wilt be mine or no. e Meaning, not onely all the time of their captiuitie, but also vnto Christ.

n I will punish her for her idolatrie. o By shewing how harlots trim themselves to please others, he declareth how that superstitious idolaters (for a great part of their religion, in decking themselves on th. holy dayes. p By my benefits in offering her grace and mercy, euen in that place where she shall thinke herselfe destitute of all helpe and comfort. q Which was a plentiful valley, and wherein they had great comfort when they came out of the wilderness, as Ios. 7.26, and is called the doore of hope, because it was a departing from death and an entrie into life. r Shee shall then praise God as she did when she was deliuered out of Egypt. s That is, mine husband knowing that I am ioyued to thee by an inuoluable couenant. t That is, my master: which name was applied to their idoles. u No idolatrie shall once come into their mouth, but they shall serue me purely according to my word. x Meaning, that hee will so blesse them that all creatures shall fauour them. y With a couenant that neuer shall be broken. z Then shall the heauen desire raine for the earth which shall bring forth for the vse of man. * Rom. 9.25. 1. pet. 2.10.

a Heerein the Prophet representeth the person of God which loued his Church before he called her, and did not withdraw the same while she gaue her selfe to idoles. b That is, gaue themselves wholly to pleasures, and could not take vp, as they that are giuen to drunkennesse. c Yet I loued her f That is, they should neither have policie nor religion, and their idoles also where- as they put their confidence, should be destroyed.

many dayes without a king & without a prince, and without an offering, and without an image, and without an ephod, and without Teraphim.
5 Afterward shall the children of Israel conuert and seeke the Lord their God, and David their king, and shall feare the Lord and his goodnesse in the latter dayes.

which was promised vnto David to be eternall, Psal. 72. 17.

CHAP. IIII.

A complaint against the people and the priests of Israel.

HEARE the word of the Lord, ye children of Israel: for the Lord hath a controuersie with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercie, nor knowledge of God in the land.

2 By swearing, and lying, and killing, & stealing, and whoring, they breake out, and blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore shall the land mourne, and euery one that dwelleth therein shall be cut off, with the beasts of the field, and with the foules of the heauen, and also the fishes of the sea shall be taken away.

4 Yet let none rebuke, nor reprove another: for thy people are as they that rebuke the Priest.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the day, and the Prophet shall fall with thee in the night, and I will destroy thy mother.

6 My people are destroyed for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, I will also refuse thee that thou shalt bee no Priest to me: and seeing thou hast forgotten the Law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 As they were increased, so they sinned against me: therefore wil I change their glory into shame.

8 They eat vp the finnes of my people, and lift vp their mindes in their iniquitie.

9 And there shall be like people like a priest: for I wil visit their wayes vpon them, and reward them their deedes.

10 For they shall eat, & not haue enough, they shall commit adulterie, and shall not increase, because they haue left off to take heed to the Lord.

11 Whoredome, and wine, and new wine take away their heart.

12 My people aske counsell at their stocks, and their staffe teacheth them: for the spirit of fornications hath caused them to erre, and they haue gone a whoring from vnder their God.

13 They sacrifice vpon the tops of the mountaines, and burne incense vpon the hills vnder the oaks, and the poplar tree, and the elme, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters shall be harlots, and your spouses shall be whores.

14 I will not visit your daughters when they are harlots, nor your spouses, when they are whores: for they themselves are separated with harlots, and sacrifice with whores: therefore the people that doeth not vnderstand, shall fall.

15 I will not visit your daughters when they are harlots, nor your spouses, when they are whores: for they themselves are separated with harlots, and sacrifice with whores: therefore the people that doeth not vnderstand, shall fall.

16 I will not correct your shame to bring you to amendment: but let you sinne headlong to your owne damnation.

15 Though thou Israel, play the harlot, yet let not Iudah sinne: come not yee vnto Gilgal, neither goe yee vp to Beth-auen, nor sweare, The Lord lieth.

16 For Israel is rebellious as an unruly heifer. Now the Lord will feede them as a lambe in a large place.

17 Ephraim is ioyned to idoles: let him alone

18 Their drunkennes stinketh: they haue committed whoredome: their rulers loue to say with shame, Bring yee.

19 The winde hath bound them vp in her wings, and they shall be ashamed of their sacrifices: el, that is, the house of God, Beth-auen, that is, the house of iniquitie because of their abominations set vp there, signifying that no place is holy, where God is not purely worshipped. u God will so disperethem, that they shall not remaine in any certaine place. x They are so impudent in receiuing bribes, that they will command men to bring them vnto them. y To cary them suddenly away.

CHAP. V.

Against the Priests and Rulers of Israel. 13 The helpe of man is in vaine.

OYEE Priests, heare this, and hearken yee, O house of Israel, and giue yee eare, O house of the King: for iudgement is toward you, because you haue bene a snare on Mizpah, and a net spread vpon Tabor.

2 Yet they were profoud to decline to slaughter, though I haue bene a rebuker of them all.

3 I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou art become an harlot, and Israel is defiled.

4 They wil not giue their minds to turne vnto their God: for the spirit of fornication is in the midst of them, & they haue not knowne the Lord.

5 And the pride of Israel doeth testifie to his face: therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquitie: Iudah also shall fall with them.

6 They shall goe with their sheepe, and with their bullockes, to seeke the Lord: but they shall not finde him: for he hath withdrawen himselfe from them.

7 They haue transgressed against the Lord for they haue begotten strange children: now shall a moneth deuoure them with their portions.

8 Blowe yee the trumpet in Gibeah, and the shame in Ramah: crie out at Beth-auen, after ther, O Benjamin.

9 Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel haue I caused to know the truth.

10 The princes of Iudah were like them that remoued the bound: therefore wil I powre out my wrath vpon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed and broken in iudgement, because he willingly walked after the commandement.

12 Therefore wil I be vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Iudah as a rottenesse.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Iudah his wound, then went Ephraim vnto Ashtar, and sent vnto king Laban: yet could he not heale you, nor cure you of your wound.

14 For I will be vnto Ephraim as a lion, and as a lions whelp, to the house of Iudah: I, when I, will spoyle and goe away: I will take away, and none shall rescue it.

15 I will go, and returne to my place, till they acknowledge their fault, and seeke mee: in their affliction, they will seeke me diligently.

16 I will not rather follow God in stead of seeking for remedy at Gods hand. n Who was king of the Assyrians.

r God complaineth that Iudah is infected, and wil let them to learn by their examples to returne in time. s For albeit the Lord had honoured this place in time past by his presence, yet because it was abused by their idolatrie, he would not that his people should reforme thither. t He calleth Beth-el, that is, the house of God, Beth-auen, that is, the house of iniquitie because of their abominations set vp there, signifying that no place is holy, where God is not purely worshipped. u God will so disperethem, that they shall not remaine in any certaine place. x They are so impudent in receiuing bribes, that they will command men to bring them vnto them. y To cary them suddenly away.

a The Priests and Princes caught the poore people in their snares as the fowlers did the birds, in these two high mountaines. b Notwithstanding they seemed to be giuen altogether to holines, and to sacrifices, which here bee calleth slaughter in contempt. c Though I had admonished them continually by my Prophets. d They boasted themselves not onely to be Israelites, but also Ephraimites, because their king Ieroboam came of that tribe. e Meaning, their contemning of all admonitions. f That is, their children are degenerate, so that there is no hope in them. g Their destruction is not far off. h That is, all Israel comprehended vnder this part, signifying that the Lords plagues should pursue them from place to place till they were destroyed. i By the success they shall know that I haue surely determined this. k They haue turned upside downe all politick order and all manner of religion. l To wit, after king Ieroboams commandement.

CHAP.

Come, and let us returne to the Lord: for he hath spoiled, and he will heale vs: he hath wounded vs, and he will bind vs vp.

2 After two dayes will he reuiue vs, and in the third day he will raise vs vp, and we shall liue in his sight.

3 Then shall we haue knowledge, & indouour our selues to know the Lord: his going forth is as the raine, and as the latter raine vnto the earth.

4 O Ephraim, what is shall I doe vnto thee? Judah, how shall I increate thee? for your goodnesse is as a morning cloud, and as the morning dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore haue I cut downe by the Prophets: I haue saine them by the words of my mouth, and thy iudgements were as the light that goeth forth.

6 For I desired mercy, & not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God more then burnt offerings.

7 But they like men haue transgressed the covenant: there haue they trespassed against mee.

8 Gilead is a citie of them that worke iniquitie, and is polluted with blood.

9 And as thine wait for a man, so the company of Priests murder in the way by consent: for they worke mischief.

10 I haue seene villenie in the house of Israel: there is the whoredome of Ephraim, Israel is defiled.

11 Yea, Judah hath set a plant for thee, whiles I would returne the captiuitie of my people.

12 The Lord is like light, and like the sunne, which will be the place where the Priests dwell, and which shall haue bene best instructed in my word.

13 There is, I say, mischief in Ephraim, and hath taken root in thy land.

When I would haue healed Israel, then the iniquitie of Ephraim was discovered, and the wickednesse of Samaria: for they haue dealt falsly: and the thiefe cometh in, and the robber spoyleth without.

2 And they consider not in their hearts: I remember all their wickednes: now it owne iniquities haue bene their about: they are in my sight.

3 They make the king glad with their wickednesse, and the princes with their lies.

4 They are all adulterers, and as a very oven heated by the baker, which ceaseth from raising vp, and from kneading the dough, till it be leatured.

5 This is the day of our king: the princes haue made him sleeke with flacons of wine: hee hath drunk out his hand to flacons.

6 For they haue made ready their hearts like an oven, whiles they lie in wait: their maker sleepeth all the night: in the morning it burneth as a flame of fire.

7 They are all boie as women, and haue de-noued their lugges: all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth vnto me.

8 Ephraim hath mixt himselfe among y people: Ephraim is as a cake on y hearth not turned.

9 Strangers haue deuoured his strength, and hee knoweth not why: hee hath not considered the religion of the Gentiles, neither haue hee shewen gold, but partly aduise, and partly a Gentle, he knoweth not why, & gray haire is here, and there vpon him, yet he knoweth not.

10 And the wife of Israel will liech to his face, and they doe not returne to the Lord their God, nor seeke him for all this.

11 Ephraim also is like a dowe deceived without heart: they call to Egypt: they go to Assur.

12 But when they shall go, I will spread my net vpon them, and draw them downe as the fowles of the heauen: I will chastise them as their Congregation hath heard.

13 Woe vnto them: for they haue sinned away from me: destruction shall be vnto them, because they haue transgressed against mee: though I haue redeemed them, yet they haue spoken lies against me.

14 And they haue not cried vnto mee with their hearts, when they bouled vpon their beds: they assemble themselves for corne, and wine, and they rebell against me.

15 Though I haue bound and strengthened their arme, yet doe they imagine mischief against me.

16 They returne, but not to the most hie: they are like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword, for the rage of their tongues: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

and puffed out what they speake against me and my seruants, Psalm 73. 9.

Is the destruction of Judah and Ephraim, because of their idolatrie.

San eagle against the House of the Lord, because they haue transgressed my covenant, & trespassed against my Law.

2 Israel shall cry vnto mee, My God, we know thee.

3 Israel hath cast off the thing that is good: the enimie shall pursue him.

4 They haue set vp a king, but not by mee: they haue made princes, & I knew it not: of their silver and their gold haue they made them idoles: therefore shall they be destroyed.

5 Thy calfe, O Samaria, hath cast thee off: mine anger is kindled against thee: how long will they be without innocencie!

6 For it came euen from Israel, the workman made it, therefore it is not God: but the calfe of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

7 For they haue sowne the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: it hath no stalle: the bud shall bring forth no meale: if so be it bring forth, the strangers shall deuoure it.

8 Israel is deuoured, now shall they be among the Gentiles as a vessell wherein is no pleasure.

9 For they are gone vp to Assur: they are as a wilde asse alone by himselfe: Ephraim hath hired louers.

10 Yet though they haue hired among the nations, now will I gather them, and they shall sorow a little for the burden of the king & the princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sinne, his altars shall to sinne.

12 I haue written to them y great things of my Law: but they were counted as a strange thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it: but the Lord accepteth them not: now will hee remember their iniquitie, and visit their finnes: they shall returne to Egypt.

but hee accepteth no seruile, which he himselfe hath not appointed.

Which are a token of his manifold afflictions. That is, without all iudgement, as they that cannot tell whether it is better to cleaue onely to God, or to seeke the helpe of man.

i According to my curses made to the whole Congregation of Israel. That is, diuers times redeemed them, and deliuered them from death.

l When they were in affliction, and cried out for paine, they sought not vnto me for helpe.

m They onely seeke their owne commoditie and wealth, and paffe not for mee their God.

n Because they boast of their owne strength, and puffed out what they speake against me and my seruants, Psalm 73. 9.

a God encourageth the Prophet to signifye the speedie coming of the enemy against Israel, which was once the people of God.

b They shall cry like hypocrites, but not from the heart, as their desires declare.

c That is, Ieroboam by whom they sought their owne libertie, and not to obey my will.

d That is, vpright iudgement and godly life.

e Meaning, the calfe was inuented by themselves, and of their fathers in the wilderness.

f shewing y their religion hath but a show, & in it selfe is but vanity.

g They are not craft, but ran to and fro to seeke helpe.

h That is, for the tribute which the king and the princes shall lay vpon them, which murther the Lord, vnto bringing this.

i That is, the idolaters count the word of God as a strange thing in respect of their owne inuentions.

CHAP. IX.

Of the hunger and captiuitie of Israel.

Reloyce not, O Israel for ioy: as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God: thou hast loued a rewarde vpon every corne floore.

2 The floore, and the wine presse shall not feede them, and the new wine shall faile in her.

3 They will not dwell in the Lords land, but Ephraim will returne to Egypt, and they will eate vncleane things in Ashur.

4 They shall not offer wine to the Lord, neither shall their sacrifices be pleasant vnto him: but they shall be vnto them as the bread of mourners: all that eate thereof shall be polluted: for their bread: for their soules shall not come into the house of the Lord.

5 What will ye doe? then in the solempne day and in the day of the feast of the Lord?

6 For loe, they are gone from destruction: into Egypt shall gather them vp, and Memphis shall bury them: the nettle shall possesse the pleasant places of their siluer, and the thorne shall be in their tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are come: the dayes of recompence are come: Israel shall know it: the Prophet is a foole: the spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity: therefore the hatred is great.

8 The watchman of Ephraim should be with my God: but the Prophet is the snare of a fouler in all his wayes, he hath lied in the house of his God.

9 They are deeply set: they are corrupt as in the dayes of Gibeah: therefore he will remembre their iniquity, he will visite their finnes.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness: I saw your fathers as the first ripe in the figge tree at her first time: but they went to Baal-peor, and separated themselves vnto that shame, and their abominations were according to their louers.

11 Ephraim their glory shall flee away like a bird, from the hutch: and from the wombe, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring vp their children, yet I will deprime them from being men: yea, woe to them, when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim, as I saw, is as a Tisser in Tyrus planted in a cottage: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

14 O Lord, giue them: what wilt thou giue them? giue them a barren wombe and drie breasts.

15 All their wickednesse is in Gilgal: for there doe I hate them: for the wickednes of their inventions, I will cast them out of mine House: I will loue them no more: all their princes are rebels.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their rooth is dried vp:

they can bring no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay euen the dearest of their body.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not obey him: and they shall wander among the nations.

CHAP. X.

Against Israel and his idoles. 14 The destruction for the same.

Israel is an empty vine, yet hath it brought forth fruit vnto a lisse, and according to the multitude of the fruit thereof he hath increased the altars: according to the goodnesse of their land they haue made faire images.

2 Their heart is diuided: now shall they be found faulty: he shall breake downe their altars: he shall destroy their images.

3 For now they shall say, We haue no King because we feared not the Lord: and what should a King doe to vs?

4 They haue spoken wordes, swearing falsly in making a couenant: thus iudgement groweth as wormewood in the furrowes of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall feare because of the calfe of Beth-aen: for the people thereof shall mourne ouer it, and the Chemarims thereof, that reioyced on it for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall bee also brought to Ashur, for a present vnto king Iareb: Ephraim shall rectifie shame, and Israel shall bee ashamed of his owne counsell.

7 Of Samaria, the king thereof is destroyed, as the fume vpon the water.

8 The high places also of Aoen shall be destroyed, euen the sinne of Israel: the thorne and the thistle shall grow vpon their altars, and they shall say to the mountaines, Cover vs, and to the hills, Fall vpon vs.

9 O Israel, thou hast sinned from the dayes of Gibeah: there they stood: the battell in Gibeah against the children of iniquitie did not touch them.

10 It is my desire that I should chastise them, and the people shall bee gathered against them, when they shall gather themselves in their two furrowes.

11 And Ephraim is as an heifer vsed to delight in threshing: but I will passe by her faire neck: I will make Ephraim to ride: Iudah shall plowe, and Iacob shall breake his clods.

12 Sowe to your selues in righteousness: reape after the measure of mercy: breake vp your fallow ground: for it is time to seeke the Lord, till he come and raine righteousness vpon you.

13 But you haue plowed wickednes: ye haue reaped iniquity: you haue eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thine owne wayes, and in the multitude of thy strong men.

14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy munitions shall be destroyed, as Shalman destroyed Beth-arbel in the day cutting Gods iudgements, seeing thine owne deedes were wicked as theirs.

15 To wit, to fight, as the Israelites remained in that stubbysse from that time.

16 The Israelites were not moved by their example to cease from their finnes.

17 Because they are so desperate, I will delight to destroy them.

18 That is, when they haue gathered all their strength together.

19 Whereunto I pleasure, as implowing labour and paine.

IOEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Prophet Joel first reuoketh them of Iudah, that being now punished with a great plague of famine, remaine still obstinate. Secondly, he threatneth greater plagues, because they grew daily to a more hardness of heart, and rebellion against God notwithstanding his punishments. Thirdly, he exhorteth them to repentance, shewing that it must be earnest, and proceede from the heart, because they had grievously offended God. And so doing, hee promisseth that God will be mercifull, and not forget his covenants that hee made with their fathers, he will send his Christ who shall gather the scattered sheepe, and restore them to life and liberty, though they seemed to be dead.

12 The vine is dried vp, and the figtree is decayed: the pomegranate tree and the palme tree, and the apple tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: surely the ioy is withered away from the fonnes of men.

13 ^b Gird your selves and lament, ye Priests: how ye ministers of the altar: come, and lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meat offering, and the drinke offering is taken away from the house of your God.

14 Sanctifie you a fast: call a solemn assembly: gather the Elders, and all the inhabitants of the land into the House of the Lord your God, and crievnto the Lord.

15 Alas: for the day, for the day of the Lord is at hand, and it commeth as a destruction from the Almighty.

16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes? and joy, and gladness from the house of our God?

17 The seed is rotten under their clods: the garners are destroyed: the barns are broken down, for the corn is withered.

18 How did the beasts mourne! the herds of rattel pine away, because they have no pasture, and the flocks of sheepe are destroyed.

4 Yea, and what haue you to do with me, O
Tyros and Zidon, and all the coasts of Palestina?
will ye render mee a recompense? and if yee recompense mee, swiftly and speedily will I render your recompense vpon your head:

5 For yee haue taken my siluer and my gold, and haue caried into your temples my goodly and 6 The children also of Iudah & the children of Ierusalem haue you folde vnto the Grecians, that yemight send them farre from their border.

7 Beholde, I will raise them out of the place where ye haue sold them, and will render your reward vpon your owne head,

8 And I will sell your formes and your dancers into the hand of the children of Iudah, and they shall sell them to the Sabeans, to a people farre off: for the Lord hath spoken it.

warre, wake vp the mightie men: let all the men of warre draw peece and come vp.

10 Breake your plowshares into swords, and your sitches into speares: let the weake say, I am strong.

11 Assemble your selues, and come all ye heathen, & gather your selues together round about:
there shall the Lord cast downe thy mighty men.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, and come vp to the valley of Iehoshaphat: for there will I sit to iudge all the heathen round about,

13 Put in your sitches, for the harvest is ripe:
come, get you downe, for the winepresse is full:
yea, the winepresses runne ouer, for their wickednesse is great.

14 O multitude, O multitude, come into the valley of threshing: for the day of the Lord is neere in the valley of threshing.

15 The sunne and moone shall be darkened, and the starres shall withdraw their light.

16 The Lord also shall roare out of Zion, and vter his voyce from Ierusalem, and the heauens and the earth shall shake, but the Lord will be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.

17 So shall yee know that I am the Lord your God dwelling in Zion, mine holy Mountaine:
then shall Ierusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers goe thorow her any more.

18 And in that day shall the mountaines drop downe new wine, and the hilles shall flow with milke, and all the riuers of Iudah shall run with waters, and a fountaine shall come forth of the House of the Lord, and shall water the valley of Shittim.

19 Egypt shall be waste, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the iniuries of the children of Iudah, because they haue shed innocent blood in their land.

20 But Iudah shall dwell for euer, and Ierusalem from generation to generation.

THE ARGVMENT.

Among many other Prophets that God raised up to admonish the Israelites of his plagues for their wickednesse and idolatrie, hee stirred up Amos, who was an herdman or shepheard of a poore towne, and gave him both knowledge and constance to reprove all estates and degrees, and to denounce Gods horrible iudgements against them, except they did in time repent: shewing them, that if God spare not the other nations about them, who had liued as it were in ignorance of God in respect of them, but for their sinnes will punish them, that they could looke for nothing, but an horrible destruction, except they turned to the Lord by an vniuersall repentance. And finally, hee comforteth the godly with hope of the summing of the Messiah, by whom they should haue perise deliuerance and saluation.

CHAP. I.

mon.

Heywordes of Amos, who was among the herdmen at a Tecoa, which he saw vpon Israel, in the dayes of Vziah king of Iudah, and in the dayes of Ieroboam
the sonne of Ioash king of Israel, two yeere before the earthquake.

2 And he said, The Lord shall roare from Zion, and vter his voyce from Ierusalem, and the dwelling places of the shepherds shall perish, and the top of Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Damascus, and for foure, I will not turne

He sheweth first that all the people round about should bee destroyed for their manifold sinnes: which are meant by three and foure, which make seuen, because the Israelites should the more deeply consider Gods iudgements toward them. f If the Syrians shall not be spared for committing this crueltie against one citie, it is not possible that Israel should escape punishment which hath committed so many and grieuous sinnes against God and man.

4 Therefore will I send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ben-hadad.

5 I will breake also the barres of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant of Bikaath-auei: and him that holdeth the scepter out of Beth-eden, and the people of Aram shall goe into captiuitie vnto Kir, saith the Lord.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Azzah, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they caried away prisoners the whole captiuitie to shut them vp in Edom.

7 Therefore wil I send a fire vpon the walles of Azzah, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the scepter from Ash-kelon, and turne mine hand to Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, sayeth the Lord God.

9 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Tyros, and for foure, I will not turne to it,

g The antiquitie

h Tiglath Pileser led the Assyrians captiue, & brought them to Cyrene, which he called here Kir.
i They loyned themselves with the Edomites their enemies, which caried them away captiues.

For Elia (of whom came the Edomites) and Jacob worshipped them, therefore they ought to have acknowledged them of their brotherly friendship, and not to have provoked them to hatred, & to have loved them as brethren. I He was a continual enemy unto him.

He seeth the great cruelty of the Ammonites, that spared not the women, but most tyrannously tormented them, and yet the Ammonites came of Lot, who was once household of Abraham.

For the Moabites were so cruel against the king of Edom, that they burnt his bones after death, he was dead: which declared their barbarous rage, seeing they would revenge themselves of the dead.

Seeing the Gentiles that had not so farre knowledge were thus punished, Judah which was so fully instructed of the Lords will, might not think to escape.

If he spare not Judah vnto whom his promises were made, much more he will not spare this degenerate kingdome.

They esteemed most vile better more then mens lives.

When they haue spoiled him, and thrown him vnto the ground, they gape for his life.

Thinking by these ceremonies, that is, by sacrificing, and being nexte mine altar, they may excuse all their other wickedness.

They heyle others and offer thereof vnto God, thinking that hee will dispense with them, when he is made partaker of their iniquities.

The destruction of their enemies and his mercie towards them should haue taught their hearts to relye for helpe toward him.

it, because they saw the whole captiuitie in Edom, and haue not remembered the brotherly commandment.

10 Therefore will I send a fire vpon the walls of Tyrus, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof.

11 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Edom, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because hee did pursue his brother with the sword, and he did cast off all piety, and his anger spoiled him euermore, and his wrath watched him alway.

12 Therefore will I kindle a fire vpon Teman, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Bosrah.

13 Thus saith the Lord For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they haue spit in the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

14 Therefore will I kindle a fire in the wall of Habbah, and it shall deuoure the palaces thereof with shouting, in the day of battell, and with a trumpet in the day of the whirlwind.

15 And their king shall goe into captiuitie, and his princes together, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER III.

Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Moab, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because it burneth the bones of the king of Edom into lumps: hee holdeth his brother in the hand.

2 Therefore will I send a fire vpon Moab, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Kerioth, and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of a trumpet.

3 And I will cut off the iudge out of the mids thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the Lord.

4 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Iudah, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they haue cast away the lawe of the Lord, & haue not kept his commandements, and their lies caused them to erre after the which their fathers haue walked.

5 Therefore will I send a fire vpon Iudah, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem.

6 Thus saith the Lord, For three transgressions of Israel, and for foure, I will not turne to it, because they sold the righteous for silver, and the poore for shoes.

7 They gape out the head of the poore, in the dust of the earth, and peruert the wayes of the meke, and a man as the fisher will goe in to a mayd, to dishonour, and ruine holy Name.

8 And they lie downe vpon clothes layde out, and they pledge by euery altar, and they drinke the wine of the condemned, in the house of their God.

9 Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oke, notwithstanding I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roote from beneath.

10 Also I brought you vp from the land of Egypt, and led you forth in the wilderness, to the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raised vp of your sinners for Kings, phers, and of your young men for Nazirites. Is it not euen thus? O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord?

12 But yet gave the Lord many signes and tokens, and commanded the Prophets, saying, Propheticall word.

13 Behold, I am pressed vnder you as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaves.

14 Therefore the swift shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty fortifie his force.

15 Not hee that handleth the bow, shall stand, and hee that is swift of foot, shall not escape, neither shall hee that rideth the horse, saue his life.

16 And he that is of a mighty courage among the strong men, shall away take in that day, saith the Lord.

CHAPTER IIII.

Heare this word that the Lord pronounceth against you, O children of Israel, against the whole familie which I brought vp from the land of Egypt, saying,

1 You only haue I knowne of all the families of the earth, therefore will I visit you for all your iniquities.

2 Can two walke together except they be agreed?

3 Will a Lyon roare in the fourth, when hee hath no pray? or will a Lyons whelpie crie out of his den, if he haue taken nothing?

4 Can a bird fall in a snare vpon the earth, where no fowler is? or will he take vp the snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?

5 Or shall a trumpet be blown in the citie, and the people be not afraid? or shall there be quill in a cigne, and the Lord hath not done it?

6 Surely the Lord God will doe nothing, but hee haue reuealed his secret to his seruants the Prophets.

7 The Lyon hath roared, who will not be afraid? the Lord God hath spoken, who can but propheticall?

8 Proclaime in the palaces, & in the land of Egypt, & say, Assemble your selves vpon the mountaynes of Samaria: so beholde the great tumults in the mids thereof, and the oppressed in the mids thereof.

9 For they know not to doe right, saith the Lord: they store vp violence, and build themselves their palaces.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, An aduersarie shall come euen round about the countrey, & shall bring downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be spoiled.

11 Thus saith the Lord, As the shepheard taketh out of the mouth of the Lyon two leys, or a piece of an eare: so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed: and in Damascus as in a couch.

12 Heare, and testifie in the house of Iacob, saith the Lord God, the God of Israel.

Ye countenanced my enemies, and abused my grace, and suddenly went about to floupe the mouthes of my Prophets.

You haue neglected me with your sinnes, Isa. 1. 14.

None shall be deliuered by any meanes.

I haue only chosen you to be mine among all other people, and yet you haue forsaken me.

Hereby the Prophet signifieth that hee speaketh not of himselfe, but as God guideth and moueth him, which is called the agreement between God and his Prophets.

Will God threaten by his Prophets, except there be some great occasion?

Can any thing come without Gods prouidence?

Shall his threatenings be in vaine?

Shall the Prophets threaten Gods iudgements and the people not be afraid?

Doth any aduersarie come without Gods appointment?

God dealeth not with the Israelites, as he doeth with other people: for hee curreth warneth them before of his plagues by his Prophets.

Because the people curreth murmured against the Prophets, hee sheweth that Gods Spirit moued them to speake as they did.

He calleth the Ammonites as the Philistines and Egyptians, to be iudges of Gods iudgements against the Israelites for their cruelty and oppression.

The first of their cruelties and theft appeareth by their great riches, which they haue in their houses.

When the Lyon hath fasted his hunger, the shepheard findeth a leg or a tipp of an eare, to shew that the shepheard haue bene worried.

Where they thought to haue had a sure hold, and haue become in sicke.

14 Surely in the day that I shall visit the iniquities of Israel upon him, I will also visit the altar of Beth-el, and the horns of the altar shall be broken off, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will smite the winter house with the summer house, and the houses of yorie shall perish, and the great houses shall be consumed, saith the Lord.

CHAP. IIII.

HEARE this worde, ye ^{kinge} of Basban that are in the mountaine of Samaria, which oppress the poore, and destroy the needie, and they say to their masters, Bring and let vs drinke.

1 The Lord God hath sworne by his holines, that loe, the dayes shall come vpon you, that hee will take you away with ^{thornes}, & your posteritie with ^{hookes}.

2 And ye shall goe out at the breaches euery way forward, and ye shall cast your selues out of the palace, saith the Lord.

3 Come to ^{Beth-el}, and transgresse: to Gilgal, and multiplie transgression, and bring your sacrifices in the morning, and your riches after three ^{yeeres}.

4 And offer thanksgiuings of ^{oſeuens}, publish and proclaime the free offerings: for this I likeh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord God.

5 And therefore haue I giuen you ^{cleannes} of teeth in all your cities, and scarcenes of bread in all your places, yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

6 And also I haue withholden the raine from you, when there were yet three ^{moneths} to the harvest, & I caused it to raine vpon one citie, and haue not caused it to raine vpon another city: one piece was rained vpon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, withered.

7 So two, or three cities wandred vnto one citie to drinke water, but they were ^{not} satisfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

8 I haue smitten you with blasting and mildew: your great gardens & your vineyards, and your figgers, and your olive trees did the palmer worme deuoure: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

9 Pestilence haue I sent among you, after the manner of ^{Egypt}: your young men haue I slaine with the sword, & haue taken away your horses: and I haue made the stinke of your tents to come vp, even vnto your nostrils, yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

10 I haue ouerthrowe you, as God ouerthrew Sodom & Gomorah: and ye were as a ^{firebrand}, plucked out of the burning, yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

11 Therefore thus will I do vnto thee, O Israel: and because I will doe this vnto thee, prepare to ^{meet} thy God, O Israel.

12 For loe, hee that formeth the mountaines, and createth the winde, and declareth vnto man what is his thought, which maketh the morning darknesse, and walketh vpon the hie places of the earth, the Lord God of hosts is his Name.

CHAP. V.

HEARE ye this word, which I lift vp vpon you, ^{ye} children of Israel, a lamentation of the house of Israel.

1 The ^{virgine} Israel is fallen, and shall no more rise: she is left vpon her land, and there is none to raise her vp.

2 For this sayth ^{the} Lord God, The city which went out by a thousand, shall leaue an hundred, and that which went forth by an hundred, shall leaue ten to the house of Israel.

3 For thus saith the Lorde vnto the house of Israel, Seeke ye me, and ye shall liue.

4 But seeke not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, & go not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall go into captivity, and Beth-el shall come to nought.

5 Seeke the Lord, and ye shall liue, least hee breake out like fire in the house of Ioseph and deuoure it, & there be none to quench it in Beth-el.

6 They turne ^{iudgement} to wormewood, and leaue off righteousnesse in the earth.

7 Hee maketh Pleiades, and Orion, and he turneth the shadowe of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as night: he calleth the waters of the sea, & powreth them out vpon the open earth: the Lord is his Name.

8 Hee strengtheneth the destroyer against the mightie, and the destroyer shall come against the fortresse.

9 They haue hated him, that rebeked in the gate: and they abhorred him that speaketh vprightly.

10 Forasmuch then as your treading is vpon the poore, and ye take from him burdens of wheat, ye haue built houses of hewen stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: ye haue planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drinke wine of them.

11 For I know your manifold transgressions, and your mighty finnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewardes, and they oppress the poore in the gate.

12 Therefore the prudent shall keepe silence in that time, for it is an euill time.

13 Seeke good & not euill, that ye may liue: and the Lord God of hosts shall be with you, as you haue spoken.

14 Hate the euill, and loue the good, and establish iudgement in the gate: it may bee that the Lord God of hosts wil be merciful vnto the remnant of Ioseph.

15 Therefore the Lord God of hosts, the Lord saith thus, Mourning shall be in all streets: & they shall say in all the hie ways, Alas, alas: and they shall call the husbandman to lamentation, and such as can mourne, to mourning.

16 And in all the vines shall be lamentation: for I will passe through thee, saith the Lord.

17 Wide vnto you, that desire the day of the Lord: what haue you to doe with it? the day of the Lord is darkened, and not light.

18 As if a man did flee from a lyon, & a beare met him: or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

19 Shall not the day of the Lord be darknes, and not light, euen darknes and no light in it?

20 I hate and abhorre your feast dayes, and I will not dwell in your solemne assemblies.

21 Though ye offer me burnt offerings & meat offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat beasts.

22 Take thou away from mee the multitude of thy songs: for I will not heare the melodie of thy viols.

23 And let iudgement runne downe as waters, and righteousnesse as a mightie riuer.

24 Haue ye offered vnto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness foure yeares, O house of Israel?

b Meaning that the tenth part should leaue the tenth.

c In these places they worshipped new idoles, which aforetime serued for the true honon of God: therefore he saith that they shall not saue them. d In steade of iudgement and equitie they execute crueltie and oppression. e He describeth the power of God, Job 9. 9.

f They haue the Prophets which reprove them in the open assemblies.

g Ye take both his money & also his tooles, wherewith he should liue.

h God will so plague them that they shall not suffer, the godly once to open their mouths to admonish them of their faultes.

i So that all degrees shall haue notice of lamentation of the great plagues.

k Thus he speaketh, because the wicked and hypocrites said they were content to abide Gods iudgements, whereas the godly tremble and feare, Iere. 30. 2. Ier. 31. 1. Ier. 31. 13.

they shall die.

shall say vnto him, that is by the sides of the flood, is there yet any with thee? And hee shall say, No. Then shall he say, Hold thy tongue for wee may not remember the Name of the Lord.
11 For beholde, the Lord commandeth and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the little house with clefts.

shall burne them as home, to carle out the burnt ashes with more safe. i That at this destruction, that they shall blasfeme the Name of God, and that they are his people; but they shall be damned when they heare Gods Name and a horre-

q From one corner of the country to another.

15 And beholde, I will form a people against you, in the beginning of the fasting vpon me: I will growe and loe, it was in the latter growth, after the kings mowing.
16 And when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I sayd, O Lord God, spare I beseech thee: who shall raise vp Iakob?
for he is small.
17 So the Lord repented for this: It shall not be, sayeth the Lord.
18 Thus hath the Lord God shewed vnto me, and beholde the Lord God called to iudge-ment by fire: and it deuoured the great deep, and did not spare a part.
19 Then said I, O Lord God, cease: I beseech thee, who shall raise vp Iakob? for he is small.
20 So the Lord repented for this: This also shall not be, sayeth the Lord God.
21 Thus againe he shewed mee, and beholde, the Lord stood vpon a wall made by line: with a line in his hand.
22 And the Lord said vnto mee, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a line in the middes of my people Israel, and will passe by them no more.
23 And the high places of Ithak shall be defo-late, and the temples of Ithak shall be destroyed:
and I will seag against the house of Ieroboam with the sword.
24 Then Amaziah the Priest of Beth-el sent to Ieroboam King of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the middes of the house of Israel: the land is not able to beare all his words.
25 For thus Amos saith, Ieroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall be led away captive out of their owne land.
26 Also Amaziah said vnto Amos, O thou the Seer, goe, see thou away into the land of Iudah, and there eat thy bread, and prophesie there: 27 But prophesie no more at Beth-el: for it is the kings chappell, and it is the kings court.
28 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah,
I was no Prophet, neither was I a Prophets sonne, but I was an herdsman, and a gatherer of wildes figs.
29 And the Lord took mee as I followed the flocke, and the Lord said vnto mee, Goe, prophesie vnto my people Israel.
30 Now therefore heare thou the word of the Lord. Thus sayest, Prophesie not against Israel, and speake nothing against the house of Ithak.
31 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord, Thy wife shall be an harlot in the cite, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall bee diuided by line: and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely goe into captivity forth of his land.

5 Saying, When will the new month bee gone, that we may sell corne? and the Sabbath, that we may set fourth wheate, and make the Ephah small, and the shekel great, and falsifie the weights by deceit?

6 That we may buy the poore for siluer, and the needie for shooes: yea, and sell the refuse of the wheate.

7 The Lord hath sworne by the excellencie of Iakob, Surely I will neuer forget any of their works.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and euery one mourne, that dwalleth therein? and it shall rise vp wholly as a flood, and it shall be cast out, and drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord God, I will euen cause the sunne to goe downe at noone: I will darken the earth in the cleare day.

10 And I will turne your feastes into mourning: and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackcloth vpon all loynes, and baldnes vpon euery head: and I will make it as the mourning of an onely sonne, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the word of the Lord.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North euen vnto the East shall they run to and fro to seeke the word of the Lord, and shall not finde it.

13 In that day shall the faire virgins and the yong men perish for thirst.

1 Threading against the Temple, 2 And against Israel. 11 The restoring of the Church.

I saw the Lord standing vpon the Altar, and he said, Smite the lintel of the doore, that the posts may shake: and cut them in pieces, euen the heads of them all, & I will slay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them, shall not flee away: and he that escapeth of them, shall not be deliuered.

2 Though they dig into the hell, thence shall mine hand take them: though they climbe vp to heauen, thence will I bring them downe.

3 And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence: and though they be hid from my sight in the bottome of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them.

4 And though they goe into captiuitie before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and I will set mine eyes vpon them for euill, and not for good.

5 And the Lord God of hosts shall touch the land, and it shall melt away, and all that dwell therein shall mourne, and it shall rise vp wholly like a flood, and shall be drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 He buildeth his spheres in the heauen, and hath laide the foundation of his globe of elements in the earth: he calleth the waters of the sea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth: the Lord is his Name.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians vnto me, O children of Israel, saith the Lord? haue not I brought vp Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the Philistims from Caphtor and Aram from Kir?

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are vpon the finiall kingdome, and I will destroy it cleane out of the earth. Neuertheless I will not utterly destroy the house of Iakob, saith the Lord.

9 For Ioe, I will command, and I will sit the house of Israel among all nations, like as corne is sited in a sieue: yet shall not the least stone fall vpon the earth.

10 But all the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The euill shall not come, nor hasten for vs.

11 In that day will I raise vp the Tabernacle of Dauid, that is fallen downe, and close vp the breaches thereof, and will raise vp his ruines, and I will build it, as in the dayes of old.

12 That they may possesse the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen, because my Name is called vpon them, saith the Lord, that doeth this.

13 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that the plowman shall touch the mower, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed: and the mountaines shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt.

14 And I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people of Israel: and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them, and they shall plant vineyards, and drinke the wine thereof: they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruits of them.

15 And I wil plant them vpon their land, and they shall no more bee pulled vp againe out of their land which I haue given them, saith the Lord thy God.

1 He sheweth that God will declare himselfe enemy vnto them in all places, and that his elements, and all creatures shall be enemies to destroy them. 2 He declareth by the wonderfull power of God by the making of the heauens and the elements, that it is not possible for man to escape his iudgements when he punisheth. 3 Am I more bound to you then to the Ethiopians, or to blackmores? yet haue I bestowed vpon you greater benefits. 4 Reade Ier. 47. 4. 5 Though he destroy the rebellious multitude, yet he will euer reuerse the remnant his Church to call vpon his Name. 6 Meaning that none of his should perish in his wrath. 7 I will send the Messiah promised, & restore by him the spirituall Israel, Acts 15. 16. 8 Meaning that the very enemies as were the Edomites and others, should be ioyned with the Iewes in one societie, and body, wherof Christ should be the head. 9 Signifying that there shall be great plenty of all things, so that when one kinde of fruit is ripe, another should follow, and euery one in course. 10 Reade Ier. 31. 11 The accomplishment hereof is vnder Christ, when they are planted in his Church, out of the which they can neuer be pulled, after they are once grafted therein.

OBADIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

He Iudemeant, which came of Esau, were mortall enemies alway to the Israelites, which came of Iakob, and therefore did not onely vex them continually with sundry kindes of crueltie, but also stirred up others to fight against them. Therefore when they were now in their greatest prosperitie, and did most triumph against Israel, which was in great affliction and miserie, God raised up the Prophet to comfort the Israelites, inasmuch as God had now determined to destroy their aduersaries, which did first vex them, and to send them such as should deliuer them, and set up the kingdome of Iudah, which he had promised.

5 So Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the East side of the citie, and there made him a boozhe, and sat vnder it in the shadowe: till he might see what should be done in the citie.

6 And the Lord God prepared a gourd, and made it to come vp vpon Jonah, that it might be a shadowe ouer his head, and deliuer him from his griefe. So Jonah was exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worme when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered.

8 And when the sunne did arise, God prepared also a feruent East wind: and the sunne beat upon the head of Ionah; that he fainted and wished in his heart to die; and said; It is better for me to die then to live.

9 And God said vnto Ionah, Doeſt thou weepe to be angry for the gourd? And he ſaid, I do weell as be angry vnto the death.

10 Then ſaid the Lord, Thou haſt had pity on the gourd forſake which thou haſt not laboured, neither waſt it grow, which came vp in a night and periſhed in a night;

M Thanks the Prophet of the tribe of Judah framed in the words of the Lord concerning Judah and Jerusalem, that he should be a sign and wonder, as was said through the prophet. He declares the destruction, first of the one kingdom, and then of the other, because of their manifold wickednesses, but chiefly for their idolatry. And to this ends he noteth the wickedness of the people, the cruelty of the princes and governors, and the permission of the false prophets, and the delighting in them. Then he setteth forth the coming of Christ, his kingdom, and the felicity thereof. And thou, O tower of the rocks, the strong hold of the daughter Zion, thou shalt be come even the first dominion, and king shall come to the daughter Jerusalem.

Now why does this cry with lamentation? Is there a king in this? Is the ruler perished? Or how much does this in a woman in trouble.

Luke 12. 47.

4 The Prophet taketh vpon him the person of the church, which complaineth that all her fruites are gone, so that none is left: that is, that there is no godly man remaining: for all are given to euill, and decess, so that none flourish his owne brother.
5 He sheweth that the prince, the iudge, and the rich man are linked together all as one euill, and to close the doings of another.
6 That is, the rich man that is able to give money, and to buy from the wicked euill, and to buy from the men among themselves, and to buy from the one confederate with one confederate doe euill. e They that are of most estimation and are counted most honest among them, are but thornes and briars to prick. f Meaning of the Prophet and gouernours. g The Prophet sheweth that the only remedie for the godly in desperate euill is to flee vnto God for succour.

11 Shall I iustifie the wicked balances, and the bag of deceitfull weights?

16 For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the manner of the house of Ahab, and ye walke in their counsels, that I should make thee waste, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing: therefore ye shall beare the reproch of my people.

CHAP. VII.

1 A complaint for the small number of the righteous. 4 The wickedness of these times. 14 The prosperity of the Church.
Woe is it, for I am as the Summer gatherings, and as the grapes of the vintage: there is no cluster to eate: my soule desired the first ripe fruits.
2 The good man is perished out of the earth, and there are none righteous among men: they all lie in wait for blood: euery man hunteth his brother with a net.
3 To make good for the euill of their hands, the prince asketh, and the iudge iudgeth for a reward: therefore the great man he speaketh out the corruption of his soule: so they wrap it vp.
4 The best of them is as a bracke, and the most righteous of them is sharper then a thorne hedge: the day of thy watchmen and thy visitation commeth, then shall be their confusion.
5 Trust ye not in friend, neither put ye confidence in a counsellor: keepe the doores of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosome.
6 For the son reuileth the father: the daughter riseth vp against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law, and a mans enemies are the men of his owne house.
7 Therefore I will looke vnto the Lorde:

I will waite for God my Saviour: my God will heare me.

8 Reioyce not against me, O mine enemies: though I fall, I shall rise: when I shall sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light vnto me.
9 I will beare the wrath of the Lord, because I haue sinned against him: vntill hee pleade my cause, and execute iudgement for me: then will he bring mee forth to the light, and I shall see his righteousness.
10 Then shall that is mine enemy, shall looke vpon it, and shall be confounded her, which said vnto mee, Where is the Lord thy God? Mine eyes shall beholde her: now shall she be trodden downe as the myre of the streetes.
11 This is the day that thy walles shall be built: this day shall driue farre away the decree.
12 In this day also they shall come vnto thee from Asshur, and from the strong cities, and from the strong holdes euen vnto the river, and from Sea to Sea, and from mountaine to mountaine.

13 Notwithstanding, the land shall be desolate because of them that dwell therein, and for the fruits of their inventions.

NAHV M.

THE ARGVMENT.

As they of Nineveh shewed themselves prompt and ready to receive the words of God, at Ionahs preaching, and so turned to the Lord by repentance: so after a certaine time rather giuing themselves to worldly means to increase their dominion, then seeking to continue in the feare of God, and trade therein they had begun, they cast off the care of religion, and so returned to their vices, and provoked God to his iudgement against them, in afflicting his people. Therefore their citie Nineveh was destroyed, and Nebuchadrezzar king of Babel (for as some think Nebuchadrezzar) enjoyed the empire of the Assyrians. But because God hath a continuall care of his Church, hee stirreth vp his Prophet to comfort the godly, shewing that the destruction of their enemies should be for their consolation. And as it seemeth, he prophesied about the time of Hezekiah, and not in the time of Manasse his sonne, as the Lxx. write.

CHAP. I.

Of the destruction of the Assyrians, and of the deliverance of Israel.

His burden of Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkeshite.

God is jealous, and the Lord revengeth: the Lord revengeth: even the Lord of anger: the Lord will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he will respect his enemies.

The Lord is slow to anger, but his anger is in power, and will not surely clear: the wicked: the Lord hath his way in the whirlwind, and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet.

He rebuketh the sea, and drieth it, and hee drieth vp all the rivers: Babylon is wasted, and Carmel, and the flower of Lebanon is wasted.

The mountaines tremble for him, and the hills melt, and the earth is burnt at his sight, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein.

Who can stand before his wrath? or who can abide in the fierceness of his wrath? his wrath is poured out like fire, and the rocks are broken by him.

The Lord is good, and as a strong hold in the day of trouble, and hee knoweth them that trust in him.

But passing over as with a flood, he will utterly destroy the place thereof, and darkenesse shall pursue his enemies.

What do ye imagine against the Lord? he will make an utter destruction: affliction shall not rise vp the second time.

For he shall come as vnto thornes folden in another, and as vnto drunkards in their drunkenesse: they shall be deuoured as stubble fully dried.

There commeth one out of thee that imagineth euill against the Lord, as a wicked counsellor.

Thus saith the Lord, Though they be quiet, and also many, yet thus shall they be cut off when hee shall passe by: though I haue afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.

For now I will breake his yoke from thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder.

And the Lord hath giuen a commandment concerning thee that no more of thy name bee sown: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graues, and the molren images: I will make at thy graue for thee, for thou art vile.

Behold vpon the mountaines the feet of him that declareth, and publisheth peace: O Iudah, keepe thy solemne feastes, performe thy vowes: for I wicked shall no more passe through thee: he is utterly cut off.

CHAP. II.

Of the fall of Nineveh, and of the deliverance of Israel.

Of the fall of Nineveh.

The destroyer is come before thy face: keepe the munition: looke to the way: make thy loynes strong: increase thy strength mightily.

For the Lord hath turned away the glory of Iacob, as the glory of Israel: for the emptiers haue emptied them out, and marred their vine branches.

The shield of his mightie men is made red, the valiant men are in scarlet: the charrets shall be in the fire and flames in the day of his preparation, and the furre trees shall tremble.

The charrets shall rage in the streets: they shall runne to and fro in the hie wayes: they shall seme like lampes: they shall shoot like the lightning.

Hee shall remember his strong men: they shall stumble as they go: they shall make haste to the walles thereof, and the defence shall bee prepared.

The gates of the river shall bee opened, and the palace shall melt.

And Huzzab, the Queen shall be led away captiue, and her maides shall lead her as with the voyce of doves, smiting vpon their breasts.

But Nineveh is of old like a poole of water: yet they shall flee away. Stand, stand, shall they cry: but none shall looke backe.

Spoyle ye the siluer, spoyle the golde: for there is none end of the store and glory of all the pleasant vessels.

She is emptye and void and waste, and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and sorow is in all loynes, and the faces of them all gather blackenesse.

Where is the dwelling of the lions, and the pasture of the lions whelps? where the lyon and the lyoness walked, and the lyons whelpe, and none made them afraid.

The lion did teare in pieces ynough for his whelpe, and worried for his lyoness, and filled his holes with pray, and his denues with spoyle.

Behold, I come vnto thee, saith the Lord of hosts, and I wil burne her charrets in the smoke, and the sword shall deuoure thy yong lions, and I will cut off thy spoyle from the earth, and the voyce of thy messengers shal no more be heard.

To spoyle Nineveh, and prometh them infinite riches and treasures. That is, Nineveh, and the men thereof shall be alter this sort. Reade Ioh. 1. 6. 1 Meaning, Nineveh, whose inhabitants were cruel like the Lions, and giuen to all oppression, and spared no violence or tyranny to provide for their wives and children. That is, as soone as my wrath beginneth to kindle. Signifying the heralds, which were accustomed to proclaim warre. Some read, of thy gunnes teeth wherewith Nineveh was wont to bruite the bones of the people.

CHAP. III.

Of the fall of Nineveh, and of the deliverance of Israel.

Bloody city, it is all full of lyes & robberie: the pray departeth not.

The noyse of a whip, and the noyse of the moouing of the wheelles, and the beating of the horses, and the leaping of the charrets.

The horseman lifteth vp both the bright sword, and the glittering speare, and a multitude is slaine, and the dead bodies are many: there is none end of their corpses: they stumble vpon their corpses.

Because of the multitude of the fornications of the harlot that is beautifull, and is a mistress of witchcraft, & selleth the people through her beauty and subtiltie: enticeth yong men, and bringeth them

Thar is, Nebuchadnezzar is in a readinesse to destroy the Assyrians and the Prophet derideth the enterprises of the Assyrians which prepared to resist him.

Seeing God hath punished his owne people Iudah and Israel, he will now punish the enemies by whom hee encouraged them, reade Isa. 10. 12.

Signifying, that the Israelites were utterly destroyed.

Both to feare the enemy, and also that they themselves should not so soone eiepie blood one of another to discourage them.

Meaning, their speares should shake and crash together.

Then the Assyrians shall seeke by all means to gather their power, but all thing shall faile them.

The Assyrians will flatter themselves and say, that Nineveh is so ancient that it can neuer perill, and is as a fishpoole, whose waters they that walke on the banks cannot touch: but they shall be scattered, and shall not looke backe though men would call them.

God commandeth the enemies

Hee sheweth how the Caldeans shall haue, and how courageous their horses shall be in beating the ground when they come against the Assyrians.

Behold, I come vpon thee, sayeth the Lord of hosts, and will discouer thy skirts vpon thy face, and will shew the nations thy filthinesse, and the kingdome thy shame.

And I will cast filth vpon thee, and make thee vile, and will set thee as a gasing stocke.

And it shal come to passe, that all they that looke vpon thee, shall flee from thee, and say, Nineueh is destroyed, who will haue pitie vpon her? where shall I seeke comforters for thee?

Art thou better then? No, which was full of people? that lay in the riuers, and had the waters round about it? whose ditch was the sea, and her wall was from the sea?

Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and there was none end: Put and Lubim were her helpers.

Yet was shee caried away, and went into captiuitie: her yong children also were dashed in pieces at the head of all the streetes: and they cast lots for her noble men, and all her mightie men were bound in chaines.

Also thou shalt be drunken: thou shalt hide thy selfe, & shalt seeke help because of the enemy.

All thy strong cities shalbe like figgetrees with the firstripe figge: for if they be shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater.

Behold, thy people within thee are women: the gates of thy land shall be opened vnto thine enemies, & the fire shal deuoure thy barres.

Draw thee waters for the siege: fortifie thy strong holds: goe into the clay, and temper the mortar: make strong bricke.

There shal the fire deuoure thee: the sword shall cut thee off: it shall eate thee vp like the locusts, though thou be multiplied like the locusts, and multiplied like the grasshopper.

Thou hast multiplied thy merchants about the starres of heauen: the locust spoyleth and flyeth away.

Thy princes are as the grasshoppers, and thy captaines as the great grasshoppers which remain in the hedges in the cold day: but when the sunne ariseth, they flee away, & their place is not knowne where they are.

Thy shepherds do sleepe, O king of Asshur: thy strong men lie downe: thy people is scattered vpon the mountaines, & no man gathereth them.

There is no healing of thy wound: thy plague is grievous: all that heare the bruite of thee, shal clappe the hands ouer thee: for vpon whom hath not thy malice passed continually?

HABAKKUK.

THE ARGVMENT.

The Prophet complaineth vnto God, considering the great felicitie of the wicked, and the miserable oppression of the godly, which endure all kind of affliction and crueltie, and yet can see none end. Therefore he had this reuelation shewed him of God, that the Caldeans should come and take them away captiues, so that they could looke for none end of their troubles as yet, because of their stubbornnesse and rebellion against the Lord. And lest the godly should despaire, seeing this horrible confusion, hee comforteth them by this, that God will punish the Caldeans their enemies, when their pride and crueltie shall be at height: wherefore he exhorteth the faithful to patience by his owne example, and seareth them a forme of prayer, where-with they should comfort themselves.

CHAPTER I.

A complaint against the wicked that persecute the iust.

He burden, which Habakkuk the Prophet did see.

O Lord, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not heare! when cry out vnto thee for violence, and thou wilt not helpe!

Why doest thou shew me iniquitie, and cause me to behold sorow? for spoyling, and violence are before me: and there are that raise vp strife and contention.

Therefore the Law is dissolved, and iudgement doth neuer goe forth: for the wicked doeth compasse about the righteous, therefore wrong iudgement proceedeth.

Behold among the heathen, and regard, and wonder, and maruaile: for I will worke a worke in your dayes: ye will not beleue it, though it be told you.

For loe, I raise vp the Caldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which shall goe vpon the breadth of the land to possesse the dwelling places that are not theirs.

They are terrible and fearful: their iudgemente God will defence Gods worde, so shall yee not now beleue the strange plagues which are at hand. They themselves shall be your iudges in this cause, and none shall haue authoritie or them to couerill them.

ment, & their dignity shal proceed of themselves.

Their hories also are swifter then the leopards, and are more fierce then the wolues in the evening: and their horsemen are many: and their horsemen shall come from farre: they shall sie as the eagle hasting to meate.

They come all to spoile: before their faces shalbe an Eastwinde, and they shall gather the captiuitie as the land,

And they shall mocke the Kings, and the princes shalbe a scorn vnto them: they shall deride euery strong hold: for they shal gather dust, and take it.

Then shall they take a courage, & transgress & doe wickedly, imputing this their power vnto their god.

Art not thou of old, O Lord my God, mine holy One? we shall not die: O Lord, thou hast ordeined them for iudgement, and O God, thou hast established them for correction.

Thou art of pure eyes, and canst not see euill: thou canst not behold wickednesse: wherefore doest thou looke vpon the transgressors, and holdest thy tongue, when the wicked deuoureth the man, that is more righteous then he?

And makest men as the fishes of the sea, and as the creeping things, that haue no ruler ouer them?

hath appointed, and also that their sinnes required such a sharpe rod. So that the great deuoureth the small, and the Caldeans destroy all the world.

d To trust in himself, or in any worldly thing, is never to be quiet: for the only rest is to stay upon God by faith.

e He compareth the proud and contentious man to a drunkard that is without reason and sense, whom God will punish and make him a laughing stocke to all the world: and this he speaks for the foolishness of the Chaldeans.

f Signifying, that all the world shall witness the destruction of Babel, and thereby their oppression and contumacious they heape but upon them.

g Signifying, that the more they are troubled, the more they are distressed.

h Signifying, that the contentious man is the ruler of his own house, when he thinketh to resist by cruelty and oppression. i The stones of the house shall cry, and say that they are built of blood, and they shall answer and say the same of it false. k Meaning, that God will not deferre his vengeance long, but will come and destroy all their labours, as though they were consumed with fire. l In the destruction of the Babylonians, his glory shall appear through all the world. m He reproacheth thus the king of Babylon, who as he was drunken with contumacious and cruelty, so he provoked others to the same, and inflamed them by his rage, and so in the end brought them to ruin.

15 They take vp all with cheare, as they catch it in their net, and gather it in their yarne, whereof they reioyce, and are glad.

16 Therefore they sacrifice vnto their net, and burne incense vnto their yarne, because by them they haue gotten their portion of prey, and their meat is plenteous.

17 Shall they therefore stretch out their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

18 Will stand vpon my watch, and see me vpon the tower, and will looke & see what he would say vnto me, and what I shall answer to him that roweth in the net.

19 And the Lord answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plaine vpon tables, that he may runne that readeth it.

20 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the last it shall speake, and not lie: though it tarry, waite: for it shall surely come, and shall not fail.

21 Behold, hee that lieth vp himselfe, his mind is not vpright in him, but the lust shall liue by his faith.

22 Yes, indeede the proud man is hee that is reuelled by wine: therefore shall he not endure, because hee hath enlarged his desire as the hell, and is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth vnto him all nations, and heapech vnto him all people.

23 Shall not all these take vp a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, Hee that increaseth that which is not his? how long? and hee that laderh himselfe with thicke clay?

24 Shall they not rise vp suddenly, that shall bite thee? and awake, that shall slurre thee? and thou shalt be their praye?

25 Because thou hast spoyled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoyle thee, because of mans blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the cite, and vnto all that dwell therein.

26 Ho, he that couereth an euill couerousnesse to his house, that hee may set his nest on high, to escape from the power of euill.

27 Thou hast conspired shame to thine own house, by destroying many people, and hast sinned against thine owne soule.

28 For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beame out of the timber shall answer it.

29 Woe vnto him that buildeth a towne with blood, and erecteth a city by iniquitie.

30 Behold, is it not of the Lord of hostes, that the people shall labour in the very fire? the people shall euen weary themselves for very vanitie.

31 For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters couer the sea.

32 Woe vnto him that queth his neighbour, and drinketh thronesthis neighbours blood, and maketh him drunken also, that thou mayest see their privities.

33 Thou art filled with shame for glory: drinke thou also, and bee made naked: the cup of the Lords right hand shall be turned vnto thee, and shameful spauing shall be for thy glory.

34 For the crueltye of Lebanon shall come: it shall be the spoyle of the beastes, which made them afraid, because of mans blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the city, and vnto all that dwell therein.

35 What profiteth the image? for the maker thereof hath made it an image, and a teacher of lies, though he that made it, trust therein, when he maketh dumber idols.

36 Woe vnto him that sayeth to the wood, Awake, and to the dumbe stone, Rise vp, it shall teach thee: behold, it is layed out with gold and silver, and there is no breath in it.

37 But the Lord is in his holy Temple: let all the earth keepe silence before him.

CHAP. III.

A Prayer of Habakkuk the Prophet for the Ignorances.

1 O Lord, I haue heard thy voice, and was afraid: O Lord, reuise thy works in the mids of the people, in the mids of the yeres make it known: in wrath remember mercy.

2 God cometh from Teman, and the holy One from Paran, Selah. His glory couereth the heavens, the earth is full of his praise.

3 And his brightness was as the light: hee had hornes comming out of his hands, and there was the hiding of his power.

4 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coles went forth before his face.

5 He stood & measured the earth: hee beheld and disolued the nations; and the euilasting mountaines were broken, and the ancient hills did bow: his wayes are euilasting.

6 For by iniquity I saw the tents of Cushan, and the curtaines of the land of Midian did tremble.

7 Was the Lord angrie against the rivers? or was thine anger against the floods? or was thy wrath against the sea, that thou diddest ride vpon thine horses? thy charres brought saluation.

8 Thy bowe was manifestly reuealed, and the stones of the tribes were a sure word, Selah, thou diddest cleaue the earth with rivers.

9 The mountaines saw thee, and they trembled: the streame of the water passed by: the deepe made a noise, and lift vp his hand on high.

10 The sunne and moone stood still in their habitation: at the light of thine arrowes they went, and at the bright shining of thy speares.

11 Thou treadest downe the land in anger, and diddest trample the high fortifications.

12 The iniquity of this king of Syria in vexing thy people, was made manifest by thy iudgement, to the confusion of thy Church, and of all the of the Medimites, which destroyed themselves, by the sword of the Lord. Meaning, that God was not angry with the Syrians, but that by this means he would destroy his enemies, and deliuer his Church. THE ARGVMENT.

Seeing the great rebellion of the people, and that there was now no hope of amendment, hee denounceth the great iudgement of God, which was at hand, shewing that their country should be utterly destroyed, and they carried away captiues by the Babylonians. For the comfort of the faithfull he prophesied of Gods vengeance against their enemies, as the Philistims, Moabites, Assyrians, and others, to assure them that God had a continual care ouer them. And as the wicked should be punished for their sinnes and transgressions: so he exhorterth the godly to patience, and to trust to find mercy by reason of the free promise of God made vnto Abraham: and therefore quereth to abide till God shew them the effect of that grace, whereby in the end they should be gathered vnto him, and counted as his people and children.

CHAP. I.

The word of the Lord, which came vnto Zephaniah the sonne of Cushi, the sonne of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the sonne of Hizkiah, in the dayes of Iosiah, the sonne of Amon king of Iudah.

1 I will surely destroy all things from off the land, saith the Lord.

2 I will destroy man and beast: I will destroy the fowles of the heauen, and the fishes of the sea, and ruines shall be to the wicked, and I will cut off man from off the land, saith the Lord.

3 I will also stretch out mine hand vpon Iudah, and vpon all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and I will cut off the remnant of Babel from this place, and the name of the Chemarims with the Priests.

4 And them that worship the hoste of heauen vpon the house tops, and them that worship and sweare by the Lord, and sweare by Malchaim.

5 And them that are turned backe from the Lord, and those that haue not sought the Lord, nor inquired for him.

6 Be still at the presence of the Lord God: for the day of the Lord is at hand: for the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, and hath sanctified his gifts.

7 And it shall bee in the day of the Lords sacrifice, that I will visit the princes and the kings children, and all such as are clothed with strange apparell.

8 In the same day also will I visit all those that dance vpon the threshold so proudly, which fill their masters houses by crueltie and deceit.

9 And in that day, saith the Lord, there shall be a noyse, and crye from the fifth gate, and an howling from the second gate, and a great destruction from the hilles.

10 How ye inhabitants of the lowe place: for the company of the merchants is destroyed: all they that beare siluer, are cut off.

11 And at that time will I search Ierusalem with lights, and visite the men that are frozen in their dregs, and say in their hearts, The Lord will neither doe good nor doe euill.

12 Therefore their goods shall be spoyled, and their houses waste: they shall also build houses, but not inhabit them, and they shall plant vineyards, but not drinke the wine thereof.

13 The great day of the Lord is nere: it is nere, and hasteth greatly, even the voyce of the day of the Lord: the strong man shall cry there bitterly.

14 That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and heauinesse, a day of destruction and desolation, a day of obicuritie and darknesse, a day of cloudes and blacknesse.

15 A day of the trumpet and alarme against the strong cities, and against the hie towres.

16 And I will bring distresse vpon men, that they shall walke like blind men, because they haue sinned against the Lord, and their blood shall be powred out as dult, and their flesh as the dounge.

HAGGAI.

HAGGAI.

THE ARGUMENT.

When the time of the seuenie yeeres captivity prophesied by Ieremias, was expired, God raised up Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi, to comfort the Iewes, and to exhort them to the building of the Temple, which was a figure of the spiritual Temple and Church of God, whose perfection and excellencie stood in Christ. And because that all were given to their owne pleasures and commodities, hee declareth that that plague of famine which God sent then among them, was a just reward of their ingratitude, in that they contemned Gods honour, who had deliuered them. Tet hee comforteth them, if they will returne to the Lord, with the promise of greater felicitie, inasmuch as the Lord will finish the worke that hee hath begun, and send Christ whom hee had promised, whereby whom they should attaine to perfection and glory.

CHAP. I.

The word of the Lord came by Haggai, the prophet, to the Iewes, to build the Temple againe.

In the second yeere of king Darius, in the sixth moneth, the first day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord (by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai) vnto Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, a prince of Iudah, and to Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the high Priest, saying,

1 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, saying, This people say, The time is not yet come that the Lord house should be builded.

2 Then came the word of the Lord by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

3 Is it time for your selues to dwell in your felled houses, and this house lie waste?

4 Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

5 Ye haue sown much, and bring in little: ye eat, but ye haue not enough: ye drinke, but ye are not filled: ye clothe you, but ye be not warme: and hee that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bag.

6 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your hearts.

7 Go vp to the mountaine, and bring wood, and build this house, and I will be fauourable in it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord.

8 Ye looked for much, and lo, it came to little: and when ye brought it home, I did blow vpon it. And why, saith the Lord of hostes? Because of mine house that is waste, and ye runne euery man vnto his owne house.

9 Therefore the heauen ouer you stayed it selfe from dew, and the earth stayed her fruit.

10 And I called for a drought vpon the land, and vpon the mountaines, & vpon the corne, and vpon the wine, & vpon the oyle, vpon all that the ground bringeth forth: both vpon men and vpon cattell, and vpon all the labour of the hands.

11 When Zerubbabel the sonne of Iehozadak, and Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the high Priest, with all the remnant of the people, heard the voice of the Lord their God, and the words of the Prophet Haggai (as the Lord their God had sent him) then the people did feare before the Lord.

12 Then spake Haggai the Lords messenger in the Lords message vnto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.

13 And the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, a Prince of Iudah, and the spirit of Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the high Priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came, and did the worke in the house of the Lord of hostes their God.

CHAP. II.

The word of the Lord came by Haggai, the prophet, to the Iewes, to build the Temple againe.

In the foure and twentieth day of the sixth moneth, in the second yeere of king Darius,

1 In the seuenth moneth, in the one and twentieth day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord by the ministerie of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

2 Speake now to Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel prince of Iudah, and to Iehoshua the sonne of Iehozadak the high Priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

3 Who is left among you that sawe this house in her first glory, and how doe you see it now? Is it not in your eyes, in comparison of it as nothing?

4 Yet now bee of good courage, O Zerubbabel, saith the Lord, and bee of good comfort, O Iehoshua, sonne of Iehozadak the high Priest: and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and doe it: for I am with you, saith the Lord of hostes.

5 According to the word that I couenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: so my Spirit shall remaine among you, saie ye not.

6 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, Yet a little while, and I will shake the heauens, and the earth, and the sea, and the drie land:

7 And I will moue all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hostes.

8 The siluer is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hostes.

9 The glory of this last house shall be greater then the first, saith the Lord of hostes: and in this place will I giue peace, saith the Lord of hostes.

10 In the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, in the second yeere of Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Haggai, saying,

11 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Aske now the Priests concerning the Law, and say, 12 If one beare a holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, & with his skirt doe touch the bread, or the pottage, or the wine, or oyle, of any meat, shall it be holy? And the Priests answered and said, No.

13 Then said Haggai, If a polluted person touch any of these, shall it be vncleane? And the a For the people according as Isa. 54. 11. & Ezec. 41. 1 had prophesied, though this Temple should haue bene more excellent then Salomons Temple, which was destroyed by the Babylonians, but the Prophets meant the spiritual Temple, the Church of Christ.

b That is, goe forward in building the Temple.

c He exhorteth them to patience, though they see not as yet this Temple so glorious as the Prophets had declared: for this should be accomplished in Christ by the resurrection of the dead.

d Meaning, Christ, whom although to Iudas hee desired to see, hee may see by desire, he may see by all present things as riches, which like a Tabor when his time cometh, he can make the treasures of the world to serue his purpose, but the glory of this second Temple doth not stand in material things, priuers can be built.

e Meaning all spiritual blessings, and religious purchased by Christ. Phil. 4. 7.

f That is, the faith of the sacrifices whereby he signifieth that the thing which of itselfe is good, cannot make another thing so: and they that are not to iustifie themselves by their sacrifices and ceremonies: but, contrary to this, is vncleane and not pure of heart, doth corrupt those things and make them vncleane vnto God, which else are good and goodly.

Consider how God did plague you with famine afore you began to build the Temple.
 Then before the building was begun.
 From the time they began to build the Temple, he promiseth that God would bless them: and albeit as yet the fruit was not come forth, yet in the gathering they should have plenty.

Priest answered and said, It shall be welcome.
 15 Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord: and so are all the works of their hands, and that which they offer here is unclean.
 16 And now, I pray you, consider in your mindes: from this day and afore, wherefore a stone was layd vpon a stone in the Temple of the Lord?
 17 Before these things were, when one came to an hope of twentie measure, there were but ten: when one came to the winepresse, for to draw out fiftie vessels out of the presse, there were but twentie.
 18 I smite you with blasting, and with mill-dew, and with haile, in all the labours of your hands: yet you turne not to me, saith the Lord.
 19 Consider, I pray you, in your mindes, from this day, and afore, from the foure & twentieth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the Lords Temple was layde:

consider it in your mindes.
 20 Is the seed yet in the barn? as yet the vine, and the figge tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree, hath not brought forth: from this day will I bless you.
 21 And againe the word of the Lord came vnto Haggai in the foure and twentieth day of the month, saying,
 22 Speake to Zerubbabel the prince of Iudah, and say, I will shake the heavens and the earth.
 23 And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen, and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them, and the horse and the riders shall come downe, every one by the sword of his brother.
 24 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel my seruant, the sonne of Shebriel, saith the Lord, and will make thee as a signet: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord of hostes.

Hee eshorteth them to patience, and to abide till the harvest come, & then they should see Gods blessing. I will make a change, and renew all things in Chriſt, of whom Zerubbabel here is a figure.
 A Herby hee sheweth that there shall be no let or hindrance, when God will make this wonderful restitution of his Church.
 Signifying that his discipline should be most excellent, which thing was accomplished in Chriſt.

Z E C H A R I A H.

THE ARGVMENT.

TWELVE months after that Haggai had begun to prophesie, Zechariah was also sent of the Lord to helpe him in the labour, and to confirme the same doctrine. First therefore, he putteth them in remembrance for what cause God had before forgivenised their fathers: and yet comforteth them if they will repent themselves, and not deny the great benefit of God in their deliuerance, which was a figure of that true deliuerance, that all the world should haue from death and sin by Chriſt. And because they remained still in their wickedness, and coldness to sit forth Gods glory, and were not yet made better by their long banishment, he rebuketh them most sharply: yet for the comfort of the repentant, hee mixeth the promise of grace, that they might by this means be prepared to receive Chriſt in whom all should be sanctified to the Lord.

C H A P. I.

In the second year of Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto Zechariah the sonne of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the Prophet, saying,

In the eight month of the second yeere of Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto Zechariah the sonne of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the Prophet, saying,

The Lord hath bene sore displeased with your fathers, saith the Lord of hostes. I turne ye vnto me, saith the Lord of hostes, and I will turne vnto you, saith the Lord of hostes.

Be ye not as your fathers, vnto whom the former Prophets haue cried, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Turne yee nowe from your euill wayes, and from your wicked workes: but they would not heare, nor hearken vnto me, saith the Lord.

Your fathers, where are they? and doe the Prophets haue for euer?

But did not my words & my statutes, which I commanded by my seruants the Prophets, take hold of your fathers? and they returned, and saide, As the Lord of hostes hath determined to doe vnto vs according to our own wayes, and according to our workes, so hath he dealt with vs.

Vpon the fourth and twentieth day of the leuenth month, which is the month Shebat in the second yeere of Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto Zechariah the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Iddo the Prophet, saying,

I saw by night, and behold, a man riding vpon a red horse, and he stood among the myrrhe trees that were in a bottome, & behind him were there red horses speckled and white.

Then said I, O my Lord, what are these? And the Angel that talked with me, said vnto me, I will shew thee what these be.

And the man that stood among the myrrhe trees, answered and said, These are they whom the Lord hath sent to goe thorow the world.

And they answered the Angel of the Lord that stood among the myrrhe trees, and said, We haue gone thorow the world: and behold, all the world sitteth still and is at rest.

Then the Angel of the Lord answered and said, O Lord of hostes, how long wilt thou bee vnmercifull to Ierusalem, and to the cities of Iudah, with whom thou hast bene displeased now these threescore and ten yeeres?

And the Lord answered the Angel that talked with mee, with good words and comfortable words.

So the Angel that communed with me, said vnto mee, Crie thou, and speake, Thus saith the Lord, I will be vnmercifull to Ierusalem, and to the cities of Iudah, with whom thou hast bene displeased now these threescore and ten yeeres?

And the Lord answered the Angel that talked with mee, with good words and comfortable words.

Which conteineth part of Iannarie and part of February.

This vision signifieth the reformation of the Church: but as yet it should not appeare to many eyes, for it here meaneth by the night, by the bottome, and by the myrrhe trees which are blacke, and giue a dark shadow, yet hee compareth God to a King, who hath his posts and inſigners abroad, by whom hee still worketh his purpose, and bringeth his manners to passe. Who was the chiefe among the rest of the hostes.

These signified the diuers officers of Gods Angels by whom God sometime punisheth, sometime comforteth, and bringeth forth his workes.

That is, Chriſt the Mediatour prayed for the saluation of his Church which was now troubled, when all the countreyes about them were at rest.

Lord

Consider how God did plague you with famine afore you began to build the Temple.
 Then before the building was begun.
 From the time they began to build the Temple, he promiseth that God would bless them: and albeit as yet the fruit was not come forth, yet in the gathering they should have plenty.

 A Herby hee sheweth that there shall be no let or hindrance, when God will make this wonderful restitution of his Church.
 Signifying that his discipline should be most excellent, which thing was accomplished in Chriſt.

h Though for a time God deferre his help and comfort from his Church, yet this declareth that he loatheth them still most dearly, as a most mercifull father his children, or an husband his wife, and when it is expedient for them, his helpe is ever ready.

i In destroying the reprobate I shewed my selfe but a little angry toward my church but the enemy would haue destroyed them also, and considered not the end of my chastisements.

p To measure out the building.

q The abundance shalbe so great that the places of stone shal not bee able to containe these blessings that God will send, but shal euen breake for fulnesse.

f These Carpenters or Smithes are Gods instruments, which with their mallets and hammers break these hard and strong hornes, which would overthrow the Church, & declare that none enemies horne is so strong, but God hath an hammer to breake it in peeces.

Lord of hostes, I am jealous ouer Ierusalem and Zion with a great zeale, 15 And am greatly angry against the carelesse heathen: for I was angry but a little, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, I will returne vnto Ierusalem with tender mercy: mine house shall be builded in it, saith the Lord of hostes, and a line p shall be stretched vpon Ierusalem.

17 Crie yet, and speake. Thus saith the Lord of hostes, My cities shall yet be broken with plenty: the Lord shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet chuse Ierusalem.

18 Then lift I vp mine eyes and saw, and beheld foure hornes.

19 And I said vnto the Angel that talked with me, What be these? And hee answered me, These are the hornes which haue scattered Iudah, Israel and Ierusalem.

20 And the Lord shewed me foure carpenters.

21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he answered and said, These are the hornes, which haue scattered Iudah, so that a man durst not lift vp his head: but these are come to fray them, and to cast out the hornes of the Gentiles, which lift vp their horne ouer the land of Iudah to scatter it.

CHAP. II.

The restoring of Ierusalem and Iudah.

I Lift vp mine eyes againe, and looked, and beheld, a man with a measuring line in his hand

2 Then sayd I, Whither goest thou? And he sayd vnto me, To measure Ierusalem, that I may see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And behold, the Angel that talked with me went forth, and another Angell went out to meete him.

4 And sayd vnto him, Runne, speake to this young man, and say, c Ierusalem shalbe inhabited without walles, for the multitude of men and cattell therein.

5 For I, saith the Lord, wil be vnto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the mids of her.

6 Ho, ho, come forth & flee from the land of the North, saith the Lord: for I haue scattered you into the foure winds of heauen, saith the Lord.

7 Saue thy selfe, O Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Babel.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, After this glory hath he sent me vnto the nations, which spoyled you: for he that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of his eye.

9 For behold, I will lift vp mine hand vpon them: and they shall be a spoile to those that serued them, and yee shall know that the Lord of hostes hath sent me. f He calleth to them which partly for feare, and partly for their hope sake, remained still in captiuitie, and so preferred their own private commodities to the benefits of God promised in his Church. g As it was I that scattered you, so haue I power to restore you. h By flying from Babylon, and coming to the Church. i Seeing that God hath begun to shew his grace among you by deliuering you, he continueth the same still toward you, and therefore sendeth me his Angel and his Christ to defend you from your enemies, that they shal not hurt you, neither by the way nor at home. k Ye are so deere vnto God, that hee can no more suffer your enemies to hurt you, then a man can abide to be thrust in the eye, Psal. 117.8. l Vpon the heathen your enemies. m They shall be your seruants as you haue been theirs.

11 Reioyce and be glad, O daughter Zion: for loe, I come, and will dwell in the mids of thee, saith the Lord.

12 And many nations shall bee ioyned to the Lord in that day, and shal be my people: and I will dwell in the mids of thee, & thou shalt know that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto thee.

13 And the Lord shall inherite Iudah his portion in the holy land, and shal chuse Ierusalem againe.

14 Let all hearts be still before the Lord: for hee is raised vp out of his holy place.

CHAP. III.

A prophesie of Christ and of his kingdomes.

A Nd hee shewed mee Iehoshua the hie Priest, standing before the Angel of the Lord, and Satan stood at his right hand to resist him.

2 And the Lord said vnto Satan, The Lord reprocue thee, O Satan: euen the Lord that hath chosen Ierusalem, reprocue thee. Is not this a brand taken out of the fire?

3 Now Iehoshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the Angel.

4 And he answered and spake vnto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And vnto him he said, Behold, I haue caused thine iniquity to depart from thee, & I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I sayd, Let them set a faire diademe vpon his head. So they set a faire diademe vpon his head, and clothed him with garments, and the Angel of the Lord stood by.

6 And the Angel of the Lord testified vnto Iehoshua, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, If thou wilt walke in my waies, and keepe my watch, thou shalt also iudge mine house, & shalt also keepe my courts, and I will giue thee place among these that stand by.

8 Heare now, O Iehoshua the hie Priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they are monstrous persons: but behold, I will bring forth the Branch my seruant.

9 For loe, the stone that I haue laid before Iehoshua: vpon one stone shalbe seuen eyes: behold, I will cut out the grauing thereof, saith the Lord of hostes, and I will take away the iniquitie of this land in one day.

10 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, shall ye call euery man his neighbour vnder the vine, and vnder the figge tree.

Church. f He sheweth of what appaill he speaketh, which is when our fleshy sinnes are taken away, and we are clad with Gods mercies, which is meant of the spirituall restitution. g The Prophet prayeth that besides the raiment, the Priest might also haue cure for his head accordingly, that is, that the dignity of the Priesthood might be perfect: and this was fulfilled in Christ, who was both Priest and King: and here all such are condemned that can content themselves with any meane reformation in religion, seeing the Prophet desireth the perfection, and obtaineth it. h That is, haue rule and government in my Church, as thy predecessors haue had. i Whereby he meaneth to haue the whole charge and ministry of the Church. k That is, the Angels, who represented the whole number of the faithfull: signifying that all the godly should willingly receive him. l Because they follow my word they are contented in the world, and esteemed as monsters, Isai. 8. 18. m That is, Christ, who did so humble himselfe, that not onely he became the seruant of God, but also the seruants of men: and therefore in him they should haue comfort, although in the world they were contemned, Isai. 53. 3. and 33. 14. 15. n He sheweth that ministers cannot build, before God lay the first stone, which is Christ, who is full of eyes, both because he giueth light vnto all others, and that all ought to seek light at him, Chap. 4. 10. o That is, I will make it perfect in all points, as a thing wrought by the hand of God. p Though I haue punished this land for a time, yet I will euen now be pacified, and visit their sinnes no more. q Ye shall then live in peace and quietnesse, that is, in the kingdom of Christ, Isai. 2. 4. Mich. 4. 4. Hag. 2. 10.

a This must necessarily be vnderstood of Christ, who being God equal with his Father, was sent as he was Mediator to dwell in his church and to gouerne them.

a He prayed to Christ the mediator for the state of the Church. b Which declareth that the church full haue not only warre with flesh and blood, but with Satan himselfe and spirituall wickednesses, Mat. 26. 6. 13.

c That is, Christ speaketh to God as the Mediatour of his church, that he would rebuke Satan: and here he sheweth himselfe to be a continuall preferer of his Church.

d Meaning that Iehoshua was wonderfully preferred in the captiuitie, and saw Satan sought to afflict and trouble him when he was doing his office.

e In respect of the glorious garments & precious stones that the Priests did wear before the captiuitie: and by this contemptible state the Prophet signifieth, that these small beginnings should be made excellent when Christ shall make the full restitution of his

CHAP. III.

The vision of the golden candlestick, and the seven pipes.

And the Angel that talked with mee, came againe and waked me, as a man that is raised out of his sleepe.

2 And sayd vnto mee, What seest thou? And I sayd, I haue looked, and beheld a candlestick all of golde, with a bowle vpon the top of it, and his seuen lampes thereon, and seuen pipes to the lampes which were vpon the top thereof.

3 And two oliuetrees ouer it, one vpon the right side of the bowle, and the other vpon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered and spake to the Angel that talked with mee, saying, What are these, my Lord?

5 Then the Angel that talked with mee, answered and sayd vnto mee, Knowest thou not what these be? And I sayd, No, my Lord.

6 Then he answered and spake vnto mee, saying, This is the word of the Lord vnto Zerubbabel, saying, Neither by an army nor strength, but by my Spirit, sayth the Lord of hostes.

7 Who are thou, O great mountain, before Zerubbabel? thou shalt be a plaine, and he shall bring forth the head stone thereof, with shoutings, saying, Grace, grace vnto it.

8 Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

The handes of Zerubbabel haue layed the foundation of this house: his handes shall also finish it, and he shall know that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto you.

10 For who hath despised the day of the small things? but they shall reioyce, and shall see the stone of triumphe in the hand of Zerubbabel: these stons are the eyes of the Lord, which goe thorow the whole world.

11 Then answered I, and said vnto him, What are these two oliue trees vpon the right and vpon the left side thereof?

12 And I spake moreover, and sayd vnto him, What be these two oliue branches, which thorow the two golden pipes empty themselves into the golde?

13 And he answered me, and sayd, Knowest thou not what these be? And I sayd, No, my Lord.

14 Then said he, These are the two oliue branches, that stand with the ruler of the whole earth.

15 Though the enemies thinke to stay this building, yet Zerubbabel shall lay the highest stone thereof, and bring it to perfection, so that all the godly shall reioyce, and pray vnto God that he would continue his grace and fauor toward the Temple. 16 Meaning, the Prophet, that I am Christ sent of my Father for the building and preferuation of my spiritual Temple. 17 Signifying that all were discouraged at the small and poore beginnings of the Temple. 18 Whereby he signifieth the plummet and line, that is, that Zerubbabel which represented Christ, should goe forward with his building to the joy and comfort of the godly, though the world be against him, and though his for a while be discouraged, because they see no things pleasant to the eye. 19 That is, God hath seuen eyes: meaning, a continuall providence, so that neither Satan nor any power in the world can go about to bring anything to passe to hinder his worke, Chap. 3. 20 Which were euer greene and full of oyle, so that still they powred forth oyle into the lampes: signifying, that at God will continually maintaine and preserve his Church, and indue it with abundance and perfection of graces.

CHAP. V.

The vision of the flying booke, signifying the curse of abominations, and such as abuse the Name of God. & By the vision of the measure is signified the bringing of Iudas afflictions into Babylon.

Then I turned me, and lifted vp mine eyes and looked, and behold, a flying booke.

2 And he said vnto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying booke: the length thereof twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

3 Then sayd he vnto me, This is the curse that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for every one that stealeth, shall be cut off aswell on this side, as on that: and every one that sweareth, shall be cut off, aswell on this side, as on that.

4 I will bring it forth, saith the Lord of hostes, and it shall enter into the house of the thiefe, and into the house of him, that falsly sweareth by my Name: and it shall remaine in the middes of his house, and shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and stones thereof.

5 Then the Angel that talked with mee, went forth, and sayd vnto me, Lift vp now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I sayd, What is it? And hee sayde, This is an Ephrah, that goeth forth. He saide moreover, This is the sight of them through all the earth.

7 And heholde, there was lift vp a talent of lead: and this is a woman that sitteth in the middes of the Ephrah.

8 And he said, This is wickednes, and he cast it into the middes of the Ephrah, and hee cast the weight of lead vpon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lift I vp mine eyes, and looked: and beholde, there came out two women, and the wind was in their wings (for they had wings like the wings of a storke) and they lift vp the Ephrah betweene the earth and the heauen.

8 Then sayd I to the Angel that talked with me, Whither doe these beare the Ephrah?

11 And he sayd vnto me, To build it an house in the land of Shinar, and it shall be established & set there vpon her owne place.

as in the next verse. i Signifying, that Satan should not haue such power against the Iewes to tempt them, as he had in time past, but that God would that vp iniquity in a measure as in a prison. k Which declared that God would execute his iudgements by the means of the weak and infirme means. l To remouee the iniquity and affliction that came for the same from Iudah, to place it for euer in Babylon.

CHAP. VI.

By the four chariots he describeth the four Monarchies.

Aaine I turned & lift vp mine eyes, and looked: and behold, there came foure chariots out from between two mountains, and the mountains were mountaines of brasle.

2 In the first chariot were red horses, and in the second chariot blacke horses.

3 And in the third chariot white horses, and in the fourth chariot, horses of diuers colours, & reddish.

4 Then I answered, and sayde vnto the Angel that talked with mee, What are these my Lord?

5 And the Angel answered, and saide vnto mee, These are the foure spirits of the heauen, which goe forth from standing with the Lord of all the earth.

6 That with the blacke horse went forth into the great cruelty and persecutions that the Church had endured vnder diuers enemies. d Signifying that they had endured great afflictions vnder the Babylonians. e These represented their state vnder the Persians which restored the to libertie. f Which signified that God would sometime give his Church rest and powre his plagues vpon their enemies, as hee did in destroying Nineue, and Babylon, and other their enemies. g Meaning, all the actions and motions of Gods Spirit, which according to his inchangeable counsell bee causeth to passe through all the world.

a Because I Iewes had provoked Gods plagues by containing his word, and casting off all iudgement and equite, hee sheweth that Gods curses written in this booke had indly light both on them, and their fathers: but now if they would repent, God would send the same among the Caldeans their former enemies.

b That is, vnto a nyiniery toward his neighbor.

c Meaning, whosoever he be in the world.

d He that transgresseth the first table, and serueth not God aright, but abuseth Gods Name.

e Which was a measure in drie things containing about ten pottels.

f That is, all the wickednesse of the vngodly in Gods sight, which hee keepeth in a measure, and can shut it or open it at his pleasure.

g To couer the measure.

h Which representeth iniquities.

i By chariots here, as by horses afore, he meaneth the swift messengers of God to execute and declare his will.

b By the brasen mountaines he meaneth the earthly counsell, and prouidence of God, whereby he hath somelore all eternitie decreed what shall come to passe, and that which neither Satan nor all the world can alter.

c Which signified the great cruelty and persecutions that the Church had endured vnder diuers enemies.

d Signifying that they had endured great afflictions vnder the Babylonians.

e These represented their state vnder the Persians which restored the to libertie.

f Which signified that God would sometime give his Church rest and powre his plagues vpon their enemies, as hee did in destroying Nineue, and Babylon, and other their enemies.

8 And I will bring them, & they shall dwell in the mids of Ierusalem, and they shall be my people, & I will be their God in truth, & in righteousness.

9 Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Let your hands be strong, yee that heare in these dayes these words by the mouth of the Prophets, which were in the day, that the foundation of the house of the Lord of hostes was layde, that the Temple might be builded.

10 For before these dayes there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast, neither was there any peace to him that went out, or came in, because of the affliction: for I set all men, every one against his neighbour.

11 But now, I will not encrease the residue of this people as aforetime, saith the Lord of hostes.

12 For the seed shall be prosperous: the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew, and I will cause the remnant of this people to possesse all these things.

13 And it shall come to passe, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Iudah, and house of Israel, so will I deliver you, and ye shall be a blessing: feare not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, As I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked mee vnto wrath, saith the Lord of hostes, and repented not.

15 So againe have I determined in these dayes to doe well vnto Ierusalem, and to the house of Iudah: feare ye not.

16 These are the things that ye shall do, speake ye every man the truth vnto his neighbour: excuse iudgement truly, & vprightly in your gates,

17 And let none of you imagine euill in your hearts against his neighbour, and loue no false oath: for all these are the things that I hate, saith the Lord.

18 And the word of the Lord of hostes came vnto me saying,

19 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Iudah: joy and gladnesse, and prosperous high feasts: therefore loue the truth and peace.

20 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, That there shall yet come, I people; and the inhabitants of Ierusalem shall say, I have sinned, and I have not kept the commandments of the Lord my God.

21 And they that dwell in one city shall goe to another, saying, Vp, let vs go & pray before the Lord, and let vs keepe the Lord of hostes: I will goe also.

22 Yea, great people and mighty nations shall come to seeke the Lord of hostes in Ierusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, In those dayes shall men take holde out of all languages of the nations, even take holde of the skirt of him that is a Jew, and say, We will goe with you:
for we haue heard that God is with you.

land of Hadrach: and Damascus shall be his rest: when the eyes of man, vnto all the tribes of Israel shall be toward the Lord.

meaneth Syria.
b Gods anger shall abide vpon their chiefe cities, & not

that.
c When the Jewes shall confesse and repent, then God will destroy their enemies.

Tyrus also and Zidon, though they be very wise.
3 For Tyrus did build her selfe a strong hold, and heaped vp silver as the dust, and golde as the mire of the streetes.

4 Behold, the Lord wil spoile her, and he will smite her power in the sea, and shee shall be de-moured with fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see it, and feare, and Azzah also shall be very sorrowfull, and Ekron: for her countenance shall be ashamed: and the king shall perish from Azzah, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.

6 And the stranger shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistims.

7 And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth: but he that remaineth, even he shall be for our God, and he shall be as a prince in Iudah, but Ekron shall be as a Iebusite.

8 And I will campe about mine House against the armie, against him that passeth by, and against him that returneth, and no oppositor shall come vpon them any more: for now I haue
I sene with mine eyes.

9 Reioyce greatly, O daughter Zion: show for ioy, O daughter Ierusalem: behold, thy King cometh vnto thee: he is iust, and faued himselfe, poore and riding vpon an asse, and vpon a colt the foale of an asse.

10 And I will cut off the charres from Ephraim, and the horse from Ierusalem: the bowe of the battell shall be broken, and he shall speake peace vnto the heathen, and his dominion shall be from sea vnto sea, and from the River to the end of the land.

11 Thou also shalt be saved through the blood of thy covenant. I haue loosed thy prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turne you to the strong hold, ye prisoners of hope: euen to day doe I declare, that I will render the double vnto thee.

13 For Iudah haue I bent as a y bowe for me:
Ephraims hand haue I filled, and I haue raised vp thy sonnes, O Zion, against thy sonnes, O Grecia, and haue made thee as a giants sword.

14 And the Lord shall be sene ouer them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord God shall blow the trumpet, and shall come forth with the whirlwinds of the South.

15 The Lord of hostes shall defend them, and they shall deuoure them, and subdue them with sling stones, and they shall drinke, and make a noise as through wine, and they shall be filled like bowles, and as the hornes of the altar.

16 And the Lord their God shall deliver them in that day as the flocke of his people: for they shall be able to let this kingdome of Christ, and he shall peaceably gouerne them by his word. p That is, from the red sea, to the sea called Syriacus: and by these pla-

¹ The visitation of Iudas. ² The Lord promiseth to visite and comfort the house of Israel.

^a The prophet reproeth the Iewes because by their owne infidelitie they put backe Gods graces promised, and so faulseth them by Gods iust iudgement: therefore to auoid this plague he willett them to turne to God, and to pray in faith to him, and so he will giue them abundance.

^b He calleth to remembrance Gods punishments in times past because they trusted not in him, but in their idoles and force: who euer de- cerned them.

^c That is, the Iewes went into captiuitie.

^d Meaning, the cruel gouernours which did oppress the poore sheepe, Ezek. 34. 16, 17. ^e He will be merciful to his Church and cherishe them as a king or prince doth his best horse which shalbe for his owne vse in the warre.

^f Out of Iudah shall the chiefe gouernour proceed, who shall be as a corner to vphold the building, and as a nayle to fasten it together ^g Over their enemies.

^h That is, the ten tribes, which should be gathered vnder Christ to the rest of the Church.

ⁱ Whereby he declareth the power of God who needeth no great preparation when he will de- liver his: for with a becke or hisse hee can call them from all places suddenly.

^k Though they shall yet be scattered and seeme to be lost, yet it shalbe profitable to them: for there they shall come to the knowledge of my Name, which was accomplished vnder the Gospel, among whom it was first preached. ^l Not that they should returne into their country, but be gathered and ioyned in one faith by the doctrine of the Gospel. ^m Hee alludeth to the deliuerance of the people out of Egypt, whereas the Angel smote the floods and riuers,

^a Sake you of the Lord raine in the time of the latter raine: so shall the Lord make white cloudes, and giue you shoures of raine, and to euery one graffe in the field.

² Surely the idoles haue spoken vanitie, and the soothsayers haue seene a lye, and the dreamers haue tolde a vaine thing: they comfort in vaine: therefore they went away as sheepe: they were troubled, because there was no shepherd.

⁴ Out of him shall the corner come fourth: out of him the nayle, out of him the bow of battell, and out of him euery appointer of tribute also.

⁶ And I will strengthen the house of Iudah, and I will preferue the house of Ioseph, & I will bring them againe, for I pitie them: and they shalbe as though I had not cast them off: for I am the Lord their God, and will heare them.

⁷ And they of Ephraim shall bee as a gyant: and their heart shall reioyce as through wine: yea their children shall see it, and bee glad: and their heart shall reioyce in the Lord.

⁸ I will hysse for them, and gather them: for I haue redeemed them: and they shall increase, as they haue increased.

¹⁰ I will bring them againe also out of the land of Egypt, & gather them out of Assthur: and I will bring them into the land of Gilead, and Lebanon, and place shall not be found for them.

¹³ And I will strengthen them in the Lord, and they shall walke in his Name, saith the Lord. ¹⁴ Though they shall yet be scattered and seeme to be lost, yet it shalbe profitable to them: for there they shall come to the knowledge of my Name, which was accomplished vnder the Gospel, among whom it was first preached. ¹⁵ Not that they should returne into their country, but be gathered and ioyned in one faith by the doctrine of the Gospel. ¹⁶ Hee alludeth to the deliuerance of the people out of Egypt, whereas the Angel smote the floods and riuers,

¹ The destruction of the Temple. ² The care of the faithfull is committed to Christ. ³ A grieuous vision against Ierusalem and Iudah.

² Howle, firre trees: for the cedar is fallen, because all the mightie are destroyed: howle yee Ookes of Bashan, for the defenced Forrest is cut downe.

³ There is the voyce of the howling of the shepheards: for their glory is destroyed: the voyce of the roaring of Lyons whelpes: for the pride of Iorden is destroyed.

⁴ Thus sayth the Lord my God, Feede the sheepe of the slaughter.

⁶ Surely I will no more spare those that dwell in the land, sayth the Lord: but loe, I will deliuer the men euery one into his neighbours hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hands I will not deliuer them.

⁷ For I fed the sheepe of slaughter, euen the poore of the flocke, and I tooke vnto me two flauies: the one I called Beautie, and the other I called Bands, and I fed the sheepe.

⁸ Three shepheards also I cut off in one moneth, and my soule lothed them, and their soule abhorred me.

⁹ Then said I, I will not feede you: that that dieth, let it die: and that that perisheth, let it perish: and let the remnant eate, euery one the flesh of his neighbour.

¹¹ And it was broken in that day: and so the poore of the sheepe that waited vpon me, knew that it was the word of the Lord.

¹² And I said vnto them, If ye thinke it good, giue me my wages: and if no, leaue off: so they weighed for my wages thirtie pieces of siluer.

¹³ And the Lord said vnto me, Cast it vnto the potter: a goodly price, that I was valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie pieces of siluer, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lord.

¹⁵ And the Lord sayd vnto me, Take to thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepard.

¹⁷ O idle shepard that leaueth the flocke: the sword shalbe vpon his arme, & vpon his right

^a Because I Iewes thought them- selves so strong by reason of this mountaine, that no enemy could come to hurt them, the Prophet sheweth that when God sendeth the enemies, it shall shew it selfe ready to receive them.

^b Shewing, that if the strong men were destroyed, the weaker were not able to resist.

^c Seeing that Lebanon was destroyed, which was the strongest munition, the weaker places could not thinke to hold out.

^d That is, the remnant of Iudah and Israel should perish.

^e Which being now destitute to be slain, were deliuered as out of the Lyons mouth.

^f Their gouernours destroy them without any remorse of conscience, or yet thinking that they doe euill.

^g He noteth the hypocrites, which euer haue the Name of God in their monthes, though in their life & doings they deny God, attributing their paine to Gods blessings, which cometh of the people of their brethren.

^h I will cause one to destroy another.

ⁱ Their gouernours shall execute crueltie one on them.

^k That is, the small remnant, whom he thought worthe to shew mercie vnto.

^l God sheweth his great benefites toward his people to conuince them of greater ingratitude, which cometh of the people of their brethren.

^m Whereby hee sheweth his care and diligence that he would suffer them to haue no euill rulers, because they should consider his great loue.

ⁿ Meaning, the people, because they would not acknowledge these great benefites of God. ^o He sheweth that the least part euer profit by Gods iudgements.

^p Besides their ingratitude God accuseth them of malice and wickednesse, which did not onely forget his benefites, but esteemed them as things of noight. ^q Shewing that it was too little to pay his wages, which could scarce suffice to make a few tyles for to couer the Temple.

^r Signifying that they should haue a certaine kind of regiment and outward shewe of gouernement: but in effect it should be nothing: for they should be weaker, & denouncing death in head of shepheards. ^s And is in health and sound. ^t By the armes he signifieth strength, as he doth wisdom and iudgement by the eye: that is, the plague of God shall take away both thy strength and iudgement.

CHAP. XII.

Of the destruction and building againe of Ierusalem.

THe burden of the word of the Lord vpon Israel, saith the Lord, which spread the heauens, and layd the foundation of the earth, and formed the spirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Ierusalem a b cup of poison vnto all the people round about: and also with Iudah will hee be in the siege against Ierusalem.

3 And in that day will I make Ierusalem an heauie stone for all people: all that lift it vp, shall be torne; though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day saith the Lord, I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness; and I will open mine eyes vpon the house of Iudah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

5 And the Princes of Iudah shall say in their hearts, The inhabitants of Ierusalem shall be my strength in the Lord of hostes their God.

6 In that day will I make the princes of Iudah like coales of fire among the woode, and like a firebrand in the sheafe, and they shall deuoure all the people round about on the right hand, and on the left: and Ierusalem shall be inhabited againe in her owne place, even in Ierusalem.

7 The Lord also shall preferre the ^d tenes of Iudah, as aforetime: therefore the glorie of the house of Dauid shall not boast, nor the glorie of the inhabitants of Ierusalem against Iudah.

8 In that day shall the Lord defend the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and he that is feeble among them, in that day shall be as Dauid; and the house of Dauid shall be as Gods house, and as the Angel of the Lord before them.

9 And in that day will I seeke to destroy all the nations that come against Ierusalem.

10 And I will powre vpon the house of Dauid, and vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem, the Spirit of grace and of compassion, and they shall looke vpon me, whom they haue pierced, and they shall lament for him as one mourneth for his onely sonne, and bee sorie for him as one is sorie for his first borne.

11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Ierusalem, as the ^b mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon.

12 And the ^k land shall bewaile every family apart, the family of the ^m house of Dauid apart, and their wives apart: the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart.

13 The family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart: the family of ⁿ Shemei apart, and their wives apart.

14 All the families that ^o remaine, every family apart, and their wives apart.

¹ Which was the name of a stone and place nere to Megiddo where Iosiah was slaine, 1. Chron. 35. 22. ^k That is, in all places where the Iewes shall remaine. ^l Signifying, that this mourning of repentance should not bee a vaine ceremonie: but every one touched with his owne griefe, shall lament. ^m Vnder these certaine families hee containeth all the tribes, and sheweth that both the Kings and the Priests had by their sinnes pierced Christ. ⁿ Called also Simon. ^o To wit, which were elect by grace, and preferred from the common destruction.

CHAP. XIII.

Of the fountaine of grace, and of the cleane washing of Ierusalem.
8. The scale of Ierusalem against Ierusalem.

In that day there shall bee a fountaine opened to the house of Dauid, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, for sinne and for vncleanness.

2 And in that day, saith the Lord of hostes, I will cut off the ^b names of the idoles out of the land: and they shall no more be remembered: and I will cause the ^c prophets, and the vncleane spirit to depart out of the land.

3 And when any shall yet ^d prophesie, his father & his mother that begate him shall say vnto him, Thou shalt not liue: for thou speakest lyes in the name of the Lord: and his father and his mother that begate him, shall thrust him through, when he prophesieth.

4 And in that day shall the prophets ^e bee ashamed every one of his vision, when he hath prophesied: neither shall they weare a rough garment to deceiue.

5 But hee shall say, I am no ^f Prophet: I am an husbandman: for man taught mee to bee an heardman from my youth vp.

6 And one shall say vnto him, What are these ^g wounds in thine hands? Then he shall answer, Thus was I wounded in the house of my friends.

7 Arise, O sword, vpon my ^h shepherd, and vpon the man, that a ray fellow, saith the Lord of hostes: smite the shepherd, and the sheepe shall be scattered: and I will turne mine hand vpon the little ones.

8 And in all the land, sayeth the Lord, ⁱ two parts therein shall be cut off and die: but the third shall be left therein.

9 And I will bring that third part through the fire, and will fine them as the siluer is fined, and will trie them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will heare them: I will say, It is my people, & they shall say, The Lord is my God.

¹ They shall confesse their former ignorance and be content to labour for their liuing. ^h Hereby he sheweth that though their parents and friends dealt more gently with them, & put them not to death, yet they would so punish their children, that became false Prophets, that the markes and signes should remaine for euer. ⁱ The Prophet warneth the Iewes, that before this great comfort should come vnder Christ, there should be an horrible distiguation among the people: for their gouernours and pastours should be destroyed, and the people should be as scattered sheepe: and the Evangelist applyeth this to Christ, because he was the head of all Pastours, Math. 26. 31. ^k The greatest part shall haue no portion of these blessings, and yet they that shall enioy them, shall be tried with great afflictions, so that it shall be knowne that onely Gods power and his mercies doe preserve them.

CHAP. XIII.

8. Of the doctrine that shall preceide out of the Church, and of the restoration thereof.

Behold, the day of the Lord commeth, and they spoyle shall bee ^a diuided in the middes of thee.

2 For I will gather all nations against Ierusalem to battell, and the citie shall be taken, and the houses spoyled, and the women defiled, and halfe of the citie shall go into captiuitie, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the citie.

3 Then the Lord shall goe forth, and fight against those nations, as when he ^b fought in the day of battell.

4 And his feet shall stand in that day vpon the ^c mount of oliues, which is before Ierusalem on the East side, and the mount of oliues shall cleaue in the middes thereof toward the East and toward the West there shall be a very great ^d valley, & halfe speech the Prophet sheweth Gods power and care ouer his Church, and how hee will as it were by miracle fine it. ^d So that out of all the parts of the world, they shall see Ierusalem, which was before hid with this mountaine: and this he meaneth of the spirituall Ierusalem the Church.

^a Hee sheweth what shall be the fruit of their repentance, to wit, remission of sinnes by the blood of Christ, which shall be a continual running fountaine, & purge them from all vncleanness. ^b Hee promisseth that God will also purge them from all superstition, & that their religion shall be pure. ^c Meaning, the false prophets and teachers, who are the corrupters of all religion, whom the Prophet here calleth vncleane spirits. ^d That is, when they shall prophesie lyes, and make God, who is the author of truth, a cloake therunto. ^e Hee sheweth what zeale Godly shall haue vnder the Kingdome of Christ, Deut. 32. 6. 9.

^f God shall make them ashamed of their errors and lyes, & bring them to repentance, and they shall no more weare Prophets appaell to make their doctrine seeme more holy. ^g They shall confesse their former ignorance and be content to labour for their liuing. ^h Hereby he sheweth that though their parents and friends dealt more gently with them, & put them not to death, yet they would so punish their children, that became false Prophets, that the markes and signes should remaine for euer. ⁱ The Prophet warneth the Iewes, that before this great comfort should come vnder Christ, there should be an horrible distiguation among the people: for their gouernours and pastours should be destroyed, and the people should be as scattered sheepe: and the Evangelist applyeth this to Christ, because he was the head of all Pastours, Math. 26. 31. ^k The greatest part shall haue no portion of these blessings, and yet they that shall enioy them, shall be tried with great afflictions, so that it shall be knowne that onely Gods power and his mercies doe preserve them.

He speaketh of the hypocrites, which could not abide Gods presence, but should flee into all places, where they might hide them among the mountains. f. Reade Amos 1. 1. g. Because they did not credit the Prophets words, he turneth to God, and comforteth himselfe in that that he knew that these things should come, and sayth, Thoe, O God, with thine Angels wilt come to performe this great thing, h. Signifying, that there should bee great troubles in the Church, & that the time herof is in y^e Lords hands, yet at length (which is here meant by the evening) God would send comfort. i. That is, the spiritual graces of God, which if could ever continue in most abundance. k. All idolatry and superstition shall be abolished, and there shall be one God, one faith, and one religion. 1. This new Jerusalem shall be seene through all the world, and shall excell the first in excellency, wealth and greatnesse.

of the mountaine shall remoue toward the North, and halfe of the mountaine toward the South.
 5 And yee shall flee vnto the valley of the mountaines: for the valley of the mountaines shall reach vnto Azal: yea, yee shall flee like as yee fled from the earthquake, in the dayes of Vzziah king of Iudah: & the Lord my God shall come, and all the Saints with thee.
 6 And in that day shall there be no cleare light, but darke.
 7 And there shall be a day (it is knowne to the Lord) neither day nor night, but about the evening time it shall be light.
 8 And in that day shall there be waters of life go out from Ierusalem, halfe of them toward the East sea, and halfe of them toward the vttermoost sea, and shall be, both in summer and winter.
 9 And the Lord shall bee King ouer all the earth: in that day shall there be one Lord, and his name shall be one.
 10 All the land shall bee turned as a plaine from Geba to Rimmon, toward the South of Ierusalem, and it shall be lifted vp, and inhabited in her place: from Beniamins gate vnto the place of the first gate, vnto the corner gate, and from the towre of Hamanial vnto the kings winepresses.
 11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more destruction, but Ierusalem shall be safely inhabited.
 12 And this shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all people, that haue fought against Ierusalem: their flesh shall consume away, though they stand vpon their feete, and their eyes shall consume in their holes, and their tongue shall consume in their mouth.

13 But in that day a great tumult of the Lord shall be among them, and every one shall take in the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise vp against the hand of his neighbour.
 14 And Iudah shall fight also against Ierusalem, and the arme of all the heathen shall be gathered round about, with golde and silver, and great abundance of appaile.
 15 Yet this shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camell and of the asse, and of all the beastes that be in these tents as this plague.
 16 But it shall come to passe that every one that is left of all the nations, which came against Ierusalem, shall goe vp from yeere to yeere to worship the King the Lord of hostes, and to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.
 17 And who so wil not come vp of all the families of the earth vnto Ierusalem to worship the King the Lord of hostes, even vpon them shall come no raine.
 18 And if the familie of Egypt goe not vp, and come not, it shall not raine vpon them. This shall be the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all the heathen, that come not vp to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.
 19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that come not vp to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.
 20 In that day shall there be written vpon the bridles of the horses, The holiness vnto the Lord, and the pots in the Lorders house shall be like the bowles before the altar.
 21 Yea, every pot in Ierusalem and Iudah shall be holy vnto the Lord of hostes, and all they that sacrifice, shall come and take of them, and see the therein: and in that day there shall be no more the Canaanite in the house of the Lord of hostes.

m God will not onely raise vp warre without, but sedition at home to try them. n To hurt and oppress him. o The enemies are rich, and therefore shall not come for a praye, but to destroy and shed blood. p As the men should be destroyed, verse 12. q By the Egyptians, which were greatest enemies to true religion, he meaneth all the Gentiles. r Signifying, that to what seruice they were put now (whether to labour, or to seruice in warre) they were now holy, because the Lord had sanctified them. s As precious the one as the other, because they shall be sanctified. t But all shall be pure and cleane, and there shall neither be hypocrite, nor any that shall corrupt the true seruice of God.

MALACHI.

THE ARGVMENT.

This Prophet was one of the three, which God raised up for the comfort of his Church after the captiuitie, and after him there was no more untill Iohn Baptist was sent, which was either a token of Gods wrath, or an admonition that they should with more frequent desires looke for the comming of Messiah. Hee confirmeth the same doctrine, that the two former doe, but chiefly hee reproofeth the Priests for their comotousnesse, and for that they serued God after their owne fantasies, and not according to the prescript of his word. He also noteth certaine peculiar sinnes, which were then among them, as marrying of idolatrous and many wines, murmuring against Gods patience, and such like. Notwithstanding for the comfort of the godly, hee declareth that God would not forget his promise made vnto their fathers, but would send Christ his messenger, in whom the covenant should be accomplished, whose comming should be terrible to the wicked, and bring all consolation and ioy to the godly.

 you deliuered. Reade Rom. 9. 13.

He a burden of the worde of the Lord to Israel by the ministry of Malachi.
 2 I haue loued you, sayeth the Lord: yet yee say, Wherein hast thou loued vs? Was not Esau Iacob's brother, saith the Lord? yet I loued Iacob.
 3 And I hated Esau, & made his mountaines waste, and his heritage a wilderness for dragons.

4 Though Edom say, We are impouerished, but we wil recurrence and build the desolate places, yet sayth the Lord of hostes, They shall build, but I wil destroy it, and they shall call them, The border of wickednesse, and the people, with whom the Lord is angry for euer.

5 And your eyes shall see it, and yee shall say, The Lord will be magnified vpon the border of Israel.

6 A soune honoureth his father, and a seruant his master. If then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my feare, saith the Lord of hostes vnto you, O Priests that despise my Name? and yee say, Wherein haue we despised thy Name?

g Hee noteth their grosse hypocrisie, which would not see their fault, but most impudently couer it, and so were blind guides.

I declare the Levites who kept the doors did not take whether the sacrifices that came in, were according to the Law, God willeth that they would rather that the doors, then to receive such as were not perfect, in God by which that their ingratitude, and neglect of his true choice shall be the cause of the calling of the Gentiles: and here the Prophet that was under the Law, declared his wisdom to the capacity of the people, and by the altar and sacrifice bee manner the spiritual service of God, which should be under the Gospel, when an altar should be made to all these legal ceremonies by Christ's only sacrifice.

7. Back the Priests and the people were infected with this error, that they perfected not what was offered: for they thought that God was as well content with the same, as with others: but as the manner for they showed not that obedience to God, which he required, and so continued both impiety, and also shewed their contempt of God, and contempt of his law.

8. The Priests and people were both weary with serving God, and pulled out what manner of sacrifice and service they gave to God for that which was least profitable, was thought good enough for the Lord.

7. Ye offer ^avoluntaries upon mine altar, and you say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the Lord is not ^ato be regarded.

8. And if ye offer the blinde for sacrifice, it is not euill: and if ye offer the lame and sicke, it is not euill: offer it now vnto thy prince: will he be content with thee, or accept thy person, saith the Lord of hostes?

9. And now I pray you, pray before God, that he may haue mercy vpon vs: this hath bene by your meanes: will he regard ^ayour persons, saith the Lord of hostes?

10. Who is there euil among you, that would shut the doores, and kindle not ^afire on mine altar in vaine? I haue no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hostes, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11. For from the rising of the sunne vnto the going downe of the same, my Name is ^agreat among the Gentiles, and in euery place incense shall be offered vnto my Name, and a pure offering:
for my Name is great among the heathen, sayth
the Lord of hostes.

12. But ye haue polluted it in that ye say, The table of the Lord is ^apolluted, and the fruit thereof, ^aown his meate is not to be regarded.

13. Ye said also, Behold, it is ^aa wearisome, and ye haue fasted at it, saith the Lord of hostes, and ye offered that which was torne, and the lame, and the sicke: thus ye offered an offering: should I accept this of your hand, saith the Lord?

14. But cursed bee the deuiuer, which hath in his flocke ^aa male, and voweth, and sacrificeth vnto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, sayth the Lord of hostes, and my Name is terrible among the heathen.

15. And this haue ye done againe, and ^acontered the altar of the Lord with teares, with weeping and with mourning: because the offering is no more regarded, neither receiued acceptably at your hands.

16. Yet ye say, Wherein? Because the Lord hath bene witness betwene thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast transgressed:
yet is ^athe thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

17. And did not ^ahe make one? yet had he ^aa bondance of spirit: and wherefore one? because he sought a godly ^aseede: therefore keepe your selues in your ^aspirit, & let none trespasse against the wife of his youth.

18. If thou hatest ^aher, put her away, saith the Lord God of Israel, yet he couereth ^athe iniurie
vnder his garment, saith the Lord of hostes: therefore keepe your selues in your spirit, and transgresse not.

19. Ye haue ^awearied the Lord with your words: yet ye say, Wherein haue we wearied him?
When ye say, Every one that doeth ^aeuill, is good in the sight of the Lord, and he delighteth in them.
Or where is the God of ^aiudgement?

20. Because that God doeth not regard their sacrifices, so that they seeme to sacrifice in vaine. ^aThis is another fault, whereof he accuseth them, that is, that they brake the lawes of marriage. ^aAs the one halfe of thy selfe: ^aShe that was joy-ned to thee by a solemn covenant, and by the inuocation of Gods Name. ^aDid not God make man and woman as one flesh and not many? ^aBy his power and verbe hee could haue made many women for one man. ^aSuch as should bee borne in lawfull and moderate marriage, wherein is no excess of lusts. ^aCon-taine your selues within your bounds, and be sober in minde, and bridle your affections. ^aNot that hee doeth allow diuorcement, but of the two faultes hee thinketh, which is the lesse. ^aHee thinketh it sufficient to keepe his wife still, albeit hee take others, and so as it were couereth his fault. ^aYe murmured a-

Lord of hostes.

5. My ^acovenant was with him of life and peace, and I ^agave him feare, and he feared me, and was afraid before ^amy Name.

6. The law of ^atruth was in his mouth, and there was no iniquity found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did turne many away from iniquity.

7. For the Priests ^alippen should preferre knowledge, and they should seeke the Law at his mouth: for hee is the ^amessenger of the Lord of hostes.

8. But yet are gone out of the way: yet haue caused many to fall by the Law: yet haue broken the covenant of Levi, sayth the Lord of hostes.

9. Therefore haue I also made you to bee despised, and vile before all the people, because yet kept not my wayes, but haue bene partiall in the Law.

10. Haue we not all one ^afather? hath not one God made vs? why doe we transgresse euery one against his brother, and breake the covenant of our fathers?

11. Iudah hath transgressed, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Ierusalem: for Iudah hath defiled the holines of the Lord, which hee loued, and hath married the ^adaughter of a strange god.

12. The Lord will cut off the man that doeth this: both the master and the seruant out of the Tabernacle of Iakob, and him that ^aoffereth an offering vnto the Lord of hostes.

13. And this haue ye done againe, and ^acontered the altar of the Lord with teares, with weeping and with mourning: because the offering is no more regarded, neither receiued acceptably at your hands.

14. Yet ye say, Wherein? Because the Lord hath bene witness betwene thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast transgressed:
yet is ^athe thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15. And did not ^ahe make one? yet had he ^aa bondance of spirit: and wherefore one? because he sought a godly ^aseede: therefore keepe your selues in your ^aspirit, & let none trespasse against
the wife of his youth.

16. If thou hatest ^aher, put her away, saith the Lord God of Israel, yet he couereth ^athe iniurie
vnder his garment, saith the Lord of hostes: therefore keepe your selues in your spirit, and transgresse not.

17. Ye haue ^awearied the Lord with your

g. Hee sheweth what were the two conditions of the covenant made with the tribe of Leui on Gods part, that hee would giue them long life and felicity, and on their part,
that they should faithfully serue

accuseth the ingratitude of the Iewes toward God and man: for seeing they were all borne of one father Abraham, and God had elected them to be his holy people, they ought neither to offend God nor their brethren.

CHAP. III.

^a This is meant of Iohn Baptist, as Christ expoundeth in Luke 7. 27.

^b Meaning, Meſſial. as Phil. 27. 1. Dan. 9. 25.

^c That is, Christ by whom the covenant was made and ratified, who is called the Angel or messenger of the covenant because he reuoluntarily vs to his Father, and is Lord of kings, because he hath the gouernment of his Church.

^d He sheweth that the hypocrites which with so much for the Lords comming will not abide when hee sheweth neere: for he will consume them, and purge his land and make them cleane.

^e He beginneth at the Priests that they might be light, and shine vnto others.

^f They murmured against God, because they saw not his helpe: and therefore hee scuteth them of ingratitude, and sheweth that in that they thought they were to be defended, and so his mercy toward them neuer changeth.

^g Reade Zech. 1. 3. There are none of the heathen so barbarous, that will defend their gods of their honour or deale deceitfully with them.

^h Whereby the seruice of God should haue bene maintained, and the Priests and the poore relieved.

ⁱ Not hauing respect how much ye neede, but I will giue you in all abundance: so that ye shal lacke place to put my blessings in.

^k Meaning, the caterpillar, and whatsoever destroyeth come and fruities.

^m The Prophet condemneth them of double blasphemie against God: first, in that they sayd that God had no respect to them that serued him, and next, that the wicked were more in his fauour than the godly.

Behold, I will send my ^a messenger, and he shall prepare the way before mee: and the ^b Lord whom ye seeke, shall speedily come to his Temple: euen the ^c messenger of the Covenant, whom ye desire: behold, hee shall come, saith the Lord of hostes.

² But who ^d may abide the day of his coming? and who shall endure, when he appeareth? for he is like a purging fire, and like fullers sope.

⁵ And I will come neere to you to iudgment, and I will be a swift witnesse against the soothsayers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that wrongfully keepe backe the hirelings wages, and vex the widow, and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the stranger, and feare not me, saith the Lord of hostes.

⁸ Will a ^h man spoile his gods? yet haue yee spoiled me: but ye say, Wherein haue we spoyled thee? In ⁱ tithes and offerings.

⁹ Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye haue spoiled me, euen this whole nation.

¹⁰ Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meate in my house, and proue me now herewith, saith the Lord of hostes, if I will not open the windowes of heauen vnto you, and powre you out a blessing ^k without measure.

¹² And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shal be a pleasant land, saith the Lord of hostes.

¹³ Your words haue bene stout ^m against me, saith the Lord: yet ye say, What haue wee spoken against thee?

¹⁴ Ye haue said, It is in vaine to serue God: and what profit is it that we haue kept his commandement, and that wee walked humbly before the Lord of hostes?

¹⁷ And they shall be to mee, saith the Lord of hostes, in that day that I shal do ^q this, for a flocke, and I will spare them, as a man spareth his owne sonne that serueth him.

¹⁸ Then shall you returne, and discern betwene the righteous and wicked, betwene him that serueth God, and him that serueth him not.

tion, and also that this might be an example of Gods mercies to all penitent sinners. ^q When I shall restore my Church according to my promise they shall bee as mine owne proper goods. ^r That is, forgive their finnes, and gouerne them with my Spirit.

CHAP. IIII.

The day of the Lord before the which Eliash should come.

For behold, the day commeth that shall burne as an ouen, and all the proud, yea, and all that doe wickedly, shall bee stubble, and the day that commeth, shall burne them vp, saith the Lord of hostes, and shall leaue them neither roote nor branch.

² But vnto you that feare my Name, shall the ^b sunne of righteousness arise, and health shall be vnder his wings, and ye shall go forth, and grow vp vs fat calves.

³ And yee shall tread downe the wicked: for they shall bee dust vnder the soles of your feete in the day that I shal doe ^c this, saith the Lord of hostes.

⁴ Remember the Law of Moses my seruant, which I commaunded vnto him in Horeb for all Israel with the statutes and iudgements.

⁵ Beholde, I will send you ^e Eliash the Prophet before the comming of the great and fearefull day of the Lord.

with long garments in the Temple of the Lord,

4 And said, Yee shall no more beare the Arke vpon your shoulders: now therefore serue the Lord your God, and take the charge of his people of Israel, and prepare according to your families and tribes.

6 Offer in order the Passover, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the Passover after the Lord's commandment given to Moses.

17 And Iofias gaue to the people that was pre-

3 There were given of the Kings possessions according to the promise to the people, and to the Priests, and to the Levites. Then gave Helkias and Zacharias and Jisaias the governors of the Temple, to the Priests for the Passover, two thousand six hundred sheep and three hundred calves.

9 Furthermore, Tethonias, and Sarnaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Chielus, and Toram captaines gaue to the Levites for the Pascheouer five thousand sheepe, and seven hundred calves.

10 And when these things were done, the Priests and the Lewites stood in order, hauing unleauered bread according to the tribes,

11 And after the order of the dignitie of their fathers, before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the bookes of Moyſes: and thus they did in the morning.

12 And they roasted the Pasfeouer with fire, as *appertained; and they sodde their offerings with perfumes in caldrons and pots,

13 And let it befoꝛe all them that were of the people, and afterward they prepared for themselves, and foꝛ the Priests their brethren the sons of Aaron.

14 For the Priests offered the fat vnto the euening, and the Leuites did make ready for themselves, and for the Priests their brethren the sons of Aaron.

13 And the holy fingers, the Connes of Alaph, were in their orders, according to the appointed ordinances of Dauid, to wit, Alaph, & Azarias, and Eddinus, which was of the Kings appointment.

*Exod. 12.8.

[On, Indubious]

16 And the portage at every gate, & the
it was not lawful that any should be an ordinary watch: for their brethren the Levites made ready for them.

17 And on that day that things which were assigned to the Levites of the Lord were accomplished, that they might offer the Passover.

18 And offer sacrifices upon the Altar of the Lord according to the commandment of King Josias.

19 So the children of Israel, which were present at that time, kept the Passover and the feast of unleavened bread seven days.

20 And there was not such a Passover kept in Israel since the time of Samuel the Prophet.

21 And all the kings of Israel did not offer such a Passover, as did Josias, and the Priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, and all Israel, which were found to remain in Jerusalem.

22 In the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Jo-sias was this Passover kept.

23 The workes of Josias were vpright before his Lord with a heart full of godlinesse.

24 And concerning the things which came to pass in his time, they are written before, to wit, of those that sinned and did wickedly against the Lord, about every nation and kingdome, & grie-ued him with their sinfull things, so that the wordes of the Lord stood up against Israel.

25 ¶ Now after all these actes of Josias, it came to passe that when Pharaoh king of Egypt came to moove warre at Carchamis vpon Euphrates, Josias went out against him.

26 But the king of Egypt spake to him, saying,
What haue I to doe with thee, O King of Iudea?

27 I am not sent of the Lord God against thee: but my warre is vpon Euphrates, and now the Lord is with me, and the Lord hath sent me forward, depart from me, and be not against the Lord.

28 But Josias would not turne backe, but charged him, but prepared himselfe to fight with him, not regarding the wordes of Ieremias the Prophet by the mouth of the Lord.

29 But hee set himselfe in battell array against him in the field of Megiddo, and the princes came down to King Josias.

30 And the King said to his servants, Conuey mee out of the battell, for I am very weake. And by and by his servants brought him out of the battell.

31 So hee gat vp on his second chariot, and being come againe to Jerusalem, hee changed his life, and was buried in his fathers grave.

32 And in all Iudea was Josias bewailed, yea, Jeremias the Prophet did lament for Josias, and the gouernours, and then wines did lament him unto this day: and this was ordeined in all the kinred of Israel, to be done continually.

33 But these things are written in the booke of the stories of the kings of Iudea, and every one of the actes that Josias did in his glory, and his knowledge in the Law of the Lord, & the things which hee did before, and the things now rehearsed are registred in the booke of the Kings of Israel and Iudea.

34 Then they of the nation tooke Ioaquaz the sonne of Josias, and made him king in stead of his father Josias, when he was three and twentie yeere old.

35 And hee reigned in Iudea and in Ierusalem three yeeres: and the king of Egypt deploied him from reigning in Ierusalem.

36 Ioaquaz also the people of an hundred salars of filver, and one talent of gold.

37 And the King of Egypt made Ioaquaz his brother king of Iudea and Ierusalem.

38 And he bound Ioaquaz and his gouernours:
but when hee had taken Zarahs his brother, hee led him away into Egypt.

39 Twentie and six yeere old was Ioaquaz, when hee reigned in Iudea and Ierusalem, and hee did euill in the sight of the Lord.

40 Wherefore against him came vp Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, who when hee had found him with a chaine of brass, led him away into Babylon.

41 Then Nabuchodonosor tooke of the holy vessels of the Lord, and caried them away, and set them in his temple at Babylon.

42 But all his actes, and his prophanation, and his reproch are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings.

43 And Ioaquaz his sonne reigned for him: and when he was made King, hee was eight yere old.

44 And hee reigned three moneths and tenn dayes in Ierusalem, and hee did euill in the sight of the Lord.

45 ¶ So a yeere after Nabuchodonosor sent and brought him to Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord.

46 And hee made Sedecias King of Iudea and Ierusalem, when hee was one and twentie yeere old, and he reigned eleuen yeeres.

47 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, neither did hee feare the wordes spoken by Ieremias the Prophet from the mouth of the Lord.

48 But after that hee was sworn to King Na-buchodonosor, hee forswore himselfe by the Name of the Lord, and fell away, and hardened his necke and his heart: and transgressed the Lawes of the Lord God of Israel.

49 Also the gouernours of the people, and the Priests committed many things against the Lawes, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and polluted the Temple of the Lord, which was san-ctified in Ierusalem.

50 Neuertheless, the God of their fathers sent his messenger to call them backe, because hee spared them and his owne Tabernacle.

51 But they derided his messengers, and in the day that the Lord spake was them, they mocked his Prophets.

52 So that hee being moued to anger against his people for their great wickednes, commanded the kings of the Chaldeans to invade them.

53 These killed their yong men with the sword round about their holy Temple, neither did they spare yong man nor maiden, neither old man, nor child among them.

54 But hee deliuered them all into their hands, and all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with the vessels of the Arke of God:
and they tooke, and caried away the Kings treasures into Babylon.

55 And they set fire in the house of the Lord, and brake downe the walles of Ierusalem, and burnt their towres with fire.

56 They consumed also all the precious things which were in the house of the Lord, and in the treasure house of the Kings of Iudea.

thereof, and brought them to nought, and those that were left by the sword, he caried away into Babylon.

57 And they were seruants to him, and to his children till the Persians reigned, to fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of ^{Jer. 1. 10.} Jeremias.

58 And that the lande might enioy her Sabbaths all the time that it was desolate, till seuentye yeeres were accomplished.

CHAP. II.

^{1. Chron. 3. 6. 38.} ^{2. Chron. 3. 1.} 1 Cyrus gaue leaue to the Iewes to returne. 2. Hee sent the holy vessels. 3. The names of them that returned. 4. Their adventures did let their building, and the kings letters for the same.

1 ^{IN} the first yere of the reigne of Cyrus king of the Persians, to fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremias,

2 The Lord raised vp the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he made proclamation thoroughout all his kingdome, euen by expresse letters,

3 Saying, Thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians, The Lord of Israel, euen the most high Lord, hath made me king ouer the whole world,

4 And he hath commanded me to build him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudea.

5 If there be any therefore of you of his people, let the Lord, euen his Lord bee with him, and let him go vp to Ierusalem, which is in Iudea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel: hee is the Lord which dwelleth in Ierusalem.

6 All they then that dwell in the places round about, those, I say, that are in his place, let them helpe him with gold and siluer,

7 With gifts, with horses, and cattell, and other things, which shalbe brought according to the vowes into the Temple of the Lord, which is in Ierusalem.

8 ¶ Then arose the chiefe of the families of Iudea, and of the tribe of Benjamin, & the Priests and Leuites, and all whose minde the Lord had moued to go vp, and build an house to the Lord in Ierusalem.

9 And those that were about them, helped them in all things with siluer and golde, horses, and cattell, and with diuers vowes of many whose mindes were stirred vp.

10 Also king Cyrus brought out the holy vessels of the Lord which Nabuchodonosor had caried out of Ierusalem, and had consecrated them in the Temple of his idoles.

11 Now when Cyrus king of the Persians had brought them out, hee deliuered them to Mithridates his treasurer, 12 By whom they were giuen to ^{Dr. Shabbazar, or Sanabassar.} Abassar the gouernour of Iudea.

13 Whereof this was the number: A thousand golden cups, and a thousand siluer cups, basins of siluer for the sacrifices, nine and twenty viols, of gold thirtie, & of siluer two thousand, foure hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of gold and siluer, which they caried away, were fise thousand, foure hundred threescore and nine.

15 They were brought by Sanabassar with them of the captiuitie of Babylon to Ierusalem.

16 ¶ But ^{Exe. 1. 6.} in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians, ^{Dr. Bichlerius.} Belemius, and Mithridates, & Tabelius, and Rathumus, & Beeltechmus, and ^{Dr. Schimfi.} Semellius the secretary, & others which were ioyned to these, dwelling in Samaria and in other places wrote vnto him this Epistle heere following against them that dwelt in Iudea and Ierusalem, TO THE KING ARTAXERXES OUR LORD.

17 Thy seruantes, Rathumus the writer of things that come to passe, and Semellius the secretary, and the rest of their counsell and the Iudges which are in Coelosyria and Phenice.

18 Be it now therefore known to our lord the king, that the Iewes which came vp from you, are come to vs into Ierusalem, that rebellious and wicked city, and build the market places, and make vp the walles thereof, and lay the foundations of the Temple.

19 Therefore if this city be built, & the walles be finished, they will not onely not indure to pay tribute, but will also resist kings.

20 And because the things pertaining to the Temple, goe forward, wee thought it not meete to passe ouer such a thing,

21 But to declare it to our lord the king, that if it be thy pleasure, it may be sought out in the bookes of thy fathers,

22 And thou shalt finde in the Chronicles the writings concerning these things, & shalt know that this city did alwayes rebell, and did trouble both kings and cities,

23 And that the Iewes are rebellious, raising alwayes warres therein: for the which cause also this city was made desolate.

24 Now therefore, O lord the king, we declare it, that if this citie be built and the walles thereof repaired, you shal haue no more passage into Coelosyria, nor Phenice.

25 ¶ Then the king wrote againe to Rathumus, that wrote the things that came to passe, and to Beeltechmus, and to Semellius the secretary, and to the rest of those that were ioyned with them, and to the dwellers of Samaria, Syria, and Phenice, these things that follow.

26 I haue read the Epistle, which you sent to mee: therefore I commaunded, that it should be sought out, and it was found, that this citie hath alwayes practised against kings,

27 And that the men thereof were giuen to rebellion and warres, and how that mighty kings and fierce haue reigned in Ierusalem, which tooke tribute of Coelosyria and Phenice.

28 Now therefore I haue commanded to forbid these men to build vp the citie, and that it be taken heede that no more be done,

29 And that those wicked things, which should molest the king, goe not forward.

30 Then when Rathumus, and Semellius the secretary and the rest, which were ioyned with them, had read the things, which king Artaxerxes had written, they moued their tents with speede to Ierusalem, with horses and men in aray,

31 And began to let them which built, so that the building of the Temple in Ierusalem ceased vnto the second yere of the reigne of Darius king of the Persians.

CHAP. III.

^{1. The first of Darius.} ^{16. The three wise sentences.}

NOW when Darius reigned, hee made a great feast to all his subiects, and to all those of his owne house, and to all the Princes of Media and Persia,

2 And to all the gouernours & captaines and lieutenants that were with him, from India vnto Ethiopia

Ethiopia of an hundred and four and twenty prouinces.

3 And when they had eaten and drunke, and were satisfied, they departed, & king Darius went into his chamber, & slept till he wakened againe.

4 In the meane time three yong men of the gard, keepers of the kings body, said one to another,

5 Let every one of vs speake a sentence, and he that shall overcome, and whose sentence shall appeare wiser then the others, Darius the king shall giue him great gifts, and great things in token of victory,

6 As to weare purple, and to drinke in gold, and to sleepe in gold, and a chariot with bridles of golde, and an head tirc of fine linnen, and a chaine about his necke,

7 And he shall sit next to Darius for his wisdom, and shalbe called Darius cousin.

8 Then euery man wrote his sentence, & sealed it, and put it vnder the pillow of king Darius,

9 And said, when the king rose, they would giue him the writing, and whose sentence the king and the three Princes of Persia should iudge to bee wisest, to him should the victory bee giuen as it was appointed.

10 One wrote, The wine is strongest.

11 The other wrote, The king is strongest.

12 The other wrote, Women are strongest, but Truth ouercometh all things.

13 ¶ And when the king rose, they tooke the writings, & gaue them to him, and he read them,

14 And sent, and called all the noble men of Persia and of Media, and the gouernours, and the capitaines, and lieutenants, and the counsell,

15 And fate him downe in the counsell, and the writing was read before them.

16 Then he said, Call the yong men, that they may declare their owne sentences. So they called them, and they came in.

17 Then he said vnto them, Declare vnto vs the writings. So the first began, which had spoken of the strength of wine,

18 And sayd on this maner, O yee men, how strong is wine! it deceiueth al men that drinke it.

19 It maketh the mind of the king and of the fatherlesse both one, of the bondman and of the free man, of the poore man and of the rich man.

20 It turneth also euery thought into ioy and gladnesse, so that one remembreth no maner of sorow, nor debt.

21 It maketh euery heart rich, so that one remembreth neither king nor gouernour, and causeth to speake all things by flatteries.

22 When men haue drunke, they haue no mind to loue either friends or brethren, and a litle after they draw out swords.

23 But when they are from the wine, they doe not remember what they haue done.

24 O yee men, is not wine strongest, which compelleth to doe such things? and he held his peace, when he had thus spoken.

CHAP. IIII.

Of the strength of a king. 13 Of the strength of women. 34 Of the strength of truth, which sentence is approved, 47 and his promise granted.

Then the second, which had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say,

2 O yee men, are not men strongest, which beare rule by land and by sea, and ouer all things which are in them?

3 But the king is yet greater for he ruleth all things, and is lord of them, so that they doe all things which he commandeth them.

4 If he bid them make warre one against another, they doe it: if he send them out against the enemies, they goe and breake downe mountaynes, and walles, and towers.

5 They kill and are killed, and doe not passe the commandement of the king: if they overcome, they bring all to the king, aswel the spoile as all other things.

6 And those also which goe not to warre and battel, but til the earth: for when they haue sowne it againe, they reape it, & bring it to the king, and compell one another to pay tribute to the king.

7 Yet hee is but one man: if hee bid, Kill, they kill: if he say, Spare, they spare.

8 If he bid, Smite, they smite: if he bid them, Make desolate, they make desolate: if hee bid, Build, they build.

9 If hee bid, Cut off, they cut off: if hee bid, Plant, they plant.

10 So all his people and all his armies obey one man: in the meane while he sitteth downe, he eateth and drinketh, and sleepeeth.

11 For these keepe him round about: neither can any one goe and doe his owne businesse: neither are they disobedient vnto him.

12 O yee men, how should not the King bee strongest, seeing he is thus obeyed! so he held his tongue.

13 ¶ Then the third which had spoken of women and of the Truth (this was Zorobabel) began to speake, 14 O yee men, neither I mighty king, nor many men, nor wine is strongest: who then ruleth them or hath dominion ouer them? are they not women?

15 Women haue borne the king and all the people, which beare rule by sea and by land.

16 Euen of them were they borne, and they nourished them, which planted the vines, of which the wine is made.

17 They also make mens garments and make men honourable, neither can men bee without women.

18 And if they haue gathered together golde and siluer, or any goodly thing, doe they not loue a faire and beautifull woman?

19 Doe they not leaue all those things, and giue themselves wholly vnto her, and gape, and gaze vpon her, and all men desire her more then gold, or siluer, or any precious thing?

20 A man leaueth his owne father, which hath nourished him, and his owne countrey, and is ioyned with his wife.

21 And for the woman he isopardeth his life, and neither remembreth father nor mother, nor countrey.

22 Therefore by this yee may know that the women beare rule ouer you: doe yee not labour and trauel, and giue and bring all to the women?

23 Yea, a man taketh his sword, & goeth forth to kill and to steale, and to saile vpon the sea, and vpon riuers, 24 And hee seeth a lion, and goeth in darkenesse, & when he hath stollen, rauished and spoyled, he bringeth it to his loue.

25 Wherefore a man loueth his owne wife more then father or mother.

26 Yea, many haue run mad for women, and haue bene seruants for them.

27 Many also haue perished and haue erred and sinned for women.

28 Now therefore doe you not beleue mee? is not the King great in his power? do not all regions feare to touch him?

29 Yet I saw him and Apame, the Kings concubine, the daughter of the famous Bartacus, sitting on the right hand of the King,

30 And shee tooke the crowne off the Kings head, and put it vpon her owne, and strooke the king with her left hand,

31 Yet in the meane season the King gaped and gazed on her: and if she laughed at him, hee laughed: and if she were angry with him, hee did flatter her that hee might be reconciled with her.

32 How then, O ye men, are not women more strong, seeing they doe thus?

33 ¶ Then the king & the princes looked one vpon another, & hee began to speake of the truth

34 O ye men, are not women stronger? great is the earth, and the heauen is hie, and the Sunne is swift in his course: for he turneth round about heauen in one day, and runneth againe into his owne place.

35 Is not he great that maketh these things? therefore the truth is greater & stronger then all.

36 All the earth calleth for truth, and the heauen blesteth it: and all things are shaken & tremble, neither is there any vniust thing with it.

37 The wise are wicked, the King is wicked; women are wicked, and all the children of men are wicked, and all their wicked workes are such, and there is no truth in them, & they perish in their iniquitie.

38 But truth doeth abide, and is strong for euer, and liueth and reigneth for euer and euer.

39 With her there is no receiuing of persons nor difference: but shee doeth the things which are iust, and abstaineth from vniust, and wicked things, and all men fauour her workes.

40 Neither is there any vniust thing in her iudgement, and she is the strength and the kingdom and the power, and the maiestie of all ages. Blessed be the God of truth.

41 So he ceased to speake, & then all the people cried, and sayd, Truth is great and strongest.

42 Then the King said vnto him, Aske what thou wilt beside that which is appointed, and we wil giue it thee, because thou art found the wisest, and thou shalt haue libertie to sit by me, and shalt be called my cousin.

43 ¶ Then he said to the King, Remember the vow that thou hast vowed to build Ierusalem, in the day that thou tookest the kingdom.

44 And to send againe all the vessels that were taken out of Ierusalem, which Cyrus set apart when he made a vowe to cut off Babylon, and vowed to send them thither.

45 Thou hast also vowed to build the Temple, which the Idumeans burnt when Iudea was destroyed by the Chaldeans.

46 And now, O lord the King, this is that which I desire and require of thee, and this is the magnificence which I require of thee: I require therefore that thou wouldest accomplish the vow which thou hast vowed with thine owne mouth to the king of heauen.

47 Then king Darius rising vp, kissed him, and wrote him letters to all the stewards and lieutenants, and captaines, and gouernours, that they should bring on the way both him, and all that were with him, which went vp to build Ierusalem.

48 And he wrote letters to all the lieutenants in Cœlosyria and Phenice, and to them that were in Libanus, that they should bring cedar wood from Libanus to Ierusalem, and build the city with him.

49 And hee wrote for all the Iewes, which went vp out of his kingdom vnto Iudea, concerning their libertie, that no prince, nor lieutenant, nor gouernour, nor steward should enter into their doores.

50 And that all the region which they kept, should pay no tribute, and that the Idumeans should let goe the villages of the Iewes which they held,

51 And that euery yere there should be giuen for the building of the Temple twentie talents vntill it were built,

52 And to maintaine the burnt offerings vpon the altar euery day (as they had a comendement to offer seenteene) other ten talents euery yere.

53 And that all they which went from Babylon to build the citie, should haue libertie, as well they as their posteritie, and all the Priests that went away.

54 He wrote also touching the charges & the Priests garment, wherein they should minister.

55 And hee wrote that they should giue the Lewites their charges vntill the house were finished, and Ierusalem built.

56 Also he wrote that they should giue pensions and wages to them that kept the citie.

57 And he sent away all the vessels which Cyrus had set apart out of Babylon, and whatsoever Cyrus had commanded to doe, he also commanded to doe it, and to send to Ierusalem.

58 And when the young man was gone forth, he lift vp his face to heauen toward Ierusalem, and gaue thanks to the King of heauen, 59 Saying, Of thee is the victorie, & of thee is wisdom, & of thee is glory, and I am thy seruant.

60 Blessed be thou which hast giuen me wisdom: for vnto thee I acknowledge it, O Lord of our fathers.

61 ¶ So he tooke the letters & went out, and came to Babylon, and told all his brethren.

62 And they blessed the God of their fathers, because he had giuen them freedom and liberty.

63 To goe vp and to build Ierusalem, and the Temple, where his Name is renowned, and they reioiced with instruments of musick and ioy, seven dayes.

A Fear these things, the chiefe of the house of their fathers were chosen after their tribes, and their wiues, and their sonnes, & their daughter, and their seruants, and their maydes, and their cartell.

2 And Darius sent with them a thousand horsemen, till they were restored to Ierusalem in safetie, and with musickall instruments, with tabrets and flutes.

3 And all their brethren played: thus he caused them to goe vp together with them.

44 And there were of the gouernours after their families, which when they were come to the Temple in Ierusalem, vowed to build the house in his owne place according to their power,

¶ Or, of golde 10. thousand pounds and of silver five, &c.

45 And to give to the treasure of the worke, a thousand pound in golde, and five thousand pound in silver, & a thousand Pricelly garments.

46 And the Priestes and the Leuites and the people dwelt in Ierusalem and in the countrey, and the holy fingers and the porters and all Israel in their villages.

47 ¶ But when the seventh moneth was nere, and when the children of Israel were euery one at home, they were all gathered together with one accord into the open place of the first gate, which is toward the East.

48 Then Iesus the sonne of Iosedec and his brethren the Priests, with Zorobabel the son of Salathiel and his brethren, rising vp, made ready the altar of the God of Israel, 49 To offer burnt offerings vpon it according as it is written in the booke of Moyses the man of God.

50 Whither also there were gathered against them of all nations of the land: but they dressed the altar in his owne place, although all the nations of the land were their enemies and vexed them, and they offered sacrifices according to the season, and burnt offerings to the Lord, morning and euening:

51 They kept also the feast of Tabernacles, as it is ordained in the Lawe, and offered sacrifices euery day, as was requisite,

52 And afterward, the continuall oblations and offerings of the Sabbaths and of the newe moneths and of all holy feasts.

¶ Eze. 3. 6.

53 ¶ And all they which had made any vow to God, began to offer sacrifice vnto God in the first day of the seventh moneth, although the Temple of God was not yet built.

54 They gaue also money to the masons and to the workemen, and meat & drinke with gladnesse,

55 And charrets to the Sidonians and to those of Tyrus to bring cedar wood out of Libanus, which should be brought by flotes to the haven of Ioppe according to the commandement given vnto them by Cyrus king of Persia.

56 And in the second yere and second moneth came into the Temple of God in Ierusalem, Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus the son of Iosedec, and their brethren, and the Priests, and Leuites, and all they that came out of captiuitie into Ierusalem, ¶ Eccles. 49. 12.

57 And laid the foundation of the house of God in the first day of the second moneth of the second yere after their returne into Iudea and Ierusalem.

58 And they appointed the Leuites from twentie yere old ouer the works of the Lord, and Iesus and his sonne, and his brethren, and his brother Cadmiel, and the sonnes of Madiabon with the sonnes of Iuda, the sonne of Heliadun, with their sonnes, and brethren, even all the Leuites with one accord did followe after the worke, calling vpon the works in the house of God: thus the workemen built the Temple of the Lord.

59 And the Priestes stood clothed with their long garments with muscalle instruments, and trumpets, and the Leuites the sonnes of Asaph with cymbals, 60 Singing and blessing the Lord, according to the ordinance of Dauid king of Israel.

61 And they sung with loude voyce songs to the praise of the Lord, because his mercie and glory is for euer in all Israel.

62 Then all the people blew trumpets, and cried with loud voyce, praising the Lord for the raising vp of the house of the Lord.

63 Also some of the Priests and Leuites, and chiefe men, to wit, the Ancients which had scene the former house,

64 Came to see the building of this with weeping and great crying, and many with trumpets, and they cried with loud voyce,

65 So that the people could not heare the trumpets, because of the weeping of the people: yet there was a great multitude that blew trumpets, so that they were heard farre off.

66 ¶ Wherefore when the enemies of the tribes of Iuda and Beniamin heard it, they came to know what noise of trumpets it was,

67 And they knew that they of the captiuitie built the Temple to the Lord God of Israel.

68 Wherefore they comming to Zorobabel, and Iesus, and the chiefe of the families, said vnto them, Let vs build also with you.

69 For wee obey your Lord, as you doe, and sacrifice vnto him since the dayes of Asbafareth king of the Assyrians, which brought vs hither.

¶ Or, Asbafareth. ¶ Or, Asbafaden.

70 Then Zorobabel, and Iesus, and the chiefe of the families of Israel said to them, It doth not appertaine to vs, and to you to build an house to the Lord our God.

71 For we alone wil build it to the Lord God of Israel, as it becommeth vs, and as Cyrus the king of the Persians bade vs.

¶ Eze. 4. 3. 4.

72 Howbeit the people of the land made them sluggish that were in Iudea, and letted them to build the worke, and by their ambushments and seditions and conspiracies hindred the finishing of the building, 73 All the time of king Cyrus life: so that they were let from the building two yeere, vntill the reigne of Darius.

CHAP. VI.

1 Of Aggeus and Zacharias. 2 The building of the Temple. 3 Six times would let them. 7 His Epistle to Darius. 23 The kings answer to the contrary.

¶ At in the second yere of the reigne of Darius, Aggeus and Zacharias the sonne of Ado the Prophets prophced to the Iewes, even vnto them that were in Iudea and Ierusalem, in the name of the Lord God of Israel, which they called vpon.

¶ Eze. 5. 1. 2. 3. 4.

2 Then Zorobabel sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Iosedec stood vp, and beganne to build the house of the Lord, which is in Ierusalem, the Prophets of the Lorde being with them, and helping them.

¶ Greets vpon them

3 ¶ In that time Sifinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabouzanes with his companions came vnto them,

4 And said vnto them, By whose commandement build you this house, and this building, and enterprife all these other things? and who are the builders that enterprife such things?

Rr 3 5 But

5 But the Ancients of the Iewes had grace of the Lord after that he had visited the captiuitie.

6 That they were not letted to build, until it was signified vnto Darius of the Iewes, and an answer was receiued.

7 The copy of the Epistle, which hee did write and send to Darius: dement of the Lord God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus, and Darius & Artaxerxes kings of the Persians.

5 Thus the holy house was finished in the three and twentieth day of the moneth Adar, in the sixt yeere of Darius king of the Persians.

6 And the children of Israel & the Priests and the Leuites, and the rest, which were of the captiuitie, and had any charge, did according to the things written in the booke of Moyſes.

7 And they offered for the dedication of the Temple of the Lord, an hundred bulles, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lammes,

8 And twelue goats for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the chiefe of the tribes of Israel.

9 And the Priests and the Leuites stood according to their kinreds, clothed with long robes in the works of the Lord God of Israel, according to the booke of Moyſes, and also the porters in euery gate.

10 And the children of Israel offered the Pasſeouer together with them of the captiuitie, in the fourteenth day of the first moneth, after that the Priests and Leuites were sanctified.

11 But all the children of the captiuitie, were not sanctified together, but all the Leuites were sanctified together.

12 And they offered the Pasſeouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

13 Then all the children of Israel which were of the captiuitie did eate, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the people of the land, and sought the Lord.

14 And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven dayes, reioycing before the Lord.

15 Because he had turned the counsell of the king of the Assyrians towards them to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord God of Israel.

CHAP. VIII.

Eſdras cometh from Babylon to Ierusalem. 1. The copie of the commission given by Artaxerxes. 2. Eſdras giueth thanks to the Lord. 3. The number of the heads of the people that came with him. 4. His prayer and confession.

And after these things, when Artaxerxes king of the Persians reigned, Eſdras the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Ezerias, the sonne of Helcias, the sonne of Salum,

1 The sonne of Sador, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Ezerias, the sonne of Memeroth, the sonne of Zariaas, the sonne of Sauias, the sonne of Boccas, the sonne of Abisum, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleasar, the sonne of Aaron was the high Priest.

2 This Eſdras went out of Babylon, and was a scribe well taught in the law of Moyſes, giuen by the Lord God of Israel.

3 Also the king gaue him great honour, and he found grace in his sight in all his requests.

4 With him also there departed some of the children of Israel, and of the Priests and Leuites, and of the holy singers, and of the porters, and of the ministers of the Temple vnto Ierusalem.

5 In the seventh yere of the reigne of Artaxerxes, & in the fifth moneth: this was the seventh yeere of the King (for they went out of Babylon in the first day of the first moneth.

6 And came to Ierusalem according as the Lord gaue them speed in their journey.)

7 For Eſdras had gotten great knowledge, so that he would let nothing passe that was in the law of the Lord, and in the commandements, and he taught all Israel all the ordinances and judgments.

8 So the commission written by king Artaxerxes was giuen Eſdras the Priest and reader of the law of the Lord: the copie thereof followeth.

9 King Artaxerxes to Eſdras the Priest, and reader of the Law of the Lord, Salutation.

10 Forasmuch as I consider things with pitie, I haue commanded that they that will and desire of the nation of the Iewes, and of the Priests and Leuites which are in our kingdome, should goe with thee vnto Israel.

11 Therefore as many as be willing, let them depart together, as it hath seemed good to me & my seuen friends the counsellors.

12 That they may visite the things that are in Iudea and Ierusalem diligently, as it is contained in the Law of the Lord.

13 And carie the gifts to the Lord of Israel in Ierusalem, which I and my friends haue vowed: also all the gold and silver, which shall be found in the country of Babylon appertaining to the Lord in Ierusalem.

14 With that which is giuen of the people to the Temple of the Lord their God, that it might be brought to Ierusalem, as wel silver as gold, for buls, and rammes, and lammes, and things thereunto pertaining.

15 That they may offer sacrifices to the Lord vpon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Ierusalem.

16 And whatsoever thou and thy brethren will doe with the gold or silver, accomplish it according to the will of thy God.

17 And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are giuen thee for the vse of the Temple of thy God, which is in Ierusalem, thou shalt set before thy God in Ierusalem.

18 And what other things soeuer thou shalt remember for the vse of the Temple of thy God, thou shalt giue it out of the kings treasure.

19 And I also King Artaxerxes haue commanded the treasurers of Syria and Phenice, that whatsoever Eſdras, the Priest and Reader of the Law of the highest God, shall send for, they should giue it him with all speede, even to the summe of an hundred talents of silver.

20 And likewise vnto an hundred cores of corne, and an hundred pieces of wine, and other things in abundance.

21 Let all things be done to the highest God according to the law of God with diligence, that wrath come not vpon the kingdome of the king and of his sonnes.

22 Also to you it is commanded, that of none of the Priests or Leuites, or holy singers, or porters, or ministers of the Temple, or of the workemen of this Temple, no tribute nor tax be taken, nor that any haue power to taxe them in any thing.

23 Thou also Eſdras, according to the wisdom of God, ordeine iudges and gouernours, that they may iudge in all Syria and Phenice all those which are well instructed in the Law of thy God, and teach those which are not instructed.

24 And let all those which shall transgresse the Law of God and the King, be diligently punished, either with death, or other punishment, either with penitie of money, or banishment.

28 Therefore I was encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered such of Israel to goe up with me.

41 And I gathered them together to the flood called Theras, and pitched our tents there three daies, and numbered them.

42 But when I had found there none of the Priests nor Leuites.

43 I went to Eleazar, and behold there came Maasman and Alusban, and Saman, and Iordan, and Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharian, and Mossellamon the chiefe, and best learned.

44 And I had them to go to Daddus the captain, which was in the place of the treasure.

45 With charge to bid Daddus and his brethren and the treasurers that were there, to send to us them which should offer sacrifice in the house of our Lord.

Or, Seradus.

46 And they brought unto us by the mighty hand of our Lord, learned men of the sonnes of Molli the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel, Iezub, Eliehebran and his sonnes, and his brethren being eighteen.

Or, Canasius.

47 And Asaia, and Annon, and Oran his brethren of the sonnes of Canasius with their families, twenty persons.

48 And of the ministers of the Temple, which David gave, and those which were rulers over the worke of the Leuites, to wit, ministers of the Temple, two hundred and twenty of whom all the names were registered.

And there I proclaimed a fast for the young men before the Lord to seek of him a good journey both for us, and for them that were with us, for our children, and for our cattell.

40 For I was ashamed to aske the king fourmen, or horsemen, or conduct for safeguard against our enemies.

41 Because we had said to the king, that the power of our Lord should bee with them, that Iough be him, to direct him in all things.

42 Wherefore we prayed our Lord again, according to these things, who we found fauourable.

Or, Serabim.

43 Then I chose from among the chiefe of the tribes, and of the Priests, twelue men; to wit, Elibrias and Affinias, and with them ten of their brethren.

44 And I weighed them the silver & the gold, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king and his countellers, and the princes and all Israel had given.

45 And I weighed them five hundred and fiftie talents of silver, and silver vessels of an hundred talents, and an hundred talents of gold.

46 And twentie golden basins, and twentie vessels of brasse, of fine brasse shining like gold.

47 And bloud to them. You are all holy to the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the gold, and the silver is a vow to the Lord of our fathers.

48 Watch & keepe them, til that you giue them to the heads of the families of the Priests and Leuites, and captains of the families of Israel in Jerusalem in the chambers of the house of our God.

49 So the Priests and Leuites rooke the silver and the gold, and the vessels, and carried them to Jerusalem to the Temple of the Lord.

50 And we departed from the flood Theras, in the twelfth day of the first moneth, and came to Jerusalem, according to the mighty power of our Lord with us, and the Lord deliuered vs from the beginning of our Iourney from all enemies.

51 So we came to Jerusalem.

52 And three daies being past there, in the fourth day the silver that was weighed, and the gold was deliuered in the house of our Lord to Maremoth the Priest, the sonne of Iouri.

Or, Marimoth, the sonne of Ieri.

Or, Nordia, sonne of Iouri.

53 And there were with them, Iosab the sonne of Iezus, and Iosab the sonne of Sapharias, Leuites: all was deliuered to them by number, and weight.

54 And all the weight of them was written, that same houre.

55 Afterwards those that were come out of the captiuitie, offered sacrifices to the Lord God of Israel, twelve bulles for all Israel, rammes foure score, and fiftie.

56 Lambs threescore and twelue, twelue goats for fiftie, and in sacrifice to the Lord.

57 And they presented the commandments of the king to the kings stewards, and to the gouernours of Coelosyria and Phenice, who honoured the people, and the Temple of God.

Exa 8.4.

58 When these things were done, the gouernours came to me, saying, The people of Israel, the Priests, and the Leuites, and the Leuites haue not leparated from thine the strange people of the land.

59 Nor the pollutions of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, & Cherites, & Phereites, & Jebusites, and Moabites, and Egyptians, and Idumeans.

60 For they haue dwelt with their daughters, both they and their sonnes, and the holy feed is mixed.

mixed with the strange people of the land, & the governors and rulers have bene partakers of the wickednesse from the beginning of the thing.

70 And assoone as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, & the holy garment, and I pulled the haire off my head, and off my beard, & fate me downe sorrowfull and very sad.

71 Then also they that were moued with the word of y Lord God of Israel, came to me whiles I wept for the iniquitie, but I fate very sad till the evening sacrifice.

72 Then I arose from the fast with my clothes torne, and the holy garment, and bowed my knees and stretched forth mine hands to the Lord, 73 And said, O Lord, I am ashamed, and confounded before thy face.

74 For our sins are increased aboue our heads, and our ignorances are lifted vp to heauen.

75 Yea, even from the time of our fathers wee are in great sinne vnto this day.

76 For our sins therefore, and our fathers wee with our brethren, with our kings & Priests haue benee giuen vp to the kings of the earth, to the sword and to captiuitie, and for a pray with all shame vnto this day.

77 And now how great hath thy mercy been, O Lord, that these should be left vs a roote, and name in the place of thine holinesse!

78 And that thou shouldst reuile to vs a light in the house of the Lord our God, and giue vs meate in the time of our seruitude!

79 For when wee were in bondage, we were not left of our God, but he gaue vs labour before the kings of the Persians, that they should giue vs meate,

80 And that they should honour the Temple of our Lord, and raise vp Sion that is desolate, and giue vs assurance in Iudea and Ierusalem.

81 And now, O Lord, what shall wee say, hauing these things? for we haue transgressed thy commandements, which thou hast giuen by the hands of thy seruants the Prophets, saying,

82 *Because the land which ye go to inherit, is a land polluted by the pollutions of the strangers of the land, which haue filled it with their filthinesse,

83 Therefore nowe yee shall not ioyn their daughters with your sonnes, neither giue your daughters to their sonnes,

84 Neither shall you desire to haue peace with them for euer, that yee may bee made strong, and eate the good things of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your children for euer.

85 Therefore all that is come to passe, was done for our wicked workes, and for our great sinnes: yet Lord, thou hast forborne our sinnes,

86 And hast giuen vs such a roote: but yee againe haue turned backe to transgresse the lawe, and to mixe vs with the vncleannesse of the people of the land.

87 Mightest thou not be angry with vs to destroy vs, so that thou shouldst neither leaue vs roote, nor seed, nor name?

88 But, O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for there is a roote left men vnto this day.

89 Behold, wee are now before thee with our iniquities, neither can we endure before thee for these things.

90 And as Efdras praied and confessed, and wept, & lay vpon the ground before the Temple, a very great multitude was gathered vnto him out of Ierusalem of men and women, and young children: for there was a great lamentation among the multitude.

91 Then Iechonias the sonne of || Ieel of the sonnes of Israel crying out, said, O Efdras, we haue sinned against the Lord God: wee haue taken in marriage strange women of the nations of the land

92 And now all Israel is doubtfull: therefore let vs make an oth concerning this to the Lord to put away all our wiues, which are strangers, with their children.

93 If it seem good to thee, & to all them that obey the Law of the Lord, rise vp and put it in execution.

94 For to thee doth it appertaine, and we are with thee to make thee strong.

85 Then Efdras arose, & made all the chiefe of the families of the Priests & Leuits of all Israel to swear, that they would do thus: and they sware.

CHAP. IX.

7 After Efdras had read the Law for the strange wiues, 10 They promise to put them away.

Then *Efdras rose from the court of the Temple, and went to the chamber of Ioannan the sonne of Eliafib,

2 And being lodged there, he did eat no bread nor dranke water, but mourned for the great iniquities of the multitude.

3 And there was a proclamation in all Iudea and Ierusalem, to all them that were of the captiuitie, that they should be gathered to Ierusalem,

4 And that all they which should not meete there within two or three dayes according to the ordinance of the Elders, which bare rule, should haue their cattell confiscate to the Temple, & he cast out from among them of the captiuitie.

5 Then all they which were of the tribe of Iuda and Beniamin, came together within three dayes into Ierusalem: this was the ninth moneth and twentieth day of the moneth.

6 And all the multitude fate in the broad place of the Temple shaking, because of thy extreme winter.

7 Then Efdras arose and said to them, Ye haue sinned: for ye haue married strange wiues, so that ye haue augmented the sinnes of Israel.

8 Nowe therefore confesse and glorifie the Lord God of our fathers, 9 And doe his will, and separate your selues from the people of the land, and from the strange wiues.

10 Then all the multitude cryed out, and sayd with a loud voice, We wil do so as thou hast said,

11 But because the multitude is great, and the time is winter, so that we cannot stand without, and the work is not of one day nor of two, seeing that many of vs haue sinned in this matter,

12 Let the chieftemen of the multitude, and all they which haue strange wiues of our families, tarie:

13 And let the Priests and iudges come out of all places at the day appointed, till they haue appeased the wrath of the Lord against vs for this matter:

14 Then Ionathas Asaels sonne, and || Ezeccias sonne || of Thecan were appointed concerning these things, and Mosollam and Sabbateus did helpe them.

15 And they which were of the captiuitie, did after all these things.

5 Goe,

5 God, and thou my people their sinnes, and their children their wickedness, which they have committed against mee, that they may tell their childrens children.

6 For the sinnes of their fathers are increased in them, because they haue forgotten me, & haue offered vnto strange gods.

7 Haue not I brought them out of the lande of Egypt from the house of bondage? but they haue prouoked mee vnto wrath, and despised my counsels.

8 Pull thou off then the haire of thine head, and cast all euill vpon them: for they haue not bene obedient vnto my Law, but they are a rebellious people.

9 How long shall I forbear them, vnto who I haue done so much good?

10 Many Kings haue I destroyed for their sakes: Pharaoh with his seruants and al his army haue I smitten downe.

11 All the nations hate I destroyed before thee: I haue destroyed the East, the people of the two countreyes Tyrus and Sidon, and haue slaine all their enemies.

12 Speake thou therefore vnto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord,

13 I haue led you thorow the Sea, and haue giuen you a sure way since the beginning: I gaue you Moyses for a guide, and Aaron for a Priest.

14 I gaue you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders haue I done among you: yet haue ye forgotten me, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, The quailles were a token vnto you: I gaue you tents for safeguard, wherein ye murmured.

16 And yet triumphed not in my Name, for the destruction of your enemies, but yee yet murmur still.

17 Where are the benefits, that I haue done for you? when ye were hungry in the wildernes, did ye not cry vnto me, 18 Saying, Why hast thou brought vs into this wilderness, to kill vs? It had bene better for vs to haue serued the Egyptians, then to die in this wilderness.

19 I had pity vpon your mournings, and gaue you Manna to eat: so ye did eate Angels food.

20 When yee were thirstie, did I not cleane the stone, and waters did flow out to satisfie you? from the heate I couered you with the leaues of the trees,

21 And I gaue you far countries: I cast out the Canaanites, the Phereites, and Philistims before you: what shall I doe more for you, saith the Lord?

22 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, When ye were in the wilderness at the bitter waters, being athirst, and blaspheming my Name, 23 I gaue you not fire for the blasphemies, but cast a tree into the water, & made the riuer sweeter.

24 What shall I do vnto thee, O Iacob? thou Iuda wouldst not obey: I will turne me to other nations, and vnto those wil I giue my Name, that they may keepe my Lawes.

25 Seeing ye haue forsaken me, I will also forsake you: when yee aske mercy of mee, I will not haue pity vpon you.

26 When ye call vpon mee, I will not heare you: for ye haue defiled your hands with blood, and your feet are swift to commit murder.

27 Although ye haue not forsaken me, but your owne selues, saith the Lord.

28 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Haue I not praied you as a father his sonnes, and as a mother her daughters, and as a nurse her yong babes,

29 That yee would bee my people, as I am your God, and that ye would be my children, as I am your Father?

30 I gathered you together as a henne gathereth her chickens vnder her wings: but now what shall I doe vnto you? I will cast you out from my sight.

31 When you bring gifts vnto mee, I will turne my face from you: for your solemne feast dayes, your new moones, and your circumcisions haue I forsaken.

32 I sent vnto you my seruants the Prophets, whom ye haue taken and slaine, and torne their bodies in pieces, whose blood I wil reuenge, saith the Lord.

33 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Your house shall be desolate: I will cast you out as the wind doeth the stubble.

34 Your children shall not haue generation: for they haue despised my commandment, and done the thing that I hate, before mee.

35 Your houses will I giue vnto a people: to come, who shal beleue me though they heare me not, and they, vnto whom I neuer shewed miracle, shall doe the things that I command them.

36 Though they see no Prophets, yet shall they hate their iniquities.

37 I will declare the grace that I will doe for the people to come, whole children reioyce in gladnes, and though they haue not seene me with bodily eyes, yet in heart they beleue the things that I say.

38 Now therefore brother, behold what great glory, and see the people that come from the East.

39 Vnto whom I will giue for leaders, Abraham, Isaac, Iacob, Oseas, Amos, Micheas, Joel, Abdias, Ionas, 40 Naum, Habacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zacharias, and Malachias (which is called also the messenger of the Lord.)

CHAP. II.

The Synagogue smiteth faults with her owne children, 18 The Consiles are called.

Thus saith the Lord, I brought this people out of bondage: I gaue them also my commandments by my seruants the Prophets, whom they would not heare, but despised my counsels.

2 The mother that bare them saith vnto the, Goe you away, O children: for I am a widow and forsaken.

3 I brought you vp with gladnesse, but with sorow and heauinesse haue I lost you: for ye haue sinned against the Lord your God, and done the thing that displeaseth him.

4 But what shall I now doe vnto you? I am a widow and forsaken: go ye, O my children, and aske mercy of the Lord.

5 And thee, O father, I call for a witnesse for the mother of these children, which would not keepe my couenant,

6 That thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a spoyle, that their kintred be not continued.

7 Let their names be scattered among the heathen: let them bee put out of the earth, for they haue despised my couenant.

vnrighuous in thee: O wicked people, remember
 * what I did vnto Sodom and Gomorrah, 9 Whose land is mixed with clouds of pitch and heapes of asbes: so will I do vnto them, that heare me not, saith the Almighty Lord.
 10 ¶ Thus saith the Lord vnto Esdras, Tel my people, that I will giue them the kingdome of Ie-rusalem, which I would haue giuen vnto Israel.
 11 And I will get me glory by them, and giue them the euertlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for those.
 12 They shall haue at will the tree of life, smelling of ointment: they shall neither labour nor be weary.
 13 Go ye, and ye shall receiue it: pray that the time, which is long may be shortened: the kingdome is already prepared for you: watch.
 14 Take heauen and earth to witnesse: for I haue abolished the euill, and created the good: for I liue, saith the Lord.
 15 Mother, embrace thy children, and bring them vp with gladnesse: make their feet as fast as a pillar: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord.
 16 And those that be dead, will I raise vp from their places, and bring them out of the graues: for
 I haue knowen my Name in Israel.
 17 Feare not, thou mother of the children: for
 I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord.
 18 I will send thee my seruant Esay and Iere-mio to helpe thee, by whose counsell I haue san-ctified and prepared for thee tweluetrees laden with diuers fruits, 19 And as many fountaines, flowing with milke and hony, and seuen mighty mountaines, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby
 I will fill thy children with ioy.
 20 Execute iustice for the widowe: iudge the cause of the fatherlesse: giue to the poore: defend the fatherlesse: clothe the naked.
 21 Heale the wounded and sicke: saugh not a lame man to scorne: defend the creeple, and let the blind come into the light of my cleerenesse.
 22 Keepe the old and the young, that are within thy walles.
 23 ¶ Whereſoeuer thou findeſt the dead, take them and bury them, and I will giue thee the first place in my resurrection.
 24 Abide still: O my people, and rest: for thy quietnesse shall come.
 25 Nourish thy children: O thou good nurse:
 stablish their feet.
 26 None of the seruants that I haue giuen thee, shall perish: for I will seeke them from among thy number.
 27 Be not weary: for when the day of trouble and heauynesse cometh, other shall weepe and be sorrowfull, but thou shalt be merry and haue abundance.
 28 The heauen shall entyre thee, and shall doe nothing against thee, saith the Lord.
 29 Mine handes shall couer thee, so that thy children shall not see hell.
 30 Be ioyfull, O thou mother, with thy children: for I will deliuer thee, saith the Lord.
 31 Remember thy children that sleepe: for I will bring them out of the sides of the earth, and will shew mercy vnto them: for I am mercifull, saith the Lord Almighty.
 32 Embrace thy children, vntill I come and shew mercy vnto them: for my fountaines runne ouer, and my grace shall not faile.

33 I Esdras receiued a charged of the Lord vpon the mount Horeb, that I should go vnto them of Israel, but when I came to them, they cast mee off, and despised the commandment of the Lord.
 34 And therefore I say vnto you, O yee heathen, that heare and vnderstand, Waite for your shepheard, who shall giue you euertlasting rest: for he is neere at hand, that shall come in the end of the world.
 35 Be ready to the reward of the kingdome:
 for the euertlasting light shall shine vpon you for euermore.
 36 Flee the shadow of this world: receiue the ioy of your glory: I tellise my Sauour openly.
 37 Receiue the gift that is giuen you, and bee glad, giuing thanks vnto him, that hath called you to the heauenly kingdome.
 38 Arise, and stand vp, and behold the number of those that are sealed for the feast of the Lord, 39 Which are departed from the shadowe of the world, and haue receiued glorious garments of the Lord.
 40 Take thy number, O Sion, and shut vp them that are clothed in white, which haue fulfilled the Law of the Lord.
 41 The number of thy children whome thou longest for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people which haue ben called from the beginning, may be sanctified.
 42 ¶ I Esdras saue vpon mount Sion a great people whom I could not number, and they all prayed the Lord with songs.
 43 And in the mids of them there was a yong man higher in stature then them all, & vpon every one of their heads he set crownes, and was higher then the others, which I much marueiled at.
 44 So I asked the Angel, and sayd, Who art these, my Lord?
 45 Wo answered, and sayd vnto me, These be they, that haue put off the mortall clothing, and haue put on the immortal, and haue confessed the Name of God: now are they crowned, and receiue the palmes.
 46 Then said I vnto the Angel, What yong man is it, that setteth crowns on them, and giueth them the palmes in their hands?
 47 And hee answered and sayd vnto me, It is the Sonne of God, whom they haue confessed in the world. Then beganne I greatly to commend them, that had stand so strongly for the Name of the Lord.
 48 Then the Angel said vnto me, Go thy way and tel my people, what, and how great wonders of the Lord God thou hast seene.

CHAP. III.

4 The wonderful works which God did for the people, are recited.
 31 Esdras marueileth that God should refresh the Babylonians so haue rule over his people, which yet are sinners also.

I N the thirtieth yeere after the fall of the citie as I was at Babylon, I lay troubled vpon my bed, and my thoughts came vp to my heart, 2 Because I sawe the desolation of Sion, and the wealth of them that dwell at Babylon.
 3 So my spirit was sore moued, so that I began to speake fearefull wordes to the most High, and sayd,

* Gen. 1.6.
21 For * Adam first hauing a wicked heart, was overcome and vanquished, and all they that are borne of him.

27 Therefore thou gauest thy citie ouer into the hands of thine enemies.

28 But doe they that dwell at Babylon any better, that they should haue the dominion of Sion?

29 For when I came thither, and sawe their wicked deedes without number (for this is the thirtieth yeeere that I see many trespassing) I was discouraged.

30 For I saw, how thou sufferedst them that sinne, and sparedst the wicked doers, whereas thou hast destroyed thine owne people, and preferred thine enemies, and thou hast not shewed it.

31 I cannot perceiue howe this commeth to passe. Are the deeds of Babylon better then they of Sion?

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee besides Israel? or what generation hath so beleued thy testimonies as Iacob?

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruite: for I haue gone here and there thorowout the heathen, and I see them flourish, and thinke not vpon thy commandements.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickednes now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world, and no mention of thee shall be found but in Israel.

35 Or when is it that they that dwell on the earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy Commandements?

36 Thou shalt surely finde that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts, but not the heathen.

C H A P. IIII.

1 The Angel reprooueth Iddra, because hee seemed to enter into the profound iudgements of God.

And the Angel that was sent vnto mee, whose name was Vriel, answered,

2 And said, Thine heart hath taken too much vpon it in this world, and thou thinkest to comprehend the wayes of the Highest.

3 Then said I, Yea, my Lord. And he answered me, and said, I am sent to shewe thee three wayes, and to set forth three similitudes before thee.

4 Whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will shew thee also the way, that thou desirest to see, and I will shewe thee from whence the wicked heart commeth.

5 And I said, Tell on my Lord. Then said hee vnto me, Goe thy way: weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the winde, or call me againe the day that is past.

6 Then answered I, and sayd, What man is borne that can doe that, which thou requirest me, concerning these things?

7 And he said vnto me, If I should aske thee how deepe dwellings are in the mids of the sea, or how great springs are in the beginning of the depth, or how great springs are in the stretching out of the heaven, or which are the borders of Paradise,

8 Peradventure thou wouldest say vnto me, I neuer went downe to the deepe, nor yet to the hell, neither did I euer climbe vp to heauen.

9 But now haue I asked thee but of fire and wind, & of the day, whereby thou hast passed, and fro the which things thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou giue me none answer of them.

10 He sayd moreover vnto mee, Thine owne things, and such as are growen vp with thee, canst thou not know:

11 Howe should then thy vessell bee able to comprehend the wayes of the Highest, and now our wardi in the corrupt world, to vnderstand the corruption.

corruption, that is evident in my sight?

12 Then sayd I vnto him, It were better that we were not at all, then I we should liue in wickednes, and to suffer, and not to know wherefore.

13 And he answered mee, and said, *I came to a forrest in the plaine where the trees held a counsell,

14 And said, Come, let vs see fight against the sea: that it may giue place to vs, and that wee may make vs more woods.

15 Likewise the floods of the sea tooke counsell, and said, Come, let vs go vp and fight against the trees of the wood, that we may get another countrey for vs.

16 But the purpose of the wood was vaine: for the fire came and consumed it.

17 Likewise also the purpose of the floods of the sea: for the sand stood vp and stopped them.

18 If thou wilt iudge betwene these two, whom wouldest thou iustifie? or whom wouldest thou condemne?

19 I answered and said, Verely it is a foolish purpose, that they both haue deuised: for the ground is appointed for the wood, and the sea hath his place to beare his floods.

20 Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast giuen a right iudgement: but why iudgest thou not thy selfe also?

21 For like as the ground is appointed for the wood, and the sea for his floods, so they that dwell vpon earth, can vnderstand nothing, but that which is vpon earth: and they that are in the heauens, the things that are about the height of the heauens.

22 Then answered I, and said, I beseech thee, O Lord, let vnderstanding be giuen me.

23 For I did not purpose to enquire of thine hid things, but of such as we daily meddle withall, namely, wherefore Israel is made a reproch to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom thou hast loved, is giuen ouer to wicked nations, and why the Law of our fathers is abolished, and the written ceremonies are come to none effect.

24 Why we are tossed to and fro through the world as the grasshoppers, and our life is a very feare, and we are not thought worthy to obtaine mercy.

25 But what will hee doe to his Name, which is called vpon ouer vs? Of these things haue I asked the question.

26 Then answered he me, and said, The more thou searchest, the more shalt thou marueile: for the world hasteth fast to passe away,

27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for the world is full of vnrighteousnes and weaknesse.

28 But to declare thee the things whereof thou askest, the euill is sown, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If the euill now that is sown bee not turned vp side downe, and if the place where the euill is sown, passe not away, then cannot the thing come that is sown with good.

30 For the corne of euill seed hath bene sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, & how much vngodlinesse hath he brought vp vnto this time? and how much shall he bring forth vntill the harvest come?

31 Ponder with thy selfe, how much fruite of wickednes the corne of euill seed bringeth forth.

32 And when the stalkes shall be cut downe, which are without number, how great an harvest must be prepared.

33 Then I answered, and said, How, and when shall these things come to passe? wherefore are our yeeres few and euill?

34 And he answered me, saying, Hastenot to bee aboute the most High: for thou labourst in vaine to be aboute him, though thou endeavour neuer so much.

35 Did not the soules also of the righteous aske question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I thus hope? and when cometh the fruit of my barne and our wages?

36 And vpon this Ieremiel the Archangel answered, and said, When the number of the feedes is filled in you: for hee hath weighed the world in the balance.

37 The measure of the times is measured: the ages are counted by number, and they shall not be moued or shaken, till the measure thereof be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I, and said, O Lord, Lord, we are all euen full of sinne.

39 And for our sake peradventure the harvest of the righteous is not fulfilled, because of the sinne of them that dwell vpon earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, Goe, and aske a woman with childe, when she hath fulfilled her nine moneths, if her wombe may keepe the birch any longer within her.

41 Then said I, No, Lord, she cannot. And hee said vnto me, In the graue the places of soules are like the wombe.

42 For as she that is with childe, hasteth to escape the necessitie of the travell, so doe these places haste to deliuer those things that are committed vnto them.

43 That which thou desirest to see, shall bee shewed thee from the beginning.

44 Then answered I, and said, If I haue found grace in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meet therefore,

45 Shew mee whether there be more to come, then is past, or more things past then are to come.

46 What is past, I know, but what is to come I know not.

47 And hee said vnto mee, Stand on the right side, and I will expound thee this by example.

48 So I stood, & behold, a hote burning ouen passed before me: & when I flame was gone by, I looked, & behold, the smoke had the vpper hand.

49 After this there passed before mee a watric cloud, and sent downe much raine with a storme: and when the storme raine was past, the drops came after.

50 Then said he vnto mee, Consider with thy selfe, as the raine is more then the droppes, and as fire exceedeth the smoke, so the portion that is past, hath the vpper hand. And the drops, and the smoke were much.

51 Then I prayed, and said, May I liue, thinkest thou, vntill that time? or what shall come to passe in those dayes?

52 He answered mee, and said, Of the tokens whereof thou askedst me, I can tell thee a part: but I am not sent to shewe thee of thy life: for I doe not know it.

CHAP. V.

1 In the latter times vnith shall be bid. 10 Unrighteousnesse and all wickednesse shall raigne in the world. 23 Israel is reuelled and God deliuereth them. 33 God doeth all things in season.

N But the least concerning the tokens, behold, the time shall come, that they which dwell vpon earth, shall be taken in a great number, and the way of the truth shall bee hid, and the lande shall be barren from faith.

2 And iniquitie shall be increased more then thou hast seene now, or hast heard in time past.

3 And it shall come to passe, that one shall set in foote, and thou shalt see the land desolate, which now reigneth.

4 Yea, if God grant thee to liue, thou shalt see after the third trumpet, that the sunne shall suddenly shine againe in the night, and the moone three times a day.

5 Blood shall drop out of the wood, and the stone shall giue his voyce, and the people shall be moued.

6 And he shall rule, of whom they hope not that dwell vpon earth, and the fowles shall change place.

7 And the sea of Sodom shall cast out fish, make a noise in the night, which many shall not know, but they shall all heare the voyce thereof.

8 There shall be a confusion in many places, and the fire shall oft breake forth, and the wilde beastes shall change their places, and menstruous women shall beare monsters,

9 And salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and all friends shall fight one against another: then shall wit hide it selfe, and vnderstanding depart into his secret chamber.

10 It shall be sought of many, and yet not bee found: then shall vnrighteousnesse and voluptuousnesse haue the vpper hand vpon earth.

11 One land also shall aske another, and say, Is righteous iustice gone thorowe thee? And it shall say, No.

12 At the same time shall men hope, but not obtaine: they shall labour, but their enterprises shall not prosper.

13 To shew thee such tokens I haue leaue, and if thou wilt pray againe and weepe as now, and fast seuen dayes, thou shalt heare yet greater things then these.

14 ¶ Then I awaked, and a fearefulnesse went thorow al my body, and my mind was feeble and fainted.

15 But the Angel that was come to talke with mee, held me, comforted me, and set me vp vpon my feete.

16 And in the second night, Salathiel the capitaine of the people came vnto me, saying, Where hast thou bene? and why is thy countenance so heauy?

17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie?

18 Vp then and eate, and forsake vs not, as the shepherd that leaueth his flocke in the hands of the cruell wolues.

19 Then said I vnto him, Go thy wayes from me, and come not neere me: and when he heard it, he went from me.

20 And I fasted seuen dayes, mourning & weeping, as Vriel the Angel had commanded me.

21 And after seuen dayes the thoughts of mine heart were very grievous vnto me againe.

22 And I had a desire to reason againe, and I began to talke with the most High againe.

23 And said, O Lord, Lord: of euery forest of the earth, and of al trees therof thou hast chosen thee one onely vineyard.

24 And of all landes of the world thou hast chosen thee one pit, and of all the floures of the ground thou hast chosen thee one lily.

25 And of all the depths of the sea thou hast filled thee one river, and of all builded cities thou hast sanctified Sion vnto thy selfe.

26 And of al the fowles that are created, thou hast named thee one doue, & of al the cattell that are made, thou hast appoynted thee one sheepe.

27 And among all the multitude of people thou hast gotten thee one people, and vnto this people whom thou louedst, thou gauest a Law that is proued of all.

28 And now, O Lord, why hast thou giuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon one roote thou hast set others, and hast scattered thine only people among many.

29 They tread them downe, which haue withstood thy promises, and beleue not thy testimonies.

30 And if thou didst so much hate thy people, they should haue bene punished with thine owne hands.

31 ¶ Now when I had spoken these words, the Angel that came to me the night afore, was sent vnto me,

32 And said vnto me, Heare me, and I wil teach thee, and hearken that I may instruct thee further.

33 And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he vnto me, Thou art sore vexed and troubled for Israels sake. Louest thou them better then he doth that made them?

34 And I said, No, Lord: but of very sorow haue I spoken: for my reines pain me euery houre, while I labor to comprehend the way of the most High, and to seeke out part of his iudgement.

35 And he said vnto me, Thou canst not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord, wherefore was I borne? or why was not my mothers wombe then my graue? so had I not seene the trouble of Iacob, and the griefe of the stocke of Israel.

36 And he said vnto me, Number vnto me the things that are not yet come, or gather mee the drops that are scattered, or make me the withered flowers greene againe.

37 Open me the places that are closed, & bring mee forth the windes, that are shut vp therein: shew me the image of a voice, and then will I declare thee the thing that thou askest, and labourdest to know.

38 And I said, O Lord, Lord, who can knowe these things, but hee that hath not his dwelling with men?

39 But I that am ignorant, how can I speake of these things whereof thou askest me?

40 Then said he vnto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things that I haue spoken of, so canst thou not finde out my iudgement, nor the least benefit that I haue promised vnto my people.

41 Then I said, Behold, O Lord, the last things are present vnto thee, and what shall they do that haue bene before me, or we that be now, or they that shall come after vs?

42 And he said vnto mee, I will compare my iudgement vnto a ring; as there is no slacknes of the last, so there is no swiftnesse of the first.

43 Then I answered, and said, Coudest thou not make at once those that haue bene, those that are now, and those that shall come, that thou mightest shew thy iudgement the sooner?

44 Then

44 Then answered he me, The creature that he can not prevent the Creator, neither can the world hold them at once, that shall be created therein.

45 And I sayde, As thou hast taught thy servant that thou which givest strength to all, hast given life at once to all the work created by thee, and hast sustained it, so might it now also contain all men at once.

46 And he said vnto me, Aske the wombe of a woman, and say vnto her, Why must thou haue time before thou bringest forth? require her to bring forth ten at once.

47 And I sayd, Surely shee cannot, but by distance of time.

48 Then sayd he vnto me, So haue I diuided the number of the earth by times, when seede is sown vpon it.

49 For as a yong child begetteth not that that belongeth to the aged, so haue I ordained the time which I haue created.

50 ¶ I asked againe, and said, Seeing thou hast now shewed me the way, I will proceed to speake before thee: for our mother, whome thou hast told me is yong, draweth she neere vnto age?

51 He answered me, and said, Aske a woman that trauellet, and she will tell thee.

52 Say vnto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast now brought forth, like those that were before thee, but lesse of stature?

53 And shee shall answer thee, Some were borne in the flower of youth, others were borne in the time of age, when the wombe failed.

54 Consider now thy selfe, how that yee are lesse of stature, then those that were before you.

55 And so are they that come after you, lesse then ye, as the creatures which now begin to be old, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.

56 Then said I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, shew thy servant, by whom dost thou gouerne thy workmanship?

CHAP. VI.

God hath foretold all things in his secret counsell, and it hath now becomen, and hath created them for his children. 25 The felicity of this age is come.

And he sayd vnto me, In the beginning when the round world was made, and before the borders of the world were set, and before the windes blew one against another:

Before the noyse of thunders sounded, before the bright lightning did shine forth, before the foundations of Paradise were layd:

Before the faire flowers did appeare, before the moueable powers were stablished, before the innumerable armies of Angels were gathered:

Before the heights of the ayre were lifted vp, before the measures of the heauens were named, before the chimneys in Sion were hote:

Before the present yeeeres were fought out, and before the afflictions of them that now sinne, were turned away, and they that haue laid vp the treasure of faith, were sealed,

6 Then did I purpose these things, and they were made by me alone, and by none other: by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and sayd, What shall be the diuision of times? or when shall be the end of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

8 And he said vnto me, From Abraham vnto Isaac, when Jacob and Esau were borne of him,

Jacob had sold first the birthright of Esau.

9 For Esau is the end of this world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

10 The hand of man is betwixt the heele and the hand. Other thing, Esau aske thou not.

11 ¶ I answered then, and said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, 12 I beseech thee, make an end to shewe thy servant thy tokens, whereof thou shewedst mee part the last night.

13 So he answered me, and said, Stand vp vpon thy feete, and heare a mighty sounding voyce.

14 There shall come as an earthquake, but the place where thou standest, shall not be moued.

15 And therefore when he speaketh, bee not afraid: for of the end shall be the worde, and of the foundation of the earth shall it bee vnderflood.

16 Therefore while one speaketh of them, it trembleth and is moued: for it knoweth that it must be changed at the end.

17 And when I had heard it, I stood vp vpon my feete, and hearkened, and beheld, there was a voyce that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters:

18 And it said, Behold, the dayes come, that I will come and enquire of them that dwell vpon the earth.

19 And when I begin to inquire of them, who by their vniuersitie haue hurt others, and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled,

20 And the world, that shall vanish away, shall be sealed, then wil I shew these signes: the books shall be opened before the heauen, and they shall see all it together.

21 And the children of a yere old shall speake with their voices: the women with childe shall bring forth vntimely children of three or foure moneths old, and they shall liue that are raised vp.

22 Then suddenly shall the sowne places appeare as the vnsowne, and the full store houses shall suddenly be found empty.

23 And the trumpet shall sound, and all they that heare it, shall be suddenly afraid.

24 At that time shall friends fight with friends as with enemies, and the earth shall feare with them: the springs of the wells shall stand still, and in three houres they shall not run.

25 Whosoever remaineth from all these things that I haue told thee, shall be saued, and see my saluation, and the end of your world.

26 And the men that are receiued, shall see it: they that haue not tasted death from their birth, and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed and turned to another meaning.

27 For euill shall be put out, and deceit shall be quenched.

28 But faith shall flourish: corruption shall be overcome, and the trueth which hath ben so long without fruit, shall come forth.

29 ¶ And when he talked with me, behold, I looked a litle vpon him before whom I stood.

30 And these words said hee vnto me, I am come to shew thee the time of the night to come,

31 If thou wilt pray againe, and fast seven daies more, I wil tell thee more things, and greater then these, which I haue heard in the day.

32 For thy voyce is heard before the Highest: surely the mighty hath seene thy righteous dealing: he hath seene also thy chastity, which thou hast kept since thy youth.

And he will give us works, which of him come, wealth, and the people thou hast chosen.

55 All this haue I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou hast created the worlde for our sakes,

36 (As for the other people) which also come of Adam, thou hast declared them that they are nothing before thee, but be like unto spittle, and 57 And now, O Lord, beholde, these heathen, which have bene reputed as nothing, have bene which haue bene reputed as nothing, haue begun to be lords ouer vs, and to deuoure vs.

59: If the world then be created for our sakes, why have we not the inheritance thereof in pos-possession? or how long shall we suffer these things?

5 Without tribulation none can come to felicity, 12 God adjutish all in time. 18 The coming and death of Christ. 32 The resurrection and last judgement, 43 after the which all Christians shall come. 45 All fell in Adam. 59 The true life.

And when I had made an end of these words, there was sent vnto me an Angel, which had

And he said vnto me, Vp Elias, and heare the words that I am come to tell thee.

4 But presuppose that the entrance thereof

5 Who could go into the sea to looke vpon it, and to rule it? if he went not thorow the narrow, how could he come into the broad?

6 There is also another thing: a citie is builded and set vpon a broad field, and is full of all goods things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrowe and in a dangerous place to fall, that there is fire at the right hand, and a deepe water at the left,

And there is but one path betwixt them, even betwixt the fire and the water, so that there could but one man go there.

heritance, if he neuer went thorow the perill before it. Now could he receiue his inheritance?
yo And I said, It is so Lord. Then said he, So is the perill of vs. God

17 Surely for their sakes have I made the world:
and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then came this thing to pass.

12 Then were the entrances of the world made narrow, full of sorow and trauell: they are but few, and euill, and full of perils, and very 13 For the entrances of the fore-world were wide and fure, and brought immortall fruit.

enter by these straight & brittle things, they can not attaine to those things that are hid.

16 And why hast thou not considered in thy are presents. Sf 17 Then

14. Then he said vnto me, These things shall be ordained in thy Law, that the righteous should inherit these things, & that the wickedly should perish.

15. Should the righteous suffer chastitie in hoping for large things? yet they that have lived vngodly & filthy straitly, shall not see the large things.

16. Then he said vnto me, There is no iudge more iust then God, and there is none more wise then the most High.

17. For many perils in this life, because they despise the law of God that is appointed.

18. For God hath diligently admonished such as come so oft as they came, what they should do to helpe life, and what they should obfer, to avoid punishment.

19. Nevertheless, they were not obedient vnto him, but spake against him, & imagined vaine things.

20. And deceived themselves by their wicked deeds, & denied the power of the most High, and regarded not his wayes.

21. But they despised his Law, and refused his promises; they haue vnfairfully broken his ordinances, and haue not performed his works.

22. And therefore, Eldras, vnto the empty are empty things, and to the full, full things.

23. Behold, the time shall come, that these tokens which I haue told thee, shall come to passe, and the bride shall appeare, and thee shall come forth, and be seene that now is vnder the earth.

24. And whoeuer shall escape these evils, he shall see my wonders.

25. For my sonne Iesus shall appeare with those that be with him, and they that remaine, shall re-ioyce within foure hundred yeres.

26. After these same yeres, shall my sonne
Christ die, and all men that haue life.

27. And the world shall be turned into the old silence for seven dayes, as in the first iudgements, so that no man shall remaine.

28. But after seven dayes, the world that is yet vncorrupt, shall be raised vp; and that shall die that is corrupt.

29. Then the earth shall restore those that haue slept in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secret places shall deliuer the foules that were committed into them.

30. And the most High shall appeare vpon the seat of iudgement, and mysteries shall vanish away, and long suffering shall haue an end.

31. Justice only shall continue: the truth shall remaine, and faith shall be strong.

32. The works shall follow, & the reward shall be shewed: the good deeds shall be of force, and vntighteousnesse shall beare no more rule.

33. Then said I, * Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, and * Moyses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness.

34. And they that came after him, for Israel in the time of Acherz and Samuel.

35. And * David for the destruction, and Salomon for them that came into the Sanctuary.

36. And Elias for those that receiued raine, and for the dead that he might liue.

37. And Ezechias for the people in the time of sackebite, and diuers for many.

38. Even to now, seeing vices are increased, and wickednesse abounded, and the righteous haue some shall follow also now.

39. Then he answered me, and said, This present life is not } end, oft times honour is retained in it: therefore haue they prayed for the weak.

40. But the day of iudgement shall be the end of this world, and the beginning of abhimmortality to come, wherein all corruption shall cease.

41. Intemperancie shall passe away: infidelitie shall be cut off: righteousness shall grow vp, and the verity shall spring vp.

42. Then shall no man be able to saue him that is destroyed, nor oppresse him that hath gotten the victory.

43. I answered then, and said, This is my first & last saying, that it had bene better not to haue giuen the earth vnto Adam, or when it was giuen him, to haue kept him that he should not haue sinned.

44. For what profit is it for men in this present life to be in heauinesse, and after death to feare punishment?

45. O Adam, what hast thou done? For in that that thou hast sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but the fall also is redounded vnto vs, that come of thee.

46. For what profit is it vnto vs, if there bee promised an immortall life, when wee doe the workes that bring death?

47. And that an euertlasting hope should bee promised vs, seeing that we beide our selues to deadly vanitie.

48. And that there should be appointed vs dwellings of health and safety, if we haue lived wickedly?

49. And that the glory of the most High should be kept to defend them which haue led a pious life, if we haue walked in the wicked wayes?

50. And that an euertlasting Paradise should be shewed, whose fruit remaineth inescapable, wherein is safety and health, if we will not enter into it?

51. (For we haue bene conuersant in vnplea-sant places)

52. And that the faces of them which liue abstained, should shine more then sunne, if our faces be blacker then darkenesse.

53. For while we liued, we did not remember when we did vnrighately, that we should suffer after death.

54. Then answered he me, and said, This is the manner of the battell, which man that is borne in the earth, shall fight.

55. That if he be overcome, he should suffer as thou hast said: but if he get the victory, he should receiue the thing that I haue said.

56. For this is a life, wherof Moyses spake vnto the people, while he liued, saying, * Chuse this life that thou mayest liue.

57. Nevertheless, they beleued him not, neither the Prophets after him, nor we also which haue sayd vnto them.

58. Thus he himselfe should not forsee to their destruction, as they should come vnto them, to whom salvation is perswaded.

59. I answered cher, & said, I know Lord, that the most High is called mercifull, in that he hath mercy vpon them, which are not yet come out of the world.

60. And that he hath pity on those that walke
in his Law.

* Gen. 12. 13.
* Gen. 22. 16.

* Gen. 22. 17.
* Gen. 22. 18.

* Gen. 22. 19.
* Gen. 22. 20.

And thus he is patient for he long suffereth those that have sinned in his times.

65 And that he is liberrall: for he will giue as much as needeth.

66 And that he is of great mercie: for he overcommeth in mercy those that are present, and that are past, and them which are to come.

67 For if he were not abundant in his mercies, the world could not continue, nor they that haue the possession thereof.

68 He pardoneth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnesse, that they which haue done euill, might be relieved from their wickednesse, the ten thousand part of men should not remaine aliue.

69 And if he, being Iudge, forgave not those that be healed with his worde, and tooke away the multitude of sinnes, 70 There should peraduenture be very few left in an innumerable multitude.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The number of the gods is small. 2 The works of God are excellent. 3 A prayer for him & for his people. 4 The promise of salvation to the just. 5 The destruction of the unjust.

And he answered me, saying, The most High made this world for many, but the world to come, for few.

1 I will tell thee a similitude, O Esdras. As when thou askest the earth, it shall say vnto thee, that it giueth much earthly matter to make pots, but little dust that gold commeth of, so is it with the worke of this world.

2 There be many created, but few shall be saved.

3 Then answered I, & said, Then swallow vp the wit, O my soule, and deuoure vnderstanding.

4 For thou hast promised to heare, and thou wilt prophesie: for thou hast no longer space, but the life giuen thee.

5 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy seruant, that we may increase thee, that thou mayest giue seed vnto our heart, and prepare our vnderstanding, that there may come fruite of it, whereby every one which is corrupt, may liue, who can let himselfe for man?

6 For thou art alone, & we all are one workmanship of thine hands as thou hast said.

7 For when the body is fashioned now in the wombe, & thou hast giuen it members, the creature is preserved by fire and water, and the worke created by thee, doeth suffer nine moneths the creature, which is fashioned in it.

8 But the thing that containeth, and that which is contained, shall both be preserved, and when time is come, the wombe, being preserved, deliuereth the things that grew in it.

9 For thou hast commanded the members, even the breasts, to giue milke vnto the fruit appointed to the breasts,

10 That thing which is created, may be nourished for a time, til thou disposest it to thy mercy.

11 Thou bringest it vp with thy righteousness, nourishest it in thy law, and reformatest it with thy iudgement.

12 Thou slayest it as thy creature, and giuest it life as thy worke.

13 Seeing then that thou destroyest him, which with so great labours is fashioned, it is an easie thing to appoint by thy Commandement, that thing also which is made, might be preserved.

14 Now therefore, O Lord, I will speake (as touching men in generall thou shalt rather pro-uide) but concerning thy people, I am sorry.

15 And for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourne: for Israel, for whom I am wofull, and for Iacob, for whose sake I am grieved.

16 For them will I pray before thee, as well for my selfe, as for them: for I see our faults that dwell in the land.

17 But I haue heard the sudden coming of the Iudge, which is so come.

18 Therefore heare my voyce, & vnderstand my words, which I wil speake before thee. The beginning of 3 words of Esdras, before he was take vp.

19 O Lord, that liuest for euer, which beholdest from aboue that which is aboue, and in the ayre,

20 Whose throne is inestimable, and his glorie incomprehensible, before whom the hoste of the Angels stand with trembling,

21 Whose keeping is turned in winde & fire, whose word is true, and sayings stedfast: whose commandement is strong, & gouernement terrible,

22 Whose looke drieth vp the depths, and wrath maketh the mountaines to melt away, as the thing beareth witness,

23 Heare the prayer of thy seruant, and receive into thine eares the petition of thy creature.

24 For while I liue, I will speake, and so long as I haue vnderstanding, I will answer.

25 Look not vpon the sinnes of thy people, rather then thy faithfull seruants.

26 Haue not respect vnto the wicked deeds of men, rather then to them that haue thy testimonies in afflictions.

27 Think not vpon those that haue walked fainedly before thee, but remember them that reuerence thy will.

28 Let it not bee thy will to destroy them, which haue liued like iustices, but looke vpon them that haue clearly taught thy Law.

29 Take not displeasure with them which appeare worse then beasts, but loue them that alway put their trust in thy righteousness and glory.

30 For we and our fathers haue all the same sickness: but because of vs that are sinners, thou shalt be called mercifull.

31 If therefore thou wilt haue mercie vpon vs, thou shalt bee called mercifull towards vs which haue no workes of righteousness.

32 For the righteous, which haue laid vp many good workes, let them receive the reward of their owne deeds.

33 But what is man, if thou shouldst take displeasure at him? or what is this mortal generation, that thou shouldst be so grieved towards it?

34 For verely there is no man among them that be borne, but he hath don wickedly, nor any that doth confesse thee, which hath not done amisse.

35 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness, & thy goodnes shall be praised, if thou be mercifull vnto them, which haue not substance of good workes.

36 Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according vnto thy words it shall be.

37 For I wil not vely consider the workes of them, before the death, before the iudgement, before destruction:

38 But I wil reioice in the wayes of the righteous, and I will remember the pilgrimage, the saluation and the reward that they shall haue.

39 Like as I haue spoken now, so shal it come to passe.

of the field, and eat no flesh, nor drinke wine, but the flowers only,

25 And pray vnto the most High continually: then I will come, and talke with thee.

26 So I went my way, as hee had commanded me, into the field, which is called Ardath, & there I sate among the flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me.

27 And after seuen dayes, as I sate vpon the grasse, and mine heart was vexed with me, as afore,

28 I opened my mouth, and began to talke before the most High, and to say,

29 O Lord, when thou wouldest shew thy selfe vnto vs, thou declaredst thy self vnto our fathers in wilderness, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt,

30 And expressly spakest vnto them, saying, Heare me, O Israel, and marke my wordes, thou seed of Iacob.

31 For behold, I sowe my Lawe in you, that it may bring forth fruit in you, and that ye may be honoured by it for euer.

32 But our fathers which receiued the Lawe, kept it not, neither obserued thine ordinances, neither did the fruit of the Law appeare, neither could it for it was thine.

33 For they that receiued it, perished because they kept not the thing that was sowed in them.

34 And loe, it is a custome when the ground receiueth seed, or the sea a ship, or a vessell meate and drinke, if that perish wherein a thing is sowed, or wherein anything is put,

35 Likewise the thing that is sowed, or is put therein, & the things that are receiued, must perish: so the things that are receiued, doe not remaine with vs: but in vs it commeth not so to passe.

36 For we that haue receiued the Law, perish in time, and our heart also which receiued it.

37 But the Law perished not, but remaineth in his force.

38 ¶ And when I spake these things in mine heart, I looked about me, & vpon the right side I saw a woman which mourned fore, and lamented with a loud voyce, and was grieved in heart, and rent her clothes, and she had ashes vpon her head.

39 Then I left my thoughts, wherein I was occupied, and turned me vnto her,

40 And sayde vnto her, Wherefore weepest thou? why art thou so sory in mind?

41 And she said vnto me, Sir, let me alone, that I may bewaile my selfe, and increase sorrow: for I am fore vexed in my mind, and brought very low.

42 Then I said vnto her, What aileth thee? tell me.

43 And she said vnto mee, I thy seruant haue bene barren, and haue had no child, hauing an husband thirty yeeres.

44 And euery houre, and euery day these thirtie yeeres, I pray to the most High day and night.

45 And after thirtie yeeres God heard mee thine handmaide, and looked vpon my misery, considered my trouble, and gaue me a sonne, and I was glad of him: so was mine husband also and all they of my country, and we gaue great honour vnto the Almighty.

46 And I nourished him with great trauell.

47 So when he grew vp, and came to take a wife, I made a feast.

CHAP. X.
Ezraus and the women that appeared vnto him, vnto him together.

But when my sonne went into his chamber, he fell downe, and died.

2 Then we all ouerthrew the lights, and all my neighbours rose vp to comfort me: so I rested vntill the second day at night.

3 And when they had left all off to comfort me, that I should be quiet, the I rose vp by night, and seld, & am come into this field, as thou seest.

4 And am not purposed to return into the city, but to remaine here, and neither to eat nor drinke, but continually to mourne and fast, vntill I die.

5 Then I left my purpose wherein I was, and spake to her angerly, and sayd, 6 Thou foolish woman above all other, seest thou not our heauines, & what cometh vnto vs?

7 For Sion our mother is all wofull, and is sore afflicted, and mourneth extremely.

8 Seeing wee be all now in heauinesse, and make our mone (for wee be all sorow full) art thou sorie for one sonne?

9 Demand the earth, and shee shall tell thee that it is shee that ought to mourne for the fall off so many that grow vpon her.

10 For from the beginning all men are borne of her, and other shall come, and beholde, they walke almost all into destruction, and the multitude of them shall be destroyed.

11 Who should then rather mourne, she that hath lost so great a multitude, or thou which art sory but for one?

12 But if thou wouldest say vnto me, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth (for I haue lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with heauinesse and bare with sorowes, 13 But the earth is according to the maner of the earth, and the present multitude returneth into her as it came)

14 Then say I vnto thee, As thou hast borne with trauell, so the earth also from the beginning giueth her fruit vnto man, euen to him that laboured her.

15 Now therefore withhold thy sorow in thy selfe, and beare constantly that which commeth vnto thee.

16 For if thou allowest Gods purpose, and receiuest his counsell in time, thou shalt bee commended therein.

17 Go thy way then into the citie to thine husband.

18 ¶ Then she said vnto me, I will not, I will not go into the city, but here will I die.

19 So I continued to speake more with her, and sayd, 20 Do not so, but be counselled: for how many fallers hath Sion? Be of good comfort because of the sorow of Ierusalem.

21 For thou seest that our Sanctuary is layde waste: our altar is broken downe: our Temple is destroyed.

22 Our psalterion fainteth, and the song ceaseth, and our mirth is vanished away, & the light of our candlestick is quenched, and the Arke of our couenant is taken away, and our holy things are defiled, & the Name that is called vpon ouer vs, is almost dishonoured, and our children are put to shame, and our Priests are burnt, and our Laues are caried into captiuitie, and our virgins are defiled, and our wiues rauished, and our righteous men stroyed, and our children destroyed, and our yong men are brought into bondage, and our strong men are become weake,

27 And which is the ground? All the scale hath lost her worshipping: for they are delivered into the hands of them that hate vs.

28 And therefore shake off thy great heausells, and put away the multitude of sorowes that the Almighty may be mercifull vnto thee: and that the most High may giue thee rest and ease from thy labour.

29 And when I was talking with her, her face and beauty shined suddenly, and her countenance was bright, so that I was afraid of her, and muted what it might be.

30 And behold immediately shee cast out a great voice, very fearful, so that the earth shooke at the noyse of the woman.

31 And I looked, and behold the woman appeared vnto mee no more: but there was a citie builded, and a place was shewed from the ground and foundation. Then was I afraid, and eyed with a loud voyce, and I sayd,

32 Where is Vriel the Angel, which came to me at I first? for he hath caused me to come into many and deepe considerations, and mine ende is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

33 And as I was speaking these wordes, behold he came vnto me, and looked vpon me.

34 And loe, I lay as one dead, and mine vnderstanding was altered, and he tooke mee by the right hand, and comforted me, and set mee vpon my feet, and said vnto me,

35 What aileth thee? and why is thine vnderstanding vexed? and the understanding of thine heart? and wherefore art thou sorry?

36 And I said, Because thou hast forsaken me, and I haue done according vnto thy wordes: I went into the field, and there haue I seen things, and see that I am not able to expresse.

37 Then said he vnto me, Stand vp manly, and I will giue thee exhortation.

38 Then said I, Spoke vnto me, my Lord, and forsake me not, lest I die through riddnesse.

39 For I haue seene that I knew not, and heare that I do not know.

40 Or is mine understanding deceived, or doth my mind being haury, erre?

41 Nowe therefore I beseech thee that thou wilt shew thy seruant of this wonder.

42 Then he answered me, and said, Heare me, and I will informe thee, and tell thee wherefore thou art afraid: for the most High hath reueiled many secret things vnto thee.

43 He hath seene thy good purpose, that thou art sorry continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

44 This therefore is the understanding of the vision, which appeared vnto thee a little while agoe.

45 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou beganest to comfort her:

46 But now seest thou the likenesse of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a city builded.

47 And whereas shee told thee of the death of her sonne, this is the solution.

48 This woman, which thou sawest, she is Sion: and whereas shee told thee (even she which thou seest now as a city builded).

49 And as touching that shee sayd vnto thee, that she was barren thirtie yeeres, this was concerning that there was euen thirtie yeeres, that there was no offering offered in her.

50 But thirtie yeeres, Salomon builded the city, and offered offerings: then bare the barren a sonne.

51 And whereas shee told thee, that shee nourished him with labour, that was the inhabiting of Ierusalem.

52 But whereas shee told thee that her sonne, as his chance was, died when she came into her chamber, that is the fall that is come to Ierusalem.

53 And when thou sawest her like one that mourned for her sonne, thou beganest to comfort her of these things, which haue chanced these are to be opened vnto thee.

54 For now the most High teach that thou art sorry in thy mind, and because thou sufferest with all thine heart for her, he shewed thee the cleare-nesse of her glory, and the fauours of her beauty.

55 And therefore I bade thee remaine in the field, where no house was builded.

56 For I knewe that the most High woulde shew thee things vnto thee.

57 Therefore I commanded thee to goe into the field, where no foundation nor building is.

58 For the worke of mans building, can not stand in that place, where the citie of the most High should be shewed.

59 And therefore feare not, neither let thine heart be afraid, but goe in, and see the beauty and greatnesse of the building, as much as thou art able to see with thine eyes.

60 And after this shalt thou heare, as much as thine eares may comprehend.

61 For thou art blessed above many, and art called with the most High among the few.

62 But to morrow at night thou shalt remaine here.

63 And the most High shall shew thee visions of high things, which the most High will do vnto them that dwell vpon earth, in the last dayes. So I slept the same night, and another, as hee had commanded me.

CHAP. XI.

1 The vision of an eagle, containing both of the first, and of the second. 2 Of a house, containing out of the house.

Then sawe I a dreame, and behold there came vp from the sea an eagle, which had twelue feathered wings, and three heads.

2 And I saw, and behold, shee spread her wings ouer all the earth, and all the windes of the ayre blew on her, and gathered themselves.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers grew out other contrary feathers, and they became little feathers and small.

4 But her heads remained still, and the head in the middes was greater then the other heads, yet rested it with them.

5 Moreover, I sawe that the Eagle flew with his feathers, and reigned vpon earth, and ouer them that dwell therein.

6 And I sawe that all things vnder heauen were subiect vnto her, and no man spake against her, no not one creature vpon earth.

7 I saw also that the eagle stood vp vpon her clawes, and spake to her feathers, saying,

8 Watch not altogether: sleepe euery one in his owne place, and watch by course.

9 But let the heads be preferred for the last.
10 Nevertheless, I saw that the voice went not out of her heads, but from the mids of her body.

11 Then I numbred her contrary feathers, and behold, there were eight of them.

12 And

13 And I looked, and behold, vpon the right side there arose one feather, and reigned ouer all the earth.

14 And when it had reigned, the end of it came and the place thereof appeared no more. So the next flood vp, & reigned it continued a long time.

15 And when it had reigned, the end of it came also, and as the first, so it appeared no more.

16 Then there came a voice vnto it, and said,

17 Heare thou that hast kept the earth so long: thus I say vnto thee, before thou beginnest to appeare no more,

18 There shall none after thee attaine vnto thy time, neither to the halfe thereof.

19 Then arose the third, and reigned as the other afore, and it appeared no more also.

20 So came it to all the others: one after another, so that euery one reigned, and then appeared no more.

21 Then I looked, & behold, in proceffe of time the feathers that followed, stood vp on the right side, that they might rule also, & some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more.

22 For some of them were let vp, but ruled not.

23 After this I looked, and behold, the twelue feathers appeared no more, nor the two wings.

24 And there was no more vpon the egles bodie, but two heads that rested, and fixe wings.

25 Then sawe I also that two wings diuided themselves from the fixe, and remained vnder the head, that was vpon the right side: for the foure continued in their place.

26 So I looked, and behold, the vnder wings thought to set vp themselves, & to haue the rule.

27 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.

28 And the second were sooner gone then the first.

29 Then I beheld, and lo, the two that remained, thought also in themselves to reigne.

30 And when they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, which was in the mids: for that was greater then two.

31 And then I saw, that the two heads were ioyned therewith.

32 And behold, the head was turned with them, that were with it, and did eate vp the two vnder wings that would haue reigned.

33 But this head put the whole earth in feare & bare rule in it, ouer all those that dwelt vpon earth with much labor, & it had the gouernance of the world, more then all the wings that had beene.

34 After this I looked, and behold, the head that was in the mids, suddenly appeared no more, as did the wings.

35 But the two heads remained, which also ruled likewise vpon earth, & ouer those that dwelt therein.

36 And I beheld, and loe, the head vpon the right side deuoured it that was vpon the left side.

37 Then I heard a voice which said vnto mee, Look before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.

38 So I saw, and behold, as it were a Lion that roareth, running hastily out of the wood: and I saw that he sent out a mans voice vnto the eagle, and spake, and said, 39 Heare thou, I will talke with thee, and the most High shall say vnto thee.

40 Art not thou that that of the foure beasts remainest whome I made to reigne in my world, that by them the end of times might come,

41 And the fourth is come, and hath ouercome all the beasts that were past, and hath power ouer the world with great fearefulness, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth with most wicked oppression, and that dwellest so long time in all the world with deceit?

42 For thou hast not iudged the world with truth.

43 Seeing thou hast troubled the people, thou hast hurt the peaceable, and thou hast loued liars, & destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruit, and hast cast downe the wals of such as did thee no harme,

44 Therefore is thy wrongful dealing come vp vnto the most High, & thy pride vnto the mighty.

45 The most High also hath looked vpon the proud times, & behold, they are ended, and their abominations are fulfilled.

46 Therefore appeare no more, thou eagle, nor thine horrible wings, nor thy wicked feathers, nor thy malicious heads, and thy wicked clawes, nor all thy vaine bodie.

47 That all the earth may bee refreshed, and come againe as one deliuered from thy violence, and that thee may hope for the iudgement and mercie of him that made her.

CHAP. XII.

The declaration of the former vision.

And when the Lion spake these wordes to the Eagle, I saw,

1 And behold, the head that had the vpper hand, appeared no more, neither did the foure wings appeare any more, that came to it, and set vp themselves to reigne, whose kingdome was small and full of vproares.

2 And I saw, and behold, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great feare. Then I awaked out of the trouble & trance of my mind, and from the great feare, and said vnto my spirit,

3 Loe, this hast thou done vnto mee in that thou fear chest out the wayes of the most High.

4 Loe, yet am I weary in my minde, and very weake in my spirit, and little strength is there in me, for the great feare that I received this night.

5 Therefore nowe I will beseech the most High that he will comfort me vnto the end.

6 And I said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue found grace before thy sight, and if I am iustified with thee before many other, and if my prayer in doede be come vp before thy face,

7 Comfort me, and shew me thy seruant the interpretation & difference of this horrible sight, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soule,

8 Seeing thou hast iudged me worthy to shew me the last times.

9 Then hee said vnto me, This is the interpretation of this vision,

10 The eagle, whom thou sawest come vp from the sea, is the kingdome which was seene in the vision of thy brother Daniel.

11 But it was not expounded vnto him: therefore now I declare it vnto thee.

12 Behold, the dayes come, that there shall rise vp a kingdome vpon the earth, and it shall be feared about all kingdomes that were before it.

13 In it shall twelue kings reigne one after another.

14 Whereof the second shall begin to reigne, and shall haue no more time then the twelue.

15 And this doe the twelue wings signifie which thou sawest.

17 As for the vision that thou sawest, and that thou sawest not go down to the head, but from the middles of the bodies thereof, that is the interpretation.

18 That after the time of that kingdom there shall arise great strife, and it shall be in danger to fall, but it shall not then fall, but shall be restored again to his beginning.

19 Concerning the eight vnder wings, which thou sawest hang vnto the wings, this is the interpretation.

20 In him shall arise eight Kings, whose time shall be but small, and their yeeres swift, and two of them shall perish.

21 But when the middle time commeth, there shall be foure kept a time, whiles his time beginneth to come, that it may be ended, but two shall be kept vnto the end.

22 And whereas thou sawest three heads resting, this is the interpretation.

23 In his last dayes shall the most High raise vp three kingdomes, and shall call againe many things into them, and they shall haue the domination of the earth.

24 And of those that dwell therein with much griefe aboue all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the Eagle.

25 For they shall accomplish his wickednes, and shall finish his last end.

26 And whereas thou sawest that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die vpon his bed and yet with paine.

27 For the two that remaine, the sword shall deuoure them.

28 For the sword of the one shall deuoure the other: but at the last hee shall fall by the sword himselfe.

29 And whereas thou sawest two vnder wings, that went off toward the head, which was on the right side, this is the interpretation.

30 These are they whom the most High hath preferred for their end, whose kingdome is little, and full of trouble as thou sawest.

31 And the Lion whom thou sawest rising vp out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking vnto the eagle, and rebuking her for her vngodlynesse with all the words that thou hast heard.

32 This is the wind which the most High hath kept for them, and for their wickednesse vnto the end, and hee shall reprove them, and call before them their spoiles.

33 For hee shall let them aloue in the iudgement, and shall rebuke them and correct them.

34 For he will deuener thereloue of my people by affliction, which are preferred vpon my borders, and hee shall make them ioyfull, vntill the coming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue spoken vnto thee from the beginning.

35 This is the dreame that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.

36 Thou onely hast been merke to know this secret of the most High.

37 Therefore write all these things that thou hast seene in a booke, and hide them.

38 And reach them the wife of the people, whose hearts thou knowest may comprehend and keepe these secrets.

39 But waite thou here yettuen dayes moe, that it may be shewed thee whatsoeuer it pleaseth the most High to declare vnto thee, and with that he went his way.

40 And when all the people perceived, that the seven dayes were past, and I not come againe into the citie, they gathered them all together, from the least vnto the most, and came vnto me, and spake vnto me, saying.

41 What haue we offended thee? or what euill haue we done against thee, that thou forsakest vs and fittest in this place?

42 For of all the people thou onely art left vs as a grape of the vine, and as a candle in a darke place, and as an haue of ship preferred from the tempest.

43 Are not the euils which are come vnto vs sufficient?

44 If thou then forsake vs, how much better had it bene for vs, that we had bene burnt also as Sion was burnt?

45 For wee are no better then they that died there: and they wept with a lowd voice. Then answered I them, and said.

46 Be of good comfort, O Iherusalem, and be not heauie thou house of Iacob.

47 For the most High hath you in remembrance, and the Almighty hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for me I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you, but am come into this place to pray for the desolation of Sion, I might keepe mercy for the low estate of your Sanctuary.

49 And now goe your way home euery man, and after these dayes will I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the citie, as I commanded them.

51 But I remained still in the field seven dayes, as he had commanded me, and did eat onely of the flowers of the field, and had my meate of the herbes in those dayes.

CHAP. XIII.

The vision of a man, concerning Ierusalem, which became a man. 5 His properties and power against his enemies. 21 The declaration of the vision.

And after the seven dayes I dreamed a dreame by night.

2 And behold, there arose a winde from the sea, and it moved all the waues thereof.

3 And I looked, and beholde, there was a mighty man, with the thousands of heauen: and when he turned his countenance to looke, all the things trembled that were seene vnder him.

4 And when the voice went out of his mouth, all they burned that heard his voice, as the earth faileth when it feeleth the fire.

5 After these things I saw, and beholde, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number, from the foure windes of the heauen, to fight against the man that came out from the sea.

6 And I looked, and beholde, he graued himselfe a great mountaine, and flew vpon it.

7 But I would haue sent I countrey or place whereout the hill was grauen, and I could not.

8 I saw after these things, and beholde, all they which came to fight against him, were foreaid, and yet they durst fight.

9 Nevertheless when he saw the fiercenesse of the multitude that came, hee lifted not vp his hand: for hee held no sword nor any instrument of warre.

10 But onely, as I saw, he sent out of his mouth as it had bene a blast of fire, and out of his lips the winde of the flame, and out of his tongue hee cast out sparkes and stormes.

11 And

11 And they were all mixt together, show this blast of fire, the winde of the flame, and the great storme, & fell with violence vpon the multitude, which was prepared to fight, and burnt them vp all, so that of the innumerable multitude there was nothing seene, but onely dust, and smell of smoke. When I saw this, I was afraid.

12 ¶ Afterward, sawe I the same man come downe from the mountaine, & calling vnto him another peaceable multitude.

13 And there came many vnto him, some with ioyfull countenance, and some with sad: some of them were bound, & some brought of them that were offered: and I was sicke through great feare, and awaked, and said,

14 Thou hast shewed thy seruant these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted mee worthy to receiue my prayer.

15 Shew me therefore now the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I consider in mine vnderstanding, Woe vnto them that shall be left in those daies, and much more woe vnto them that are not left behinde.

17 For they that were not left, were in heauynesse.

18 Now vnderstand I the things that are laid vp in the latter daies, which shall come both vnto them, and to those that be left behinde.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils and many necessities, as these dreames declare.

20 Yet is it easier that hee that is in danger should fall into these, and foresee the things to come hereafter, then to passe away as a cloud out of the world.

21 ¶ Then answered he me, and sayd, The interpretation of the vision will I shew thee, and I will open to thee the thing that thou hast required.

22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behinde, this is the interpretation,

23 He that shall beare the danger in that time, hee shall keepe himselfe. They that be fallen into danger, are such as haue works and faith toward the most Mighrie.

24 Know therefore, that they which be left behinde, are more blessed than they that be dead.

25 These are the meanings of the vision, Whereas thou sawest a man comming vp from the mids of the sea,

26 The same is he whom the most High hath kept a great season, who by his owne selfe shall deliuer his creature, and he shall order them that are left behinde.

27 ¶ And whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came a blast with fire and storme,

28 And that he neither held sword nor weapon, but that by his fiercenesse hee destroyed the whole multitude that came to fight against him, this is the interpretation,

29 Behold, the daies come that the most High will beginne to deliuer them that are vpon the earth:

30 And he shall astonish the hearts of them that dwell vpon the earth:

31 And one shall prepare to fight against another, citie against citie, and place against place, * and nation against nation, and realme against realme.

32 When this commeth to passe, then shall the tokens come, that I shewed thee before, and then shall my sonne bee revealed, whom thou sawest goe vp as a man.

33 And when all the people heare his voice, euery man shall in their owne land leaue the battell that they haue one against another.

34 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered as one, as they that bee willing to come, and to fight against him.

35 But he shall stand vpon the top of mount Sion.

36 And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all, being prepared and builded, as thou sawest the hill grauen forth without any hands.

37 And this my sonne shall rebuke the wicked inuentions of those nations, which for their wicked life are fallen into the tempest.

38 And into torments like to flame, whereby they shall be tormented: and without any labour will he destroy them, euen by the Law, which is compared vnto the fire.

39 And whereas thou sawest that he gathered another peaceable people vnto him,

40 Those are the ten tribes which were caried away captiues out of their owne land, * in the time of Oseas the King, whom Salmanasar the King of the Assyrians tooke captiue, and caried them beyond the riuer: so were they brought into another land.

41 But they tooke this counsel to themselves, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further countrey, where neuer mankind dwelt,

42 That they might there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne land.

43 And they entred in at the narrow passages of the riuer Euphrates.

44 For the most High then shewed them signes, * and stayed the springs of the flood til they were passed ouer.

45 For thorow the countrey there was a great iourney, euen of a yeere and an halfe, & the same region is called || Arareth.

46 Then dwelt they there vntill the latter time: and when they come forth againe, 47 The most High shall hold still the springs of the riuer againe, that they may goe thorow: therefore sawest thou the multitude peaceable.

48 But they that be left behind of thy people, are those that be found within my borders.

49 Now when hee destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, hee shall defend the people that remaine.

50 And then shall he shew great wonders vnto them.

51 Then said I, O Lord, Lord, shewe mee this, wherfore haue I seene the man comming vp from the mids of the sea?

52 And he said vnto me, As thou canst neither seeke out, nor know these things, that are in the deepe of the sea, so can no man vpon the earth see my sonne, or those that be with him, but in the time of that day.

53 This is the interpretation of the dreame which thou sawest, and whereby thou only art lightened.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine owne Lawe, and applyed thy diligence vnto mine, & sought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdom, and hast called vnderstanding thy mother.

56 Therefore haue I shewed thee the rewards with the most High: and after three other daies

I will

I will speake other things vnto thee, and wil declare vnto thee great and wonderous things.

57 Then went I forth vnto the field, glorifying and praying the most High for the wonders which he did in time.

58 Which he gouerneth, and such things as come in their seasons: & there I sate three daies.

CHAP. XIII.

How God appeared to Moyses in the bush, to all things that were in the bush, to all things that were in the bush, to all things that were in the bush.

Vpon the third day I sate vnder an Oke, and behold there came forth a voice vnto me out of the bush, and said, Eldras, Eldras.

And I said, Here am I, Lord, and stood vp vpon my feet.

Then said hee vnto me, In the bush I redeemed my selfe, and spake vnto Moyses, when my people serued in Egypt.

And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him vpon the mount Sinai, and I held him with me a long season.

And I told him many wonders, and shewed him the secrets of the times and the end, and commanded him saying,

These words shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hide.

And now I say vnto thee, that thou lay vp in thine heart the signes that I haue shewed, and the dreames that thou hast seene, and the interpretations which thou hast heard.

For thou shalt be taken away from all, and thou shalt remaine henceforth with my counsell, and with such as be like thee, vntil the times be ended.

For the world hath lost his youth, and the times begin to waxe old.

For the world is diuided into twelue parts, and ten parts of it are gone alreadie, and halfe of the tenth part.

And there remaineth that which is after the halfe of the tenth part.

Therefore set thine house in order, and reforme thy people, and comfort such of them as be in trouble, and now renounce the corruption.

Let goe from thee mortall thoughts: cast away from thee the burdens of men, and put off now the weake nature.

And sit aside thy most grievous thoughts, and haste thee to depart from these times.

For greater evils than those which thou shalt see now, shall they commit.

For the weaker that the world is by reason of age, the more shall the evils be increased vpon them that dwell therein.

For the truth is fled farre away, and lyes are at hand: for now hasteth the vision to come, that thou hast seene.

Then answered I, and said before thee,

Behold, O Lord, I will goe as thou hast commanded me, and reforme the people, which are pericent: but they that shall bee borne afterward, who shall admonish them?

Thus the world is set in darknes, and they that dwell therein are without light.

For thy Law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the workes that shall be done.

But if I haue found grace before thee, send the holy Ghost into mee, and I will write all that shall be done in the world since the beginning, which was written in thy Lawe, that men may finde the path, and that they which will liue in the latter daies may liue.

And he answered me, saying, Goe, and gather the people, and say vnto them, that they seeke thee not for fortie daies.

But prepare thee many box tables, and take with thee these five, Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ecanus and Afel, which are ready to write swiftly.

And come hither, and I will light a candle of vnderstanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out till the things be performed, which thou shalt begin to write.

And then shalt thou declare some things openly vnto the perfit men, and some things shalt thou shew secretly vnto the wise: to morow this houre shalt thou begin to write.

Then went I forth, as he commanded me, and gathered all the people together, and said, Heare these words, O Israel.

Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, from whence they were deliuered,

And receiued the Law of life, which they kept not, which yee also haue transgressed after them.

Then was the land, even the land of Sion parted among you by lot: but your fathers and ye also haue done vnrighteously, and haue not kept the waies which the most High commanded you.

And forsomuch as he is a righteous Iudge, he tooke from you in time the thing that he had giuen you.

And now are ye heere, and your brethren among you.

Therefore if so be that ye will subdue your owne vnderstanding, and reforme your heart, yee shall be kept aliue, and after death shall ye obtaine mercie.

For after death shall the iudgement come when we shall liue againe: & then shall the names of the righteous bee manifest, and the workes of the vngodly shall be declared.

Let no man therefore come now vnto me, nor seeke me these forty daies.

So I tooke the five men, as he commanded me, and we went into the field, & remained there.

The next day, behold, a voice called mee, saying, Eldras, open thy mouth, and drinke that I giue thee to drinke.

Then opened I my mouth, and behold, he reached me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire.

And I tooke it, and dranke, and when I had drunke it, mine heart had vnderstanding, and wisdom grew in my breast: for my spirit was strengthened in memory.

And my mouth was opened, & shut no more.

The most High gaue vnderstanding vnto the five men, that they wrote the high things of the night, which they vnderstood not.

But in the night they did eate bread, but I spake by day, and held not my tongue by night.

In fourtie daies they wrote two hundred and foure bookes.

And when the fortie dayes were fulfilled, the most High spake, saying, The first that thou hast written, publish openly, that the worthy and vnworthy may read it.

But keepe the sequenty last, that thou shalt giue them to the wise among the people:

For in them is the veint of vnderstanding and

CHAP. XV.

The prophesie of Elisha is certaine. 5 The earth shall come in the world. 9 The Lord will avenge the innocent blood. 13 Egypt shall lament. 16 Sedition. 20 And punishment upon the Kings of the earth. 24 Cursed are they that sinne. 29 Troubles and warres upon the whole earth. 33 God is the revenger of his elect.

Behold, speake thou in the eares of my people the words of prophesie, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord:

1 And cause them to bee written in a letter: for they are faithful and true.

2 Feare not the imaginations against thee: let not the vnfaithfulness of the speakers trouble thee, that spake against thee.

3 For every vnfaithful shall die in his vnfaithfulness.

4 Behold, saith the Lord, I will bring plagues vpon all the world, the sword, famine, death, and destruction:

5 Because that iniquitie hath fully polluted all the earth, and their wicked works are fulfilled.

6 Therefore, saith the Lord, I will holde my tongue no more for their wickednesse, (they doe vngodly) neither will I suffer them in the things that they doe wickedly.

7 Behold, the innocent and righteous blood crieth vnto me, and the soules of the iust crie continually.

8 I will surely auenge them, saith the Lord, and receiue vnto me all the innocent blood from among them.

9 Behold, my people is led as a flocke to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt.

10 But I will bring them out with a mightie hand, and a stretched out arme, and smite it with plagues as afore, & will destroy all the land therof.

11 Egypt shall mourne, and the foundations thereof shall be smitten with the plague and punishment, that God shall bring vpon it.

12 The plowmen that till the ground, shall mourne: for their seeds shall faile, through the blasting and haile, and by an horrible starre.

13 Woe to the world, and to them that dwell therein.

14 For the sword, and their destruction draweth neere, and one people shall stand vp to fight against another with swords in their hands.

15 For there shall be sedition among men, & one shall inuade another: they shall not regard their king, and the princes shall measure their doings by their power.

16 A man shall desire to go into a city, and shall not be able.

17 Because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be afraid, men shall feare.

18 A man shall have no pity vpon his neighbor, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and their goods shall be spoyle for lack of reed, and because of great trouble.

19 Behold, saith God, I call together all the kings of the earth, to reuerence me, which are from the East, and from the South, from the East, and from Libanus, to turne vpon them, and to repay the things that they haue done to them.

20 As they do yet this day vnto my chosen, so will I do also, and recompence them in their bosomes: thus saith the Lord God.

21 My right hand shall not spare the sinners, neither shall the sword cease from them, that shed innocent blood vpon earth.

22 The fire is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners like the straw, that is kindled.

23 Wo to them that sinne, and keepe not my commandments, saith the Lord.

24 I will not spare them: depart, O children, from the power: defile not my Sanctuary.

25 For the Lord knoweth all them that sinne against him, and therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.

26 For now are the plagues come vpon the world, & ye shall remain in them: for God will not deliuer you because ye haue sinned against him.

27 Behold, an horrible vision commeth from the East:

28 Where generations of dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and the multitude of them shall be caried as the wind vpon the earth, that all they which heare them, may feare and tremble.

29 Euen the Carmanians raging in wrath, shall go forth as the bores of the forest, and shall come with great power, and stand against them in battell, and shall destroy a portion of the land of the Assyrians.

30 But after this shall the dragons haue the vpper hand, and remember their nature, and shall turne about, and conspire to consume them with a great power.

31 Then these shall be troubled, and keepe silence by their power, and shall flee.

32 From the land of the Assyrians shall the enemy besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their host shall be feare and dread, & strife among their kings.

33 Behold clouds from the East, and from the North vnto the South, and they are very horrible to looke vpon, full of wrath and storme.

34 They shall smite one vpon another: & they shall smite downe a great multitude of flauers vpon the earth, euen their owne starre, and the blood shall be from the sword vnto the belly.

35 And the dongue of man vnto the camels litter.

36 And there shall be great fearefulness and trembling vpon earth, and they that see the wrath shall be afraid, and a trembling shall come vpon them.

37 And then there shall come great stormes from the South, and from the North, & part from the West.

38 And from the East shall windes arise, and shall open it with the cloud, which he raised vp in wrath, and the starre, raised to feare the East and West windes, shall be destroyed.

39 And the great and mighty cloudes shall be lift vp full of wrath, and the starre, and they may make all the earth afraid, and them that dwell therein, and that they may powre out ouer euery hie place, and lifted vp, an horrible constellation.

40 As fire and haile, and flying swords, and many waters, that all fields may be full, and all riuers with the abundance of great waters.

41 And they shall breake down the cities and walles, and mountaines, and hills, and the trees of the wood, and the grasse of the medowes, and their corne.

42 And they shall goe with a straight course vnto Babylon, and make it a trayd.

43 They:

44 They that come to her, and beseege her, and shall powre forth the constellation, & at the wrack againt her: then shall the dust and smoke go vp vnto the heauen, & all they that be about her, shall bewaile her.

45 And they that remaine vnder her, shall doe seruice vnto them, that haue put her in feare.

47 ¶ And thou Asia, that art partaker of the hope of Babylon, and the glory of her person, 47 Wo vnto thee, O wretch, because thou hast made thy selfe like vnto her, and hast deckt thy daughters in whoredome, that they might please and glorie in thy louers, which haue alway desired to commit whoredome with thee.

48 Thou hast followed her that is hated in all her works, and in her intentions: therefore saith God, 49 I will send plagues vpon thee, widowhood, poverty, and famine, and the sword, & pestilence, to waste thine houses with destruction and death.

50 And the glory of thy power shall be dried vp as a flower when the heat riseth, that is sent vpon thee.

51 Thou shalt be sicke as a poore wife that is plagued & beaten of women, so that the mighty and the louers shall not be able to reueue thee.

52 Would I thus hate thee, saith the Lord.
53 If thou hadst not alwaies slaine my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine hands, and said ouer their death, when thou wast drunken.

54 Set forth the beauty of thy countenance?

55 The reward of thy whoredome shall be in thy bosome: therefore shalt thou receiue a reward.

56 As thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lord, so will God do vnto thee, and will deliuer thee vnto the plague.

57 And thy children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall by the sword, and thy cities shall be broken downe, and all thy men shall fall by the sword in the field.

58 And they that be in the mountains shall die of hunger, and eat their owne flesh, & drink their owne blood for want of bread and thirst of water.

59 And thou, as vnhappy, shalt come throw the sea, and receiue plagues againe.

60 In the passage they shall cast downe the flaine city, and shall root out one part of thy land, and consume the portion of thy glory, and shall returne to her that was destroyed.

61 When thou shalt be cast down, thou shalt be to them as stubble, and they shall be to thee as fire.

62 And they shall destroy thee, and thy cities, thy land and thy mountaines, all thy woods, and all thy fruitfull trees shall they burne with fire.

63 Thy children shall they carry away captiue, and shall spoile thy substance, and marre the beauty of thy face.

CHAP. XVI.

¶ Against Babylon, Asia, and Egypt, and Syria. 18. 38. Of the vnto that shall come vpon the world, with admonition how to gouerne themselves in affliction. 24. To acknowledge their sin, and to commit themselves to the Lord. 35. Whose might is prouidence and iustice is to be reuerenced.

VWo to thee, Babylon and Asia: wo to thee Egypt and Syria.

2 Gird your selues with sacke & hairecloth, and moune your children, and be sorry: for your destruction is at hand.

3 A sword is sent vnto you, and who will turne it backe? a fire is sent among you, and who will quench it?

4 Plagues are sent vnto you, and who can drive them away?

5 May any man drive away a hungry Lion in the wood? or quench the fire in stubble when it hath once begun to burne? may one turne againe the arrow, that is shot of a strong archer?

6 The mightie Lord sendeth the plagues, and who can drive them away? the fire is gone forth in his wrath, and who can quench it?

7 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not feare? he shall thunder, & who shall not be afraid?

8 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not vterly be broken in pieces at his presence? the earth quaketh, and the foundation thereof: the sea ariseth vp with waves from the deepe, and the waues thereof are troubled, and the fishes thereof, before the Lord, and the glory of his power.

9 For strong is his right hand, that bendeth the bow: his arrowes that he shooteth, are sharpe, and shall not misse, when they begin to bee shot into the ends of the world.

10 Behold, the plagues are sent, and shall not turne againe, till they come vpon earth.

11 The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth.

12 As an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer, returneth not backward, so the plagues that shall be sent vpon earth, shall not turne againe.

13 Woe is me, woe is me: who will deliuer me in those dayes?

14 The beginning of sorowes and great mourning: the beginning of famine and great death: the beginning of wars, and the powers shall feare: the beginning of euils, & all shall tremble. What shall I doe in these things, when the plagues come?

15 Behold, famine and plague, and trouble, and anguish are sent as scourges for amendment.

16 But for all these things they will not turne from their wickednesse, nor be alway mindfull of the scourges.

17 Behold, vittrails shall be so good cheape vpon earth, that they shall thinke themselves to be in good case: but then shall the euils bud forth vpon earth, even the sword, the famine and great confusion.

18 For many of them that dwell vpon earth, shall perish with famine, and the other that escape the famine, shall the sword destroy.

19 And the dead shall be cast out as dongue, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be wasted, and the cities shall be cast downe.

20 There shall be no man left to till the earth, and to sowe it: the trees shall giue fruit, but who shall gather them?

21 The grapes shall be ripe, but who shall tread them? for all places shall be desolate, so y one man shall desire to see another, or to heare his voyce.

22 For of one city there shall be ten left, and two of the fields, which shall hide themselves in the thicke woods, and in the clefts of rocks.

23 As when there remaine three or foure oliues in the place where oliues grow, or among other trees,

24 Or as when a vineyard is gathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought thorow the vineyard:

25 So in those daies there shall be three or foure left by them that search their houses with the sword.

26 And the earth shall be left waste, & the fields thereof thereof shall waxe old, and her wayes and all her pathes shall grow full of thornes, because no man shall trauell therethrough.

47 The widows shall mourne, and the bridelgomes: the woman shall murther her husband, having no husbands: their daughters shall mourne, having no helpers.

48 In the wailes shall their bridegomes be defoyed, and their husbands shall perish with famine, and their wives shall be widows.

49 But ye servants of the Lord, heare these things, and marke them.

50 Behold the word of the Lord, receive it:
believe not the gods of whome the Lord speaketh: behold the plagues draw nere, and are not slacke.

51 As a travelling woman which in the ninth month bringeth forth her sonne, when the hour of birth is come, two or three hours afore the paines come vpon her body, and when the childe cometh to the birth, they cary not a whit.

52 So shall not the plagues be slacke to come vpon the earth, and the world shall mourne, and sorowes shall come vpon it on euery side.

53 O my people, heare my worde: shake you ready to the battell, and in the troubles bee euen as strangers vpon earth.

54 He that selleth, let him be as he hath seeth his way: and he that buyeth, as one that wil lose.

55 Who to occupie the merchandise, as he that winne thoro, and he that buildeth, as he that shall not dwell therein.

56 He that soweth, as one that shall not reape, he that cutteth the vine, as he that shall not gather the grapes:

57 They that marry, as they that shall get no children: and they that marrie not, so as the wi-dowes.

58 Therefore, they that labour, labour in vaine:
for strangers shall reape their frutes, and spile their toiles, and ouerthrow their houses, and take their children captiue: for in temp-erity and faimure shall they get their children.

59 And they that occupie their merchandise with couetousnesse, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their owne perions,

60 So much more wil I be angry against them for their finnes, sayeth the Lord.

61 As a whore entereth an honest & veruous woman,

62 So shall righteousness hate iniquity, when she decketh her selfe, and shall accuse her openly, when he shall come that shall bridle the authority of all sinners vpon earth.

63 And therefore be ye not like the heathen, nor like the workers thereof: for they are being in i-quietnes shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousnesse shall reigne among you.

64 Let not the finner say, that he hath not sinned: for coales of fire shall burne vpon his head, which sayeth: I have not sinned before the Lord.

65 God and his glory shall be knowne among the workers of the Lord, knoweth all the workers of men, their imaginations, their thoughts, and their beuies.

66 For as looke as he sayd, Let the earth be made, it was made: let the heauen be made, and it was created.

67 By his word were the starres established, and he knoweth the number of them.

68 He searcheth the depth, and the treasures thereof: hee hath measured the sea, and what it containeth.

69 He hath shut the sea in the mids of the waters, and with his word hath he hangd the earth vpon the waters.

70 Hee spreadeth out the heauens like a table vpon the waters, hath he founded it.

71 In the depth hath he made fountains of water, and pooles vpon the top of the mountaynes, to powre out floods from the high rockes to water the earth.

72 He made man, & put his heart in the reins of the body, and gaue him breath, life & vnder-standing.

73 And the Spirit of the Almighty God, which made all things, and hath searched out all the hidde things in the secrets of the earth.

74 He knoweth your inventions, and what ye imagine in your heart when ye sinne, and would hide your finnes.

75 Therefore, hath the Lord searched, and tought out all your workes, and will put you all to shame, in your blood.

76 And when your sins are brought forth before men, ye shall be confounded, and your owne finnes shall stand as your accusers in that day.

77 What wil ye doe, or how wil ye hide your finnes before God and his Angels?

78 Behold, God himselfe is the iudge: feare him, cease from your finnes, and forget your in-iquities, and medle no more from thenceforth with them, so shall God laide you forth, and deliver you from all trouble.

79 For behold, the heate of a great multitude is kindled against you, and they shall take away certaine of you, and shall say you for me: to the idols.

80 And they that content vnto them, shall be bad in derision and in reproch, and cride under teeth.

81 For in every place and cities that are neere there shall be great insurrection against those that feare the Lord.

82 And they shall be like mad men: they shall speech none: they shall spoile, and waste, such as yet feare
the Lord.

83 For as they shall waste, and spoile their goods, and cast them out of their houses.

84 Then shall the trial of my chosen appeare, as the gold is tryed by the fire.

85 Heare, O ye my beloved, faith the Lord behold, the dayes of trouble are at hand, but I will deliuer you from them: by not ye afraid, doubt not for God is your captaine.

86 Who so keepeth my Commandements and precepts, faith the Lord God, let not your finnes weigh you down, and let not your iniquities lift themselves vpon you.

87 Woe vnto them that are bound with their finnes, and couered with their iniquities, as a field is hedged in with brydes, and the path thereof couered with thornes, whereby no man may trauell: it is shut vp, and is appointed to be deuored with fire.

CHAP. III.

1 The prayer of Tobit. 7 Sarra Raguel's daughter and her things that came unto her. 11 Her prayer heard. 17 Tobit Raguel's son.

Then I being sorrowfull, did wepe, and in my sorrow prayed, saying,
O Lord, thou art iust, and all thy works, and all thy wayes are mercy and truth, and thou adgest truly and iustly for ever.

Remember me, & looke on me, neither pun-nish me according to my finnes or mine ignorances or my fathers, which have sinned before thee.

For they have not obeyed thy commandements, wherefore thou hast delivered us for a spoile and unto captivity, & to death, & for a promise of a reproch to all them among whom we are dispersed, and now thou hast many and iust causes.

To do with me according to my finnes, and my fathers, because we have not kept thy commandments, neither have walked in truth before thee.

Now therefore deale with me as thou wilt best unto thee, & command my spirit to be taken, so me that I may be dissolved, & become earth: for it is better for me to die then to live, because I have heard false reproches, & am very sorrowfull:
command therefore that I may be dissolved out of this distress, and go into the everlasting place:
turne not thy face away from me.

It came to passe the same day that in Ec-batana a city of Media, Sarra the daughter of Ra-guel was also reproched by her father in law.

Because she had bene married to seven husbands, whom Almodes the evil spirit had killed, before that they had lien with her. Dead thou not know, said they, that thou hast strangled thine husbands? thou hast had now seven husbands, neither wast thou a word after any of them.

Wherefore dost thou thus? For them if they be dead, to thy widdowhood, that we may never see of them either sonne or daughter.

When she heard these things, she was very sorrowfull, so that shee thought to have strangled her selfe. And she said, I am the onely daughter of my father, and if I do this, I shall slander him, and shall bring his age to the ground with sorrow.

Then she prayed toward the window, and said, Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and chie-fely and gloriously thine is blessed and honourable for ever: let all thy workes praise thee for ever.

And now, O Lord, I see mine eyes, and my face is toward thee.

And say, Take me out of the earth, that I may have no more any reproches.

Thou knowest, O Lord, that I am pure from all finnes with man, and world, I have not any.

And that I have never polluted my name, nor the name of my father, in the land of my captivity: I am the onely daughter of my father, neither have I any man child to be his heir, neither any neere kinsman or child borne of him, to whom I may keepe my selfe for a wife: my truth-full husbands are now dead, and why should I live?

But if it please thee that I should die, command to looke on me, and to pitie me, that I do no more have reproch.

So the prayers of them both were heard before the Maiestie of the great God.

And Raphael was sent to heale them both,
that is, to take away the whiteness of Tobit's eyes, and to give Sarra the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the sonne of Tobit, and to blinde Almodes the evil spirit, because shee belonged to Tobias by right. The same time came Tobit home, and entred into his house, and Sarra the daughter of Raguel came down from her chamber.

CHAP. IIII.

In that day Tobit remembered the vision which he had delivered to Gabael in Rages a city of Media.

And said with himselfe, I have wished for death: wherefore do I not call for my sonne Tobias, that I may admonish him before I die?

And while hee had called him, hee said, My son, after that I am dead, bury me, and despise not thy mother, but honour her all the daies of thy life, & do that which shall please her, & anger her not.

Remember, my sonne, how many dangers shee sustained when thou wast in her wombe.

And when she dieth, bury her by me in the same grave.

My sonne, let our Lord God alwaies before thine eyes, and let not thy will be set to sinne, or to transgresse the commandments of God: Do vp-rightly all thy life long, & follow not the wayes of unrighteousnesse, for if thou deale truly, thy doings shall prosperously succede to thee, and to all them which live iustly.

Give almes of thy substance, and when thou givest almes, let not thine eyes be envious, neither turne thy face from any poore: Let that God turne his face from thee.

Give almes according to thy substance: if thou hast but a litle, be not afraid to give a litle almes.

For thou layest vp a good store for thy selfe against the day of necessitie.

Because that almes doeth deliver from death, and suffereth not to come into darknesse.

For almes is a good gift before the most High to all them which visit.

Beware of all whoredome, my sonne, and chiefly take a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and take not a strange woman to wife, which is not of thy fathers stocke: for we are the children of the Prophets. Now Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob are our fathers from the beginning. Remember my sonne, that they married wives of their own kindred, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land.

Now therefore, my sonne, love thy brethren, and despise not in thine heart thy brethren, the sonnes & daughters of thy people, in not taking a wife of them: for in pride is destruction, & much trouble, and in sinners is fearfull, and great poverty: for the seed of sinners is the mother of famine.

Let not the wages of any man, which hath wrought for thee, carry thee, but give him it out of hand: for if thou serve God, he will also pay thee:
be circumspect my sonne, in all things that thou doest, & be well instructed in all thy conversation.

Do that to no man which thou hast drunk nor wine to make thee drunke, neither feed drun-

13 Then the Angel said unto him, Dost thou not remember the precepts which thy father gave thee, that thou shouldst marry a wife of thine own kindred? wherefore hear me, O my brother: for the sake of thy wife, neither be thou careful of the evil spirit: for this same night shall she be given thee in marriage.

14 And when thou shalt go into the marriage chamber, thou shalt take of the hot coles for perfumes, and make a perfume of the heart, and of the liver of the fish.

15 Which if the spirit doe smell, he will flee away, and never come againe any more: but when thou shalt come to her, rise up both of you, & pray to God which is mercifull, who will haue pity on you, and save you: feare not, for she is appointed unto thee from the beginning, & thou shalt keep her, and she shall goe with thee: moreover I suspect that the fish beate three children: now when Tobias had heard these things, he loved her, and his heart was effectually ioynted to her.

CHAP. VII.

1 AND when they were come to Ecbatane, they came to the house of Raguel: & Sarra mette them, and after they had saluted one another, she brought them into the house.

2 Then saide Raguel to Edna his wife, How like is this yong man to Tobit my cousin?

3 And Raguel asked, Whence are you, my brethren? To whom they said, that they were of the tribe of Nephthali, and of the captives that dwelt at Ninive.

4 Then he said to them, Doe ye know Tobit our kinsman? And they said, We know him. Then said he, Is he in good health?

5 And they said, He is both alive, and in good health: and Tobias said, He is my father.

6 Then Raguel leaped, and kissed him, and wept.

7 And blessed him, and said vnto him, Thou art the son of an honest and good man: but when he had heard that Tobit was blind, hee was sorrowfull and wept.

8 And likewise Edna his wife, and Sarra his daughter wept. Moreover they received them with a ready mind, and after that they had killed a ram of the flocke, they set much meate on the table.

9 Then said Tobias to Raphael, Brother Azarias, put forth those things whereof thou spakest in the way, that this busshelle may be dispatched.

10 So he communicated the matter with Raguel, and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat, and drinke, and make merry.

11 For it is meete that thou shouldst marrie my daughter: neuertheless, I will declare vnto thee the truth.

12 I haue given my daughter in marriage to seven men, who died that night which they came in vnto her: neuertheless be thou of a good courage and merry. But Tobias said, I will see nothing here, vntill ye bring her hither, and be with her to me.

13 Raguel said then, Marry her then according to the custome: for thou art her cousin, and she is thine. God which is mercifull, make this prosperous to you in all good things.

14 Then he called his daughter Sarra, and she came to her father, and he tooke her by the hand, and gaue her for wife to Tobias, saying, Beholde, take her after the lawe of Moyses, and leade her away to thy father: and he blessed them.

15 And called his wife Edna, and he tooke a booke, and wrote a contract, and sealed it.

16 Then they began to eat.

17 After, Raguel called his wife Edna, and said vnto her, Sister, prepare another chamber, and bring her thither.

18 Which when she had done, as he had bidden her, she brought her thither: then Sarra wept, & her mother wiped away her daughters teares.

19 And saide vnto her, Be of good comfort, my daughter: the Lord of heauen and earth gaue thee joy for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort my daughter.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Tobias then said vnto his wife, Let us goe to bed, for we have laboured hard today, and we are weary.

2 And when they had supped, they brought Tobias in vnto her.

3 And as he went, he remembered the words of Raphael, and tooke coles for perfumes, and put the heart and liuer of the fish thereupon, and made a perfume.

4 The which smell when the euill spirit had smelled, he fled into the utmost parts of Egypt, whom the Angel bound.

5 And after that they were both shut in, Tobias rose out of the bed, and said, Sister, arise and let vs pray, that God would haue pittie on vs.

6 Then began Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thine holy and glorious Name for ever: let the heauens bless thee, and all thy creatures.

7 Thou madest Adam, and gauest him Eua his wife for an helpe, & stay: of them came mankind: thou hast saide, It is not good, that a man should bee alone: let vs make vnto him an aide like vnto himselfe.

8 And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for fornication, but vprightly: therefore graunt me mercy, that we may become aged together.

9 And she said with him, Amen.

10 So they slept both that night, and Raguel arose, and went and made a grave, and made a grave for him.

11 Saying, Is not he dead?

12 But when Raguel was come into his house,

13 He said to his wife Edna, Send one of the maids, and let them see whether hee be alive: if not, that I may bury him, and none know it.

14 So the maid opened the doore, and went in, and found them both asleep, and went out.

15 And came forth, and tolde them that hee was alive.

16 Then Raguel prayed God, & said, O God, thou art worthy to be prayed with all pure and holy prayse: therefore let thy Saints praise thee with all thy creatures, and let all thine Angels & thine elect praise thee for ever.

17 Thou art to be prayed, O Lord: for thou hast made me ioyfull, and thine is not cometo me which I hoped for: but thou hast dealt with vs according to great mercy.

Raguel giueth his daughter Sarra to Tobias.

Numb. 26. 6.

Tobias followed Raphaels Counsel, as Chap. 6. 7.

Tobias wept, as Chap. 6. 7.

Gen. 1. 7. 18. 22.

Raguel thinking Tobias was dead, made a grave for him.

Raguel praiseth God for Tobias.

Then Tobit called his sonne Tobias, and said vnto him, Provide, my sonne, wages for the wean, which went with thee, and thou must giue him more.

And he said vnto him, O father, it shall not grieve me to giue him halfe of those things which I haue brought.

For he hath brought me againe to thee in health, and hath made whole my wife, and hath brought me the money, and hath likewise healed thee.

Then the old man said, It is due vnto him.

So he called the Angel, and said vnto him, Take halfe of all that ye haue brought, and goe away in safetie.

But he took them both apart, and said vnto them, Praise God, and confesse him, and giue him the glory, & praise him for the things which he hath done vnto you before all them that liue. It is good to praise God, and to exalt his Name, and to shew forth his euident workes with honour: therefore be not wearie to confesse him.

It is good to keep close the secrets of a King, but it is honorable to reueale the workes of God: do that which is good, & no evil shall touch you.

Prayer is good with fasting, and almes, and righteousness. A litle with righteousness, is better then much with vnrighteousnesse: it is better to giue almes then to lay vp gold.

For almes doeth deliuer from death, and doth purge all sinne. Those which exercise almes and righteousness, shall be filled with life.

But they that sinne, are enemies to their owne life.

Surely I will keep close nothing from you: neuertheless, I said it was good to keepe close the secret of a King, but that it was honorable to reueale the workes of God.

Now therefore when thou diddest pray, and Sarra thy daughter in law, I did bring to memory your prayer before the Holy one: and when thou diddest burie the dead, I was with thee likewise.

And when thou wast not grieved to rise vp and leaue thy dinner to bury the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me: but I was with thee.

And now God hath sent me to heale thee, and Sarra thy daughter in law.

I am Raphael one of the seven holy Angels, which present the prayers of the Saints, and which goe forth before his holy Maiestie.

Then they were both troubled, and fell vpon their face: for they feared.

But he said vnto them, Feare not, for it shal goe well with you: praise God therefore.

For I came not of mine owne pleasure, but by the good will of your God: wherefore prayse him in all ages.

All these daies did I appeare vnto you: but I did neither eat nor drink, but you saw it in vision.

Now therefore giue God thanks: for I goe vp to him that sent me: but write all things which are done, in a booke.

And when they rose, they saw him no more.

Then they confessed the great and wonderfull workes of God, & how the Angel of the Lord had appeared to them.

CHAP. XIII.

A thanksgiving of Tobit, who subuerteth all to praise the Lord.

Then Tobit wrote a prayer of reioicing, and said, Blessed be God that liueth for ever, and blessed be his kingdom.

For he doeth scourge, and hath pitie: he leadeth to hell, and bringeth vp, neither is there any that can avoid his hand.

Confesse him before Gentiles, ye children of Israel: for he hath scattered you among them.

There declare his greatnes, and extoll him before all the liuing: for he is our Lord and our God, and our Father for ever.

He hath scourged vs for our iniquities, and will haue mercie againe, and wil gather vs out of all nations, among whom we are scattered.

If you turne to him with your whole heart, and with your whole minde, and deale vprightly before him, then will he turne vnto you, and will not hide his face from you, but ye shall see what he will doe with you: therefore confesse him with your whole mouth, and praise the Lord of righteousness, and extoll the euertlasting king: I will confesse him in the land of my captiuitie, & will declare his power and greatnesse to a sinfull nation. O ye sinners, turne and doe iustice before him: who can tell if he will receiue you to mercie, and haue pitie on you?

I will extoll my God, & my soule shal praise him of heauen, & shall reioyce in his greatnes.

Let all men speake, and let all praise him for his righteousness.

O Ierusalem the holy citie, he will scourge thee for thy childrens workes, but he will haue pitie againe on the sonnes of righteous men.

Giue praise to the Lord quely, and praise the euertlasting king, that his tabernacle may bee builded in thee againe with ioy: & let him make ioyfull there in thee those that are captiues, and loue in thee for ever those that be miserable.

Many nations shall come from farre to the Name of the Lord God, with gifts in their hands, and gifts to the King of heauen: all generations shall praise thee, and giue signes of ioy.

Cursed are all they which hate thee: but blessed are they for ever which loue thee.

Reioyce, and bee glad for the children of the iust: for they shal be gathered, and shal blesse the Lord of the iust.

Blessed are they which loue thee: for they shal reioyce in thy peace. Blessed are they which haue bin sorowfull for all thy scourgings: for they shal reioyce for thee, when they shall see all thy glory, and shall reioyce for ever.

Let my soule blesse God the great King.

For Ierusalem shal be built vp with saphires, and emerauds, & thy walles with precious stones, and thy towres, & thy bulwarks with pure gold.

And the streets of Ierusalem shal be paved with berall, and carbuncle, & stones of Ophir.

And all her streetes shal say, Halleluiah, and they shal praise him, saying, Blessed be God which hath extolled him for ever.

CHAP. XIII.

Lesson of Tobit to his sonne. He prophesieth the destruction of Ninus, and the restoring of Ierusalem, and the Temple. The death of Tobit and his wife. Tobias age & death.

SO Tobit made an end of praising God.

And he was eight and fiftie yeere olde, when he lost his sight, which was restored to him after eight yere, and he gaue almes, and he continued to feare the Lord God, and to praise him.

And when he was very aged, he called his sonne, and sixe of his sonnes sonnes, and saide to him, My sonne, take thy children (for behold, I am aged, and am ready to depart out of this life)

He that will be acceptable to God, must be proued with temptation.

* Gen. 18. 8. and 19. 3. Iudg. 13. 16.

Or, Saphir.
Or, praise ye the Lord.
Tobit is, Ierusalem.

• Ezra 3. Land
6. 14.

14. One into Media my sonne: for I surely believe those things which I sawe the Prophet Isaie of Nineue, that it shall be destroyed, and for a time peace shall rather be in Media, and that our brethren shall be scattered in the earth from that good land, and Ierusalem shall be desolate, and the House of God in it shall be burned, and shall be desolate for a time.

15. Yet againe God will have mercy on them, & bring them againe into the land where they shall build a Temple, but not like to the first, untill the times of that age be fulfilled, which being finished, they shall returne to every place out of captivity, and build up Ierusalem gloriously, and the house of God shall be built in it for ever, a glorious building, as the prophets have spoken thereof.

16. And all nations shall burne, and scare the Lord God truly, and shall bury their idols.

17. So shall all nations praise the Lord, and his people shall comend God, and the Lord shall exalt his people, and all those which love the Lord in truth and iustice, shall reioyce, and those also which their mercies our brethren.

18. And now, my sonne, depart out of Nineue, because the multitude which the Prophet I-saie spake, shall surely come to passe.

19. But keepe thou the Law, and the commandments, and shew thyselfe mercifull and iust, that it may goe well with thee.

20. And bury mee honestly, and my mother with me: but tarry no longer at Nineue. Remember, my sonne, how Aman handled Achitacharus:
I brought him vp, how out of light he brought him into darkenesse, and how he rewarded him again: yet Achitacharus was freed, but the other had his reward: for he went downe into dark-nesse. Manasse gave almes, and escaped the share of death which they had for him, but Aman fell into the snare and perished.

21. Wherefore now, my sonne, consider what almes doeth, and how righteousness doth deliuer.
When he had said these things, I her gave up the ghost in the bed, being an hundred and eight and thire years old, and he buried him honourably.

dren to Ecbatane to Raguel his father in law.

buried his father & mother in law honourably, &
he inherited their substance & Tobias his father.

24. And he died at Ecbatane in Media, being an hundred and foure and twentie years old.

25. But before he died, he heard of the destruction of Nineue, which was taken by Nabuchodonosor and Alluimus, and before his death he reioyed for Nineue.

Or his soule failed him in the bed.

IV DE TH

NINEVE the twelfth yeere of the reigne of Nabuchodonosor, who reigned in Nineue the great citie in the dayes of Anphaxad, which reigned ouer the Medes in Ecbatane.

2. And built in Ecbatane the walles round about of hewen stone, thre cubits broad and five cubits long, and made the height of the wall seuenty cubits, and the breadth thereof nine cubits.

3. And made the towers thereof in the gates of it of an hundred cubits, and the breadth thereof in the foundation thre score cubits.

4. And made the gates thereof such gates that were hight vp on his hundred cubits, & the breadth of them fourtie cubits for the going forth of his mighty armie, and for the setting in array of his footmen.

5. Even in these dayes King Nabuchodonosor made warre with King Arphaxad in the great field, which is the field in the coasts of Ragau.

6. Then came vnto him all they dwell in the mountains, & all that dwell by Euphrates & Tygris, & Hydaspes, & the country of Arioch, King of the Elymeans, & very many nations assembled themselves to the battell of the sonnes of Chaloil.

7. And Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians sent vnto all that dwell in Persia, and to all that dwell in the West, and to those that dwell in Cilicia and Damascus, and Libanus, and Atrilbanus, and to all that dwell vpon the sea coast.

8. And to the people that are in Carmel, and Galilee, and the higher Galilee, and the great field of Eufhrates.

9. And to all that were in Samaria, & the cities thereof, & beyond Iordan vnto Ierusalem, & Retane, & Chellus, and Caphar, the King of Egypt, and Taphnes, & Ramelle, & all the land of Geden.

10. Vntill one come to Tanis, and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt, and to one come to the mountaines of Ethiopia.

11. But all the inhabitants of this country did not passe for the commandement of Nabuchodonosor King of the Assyrians, neither would they come with him to the battell: for they did not leave him: yea, hee was before them as one man: wherefore they sent away his ambassadors from them without effect, and with dishonour.

12. Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angry with all this country, & swore by his throphe aid King some, that he would surely be auenged vpon all those coasts of Cilicia & Damascus, and Syria, & that he would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, & the children of Ammon, and all Iudea, and all that were in Egypt, till one come to the borders of the two seas.

13. Then he marched in battell array with his power against King Arphaxad in the fourteenth yeere, and he prevailed in his battell: for he ouer-threw all the power of Arphaxad, and all his horsemen, and all his chariots.

14. And he wan his cities, & came vnto Ecbatane, and took the towres, & spoiled the treasures thereof, & turned the beautie thereof into shame.

15. He took also Arphaxad in the mountaines of Ragau, and smote him thre with his darts, and destroyed him vnto the day.

16. So he returned afterward to Nineue, both he and all his company with a very great multitude of men of warre, and there hee passed the time, and banquetted, both hee and his armie an hundred and twentie dayes.

CHAP. II

Nabuchodonosor commanded his servants that all people should be brought in to Ierusalem, & that they should be disposed in the preparation of the house of God, 23. The conquest of Babilonia.

And

And in the eighteenth yere, the two and twentieth day of the first moneth, there was talke in the house of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, that he should avenge himselfe on all the earth, as he had spoken.

2 So hee called vnto him all his officers, and all his nobles, and communicated with them his secret counsell, and set before them with his owne mouth all the malice of the earth.

3 Then they decreed to destroy all flesh, that had not obeyed the commandement of his mouth.

4 And when hee had ended his counsell, Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians called Olofernes his chiefe captaine, and which was next vnto him, and said vnto him,

5 Thus saith the great king, the Lord of the whole earth, Behold, thou shalt go forth from my presence, & take with thee men that trust in their own strength, of footmen, an hundred and twenty thousand, and the number of horses with their riders, twelue thousand,

6 And thou shalt goe against all the West country, because they disobeyed my commandement.

7 And thou shalt declare vnto them, that they prepare for me the land & the water: for I wil go forth in my wrath against them, & wil couer the whole face of the earth with the feete of mine army, and I will giue them as a spoyle vnto them,

8 So that their wounded shal fill their valles, and their rivers, and the flood shall ouerflow, being filled with their dead.

9 And I will bring their captiuitie to the utmost parts of all the earth.

10 Thou therefore shalt depart hence, & take vp for me all their country: and if they yeeld vnto thee, thou shalt reserue them for me vntill the day that I rebuke them.

11 But concerning them that rebell, let not thine eye spare them, but put them to death, and spoile them wheresoeuer thou goest.

12 For as I liue, and the power of my kingdom, whatesoeuer I haue spoken, that will I doe by mine hand.

13 And take thou heede that thou transgresse not any of the commandements of thy lord, but accomplish them fully, as I haue commanded thee, and deferre not to do them.

14 ¶ Then Olofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called al the gouernors, and captaines, and officers of the army of Assur,

15 And hee mustred the chosen men for the battel, as his lord had commanded him, vnto an hundred and twenty thousand, and twelue thousand archers on horsebacke.

16 And hee set them in aray according to the manner of setting a great army in aray.

17 And hee tooke camels and asses for their burdens a very great number, & sheepe, and oxen, and goats without number for their prouision,

18 And vitaille for euery man of the army, & very much gold & siluer out of the kings house.

19 Then he went forth and al his power to go before in the voyage of king Nabuchodonosor, & to couer all the face of the earth Westward, with their charrets, and horsemen, and chosen footmen.

20 A great multitude also of sundry sorts came with them like grasshoppers, & like the grauel of the earth: for the multitude was without number.

21 And they went forth of Nineue three daies journey toward the country of Beftileth, and pitched from Beftileth neere the mountaine which is on the left hand of the vpper Cilicia.

22 Then he tooke all his army, his footmen, and horsemen, and charrets, and went from thence into the mountaines.

23 And he destroyed Phud and Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rasles, and the children of Ismael, which were toward the wilderness at the South of the Chelians.

24 Then hee went ouer Euphrates, and went thorow Mesopotamia, and destroyed all the hie cities that were vpon the riuer of Arbonai, vntill one come to the sea.

25 And hee tooke the borders of Cilicia, and destroyed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Iapheth, which were toward the South and ouer against Arabia.

26 He compaied also all the children of Madian, and burnt vp their tabernacles, and spoyle their lodges.

27 Then he went downe into the country of Damascus, in the time of wheat harvest, and burnt vp all their fields, and destroyed their flockes and the heards, hee robbed their cities, and spoyle their country, and smote all their yong men with the edge of the sword.

28 Therefore feare and trembling fell vpon all the inhabitants of the sea coast, which were in Sidon and Tyrus, & them that dwelt in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Iemnaan: and they that dwelt in Azotus, & Ascalon feared him greatly.

CHAP. III.

The people subiect to Olofernes. 8 He destroyed their gods: soas Nabuchodonosor might only be worshipped.

So they sent ambassadours to him with messages of peace, sayin g,

2 Behold, we are the seruants of Nabuchodonosor the great king: wee lie downe before thee: vse vs as shalbe good in thy sight.

3 Behold, our houses and al our places, and al our fields of wheat, and our flockes, & our heards, and all our lodges and tabernacles lie before thy face: vse them as it pleaseth thee.

4 Behold, euen our cities, and the inhabitants thereof are thy seruants: come, and take them, as seemeth good to thee.

5 ¶ So the men came to Olofernes, and declared vnto them after this manner.

6 Then came he downe toward the sea coast, both he and his army, and set garisons in the hie cities, and tooke out of them chosen men for the warre.

7 So they and all the country round about receiued them with crownes, and dances, and with timbrels.

8 Yet he brake downe all their borders, and cut downe their woods: for it was inioyned him to destroy al the gods of the land, that al nations should worship Nabuchodonosor only, & that al tongues and tribes should call vpon him as God.

9 Also he came against Eldraelon, neere vnto Iudea, ouer against the great strait of Iudea.

10 And he pitched betweene Geba, & acity of the Scythians, and there he taried a moneth, that he might assemble all the baggage of his army.

CHAP. IIII.

The Israelites were afraide and defended their country. 6 Iosim the Priest writeth to Beftileth, that they should fortifie themselves. 9 They cryed to the Lord, and humbled themselves before him.

Now the childre of Israel that dwelt in Iudea, heard all that Olofernes the chiefe captaine of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and how he had spoiled all their temples, and brought them to nought.

2 Therefore they feared greatly his presence, and were troubled for Ierusalem, and for the Temple of the Lord their God.

3 For they were newly returned from the captivity, and of late all the people was assembled in Iudea, and the vessels and the altar of the house had bene sanctified because of the pollution.

4 Therefore they sent into all the coastes of Samaria, and the villages, and to Bethora, and Belmen, and Iericho, and to Choba, and Efora, and to the valley of Salem,

5 And toke all the toppes of the hie mountaines, and walled the villages that were in them, and put in victuals for the provision of warre: for their fields were of late reaped.

6 Also Ioachim the hie Priest which was in those dayes in Ierusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia and Betomestham, which is euer against Beldraclon toward the open countrey neere to Dothaim,

7 Exhorting them to keep the passages of the mountaines: for by them there was an entry into Iudea, and it was easie to let them that woulde, come vp, because the passage was strait for two men at the most.

8 And the children of Israel did as Ioachim the hie Priest had comanded them with the Ancients of al people of Israel which dwelt at Ierusalem.

9 Then cried euery man of Israel to God with great seruency, & their soules with great affliction.

10 Both they and their wiues, and their children, and their cattel, and euery stranger, & hireling, and their bought seruants put sackcloth vpon their loynes.

11 Thus euery man and woman, and the children, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell before the Temple, and sprinkled ashes vpon their heads, and spread out their sackcloth before the face of the Lord: also they put sackcloth about the altar,

12 And cried to the God of Israel, al with one consent most earnestly, that hee would not giue their children for a pray, and their wiues for a spoile, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the Sanctuary to pollution, and reproch, and vnto derision to the heathen.

13 So God heard their prayers, and looked vpon their affliction: for the people fasted many dayes in all Iudea and Ierusalem before the Sanctuary of the Lord Almighty.

14 And Ioachim the hie Priest, & al the Priests that stood before the Lord, and ministred vnto the Lord, had their ioines girt with sackcloth, and offered the continuall burnt offering, with prayers and the free gifts of the people,

15 And had ashes on their miters, and cried vnto the Lord with all their power for grace, and that he would looke vpon all the house of Israel.

CHAP. V.

Achior the Ammonite doeth declare to Olofernes of the manner of the Israelites.

Then was it declared to Olofernes the chiefe captaine of the army of Assur, that the children of Israel had prepared for war, and had shut the passages of the mountaines, and had walled all the toppes of the hie hilles, and had laid impediments in the champion countrey.

2 Wherewith hee was very angry, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the gouernours of the sea coast.

3 And he said vnto them, Shewe mee, O yee sons of Chanaan. Who is this people that dwelleth in the mountaines? and what are the cities that they inhabite? and what is the multitude of their armie? and wherein is their strength and their power? and what king or captaine is raised among them ouer their army?

4 And why haue they determined not to come to meett mee, more then all the inhabitants of the West?

5 Then said Achior the captaine of all the sons of Ammon, Let my lord heare the word of the mouth of his seruant, & I wil declare vnto thee the truth concerning this people, that dwell in these mountaines, neere where thou remainest: & there shal no lie come out of the mouth of thy seruant.

6 This people come of the stock of the Chaldeans.

7 And they dwelt before in Mesopotamia, because they would not follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of Chaldea.

8 But they went out of the way of their ancessors and worshipped the God of heauen, the God whome they knewe: so they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fledde into Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many dayes.

9 Then their God comanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to goe into the land of Chanaan where they dwell, and were increased with golde and siluer, and with very much cattell.

10 But when a famine couered all the land of Chanaan, they went down into Egypt, and dwelt there till they returned, and became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their linage.

11 Therefore the king of Egypt rose vp against them, and vsed deceit against them, and brought them low with labouring in bricke, and made them slaues.

12 Then cried they vnto their God, & he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: so the Egyptians cast them out of their sight.

13 And God dried the red sea in their presence,

14 And brought them into mount Sina, and Cades barne, and call forth all that dwelt in the wilderness.

15 So they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Elebon, and passing ouer Iordan, they inherited all the mountaines.

16 And they cast forth before them the Chanaanites and the Pherezites, and the Iebusites, and them of Sichein, and all the Gergesites, and they dwelt in that countrey many dayes.

17 And whiles they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because the God that hated iniquity, was with them.

18 But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battels after a wonderfull sort, and were led captiues into a land that was not theirs: and the Temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities weretaken by the enemies.

19 But now they are turned to their God, and are come vp from the scattering wher in they were scattered, & haue possessed Ierusalem, where their Temple is, and dwell in the mountaines which were desolate.

20 Now therefore, my lord and Gouernour, if there there be any fault in this people, so that they haue sinned against their God, let vs consider that this shall be their ruine, and let vs goe vp, and wee shall ouercome them.

11 But if there bee none iniquitie in this people, let my lord passe by, least their Lord defend them, and their God be for them: and we become a reproch before all the world.

12 ¶ And when Achior had finished these sayings, all the people standing round about the tent, murmured: and the chiefe men of Olofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea side and in Moab, spake that he should kill him.

13 For, say they, wee feare not to meet the children of Israel: for loe, it is a people that haue no strength nor power against a mightie armie.

14 Let vs therefore goe vp, O lord Olofernes, and they shall be meate for thy whole armie.

CHAP. VI.

Olofernes blasphemeth God whom Achior confessed. 19 Achior is deliuered into the hands of them of Bethulia. 23 The Bethulians cry vnto the Lord.

And when the tumult of the men that were about the councell, was ceased, Olofernes, the chiefe captaine of the army of Assur, said vnto Achior before all the people of the strangers, and before all the children of Moab, and of them that were hired of Ephraim,

1 Because thou hast prophesied among vs to day, and hast said that the people of Ierusalem is able to fight, because their God will defend them: and who is God but Nabuchodonosor?

2 Hee will send his power, and will destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliuer them: but wee his seruants will destroy them as one man: for they are not able to sustaine the power of our horses.

3 For wee will treade them vnder feete with them, & their mountaines shall be drunken with their blood, and their fieldes shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not be able to stand before vs: but they shall vterly perish.

4 The King Nabuchodonosor, lord of all the earth hath said, euen hee hath said, None of my wordes shall be in vaine.

5 And thou Achior an hireling of Ammon, because thou hast spoken these wordes in the day of thine iniquitie, thou shalt see my face no more from this day vntill I take vengeance of that people that is come out of Egypt.

6 And then shall the yron of mine army, and the multitude of them that serue me, passe thorow thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slaine, when I shall put them to flight.

7 And my seruants shall carie thee into the mountaines, and they shall leaue thee at one of the high cities: but thou shalt not perish, till thou be destroyed with them.

8 And if thou perswade thy selfe in thy mind, that they shall not be taken, let not thy countenance fail: I haue spoken it, and none of my wordes shall be in vaine.

9 Then commanded Olofernes them concerning Achior, that they should bring him to Bethulia, and deliuer him into the hands of the children of Israel.

10 So his seruants tooke him, & brought him out of the campe into the plaine: & they went out from the midst of the plaine into the mountaines, & came vnto the fountains y were vnder Bethulia

11 And when the men of the city sawe them from the top of the mountaine, they tooke their armour, and went forth of the city vnto the top of the mountaine, euen all the throwers with slings, and kept them from coming vp, by casting stones against them.

12 But they went priuie vnder the hill, and bound Achior, and left him lying at the foote of the hill, and returned to their lord.

13 Then the Israelites came downe from their citie, and stood about him, and loosed him, and brought him into Bethulia, and presented him to the gouernours of their citie.

14 Which were in those dayes, Ozias the son of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the sonne of Gothoniell, and Charmis the son of Melchiel.

15 And they called together all the Ancients of the citie, and all their youth ran together, and their women to the assembly: and they set Achior in the mids of all their people. Then Ozias asked him of that which was done.

16 And hee answered and declared vnto them the wordes of the counsell of Olofernes, and all the wordes that hee had spoken in the mids of the princes of Assur, and whatsoever Olofernes had spoken proudly against the house of Israel.

17 Then the people fell downe and worshipped God, and cryed vnto God, saying,

18 O Lord God of heauen, behold their pride, and haue mercie on the basenesse of our people, & behold this day the face of those that are sanctified vnto thee.

19 Then they comforted Achior, and praised him greatly.

20 And Ozias took him out of the assembly into his house, & made a feast to the Elders, and they called on the God of Israel al that night for help.

CHAP. VII.

Olofernes doth besiege Bethulia. 8 The counsell of the Idumeans and others against the Israelites. 23 The Bethulians murmur against their gouernours, for lacke of water.

The next day Olofernes commanded all his armie and all his people, which were come to take his part, that they should remoue their camps against Bethulia, and that they should take all the streits of the hill, and to make warre against the children of Israel.

1 Then their strong men remoued their camps in that day, and the armie of the men of war was an hundred thousand and seuentie footemen, and twelue thousand horsemen, beside the baggage & other men that were afoote among them, a very great multitude.

2 And they camped in the plaine neere vnto Bethulia, by the fountaine, and they spred abroad toward Dothaim vnto Belbaim, and in length from Bethulia vnto Ciamon, which is ouer against Eldraelom.

3 Now the children of Israel, when they sawe the multitude, were greatly troubled, and said euerie one to his neighbour, Now will they shut vp all the whole earth: for neither the high mountaines nor the valleys, nor the hills are able to abide their burden.

4 Then euery one tooke his weapons of war, and burning fires in their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

5 But in the second day, Olofernes brought forth all his horsemen in the sight of the children of Israel, which were in Bethulia,

7 And viewed the passages vp to their cite, and came to the fountaines of their waters, and took them, and set garisons of men of warre over them, and remooued toward his people.

8 Then came vnto him all the chiefe of the children of Esau, and all the gouernours of the people of Moab, and all the captaines of the Sea coast, and said,

9 Let our captaine now heare a word, lest an inconuenience come in thine armie.

10 For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their speares, but in the height of the mountaines, wherein they dwell, because it is not easie to come vp to the tops of their mountaines.

11 Now therefore my lord, fight not against them in battell array, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish.

12 Remaine in thy campe, and keepe all the men of thine armie, and let thy men keepe still the water of the countrey, that cometh forth at the foote of the mountaine.

13 For all the inhabitants of Bethulia haue their water thereof: so shall thirst kill them, and they shall giue vp their city: and we and our people will goe vp to the tops of the mountaines that are nere, and will campe vpon them, and watch that none goe out of the cite.

14 So they and their wines, and their children shall be consumed with famine, & before the sword come against them, they shall be overthrowen in the streetes wherethey dwell.

15 Thus shalt thou render them an euill reward, because they rebelled and obeyed not thy person peaceably.

16 And these words pleased Olofernes and all his souldiers, and he appointed to doe as they had spoken.

17 So the campe of the children of Ammon departed, & with them five thousand of Assyrians, & they pitched in the valley, & took the waters, & the fountaine of the waters of the children of Israel.

18 Then the children of Esau went vp with the children of Ammon, & camped in the mountains ouer against Dothaim, & they sent some of themselves towards the South, & toward the East, ouer against Rebel, which is nere vnto Chus, that is vpon the riuer Mochmur: and the rest of the army of the Assyrians camped in the field, and couered the whole land: for their tents and their baggage were pitched in a wonderfull great place.

19 Then the children of Israel cried vnto the Lord their God, because their heart failed: for all their enemies had compassed them about, & there was no way to escape out from among them.

20 Thus all the company of Assur remained about them, both their footemen, chariots and horsemen, foure and thirty dayes: so that euen all the places of their waters failed at the inhabitants of Bethulia.

21 And the cisternes were empty, and they had not water enough to drinke for one day: for they gaue them to drinke by measure.

22 Therefore their children swooned, and their wives & yong men failed for thirst, & fell downe in the streetes of the cite, and by the passages of the gates, and there was no strength in them.

23 Then all the people assembled to Ozias, and to the chiefe of the cite, both yong men and women, and children, and cryed with a lowd voice, and said before all the Elders.

24 The Lord iudge betweene vs and you: for you haue done vs great iniurie, in that you haue not required peace of the children of Assur.

25 For now we haue no helper, but God hath solde vs into their handes, that wee should bee throwen downe before them with thirst and great destruction.

26 Now therefore call them together, and deliuer the whole cite for a spoile to the people of Olofernes, and to all his armie.

27 For it is better for vs to be made a spoile vnto them, then to die for thirst: for wee will be his seruants that we may liue, & not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wines, nor our children to die.

28 We take to witness against you the heauen and the earth, and our God and Lord of our fathers which punisheth vs, according to our finnes, and the finnes of our fathers, that he lay not these things to our charge.

29 Then there was a great cry of all with one consent in the middes of the assembly, and they cried vnto the Lord God with a loud voyce.

30 Then Ozias said to them, Brethren, be of good courage: let vs wait yet fise dayes, in the which space the Lord our God may turn his mercie toward vs: for he will not forsake vs in the end.

31 And if these daies passe, and there come not helpe vnto vs, I will doe according to your word.

32 So he separated the people, euery one vnto their charge, and they went vnto the walles and towers of their city, and sent thier wines and their children into their houses, and they were very low brought in the cite.

CHAP. VIII.

The purgation of the citie, & the rescue of the prisoners of the mountaine. 1. She rebuketh the sinners of the mountaine. 2. She sheweth that they should not tempt God, but wait upon him for succour. 3. Her intercession against the enemies.

Now at that time, Iudeth heard thereof, which was the daughter of Merari the sonne of Oz, the sonne of Ioseph, the sonne of Oziel, the sonne of Elcia, the sonne of Ananias, the sonne of Gedem, the sonne of Raphaim, the sonne of Acito, the sonne of Elihu, the sonne of Eliab, the sonne of Nathanael, the sonne of Samael, the sonne of Salasidai, the sonne of Israel.

2 And Manasses was her husband, of her stock and kindred, who died in the barly harvest.

3 For as he was diligent ouer them that bound sheaves in the field, the heat came vpon his head, and he fell vpon his bed, and died in the cite of Bethulia, and they buried him with his fathers in the field betweene Dothaim and Balamo.

4 So Iudeth was in her house a widow three yeeres and foure moneths.

5 And shee made her a tent vpon her house, and put on sackcloth on her loynes, and ware her widowes apparell.

6 And shee fasted all the dayes of her widowhood, save the day before the Sabbath, & the Sabbath, and the day before the new moones, and in the feasts & solemne dayes of the house of Israel.

7 She was also of a goodly countenance, and very beautifull to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her golde and siluer, and men seruants, and maid seruants, and cattell, and possessions, where she remained.

8 And there was none that could bring an euill report of her: for she feared God greatly.

9 Now when shee heard the euill words of the people against the gouernour, because they fainted for for lacke of waters (for Iudeth hath heard all the words that Ozias had spoken vnto them, and that he had sworne vnto them to deliuer the city vnto the the Assyrians within five daies)

10 Then shee sent her mayd, that had the gouernment of all things that she had, to call Ozias and Chabris & Chaimis the ancients of the city.

11 And they came vnto her, and she said vnto them, Heare me, O ye gouernours of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your words that yee haue spoken before the people this day, are not right, touching this oath which ye made and pronounced betwene God and you, and haue promised to deliuer the city to the enemies, vnlesse within these daies the Lord turne to helpe you.

12 And now who are you that haue tempted God this day, and set your selues in the place of God among the children of men?

13 So now you seeke the Lord Almighty, but you shall neuer know any thing.

14 For you cannot finde out the depth of the heart of man, neither can yee perceiue the things that he thinketh: then how can you search out God, that hath made all these things, & know his mind, or comprehend his purpose? Nay my brethren, prouoke not the Lord our God to anger.

15 For if hee wil not help vs within these five daies, he hath power to defend vs whē he wil, every day, or to destroy vs before our enemies.

16 Doe not you therefore binde the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not a man that he may be threatened, neither as the sonne of man to be brought to iudgement.

17 Therefore let vs wait for saluation of him, and call vpon him to helpe vs, and he will heare our voice if it please him.

18 For there appeareth none in our age, neither is there any now in these daies, neither tribe, nor family, nor people, nor city among vs, which worship the gods made with hands, as hath been aforetime.

19 For the which cause our fathers were giuen to the sword, and for a spoile, and had a great fall before our enemies.

20 But we know none other God, therefore we trust he wil not despise vs, nor any of our linage.

21 Neither when we shalbe taken, shal Iudeth be so famous for our Sanctuary shalbe spoiled, & he wil require the profanation thereof at our mouth.

22 And the feare of our brethren, and the captiuitie of the country, and the desolation of our inheritance will he turne vpon our heads among the Gentiles, where soeuer we shalbe in bondage, and we shalbe an offence and reproch to all them that possesse vs.

23 For our seruitude shal not be directed by fauour, but the Lord our God shal turne it to dishonor.

24 Now therefore, O brethren, let vs shewe an example to our brethren, because their hearts depend vpon vs, and the Sanctuary, and the House, and the altar rest vpon vs.

25 Moreover let vs giue thanks to the Lord our God, which trieth vs euen as he did our fathers.

26 Remember what things he did to Abraham, and how he tried Isaac, and al that he did to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when hee kept the sheepe of Laban his mothers brother.

27 For he hath not tried vs as he did them to the examination of their hearts, neither doth he take vengeance on vs, but the Lord punisheth for instruction them that come neere to him.

28 ¶ Then said Ozias to her, All that thou hast spoken, hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that is able to resist thy words.

29 For it is not to day that thy wisdom is knowne, but from the beginning of thy life al the people haue knowne thy wisdom: for the deuice of thine heart is good.

30 But the people were very thirstie, and compelled vs to doe vnto them as wee haue spoken, and haue brought vs to an othe which wee may not transgresse.

31 Therefore now pray for vs, because thou art an holy woman, that the Lord may sett vs raine to fill our cisternes, & that we may faint no more.

32 Then said Iudeth vnto them, Heare me, and I will doe a thing, which shall be declared in all generations to the children of our nation.

33 You shall stand this night in the gate, & I will go forth with mine handmaid: & within the daies that ye haue promised to deliuer the city to our enemies, the Lord will visite Israel by mine hand.

34 But inquire not you of mine act: for I will not declare it vnto you, till the thinges be finished that I doe.

35 Then said Ozias and the princes vnto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies.

36 So they returned from the tent, and went to their wards.

CHAP. IX.

1 Iudeth humbled her selfe before the Lord, & made her prayers for the deliuerance of her people. 2 Against the pride of the Assyrians. 3 God is the helpe of the humble.

¶ Then Iudeth fell vpon her face, and put ashes vpon her head, and put off the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed. And about the time that the incense of the evening was offered in Ierusalem in the house of the Lord, Iudeth cryed with a loud voice, and sayd,

2 O Lord God of my father Simeon, to whom thou gapest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers which opened the wombe of the mayd, and defiled her, and discouered the thigh with shame, and polluted the wombe to reproch (for thou hadst commanded that it should not so be,

3 Yet they did things for the which thou gapest their princes to the slaughter, for they were deceiued and washed their beds with blood) and hast stricken the seruants with the gouernours, and the gouernours vpon their thrones,

4 And hast giuen their wiues for a pray, and their daughters to be captiues, and al their spoiles for a booty to the children: thou loudest which were moued with thy zeale, & abhorrest the pollution of their blood, and called vpon thee for ayde, O God, my God, heare me also a widow.

5 For thou hast wrought the things afore, and these, and the things that shalbe after, and thou considerest the things that are present, and the things that are to come.

6 For the things which thou doest purpose are present, and say, Behold, wee are here for all thy wayes are ready, and thy iudgements are foreknownen.

7 Behold, the Assyrians are multiplied by their power: they haue exalted themselves with horses and horsemen: they glory in the strength of their footmen, they trust in shield, speare and bowe, and sling, and doe not know that thou art the Lord that breakest the battels: the Lord is thy Name.

8. Breake thou their strength by thy power, & breake breakethir force by thy wrath: for they have purposed to defile thy Sanctuary, and to pollute the tabernacle where thy glorious Name resteth, and to cast down with weapons the horns of the altar.

9 Behold their pride, and find thy wrath vpon their heads: giue into mine hand which am a widow, the strength that I haue conceived.

10 Smite by the deceit of my lips the sruant with the prince, and the prince with the sruant: abate their height by the hand of a woman.

11 For thy power standeth not in the multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou, O Lord, art the helpe of the humble and little ones, the defender of the weake, and the protectour of them that are forsaken, and the Saviour of them that are without hope.

12 Surely, surely thou art the God of my father, and the God of the inheritance of Israel, the Lord of heaven and earth, the creator of the waters, the King of all creatures: I heare thou my prayer.

13 And graunte words & craft, & a wound, and a stroke against them that enterprist cruell shings against thy covenant, and against thine holy House, and against the top of Zion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.

14 Shew euidently among all chy people, and all the tribes, that they may know that thou art the God of all power and strength, and that there is none other that defendeth the people of Israel, but thou.

CHAP. X.

1. Iudeth desired her life, and sought forth of the clau. 2. Iudeth desired of the watch of the Assyrians, and brought it to Olofernes.

Now after she had ceased to cry vnto God of Israel, & had made an end of all these words,

3. She arose where she had fallen downe, and called her maid, and went downe into the house, in the which she abode in the Sabbath dayes, and in the feast dayes.

4. And putting away the sackcloth wherewith she was clad, and putting off the garments of her widowhood, she washed her body with water, and anointed it with much ointment, and dressed the haire of her head, and put attire vpon it, and put on her garments of gladnesse, wherewith she was clad during the life of Manasses her husband.

5. And she put slippers on her feet, and put on bracelets, and sleaues, and rings, & earerings, and all her ornaments, and she decked her selfe brauely, to allure the eyes of al men that should see her.

6. Then she gaue her maid a bottle of wine, and a pot of oyle, & filled a scrip with flour, and with drie figs, and with fine bread: so she lapped vp all these things together, and laid them vpon her.

7. Thus they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing there Ozias, and the Ancients of the citie, Chabris and Charmis.

8. And when they saw her that her face was changed, and that her garment was changed, they marvelled greatly at her wonderfull beautie, and said vnto her,

9. The God, the God of our fathers giue thee fauour, and accomplish thine enterprises to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Ierusalem. Then they worshipped God.

10. And thee slide vnto them, Command the gates of the citie to be opened vnto mee, that I may goe fourth to accomplish the thing which you haue spoken to me. So they commanded the yong men to open vnto her, as she had spoken.

11. And when they had done so, Iudeth went out, she and her maid with her, and the men of the city looked after her, vntill she was gone downe the mountaine, and till she had passed the valley, and could see her no more.

12. Thus they went straight forth in the valley, and the first watch of the Assyrians met her,

13. And tooke her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? & whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a woman of the Hebrewes, and am fled from them: for they shall be given you to be consumed.

14. And I come before Olofernes the chiefe captain of your armie, to declare him true things, and I will shew before him the way whereby hee shall goe and winne all the mountaines, without loosing the body or life of any of his men.

15. Now when the men heard her wordes, and beheld her countenance, they wondred greatly at her beautie, and said vnto her,

16. Thou hast sined thy life: in that thou hast halted to come downe to the presence of our lord: now therefore come to his tent, and some of vs shall conduct thee vntill they haue deliuered thee into his hands.

17. And when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart, but shewe vnto him according as thou hast to say, & he will intreat thee wel.

18. Then they chose out of them an hundred men, and prepared a chaire for her and her maid, and brought her to the tent of Olofernes.

19. Then there was a running to and fro throughout the campe: for her coming was bruced among the tents: and they came and stood round about her: for she stood without the tent of Olofernes, vntill they had declared vnto him concerning her.

20. And they marueled at her beautie, and wondered at the children of Israel because of her, and euery one slide vnto his neighbour, Who would despise this people, that haue among them such women? surely it is not good that one man of them be left: for if they should remaine, they might deceiue the whole earth.

21. Then Olofernes gard went out, and all his seruants, and they brought her into the tent.

22. Now Olofernes rested vpon his bed vnder a canopie, which was woven with purple & gold and emeralds, and precious stones.

23. So they shewed him of her, and hee came forth vnto the entry of his tent, and they caried lamps of silver before him.

24. And when Iudeth was come before him and his seruants, they all maruelled at the beauty of her countenance, and she fell downe vpon her face, and did reuerence vnto him, and his seruants tooke her vp.

CHAP. XI.

1. Olofernes consumed Iudeth, & And what the cause of her coming. 2. She deuoreth him by her faire words.

Then said Olofernes vnto her, Woman, be of good comfort: feare not in thine heart: for I neuer hurt any that would serue Nabuchodonosor the king of all the earth.

2. Now therefore if chy people that dwelleth in the mountaines, had not despised me, I would not haue lifted vp my speare against them: but they haue procured these things to themselves.

3. But now tel me wherfore thou art fled from them, and art come vnto vs: for thou art come for safegard: be of good comfort, thou shalt liue from

* Judy 7. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 6. and 16. 8. 10. 11.

from this night, and hereafter.

4 For none shall hurt thee, but intreat thee well, as they do the seruants of king Nabuchodonosor my lord.

5 Then Iudeth sayde vnto him, Receive the words of thy seruant, and suffer thine handmaid to speake in thy presence, and I will declare vnto thee my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt follow the words of thy handmaid, God will bring the thing perfectly to passe by thee, and my lord shall not faile of his purpose.

7 As Nabuchodonosor king of all the earth Iudeth, and as his power is of force, who hath sent thee to reforme all persons, not onely men shall be made subiect to him by thee, but also the beasts of the fields, and the cattell, and the foules of the heauen shall liue by thy power vnder Nabuchodonosor and all his house.

8 For we haue heard of thy wisdom and of thy prudent spirit, and it is declared thorow the whole earth, that thou only art excellent in all the kingdomes, and of a wonderful knowledge, and in feats of warre marueilous.

* Chap. 5.

9 Now * as concerning the matter which Achior did speak in thy council, we haue heard his words: for the men of Bethulia did take him, and he declared vnto them all that he had spoken vnto thee.

10 Therefore, O lord and gouernour, trust not his word, but set it in thine heart, for it is true: for there is no punishment against our people, neither can the word preuaile against them, except they sinne against their God.

11 Now therefore, lest my lord should be frustrate, and void of his purpose, and that death may fall vpon them, and that they may be taken in their sinnes whiles they prouoke their God to anger, which is so oft times as they do that which is not becoming.

12 (For because their victuals faile, and all their water is wasted, they haue determined to take their cattell, and haue purposed to consume all things that God had forbidden them to eat by his Lawes.

13 Yea, they haue purposed to consume the first fruits of the wheat, & the tithes of the wine, and of the oile which they had reserved and sanctified for the Priests that serue in Ierusalem before the face of our God: the which things it is not lawful for any of the people to touch with their hands,

14 Moreover they haue sent to Ierusalem, because they also that dwell there, haue done the like, such as should bring them licence from the Senate.)

15 Now when they shall bring them word, they will do it, and they shall be giuen thee to be destroyed the same day.

16 Wherefore I thine handmaid, knowing all this, am fled from their presence, & God hath sent me to worke a thing with thee, whereof all the earth shall wonder, and whosoever shall heare it.

17 For thy seruant seareth God, and worshippeth the God of heauen day and night, & now let me remaine with thee, my lord, and let thy seruant go out in the night into the valley, and I will pray vnto God, that he may reuise vnto me when they shall commit their sinnes.

18 And I will come and shew it vnto thee: then thou shalt go forth with all thine armie, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee.

19 And I will lead thee thorow the mids of Iudoa, vntill thou come before Ierusalem, and I will set thy throne in the mids thereof, and thou shalt drive them as sheep that haue no shepherd, and a dog shall not barke with his mouth against thee: for these things haue bene spoken vnto me, and declared vnto mee according to my foreknowledge, I am sent to shew thee.

20 ¶ Then her words pleased Olofernes, and all his seruants, and they marueiled at her wisdom, and sayd,

21 There is not such a woman in all the world, both for beauty of face, and wisdom of words.

22 Likewise Olofernes sayd vnto her, God hath done this, to send thee before the people, (Or, As it doth will, that strength might be in our hands, and destruction vpon them that despise my lord.

23 And now thou art both beautifull in thy countenance, and witty in thy wordes: surely if thou doe as thou hast spoken, thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of Nabuchodonosor, and shalt be renowned thorowout the whole earth.

CHAP. XII.

1 Iudeth would not partake her selfe with the meat of the Gentiles.

2 She maketh request that three nightes go out by night in pray.

3 Olofernes causeth her to come to the banquet.

Then hee commanded to bring her in where his treasures were laide, and bade that they should prepare for her of his owne meates, and that shee should drinke of his owne wine.

2 Put Iudeth sayd, * I may not eate of them,  Gen. 43. 16: deus. 1. 5. 10. 12.* lest there should bee an offence, but I can suffice my selfe with the things that I haue brought.

3 Then Olofernes said vnto her, If the things that thou hast should faile, how should we giue thee the like? for there is none with vs of thy nation.

4 Then said Iudeth vnto him, As thy soule liueth, my lord, thine handmaide shall not spend those things that I haue, before the Lord work by mine hand the things that he hath determined.

5 Then the seruants of Olofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept vntill midnight, and rose at the morning watch.

6 And sent to Olofernes, saying, Let my lord command that thine handmaid may go forth vnto prayer.

7 Then Olofernes commanded his guard that they should not stay her: thus shee abode in the campe three dayes, and went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed her selfe in a fountaine, euen in the water by the campe.

8 And when she came out, she prayed vnto the Lord God of Israel, that he would direct her way to the exaltation of the children of her people.

9 So shee returned, and remained pure in the tent, vntill she ate her meat at euening.

10 ¶ And in the fourth day, Olofernes made a feast to his owne seruants only, and called none of them to the banquet, that had the affaires in hand.

11 Then said herto Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge ouer all that he had, Go and perswade this Hebrew woman which is with thee, that shee come vnto vs, and eat and drinke with vs.

12 For it were a shame for vs, if we should see such a woman alone, and not talke with her, and if we do not allure her, she will mocke vs.

13 Then went Bagoas from the presence of Olofernes, and came to her, and sayd, Let not this faile fair maid make difficulte to go in to my lord, and so be honoured in his presence, and to dwell with wine with veyfully, and to be increased as one of the daughters of the children of Assur, which remains in the house of Nabuchodonosor.

14 Then said Iudith vnto him, Who art thou, that I should gain say my lord? Surely whatsoeuer please him, I will do quickly, and it shall be my joy vnto the day of my death.

15 So shee strooke and mimed her with garments, and with all the ornaments of women, and her maid went, and fered forth her skynes on the ground euer against Olofernes, which she had receiued of Bagoas for her dayly vse, that she might sit and eat vpon them.

16 Now when Iudith came and lay downe, Olofernes heart was raiued with her, and his spirit was moued, and he desired greatly her company: for hee had waited for the time to desire her from the day that he had taken her.

17 Then said Olofernes vnto her, Drink now, and be merry with vs.

18 So Iudith said, I drinke now, my lord, because my state is exalted this day more then euer it was since I was borne.

19 Then sheooke, and ate and dranke before him the things which her maid had prepared.

20 And Olofernes reioyced because of her, and dranke much more wine then he had drunke at any time in one day since he was borne.

CHAP. XIII.

Now when the evening was come, his seruants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut his door without, and dismissed those that were present from the presence of his lord, and they went to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had bene long.

21 And Iudith was left alone in the tent, and Olofernes was stretched along vpon his bed: for he was filled with wine.

22 Now Iudith had commanded her mayd to stand without her chamber, and to waite for her coming forth as she did daily: for she said, she would go soorth to her prayers, and she spoke to Bagoas according to the same purpose.

23 So all went forth in her presence, and none was left in the chamber, neither little nor great: then Iudith standing by his bed said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, behold at this present the workes of mine hands for the exaltation of Ierusalem.

24 For now is the time to helpe thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterprises, to the destruction of the enemies which are risen against vs.

25 Then she came to the post of the bed which was at Olofernes head, and tooke downe his chain from thence.

26 And approached to the bed, and tooke hold of the haire of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day.

27 And she smote vpon his necke, with all her might, and she tooke away his head from him.

28 And rolled his body downe from the bed, and pulled downe the canopie from the pillars, and anon after she went forth, and gaue Olofernes head to her maid.

29 And she put it in her scrip of meat: so they twaine went together according to their custome vnto prayer, and preassing throu the rente, went about by that valley, and went vp the mountaine of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

30 Then said Iudith as she off to the watchmen at the gates, Open now the gates: God, euen our God is with vs, to shew his power yet in Ierusalem, and his force against his enemies, as hee hath euen done this day.

31 Now when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go downe to the gate of their city, and they called the Elders of the city.

32 And they ranne all together both small and great: for it was about their expectation, that she should come. So they opened the gates, and receiued her, & made a fire for a light, and flood round about them twaine.

33 Then she sayd to them with a loud voyce, Praise God, praise God: for hee hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by mine hands this night.

34 So she tooke the head out of the scrip, and shewed it, and said vnto them, Behold the head of Olofernes, the chiefe captaine of the army of Assur, and behold the canopie wherein hee did lie in his drunkenesse, and the Lord hath smitten him by the hand of a woman.

35 As the Lord liveth, who hath kept me in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceived him to his destruction, and he hath not committed shame with me by any pollution or villeny.

36 Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and sayd with one accord, Blessed be thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people.

37 Then said Othias vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the most high God above all the women of the earth, and blessed be the Lord God, which hath created the heavens and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chiefe of our enemies.

38 Surely this thine hope shall neuer depart out of the hearts of men: for they shall remember the power of God for euer.

39 And God turne these things to thee for a perpetuall praise, and visit thee with good things, because thou hast not spared thy life, because of the affliction of our nation, but thou hast holpen our ruine, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

CHAP. XIII.

Iudith caught up the head of Olofernes, & Achist sought himselfe to the people of God, & the Israelites goe out against the Assyrians.

Then said Iudith vnto them, Hear me also, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it vpon the highest place of your walles.

2 And so soone as the morning shall appeare, and the sunne shall come soorth vpon the earth, take you every one his weapons, and goe soorth eury valiant man out of the cite, and ser you a captaine over them, as though you would goe downe into the field toward the watch of the Assyrians, but goe not downe.

3 Then they shall take their armour, and shal goe into their campe, and raise up the captaines of the armie of Assur, and they shall come to the tent of Olofernes, but shall not finde him: then feare shall fall vpon them, and they shall flee before fore

For your fire.

4. Affix came from the mountains fourth of the North: he came with the fowle in his army, whose multitude hath covered the rivers; and their hostmen have covered the valleys.

5. He said that he would burne up my borders and kill my young men with the sword, and dash the sucking children against the ground, & make mine infants an prey, and my virgins a spoyle.

6. But the Almighty Lord hath brought them to nought by the hand of a woman: thus againt

7. For the way they did not fall by the young men, neither did the fowles of Tien strike him, nor the high flying quade him; but Iudah the daughter of Merari did overcome him by the beauty of her countenance.

8. Forthwith all the garments of her widow hood, for the isolation of shee shee were oppressed in Israel, and having other face with ornament, she bound up her hair in a coile, and took a linnen garment to deceive him.

9. Her slippery tumbled his eyes, chee he mistooke his mude prisoner, and the fowling passed through his dect, to his shoulde.

10. The Persians were astonished at her beauty, and the Medes were troubled with her hardnesse, and they sought a way to kill her.

11. But mine afflicted rejoyced, and my little ones shouted when they sawed they lived up their voice, and turned backes to see into her face.

12. The children of mayde feared them, and wounded them as they fled, and they like children: they perished by the battell of the Lord, and I will sing unto the Lord a song and psalme.

13. O Lord, thou art great and glorious, and terrible, and insurmountable in power.

14. Let all thy creatures give thee praise, for thou hast spoken and they were made: thou hast sent thy spirit, and he made them, and there is none that can resist thy power.

15. For the mountains leaped up from their foundations, and the waters, the rocks, and at thy presence like waxe: yet thou art mercifull to them that feare thee.

16. For all sacrifice is too little, for thy favour, favour, and altho thou art too little for thy burnt offering: but he that feareth the Lord, is great at all times.

17. Woe to the nations that rise up against my kinde: the Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgement, in sending fire and wormes upon their flesh, and they shall feele this, and weep for ever.

18. Affix, when they went unto Jerusalem, they worshipped the Lord, as all those as the people were punished, they offered their burnt offerings, and their free offerings, and their gifts.

19. Iudah also offered all the fowle of Olofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the same which she had taken off his bed, for an oblation to the Lord.

20. So the people rejoyced in Jerusalem by the Sanctuary for the space of three months, and Iudah remained with them.

21. After this time, every one returned to his own inheritance, and Iudah went to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was for her time honourable in all the country.

22. And she married her, but none had her company all the dayes of her life, after that Manasses her husband was dead, and was gathered to his people.

23. But she increased more and more in honor, and was able in her husbands house, being a hundred and fifty years old, and made her maid free, who shee died in Bethulia, and they buried her in the grave of her husband Manasses.

24. And the house of Israel lamented her seven dayes, and before shee died, shee did distribute her goods to all them that were neere of kinred to Manasses her husband, and to them that were the neere of other kinred.

25. And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraid in the dayes of Iudah, for a long time after her death.

Then Mardocheus said, God hath done these things.

For I remember a dream, which I sawe concerning these matters, and there was nothing that I could say.

6. All the fountaine which became a flood, and was a light, and as the sunne, and as much water, this flood was Esther whom the King married, and made Queene.

7. And the two dragons are I and Aman.

8. And the people are they that are assembled to destroy the name of the Jewes.

9. And my people is Israel, which cried to God, and are saved for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all these evils, and God hath wrought signes, & great wonders, which have not bene done among the Gentiles.

10. Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, & another for all the Gentiles

11. And these two lots came before God for all nations, at the houre and time appoynted, and in the day of judgement.

12. So God remembered his owne people, and justified his inheritance.

son of Cis of the tribe of Benjamin had a dream.

A Jew dwelling in the city of Susa, a noble man, that bare office in the kings court.

He was also one of the captiues which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon brought fro Jerusalem with Iechonias.

And this was his dream. Behold a noise of tempest with thunders, and earthquakes, and uproare in the land.

Behold, two great dragons came forth ready to fight one against another.

Their cry was great whereby all the heathen were ready to fight against the righteous people.

And the same day was full of darkenes and obscuritie, and trouble, and anguish, yea, aduersitie, and great affliction was vpon the earth.

For then the righteous fearing their afflictions, were amazed, and being ready to dis, trayed vnto God.

And while they were crying, I little wel grew into a great river, & flowed ouer a great waters.

The light and the sunne rose vp, and the lowly were exalted, and deuoured the glorious.

Now when Mardocheus had seene this dreame, he awoke and rose vp, and thought in his heart vntill the night, what God would doe, and so he desired to know all the matter.

CHAP. XII

The same time dwelt Mardocheus in the kings court with Bagathas, and Thara, the kings eunuches, and keepers of the palace.

But when he had their purpose, and their imaginations, he perceived that they went about to slay him secretly, vpon the King Artaxerxes, and so he certified the king thereof.

Then caused the king to examine the two eunuches with torment, and when they had confessed it, they were put to death.

This speaking caused to be put in the Chronicles. Mardocheus also wrote the same thing.

So the king commanded that Mardocheus should remaine in the court, and for the aduersitiment, he gaue him a reward.

But Amen the sonne of Amadathus the Agagite, which was in great honor and reputation with the king, went about to hurt Mardocheus and his people, because of the two eunuches of the king that were put to death.

CHAP. XIII

The copy of the letters of Artaxerxes against the Jews.

The copy of the letters was this. The great King Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes and gouernours that are vnder him from India vnto Ethiopia in an hundred and seuen and twentie provinces.

When I was made lord ouer many people, and had subdued the whole earth vnto my domination, I would glorifie my selfe by the reason of my power, but purposed with equitie alway and gentleness to gouerne my subiects, and wholly to set them in a peaceable life, and thereby to bring my kingdome vnto tranquillitie, that men might safely goe, thence on euery side, and so I haue kept peace againe which all men desire.

Now when I asked my counsaillers howe these things might be brought to pass, one that was conuersant with vs, of excellent wisdom, and constant in good will, and shewed himselfe to be of true fidelitie, which had the second place in the kingdome, euen Aman.

Declared vnto vs, that in all nations there was feared abroad a rebellious people, that had lawes contrary to all people, and haue alway despised the commandements of kings, and so that this generall empire, that we haue begun, cannot be gouerned without offence.

Seeing now we perceiue, that this people alone are altogether contrary vnto euery man, vsing strange & other manner of lawes, and hauing an euill opinion of our doings, and goe about to stablish wicked matters, that our kingdome should not come to good estate.

Therefore haue wee commaunded, that all they that are appointed in writing vnto you by Aman (which is ordeined ouer the affaires, and is as our second father) shall all with their wives and children bee destroyed and rooted out with the sword of their enemies without al mercy, and that none bee spared the fourteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar of this yeere.

That they which of old, and now also haue ever bin rebellious, may in one day with violence be thrust downe into the hell, to the intent that after this time our affaires may be without troubles, and well gouerned in all points.

Then Mardocheus thought vpon all the works of the Lord, & made his prayer vnto him.

Saying, O Lord, Lord, I king almighty (for all things are in thy power) & if thou hast appointed to smite Israel, there is no man that can withstand thee.

For thou hast made heauen and earth, and all the wondrous things vnder the heauen.

Thou art Lord of all things, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord.

Thou knowest all things, & thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither of malice, nor presumption, nor for any desire of glory, that I did this, and not bowe downe to proud Aman.

For I would haue bene content with good will for the salvation of Israel, to haue lost the life of this life.

But I did it, because I would not preferre the honour of a man aboue the glory of God, and would not worship any but onely thee, my Lord, and this haue I not done of pride.

And therefore, O Lord God and King, haue mercy vpon thy people, for they imagin how they may bring vs to nought, yet they would destroy inheritance that hath bin thine from beginning.

Defesse mee the portion which thou hast deliuered out of Egypt for thine owne selfe.

Heare my prayer, and be mercifull vnto thy portion: turne our sorow into ioy, that we may liue, O Lord, and prayse thy Name: But not the mouths of them that praise thee.

At Israel in like manner cried most earnestly, vnto the Lord, because death was before their eyes.

CHAP. XIII

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of her and her people.

Verene Esther also, being in danger of death, resorted vnto the Lord.

And I did away her glorious apparel, & put on the garments of sighing, and mourning. In the streete precious ointment, shee scattered aies, & dongue vpon his head: & she humbled her body greatly with fasting, and all the places of her ioy filled she with the haire that she plucked off.

And she prayed vnto the Lord God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou only art our king, helpe me desolate woman, which haue no helpe but thee.

For my danger is at hand.

10 For Aman, a ~~Macdonian~~ ~~the son of~~ ~~Ama~~ ~~dathus,~~

darhns being indeed a stranger from the Persians blood, & far fro our goodnes, was receiued of vs,

11 And hath proued the friendship that wee beare toward al nations, so that he was called our father, & was honoured of euery man, as the next person vnto the King.

12 But hee could not vse himselfe toberly in this great dignitie, but went about to depriue vs of the kingdome, and of our life.

13 With manifold deceit also hath hee desired to destroy Mardocheus our preseruer, which had done vs good in all things, & innocent. Ester the partaker of our kingdome, with all hernation.

14 For his mind was (when he had taken them out of the way) to lay wait for vs, and by this meane to translate the kingdome of the Persians vnto them of Macedonia.

15 But we find that the Iewes (which were accused of this most wicked man, that they might be destroyed) are no cuill doers, but vse most iust lawes.

16 And that they be the children of the most High and Almighty and euertuuing God, by who the kingdome hath bene preserued vnto vs, and our progenitours in very good order.

17 Wherefore ye shall doe well, if ye doe not put in execution those letters, that Aman the son of Amadathus did write vnto you.

18 For he that inuented them, hangeth at Susis before the gates with all his fauour, and God (which hath allthings in his power) hath speedily rewarded him after his deserving.

19 Therefore ye shall publish the copy of this letter in all places, that the Iewes may freely liue after their owne lawes.

20 And ye shall aid them, that vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar they may be auenged of them, which in the time of their trouble would haue oppressed them.

21 For Almighty God hath turned to ioy the day wherein the chosen people should haue perished.

22 Moreouer, among other soleme dayes ye shall keepe this day with all gladnesse,

23 That both now and in time to come, this day may be a remembrance of deliuerance for vs, and all such as loue the prosperitie of the Persians, but a remembrance of destruction to those that be sedicious vnto vs.

24 Therefore all cities and countreyes that do not this, shall horribly be destroyed with sword and fire, and shall not onely not bee inhabited of men, but be abhorred also of the wild beastes and foules for euer.

THE WISEDOME OF SALOMON.

CHAP. I.

How we ought to knowe God, and to desire after him. 1 Who he is that sheweth him. 2 The holy Ghost. 3 We ought to flee from backbiting and murmuring. 4 Wherof death cometh. 5 Righteousnesse and chastitie counsaile.

Wise *righteousnesse, ye that bee Judges of the earth: thinke reuerently of the Lord, and seeke him in simplicitie of heart.

2 For hee will bee found of them: that tempt him not, & appeareth vnto such as be not vnfaithfull vnto him.

3 For wicked thoughtes separate from God: & his power when it is tried, reprooueth the vnwise.

4 Because wisdom cannot enter into a wicked heart, nor dwell in the body that is subiect vnto sinne.

5 For the holy * Spirit of discipline fleeth from deceit, and withdraweth himselfe from the thoughtes that are without vnderstanding, and is rebuked when wickednesse cometh.

6 For the Spirit of wisdom * is louing, & will not absolue him, that blasphemeth with his lips: for God is a witnesse of his reines, and a true beholder of his heart, and an hearer of the tongue.

7 For the Spirit of the Lorde filleth all the world: and the same that maintaineth all things, hath knowledge of the voyce.

8 Therefore hee that speaketh varighteous things cannot behid: neither shall the iudgement of reproch let him escape.

9 For inquisition shalbe made for the thoughtes of the vngodly, and the sound of his wordes shall come vnto God for correction of his iniquities.

10 For the eare of ielousie, heareth all things, and the noise of the grudgings shall not behid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which profiteth nothing: and refrain your tongue from flander: for there is no word so secret, that shall goe for nought, & the mouth that speaketh lies, slayeth the soule.

12 Seeke not death in the errour of your life: * destroy not your selues thorow the workes of your owne hands.

13 For God hath not made death, neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the liuing:

14 For hee created all things, that they might haue their being: & the generations of the world are preserued, & there is no payson of destruction in them, & the kingdom of hel is not vpon earth.

15 For righteousness is immortall, but vnrighteousnesse bringeth death.

16 And the vngodly call * it vnto them both with hands and wordes: and while they thinke to haue a friend of it, they come to nought: for they are confederate with it: therefore are they worthy to be partakers thereof.

CHAP. II.

The imagination and desires of the wicked, and their counsaile against the faithfull.

For the vngodly say, as they falsly imagine with themselves, * our life is short and tedious: and in the death of a man there is no recouerie, neither was any knownen that hath returned from the graue.

2 For we are borne at all aduenture, and wee shall be hereafter as though wee had neuer bene: for the breath is a smoke in our nostrils, and the words as a sparke raised out of our heart.

3 Which being extingished, the body is turned into ashes, & the Spirit vanisheth as the soft aire.

4 Our life shall passe away as the trace of a cloud, & come to nought as the miste that is driuen away with the beames of the sunne, and cast downe with the heat thereof. Our name also shall be forgotten in time, and no man shall haue our works in remembrance.

5 For our time is as a shadowe that passeth away, and after our end there is no returning: for it is fast sealed, so that no man commeth againe.

7 Let vs sit our selues with costly wine & ointments, and let vs use the flower of life passe by vs.
8 Let vs crowne our selues with rose buds afore they be withered.
9 Let vs all be partakers of our wantonnesse: let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in every place: for that is our portion, and this is our lot.
10 Let vs oppress the poore that is righteous: let vs not spare the widow, nor reverence white haire of the aged, that haue many years.
11 Let our strength be as the Law of vnrighousnesse: for the thing that is feeble is reprooed as vnprofitable.
12 Therefore let vs defraud the righteous: for he is not for our profit, and he is contrary to our doings: he checketh vs for offending against the Law, and blameth vs as transgressors of discipline.
13 He maketh his boast to haue the knowledge of God, & he calleth himselfe the son of the Lord.
14 He is made to reprove our thoughts.
15 It grieveth vs also to looke vpon him: for his life is not like our manners: his wayes are of another fashion.
16 He counteth vs as bastards, and he withdraweth himselfe from our wayes as from filthinesse: hee commendeth greatly the latter end of the iust, and boasteth that God is his father.
17 Let vs see then if his wordes bee true: let vs prooue what end he shall haue.
18 For if the righteous man be the sonne of God, he will helpe him, and deliuer him from the hands of his enemies.
19 Let vs examine him with rebukes & torments, that we may know his weaknesse, and proue his patience.
20 Let vs condemne him vnto a shameful death: for he shall be preferred as he himselfe saith.
21 Such things do they imagine, & go allray: for their owne wickednesse hath blinded them.
22 And they do not vnderstand the mysteries of God: neither hope for the reward of righteousness, nor can they see the honour of the Soules that are faithful.
23 For God created man without corruption, & made him after the image of his owne iudgements.
24 * Nevertheless, thorow enuy of the deuill came death into the world: and they that hold of his side proue it.

CHAP. III.

1 The multitude and wisdom of the righteous, & the reward of the faithful.
2 Vnto the soules of the righteous are in the hand of God, and no torment shall touch them.
3 In the sight of the vnwise they appeared to die, and their end was thought grieuous.
4 And their departing from vs, destruction, but they are in peace.
5 And though they suffer paine before men, yet is their hope full of immortality.
6 They are punished, but in few things, yet in many things that they be well rewarded: for God proueth them, & findeth them more for himselfe.
7 He tryeth them as the gold in the furnace, and receiveth them as a perfect sacrifice.
8 And in the time of their affliction they shall shine, and runne thorow as the sparkes among the stubble.
9 They shall iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people, and their Lord shall reigne for euer.

10 They that trust in him shall vnderstand the truth, and the faine shall remaine with him in foure: for grace and mercy is among his Saints, and he regardeth his elect.
11 But the vngodly shall be punished according to their imaginations: for they haue despised the righteous, and forsaken the Lord.
12 Who so despiseth wisdom & discipline is miserable, and their hope is vaine, & their labours are foolish, and their works vnprofitable.
13 Their wives are vndiscreet, & their children wicked: their offering is cursed.
14 Therefore the barren is blessed which is vndesired, and knoweth not the sinfull deed: she shall haue fruit in the visitation of the soules.
15 And the eunuch, which with his hands hath not wrought iniquity, nor imagined wicked things against God: for vnto him shall bee giuen the speciall gift of faith, and an acceptable portion in the Temple of the Lord.
16 For wisdom is the root of good labours, & the roote of wisdom shall neuer fade away.
17 But the children of aduersity shall not be partakers of the holy things, and the seede of the wicked shall be rooted out.
18 And though they liue long, yet shall they be nothing regarded, & their last age shall be without honour.
19 If they die hastily, they haue no hope, neither comfort in the day of death.
20 For horrible is the end of the wicked generation.
21 CHAP. IIII.
Of spirit and the commodity thereof, & the death of the righteous, and the resurrection of the vnjust.
1 Eternis bairnnesse with vertue: for the me-moriall thereof is immortall: for it is known with God and with men.
2 When it is present, men take example thereof, and if it go away, yet they desire it: it is alway aroued and triumpheth and winneth the battell and he vndefiled & rewarded.
3 But the multitude of the vngodly which is bound in children is vnprofitable: and the bastard plants shall take no deeper roote, nor lay any fast foundation.
4 For though they bud forth in the branches for a time, yet they shall be shaken with the wind, for they stand not fast, and through the vehemencie of the wind they shall be rooted out.
5 For the vnperfit branches shall be broken, and their fruit shall be vnprofitable and sower to eate, and meet for nothing.
6 For all the children that are borne of the wicked bed, shall be witness of the wickedness against their parents when they be asked.
7 But though the righteous be prevented with death, yet shall he be in rest.
8 For the honourable age is not that which is of long time, neither that which is measured by the number of yeeres.
9 But wisdom is the gray haire, and an vn-desired life is the old age.
10 He pleased God, and was beloved of him, for that where as he liued among sinners, he reuerenced him.
11 He was taken away, lest wickednesse should will laugh them to scorne.

19 So that they shal fall hereafter without hon our, & shal haue a shame among the dead for e uermore: for without any voice shal he burst them and cast them downe, & shake them fro the founda tions, so that they shalbe vterly wasted, & they shalbe in sorow, and their memorie shall perish.

20 So they being afraid, shall remember their sines, and their owne wickednes shall come be fore them to conuince them.

CHAP. V.

1 The constancie of the righteous before their persecutors. 24
The hope of the vnfaithfull is vaine. 25 The blessedness of the Saints and godly.

Then shall the righteous stand in great bold nesse before the face of such as haue torment ed him, and taken away his labours.

2 When they see him, they shalbe vexed with horrible feare, and shall be amazed for his won derfull deliuerance.

3 And shall change their mindes, and sigh for griefe of minde, and say within themselues,
This is he whome we sometime had in derision and in a parable of reproh.

4 We foolles thought his life madnesse, and his end without honour.

5 How is hee counted among the children of God, and his portion is among the Saints!

6 Therefore we haue erred fro the way of truth,
& the light of righteousness hath not shined vnto vs: & the sun of vnderstanding rose not vpon vs.

7 Wee haue wearied our selues in the way of wickednesse and destruction, and wee haue gone through dangerous wayes: but wee haue not known the way of the Lord.

8 What hath pride profited vs? or what pro fit hath the pompe of riches brought vs?

9 All those things are passed away like a shadow: and as a poste that passeth by:

10 As a ship that passeth ouer the waues of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof canot be found, neither y path of it in the floods:

11 Or as a bird that flieth thorow in the aire, & no man can see any token of her passage, but only heare the noise of her wings, beating the light wind, parting the aire through the vehemency of her going, & flieth on shaking her wings, where as afterward no token of her way can be found:

12 Or as when an arrow is shot at a marke, it parteth the aire, which immediatly commeth to gether againe, so that a man cannot know where it went thorow.

13 Euen so we, as soone as we were borne, we be gan to draw to our end, & haue shewed no token of verus, but are consumed in our owne wickednes.

14 For the hope of the vngodly is like the dust that is blown away with the wind, & like a thin fume is scattered abroad, & the storme, and as the smoke which is dispersed with the wind, & as the remembrance of him passeth, & carrieth but for a day.

15 But the righteous shall liue for euer: their reward also is with the Lord, and the most High hath care of them.

16 Therefore shall they receiue a glorious kingdome, and a beautifull crowne of the Lords hand: for with his right hand shal he couer them, and with his arme he defend them.

17 He shal take his ielousie for armour, & shal arme the creatures to be reuenged of the enemies.

18 He shall put on righteousness for a brestplate, and take true iudgement in stead of an helmet.

19 He will take holines for an inuincible shield.

20 He will sharpen his fierce wrath for a sword,
& the world shal fight with him against vnwise.

21 Then shal the thunderbolts go streight out of the bent bow of the clouds, and out of his an ger that throweth stones, shal thick haile be cast, and the water of the sea shall bee wroth against them, and the floods shall mightily ouerflow.

22 And a mightie wind shall stand vp against them, and like a storme shall scatter them abroad.
Thus iniquitie shall bring all the earth to a wil dernesse, and wickednesse shall overthrow the thrones of the mightie.

CHAP. VI.

The calling of Kings, Princes, and Iudges, which are also exhorted to search wisdom.

Hear therefore, O ye kings, and vnderstand:
Heare, ye ye iudges of the ends of the earth.

2 Giue eare, ye that rule the multitudes, and glory in the multitude of people.

3 For the rule is giuen you of the Lord, and power by the most high, which will trie your works, and search out your imaginations.

4 Because that ye being officers of his king dome, haue not iudged aright, nor kept the Law, nor walked after the will of God,

5 Horribly & suddenly wil he appeare vnto you:
for an hard iudgment shal they haue to beare rule.

6 For he that is most low is worthy mercie, but the mighty shalbe mightily tormented.

7 For he is Lord ouer all, will spare no per son, neither shal he feare any greatnes: for he hath made the smal and great, and call eth for all alike.

8 But for the mightie abideth the soer triall.

9 Vnto you therefore, O tyrants, doe I speake, that ye may learne wisdom, and not goe amisse.

10 For they that keepe holinesse holily, shall be holy, and they that are learned there, shal finde a defence.

11 Wherefore set your delight vpon my words and desire them, and ye shalbe instructed.

12 Wisdom shal shew them that loue her, & found of such as seeke her.

13 Shee preuenteth them that desire her, that she may first shew her selfe vnto them.

14 Who so awaketh vnto her betimes, shall haue no great trauaile: for he shal find her sitting at his doores.

15 To thinke vpon her then is perfect vnder standing: and who so watcheth for her, shall be soone without care.

16 For she goeth about, seeking such are meet for her & me with her love & charity vnto them in the water, and meete them in the thought.

17 For the most true desire of discipline is her beginning: and the care of discipline is love.
18 And love is the keeping of the lawes, & the keeping of lawes is the assurance of immortality.
19 And immortality maketh vs here vnto God.
20 Therefore the desire of wisdom leadeth to the kingdom.

21 If your delight bee then in thrones, and scepters, O kings of the people, honour wisdom, that ye may reigne for ever.

22 Now I will tell you what wisdom is, and whence it cometh, & will not hide the mysteries from you, but will seeke her out fro the beginning of her iustitie, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not keepe backe the truth.

23 Neither will I haue to do with consuming envy:
for such a man shall not be partaker of wisdom.

24 But the multitude of wife is the preseruacion of the world: & a wife king is the stay of people.

25 Be therefore instructed by my wordes, and ye shall haue profit.

CHAP. VII.

Wisdom ought to be preferred aboue all things.
I My selfe am also mortal & a man like all other,
and am come of him: I was first made of earth.

2 And in my mothers wombe, was I fashion-ned to be flesh in ten moneths: I was brought together into blood of the seede of man, and by the pleasure that cometh with sleepe.

3 And when I was borne, I receiued the common aire, & fel vpon the earth, which is of like nature, crying & weeping at the first as all other do.

4 I was nourished in swaddling clothes, and with cares.

5 For there is no king that had any other beginning of birth.

6 All men then haue one entrance vnto life, and alike going out.

7 Wherefore I praised & vnderstanding was giue me: I called & the spirit of wisdom came vnto me.

8 I preferred her to scepters and thrones, and counted riches nothing in comparison of her.

9 Neither did I compare precious stones vnto her: for all gold is but a little grauell in respect of her, and silver shall be counted but clay before her.

10 I loued her aboue health and beauty, and purposed to take her for my light: for her light cannot be quenched.

11 All good things therefore came to me together with her, and innumerable riches through her hands.

12 So I was glad in all: for wisdom was the author thereof, and I knew not that shee was the mother of these things.

13 And I learned vnfainedly, and communicated without enie, and I doe not hide her riches.

14 For shee is an infinite treasure vnto me, which who so yle, become partakers of the love of God, and are accepted for the gifts of knowledge.

15 God hath granted me to speake according to my minde, and to iudge worthily of the things that are giuen me: for he is the leader vnto wis-dome, and the director of the wise.

16 For in his hand are both we & our wordes, and all wisdom, & the knowledge of the workes.

17 For hee hath giuen me the true knowledge of the things that are, so that I knowe how the world was made, and the powers of the elements.

18 The beginning & the end, & the mids of the world, & the changes of seasons.

19 The course of yere, the meditation of the sun, 20 The manner of making things, & the subtilties of beasts, & power of winds, & the imaginaries of men, & the secret of plants, & the vertues of roots.

21 And all things both secret and knowne do
I know: for wisdom the worker of all things, hath taught me it.

22 For in her is spirit of vnderstanding, which is holy, the only begotte, manifold labell, moueable, cleere, vnderstandet, not iustifiy, fountaine of goodnes, which cannot be lesed doing good.

23 Courteous, able to see without care, having all power, circumspect in all things, and passing thorow all intellectuall pure and subtill finits.

24 For wisdom is nimbler then all nimble things: she goeth thorow and attaineth to all things, because of her perennitie.

25 For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence, that floweth from the glory of the Almighty: therefore can no defiled thing come vnto her.

26 For she is the brightnes of the euertlasting light, the vndefiled mirror of the maiesty of God, and the image of his goodnesse.

27 And being one, she can doe all things, and remaining in her selfe, reneweth all, & according to the ages shee entrench into the holy soules, and maketh them friends of God and Prophets.

28 For God loueth none, if he dwell not with wisdom.

29 For shee is more beautifull then the sunne, and is aboue all the order of the starres, and the light is not to be compared vnto her.

30 For night cometh vpon it, but wickednesse cannot overcome wisdom.

CHAP. VIII.

Shee also reacheth from one end to another mightily, & comely doth shee order all things.

2 I haue loued her, and sought her from my youth: I desired to marry her, such loue had I vnto her beaurtie.

3 In she is conuersant with God, it commendeth her nobility: yea, Lord of all things loueth her.

4 For shee is the scholemistris of the knowledge of God, and shee chuse out of his workes.

5 If riches be a possesio to be desired in this life, what is richer then wisdom, & worketh all things?

6 For if prouidence worketh, what is it among all things, that worketh better then shee?

7 If a man loue righteousness, her labours are vertuous: for she teacheth sobriety and pruden-cie, righteousness & strength, which are the most profitable things that men can haue in this life.

8. If a man desire great experience, shee can tell the things that are past, and discern things to come: she knoweth the subtilties of wordes, and the solutions of darke sentences: shee telleth the signes and wonders, of euer they come to passe, and the successe of seasons and times.

9 Therefore I purposed to take her vnto my company, knowing that shee would counsell me good things, and comfort me in cares & griefes.

10 For her sake shall I haue glory among the multitude, and honour among the Elders though I be yong.

11 I shall be found of sharp iudgement, so that I shall be marueilous in the sight of great men.

12 When I hold my tongue, they shall abide my leisure: when I speake, they shall heare diligently,
and

and if I talke much, they shal lay their hands vpon their mouth.

13 Moses, by her I shall obtaine immortallie, and leane an euertlasting memoriall among them that come after me.

14 I shall gouerne the people, and the nations shalbe subdued vnto me.

15 Horrible tyrants shall be afraid when they heare me: among the multitude I shal lbe counted good, and mighty in battell.

16 When I come home, I shall rest with her: for her company hath no bitternesse, and her fellowship hath no rediousnesse, but mirth and ioy.

17 Now when I considered these things by my selfe, and pondered them in mine heart, how that to be ioyned vnto wisdom is immortalitie.

18 And great pleasure is in her friendship, and that in the works of her hands are infinit riches, and that in the exercise of talking with her is prudence, & glory by communing with her, I went about seeking how I might take her vnto me.

19 For I was a witty child, and was of a good spirit.

20 Yea, rather being good, I came to an vnde-filed body.

21 Neuertheles, when I perceiued that I could not enioy her except God gaue her, (and that was a point of wisdom also, to knowe whose gift it was) I went vnto the Lord, and besought him, and with my whole heart I sayd,

CHAP. IX.

A prayer of Salomon to obtaine wisdom.

O God of fathers, and Lord of mercy, which hast made all things with thy word,

2 And ordeined man through thy wisdom, that he should haue dominion ouer the creatures which thou hast made,

3 And gouerne the world according to equity and righteousnesse, and execute iudgement with an vpriight heart:

4 Give me that wisdom, which setteth by thy throne, and put me not out from among thy children.

5 For I thy seruant, and sonne of thine hand-maid, am a feeble person, & of a short time, & yet lesse in vnderstanding of iudgement & the lawes.

6 And though a man bee neuer so perfect, as mon the children of men, yet if thy wisdom bee not with him, he shalbe nothing regarded.

7 Thou hast chosen me to be a king of thy people, and the Iudge of thy sonnes & daughters.

8 Thou hast commanded me to build a Temple vpon thine holy Mount, & an altar in thy city wherein thou dwellest, a likenes of thine holy Tabernacle, which thou hast prepared fro the beginning.

9 And thy wisdom with thee, which knoweth thy works, which also was when thou madest the world, and which knew what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commandements.

10 Send her out of thine holy heauens, & send her from the throne of thy Maiesty, that she may be with me and labour, that I may know what is acceptable in thy sight.

11 For shee knoweth and vnderstandeth all things, & shee shal leade me soberly in my works, and preferre me by her glory.

12 So shal my works be acceptable, and then shal I gouerne thy people righteously, & be meet for my fathers throne.

13 For what man is he, can know the counsel of God, or who can think what he wil of God is?

14 For the thoughts of mortall men are fearefull, and our forecasts are vncertaine,

15 Because a corruptible body is heauy vnto the soule, and the earthly manison keepeth down the mind that is full of cares,

16 And hardly can we discern the things that are vpon earth, and with great labour find we out the things which are before vs: who can then seeke out the things that are in heauen?

17 Who can know thy counsell, except thou giue him wisdom, and send thine holy Spirit from aboue?

18 For so the wayes of them which are vpon earth are reformed, & men are taught the things that are pleasant vnto thee, and are preferred through wisdom.

CHAP. X.

The deliuerance of the righteous, and destruction of the enemies commeth through wisdom.

She preferred the first father of the world, that was formed, and kept him when hee was created alone, and brought him out of his offence,

2 And gaue him power to rule all things,

3 But the vnrighteous in his wrath departed from her, and perished by killing his brother in his fury.

4 For whose cause the earth was ouerflown, but wisdom preferred it againe, gouerning the iust man by a little wood.

5 Moreouer, when the nations were ioyned in their malicious confederacies, shee knewe the righteous, and preferred him faultlesse vnto God, and kept him sure, because shee loued him tenderly, as a sonne.

6 She preferred the righteous, when the vngodly perished, when he fled from the fire that fel downe vpon the five cities.

7 Of whose wickednesse the wast land that smoketh, yet giueth testimony, and the trees that beare fruit that neuer commeth to ripenesse: and for a remembrance of the vnfaithfull soule, there standeth a pillar of salt.

8 For all such as regarded not wisdom, had not only this hurt, that they knew not the things which were good, but also left behind them vnto men a memorial of their foolishnesse, so that in the things wherein they sinned, they cannot lie hid.

9 But wisdom deliuered them that serued her.

10 When the righteous fled because of his brothers wrath, shee led him the right way, shewed him the kingdome of God, gaue him the knowledge of the holy things, made him rich in his labours, and made his paines profitable.

11 Against the couetousnes of such a defrauded him, shee stood by him and made him rich.

12 Shee saued him fro the enemies, & defended him from them that lay in wait, & shee gaue him the prize in a mighty battell, & hee might know that the feare of God is stronger then all things.

13 When the righteous was sold, shee forsooke him not, but deliuered him from sinne. shee went downe with him into the dungeon,

14 And failed him not in the bands, till shee had brought him the scepter of the realme, and power against those that oppressed him, and them that had accused him, shee declared to bee liars, and gaue him perpetuall glory.

15 She deliuered the righteous people & faultlesse seed from the nations that oppressed them.

16 Shee entered into the soule of the seruant of the Lord, & stood by him in wonders & signes against

* Exod. 7. 20.

7 Declaring by the thirst that was at that time, how thou hadst punished thine aduersaries.

8 For when they were tried and chastised with mercie, they knewe how the vngodly were iudged and punished in wrath.

9 For these hast thou exhorted as a father, and prooued them: but thou hast condemned the other as a righteous king, who thou didst examine the.

10 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alike: for their griefe was double with mourning, & the remembrance of things past.

11 For when they perceiued that thorow their tormentes good came vnto the, they felt the Lord.

12 And seeing the things that came to passe, at the last they wondered at him, whom afore they had cast out, denied and derided: for they had another thirst then the iust.

13 Because of the foolish deuices of their wickednesse wherewith they were deceiued, and worshipped serpents that had not the vse of reason, and vile beasts thou sendest a multitude of vnreasonable beasts vpo them for a vengeance, that they might know, that wherewith a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.

thy vengeance, and scattered abroad throught the power of thy Spirit: but thou hast ordered all things, in measure, number and weight.

18 For thou hast had great strength, & might, and who can withstand the power of thine arm?

19 For as the small thing is the ballance weigheth, so is the world before thee, & as a drop of the morning dew, that falleth downe vpon the earth.

20 But thou hast mercy vpon all: for thou hast power of all things, & maketh as though thou sawest not the sins of men, because they should amend.

21 For thou lovest all the things that are, and hatest none of them whom thou hast made: for thou wouldest haue created nothing that thou hadst hated.

22 And howe might any thing endure, if it were not thy will? or how could any thing bee preserved, except it were called of thee?

23 But thou sparest all: for they are thine, O Lord, which art the louer of soules.

C H A P. XII.

2 The mercy of God toward sinners. 14 The workes of God are vnrepayable. 19 God giueth life vnto the reprobate.

For thine incorruptible spirit is in all things.

2 Therefore thou chastenest them measurably that goe wrong, and warnest them by putting them in remembrance of the things, wherein they haue offended, that leauing wickednesse, they may beleene in thee, O Lord.

3 As for those old inhabitants of the holy land, thou diddest hate them.

* Deut. 9. 9. and 19.
31. and 18. 9, 11.

4 For they committed abominable works, as forceries and wicked sacrifices,

5 And slaying of their own childre wout mercy, & eating of bowels of mans flesh in baketting, where the raging Priests shed abominable blood.

6 And the fathers were the chiefe murderers of the soules deliure of all helpe, whome thou wouldest destroy by the hands of our fathers,

7 That the land which thou lovest aboute all other might be a meet dwelling for the children of God.

8 Neuer thelesse, thou sparedst them also as men, and sendest the forerunners of thine hoste, euen hornets to destroy them by litle and litle.

* Exod. 23. 2. and 23. 2.

9 Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vngodly vnto the righteous in battell, or with cruell beasts, or with one rough word to destroy them together.

10 But in punishing them by litle & litle, thou gauest them space to repent, knowing wel that it was an vnrighteous nation & wicked of nature, and that their thought could neuer be altered.

11 For it was a cursed seed from the beginning: yet hast thou not spared them when they sinned, because thou fearedst any man.

12 For who dare say, What hast thou done? or who dare stand against thy iudgement? or who dare accuse thee for the nations that perish, whom thou hast made? or who dare stand against thee to reuenge the wicked men?

* Rom. 9. 10.

13 For there is none other God but thou, that carest for all things, that thou mayest declare how that thy iudgement is not vnright.

* 1. Pet. 2. 7.

14 There dare neither king nor tyrant in thy sight require accounts of them whome thou hast punished.

15 For so much then as thou art righteous thy selfe, thou orderest all things righteously, thinking it not agreeable to thy power to condemne him that hath not deserved to be punished.

* Job 10. 1, 3.

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteousness, and because thou art Lord of all things, it causeth thee to spare all things.

17 When men thinke thee not to be of a perfect power, thou declarest thy power, and reproveest the boldnesse of the wife.

18 But thou ruling the power, iudgeth with equitie, and gouernest vs with great fauour: for thou mayest shew thy power when thou wilt.

19 By such workes now hast thou taught thy people, that a man should be iust and louing, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope: for thou giuest repentance to sinners.

20 For if thou hast punished the enemies of thy children that had deserued death with so great consideration, and requesting vnto them, giuing them time and place that they might change from their wickednesse,

21 With how great circumspection wilt thou punish thine own childre, vnto whose fathers thou hast sworne & made couenants of good promises?

22 So when thou doest chasten vs, thou punishest our enemies a thousand times more, to the intent that when wee iudge, we should diligently consider thy goodnesse, and when we are iudged, we should hope for mercie.

23 Wherefore thou hast tormented y wicked that haue liued a dissolute life by their own imaginatiōs

24 For they went astray very far in the wayes of errour, & esteemed the beasts, which their enemies despised, for gods, being abused after the manner of children, that haue none vnderstanding.

25 Therefore hast thou sent this punishment that they should be in derision as children without reason.

26 But they that wil not be reformed by those scornfull rebukes, shall feelee the worthy punishment of God.

27 For in those things when they suffered, they disdained: but in these whom they counted godly, when they saw themselves punished by them, they all acknowledged the true God whom afore they had denied to know: therefore came extreme damnation vpon them.

CHAP. XIII.

1 All things be vaine, except the knowledge of God: so Idolaters and Idols are mocked.

2 Vrely all men are vaine by nature, and are ignorant of God, and could not know him that is, by the good things that are seene, neither consider by the works, the workemaster.

3 But they thought the fire, or the winde or the swift aire, or the course of the starres, or the raging water, or the lights of heauen to be gouernours of the world, and gods.

4 Though they had such pleasure in their beautie that they thought them gods, yet should they haue known how much more excellent is he that made them: for the first author of beautie hath created these things.

5 Or if they maruelled at the power, & operation of the, yet should they haue perceiued thereby, how much he that made these things is mightier.

6 For by the greatnesse of their beautie, and of the creatures, the Creatour being compared with them, may be considered.

7 But yet the blame is lesse in these, y seeke God and would find him, & yet peradventure doe erre.

8 For they goe about by his works to seeke him, and are perswaded by the sight, because the things are beautifull that are seene,

3 Howbeit they are not to be excused.

9 For if they can knowe so much, that they can discern the world, why doe they not rather finde out the Lord thereof?

10 But miserable are they, and among the dead is there hope, that call them gods, which are the workes of mens hands, golde, and siluer, and the thing that is invented by art, and the similitude of beasts, or any vaine stoue that hath bene made by the hand of antiquitie.

11 Or as when a carpenter cutteth downe a tree meete for the worke, and pareth off all the barke thereof cunningly, and by arte maketh a vessell profitable for the vse of life.

12 And the things y are cut off fro his worke, he bestoweth to dresse his meat to fill himselfe,

13 And that which is left of these things, which is profitable for nothing (for it is a crooked piece of wood, & full of knobs) he carueth it diligently at his leisure, and according as he is expert in cunning, he giueth it a proportion, and fashioneth it after the similitude of a man.

14 Or maketh it like some vile beast, and straketh it ouer with red, and painteth it, and couereth every spot that is in it.

15 And when he hath made a conuenient tabernacle for it, he setteth it in a wall, and maketh it fast with yron,

16 Prouiding so for it, lest it fall: for he knoweth that it cannot helpe it selfe, because it is an image, which hath neede of helpe.

17 Then he prayeth for his goods, and for his marriage, and for children: hee is not ashamed to speake vnto it, that hath no life.

18 He calleth on him that is weake for health: he prayeth vnto him that is dead for life: he requirerh him of helpe that hath no experience at all.

19 And for his iourney, him that is not able to goe, and for gaine, and worke, and successe of his affaires he requireth furtherance of him, that hath no manner of power.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The detestation and abomination of images. 2 A curse of them and of him that maketh them. 14 Whereof idolatrie proceeded. 23 What evils come of idolatrie.

A Gaine, another man purposing to saile, and intending to passe thorow the raging waues, calleth vpon a stocke more rotten then the ship that carrieth him.

2 For as for it, couetousnesse of money hath found it out, & the craftman made it by cunning.

3 But thy providence, O Father, gouerneth it: For thou hast made a way, euen in the sea, and a sure path among the waues.

4 Declaring thereby, that thou hast power to helpe in all things: yea, though a man went to the sea without meanes.

5 Neuertheless thou wouldest not, that the workes of thy wisdom should be vaine, and therefore doe men commit their liues to a small piece of wood, and passe ouer the stormie sea in a ship, and are saued.

6 For in the olde time also when the proud gyants perished, the hope of the world went into a ship which was gouerned by thine hand, and so left seed of generation vnto the world.

7 For blessed is the tree whereby righteousness commeth.

8 But that is cursed y is made with hands, both it, & he that made it: he, because he made it, & it being a corruptible thing, because it was called god.

9 For the vngodly, and his vngodlinesse are both like hated of God: so truly the worke and the that made it shall be punished together.

10 Therefore shall there be a visitation for the idols of the nations: for of the creatures of God they are become abomination, and stumbling blockes vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the feet of the vnwise.

11 For the inventing of idols was the beginning of whoredome, and the finding of them is the corruption of life.

12 For they were not from the beginning, neither shall they continue for ever.

13 The vaine glory of men brought them into the world: therefore shall they come shortly to an end.

14 When a father mourned piteously for his sonne that was taken away suddenly, hee made an image for him that was once dead, whome now he worshippeth as a god, and ordeined to his ser-uants ceremonies and sacrifices.

15 Thus by proces of time this wicked custom preuailed, and was kept as a law, and idoles were worshipped by the commandement of tyrants.

16 As for those that were so farre off that men might not worship them presently, they did counterfeite the visage that was farre off, and made a gorgeous image of king, whom they would honour, that they might by all huesnes flatter him that was absent, as though he had bene present.

17 Again the ambition of the craftzman thrust forward the ignorant to increase the superstition.

18 For he peradventure willing to please a noble man, laboured with all his cunning to make the image of the best fashion.

19 And so thorow the beauty of the worke the multitude was allured, & so tooke him now for a god, which a litle afore was but honored as a mā.

20 And this was y deceiuing of mans life, when men, being in seruitude, through calamity and tyranny ascribed vnto stones and beastes the name, which ought not to be communicate vnto any.

21 Moreover, this was not enough for them that they erred in the knowledge of God: but whereas they lived in great wates of ignorance, those to great plagues called they peace.

22 For either they slew their owne children in sacrifice, or vsed secret ceremonies, or raging disolutesse by strange rites.

23 And so kept neither life nor marriage cleane:
but either one slew another by treason, or els vexed him by adultery.

24 So were all mixt together, blood, and slaughter, theft and deceit, corruption, vnfaithfulness, ramulke, perurie.

25 Disquieting of good men, vnthankfulness, defiling of soules, changing of birth, disorder in marriage, adultery and vncleanness.

26 For the worshipping of idoles that ought not to be named, is the beginning and the cause, and the end of all euill.

27 For either they be mad when they be metic, or prophesie lie, or liue vn godly, or els lightly forswear themselves.

28 For inasmuch as their trust is in the idoles, which haue no life, though they sweare falsly, yet they thinke to haue no hurt.

29 Therefore for two causes shall they iustly be punished, because they haue an euill opinion of God, adding themselves vnto idoles, & because they sweare vnnaturally to decaie, & despise holines.

30 For it is not the power of them by whom they sweare, but the vengeance of them that sinne which punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodly.

CHAP. XV.

The voice of the faithfull, praying for mercie of God, by whose grace they serue not idoles.

B Vt thou, O our God, art gracious & true, long suffering, and gouernest all things by mercie.

2 Though we sinne, yet are we thine: for we know thy power, but we sinne not, knowing that we are counted thine.

3 For to know thee, is perfect righteousness, and to know thy power, is the roote of immortalitie.

4 For neither hath y wicked inuention of men deceiued vs, nor y vnprofitable labour of the painters, nor an image spotted with diuers colours,

5 Whole fight stirreth vp the desire of the ignorant: so that he couereth the forme that hath no life, of a dead image.

6 They that loue such wicked things, are worthie to haue such things to trust to, and they that make them, and they that desire them, and they that worship them.

7 The potter also tempereth soft earth, and fashioneth euery vessel with labor to our vse: but of the same clay he maketh both y vessels, that serue to cleane vses, & the contrary likewise, but wher-to euery vessel serueth, the potter is the iudge.

8 So by his wicked labour he maketh a vaine god of the same clay: euen he, which a litle afore was made of earth himselfe, & within a litle while after, goeth thither againe, whence he was taken,
* where he shall make account for the lone of his life.

9 Notwithstanding he careth not for the labor he taketh, nor that his life is short, but he striueth with the goldsmiths and siluersmiths, and counterfeiteth the coppersmiths, and taketh it for an honour to make deceiueable things.

10 His heart is ashes, & his hope is more vile the earth, & his life is lesse worthy of honour the clay.

11 For he knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue him his soule, that had power and breathed in him the breath of life.

12 But they count our life to be but a pastime, and our conuersation as a marker, where there is gaie: for they say we ought to be getting on e-uery side, though it be by euill means.

13 Now he that of earth maketh fraile vessels & images knoweth himselfe to offend about al other

14 All the enemies of thy people, that holde them in subiection are most vawile, and more miserable then the very fooles.

15 For they iudge all the idoles of the nations to be gods, which neither haue eie sight to see, nor nose to smell, nor eares to heare, nor fingers of hands to grope, and their feet are slow to goe.

16 For man made them, and hee that hath but a borrowed spirit, fashioned them: but no man can make a god like vnto himselfe.

17 For seeing he is but mortall himselfe, it is but mortall that he maketh with vnrighteous hands: he himselfe is better then they whom hee worshippeth: for he liued, but they neuer liued.

18 Yea, they worshipped beastes also, which are their most enemies: and which are the worst, if they be compared vnto others, because they haue none vnderstanding.

19 Neither haue they any beauty to be desired, in respect of other beastes: for they are destitute of Gods praise, and of his blessing.

Theretore by such things they are worthily punished and *tormented by the multitude of beasts.

2 In stead of the which punishment thou hast bene fauourable to thy people, and to satisfie their appetite hast prepared a meat of a strange taste, euen * quailles,

3 To the intent that they that desired meate, by the things which were shewed and sent among them, might turne away their necessary desire, and that they which had suffered penurie for a space, should also feele a new taste.

4 For it was requisite, that they which vsed tyranny, should fall into extreame pouertie, and that to thes onely it should be shewed, how their enemies were tormented.

5 * For when the cruell fiercenes of the beasts came vpon them, and they were hurt with the stings of cruell serpents,

6 Thy wrath endured not perpetually, but they were troubled for a litle season, that they might be reformed, hauing a * signe of saluation, to remember the Commandement of thy Law.

7 For he turned toward it, was not healed by the thing that he saw, but by thee, O Satiur of all.

8 So in this thou shewedst our enemies, that it is thou, which deliuerest from all euill.

9 * For the biting of grasshoppers & flies killed them, & there was no remedy found for their life: for they were worthy to be punished by such.

10 But the teeth of the venemous dragons could not ouercomethy children, for thy mercy came to helpe them, and healed them.

11 For they were pricked, because they should remember thy words, & were speedily healed, lest they should fall into so deepe forgetfulness, that they could not be called backe by thy benefite.

12 For neither herbe nor plaister healed them, but thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things.

13 For thou hast the power of life and death, and leadest downe vnto the gates of hell, and bringest vp againe.

14 A man indeed by his wickednesse may lay another: but when the spirit is gone forth, it turneth not againe, neither can hee call againe the soule that is taken away.

15 But it is not possible to escape thine hand.

16 * For the vngodly that would not knowe thee, were punished by the strength of thine arme, with strange raine and with haile, and were pursued with tempest that they could not auoid, and were consumed with fire.

17 For it was a wonderous thing y fire might do more then water, which quencheth all things: but the world is the auenger of the righteous.

18 For sometime was the fire so came, that the beasts which were sent against the vngodly, burnt not: & that because they should see & know, that they were persecuted with y punishment of God.

19 And sometime burnt the fire in the mids of the water aboue the power of fire, that it might destroy the generation of the vniust land.

20 * In the stead whereof thou hast fed thine owne people with Angels food, and sent them bread ready from heauen without their labour, which had abundance of all pleasures in it, and was meet for all tastes.

21 For thy sustenance declared thy sweetness vnto thy children, which serued to the appetite of him that tooke it, and was meet to that that euery man would.

22 Moreover, the * snow and yee abode the fire * Exod. 9. 33. and melted not, that they might know, that the fire burning in the haile, and sparkling in the raine, destroyed the fruit of the enemies.

23 Againe it forgate his owne strength, that the righteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serueth thee which art the maker, is fierce in punishing the vnrighteous: but it is easie to do good vnto such as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore was it changed at the same time vnto all fashions to seue thy grace, which nourisheth all things, according to the desire of them that had need thereof,

26 That thy children, whom thou louest, O Lord, might know, * that it is not the increate of * Deut. 3. 9. fruite that feedeth men, but that it is thy word, which preserueth them that trust in thee.

27 For that which could not be destroyed with the fire, being only warmed a litle with the sunne beames, melted,

28 That it might be knowen that we ought to preuent the sunne rising to giue thanks vnto thee, and to salute thee before the day-spring.

29 For the hope of the vnthankfull shall melt as the winter yce, and flow away as vnprofitable waters.

CHAP. XVII.

The iudgements of God against the wicked.

For thy iudgements are great, and cannot bee exprest: therefore men do erre, that will not be reformed.

2 For when the vnrighteous thought to haue thine holy people in subiection, they were bound with the bands of darkenesse, and long night, and being shut vp vnder the rooffe, did lie there to escape the euermolting prouidence.

3 And while they thought to be hid in their darke finnes, they were scattered abroad in the darke couering of forgetfulness, fearing horribly and troubled with visions.

4 For the denne that hid them, kept them not from feare: but the sounds that were about them, troubled them, and terrible visions and sorowfull sights did appeare.

5 No power of the fire might giue light, neither might the cleare flames of the starres lighten the horrible night.

6 For there appeared vnto them only a sudden fire, very dreadfull: so that being afraid of this vision, which they could not see, they thought the things which they saw, to be worse.

7 * And the illusions of the magicall arts were brought downe, and it was a most shamefull reproch for the boasting of their knowledge.

8 For they that promised to driue away feare and trouble from the sicke person, were sicke for feare, and worthy to be laughed at.

9 And though no fearefull thing did feare them, yet were they afraid at the beasts that passed by them, and at the hissing of the serpents, so that they died for feare, and said they saw not the ayre, which by no meanes can be auoyded.

10 For it is a fearefull thing when malice is condemned by her owne testimonies: and a conscience that is touched, doeth euer forecast cruell things.

11 For feare is nothing els, but a betraying of the succours which reason offereth.

12 And the lesse that the hope is within, the more doth he esteeme the ignorance of the thing, that

That is, the

that tormenteth him, great.

13 But they that did endure the night that was intolerable, and that came out of the dungeon of hell, which is insupportable, slept the same sleepe,

14 And sometimes were troubled with monstrous visions, and sometimes they swooned, as though their owne soule should betray them: for a sudden feare not looked for, came vpon them.

15 And thus, whosoever fell downe, hee was kept and shut in prison, but without chaines.

16 For whether hee was an husbandman, or a shepherd, or one that was set to worke alone, if he were taken, hee must suffer this necessitie, that he could not auoid:

17 (For with one chaine of darkenesse were they all bound) whether it were an hissing winde, or a sweete song of the birds among the thicke branches of the trees, or the vehemencie of hastie running water,

18 Or a great noise of the falling downe of stones, or the running of skipping beasts, that could not bee seene, or the noise of cruell beasts, that roared, or the sound that answereth againe in the hollow mountaines: these fearefull things made them to swoone.

19 For all the world shined with cleare light, and no man was hindred in his labour.

20 Only vpon them there fell an heauy night, an image of that darkenesse that was to come vpon them: yea, they were vnto themselves more grievous then darkenesse.

CHAP. XVIII.

3 The fierce pillar that the Israelites had in Egypt. 8 The deliuerance of the faithfull. 10 The Lord smote the Egyptians. 20 The sinne of the people in the wilderness. 31 Aaron stood between the living and the dead with his censer.

BVt thy Saints had a very great light, whose voice because they heard, and saw not the figure of them, they thought them blessed, because they also had not suffered the like.

2 And because they did not hurt them, which did hurt them afore, they thanked them, and asked pardon for their eninitie.

3 Therefore thou gauest them a burning pillar of fire to leade them in the vnknown way, and madeest the sunne that it hurted not them in their honourable iourney.

4 But they were worthy to be deprived of the light, and to be kept in darknesse, which had kept thy children shut vp, by whom the vncorrupt light of the Law should be giuen to the world.

5 Whereas they thought to slay the babes of the Saints, by one child that was cast out, and preferred to reprove them, thou hast taken away the multitude of their children, and destroyed them all together in the mighty water.

6 Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that they knowing vnto what othes they had giuen credit, might be of good cheere.

7 Thus thy people receiued the health of the righteous, but the enemies were destroyed.

8 For as thou hast punished the enemies, so hast thou glorified vs whom thou hast called.

9 For the righteous children of the good men offered secretly, and made a Law of righteousness by one consent, that the Saints should receiue good and euill in like manner, and that the fathers should first sing praises.

10 But a disagreeing cry was heard of the enemies, and there was a lamentable noise for the children that were bewailed.

11 For the master and the servant were punished with like punishment, and the common people suffered alike with the King.

12 So they altogether had innumerable that died with one kind of death: neither were living sufficient to bury them: for in the twinkling of an eye the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

13 So they that could beleue nothing, because of the enchantments, confessed this people to be the children of God, in the destruction of the first borne:

14 For while all things were in quiet silence, & the night was in the midst of her swift course,

15 Thine Almighty word leapt downe from heauen out of thy royal throne, as a fierce man of warre in the mids of the land that was destroyed,

16 And brought thine vnfaigned Commandement as a sharp sword, and stood vp and filled all things with death, and being come downe to the earth, it reacheth vnto the heauens.

17 Then the sight of the fearefull dreams vexed them suddenly, and fearefulnesse came vpon them vnawares.

18 Then lay there one here, another there halfe dead, and shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the visions that vexed them, shewed them these things afore: so that they were not ignorant, wherefore they perished.

20 Now temptation of death touched the righteous also, and among the multitude in the wilderness there was a plague, but the wrath endured not long.

21 For the blamelesse man made haste, and defended them, and tooke the weapons of his ministration, cū prayer, and the reconciliation by the perfume, and set himselfe against the wrath, and so brought the misery to an end, declaring that he was thy seruant.

22 For hee overcame not the multitude with bodily power nor with force of weapons, but with the word he subdued him that punished, alledging the othes and covenant made vnto the fathers.

23 For when the dead were fallen downe by heapes one vpon another, he stood in the middes, and cut off the wrath, and parted it from coming to the living.

24 For in the long garment was all the ornament, and in the foure rowes of the stones was the glory of the fathers grauen with thy maiestie in the diademe of his head.

25 Vnto these the destroyer gaue place, and was afraid of them: for it was sufficient, that they had tasted the wrath.

AS for the vngodly, the wrath came vpon them without mercy vnto the end: for hee knew what should come vnto them,

2 That they (when they had consented to let them goe, and had sent them out with diligence) would repent, and pursue them.

3 For while yet soto was before them, and they lamented by the graues of the dead, they deuised another foolishnesse, so that they persecuted them in their fleeing, whom they had cast out afore with prayer.

Forget the things that had come to passe, that they might accomplish the punishment, which remained by torments,

5 Both that thy people might trie a marueilous passage, and that these might find a strange death

9 For euery creature in his kinde was fashioned of new, and serued in their owne offices inioyned them, that thy children might bee kept without hurt.

7 For the cloud ouershadowed their tents, and the dry earth appeared, where asure was water: so that in the red sea there was a way without impediment, & the great deepe became a greene field.

8 Through the which all the people went that were defended with thine hand, seeing thy wonderous maruels.

9 For they //neyed like horses, and leaped like lambees, praising thee, O Lord, which haddest deliuered them.

10 For they were yet mindfull of those things which were done in the lande where they dwelt, how the ground brought forth flies in stead of cattell, and how the riuer scrawled with the multitude of frogs in stead of fishes.

11 * But at the last they saw a new generation of birds, when they were entised with lust, and desired delicate meats.

12 * For the quailles came forth of the sea vnto them for comfort, but punishments came vpon the // sinners not without signes that were giuen by great thundrings: for they suffered worthily according to their wickednes, because they shewed a cruell hatred toward strangers.

13 For the one sort would not receive them when they were present, because they knew them not: the other sort brought the strangers into bondage that had done them good.

14 Beside all thesethings, some would not suffer, that any regard should bee had of them: for they handled the strangers despitefully.

15 Others that had receiued them with great banquetting, and admitted them to be partakers of the same lawes, did afflict the with great labours.

16 Therefore they were stricken with blindness, as in old time certaine were at the doores of the * righteous, so that euery one being compassed with darknesse, sought the entrance of his doore.

17 Thus the elements agreed among themselves in this change, as when one tune is changed vpon an instrument of musicke, & the melody stil remaineth, which may easily be perceiued by the sight of the things that are come to passe.

18 For the things of the earth were changed into things of the water, and the thing that did swimme went vpon the ground.

19 The fire had power in the water contrary vnto his owne vertue, and the water forgate his owne kind to quench.

20 Againe the flames did not hurt the fleshe of the corruptible beastes that walked therein, neither melted they that which seemed to be yce, and was of a nature that would melt, and yet was an immortal meat.

21 For in al things, O Lord, thou hast magnified and glorified thy people, and hast not despised to assist them in euery time and place.

The Wisdome of Iesus the sonne of Sirach, called Ecclesiasticus.

This Argument was found in a certaine Greeke copie.

This Iesus was the sonne of Sirach, and Sirachs father was also called Iesus, and he lived in the latter times, after the people had bene led away captiue, and brought home againe, almost after all the Prophets. Now his grandfather, as hee himselfe witnesseth, was a man of great diligence, and wisdom among the Hebrewes, who did not only gather the graue sentences of wise men that had bene before him, but hee himselfe also spake many full of great knowledge and wisdom. So this first Iesus died, and left this which hee had gathered, and Sirach afterward left it to Iesus his sonne, who tooke it, and put it in order in a booke, and called it WISDOME, intituling it both by his owne name, his fathers name, and his grandfathers: thinking by this title of Wisdom to allure the Reader to reade this booke with more great desire and to consider it more diligently. Therefore this booke containeth wise sayings, and darke sentences and similitudes with certaine diuine histories which are notable and ancient, euen of men that were appointed of God, and certaine Prayers and Songs of the authour himselfe: moreover, what benefits the Lord had bestowed vpon his people, and what plagues he had heaped vpon their enemies. This Iesus did imitate Salomon, and was no lesse famous in wisdom and doctrine, who was therefore called a man of great knowledge, as he was in deed.

The Prologue of the wisdom of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

VHereas many, and great things haue bin giuen vs by the Law and the Prophets, & by others that haue followed the, (for the which things Israel ought to be comended by the reason of doctrine & wisdom, wherby the readers ought not only to become learned themselves, but also may be able by the diligent study thereof to be profitable vnto strangers both by speaking & writing) after that my grandfather Iesus had giuen himselfe to the reading of the Law & the Prophets, and other bookes of our fathers, & had gotten therein sufficient iudgement, he purposed also to write something pertaining to learning, and wisdom, to the intent that they which were desirous to learne, & would giue themselves to these things, might profit much more in liuing according to the Law. Wherefore I exhort you to receive it louingly, and to reade it with diligence, & to take it in good worth, though we seeme to some in some things not able to attain to // interpretation of such words as are hard to be expressed: for the things that are spoken in the Hebrew tongue, haue another force in themselves the when they are translated into another tongue, & not only these things, but other things also, as // Law it selfe, and the Prophets, & other bookes haue no final difference when they are spoken in their own language. Therefore in the eight and thirtieth yeere, when I came into Egypt, vnder king Evergetes, and continued there, I found a copy full of great learning, & I thought it necessary to bestow my diligence gence and travel to interpret this booke. So for a certain time with great watching and study I gave my selfe to the finishing of this booke, that it might be published, that they which remain in banishment, & are desirous to learne, might apply themselves to good maners, & live according to the law.

CHAP. I.

1 Wisdomes cometh of God. 11 A praise of the floure of God.
 2 The names to come by wisdom.

* 1. King. 3.9. and
 4. 29.
 That which is marked with these two marks [is read in the Latine copies, and not in the Greeke.

11 wisdom cometh of the Lord,
 (and hath bene ever with him,) and is with him for ever.

2 Who can number the fard of the sea, and the drops of the raine, and the dayes of the world?
 [who can measure] the height of heaven, the breadth of the earth, and the depth?

3 Who can finde the wisdom [of God, which hath bene before all things?]

4 Wisdom hath bin created before all things,
 & the vnderstanding of prudence fro everlasting.

5 [The word of God most High, is the fountaine of wisdom, and the everlasting commandements are the entrance vnto her.]

6 Vnto whom hath the root of wisdom bin declared? or who hath known her wise counsels?

7 Vnto whom hath the doctrine of wisdom bene discovered and shewed? and who hath vnder-stood the manifold entrance vnto her?

8 There is one wise, [even the most hie Creator of all things, the Almighty, King of power] and very terrible, which sitteth vpon his throne.

9 Hee is the Lord, that hath created her [tho-row the holy Ghost:] he hath sene her, numbred her, [and measured her.]

10 He hath powred her out vpon al his works, and vpon all flesh, according to his gift, and giueth her abundantly vnto them that loue him.

11 The feare of the Lord, is glory and glad-nesse, and reioicing, and a ioyfull crowne.

12 The feare of the Lord maketh a merry heart, and giueth gladnesse and ioy, and long life.

13 Who so feareth the Lord, it shall goe well with him at the last, and hee shall finde fauour in the day of his death.

14 [The loue of God is honourable wisdom, and vnto whom it appeareth in a vision, they loue it for the vision, and for the knowledge of the great workes thereof.]

15 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, and was made with the faithfull in the wombe: [she goeth with the cholen women, and is known with the righteous and faithfull.]

16 The feare of the Lord is an holy knowledge

17 Holines shall preserve and iustifie the heart, and giueth mirth and gladnesse.

18 Who so feareth the Lord, shall prosper, and in the day of his end hee shall be blessed.]

19 She hath built her everlasting foundations with men, and is giuen to be with their seed.

20 To feare God is the fulnesse of wisdom, and filleth men with her fruits.

21 Shee filleth their whole house with [all] things desirable, and the garners with the things that shee bringeth forth, and both twaine are gifts of God.

22 The feare of the Lord is the crown of wis-dome, and giueth peace and perfect health: hee hath sene her, and numbred her.

23 [She raineth down knowledge and vnder-standing of wisdom, and hath brought vnto honour them that possessed her.]

24 The feare of the Lord is the roote of wis-dome, and her branches are long life.

for wisdom.

25 [In the treasures of wisdom in vnderstanding and holy knowledge, but wisdom is abhorred of sinners.]

26 The feare of the Lord driueth out sin: and when she is present, she driueth away anger.

27 For wicked anger cannot be iustified for his rashnesse in his anger shall be his destruction.

28 A patient man will suffer for a time, and then shall he haue the reward of ioy.

29 He will hide his words for a time, and many mens lips shall speake of his wisdom.

30 In the treasures of wisdom are the secrets of knowledge, but the sinner abhorreth the worship of God.

31 If thou desire wisdom, keepe the commandements, and the Lord shall giue her vnto thee,
 [and will fill her treasures.]

32 For the Feare of the Lord is wisdom & discipline: he hath pleasure in faith, and mekenesse.

33 Bee not disobedient to the feare of the Lord, and come not vnto him with a double heart.

34 Bee not an hypocrite, that men should speake of thee, but take heed what thou speakest.

35 Exalt not thy selfe, lest thou fall and bring thy soule to dishonor, and so God discover thy secrets, and cast thee down in the mids of the Congregation, because thou wouldest not receiue the true feare of God, and thine heart is full of deceit.

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth the firmness of God to righteousness, Ioue, vnder-standing and patience. 11 to trust in the Lord. 13 A curse vpon them that are faint hearted and impatient.

M Y sonne, if thou wilt come into the seruice of God, [stand fast in righteousness and feare, and] prepare thy soule to temptation.

2 Settle thine heart, and be patient: [bow down thine eare, and receiue the words of vnder-standing,] and shrink not away when thou art assailed, [but wait vpon God patiently.]

3 Ioyne thy selfe vnto him, and depart not away, that thou mayest be increased at the last end.

4 Whatsoeuer cometh vnto thee, receiue it patiently, and be patient in the change of thine affliction.

5 For as golde [and siluer are] tried in the fire, even so are men acceptable in the furnace of aduersitie.

6 Beleue in God, and he will helpe thee, order thy way aright, and trust in him: [hold fast his feare, and grow old therein]

7 Ye that feare the Lord, wait for his mercy:
 shrink not away from him, that ye fall not.

8 Ye that feare the Lord, beleue him, and your reward shall not faile.

9 O ye that feare the Lord, trust in good things, and in the everlasting ioy and mercy.

10 [Ye that feare the Lord, loue him, and your hearts shall be lightened.]

11 Consider the old generations [of men, yee children,] and marke them wel: was there euer any confounded that put his trust in the Lord? or who hath continued in his feare & was forsaken?
 or who did he euer despise, that called vpon him?

12 For God is gracious & mercifull, and forgiueth sins, & sueth in the time of trouble, [& is a defender for al them that seeke him in the truth,]

13 Wo vnto them that haue a [feareful heart,
 [and to the wicked lips] & to the faint hands, &

the sinner that goeth * two maner of wayes.
 14. Woe vnto him that is faint hearted, for hee beleueth not: therefore shal he not be defended.
 15. Wo vnto you that haue lost patience, [and haue forsaken the right wayes, & are turned back into froward wayes:] for what will ye do when the Lord shall visit you?
 16. They that feare the Lord, will not disobey his word: and they that * loue him, will keepe his wayes.
 17. They that feare the Lord, will seeke out the things that are pleasant vnto him: and they that loue him, shalbe fulfilled with his Law.
 18. They that feare the Lord, will prepare their hearts, and humble their sculies in his sight.
 19. [They that feare the Lord, keepe his commandments, and will be patient till he see them,
 20. Saying, if we doe not repent] we shall fall into the hands of the Lord, and not into the hands of men.
 21. Yet as his greatnesse is, so is his mercy.

CHAP. III.

To us fether and mother ought we to giue double honour. 10 Of the blessing and curse of the father and mother. 22 No man ought our curiously to search out the secrets of God.
 1. THE children of wisdom are the Church of the righteous, and their off-spring is obedience and loue.
 2. Heare your fathers iudgement, O children, and doe thereafter, that ye may be safe.
 3. For the Lord will haue the father honoured of the children, & hath confirmed the authority of the mother ouer the children.
 4. Who so honoureth his father, his sinnes shall be forgiven him, [and hee shall abstaine from them, and shall haue his daily desires.]
 5. And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that gathereth treasure.
 6. Who so honoureth his father, shall haue ioy of his owne children, and when he maketh his prayer, he shalbe heard.
 7. He that honoureth his father, shall haue a long life, and he that is obedient vnto the Lord, shall comfort his mother.
 8. He that feareth the Lord, honoureth his parents, & doth seruice vnto his parents, as vnto lords.
 9. * Honour thy father and mother, in deede and in word [and in all patience] that thou mayst haue || Gods blessing, [and that his blessing may abide with thee in the end.]
 10. For the blessing of the father establisheth the houses of the children, and the mothers curse rooteth out the foundations.
 11. Reioice not at the dishonour of thy father: for it is not honour vnto thee, but shame.
 12. Seeing that mans glory cometh by his fathers honour, and the reproch of the mother is dishonour to the children.
 13. My sonne, helpe thy father in his age, and grieve him not as long as he lieth.
 14. And if his vnderstanding faile, haue patience with him, and despise him not when thou art in thy full strength.
 15. For the good intrety of thy father shal not be forgotten, but it shall be a fortresse for thee against sinnes, [and for thy mothers offence, thou shalt be recompensed with good, and it shall be founded for thee in righteousness].
 16. And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remembered: thy sinnes also shall melt away as the yee in the faire weather.
 17. He that forsaketh his father, shal come to sharre, and he that angreth his mother is cursed of God.

 18. ¶ My sonne, perforce thy doings with meeknesse, so shalt thou be beloued of them that are approued.
 19. The * greater thou art, the more humble thy selfe [in all things,] and thou shalt finde fauour before the Lord.
 20. Many are excellent and of renoume: but the secrets are reueiled vnto the meeke.
 21. For the power of the Lord is great, and he is honoured of the lowly.
 22. * Seeke not out the things that are too hard for thee, neither search the things rashly which are too mightie for thee.
 23. [But] what [God] hath commanded thee, thinke vpon that with reuerence, [& be not curious in many of his works:] for it is not needful for thee to see with thine eyes the things that are secret.
 24. Be not curious in superfluous things: for many things are shewed vnto thee above the capacite of men.
 25. The meddling with flesh hath beguiled many, & an euil opinion hath deceived their iudgment.
 26. Thou canst not see without eyes: professe not the knowledge therefore that thou hast not.
 27. A stubborne heart shall fare euil at the last, and he that loueth danger, shall perishe therein.
 28. An heart that goeth two wayes, shall not prosper: and hee that is froward of heart shall stumble therein.
 29. An obstinate heart shall be laden with sorowes: and the wicked man shall heape sinne vpon sinne.
 30. The perswasion of the proud is without remedie, and his steps shall be plucked vp: for the plant of sinne hath taken root in him, [and hee shall not be esteemed.]
 31. The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, shall perceiue secret things, and an attentive eare is the desire of a wise man.
 32. [An heart that is wise and vnderstanding, will abstaine from sinne, and shall prosper in the works of righteousness.]
 33. Water quencheth burning fire, * & almes * taketh away sinnes.
 34. And hee that rewardeth good deeds will remember it afterward, & in the time of the fall, he shall find a stay.

CHAP. IIII.

Almes must be done with good heart. 12 The studie of wisdom, and her fruit. 20 An exhortation to reuere euill, and to doe good.
MY sonne, defraud not the * poore of his liuing, * and make not the needy eyes to wait long.
 2. Make not an hungry soule sorowfull, neither vex a man in his necessitie.
 3. Trouble not the heart that is grieved, and deferre not the gift of the needy.
 4. Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble: * turne not away thy face from the poore.
 5. Turne not thine eyes aside [in anger] from the poore, and giue him none occasion to speake euill of thee.
 6. For if he curse thee in bitterness of his soule, his prayer shalbe heard of him that made him.
 7. Be courteous vnto the company [of poore, and humble thy soule vnto the elder,] and bow downe thine head to a man of worship.
 8. Let it not grieve thee to bow downe thine care vnto the poore, [but pay thy debt,] and giue him a friendly answer.

hand of the oppressour, and be not faint hearted
|| when thou iudget.

10 Be as a father vnto the fatherlesse, and as an husband vnto thy mother, so shalt thou be as the fountaine of the most High: and hee shall loue thee more then thy mother doeth.

11 Wisdome exalteth her children, and receiveth them that seeke her, [and will goe before them in the way of righteousness.]

12 He that loveth her, loveth life, & they that seeke life in the morning, shall have great joy.

13 He that keepeth her, shall inherit glory: for vnto whom she enticeth him the Lord will bleesse.

14 They that honour her, shall be the servants of the holy One, and them that loue her, the Lord doeth loue.

15 Who so giueth eare vnto her, shall iudge the nations, & he that goeth vnto her shall dwell safely.

16 He that is faithful vnto her, shall haue her in possession, and his generation shall possesse her.

17 For first she wil walke with him by crooked wayes, & bring him vnto feare, & dread, and torment him with her discipline, vntill she haue tried his soule, & haue proued him by her iudgements.

18 Then will she returne the streight way vnto him, and comfort him, and shew him her secrets, [& haue vpon him the treasures of knowledge, and vnderstanding of righteousness.]

19 But if he goe wrong, she will forsake him, & giue him ouer into the hands of his destruction.

20 [My sonne,] make much of time, and eschew the thing that is euill,

21 And be not ashamed [to say the truth] for thy life: for there is a shame that bringeth sinne, and a shame that bringeth worship and fauour.

22 Accept no person against thine owne conscience, that thou be not confounded to thine owne decay, [& forbear not thy neighbor in his fault.]

23 And keepe not back counsell when it may do good, neither hide thy wisdom when it may be famous.

24 For by these like is wisdom knowne, and learning by the words of the tongue, [and counsell, wisdom and learning by the talking of the wise, and stedfastnesse in the workes of righteousnesse.]

25 In no wise speake against the worde of truth, but be ashamed of the lyes of thine owne ignorance.

26 Be not ashamed to confesse thy sinnes, and resist not the course of the riuer.

27 Submit not thy selfe vnto a foolish man, neither accept the person of the mighty.

28 Strive for the truth vnto death, [and defend iustice for thy life,] and the Lord God shall fight for thee [against thine enemies.]

29 Be not hattie in thy tongue, neither slacke and negligent in thy works.

30 Be not as a Lion in thine owne house, neither beate thy seruants for thy fantasie, [nor op-presse them that are vnder thee.]

31 Let not thine hand be stretched out to receiue, and shut when thou shouldest giue.

CHAP. V.

1 Riches may not put any confidence, 2 The prynces of God ought to be feared, and repentance may not be deferred.

Trust not vnto thy riches, and say not, I haue enough for my life: [for it shall not helpe in the time of vengeance and indignation.]

3 Follow not thine owne minde, and thy strength to walke in the wayes of thine heart:

4 Neither say thou, [Howe haue I strength?] or who will bring me vnder for my workes? for God the auenger will reuenge the wrong done by thee.

5 And say not, I haue sinned, & what euill hath come vnto me? for the Almighty is a patient re-warder, but he will not leaue thee vnpunished.

6 Because thy sinne is forgiven, be not without feare, to heape sinne vpon sinne.

7 And say not, The mercy of God is great:
hee will forgive my manifold sinnes for mercie and wrath come from him, and his indignation commeth downe vpon sinners.

8 Make no trying to turne vnto the Lord, and put not off from day to day: for suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord breake forth, and in thy security thou shalt be destroyed, and thou shalt perish in time of vengeance.

9 Trust not in wicked riches: for they shall not helpe thee in the day of punishment [& vengeance.]

10 Be not caried about with every wind, and goe not into every way: for so doeth the sinner that hath a double tongue.

11 Stand fast in thy sure vnderstanding [and in the way and knowledge of the Lord] and haue but one manner of word, [and follow the word of peace and righteousness.]

12 Be humble to heare the word of God, that thou mayest vnderstand it, and make a true an-swere with wisdom.

13 Be swift to heare good things, and let thy life be pure, and giue a patient answer.

14 If thou hast vnderstanding, answer thy neighbor: if not, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth, [lest thou be trapped in an vndiscreet word, and so be blamed.]

15 Honour and shame is in the talke, and the tongue of a man causeth him to fall.

16 Be not couned a talebearer, and lie not in wait with thy tongue: for shame [& repentance] follow the chiefe, & an euill condemnation is ouer him that is double tongued: [but hee that is a backbiter, shall be hated, enuied, and confounded.]

17 Doe not rashly, neither in small things nor in great.

CHAP. VI.

1 It is the pryncipe of a sinner to be euill tongued, 6 Of friendship. 11 Desire to be taught.

Be not of a friend [thy neighbours] enemy: for such shall haue an euill name, shame and reproch, and hee shall be in infamy as the wicked that hath a double tongue.

2 Be not proud in the deuce of thine owne mind, lest thy soule rene thee as a bull,

3 And eat vp thy leaues, & destroy thy fruite, & so thou be left as a dry tree [in the wildernes.]

4 For a wicked soule destroyeth him that hath it, and maketh him to be laughed to scorne of his enemies, [and bringeth him to the portion of the vngodly.]

5 A sweete talke multiplieth the friends [and pacifieth them that be at variance,] and a sweete tongue increaseth much good talke.

6 Hold friendship with many, neuertheless haue but one counsellor of a thousand.

7 If thou gettest a friend, proue him first, and be not hattie to credit him.

8 For some man is a friend for his own occasion, and will not abide in the day of thy trouble.

9 And there is some friend that turneth to enimity, & taketh part against thee, & in contention he

he will declare thy shame.
10. Against some friend is but a companion at the table, and in the day of thine affliction hee continueth not.
11. But in thy prosperitie he will be as thow thy selfe, and will vie liberty ouer thy seruants.
12. If thou be brought low, he will be against thee, and will hide himselfe from thy face.
13. Depart from thine enemies, and beware of thy friends.
14. A faithfull friend is a strong defence, and he that findeth such one findeth a treasure.
15. A faithfull friend ought not to be changed for any thing, and the weight [of gold and siluer] is not to be compared to the goodnesse [of his faith].
16. A faithfull friend is the medicine of life [and immortality], and they that feare the Lord, shall find him.
17. Who so feareth the Lorde, shall direct his friendship aright, and as his owne selfe, so shall his friend be.
18. ¶ My sonne, receiue doctrine from thy youth vnto thine old age.
19. Go to her as one that ploweth, & soweth, and wait for her good fruits: for thou shalt haue but little labour in her worke: but thou shalt eate of her fruits right soone.
20. How exceeding sharpe is shee to the vnlearned? he that is without iudgement, will not remaine with her.
21. Vnto such one shee is as a fine touchstone, and he casteth her from him without delay.
22. For they haue the name of wisdom, but there be but few that haue the knowledge of her.
23. [For with them that know her, she abideth vnto the appearing of God.]
24. Giue eare, my sonne, receiue my doctrine, and refuse not my counsell,
25. And put thy feet into her linkes, and thy necke into her chaine.
26. Bow downe thy shoulder vnto her, and beare her, and be not weary of her bands.
27. Come vnto her with thy whole heart, and keepe her wayes with all thy power.
28. Seeke after her, and search her, and she shall shew thee: and when thou hast gotten her, forsake her not.
29. For at the last thou shalt finde rest in her, and that shall be turned to thy ioy.
30. Then shall her fetters bee a strong defence for thee, [and a sure foundation] and her chaines a glorious rayment.
31. For there is a golden ornament in her, and her bands are the laces of purple colour.
32. Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honour, and shalt put her vpon thee as a crowne of ioy.
33. My sonne, if thou wilt, thou shalt be taught, & if thou wilt apply thy mind, thou shalt be wily.
34. If thou loue to heare, thou shalt receiue [doctrine], and if thou delight in hearing, thou shalt be wise.
35. Stand with the multitude of the Elders, which are wise, and ioyne with him that is wise.
36. ¶ Desire to heare all godly talke, & let not the graue sentences of knowledge escape thee.
37. And if thou seest a man of vnderstanding, get thee soone vnto him, and let thy foote weare the steps of his doores.
38. Let thy mind be vpon the ordinances of the Lord, and be continually occupied in his commandments: so shall he establish thine heart, and giue thee wisdom at thine owne desire.

CHAP. VII.

¶ We must forsake euill, and yet not hurt our selves. 23 The husband of the wife: toward his wife, his children, his seruants, his father, and mother.

¶ O no euill: so shall no harme come vnto thee.
2. Depart from the thing that is wicked, and sinne shall turne away from thee.
3. My sonne, sowe not vpon the furrowes of vnrightheousnes, lest that thou reap them seven fold.
4. Aske not of the Lord preeminence, neither of the King the seat of honour.
5. ¶ Iustifie not thy selfe before the Lord: [for he knoweth thine heart,] and boast not thy wisdom in the presence of the King.
6. Seeke not to be made a Iudge, lest thou be not able to take away iniquity, and lest thou, fearing the person of the mighty, shouldst commit an offence against thine vprightnesse.
7. Offend not against the multitude of a city, and call not thy selfe among the people.
8. ¶ Binde not two sinnes together: for in one sinne shalt thou not be vnpunished.
9. Say not, God will look vpon the multitude of mine oblations, and when I offer to the most High Goh, he will accept it.
10. Be not faint hearted when thou makest thy prayer, neither slacke in giuing of almes.
11. Laugh no man to scorn in the heavines of his soule: for [God which seeth all things] is he that can bring downe and set vp againe.
12. Sowe not a lie against thy brother, neither do the same against thy friend.
13. Vse not to make any manner of lie: for the custome thereof is not good.
14. Make not many words when thou art among the Elders, neither repeat a thing in thy prayer.
15. Hate not laborious worke, neither the husbandry, which the most High hath created.
16. Number not thy selfe in the multitude of the wicked, but remember that vengeance will not slacke.
17. Humble thy mind greatly: for the vengeance of the wicked is fire and wormes.
18. Giue not ouer thy friend for any good, nor thy true brother for the gold of Ophir.
19. Depart not from a wife and good woman, [that is fallē vnto thee for thy portion is the feare of the Lord:] for her grace is aboue gold.
20. ¶ Whereas thy seruant worketh truly, in treat him not euill, nor the hireling that bestoweth himselfe wholly for thee.
21. Let thy soule loue a good seruant, and defraud him not of libertie, [neither leaue him a poore man.]
22. ¶ If thou haue cattell looke wel to them, & if they be for thy profit, keepe them with thee.
23. ¶ If thou haue sonnes, instruct them, and hold their necke from their youth.
24. If thou haue daughters, keepe their body, and shew not thy face cherefull toward them.
25. Marry thy daughter, and so shalt thou performe a weighty matter: but giue her to a man of vnderstanding.
26. If thou haue a wife after thy mind, forsake her not, but commit not thy selfe to the hatefull.
27. Honour thy father from thy whole heart, and forget not the sorowes of thy mother.
28. Remember that thou wast born of them, & bow

13 Be not surer of thy power, for if thou be surty, thinke to pay it.

14 Go not to law with the Iudge, for they will giue sentence according to his owne honour.

15 ¶ Trauel not by the way with him, lest he doe thee iniury: for he followeth his owne wilfulnes, & so shalt thou perish through his folly.

16 ¶ Strive not with him that is angry, and go not with him into the wilderness: for blood is as nothing in his sight, and where there is no helpe, he will overthrow thee.

17 Take no counsell at a foole: for he cannot keepe a thing close.

18 Do no secret thing before a stranger: for thou canst not tell what he goeth about.

19 Open not thine heart to euery man, lest he be vnthankfull to thee, [and put thee to reproofe.]

CHAP. IX.

20 ¶ An old friend is to be preferred before a new.

21 ¶ Not ielous ouer thy wife of thy bosome, neither teach her by thy meanes an euill lesson.

22 ¶ Giue not thy life vnto a woman, lest she overcome thy strength, and so thou be confounded.

23 ¶ Meet not an harlot, lest thou fall into her snare.

24 ¶ Wee not the company of a woman that is a finger, [and a dancer, neither heare her,] lest thou be taken by her craftinesse.

25 ¶ Take not on a maid, that thou fall not by that that is precious in her.

26 ¶ Cast not thy minde vpon harlots [in any manner of thing,] lest thou destroy [both thy selfe and] thine heritage.

27 ¶ Doe not about gazing in the streetes of the citie, neither wander thou in the secret places thereof.

28 ¶ Turn away thine eye from a beautiful woman, and looke not vpon others beauty: for many haue perished by the beauty of women: for through it loue is kindled as a fire.

29 ¶ [Euery woman that is an harlot] shall be troden vnder foot as doung, of euery one that goeth by the way.

30 Many wondering at the beauty of a strange woman, haue bene cast out: for her words burne as a fire.

31 Sit not at al with another mans wife, [neither lie with her vpon the bed,] nor banquet with her, lest thine heart incline vnto her, & so through thy desire fall into destruction.

32 ¶ Forsake not an old friend: for the newe shall not be like him: a new friend is as new wine: when it is old thou shalt drinke it with pleasure.

33 ¶ Desire not the honour [and riches] of a sinner: for thou knowest not what shal be his end.

34 Delight not in the thing that the vngodly haue pleasure in, but remember that they shal not be found iust vnto their graue.

35 Keepe thee from the man that hath power to slay: so shalt thou not doubt the feare of death: and if thou come vnto him, make no fault, lest he take away thy life: remember that thou goest in the middes of snares, and that thou walkest vpon the towers of the city.

36 Trye thy neighbour as neere as thou canst, and aske counsell of the wife.

37 ¶ Let thy talke be with the wife, and all thy communication in the Law of the most High.

38 Let iust men eate and drinke with thee, and let thy reioycing be in the feare of the Lord.

39 In [the hands of the craftsmen] shall the works be commended, and the wise prince of the people by his wordes, [and the word by the wisdom of the Elders.]

40 A man full of words is dangerous in his city, and he that is rash in his talking shal be hated.

10, the workman is prayed according to the work.

2. As the Judge of the people is himselfe, so are his officers, and what manner of man the ruler of the city is, such are all they that dwell therein.

3 * An vnwife king destroyeth his people, but where they that be in authoritie, are men of vnderstanding, therethe city prospereth.

4 The gouernment of the earth is in the hand of the Lord, [and all iniquity of the nations is to be abhorred,] and when time is, hee will set vp a profitable ruler ouer it.

5 In the hand of God is the prosperitie of man, and vpon the scribes will he lay his honor.

6 * Bee not angry for any wrong, with thy neighbour, and doe nothing by inurious practices.

7 Pride is hatefull before God and man, and by both doth one commit iniquitie.

8 Because of vnrighteous dealings, & wrongs and riches gotten by deceite, the kingdome is translated from one people to another.

9 There is nothing worse then a covetous man[why art thou proud,O earth & athes? there is not a more wicked thing then to loue monie:] for such one would euen sell his soule,and for his life every one is compelled to pull out his owne bowels.

10 [All tyranny is of small endurance, and the disease that is hard to heale, is grievous to the Physician.]

11 The Phyfition cutteth off the fore difeafe, and he that is to day a king to morrow is dead.

12. Why is earth and ashes proud, seeing that when a man dyeth, hee is the heire of serpents, beasts and wormes?

13 The beginning of mans pride is to fall away from God, and to turns away his heart from his maker.

14 For pride is the original of sinne, & he that hath it, shall powre out abomination, till at last he be ouerthrowen: therefore the Lord bringeth the perswasions [of the wicked] to dishonour, and destroyeth them in the end.

15 The Lord hath *cast downe the thrones of the [proud] princes, and set vp the meeke in their stead.

16 The Lorde plucketh vp the rootes of the [proud] nations, and planteth the lowly with glory among them.

17 The Lord overthroweth the landes of the heathen, and destroyeth them vnto the foundations of the earth: hee causeth them to wither away, and destroyeth them, and maketh their memoriall to cease out of the earth.

18 [God destroyeth the memorial of] proud, and leaveth the remembrance of the humble.]

19. Pride was not created in men, neither wrath in the generation of women.

20 There is a feed of man which is an honorable feede: the honourable feede are they that feare the Lord: there is a feede of man, which is without honour: the feede without honour, are they that transgresse the commandements of the Lord: it is a feede that remaineth which feareth the Lord, and a faire plaint, that loueth him: but they are a feed without honour that despise the law, and a deceiuaible feede that breake the commandements.

21 He that is the chiefe among the brethren, is honourable: so are they that feare the Lord in his fight.

22 The feare of the Lord causeth that the king-domes faileth not, but the kingdome is lost by cruelty and pride.

23 The feare of the Lord is the glory aſwel of the rich and the noble, as of the poore.

24 It is not meete to dispise the poore man that hath vnderstanding, neither is it conuenient to magnifie the rich that is a wicked man.

25 The great man and the iudge and the man of authoritie, are honorable, yet is there none of them greater, then he that feareth the Lord.

26 ¶ Vnto the seruant that is wife, shall they that are free do seruice: he that hath knowledge, will not grudge when hee is reformed, [and the ignorant shall not come to honour.]

27 Seeke not excuses when thou shouldest do thy worke, neither bee ashamed thereof through pride in the time of aduerſitie.

28 *Better is he that laboureth and hath plenty of all things, then he that is gorgeous, and wanteth bread.

29 My sonne, get thy selfe praise by meeknesse, and esteeme thy selfe as thou deseruest.

30 Who will count him iust that sinneth against himselfe? or honour him that dishonoureth his owne soule?

31 The poore is honoured for his knowledge
[and his feare,] but the rich is had in reputation because of his goods.

32 Hee that is honoured in pouertie, howe much more shall he bee when he is rich? and hee that is vnhoneft being rich? howe much more will he be so when he is in pouertie?

CHAP. XI.

2. The praise of humility. 3. After the outward appearance ought we not to judge. 7 Of rash judgements 14. All things come of God. 19. All men are not to be brought into some house.

Wisdomē * lifteth vp the head of him that is lowe, and maketh him to sit among great men.

2 Commend not a man for his beautie, neither despise a man in his vtter appearance.

3 The Bee is but small among the foules, yet doth her fruit passe in sweetnesse.

4 Bee not proude of clothing and rayment.
*and exalt not thy selfe in the day of honour: for the workes of the Lord are wonderfull, [and glorious] secrete [and vnknown] are his workes among men.

5 Many tyrants haue sit downe vpon the earth *and the vnlikely haue worne the crowne.

6 Many mightie men haue beene brought to dishonour, and the honourable haue beene deli- uered into other mens hands.

7 ¶ Blame no [man] before thou hast inquired the matter: vnderstand first, and then reforme [righteously.]

¶ * Give no sentence, before thou hast heard the cause, neither interrupt men in the middes of their tales.

9 Strive not for a matter that thou hast not to do with, and sit not in the judgement of sinners.

10 My sonne, meddle not with many matters :
*for if thou gaine much, thou shalt not bee blamelesse, and if thou follow after it, yet shalt thou not attaine it, neither shalt thou escape, though thou flee from it.

11 * There is some man that laboureth and taketh paine, and the more he hafteth, the more he wanteth.

12 Againethere is some that is flouthfull, and

13 And he littest vp his head, so that many men maruell at him, [and giue honour vnto God.]

14 Prosperitie and aduersitie, life and death, povertie and riches come of the Lord.

15 Wisdome and knowledge and vnderstanding of the Law are of the Lord: loue and good workes come of him.

16 Error and darknesse are appointed for sinners, and they that exalt themselves in euill, waxe olde in euill.

17 The gift of the Lord remaineth for the godly, and his good will giueth prosperitie for ever.

18 ¶ Some man is rich by his care and nigardship, and this is the portion of his wages.

* Luke 12. 19.

19 In that he saith, I haue gotten rest, and now will I eate continually of my goods, yet he considereth not, that the time draweth neere, that he must leaue all these things vnto other men; and die himselfe.

20 Stand thou in thy state, & exercise thy selfe therein, & remaine in thy worke vnto thine age.

21 Maruell not at the workes of sinners, but trust in the Lord, and abide in thy labor: for it is an easie thing in the sight of the Lord, suddenly to make a poore man rich.

22 The blessing of the Lord is in the wages of the godly, and he maketh his prosperity soone to flourish.

23 ¶ Say not, What profit and pleasure shall I haue? & what good thing shall I haue hereafter?

24 Again say not, I haue enough, and possesse many things, and what euill can come to mee hereafter?

* Job. 12. 19.

25 ¶ In thy good state remember aduersitie, and in aduersitie forget not prosperitie.

26 For it is an easie thing vnto the Lord in the day of death, to rewarde a man according to his wayes.

27 The aduersitie of an houre maketh one to forget pleasure: and in a mans end, his workes are discouered.

28 Iudge none blessed before his death: for a man shall be known by his children.

29 Bring not euery man into thy house: for the deceitfull haue many trains [and are like stomackers that belch stinckingly.]

30 As a Partrich is taken vnder a basket, [and the hind is taken in the snare] so is the heart of the proude man, which like a spie watcheth for thy fall.

31 For he lyeth in wait and turneth good vnto euill, and in things worthy praise he will finde some fault.

32 Of one litle sparke is made a great fire, [& of one deceitfull man is blood increased:] for a sinfull man layeth waite for blood.

33 Beware of a wicked man, for hee imagineth wicked things to bring thee into a perpetual shame.

34 Lodge a stranger, and hee will destroy thee with vnquietnesse, & drine thee from thine owne.

CHAP. XII.

2 ¶ Vnto whom we ought to doe good, 10 ¶ Enuies ought not to be trusted.

¶ When thou wilt doe good, know to whom thou doest it, so shalt thou bee thanked for thy benefits.

* Gal. 6. 10.
1. ¶ Doe good vnto the righteous, and then shalt finde [great] reward, though not of him; yet of the most High.

2 He cannot haue good that continueth in euill and giueth no almes, [for the most High hateth the sinners, & hath mercie vpon them that repent.]

3 Giue vnto such as feare God, and receiue not a sinner.

4 Doe well vnto him that is lowly, but giue not to the vngodly: hold backe thy bread, & giue it not vnto him, least he ouercome thee thereby: els thou shalt receiue twise as much euill for all the good that thou doest vnto him.

5 For the most High hateth the wicked, and will repay vengeance vnto the vngodly, & keepeth them against the day of horrible vengeance.

6 Giue vnto the good, and receiue not the sinner.

7 A friend cannot be knownen in prosperitie, neither can an enemy be vnknownen in aduersitie.

8 When a man is in wealth, it grieueth his enemies, but in heauinesse and trouble a mans very friend will depart from him.

9 Trust neuer thine enemy: for like as a yron rusteth, so doth his wickednesse.

10 And though hee make much crouching and kneeling, yet aduise thy selfe, and beware of him, and thou shalt be to him as hee that wipeth a glasse, and thou shalt know that all his rust hath not bene well wiped away.

11 Set him not by thee, least hee destroy thee and stand in thy place.

12 Neither let him at thy right hand, least he seeke thy roome, and thou at the last remember my words, and be pricked with my sayings.

13 Binde not two sinnes together: for there shall not one be vnpunished. * Chap. 7. 8. & 31.

14 Who will haue pity on the charmer, that is stung of the serpent? or of all such as come neere the beasts? so is it with him that keepeth companie with a wicked man, and wrappeth himselfe in his sinnes.

15 For a season will hee bide with thee: but if thou stumble hee tarrieth not.

16 ¶ An enemy is sweet in his lips: he can make many good words, & speake many good things: yea, he can weepe with his eyes, but in his heart he imagineth how to throw thee into the pit: and if he may find opportunitie, he will not be satisfied with blood. * Jer. 9. 1. & 6.

17 If aduersitie come vpon thee, thou shalt find him there first, and though he pretend to helpe thee, yet shall he vnderminde thee: he will shake his head, and clappe his hands, and will make many words, and disguise his countenance.

CHAP. XIII.

1 ¶ The companies of the proude and of the rich are to be eschewed. 15 ¶ The law of God, 17 ¶ Like doe companie with their like.

¶ He that toucheth pitch shall be defiled with it: and he that is familiar with the proude, shall be like vnto him. * Deut. 7. 5.

2 Burthen not thy selfe about thy power, whilest thou liuest, and companie not with one that is mightier, and richer then thy selfe: for how agree the kerle and the earthen pot together? for if the one be smitten against the other, it shall be broken.

3 The rich dealeth vnrighteously, & threatneth with all: but the poore beeing oppressed must interuite: if the rich haue done wrong, hee must must yet be intreated: but if the poore harte doe it, he shall straightwayes be threatened.

4 If thou be for his profit, he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothing, he will forsake thee.

5 If thou haue any thing, hee will liue with thee: yea, he will make thee a bare man, and will not care for it.

6 If he haue need of thee, he wil defraud thee, and will laugh at thee, & put thee in hope, & giue thee all good words, and say, What wantest thou?

7 Thus will he shame thee in his meare, vntill he haue sutt thee cleane vp twise or thrise, and at the last hee will laugh thee to scorne: afterward, when he seeth thee, he will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 [Submit thy selfe vnto God, and write vp-on his hand]

9 Beware that thou bee not deceived in thine owne conceit, and brought downe by thy simple-nesse: [be not too humble in thy wisdom.]

10 ¶ If thou be called of a mightie man, absent thy selfe: so shall he call thee the more oft.

11 Praise not thou vnto him, i thou be not shut out, but goe not thou farre off, lest he forget thee.

12 Withdraw not thy selfe from his speech, but beleue not his many words: for with much communication he will tempt thee, and laughingly will he grope thee.

13 He is vnnmercifull and keepeth not promise:
he will not spare to doe thee hurt, and so put thee in prison.

14 Beware, and take good heed: for thou wal-kest in perill of thine overthrowing: when thou hearest this, awake in thy sleepe.

15 Loose the Lord all thy life, and call vpon him for thy saluation.

16 ¶ Every beast loueth his like, and every man loueth his neighbour.

17 All flesh will resort to their like, and every man will keepe company w such as he is himselfe.

18 How can the wolfe agree with the lambe?
no more can the vngodly with the righteous.

19 What fellowship hath hyena with a dog?
and what peace is between the rich & the poore?

20 As the wild ass is the Lyons pray in the wil-dernes, so are poore men the meat of the rich.

21 As the proud hate humilitie, so do the rich abhorre the poore.

22 If a rich man fall, his friends ser him vp againe: but when the poore falleth, his friends driue him away.

23 If a rich man offend, he hath many helpers:
hespeaketh proude wordes, and yet men iustifie him: but if a poore man faile, they rebuke him, & though hespeake wisely, yet can it haue no place.

24 When the rich man speaketh, every man holdeth his tongue, and looke what he saith, they praise it vnto the cloudes: but if the poore man speake, they say, What fellow is this? and if hee doe amisse, they will destroy him.

25 Riches are good vnto him that hath no sinne [in his conscience] and pouertie is euill in the mouth of the vngodly.

26 The heart of a man chaugeth his countenance, whether it be in good or euill.

27 A cheerefull countenance is a token of a good heart: for it is an hard thing to know the secrets of the thought.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The offence of the tongue. 17 Man is but a vaine thing. 21
Happie is he that continueth in wisdom.

Blessed is the man that hath not fallen by the word of his mouth, and is not tormented with the sorow of sinne.

2 Blessed is he that is not condemned in his conscience, & is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.

3 Riches are not comely for a niggard, and what should an enuious man doe with money?

4 He that gathereth together from his owne soule, heapeth together for others, that wil make good cheare with his goods.

5 He that is wicked vnto himselfe, to whome will he be good? for such one can haue no pleasure of his goods.

6 There is nothing worse, then when one en-uieth himselfe: and this is a reward of his wickednesse.

7 And if hee doe any good, he doeth it not knowing thereof, and against his will, and at the last he declareth his wickednesse.

8 The enuious man hath a wicked looke: he turneth away his face, and despiseth men.

9 A couetous mans eye hath neuer enough of a portion, and his wicked malice withereth his owne soule.

10 A wicked eye enuieth the bread, and there is scarcenesse vpon his table.

11 My sonne, do good to thy selfe of that thou hast, and giue the Lord his due offerings.

12 Remember that death carieth not, and that the covenant of y graue is not shewed vnto thee.

13 Doe good vnto thy friend before thou die, and according to thine abilitie stretch out thine hand, and giue him.

14 Defraud not thy selfe of the good day, & let not the portion of the good desires ouerpasse thee.

15 Shalt thou not leaue thy trauels vnto another, & thy labours for y diuiding of y heritage?

16 Giue and take and sanctifie thy soule:
[worke thou righteously before thy death:]
for in the hell there is no meat to find.

17 ¶ All flesh waxeth old as a garment, & this is y condition of all times, Thou shalt die y death.

18 As the greene leaues on a thicke tree, some fall, and some growe, so is the generation of flesh and blood: one cometh to an end, and another is borne.

19 All corruptible things shall faile, and the workethereof shall goe withall.

20 [Every excellent worke shall be iustified, and he that worketh it, shall haue honour thereby.]

21 ¶ Blessed is the man that doth meditate honest things by wisdom, [and exerciseth himselfe in iustice,] and hee that reasoneth of holy things by his vnderstanding,

22 Which considereth in his heart her wayes, and vnderstandeth her secrets.

23 Goethou after her as one that seeketh her out, and lie in wait in her wayes.

24 Hee shall looke in at her windowes, and hearken at her doores.

25 He shall abide beside her house, & faste a stake in her walles: he shall pitch his tent besides her.

26 And hee shall remaine in the lodging of good men, & shall set his children vnder her couering, and shall dwell vnder her branches.

27 By her he shall be couered from the heate, and in her glory shall he dwell.

CHAP. XV.

1 The goodness which followeth him that feareth God. 8 God reioiceth and alleth off the sinners. 11 God nameth the antheur of euill.

Which is a wild beast that counter-faireth the voyce of men, and so en-uiceth them out of their houses, and deuoureth them.

His that feareth the Lord, will doe good: and he that hath the knowledge of the Law, will keepe it sure.

As an [honourable] mother shall she meet him, and she, at his wife married of a virgine, will receiue him.

With the bread [of life] and vnderstanding shall shee feed him; and giue him the * water of [wholesome] wisdom to drinke.

He shall assure himselfe in her, and shall not be moued, and shall hold himselfe fast by her, and shall not be confounded.

She shall exalt him about his neighbours, and in the mids of the Congregation shall she open his mouth: [with the spirit of wisdom and vnderstanding shall she fill him, and clothe him with the garment of glory.]

She shall cause him to inherite ioy, and the crown of gladnesse, and an euerslasting name.

But foolish men will not take holde vpon her: [but such as haue vnderstanding, will meet her:] the sinners shall not see her.

For she is farre from pride and deceit, [and men that lie cannot remember her: [but men of truth shall haunt her, and shall prosper euery vnto
the beholding of God.]

Praise is not seemely in the mouth of the sinner: for that is not sent of the Lord.

But if praise come of wisdom, [and bee plenteous in a faithfull mouth] then the Lord wil prosper it.

Say noethon, It is through the Lord that I turne backe: for thou oughtest not to doe the things that he hateth.

Say noethon, Hee hath caused me to erre:
for he hath no need of the sinfull man.

The Lord hateth all abomination [of crimour:] and they that feare God, loue it not.

He made man from the beginning, and left him in the hand of his counsell, [and giue him his commandements and precepts.]

If thou wilt, thou shalt obseue the com-mandements, and testifie thy good will.

Hee hath set water and fire before thee:
stretch out thine hand vnto which thou wilt.

Before man is life and death, [good and euill:] what him lieth shall be giuen him.

For the wisdom of the Lord is great, and he is mightie in power, and beholdeth all things continually.

And the eyes [of the Lord] are vpon them that feare him; & he knoweth all the works of man.

He hath commanded no man to doe vngodly, neither hath he giuen any man licence to sinne [for he desireth not a multitude of infidels, and vnprofitable children.]

CHAP. XVI.

Of vngodly and wicked children. 17 No man can hide himselfe from God. 24 An exhortation to the retaining of instruction.

Neither doth the multitude of vnprofitable children, neither delight in vngodly children:
though they be many, reioyce not in them, except the feare of the Lord be with them.

Trust noethon to their life, neither rest vpon their multitude.

For one that is iust, is better then a thousand such, and better it is to die without children, then to leaue behind him vngodly children.

For by one that hath vnderstanding, shall the citie be inhabited: but the stocke of the wicked shall be wasted incontinently.

Many such things haue I seene & mine eyes, & mine eare hath heard greater things then these.

In the congregation of the vngodly shall a fire be kindled, and among vnfaithfull people shall the wrath be set on fire.

He spared not the old gyants, which were rebellious, trusting to their owne strength.

Neither spared hee whereas Lot dwelt,
those whom he abhorred for their pride.

He had no pittie vpon the people that were destroyed, and putted vp in their sinnes:

And so hee preserved the sixe hundred thousand footemen, that were gathered in the hardnesse of their heart, in afflicting them, and pitying them, in smiting them and healing them, with mercie and with chastisement.

Therefore if there be one stiffnecked among the people, it is marvell if he escape vnpunished:
for mercie and wrath are with him: he is mighty to forgive and to powre out displeasure.

As his mercie is great, so is his punishment also: he iudgeth a man according to his works.

The vngodly shall not escape with his spoile, and the patience of the godly shall not be delayed.

He will giue place to all good deedes, and euery one shall find according to his works, [and after the vnderstanding of his pilgrimage.]

The Lord hardened Pharaoh, that he should not know him, and that his workes should bee known vpon the earth vnder the heauen.

His merole is known to all creatures: hee hath separated his light from the darkenesse with an adamant.

Say not thou, I will hide my selfe from the Lord: for who wil thinke vpon me from aboue?
I shall not be knownen in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among such an infinite number of creatures?

Beholde the heauen, and the * heauen of heavens, which are for God, the depth, and the earth, and all that therein is, shall be moued when he shall visit.

All the world which is created and made by his will, the mountaines also, and the foundations of the earth shall shake for feare, when the Lord looketh vpon them.

These things doeth no heart vnderstand worthily, [but he vnderstandeth euery heart.]

And who vnderstandeth his wayes? and the storme that no man can see? for the most part of his works are hid.

Who can declare the works of his righte-ousnes? or who can abide them? for his ordinance is farre off, & the trying out of all things faileth.

He that is humble of heart, will consider these things: but an vnwise and erroneous man casteth his mind vpon foolish things.

My son, hearken vnto me, and learne knowledge, and make my words with thine heart.

I will declare thee weightie doctrine, and I will instruct thee exactly in knowledge.

The Lord hath set his works in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath hee sundred from the other when he first made them.

He hath garnished his works for euery their beginnings so long, as they shall endure, they are not hungry nor wearied in their labours, nor cease from their offices.

None of them hindereth another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his words.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The creation of man, and the goodnesse that God hath done vnto him. 20 Of almes, 22 and repentance.

THe Lord hath created man of the earth, and turned him vnto it againe.

2 He gaue him the number of dayes and certaine times, and gaue him power of the things that are vpon earth.

3 He clothed them with strength, as they had neede, and made them according to his image.

4 He made all flesh to feare him, so that hee had the dominion ouer the beasts and fowles.

5 [He created out of him an helper like vnto himselfe,] and gaue them discretion & tongue, and eyes, eares, and an heart to vnderstand, and finally hee gaue them a spirit, and feutently he gaue them speech to declare his works,

6 And he filled them with knowledge of vnderstanding, and shewed them good and euill.

7 Hee let his eye vpon their hearts, declaring vnto them his noble works,

8 And gaue them occasion to reioyce perpetually in his miracles, that they should prudently declare his works, and that the elect should praise his holy Name together.

9 Besides this, hee gaue them knowledge, and gaue them the Law of life for an heritage, that they might now know that they were mortal.

10 Hee made an euerlasting couenant with them, and shewed them his iudgements.

11 Their eyes saw the maiestie of his glory, and their eares heard his glorious voyce.

12 And he said vnto them, Beware of all vnrighteous things. He gaue every man also a commandement concerning his neighbour.

13 Their wayes are euer before him, and are not hid from his eyes.

14 Euery man from his youth is giuen to euil, and their stony hearts cannot become flesh.

15 Hee appointed a ruler vpon euery people, when he diuided the nations of the whole earth.

16 And he did chuse Israel, as a peculiar people to himselfe, whom he nourisheth with discipline as his first borne, and giueth him most louing light, and doeth not forsake him.

17 All their works are as the sunne before him, and his eyes are continually vpon their wayes.

18 None of their vnrighteousnesse is hid from him, but all their finnes are before the Lord.

19 And hee is mercifull, and knoweth his worke, he doth not leaue them nor forsake them, but spareth them.

20 The almes of a man, is as a thing sealed vp before him, and he keepeth the good deedes of man as the apple of the eye, and giueth repentance to their sonnes and daughters.

21 At the last shal he arise, and reward them, and shall repay their reward vpon their heads.

22 But vnto them that will repent, he giueth them grace to returne, and exhorteth such as faile, with patience, [and sendeth them the portion of the verity.]

23 Returne then vnto the Lord, and forsake thy finnes: make thy prayer before his face, and take away the offence.

24 Turne againe vnto the most High: for hee will bring thee from darkenesse to wholesome light: forsake thine vnrighteousnesse, and hate greatly all abomination.

25 [Know the righteousness and iudgements of God: stand in the portion that is set forth for thee, and in the praiser of the most high God, and go in the parts of the holy world with such as be liuing and confesse God.]

26 Who can praise the most High in the hel, as doe all they that liue and confesse him?

27 [Abide not thou in the error of the vngodly, but praise the Lord before death]

28 Thankfulness perieth from the dead, as though he were not: but the liuing, and hee that is found of heart, praiseth the Lord, [and reioycesth in his mercy.]

29 How great is the louing kindnesse of the Lord our God, and his compassion vnto such as turne vnto him in holinesse!

30 For all things cannot be in men, because the sonne of man is not immortal, [and they take pleasure in the vanity of wickednesse]

31 What is more cleare then the Sunne? yet shall it faile.

32 So flesh and blood that thinketh euil, [shal be reprobued.]

33 He seeth the power of the high heauen, and all men are but earth and ashes.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The marvellous works of God. 6. 7 The miserie and wretchednesse of man. 9 Against God ought wee not to complaine. 22 The performing of vower.

HE that liueth for euer, made all things together: the Lord who onely is iust, and there is none other but he, [and he remaineth a victorious king for euer.]

2 Hee ordereth the world with the power of his hand, and all things obey his will: for he gouerneth all things by his power, and diuideth the holy things from the prophane.

3 To whom hath hee giuen power to expresse his workes? who will seek out the ground of his noble acts?

4 Who shall declare the power of his greatness? or who will take vpon him to tell out his mercy?

5 As for the wonderous workes of the Lord, there may be nothing taken from them, neither can any thing be put vnto them, neither may the ground of them be found out.

6 But when a man hath done his best, he must begin againe, and when he thinketh to come to an end, he must goe againe to his labour.

7 What is man? whereto serueth hee? what good or euill can he do?

8 If the number of a mans dayes bee an hundred yeere, it is much: and no man hath certaine knowledge of his death.

9 As drops of raine are vnto the sea, and as a granel stone is in comparison of the sand, so are a thousand yeeres to the dayes euerlasting.

10 Therefore is [God] patient with them, and powreth out his mercy vpon them.

11 He saw and perceiued, that [the arrogancy of their heart, and their ruine was euil: therefore heaped he vp his mercy vpon them, and shewed them the way of righteousness.]

12 The mercy that a man hath, reacheth to his neighbour: but the mercy of the Lord is vpon all flesh:

heth: he chatteneth, and nethereth, and teacheth, and bringeth backe, as a shepheard his flocke.

13 He hath mercy on them that receiue discipline, and that diligently seeke after his iudgements.

14 ¶ My sonne, when thou doest good, reproue not: and whatsoeuer thou giuest, vse no discomfortable words.

15 Shall not the dewe affwage the heat? so is a word better then a gift.

16 Loe, is not a word better then a good gift? but a precious man giueth them both.

17 A foole will reproch churlishly, and a gift of the enuious putteth out the eyes.

18 [Get thee righteousnesse before thou come to iudgement:] learne before thou speake, and vse physicke or euer thou be sicke.

* 1. Cor. 11. 31.

19 ¶ Examine thy selfe before thou be iudged, and in the day of the visitation thou shalt haue mercy.

20 Humble thy selfe before thou be sicke, and whilest thou maist yet sinne, shew thy conuersion.

21 Let nothing let thee to pay thy vowe in time, and deferre not vnto death to be reformed: [for the reward of God endureth for euer.]

22 Before thou praist prepare thy selfe, and be not as one that tempteth the Lord.

* Chap. 7. 17. 36.

23 Thinke vpon the * wrath that shall bee at the end, and the houre of vengeance when he shall turne away his face.

* Chap. 11. 23.

24 ¶ When thou hast enough, remember the time of hunger: and when thou art rich, thinke vpon pouerty and need.

25 From the morning vntill the euening the time is changed, and all such things are soone done before the Lord.

26 A wise man feareth in all things, and in the dayes of transgression hee keepeth himselfe from sinne: but the foole doth not obserue the time.

27 ¶ Euery wise man knoweth wisdom, and knowledge, and praiseth him that findeth her.

28 They that haue vnderstanding, deale wisely in words: [they vnderstand the truth, and righteousnesse:] and powre out with modettie graue sentences for mans life.

29 The chiefe authority of speaking is of the Lord alone: for a mortall man hath but a dead heart.

30 ¶ Follow not thy lustes, but turne thee from thine owne appetites.

31 For if thou giuest thy soule her desires, it shall make thine enemies that enuie thee, to laugh thee to scorne.

32 Take not thy pleasure in great voluptuousnes, & intangle not thy selfe with such company.

33 Become not a beggar by making banquets of that that thou hast borrowd, and so leaue nothing in thy purse, else thou shouldest slanderously lie in wait for thine owne life.

¶ Wine and whoredome bring men to pouerty. & In thy words vsd discretion. 22 The difference of the wisdom of God and man. 27 Whom by thou mayest know what is in man.

2. King. 11. 1, 2, 4.

2 ¶ Wine and Women leade wise men out of the way, [and put men of vnderstanding to reproofe.]

3 And he that companieth adulterers, shall become impudent: rottennesse & wormes shall haue him to heritage, and he that is too bolde, shall be taken away, and be made a publique example.

4 ¶ He that is hastie to giue credite, is light minded, and hee that erreth, sinneth against his owne soule.

5 Who so reioyceth in wickednesse, shall be punished: [he that hateth to be reformed, his life shall be shortened, and he that abhorreth babling of words quencherh wickednesse:] but he that resisteth pleasures, crowneth his owne soule.

6 He that refraineth his tongue may liue with a troublesome man, and hee that hareth babling, shall haue lesse euill.

7 Rehearse not to another that which is told vnto thee: so shalt thou not be hindred.

8 Declare not other mens maners, neither to friend nor foe: and if the sunne appertaine not vnto thee, reuile it not.

9 For he will hearken vnto thee, and marke thee, and when he findeth opportunitie, hee will hate thee.

10 ¶ If thou hast heard a word [against thy neighbour,] let it die with thee, and be iure, it wil not burst thee.

* Chap. 12. 29.
and 27. 17.

11 A foole trauelleth when hee hath heard a thing, as a woman that is about to bring forth a childe.

12 As an arrow that sticketh in ones thigh, so is a word in a fooles heart.

13 ¶ Reproue a friend, lest he doe euill, and if he haue done it, that he doe it no more.

* Lemit. 19. 17.
matth. 18. 15.

14 Reproue a friend that hee may keepe his tongue: and if he haue spoken, that he say it no more.

15 Tell thy friend his fault: for oft times a slander is raised, and giue no credence to euery word.

16 A man falleth with his tongue, but not with his wil: and who is he that hath not offended in his tongue?

* James 3. 2.

17 Reproue thy neighbour before thou threaten him, and being without anger, giue place vnto the Law of the most High.

18 The feare of the Lord is the first degree to be receiued of him, and wisdom obtaineth his loue.

19 The knowledge of the commandments of the Lord is the doctrine of life, and they that obey him shall receiue fruit of immortalitie.

20 The feare of the Lord is all wisdom, and the performing of the Law is perfect wisdom, and the knowledge of his almighty power.

21 If a seruant say vnto his master, I will not doe as it pleaseth thee, though afterward he doe it, he shall displease him that nourisheth him.

22 The knowledge of wickednesse is not wisdom neither is there prudency whereas the counsell of finners is: but it is euen execrable malice: and the foole is voide of wisdom.

23 He that hath smal vnderstanding, & feareth God, is better then one that hath much wisdom, and transgresseth the Law of the most High.

24 There is a certaine subtiltie that is fine, but it is vnrighteous: and there is that wresteth the open and manifest law: yet there is that is wise and iudgeth righteously.

25 There is some that being about wicked purposes, doe bow downe themselves, and are sad, whose inward parts burne altogether with deceit: he looketh downe with his face, and faineth himselfe deafe: yet before thou perceiue, hee will be vpon thee to hurt thee.

26 And

26 And though he be so weake that he can do thee no harme, yet when he may finde opportunitie, he will doe euill.

27 ¶ A man may be knowne by his looke, and one that hath vnderstanding, may bee perceiued by the marking of his countenance.

* Chap. 17. 30. 31.

28 ¶ A mans garment, and his exceffive laughter, and going, declare what person he is.

CHAP. XX.

Of correction and repentance. 6 To speake and keep silence in time. 17 The fall of the wicked. 23 Oyling. 24 The thiefe and the murderer. 28 Gifts blinde the eyes of the wise.

THere is some rebuke that is not comely: a gaine, some man holdeth his tongue, and hee is wise.

2 It is much better to reprove then to beare euill will: and hee that acknowledgeth his fault, shall be preferred from hurt.

* Chap. 30. 30.

3 As when a gelded man through lust would defile a maid, so is he that vseth violence in iudgement.

4 How good a thing is it when thou art reprov'd, to shew repentance! for so shalt thou escape wilfull sinne.

5 Some man keepeth silence, and is found wise, and some by much babbling becommeth harefull.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because hee hath not to answer: and some keepeth silence, waiting a convenient time.

* Eccl. 3. 7.

* Chap. 32. 4.

7 ¶ A wise man will hold his tongue till hee see opportunitie: but a trifier and a foole will regard no time.

8 He that vseth many words, shall be abhorred, and he that taketh authority to himselfe, shall be hated.

9 Some man hath oftentimes prosperity in wicked things, and sometime a thing that is sound, bringeth losse.

10 There is some gift that is not profitable for thee, & there is some gift, whose reward is double.

11 Some man humbleth himselfe for glories sake, and some by humbles lifteth vp the head.

12 Some man buyeth much for a little price, for the which he payeth seven times more.

* Chap. 5.

13 ¶ A wise man with his words maketh himselfe to be loued, but the merry tales of fooles shall be powred out.

14 The gift receiued of a foole shall do thee no good, neither yet of the enuious for his importunitie: for hee looketh to receiue many things for one: he giueth little, and he vpbraideth much: he openeth his mouth like a towne-cryer: to day he lendeth, to morrow asketh hee againe, and such one is to be hated of God and man.

15 The foole saith, I haue no friend, I haue no thanke for all my good deedes: and they that eat my bread, speake euill of me.

16 How oft, and of how many shall hee be laughed to scorn? for he comprehendeth not by right iudgement that which he hath: and it is all one as though he had it not.

17 The fall on a pavement is very sudden: so shall the fall of the wicked come hastily.

18 A man without grace is as a foolish tale which is oft told by the mouth of the ignorant.

19 A wise sentence loseth grace when it cometh out of a fooles mouth: for he speaketh not in due season.

20 Some man sinneth not because of poverty, and yet is not grieued when he is alone.

21 Some man there is that destroyeth his own soule, because he is ashamed, and for the regard of persons loseth it.

22 Some man promiseth vnto his friend for shame, and getteth an enemy of him for nought.

23 ¶ A lie is a wicked shame in a man: yet is it oft in the mouth of the vnwise. * Chap. 25. 3.

24 A thiefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lie: but they both shall haue destruction to heritage.

25 The conditions of liars are vntrue, and their shame is euer with them.

26 A wise man shall bring himselfe to honour with his words, and he that hath vnderstanding, shall please great men.

27 ¶ He that tilleth his land, shall increase his heape, [he that worketh righteousness, shall be exalted,] and hee that pleaseh great men, shall haue pardon of his iniquitie. * Prov. 12. 11. and 28. 19.

28 Rewards and gifts blinde the eyes of the wise, and make them dumbe, that they cannot reprove faults. * Eccl. 10. 3. and 16. 19.

29 Wisdome that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded vp, what profit is in them both?

30 Better is he that keepeth his ignorance secret, then a man that hideth his wisdom.

31 The necessary patience of him that followeth the Lord, is better then he that governeth his life without the Lord.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Not to continue in sinne. 3 The prayer of the afflicted. 6 To hate to be reproved. 17 The mouth of the wise man. 26 The thought of the foole.

MY sonne, hast thou sinned? doe so no more, but pray for the foresinnes [that they may be forgiven thee.] * Chap. 5. 5. psal. 41. 4. Luke 15. 21.

2 Flee from sinne, as from a serpent: for if thou comest too neere it, it will bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lion, to slay the soules of men.

3 All iniquitie is as a two edged sword, the wounds whereof cannot be healed.

4 Strife and injuries waste riches: so the house of the proud shall be desolate.

5 The prayer of the poore going out of the mouth, cometh vnto the eares of the Lord, and iustice is done him incontinently. * Exod. 22. 2.

6 Whoso hateth to be reformed, is in the way of sinners: but hee that feareth the Lord, conuerteth in heart.

7 An eloquent talker is knowne as farre off: but he that is wise, perceiueh when he falleth.

8 Whoso buildeth his house with other mens money, is like one that gathereth stones to make his graue.

9 ¶ The congregation of the wicked is like rowe wrapped together: their end is a flame of fire to destroy them. * Chap. 16. 5.

10 The way of sinners is made plaine with stones, but at the end thereof is hell, [darkenesse and paines.]

11 He that keepeth the Law of the Lord, letteth his owne afflictions thereby: and the increase of wisdom is the end of the feare of God. ¶ Or, keepeth the understanding thereof.

12 He that is not wise, will not suffer himselfe to be taught: but there is some wit that increaseth bitterness.

13 The knowledge of the wise shall abound like water that runneth ouer, and his counsell is like a pure fountaine of life.

22 Before thou praieſt prepare thy selfe, and be not as one that reuoltech the Lord.

23 Thinke vpon the wrath that shall bee at the end, and the more of vengeance when he shall turne away his face.

24 When thou hast enough, remember the time of hunger: and when thou art rich, thinke vpon poverty and need.

25 From the morning vntill the evening the time is changed, and all such things are soone done before the Lord.

26 A wise man searcheth in all things, and in the dayes of angustresson hee keepeth himselfe from sinne: but the foole doth not observe the time.

27 Every wise man knoweth wisdom, and knowledge, and praieſeth him that findeth her.

28 They that haue vnderstanding, deale wisely in words: [they vnderstand the truth, and righteſouſneſſe] and pouer our with moderate graue sentences for mans life.

29 The chiefe authority of speaking is of the Lord: alouer for a speeche man hath but a dead heare.

30 Follow not thy lustes, but turne thee from thine owne appetites.

31 For if thou giuelt thy soule her desires, it shall make thine enemies that enuie thee, to laugh thee to scorn.

32 Take not thy pleasure in great voluptuousnes, & intangle not thy selfe with such company.

33 Become not a beggar by making banquettes of that that thou hast borrowed, and so leaue nothing in thy purse, else thou shalt stand roudly lie in wait for thine owne life.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Wine and whoredome bring men to poverty, & in thy words be discretion. 3 The first fruit of the wisdom of God and man. 4-7 Proverbs by the wisdom of Solomon written in Hebrew.

A labouring man that is giuen to drunkenness, shall not be rich: and he that contemneſſeth small things, shall fall by little and little.

2 Wine and Women leade wise men out of the way, [and] pae men of vnderstanding to reproofe.

3 And he that companieth adulterers shall become impudent: & a transgressor & wormes shall haue alle moue of bread in his house.

4 He that is too bolde, shall be taken away, and he made a publique example.

5 He that is haſtie to giue credite, is light minded, and hee that erreth, sinneth against his owne soule.

6 Who so reioyceth in wickednesse, shall be punished: [he that hateth to be reformed, his life shall be shortened, and he that abhorreth babbling of words quencheth wickednesse:] but he that resisteth pleasures, crowneth his owne soule.

7 He that refraineſh his tongue may liue with a troubleſome man, and ſee that heareth babbling, shall haue leſſe euill.

8 Rehearse not to another that which is told vnto thee: so shalt thou not be hindered.

9 Declare not other mens manners, neither to friend nor foe: and if the sunne appertaine not vnto thee, reuile it not.

10 For he will hearken vnto thee, and marke thee, and when he findeth opportunitie, hee will ſlaue thee.

11 If thou haſt heard a word [againſt] thy neighbour, let it die with thee, and be ſure, it will not burſt thee.

12 A foole trauelleth when hee hath heard a thing, as a woman that is about to bring forth a childe.

13 As an arrow that ſticketh in ones thigh, ſo is a word in a foolers heare.

14 Reprooue a friend, lest hee doe euill, and if hee haue done it, that hee doe it no more.

15 Reprooue a friend that hee may keepe his tongue: and if hee haue ſpoken, that hee ſay it no more.

16 Tell thy friend his fault: for oft times a ſlander is raiſed, and giue no credence to every word.

17 A man ſalleth with his tongue, but not with his wil: and who is he that hath not offended in his tongue?

18 Reproue thy neighbour before thou threaten him, and being without anger, giue place vnto the Law of the moſt High.

19 The feare of the Lord is the first degreer to be receiued of him, and wiſedome obtaineth his loue.

20 The knowledge of the commandements of the Lord is the doctrine of life, and they that obey him shall receiue fruit of immortallitie.

21 The feare of the Lord is all wiſedome, and the performing of the Law is perfect wiſedome, and the knowledge of his almighty power.

22 If a ſeruant ſay vnto his maſter, I will not doe as it pleaſeth thee, though afterward he doe it, hee shall diſpleaſe him that nourifſeth him.

23 The knowledge of wickednesse is not wiſdom: neither is there prudency whereas the counſell of finners is: but it is euen execrable malice: and the foole is void of wiſedome.

24 He that hath ſmal vnderſtanding, & feareth God, is better then one that hath much wiſdome, and tranſgreſſeth the Law of the moſt High.

25 There is a certaine ſubtiltie that is fine, but it is vnrighteous: and there is that wreſteth the open and manifeſt law: yet there is that is wiſe and iudgeth righteouſly.

26 There is ſome that being about wicked purpoſes, doe bow downe themſelues, and are ſad, whoſe inward parts burne altogether with deceit: hee looketh downe with his face, and ſaineth himſelfe deafe: yet before thou perceiue, hee will be vpon thee to hurt thee.

tie, he will doe euill.

27 ¶ A man may be known by his looke, and one that hath vnderstanding, may bee percoued by the marking of his countenance.

28 ¶ A mans garment, and his excessive laughter, and going, declare whar person he is.

CHAP. XX.

1 To speake and kepe silence in time.
2 The fall of the wic. 3 Of lying. 4 The thiefe and the murderer. 5 Gifts blinde the eyes of the wise.

There is some rebuke that is not comely: againe, some man holdeth his tongue, and hee is wise.

It is much better to reprocue then to beare euill will: and hee that acknowledgeth his fault, shall be preferred from hurt.

As when a gelded man through lust would dehile a maid, so is he that vseth violence in iudge-ment.

How good a thing is it when thou art reprocued, to shew repentance! for so shalt thou escape with full sinne.

Some man keepeth silence, and is found wise, and some by much babbling becommeth harmefull.

Some man holdeth his tongue, because hee hath not to answere: and some keepeth silence, waiting a conuenient time.

A wife man will hold his tongue till hee see opportunitie: but a trifier and a foole will regard no time.

He that vseth many words, shall be abhorred, and he that taketh authority to himselfe, shall be hated.

Some man hath oftentimes prosperity in wicked things, and sometime a thing that is found, bringeth losse.

There is some gift that is not profitable for thee, & there is some gift, whose reward is double.

Some man humbleth himselfe for glories sake, and some by humblenes lifteth vp the head.

Some man buyeth much for a little price, for the which he payeth seuen times more.

A wife man with his words maketh himselfe to be loued, but the merry tales of fooles shal be poured out.

The gift receiued of a foole shal do thee no good, neither yet of the enuious for his importunitie: for hee looketh to receiue many things for one: he giueth little, and he vpbraideth much: he openeth his mouth like a towne-cryer: to day he lendeth, to morrow asketh hee againe, and such one is to be hated of God and man.

The foole saith, I haue no friend, I haue no thanke for all my good deedes: and they that eat my bread, speake euill of me.

How oft, and of how many shall hee bee laughed to scorne? for he comprehendeth not by right iudgement that which he hath: and it is all one as though he had it not.

The fall on a pavement is very sudden: so shall the fall of the wicked come hastily.

A man without grace is as a foolish tale which is oft told by the mouth of the ignorant.

A wise sentence loseth grace when it commeth out of a fooles mouth: for he speaketh not in discretion.

Some man sinneeth not because of poverty, and yet is not grieved when he is alone.

Some man there is that destroyeth his owne soule, because he is ashamed, and for the regard of persons loseth it.

Some man promisseth vnto his friend for shame, and getteth an enemy of him for nought.

A lie is a wicked shame in a man: yet is it oft in the mouth of the vnwise.

A thiefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lie: but they both shall haue destruction to heritage.

The conditions of lyars are vnhouse, and their shame is euer with them.

A wife man shall bring himselfe to honour with his words, and he that hath vnderstanding, shall please great men.

He that tilleth his land, shall increase his hespe, [he that worketh righteousness, shal be exalted, and hee that pleaseth great men, shall haue pardon of his iniquitie.]

Rewards and gifts blinde the eyes of the wife, and make them dumbe, that they cannot reprocue faults.

Wisdomes that is hid, and creature that is hoarded vp, what profit is in them both?

Better is he that keepeth his ignorance secret, then a man that hideth his wisdomes.

The necessary patience of him that folow-eth the Lord, is better then he that gouerneth his life without the Lord.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Not to continue in sinne. 2 The prayer of the afflicted. 3 To hate to be reproued. 4 The mouth of the wise man. 5 The thoughts of the foole.

MY sonne, hast thou sinned? doe so no more, but pray for the foretimes [as they may be forgiven thee.]

Flee from sinne, as from a serpent: for if thou comest too neere it, it will bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lion, to slay the soules of men.

All iniquitie is as a two edged sword, the wounds whereof cannot be healed.

Strife and injuries waste riches: so the house of the proud shalbe desolate.

The prayer of the poore going out of the mouth, cometh vnto the eares of the Lord, and iustice is done him incontinently.

Whoso heareth to be reformed, is in the way of sinners: but hee that feareth the Lord, conuerteth in heart.

An eloquent talker is knowen as farre off:
but he that is wise perceiuet when he falleth.

Whoso buildeth his house with other mens money, is like one that gathereth stones to make his grane.

The congregation of the wicked is like rowe wrapped together: their end is a flame of fire to destroy them.

The way of sinners is made plaine with stones, but at the end thereof is hell, [darkenesse and paines.]

He that keepeth the Law of the Lord, letteth his owne affections thereby: and the increase of wisdomes is the end of the feare of God.

He that is not wise, will not suffer himselfe to be taught: but there is some wit that increaseth bitterness.

The knowledge of the wise shal abound like water that runneth ouer, and his counsell is like a preceptaine of life.

The inner parts of a foole are like a broken

When a man of understanding heareth a wife word, hee will commend it, and increase it:
but if an ignorant man heere it, he will disallow it, and cast it behind his backe.

The talking of a foole is like a burden in the way, but there is something in the talke of a wife man.

They enquire at the mouth of the wife man in the Congregation, and they shall ponder his words in their heart.

As is an house that is destroyed, so is wife dome vnto a foole, and the knowledge of the vigody is his words without order.

Doctrine vnto foolles is as fetters on the feet, and like manacles vpon the right hand.

A foole bitteth vp his voyce with laughter, but a wife man doeth it as a smile secretly.

Learning is vnto a wife man a tower of gold, and like a bridle vpon his right arme.

A foole is mans foot is loose in his neighbours house: but a mans experience is bounden to himselfe.

A foole will peep in at the doore into the house: but hee that is selfe purged, will stand without.

It is the paine of a foolish man to heare
the doore for hee that is wise, will not goe with such dishonour.

The lippe of the foole will be telling such things as pertaine not vnto them, but the words of the wise haue vnderstanding are weighed in the balance.

The house of foolles is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wife is in their heart.

When the vngodly curseth Sathan, hee cur-seth his owne soule.

A backbiter defileth his owne soule, and is hated wherefoerer he is: but he that keepeth his tongue, and is discrete, shall come to honour.

When a man is slow of speech, hee is said to be wise.

A slowfull man is like a little house, which is not shaken by the wind.

A slowfull man is to be compared to the dowling of oxen, and every one that taketh vp will shake it out of his hand.

A slowfull man is the dishonour of the father: & the daughter is leaue to be defamed.

A wife daughter is an heritage vnto her husband: but shee that is dishonestly, is her fathers heauynesse.

A wife is bold, dishonoureth both her father and her husband, and is not infectious vnto the vngodly: but they both shall dishonour her.

A tale out of time is as musicke in mourning: but wisdom knoweth the season of correction and doctrine.

Who so teacheth a foole, is as one that gleweth a potheard together, and as he that wa-tereth one that leepeth from a bound sheepe.

If children be dishonestly, & make where with they shall put away the name of their parents.

But if children be honest, with humilitie, and foolishnes they shall be the nobility of their kindred.

Who so telleth a foole of wisdom, is as a man which speaketh to one that is asleepe: when he hath told him, hee shall be blam'd, what is the matter?

Weepe for the dead, for hee hath no more to be comforted.

to weep for the foole for hee hath no more vnderstanding: make finally weeping for the dead, for he is at rest: but the life of the foole is worse
then the death.

Seven dayes doe men mourne for him that is dead: but the lamentation for the foole, and vngodly, should endure all the dayes of their life.

Faile not much with a foole, and goe not to him that hath no vnderstanding: beware of him, lest it turne thee to paine, and lest thou bee despised when hee shaketh himselfe. Depart from him, and thou shalt finde rest, and shalt not receiue sorrow by his foolishnes.

What is heauiet then than death, and what other name shall a foole haue?

Sand and salt, and a lump of yron is easier to beare then an vngodly, foolish, and vngod-ly man.

As a frame of wood toynd together in a building, canaue be loosed with making, so the heart that is established by aduised counsell, shall faile at no time.

The heart that is confirmed by discrete wisdom, is as a lime plaining on a plaine wall.

As reedes that are let vp on high, cannot abide the winde, so the heart that is full of foolish imaginations can endure no feare.

Hee that hurteth the eye, bringeth forth teares: and hee that hurteth the heart, bringeth forth the affliction.

Who so catcheth a snare at the birds, they catch him away, and hee that vbraideth his friend, breaketh friendship.

Though thou drawest a sword at thy friend, yet departe not: for there may be a returning to peace.

If thou haue opened thy mouth against thy friend, feare not: for there may be a reconciliation, so that vbraiding, or pride, or disloyling of secrets, or traierous words doe not let: for by these things, every friend will departe.

Be faithful vnto thy friend in his power-ty, that thou mayest reioyce in his prosperitie, abide steadfast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest be heard with him in his heritage: for pouertie is not alwayes to be contem-ned, nor the rich that is foolish, to bee had in contempt.

As the vapour, and smoke of the chimney goeth before the fire, so evil words, raydes, and threatnings, goe before bloodshedding.

I will not bee ashamed to defend a friend:
neither will I hide my selfe from him, though hee should doe me harme, whatsoeuer heareth it, shall beware of him.

Who shall see a watch before my mouth, and all the of wisdom vpon my lips, that I fall not suddenly by them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

Lord, Father and gouernor of all my whole life, leaue mee not to their counsell, and let me not fall by them.

Who will correct my thought, and put the doctrine of wisdom in mine heart, that they may not spare me in mine ignorance, neither let their faults passe?

Let mine ignorance increase, & my finnes abound.

about to my destruction, and lest I fall before mine aduersary, and mine enemies reioyce ouer me, whose hope is faire from thy mercy.

4 O Lord, Father and God of my life, [leau me not in their imagination] neither giue mee a proud look, but turne away from thy seruants a stout mind.

5 Take from mee: vaine hope and concupiscence, and reiteine him in obedience, that desireth continually to serue thee.

6 Let not the greedines of the belly, nor lust of the flesh hold me, and giue not me thy seruant ouer into an impudent minde.

7 Heare, O yee children, the instruction of a mouth that shall speake truth: who so keepeth it, shall not perish through his lips, [nor be hurt by wicked workers.]

8 The sinner shall be taken by his owne lips: for the euill speaker, and the proud doe offend by their tongue.

9 Accuse me not thy mouth to swearing: [for it is there are many fals:] neither take vp for a custome the naming of the holy One: [for thou shalt not be punished for such things.]

10 For as a seruant which is oft punished, cannot be without some skarte, so hee that sweareth, and nameth God: continually, shall not be faultlesse.

11 A man that seeth much swearing, shall be filled with wickednesse, and the plague shall neuer goe from his house: when he shall offend his fault shall be vpon him, and if hee knowledg not his sinne, he maketh a double offence: and if hee sweare in vaine, hee shall not be innocent, but his house shall be full of plagues.

12 There is a worde which is clothed with death: God grant that it be not found in the heritage of Iacob: but they that feare God, eschew all such, and are not wrapped in sinne.

13 Vnto thy mouth to ignorant rashnesse: for therein is the occasion of sinne.

14 Remember thy father & thy mother when thou art for among great men, lest thou be forgotten in their sight, and so through thy custome become a foole, and wish that thou haddest not bene borne, and curse the day of thy natiuitie.

15 The man that is accustomed to opprobrious words, will neuer bee reformed all the dayes of his life.

16 There are two sorts [of men] that abound in sinne, & the third bringeth wrath [and destruction] a mind hot as fire that cannot be quenched til it be consumed: an adulterous man that giueth his body no rest, till he haue kindled a fire.

17 (All bread is sweet to a whoremonger: he will not leaue off till he perish.)

18 A man that breaketh wedlocke, and thinketh thus in his heart, 'Who seeth me? I am compassed about with darknesse: the walles couer mee: no body seeth mee: whom need I to feare? the most High will not remember my sinnes.'

19 Such a man onely feareth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter then the Sun, beholding all the waies of men, [and the ground of the deepe] and considereth the most secret parts.

20 He knew all things or euer they were made, and after they be brought to passe also, hee looketh vpon them all.

21 The same man shall be punished in the streets of the cite, [and shall be chased like a yong horse foale,] and when hee thinketh not vpon it, hee shall be taken: [thus shall he be put to shame of euery man, because he would not vnderstand the feare of the Lord.]

22 And thus shall it goe also with euery wife that leaueth her husband, and getteth inheritance by another.

23 For first, shee hath disobeyed the Law of the most High, and secondly, shee hath trespassed against her owne husband, and thirdly, shee hath played the whore in adultery, & gotten her children by another man.

24 She shall be brought out into the Congregation, and examination shall be made of her children.

25 Her children shall not take roote, and her branches shall bring forth no fruite.

26 A shamefull report shall she leaue, and her reproch shall not be put out.

27 And they that remaine, shall know that there is nothing better then the feare of the Lord, and that there is nothing sweeter then to take heed vnto the commandments of the Lord.

28 It is great glory to follow the Lord, and to be receiued of him is long life.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 A prayer of Iudas proceeding from the mouth of Golda of her workers and place when it is firste, &c. Shee begun to the children of Golda.

W Ise dome shall praise herselfe, [and be honoured in God,] and reioyce in the midst of her people.

2 In the congregation of the most High shall she open her mouth, & triumph before his power.

3 [In the middes of her people shall shee bee exalted, and wondred at in the holy assembly.]

4 In the multitude of the chosen she shall bee commended, & among such as be blessed she shall be praised, and shall say,

5 I am come out of the mouth of the most High, first borne before all creatures.

6 I caused the light that faileth not, to arise in the heauen, and couered the earth as a cloud.

7 My dwelling is aboue in the height, and my throne is in the pillar of the cloud.

8 I alone haue gone round about the compass of heauen, and haue walked in the bottome of the depth.

9 I possessed the waues of the sea, and all the earth, and all people, and nation, [and with my power haue I troden down the hearts of all, both high and low.]

10 In all these things I sought rest, and a dwelling in some inheritance.

11 So the creator of all things gaue me a commandment, and hee that made me, appointed me a tabernacle, and sayd, Let thy dwelling be in Iacob, and take thine inheritance in Israel, and root thy selfe among my chosen.

12 Hee created me from the beginning, and before the world, and I shall neuer faile: In the holy habitation haue I serued before him, and so was I established in Sion.

13 In the welbeloued citie gaue he me rest, and in Ierusalem was my power.

14 I tooke roote in an honourable people, euen in the portion of the Lords inheritance.

15 I am set vp on hie like a cedar in Libanus, & as a cypres tree vpon the mountaynes of Hermon.

16 I am exalted like a palme tree about the banks, and as a rose plant in Iericho, as a faire olive olive-tree in a pleasant hill, and was shadowed by a 17 I distilled as the cinnamon, and as a bag of spices: I gave a sweet odour as the best myrrour, as galbanum and opix, and sweet storax, and perfume of incense in an house.

18 As the terebintch, have I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour and grace.

19 As the vine have I brought forth fruit, off sweet saviour, and my flowers are the fruit of honour and riches.

20 I am the mother of beautifull loue, and of fear, and of knowledge, and of holy hope: I give eternall things to all my children, to whom God hath commended.

21 [In me is all grace of life, and truth: in me is all hope of life, and veritie.]

22 Come vnto me all ye, that be desirous of me, and fill your felues with my fruits.

23 For the remembrance of me is sweeter then honey, and mine inheritance [is sweeter] then the holy comber [the remembrance of me endureth for evermore].

24 They that eat of me, shall hunger more hunger, and they that drinke of me, shall thirst the more.

25 Who is he that eneth vnto me, shall not come to confusion, and they that worke by me shall not offend: [they that make me to be known, shall have eternall life.]

26 All these things are the booke [of life] and the covenant of the most hie God, [the knowledge of the church,] and the Law that Moses [in the presence of his brethren] commanded for an heritage vnto the house of Iacob, [and the promises pertaining vnto Irael.]

27 Be not weary to behaue your selues valiantly with the Lord, that he may also confirme you:
cleave vnto him: for the Lord Almighty is but one God, and besides him there is none other Saviour.

28 [Out of David his Seruant he ordered to raise vp a most mighty King that should sit in the throne of honour for evermore.]

29 He filled all things with his wisdom, as Physon, and as Tygris, in the time of the newe fruits.

30 Hee maketh the vnderstanding to abound like Euphrates, and as the Iorden, in the time of the haruest.

31 Hee maketh the doctrine of knowledge to appeare as the light, and overfloweth as Geon in the time of the vantage.

32 The first man hath not known her perfoudly: no more shall the last seeke her out.

33 For her considerations are more abundante then the sea, and her counsell is profounder then the great deepe.

34 I wisdom [have cast out floods:] I am as an arme of the river: I runne into Paradise as a water conduit.

35 I said, I will water my faire garden, and will water my pleasant grounds: and loe my ditch became a flood, and my floods became a sea.

36 For I make doctrine to shine as the light of the morning, and I lighten it forever.

37 [I will pierce thorow all the lower parts of the earth: I will looke vpon all such as be asleepe, and lighten all them that trust in the Lord.]

38 I will yet powre out doctrine, as prophetic and leaue it vnto all ages for ever.

39 Behold that I haue not laboured for my selfe, for all them that seek will come,

CHAP. XXV.

1 Of three things which I hate, and of three which be hateful.
2 Of three things which I hate, and of three which be hateful.

Three things I reioyce mee, and by them am I beautified before God, and men: the vni-uersity of brethren, the loue of neighbours, a man and wife that agree together.

2 Three sorts of men my soule hateh, and I vterly abhorre the life of them: a poore man that is proud, a rich man that is a liar, and an old adulterer that doeth.

3 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, what canst thou finde in thine age?

4 Oh how pleasant a thing it is when grey-headed men minister iudgement, and when the elders can giue good counsell.

5 Oh how comely a thing is wisdom among aged men, and vnderstanding and prudence to men of honour.

6 The crowne of old age is to haue much experience, and the fruit of God is thine glory.

7 There be three things which I haue lodged in mine heart to be happy, and thence will I pronounce with my tongue: a man that while he liueth, hath joy of his children, and seeth the fall of his enemies.

8 Well is him that dwelleth with a wife of vnderstanding, and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not sinned such as are vnworthy of him.

9 Well is him that findeth prudence, and he that speaketh in the eares of them that will heare.

10 Oh, how great is he that findeth wisdom, yet is there none about him that feareth the Lord.

11 The feare of the Lord passeth all things in cleanness.

12 Blessed is the man vnto whom it is granted to haue the feare of God: vnto whom shall he be likened that hath attained it?

13 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of his loue, and faith is the beginning to be joynt vnto him.

14 The greatest heauinesse is the heauinesse of the heart, and the greatest malice is the malice of a woman.

15 Gide me any plague: sure onely the plague of the heart, and any malice: sure the malice of a woman.

16 Or any assault: sure the assault of them that hate, or any vengeance: sure the vengeance of the enemie.

17 There is noe a more wicked head then the head of the serpent, and there is no wrath about the wrath of an enemy.

18 I had rather dwell with a lyon, and dragon, then to keepe house with a wicked wife.

19 The wickednes of a woman changeth her face, & maketh her countenance black as a [sacke].

20 Her husband is sitting among his neighbours: because of her he sigheth sore or he beware.

21 All wickednes is but little to the wickednesse of a woman: let the portion of the sinner fall vpon her.

22 As the climbing vp of a sandie way is to the feet of the aged, so is a wife full of words to a quiet man.

23 Scumblenot at the beautie of a woman, and desire her not for thy pleasure.

25 A wicked wife maketh a fory heart, an heauie countenance, and a wounded minde, weake hands and feeble knees, and cannot comfort her husband in heauinesse.

26 Of the woman came the beginning of sinne, and through her we all die.

27 Giue the water no passage, [no nor a litle] neither giue a wicked woman liberty to goe out.

28 If she walke not in thine obedience, [thee shalt confound thee in the fight of thine enemies] Cut her off then from thy flesh. ¶ Giue her, and forsake her.

CHAP. XXVI.

Prattise of a good woman. 5 Of the feare of shrewd things, and of the feare of the Lord. 6 Of the ielous and drunken woman. 29 Of the chaste woman, and of the shrewd woman.

Be the man that hath a vertuous wife, the number of his yeeres shall be double.

2 An honest woman reioyceth her husband, and she shall fill the yeeres of his life with peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a good portion, which shall be giuen for a gift vnto such as feare the Lord.

4 Whether a man be rich or poore, he hath a good heart toward the Lord, and they shall at all times haue a cheerefull countenance.

5 ¶ There be three things that mine heart feareth, and my face is afraid of the fourth: Treason in a city, the assembly of the people, and false accusation: all these are heauier then death.

6 ¶ But the sorow and griefe of the heart, is a woman that is ielous ouer another: and she that communeth with all, is a scourge of the tongue.

7 An euil wife is as a yoke of oxen that draw diuers wayes: he that hath her, is as though hee held a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman and such as cannot be tamed is a great plague: for she cannot couer her owne shame.

9 The whoredome of a woman may be knowne in the pride of her eyes and eye lids.

10 ¶ If chy daughter be not shamefast, holde her straitly, lest she abuse her selfe through ouer-much liberty.

11 Take heed of her that hath an vnshamefast eye: and matuile not if she trespass against thee.

12 As one that goeth by the way, & is thirsty, so shall she open her mouth, and drinke of euery next water: by euery hedge shall shee sit downe, and open her quiver against euery arrow.

13 The grace of a wife reioyceth her husband, and feedeth his bones with vnderstanding.

14 A peaceable woman and of a good heart is a gift of the Lord, & there is nothing so much worth as a woman well instructed.

15 A shamefast and faithfull woman is a double grace, and there is no weight to be compared vnto her continent minde.

16 As the Sunne when it ariseth in the high places of the Lord, so is the beauty of a good wife the ornament of her house.

17 As the cleare light is vpon the holy candle-sticke, so is the beauty of the face in a ripe age.

18 As the golden pillars are vpon the sockets of bluer: so are faire teete with a constant minde.

19 [Perpetual are the foundations that be laid vpon a strong rocke: so are the commandements of God in the heart of an holy woman.]

20 My sonne, keepe the strength of thine age.

stable, and giue not thy strength to strangers.

21 When thou hast gotten a fruitfull possession thorow all the fields, sowe it with thine owne seed, trusting in thy nobility.

22 So thy stocke that shall liue after thee, shall grow, trusting in the great liberality of their nobility.

23 An harlot is compared to a Sowe: but the wife that is married, is counted as a tower against death to her husband.

24 A wicked woman is giuen as a reward to a wicked man: but a godly woman is giuen to him that feareth the Lord.

25 A shamelesse woman contempneth shame: but a shamefast woman will reuerence her husband.

26 A shamelesse woman is compared to a dog, but she that is shamefast reuerenceth the Lord.

27 A woman that honoureth her husband, shall be iudged wise of all: but she that despiseth him, shall be blased for her pride.

28 A lowd crying woman and a babbler, let her be sought out to driue away the enemies: the minde of euery man that liueth with such, shall be conuerfant among the troubles of warre.

29 There be two things that grieve mine heart, and the third maketh me angry: A man of warre, that suffereth poverty, and men of vnderstanding that are not set by, and when one departeth from righteousness vnto sinne: the Lord appointeth such to the sword.

30 [There be two things, which me thinke to be hard and perilous] A merchant cannot lightly keepe him from wrong, and a victualler is not without sinne.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Of the poore that would be rich. 5 The probation of the man that feareth God. 12 The vnconstantie of a foole. 16 The secret of friends are not to be vntured. 26 The wicked imagination, which turneth vpon himselfe.

Because of poverty many haue sinned: and he that seeketh to be rich, turneth his eyes aside.

2 As a naile in the wall sticketh fast betweene the ioynts of the stones, so doeth sinne sticke betweene the selling and the buying.

3 If he hold him not diligently in the feare of the Lord, his house shall soone be overthrowen.

4 As when one sitteth, the filthinesse remaineth in the siue, so the filth of man remaineth in his thought.

5 The fornice proueth the potters vessel: so doth [temptation] trie mens thoughts.

6 The fruit declareth if the tree haue bene trimmed: so the word [declareth] what man hath in his heart.

7 Prayse no man except thou haue heard his talke: for this is the trial of men.

8 ¶ If thou followest righteousness, thou shalt get her, and put her on as a faire garment, [and shalt dwell with her, and she shall defend thee for ever: and in the day of knowledge thou shalt find stedfastnesse.]

9 The birds resort vnto their like: so doth the truth turne vnto them that are practised in her.

10 As the lion waiteth for the beast, so doeth sinne vpon them that doe euill.

11 The talking of him that feareth God, is all wisdom: as for a foole he changeth as the moone.

12 If thou be among the vn discrete, obserue the time, but haunt still the assembly of them that are wise.

13 The talking of fooles is grievous, and their sport

5 Till they receive, they kisse his hands, and for their neighbours good they humble their voice: but when they should pay againe, they proloing the terme, and giue a carelesse answer, and make excuses by reason of the time.

6 And though he be able, yet giueth he scarce the halfe againe, & reckoneth the other as a thing found: els he deceiuet him of his money, & maketh him an enemy without cause: hee payeth him with cursing and rebuke, and giueth him euill words for his good deede.

7 There be many which refuse to lend because of this inconueniencie, fearing to bee defrauded without cause.

8 Yet haue thou patience with him that humbleth himselfe, and deferre not merue from him.

9 Helpe the poore for the commandments sake, and turne him not away, because of his pueritie.

10 Lose thy money for thy brothers & neighbours sake, and let it not rust vnder a stone to thy distruction.

11 Bestow thy treasure after the commandment of the most High, & it shall bring thee more profite then gold.

12 Lay vp thine almes in thy secret chambers, and it shall keepe thee from all affliction.

13 A mans almes is as a purse with him, and shall keepe a mans fauour as the apple of the eye, and afterward shall it apise, and pay every man his reward vpon his head.

14 It shall fight for thee against thine enemies, better then the shield of a strong man, or speare of the mightie.

15 An honest man is surety for his neighbour: but he that is impudent forsaketh him.

16 Forget not the friendship of thy surety: for he hath layd his life for thee.

17 The wicked despiseth the good deed of his surety.

18 The wicked will not become surety, and he that is of an vnthankfull mind, forsaketh him that deliuered him.

19 Sometime promisseth for his neighbour: and when he hath lost his honestie, he wil forsake him.

20 Suretiship hath destroyed many a rich man, and removed them as the waues of the sea: mighty men hath it driuen away from their houses, and caused them to wander among strange nations.

21 A wicked man transgressing the commandments of the Lord, shall fall into suretiship: and he that medleth much with other mens businesse, is entangled in controuersies.

22 Helpe thy neighbour according to thy power, and beware that thou thy selfe fall not.

23 The chiefe thing of life is water, & bread, and clothing, and lodging to couer thy shame.

24 The poore mans life in his owne lodge is better then delicate fare in another mans.

25 Be it little or much, hold thee contented, that the house speake not euill of thee.

26 For it is a miserable life to goe from house to house: for where thou art a stranger, thou darst not open thy mouth.

27 Thou shalt lodge and feede vnthankfull men, and after shalt haue bitter wordes for the same, saying,

28 Come thou stranger, and prepare the table, and feed me of that thou hast ready.

29 Giue place, thou stranger, to an honourable man: my brother cometh to bee lodged, and I haue neede of my house.

30 These things are heauy to a man that hath vnderstanding, the vpbraiding of the house, and the reproch of the lender.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Of the correction of children. 14 Of the commodities of health. 17 Death is better then a sorrowfull life. 22 Of the ioy and comfort of the heart.

1 Be that loueth his sonne, causeth him oft to seele the rod, that he may haue ioy of him in the end.

2 He that chastiseth his sonne, shall haue ioy in him, and shall reioyce of him among his acquaintance.

3 He that teacheth his sonne griueth his enemy, & before his friends he shall reioyce of him.

4 Though his father die, yet is he as though hee were not dead: for hee hath left one behinde him that is like him.

5 In his life he saw him, and had ioy in him, and was not sory in his death, [neither was hee ashamed before his enemies.]

6 Hee left behinde him an auenger against his enemies, and one that should shewe fauour vnto his friend.

7 He that flattereth his sonne, bindeth vp his wounds, and his heart is griued at every cry.

8 An vntrained horse will be stubborne, and a wanton child will be wilfull.

9 If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, hee shall make thee afraid: and if thou play with him, he shall bring thee to heauinesse.

10 Laugh not with him, lest thou be sory with him, and lest thou gnash thy teeth in the end.

11 Giue him no libertie in his youth, and he wilke not at his folly.

12 Bow downe his necke while hee is young, and beat him on the sides while he is a child, lest he waxe stubborne, and be disobedient vnto thee, and so bring sorow to thine heart.

13 Chastise thy child, and be diligent therein, lest his shame griue thee.

14 Better is the poore being whole & strong, then a rich man that is afflicted in his body.

15 Health and strength is aboue all gold, and a whole body aboue infinite treasure.

16 There is no riches aboue a sound body, and no ioy aboue the ioy of the heart.

17 Death is better then a bitter life, [and long rest,] then continuall sickenesse.

18 The good things that are powred on a mouth shut vp, are as messes of meate set vpon a grave.

19 What good doeth the offering vnto an idole? for he can neither eate nor smell: so is hee that is persecuted of the Lord, [and beareth the reward of iniquitie.]

20 He seeth with his eyes, and groneth like a gelded man that lieth with a virgin and sigheth.

21 Giue not ouer thy mind vnto heauinesse, and vexe not thy selfe in thine owne counsell.

22 The ioy of the heart is the life of man, and a mans gladnesse is the prolonging of his dayes.

23 Loue thine owne soule, and comfort thine heart: driue sorrow farre from thee: for sorrowe hath slaine many, and there is no profit therein.

24 Enuie and wrath shorten the life, and carefullnesse bringeth age before the time.

25 A noble and good heart will haue consideration of his meate and diet.

Concordance.
1. Tim. 6. 9, 10.

Waking after riches pineth away the body, & the care thereof doth away sleepe. This waking care breaketh the sleepe, as a great sicke man breaketh the sleepe.

The rich hath great labour in gathering riches together, and in his rest hee is filled with pleasures.

The poore labourer in living poorely, and when he leaseth off he is still poore.

He that loveth gold shall not be satisfied, and hee that followeth corruption shall have enough thereof.

1. Cor. 13.

Many are destroyed by the reason of gold, and have found their destruction before them.

1. Cor. 6. 19

It is as a stumbling blocke vnto them that sacrifice vnto it, & every foole is taken therewith.

Blessed is the rich which is found without blemish, and hath not gone after gold, nor hoped in money and treasures.

Who is he, and we will commend him for wonderful things hath he don among his people.

Who hath bene tried thereby and found perfect? let him be an example of glory, who might offend, and hath not offended, or do euill, and hath not done it.

1. Cor. 13.

Therefore shall his goods be established, and the congregation shall declare his almes.

If thou sit at a costly table, I open not thy mouth wide vpon it, and say not, Beholde much meat.

Remember that an euill eye is a threwe, and what thing created is woollie than a wicked eye? for it wretcheth for every caide.

Stretch not thine hand wheresoeuer it looketh, and thrust it not wiche into the dust.

Consider by thy selfe him that is by thee, and marke every thing.

Eat modestly that which is set before thee, and disoure not, lest thou be hated.

Learn thou of first for natures sake, and be not insatiable, lest thou offend.

When thou sittest among many, reach not thine hand out first of all.

1. Cor. 13.

How little is sufficient for a man will laugh, and thereby he belcheth not in his chamber, nor feelth any paine.

A wholesome sleepe cometh of a temperate belly: he riseth vp in the morning, and is well at ease in himselfe: but paine in watching and cholerick diseases, & pangs of the belly are with an insatiable man.

If thou hast bene forced to eate, arise, geue forth vomit, and then take thy rest: so shalt thou bring no sickness vnto thy body.

My sonne, heare mee, and despise mee not, and at the last thou shalt find as I haue told thee: in all thy works be quick, so shall there no sickness come vnto thee.

1. Cor. 13.

Who so is libellous in his meat, men shall blime him: and the testimonie of his honesty shall be believed.

But against him that is a biggard of his meate, the whole city shall murmure: the testimonies of his nigardnesse shall be sure.

Shewe not thy valiantnesse in wine: for thou hast destroyed many.

The fornicator prooueth the edge in the sampling: so doth wine the hearts of the proud by drunkennesse.

Wine soberly drunken is profitable for the life of man: what is his life that is overcome with wine?

1. Cor. 13.

Wine was made from the beginning to make men glad, and not for drunkennesse. Wine meashably drunken and in time bringeth gladnesse and cheerfulness of the minde.

But wine drunken with excess maketh bitterness of minde with brawling and scoldings.

Drunkennesse increaseth the courage of a foole, till hee offend: it diminisheth his strength and maketh wounds.

1. Cor. 13.

Rebuke not thy neighbour at the wine, and despise him not in his mirth: geue him no deceptible wordes, and praise not vpon him with contrary wordes.

If thou be made the master of the feast, lift not thy selfe vp, but be among them, as one of the rest: take diligent care for them, and so sit downe.

And when thou hast done all thy duty, sit downe, that thou mayst be merry with them, and receive a crowne for thy good behaviour.

Speake thou that art the elder: for it becometh thee, but with sound iudgement, and hinder not musick.

Powre not our words, where there is no audience, and shewe not forth wisdom out of time.

1. Cor. 13.

The confect of musicians at a banquet, is a signet of caruncle set in gold.

And as the liquor of an Euerauld well trimmed with golde, so is the melodie of musick in a pleasant banquet.

Giue ease and bee still, and for thy good behaviour thou shalt be loved.

Thou shalt art yong, speake if neede be, and yet scarcely when thou art twise asked.

Comprehend much in few words: [in many things be as one that is ignorant] be as one that vnderstandeth, and yet hold thy tongue.

1. Cor. 13.

If thou be among great men, compare not thy selfe vnto them: and when an elder speaketh, babble not much.

Before the thunder goeth lightening, and before a shamefast man goeth fauour.

Stand vp betimes, and be not the last: but get thee home without delay.

And there take thy pastime, and doe what thou wilt, so that thou doe none euill, or vse proud words.

But above all things giue thanks vnto him which hath made thee, & replenished thee with his goods.

Who so feareth the Lord, will receive his doctrine, and they that rise early, shall find fauour.

He that seeketh the Law shall be filled therewith: but the hypocrite will be offended thereat.

They that feare the Lord, shall find that which is righteous, and shall kinde iustice as a light.

An vngodly man wil not be reformed, but findeth out excuses according to his will.

A man of vnderstanding despiseth not counsell: but a lewd and proud man is not touched with feare, even when he hath done rashly.

[My sonne] doe nothing without aduise-ment: so shall if not repent thee after the deed.

Go not in the way where thou mayst fall, nor where where thou mayst stumble among the stones, neither trust thou in the way that is plaine.

21 And beware of thine owne children, [and take heed of them that be thine owne household.]

22 In every good worke be of a faithfull heart:
for this is the keeping of the commandements.

23 Who so beleueth in the Lorde, keepeth the commandements: and he that trusteth in the Lorde, shall take no hurt.

wise. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

1 Here shall no euill come vnto him that feareth the Lorde: but when he is in temptation, he will deliuer him againe.

2 A wise man hateth not the Law: but he that is an hypocrite therein, is as a ship in a storme.

3 A man of vnderstanding walketh faithfull-ly in the Law, and the Law is faithfull vnto him.

4 As the question is made, prepare the an-swere, and so shalt thou be heard: be sure of the matter, and so answer.

5 The heart of the foolish is like a cart wheele:
and his thoughts are like a rolling axle tree.

6 As a wilde horse neyeth vnder every one that sitteth vpon him, so is a scornfull friend.

7 Why doeth one day excell another, seeing that the light of the dayes of the yeece come of the sunne?

8 The knowledge of the Lorde hath parted them a sunder, and he hath by them disposed the times and solenne feasts.

9 Some of them hath hee chosen and sanctified, and some of them hath he put among the dayes to number.

10 And all men are of the ground, & Adam was created out of the earth: but the Lorde hath diuided them by great knowledge, & made their wayes diuers.

11 Some of them hath he blessed and exalted,
& some of them hath he sanctified, & appropriat to himselfe: but some of them hath he cursed, and brought them low, & put them out of their estate.

12 As the clay is in the potters hand, to order it at his pleasure, so are men also in the hand of their Creator, so that he may reward them as liketh him best.

13 Against euill is good, and against death is life: so is the godly against the sinner, & the vngodly against the faithfull.

14 So in all the works of most high thou mayest see: there are euer two, one against another.

15 I am awaked vp last of all, as one that gathereth after them in the vintage. In the blessing of the Lorde I am increased, and haue filled my wine presse, like a grape gatherer.

16 Behold, how I haue not laboured only for my selfe, but for all them that seeke knowledge.

17 Heare mee, O yee great men of the people, and hearken with your eares, yee rulers of the Congregation.

18 Giue not thy sonne & wife, thy brother and friend, power ouer thee while thou liuest, & giue not away thy substance to another, lest it repent thee, and thou intreat for the same againe.

19 As long as thou liuest, and hast breath, giue not thy selfe ouer to any person.

20 For better it is that thy children should pray vnto thee, then that thou shouldst look vp to the hands of thy children.

21 In all thy workes be excellent, that thine honour be neuer stained.

22 At the time when thou shalt end thy daies, and faile thy life, distribute thine inheritance.

23 The fodder, the whip, and the burden belong vnto the asse: and meate, correction and worke vnto thy seruant.

24 If thou let thy seruant to labour, thou shalt find rest: but if thou let him go idle, he shall seek liberty.

25 The yoke and the whip bowe downe the hard necke: so tame thine euill seruant with the whips and correction.

26 Send him to labour, that he goe not idle:
for idleness bringeth much euill.

27 Set him to worke, for he belongeth vnto him:
if he be not obedient, put on more heauy fetters.

28 But be not excessive toward any, and without discretion doe nothing.

29 If thou haue a faithfull seruant, let him be vnto thee as thine owne soule: for in blood hast thou gotten him. If thou haue a seruant, intreate him as thy brother: for thou hast need of him, as of thy selfe. If thou increate him euill, and hee run away, wilt thou seeke him?

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Of dreames. 2 The praise of them that feare God. 3 The offerings of the wicked. 4 The bread of the needy. 5 God doeth not allow the works of an vnfaithfull man.

1 He hope of a foolish man is vaine and false, and dreames make fooles to haue wings.

2 Who so regardeth dreames, is like him that will take hold of a shadow, and follow after the winde.

3 Euen so is it with the appearing of dreames, as the likenesse of a face is before another face.

4 Who can be cleansed by the vncleane? or what truth can be spoken of a liar?

5 Soothsayings, witchcraft, & dreaming is but vanity, and a minde that is occupied with fantasies, is as a woman that trauaileth.

6 Where as such visions come not of the most high to trie thee, set not thine heart vpon them.

7 For dreames haue deceived many, and they haue failed that put their trust therein.

8 The Law shall be fulfilled without lies, and wisdom is sufficient to a faithfull mouth: [what knowledge hath he that is not tried?]

9 A man that is instructed, vnderstandeth much, & he that hath good experience, can talke of wisdom.

10 He that hath no experience, knoweth litle, and he that erreteth, is full of craft.

11 When I wandered to & fro, I saw many things
& mine vnderstanding is greater than I can expresse.

12 I was oft times in danger of death, yet I was deliuered by these things.

13 The spirit of those that feare the Lorde, shall liue: for their hope is in him that can helpe them.

14 Who so feareth the Lorde, feareth no man, neither is afraid: for he is his hope.

15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth the Lorde: in whom putteth hee his trust? who is his strength?

16 For the eyes of the Lorde haue respect vnto them that loue him: he is their mighty protection, and strong ground, a defence from the heate, and a shadow for the noone day, a succour from stumbling, and an helpe for falling.

17 He setteth vp the soule, and lighteneth the eyes: he giueth health, life and blessing.

20 A forward heart bringeth grief, but a man of experience will resist it.

21 A woman is apt to receive every man, yet is one daughter better then another.

22 The beauty of a woman cheereth the face, and a man loveth nothing better.

23 If there be in her tongue gentleness, meeknesse, and wholesome talke, then is not her husband like other men.

The praise of a good woman.

24 Hee that hath gotten a [vertuous] woman hath begun to get a posselsion: she is an help like vnto himselfe, and a pillar to rest vpon.

25 Where no hedge is, there the possession is spoiled: and he that hath no wife, wandreth to and fro, murthering.

26 Who will trust a thiefe that is alway ready and wandreth from towne to towne? & likewise him, that hath no rest, and lodgeth, whersoever the night taketh him?

CHAP. XXXVII.

1. How a man should knowe friends and counsellors. 2. To keepe his company that feareth God.

1. Of friendship.

Every friend saith, I am a friend vnto him also: but there is some friend, which is onely a friend in name.

2 Remaineth not there heaviness vnto death, when a companion and friend is turned to an enemy?

3 O wicked presumption, from whence art thou sprung vp to cover the earth with deceit?

2. Chap. 37. 1.

4 There is some companion which in prosperitie reioycest with his friend: but in the time of trouble he is against him.

5 There is some companion that helpeth his friend for the beffies sake, and taketh vp the buckler against the enemy.

6 Forget not thy friend in thy minde, and thinke vpon him in thy riches.

3. Of whom we should take counsell.

7 Seeke no counsel at him of whom thou art suspected, and disclose not thy counsell vnto such as hate thee.

4. Chap. 37. 2.

8 Every counsellor praiseth his own counsell: but there is some that counselleth for himselfe.

5. Of whom we should take counsell.

9 Beware of the counsellor, & be advised afore whereto thou wilt vnto him: for he will counsell for himselfe, least he cast the lot vpon thee.

10 And say vnto thee, Thy way is good, and afterward he stand against thee, and looke what shall become of thee.

11 [Aske no counsell for religion of him that is without religiō, nor of iustice, of him that hath no iustice, nor of a woman touching her of who she is ielous, nor of a coward in matters of warre, nor of a merchant concerning exchange, nor of a buyer for the sale, nor of an envious man touching thankfulness, nor of an vnmercifull touching kindnesse, nor of an vn honest man of honestie, nor of the stoutfull for any labour, nor of a hireling for the finishing of a worke, nor of an idle servant for much businesse: hearken not vnto these in any matter of counsell.]

12 But be continual with a godly man whom thou knowest to keepe the commandements of the Lord, whose minde is according to thy mind, and is ioy for thee when thou stumblest.

13 Take counsell of thine owne heart: for there is no man more faithfull vnto thee then it.

14 For a mans mind is sometime more acquainted to shew more then seven watchmen that sit aboue in an hie towne.

15 And aboue all this pray to the most High, that he will direct thy way in truth.

16 Let reason goe before every enterprise, and counsell before every action.

17 The [changing] of the countenance is a signe of the changing of the heart: foure things appeare, good and euill, life and death, but the tongue hath encrease the gouernement ouer them.

18 Some man is wittie, and hath instructed many, and yet is vnprofitable vnto himselfe.

19 Some man will be wise in words, and is hated, yea he is destitute of all fooode.

1. Of wisdom.

20 Because grace is not giuen him of the Lord: for he is destitute of all wisdom.

21 Another is wise for himselfe, and the fruits of vnderstanding are faithfull in his mouth.

22 A wise man instructeth his people, and the fruits of his wisdom faile not.

23 A wise man shall be plentifully blessed, and all they that see him, shall thinke him blessed.

24 The life of man standeth in the number of dayes: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.

25 A wise man shall obtaine credit among his people, and his name shall be perpetual.

26 My sonne, prouethy soule in thy life, and see what is euill for it, and permit it not to do it.

27 For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath every soule pleasure in every thing.

2. Of temperance.

28 Be not greedy in all delites, and be not too hasty vpon all meate.

3. Chap. 37. 10.

29 For excess of meates bringeth sickness, and gluttony commeth into cholericke diseases.

30 By surfeit haue many perished: but he that dieteth himselfe prolongeth his life.

4. Of sobriety.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1. A Physicion is commendable. 2. To hurle the dead. 3. The wisdom of him that is learned.

Honour the Physicion with that honor that is due vnto him, because of necessity: for the Lord hath created him.

1. Of Physicions and physicks.

2 For of the most High commeth healing, and he shall receiue gifts of the king.

3 The knowledge of the Physicion lifeth vp his head, and in the sight of great men he shall be in admiration.

4 The Lorde hath created medicines of the earth, and he that is wise, will not abhorre them.

5 Was not the water made sweet with wood, that men might knowe the vertue thereof?

5. Eod. 15. 15.

6 So he hath giuen men knowledge, that hee might be glorified in his wondrous works.

7 With such doeth he heale men, and taketh away their paines.

8 Of such doeth the Apothecary make a confession, and yet he cannot finish his owne works: for of the Lord commeth prosperity and wealth ouer all the earth.

9 My sonne, faile not in thy sickness, but pray vnto the Lord, and he will make thee whole.

6. Psal. 107. 1.

10 Leauē off from sinne, and order thine hands aright, and cleanse thine heart from all wickednesse.

11 Offer sweet incense, and fine flour for a remembrance: make the offering far, for thou art not the first giuer.

7. God bestoweth his benefits, & we must render a portion thereof to such as he appointed.

12 Then giue place to the Physicion: for the Lord hath created him, let him not goe from thee, for thou hast need of him.

13 The hour may come, that their enterprises may haue good successe.

14 For they also shal pray vnto the Lord, that

Y y he

he would prefer that, which is given for ease, and their physicians for the prolonging of life.

15 He that sinneth before his maker, let him fall into the hands of the physician.

* Chap. 32. 12.
[Of mourning.

[Or, the physician.

16 My sinne, powre forth teares over the dead, and begin to mourne, as if thou hadst suffered great harm thy selfe, and then couer his boddy according to his appointment, and neglect not his buriall.

17 Make a grievous lamentation, & be earnest in mourning, & visitation, as he is worthy, and that a day or two, lest thou be evil spoken of,
and then comfort thy selfe for thine heavinesse.

* Prov. 15. 19.
and 17. 32.

18 For of heavinesse cometh death, and the heavinesse of the heart breaketh the strength.

19 Of the affliction of the heart cometh sorrow, and the life of him that is afflicted is according to his heart.

20 Take no heavinesse to heart: drive it away and remember the last end.

21 Forget it not: for there is no turning again:
thou shalt do him no good, but hurt thy selfe.

22 Remember his judgement: thine also shalt be likewise, vnto me yesterday, and vnto thee to day.

* A. Sam. 14. 32.

23 * Seeing the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest, and comfort thy selfe againe for him, when his spirit is departed from him.

24 The wisdom of a learned man cometh by using wel his vacant time: and he that ceaseth from his owne matters and labour, may come by wisdom.

25 How can he get wisdom that holdeth the plough, & he that hath pleasure in the goad, and in driving oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and talketh but of the breed of bullocks?

26 He giueth his mind to make furrowes, and is diligent to give the kine fodder.

27 So is it of every carpenter, & workman that laboureth night and day: and they that cut and graue seales, and make sundry diversities, and give themselves to counterfeit imagery, & watch to performe the works.

28 The smith in like manner abideth by his anvil, and doth his diligence to labor the yron: the vapour of the fire drieth his flesh, and hee must fight with the heat of the furnace: the noise of the hammer is euer in his eares, & his eyes looke still vpon the thing that hee maketh: hee setteth his mind to make vp his workes: therefore he watch-eth to polish it perfectly.

29 So doth the potter sit by his worke: he turn-eth his wheel about with his feet: he is careful al-way at his work, & maketh his work by number.

30 He fashioneth the clay with his arme, and with his feet hee tempereth the hardnesse thereof:
his heart imagineth how to couer it with lead, & his diligence is to cleanse the oven.

31 All these hope in their hands, & every one bestoweth his wisdom in his worke.

32 Without these cannot the cities be maintained, nor inhabited, nor occupied.

33 And yet they are not asked their iudgment in the counsell of the people: neither are they hie in the congregation, neither sitte they vpon the iudgement seats, nor vnderstand the order of iustice: they cannot declare matters according to the forme of the Law, and they are not meete for hard matters.

34 But they maintaine the state of the world, and their desire is concerning their worke & occupation.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. 9. 10. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100.

He only that applieth his minde to the Law of the most High, and is occupied in the meditation thereof, seeketh out the wisdom of all the ancient, and exerciseth himselfe in the prophesies.

[Of our wisdom,

1 He keepeth the sayings of famous men, and entrench in also to the secrets of darke sentences.

2 He seeketh out the mystery of graue sentences, and exerciseth himselfe in darke parables.

3 Hee shall serue among great men and ap-peare before the prince: he shall trauaile through strange countries: for he hath tried the good and the euill among men.

4 He will giue his heart to resort earely vnto the Lord that made him, and to pray before the most High, & will open his mouth in prayer, and pray for his sinnes.

5 When the great Lord will, hee shall be filled with the Spirit of vnderstanding, that hee may powre out wise sentences, and giue thanks vnto
the Lord in his prayer.

6 He shall direct his counsell, & knowledge:
so shall he meditate in his secrets.

[Or, the Lord.

7 Hee shall shew forth his science and learning, and reioyce in the Law and covenant of the Lord.

8 Many shall commend his vnderstanding, & his memorie shall neuer be put out, nor depart away: but his name shall continue from generation to generation.

9 The congregation shall declare his wise-dome, and shew it.

* Chap. 44. 15.

10 Though he be dead, hee shall leaue a greater fame then a thousand: and if hee liue still, hee shall get the same.

11 Yet will I speake of moe things: for I am full as the moone.

12 Harken vnto mee, ye holy children, and bring forth fruit, as the rose that is planted by the brooks of the field.

13 And giue yea sweet smell as if incense, and bring forth flowers as the lillie: giue a smell & sing a song of praise: blese the Lord in all his works.

[Or, Lillies.

14 Giue honour vnto his name, & shew forth his praise with the songs of your lips, and with harps, and ye shall say after this maner,

15 * All the workes of the Lord are exceeding good, and all his commandments are done in due season.

* Gen. 1. 31.
Mat. 7. 17.

16 And none may say, What is this? Wherefore is that? for at time convenient they shall all bee sought out: at his commandement the water stood as an heape, and at the word of his mouth the waters gathered themselves.

17 His whole fauor appeared by his comandement, and none can diminish that which he wil saue.

18 The workes of all flesh are before him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.

19 Hee seeth from euerlasting to euerlasting, and there is nothing wonderful vnto him.

20 A man need not to say, What is this? wherefore is that? for he hath made all things for their owne vse.

21 His blessing shall run ouer as the streame, and moisten the earth like a flood.

22 As he hath turned the waters into saltnes, so shall hee heauen feel his wrath.

32 As his wayes are plaine and right vnto the just, so are they stumbling blockes to the wicked.
33 For good are good things created from the beginning, and euill things for the sinners.

34 The principall things for the whole vsa of mans life is water, fire, and yron, and salt, and meale, wheate, and hony, and milke, the blood of the grape, and oyle, and clothing.

35 All these things are for good to the godly:
but to the sinners they are turned vnto euill.

36 There bespirits yare created for vengeance, which in their rigour lay on sure strokes: in the time of destruction they shew forth their power, and accomplish y wrath of him that made them.

37 Fire and haile, and famine, and death: all these are created for vengeance.

38 The teeth of wilde beasts, and the scorpions, and the serpents, and the sword execute ven geance for the destruction of the wicked.

39 They shall be glad to doe his commande ments: and when need is, they shalbe ready vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shall not ouerpasse the commendement.

40 Therefore haue I taken a good courage vn to me from the beginning, and haue thought on these things, and haue put them in writing.

41 All the works of the Lord are good, & he grieth euery one in due season, and when need is:

42 So that a man need not to say, This is worse then that: for in due season they are all worthy praise.

43 And therefore praise the Lord with whol heart and mouth, & blefse the Name of the Lord

CHAP. XL.

1 Many miseries in mans life. 14. Of the blessing of the righteous, and prerogative of the feare of God.

Great strauell is created for all men, and an heauy yoke vpon the sons of Adam from the day that they go out of their mothers wombe, til the day y they retorne to the mother of al things.

2 Namely their thoughts, and feare of the heart, and their imagination of the things they wait for, and the day of death.

3 Fro him y sitteth vpon the glorious throne, vnto him that is beneath in the earth and ashes:

4 From him that is clothed in blue silke, and weareth a crowne, euen vnto him that is clothed in simple linnen.

5 Wrath and enuie, trouble and vnquietnesse, and feare of death, and rigor, and strife, and in the time of rest the sleepe in the night vpon his bed, change his knowledge.

6 A litle or nothing is his rest, and afterward in sleepe, he is as in a watch-tower in the day:
hee is troubled with the visions of his heart, as onethat runneth out of a battell.

7 And when all is safe, he awaketh, and mar ueileth that the feare was nothing.

8 Such things come vnto all flesh, both man and beast, but seven fold to the vngodly:

9 Moreouer, death, and blood, and strife, and sword, oppression, famine, destruction, and pu nishment.

10 These things are all created for the wic ked, and for their takes came the flood also.

11 All things that are of the earth, shal turne to earth againe: & they that are of the waters shall retorne into the sea.

12 All bribes and vnrighteousnesse shall be put away: but faithfulness shall endure for euer.

13 The substance of the vngodly shall be dreed vp like a riuer, and they shall make a sound like a great thunder in the raine.

14 When hee openeth his hand he reioyceth:
but all the transgressours shall come to nought.

15 The children of the vngodly shall not ob taine many branches: for the vnclane rootes are as vpon the high rockes.

16 Their tender stalkes by what water soeuer it be or water banks, it shall bee pulled vp before all other herbes.

17 Friendlinesse is as a most plentifull gar den of pleasure, and mercy endureth foe euer.

18 To labour and to bee content with that a man hath, is a sweete life: but hee that findeth a treasure, is aboue them both.

19 Children, and the building of the citie ma keth a perpetuall name: but an honest woman is counted aboue them both.

20 Wine and musicke reioyce the heart: but the issue of wisdom is aboue them both.

21 The pipe and the psalterion make a sweete noise: but a pleasant tongue is aboue them both.

22 Thine eye desireth fauour and beaurie: but a greene seede time rather then them both.

23 A friend and companion come together at opportunity: but aboue them both is a wife with her husband.

24 Friends & help are good in the time of trou ble: but almes shal deliuer more then them both.

25 Gold and siluer fasten the feete: but coun sell is esteemed aboue them both.

26 Riches & strength lift vp the mind: but the feare of the Lord is aboue them both: there is no want in the feare of y Lord, & it needeth no help.

27 The feare of the Lord is a pleasant garden of blessing, & there is nothing so beautiful as it is.

28 My sonne, lead not a beggars life, for bet ter it were to die then to begge.

29 The life of him that dependeth on another mans table, is not to be counted for a life: for he tormenteth himselfe after other mens meat: but a wise man and well nurtured, will beware thereof.

30 Begging is sweete in the mouth of the vn shamefast, an in his belly there burneth a fire.

CHAP. XLI.

1 Of the remembrance of death. 3 Death is not to be feared. 8
A curse vpon them that forsake the Law of God. 12 Good name and fame. 16 An exhortation to giue heere vnto wis dome. 17 Of what things a man ought to be ashamed.

O Death how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that liueth at rest in his posses sions, vnto the man that hath nothing to vete him, and that hath prosperitie in all things: yea, vnto him that is able yet to receiue meat.

2 O death, how acceptable is thy iudgement vnto the needfull, and vnto him whose strength faileth, and that is now in the last age and is vex ed with all things, and to him that despaireth, and hath lost patience!

3 Feare not the iudgment of death: remember them y haue bin before thee, and that come after:
this is the ordinance of the Lord ouer all flesh.

4 And why wouldest thou bee against the pleasure of the most High? whether it bee ten or an hundredth or a thousand yeeres, there is no de fence for life against the graue.

5 The children of the vngodly are abomi nable children, and so are they that keepe compa ny with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly children shall perish, and their posteritie shall haue a perpetuall shame.

ther, because they are reproached for his sake.

8. When he shall see thee, O ye thoughtless, which have forgotten the law of the most high God: for though you increase, yet shall you perish.

9. If ye be borne, ye shall be borne to casting: if ye die, the curse shall be your portion.

Chap. 30. 11.

10. All that is of the earth shall come to earth again: for the vngodly go from the curse to destruction.

11. Though men mourn for their body, yet the wicked name of the vngodly shall be for ever.

A good name

12. Thus regard to thy name: for that shall continue: a thousand thousand treasures of gold.

Chap. 30. 19.

13. A good life hath the dayes numbered: but a good name endureth ever.

14. My children, keepe wisdom in peace: for wisdom that is hidde, and a secret that is not knowne, shall profit in them both.

15. A man that hideth his foolishness, is better then a man that hideth his wisdom.

Or, shamefast

16. Therefore heare reuerence vnto my words: for it is not good in a thing to be ashamed: neither are all things allowed as faithful in all men.

17. Be ashamed of whoredome before father and mother: be ashamed of lies before the prince and men of authority.

18. Of those before the Iudge and ruler of offence before the congregation and people of vngodly shall be before a companion and friend.

19. And of them before the place where thou dwellest, and before the mouth of God & his covenant, and to leane with thine elbowes vpon

10. 14.

20. bread, or to be reproved for giuing or taking.

21. And of those vnto them that hate thee, and to looke vpon an affliction.

22. And to turne away thy face from thy kinsman: or to take away a portion or a gift, or to be enuied in the law as an other mans wife.

23. Or to sollicite any mans mayd, or to stand by her bed, or to reproch thy friends with words.

24. Or to yprate when thou hast any thing, or to report a matter that thou hast heard, or to rustle secret words.

25. Thus sayest thou: well bee shamefast, and shall finde favour with all men.

CHAP. XXXII.

1. The Lord of God will be taught, & a daughter, & a son: and shall be taught all things: for the secrets of the Lord shall be made knowne vnto them.

What things we ought to be ashamed of.

2. If thou shalt be ashamed, neither shall thou be ashamed, neither shall thou be ashamed for any person.

3. If thou shalt be ashamed, thou shalt be ashamed: and if thou shalt be ashamed, thou shalt be ashamed: and if thou shalt be ashamed, thou shalt be ashamed.

4. To sell merchandise at an vnjust price, and to corrupt thy children diligently, & to beare an euill witness to the blood.

5. To be a witness to the blood, and to be a witness to the blood, and to be a witness to the blood.

6. If thou shalt be ashamed, thou shalt be ashamed: and if thou shalt be ashamed, thou shalt be ashamed: and if thou shalt be ashamed, thou shalt be ashamed.

7. If thou shalt be ashamed, thou shalt be ashamed: and if thou shalt be ashamed, thou shalt be ashamed: and if thou shalt be ashamed, thou shalt be ashamed.

8. The daughter shall match the father to watch secretly, and the carefullest that he hath.

for her, which shall be his flower in the youth, lest she should possess the flower of her age: and when she shall be married, lest she should be hated.

9. In her virginity, lest she should be defiled, or gotten with child in her fathers house, & when she is married, lest she misbehave herselfe: & when she is married, lest she continue vnfruitful.

Chap. 31. 10.

10. If thy daughter be vnfruitful, keepe her straightly, lest she come thine enemies to laugh thee to scorn, & make thee a common talke in the streets, and defame thee among the people, and bring thee to publicke shame.

11. Behold not every bodys beauty, & company among women.

Chap. 31. 23.

12. For as the moth cometh out of garments: so doeth wickedness of the woman.

Gen. 3. 6.

13. The wickedness of a man is better then the good intency of a woman: to wit, of a woman that is in shame and reproch.

14. I will remember the workes of the Lord, and declare the things that he hath done: by the word of the Lord are his workes.

15. The sunne that shineth, looketh vpon all things, and all the workes thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.

16. Hath not the Lord appointed that his Saints should declare all his wondrous workes, which the Almighty Lord hath stablished to confirme all things by his mightie?

17. He looketh out the depth, & the heart, & he knoweth their practises: for the Lord knoweth all science, and he beholdeth the signes of the world.

18. He declareth the things that are past, and for to come, and discloseth the paths of things that are secret.

Job 41. 4.

Job 39. 15.

19. No thought may escape him, neither may any word be hid from him.

20. He hath garnished the excellent workes of his wisdom, and he is from everlasting to everlasting, and for ever: vnto him may nothing be added, neither can hee be diminished: he hath no need of any counseller.

21. Oh, how delectable are all his workes, and to be considered men vnto the sparkes of fire!

22. They lineall, and endure for ever: and whensoever need is, they are all obedient.

23. They are all double, one against another: he hath made nothing that hath any fault.

24. The one commendeth the goodnesse of the other, and who can be satisfied with beholding Gods glory?

Or, stablisheth.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1. His his ornament, the clere firmament, the beauty of the heauen, so glorious to behold.

The wonderfull workes of God.

2. The sunne also a marvellous instrument when it appeareth, declareth at his going out the workes of the most High.

3. As noone it burneth the countrey, and who may abide for the heate thereof?

4. The sunne burneth the mountaines three times more then hee that keepeth a furnace with continuall heate: it casteth out the fiery vapours, and with the shining beames blindeth the eyes.

5. Great is the Lord that made it, and by his commandement hee causeth it to run hastily.

Gen. 1. 16.

6. The moon also hath he made to appeare according to her season, that it should be a declaration of the time, and a signe for the world.

Job 31. 26.

7. The stars also are appointed by the moon: the light of the sunne shall be vnto the earth.

The month is called after the name thereof, and groweth wonderfully in her changing.
9 It is a campe pitched on high, shining in the firmament of heaven: the beauty of heaven are the glorious starres, and the ornament that shineth in the high places of the Lord.

10 By the commendement of the Holy one they continue in their order, & faile not in their watch.

11 * Look vpon the raine-bowe, and praise him that made it: very beautifull is it in the brightnesse thereof.

12 * It compasseth the heaven about with a glorious circle, and the hands of the most High haue bended it.

13 Through his commandement he maketh the snowe to haste, and sendeth swiftly the lighting of his iudgement.

14 Therefore he openeth his treasures, and the cloudes flie forth as the fowles.

15 In his power hath hee strengthened the cloudes, and broken the hailestones.

16 The mountaines leape at the sight of him: the South winde bloweth according to his will.

17 The sound of his thunder beatech the earth: so doth the storme of the North: the whirlewind also, as birds that flie, scattereth the snow, and the falling downe thereof is as the grasshoppers that light downe.

18 The eye marueileth at the beauty of the whitenesse thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raine of it.

19 Hee also powreth out the frost vpon the earth like salt, and when it is frozen, it sticketh on the tops of pales.

20 When the cold North winde bloweth, an yce is frozen of the water, it abideth vpon all the gatherings together of water, and cloeth the waters as with a brestplate.

21 It deuoureth the mountaines, & burneth the wilderness, & destroyeth that that is green, like fire.

22 The remedie of all these is when a cloude commeth hastily, and when a dew commeth vpon the heat, it refresheth it.

23 [By his word he stilleth the winde] by his counsell hee appeaseth the deepe, and planteth ylands therein.

24 They that faile ouer the sea, tell of the perils thereof, and when we heare it with our eares, we marueille thereat.

25 For there be strange & wonderous works, diuers manner of beasts, & the creation of whales.

26 Through him are all things directed to a good end, and are established by his word.

27 And when we haue spoken much, we cannot attaine vnto them: but this is the summe of all, that he is all.

28 What power haue we to praise him? for he is aboue all his workes.

29 The Lord is terrible, and very * great, and marueilous is his power.

30 Praise the Lord, and magnifie him as much as ye can, yet doth he farre exceede exalt him with all your power, and be not weary, yet can ye not attaine vnto it.

31 * Who hath seene him, that he might tell vs? and who can magnifie him as he is?

32 For there are hidde yet greater things then these be, & we haue seene but a few of his workes.

33 For the Lord hath made all things, and giuen wisdom to such as feare God.

CHAP. XLIIII.

The praise of certain holy men, Enoch, Noe, Abraham, Isaac and Iacob.

1 Et vs now commend the famous men, and our fathers of whom we are begotten.

2 The Lord hath gotten great glory by them, and that through his great power from the beginning.

3 They haue borne rule in their kingdomes, and were renowned for their power: and were wise in counsell, and declared prophecies.

4 * They gouerned the people by counsell and by the knowledge of learning meete for the people, in whose doctrine were wise sentences.

5 They inuented the melodie of musick, and expounded the verses that were written.

6 They were rich and mightie in power, and liued quietly at home.

7 All these were honourable men in their generations, & were well reported of in their times.

8 There are of them that haue left a name behind them, so that their praise shalbe spoken of.

9 There are some also which haue no memoriall, * and are perished as though they had neuer bene, and are become, as though they had neuer bene borne, and their children after them.

10 But the former were mercifull men, whose righteousness hath not bene forgotten.

11 For whose posteritie a good inheritance is reserved, & their seed is contained in the couenant.

12 Their stocke is contained in the couenant, and their posteritie after them.

13 Their seed shall remaine for euer, and their praise shall neuer be taken away.

14 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liueth for euermore.

15 * The people speake of their wisdom, and the congregation talke of their praise.

16 * Enoch pleased the Lord God: therefore was he translated for an example of repentance to the generations.

17 * Noe was found perfit, and in the time of wrath he had a reward: therefore was he left as a remnant vnto the earth, when the flood came.

18 An euermore couenant is made with him, that all flesh should perishe no more by the flood.

19 * Abraham was a * great father of many people: in glory was there none like vnto him.

20 He kept the Law of the most High, and was in couenant with him, & he set the couenant * in his flesh, and in tentation he was found faithfull.

21 Therefore he assured him by an * oath, that he would blesse the nations in his seed, and that hee would multiplie him as the dust of the earth, and exalt his seed as the starres, and cause them to inherite from sea to sea, and from the Riuer vnto the end of the world.

22 * With Isaac did he confirme likewise for Abraham his fathers sake, the blessing of all men and the couenant.

23 And caused it to rest vpon the head of Isaac, & made himselfe known by his blessings, & gaue him an heritage, & diuided his portions, and parted them among the twelue tribes.

24 And hee brought out of him a * mercifull man, which found fauour in the sight of all flesh.

CHAP. XLV.

The praise of Moses, Aaron, and Pharaoh.

1 And * Moses, the * beloued of God and a * man, * brought he forth, whose remembrance is blessed.

1 Hee made him like to the glorious Saints, and magnified him by the feare of his enemies.
 2 By his wordes hee caused the wonders to teele, and he made him glorious in the sight of Kings, and gave him commandments for his people, and shewed him his glory.
 3 He sanctified him with faithfulness, and meekenesse, and chose him out of all men.
 4 He caused him to heare his voice, & brought him into the darke cloud, & there he gave him the commandments before his face, even the law of life and knowledge, that he might teach Jacob the covenant, and Israel his iudgements.
 5 He exalted Aaron an holy man like vnto him, even this brother of the tribe of Levi.
 6 An everlasting covenant made he with him, and gave him the Priesthood among the people, and made him blessed through his comely ornament, and clothed him with the garment of honour.
 7 Hee put perfect ioy vpon him, and girded him with ornaments of strength, as with breeches, and a surclee, and an ephod.
 8 Hee compassed him about with bells of gold, and with many bells round about, that when he went in, the sound might be heard, and might make a noyse in the Sanctuary, for a remembrance to the children of Israel his people.
 9 And with an holy garment, with gold also, and blue silke, and purple, and diuers kinds of worke, and with a breastplate of iudgement, and with the signes of iudgement.
 10 And with worke of scarlet, cunningly wrought, and with precious stones grauen like scales, and set in gold by goldsmiths worke for a memorial, with a writing grauen after the manner of the tribes of Israel.
 11 And with a crown of gold vpon the mitre, bearing the forme and marke of holiness, an ornament of honour, anoble worke garnished, and pleasant to looke vpon.
 12 Before him were there no such faire ornaments, there might no stranger put them on, but onely his children, and his childrens children perpetually.
 13 Their sacrifices were wholly consumed e-uery day with continually.
 14 Moyses filled his hands, & anointed him with holy oyle, this was appointed vnto him by an euerlasting covenant, & to his seed, so long as the heauens should remaine, that he should minister before him, & also to execute the office of the Priesthood, and blesse his people in his Name.
 15 Before all men lining the Lord, these him, that he should present offerings before him, and a sweet saour for a remembrance to make reconciliation for his people.
 16 He gave him also his commandments, and authority according to the Lawes appointed that he should teach Jacob the testimonies, and giue light vnto Israel by his Law.
 17 Strangers stood vp against him, and enuied him in the wilderness, even the men that tooke Dathan and Abiram part, and the company of Core in iury and rage.
 18 This the Lord saw, & it displeased him, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed:
 he did wonders vpon them, and consumed them with the fiery flame.
 19 But he made Aaron more honorable, and gave him an heritage, & parted the first fruits of the first borne vnto him: vnto him specially hee appointed bread in abundance.

 20 For the Priests did eat of the sacrifices of the Lord, which he gave vnto him, and to his seed.
 21 He had hee none heritage in the land of his people, neither had hee any portion among the people: for the Lord is the portion of his inheritance.
 22 The third in glory is Phinees the sonne of Eleazar, because hee had zeale in the feare of the Lord, and stood vp with good courage of heart, when the people were turned backe, and made reconciliation for Israel.
 23 Therefore was there a Covenant of peace made with him, that hee should be the chiefe of the Sanctuary and of his people, and that hee and his posteritie should haue the dignitie of the Priesthood for euer.
 24 And according to the covenant made with Dauid, that the inheritance of kingdom should remaine to his son of the tribe of Iuda: so the heritage of Aaron should be to the onely son of his sonne, & to his seed. God giue vs wisdom in our heart, to iudge his people in righteousness, that the good things that they haue, be not abolished, & that their glory may endure for their posteritie.

CHAP. XLVI

1 Elisha the sonne of Naue was valiant in the armes, and was the successor of Moyses in prophetie, who according to his name, was a great Saviour of the elect of God, to take vengeance of the enemies that rose vp against them, and to set Israel in their inheritance.
 2 What glory gate he, when he lift vp his hand, and drew out his sword against the cities?
 3 Who was there before him, like to him?
 for hee fought the battels of the Lord.
 4 Stood not the Sunne still by his meanes, and one day was as long as two?
 5 Hee called vnto the most High gouernour when the enemies pressed vpon him on euery side, and the mightie Lord heard him with the haile stones and with mighty power.
 6 Hee rushed in vpon the nations in battel, & in the going down of Bethoron he destroyed the aduersaries, that they might know his weapons, and that he fought in the sight of the Lord, for he followed the Almighty.
 7 In the time of Moyses also hee did a good worke: hee aid Caleb the sonne of Iephune stood against the enemy, & withheld the people from sinne, and appeased the wicked murmuring.
 8 And of sixe hundred thousand people of foot, they two were selected to bring them into the heritage, euen into the land that floweth with milke and hony.
 9 The Lord gave strength also vnto Caleb, which remained with him vnto his olde age, so that hee went vp into the high places of the land, and his seed obtained it for an heritage.
 10 That all the children of Israel might see, that it is good to follow the Lord.
 11 Concerning the Iudges, every one by name, whose heart went not a whoring, nor departed from the Lord, their memory be blessed.
 12 Let their bones flourish out of their places, and their names by succession remaine to them that are most famous of their children.

14 By the Law of the Lord he iudged the congregation, and the Lord had respect vnto Iacob.
15 This Prophet was approued for his faithfulness, & hee was knowen faithfull in his words and visions.

16 He called vpon the Lord Almighty, when his enemies pressed vpon him on every side, when he offered the sucking lambe.

17 And the Lord thundred from heauen, and made his voice to bee heard with a great noise.

18 So hee discomfited the princes of the Tyrrians and all the rulers of the Philistims.

19 And before his long sleepe he made protestation in the sight of the Lord, and his anointed, that he tooke no substance of any man, ne not so much as a shooe, and no man could accuse him.

20 After his sleepe also he tolde of the Kings death, and from the earth lift he vp his voice, and prophesied that the wickednesse of the people should perish.

CHAP. XLVII.

The praise of Nathan, Dauid, and Salomon.

After him rose vp || * Nathan to prophesie in the time of Dauid.

1 For as the fat is taken away from the peace offering, so was || Dauid chosen out of the children of Israel.

2 Hee played with the lyons, as with kids, and with beares, as with lambes.

3 Slew he not a gyant when he was yet but young, and tooke away the rebuke from the people, when he lift vp his hand with the stone in the sling, to beate downe the pride of Goliath?

4 For hee called vpon the most high Lord which gaue him strength in his right hand, to slay that mightie warriour, and that he might set vp the borne of his people againe.

5 So || hee gaue him the praise of ten thousand, and honoured him with || great praises, and gaue him a crowne of glory.

6 For he destroyed the enemies on every side, and rooted out the Philistims his aduersaries, and brake their borne in sunder vnto this day.

7 In all his workes he praised the holy One, and the most High with honourable wordes, and with his whole heart hee sung songs, and loued him that made him.

8 He set fingers also before the altar, and according to their tune hee made sweete songs, that they might praise God dayly with their songs.

9 He ordeined to keepe the feast dayes comely, and appointed the tunes perfectly, that they might praise the holy Name of God, and make the Temple sound in the morning.

10 The Lord tooke away his finnes, and exalted his borne for euer: he gaue him the couenant of the kingdome, & the throne of glory in Israel.

11 After him rose vp a wise sonne, who by him dwelt in a large possession.

12 So || Salomon reigned in a peaceable time, and was glorious: for God made all quiet round about that hee might build an house in his Name, and prepare the Sanctuary for euer.

13 How wise wast thou in thy youth, and wast filled with vnderstanding as with a flood!

14 Thy mind couered the whole earth, & hath filled it with graue and darke sentences.

15 Thy Name went abroad in the yles; and for thy peace thou wast beloued.

16 The countreys marueiled at thee for thy songs, and pronouns, and similitudes, and interpretations.

17 By the Name of the Lord God, which is called the God of Israel, thou hast gathered gold as tinne, and hast had as much siluer as lead.

18 Thou diddest bow thy loynes to women, and wast overcome by thy body.

19 Thou diddest staine thine honour, and hast defiled thy posterity, and hast brought wrath vpon thy children, and hast felt sorow for thy folly.

20 So the kingdome was diuided, and Ephraim began to be a rebellious kingdome.

21 Neuerthelesse the Lord left not off his mercie, neither was he destroyed for his workes, neither did hee abolish the posteritie of his elect, nor tooke away the seede of him that loued him, but he left a remnant vnto Iacob, and a roote of him vnto Dauid.

22 Thus rested Salomon with his fathers, and of his seed he left behind him || Roboam, even || the foolishnesse of the people, and one that had no vnderstanding, * who turned away the people through his counsell, || and Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat, which caused Israel to sinne, & shewed Ephraim the way of sinne.

23 So that their finnes were so much increased, that they were driuen out of the land.

24 For they sought out all wickednesse, till the vengeance came vpon them.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The praise of Elias, Eliseus, Ezechias, and Iehoiachin.

Then stood vp || * Elias the Prophet as a fire, and his word burne like a lampe.

1 He brought a famine vpon them, and by his zeale he diminished them: [for they might not away with the commandementes of the Lord.]

2 By the word of the Lord he shut the heauen, & three times brought he the fire from heauen.

3 O Elias, how honorable art thou by thy wondrous deede: who may make his boist to be like thee

4 Which hast raised vp the dead from death, & by the word of the most High out of the graue:

5 Which hast brought Kings vnto destruction, and the honourable from their seate:

6 Which heardest the rebuke of || Lord in Sina, & in Horeb the iudgment of the vengeance:

7 Which didst anoint kings that they might recompence, and Prophets to be thy successors:

8 Which wast taken vp in a whirlewinde of fire, and in a chariot of fierie horses:

9 Which wast appointed * to reprove in due season, & to pacifie the wrath of the Lords iudgement before it kindled, and to turne the hearts of the fathers vnto the children, and to set vp the tribes of Iacob.

10 Blessed were they that sawe thee, and slept in loue: for we shall liue.

11 When Elias was couered with the storme, || Eliseus was filled with his spirit; while he liued, he was not moued for any prince, neither could any bring him into subiection.

12 Nothing could overcome him, * and after his death his body prophesied.

13 Hee did wonders in his life, and in death were his workes marueilous.

14 For all this the people repented not, neither departed they from their finnes: * till they were caried away prisoners out of their land, and were scattered through all the earth, so that there remained but a very few people with the prince vnto the house of Dauid.

high with prayer before him that is mercifull, til the honour of the Lord were performed, and they had accomplished his service.

20 Then he went downe, & stretched out his hands ouer the whole Congregation of the children of Israel, that they should giue praise with their lips vnto the Lord, and reioyce in his name.

21 He began againe to worship, that he might receive the blessing of the most High.

22 Now therefore giue praise all ye vnto God, that worketh great things euery where, which hath increased our dayes from the wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercy,

23 That he would giue vs ioyfulness of heart, and peace in our dayes in Israel, as in old time,

24 That hee would confirme his mercy with vs, and deliuer vs at his time,

25 ¶ There be two manner of people that mine heart abhorreth, and the third is no people:

26 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistims, and the foolish people that dwell in Sicinus.

27 ¶ Iesus the sonne of Sirach, the sonne of Eleazarus of Ierusalem, hath written the doctrine of vnderstanding and knowledge in this booke, and hath powred out the wisdom of his heart.

28 Blessed is he y^e exerciseth himselfe therein: & he that layeth vp these in his heart, shal be wise.

29 For if he doe these things, he shal be strong in all things: for he seeth his steps in the light of the Lord which giueth wisdom to the godly.

The Lord be praised for euermore. So be it, so be it

CHAP. LI.

A prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

Will confesse thee, O Lord and King, & praise thee, O God my Sauour: I will giue thanks vnto thy Name.

1 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserved my body from destruction, & from the line of the slanderous tongue, and from the lips that are occupied with lies: thou hast halpen me against mine aduersaries,

2 And hast deliuered me according to the multitude of thy mercy, & for thy Names sake from the roaring of them that were ready to deuoure me, & out of the hands of such as sought after my life, & from the manifold afflictions which I had

3 And from the fire that choked mee round about, and from the mids of the fire, that I burned not,

4 And from the bottome of the belly of hell, from an vneleane tongue, from lying words, from false accusation to the King, and from the slander of an vnrighteous tongue.

5 [My soule shall praise the Lord vnto death:] for my soule drew neere vnto death: my life was neere to the hell beneath.

6 They compassed me on euery side, and there was no man to helpe me: I looked for the succour of men, but there was none.

BARUCH.

CHAP. I.

1 Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon which he read before Iechonias and all the people. 20 The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Ierusalem to their other brethren, so the instant that they should pray for them.

And these are the wordes of the booke, which Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the sonne of Maasias, the sonne of Sedecias, the sonne of Asadias, the sonne of 28 Then thought I vpon thy mercy, O Lorde, and vpon thine actes of olde, how thou deliuerest such as waite for thee, and sauest them out of the hands of the enemies.

[Or, nations.]

9 Then lifted I vp my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.

10 I called vpon the Lord the Father of my Lord, that he would not leaue me in the day of my trouble, & in the time of the proud without help,

11 I will praise thy Name continually, and will sing praise with thanksgiving: and my prayer was heard.

12 Thou sauadst me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the euill time: therefore will I giue thanks and praise thee, and blesse the Name of the Lord.

13 When I was yet young, or euer I went abroad, I desired wisdom openly in my prayer.

14 I prayed for her before the Temple, and sought after her vnto farre countreys, and she was as a grape that waxeth ripe out of the flower.

15 Mine heart reioyced in her: my foot walked in the right way, & from my youth vp sought I after her.

16 I bowed somewhat downe mine eare, and received her, and gave me much wisdom:

17 And I profited by her: therefore will I ascribe the glory vnto him that giueth me wisdom.

18 For I am aduised to doe thereafter: I will be ielous of that that is good: so shall I not be confounded.

19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue examined my workes: I lifted vp mine hands on high, and considered the ignorances thereof.

20 I directed my soule vnto her, and I found her in purenes: I haue had my heart ioyned with her from the beginning: therefore shall I not be forsaken.

21 My bowels are troubled in seeking her: therefore haue I gotten a good possession.

22 The Lord hath giuen me a tongue for my reward, wherewith I will praise him.

23 Drawe neere vnto me, ye vnlearned, and dwell in the house of learning.

24 Wherefore are ye slow? and what say you of these things seeing your soules are very thursty?

25 I opened my mouth, and said, Buy her for you without money.

26 Bowe downe your necke vnder the yoke, and your soule shal receiue instruction: she is ready that ye may finde her.

27 Behold with your eyes, how that I haue had but little labour, and haue gotten vnto mee much rest.

28 Get learning with a great summe of money: for by her ye shall possesse much gold.

29 Let your soule reioyce in the mercie of the Lord, and be not ashamed of his praise.

30 Doe your duetie betimes, and he will giue you a reward at his time.

Helcias wrote in at Babylon,

2 In the fifth yeere and in the seventh day of the moneth, what time as the Caldeans tooke Ierusalem, and burnt it with fire.

3 And Baruch did reade the wordes of this booke, that Iechonias the sonne of Ioachim king of Iuda might heare, and all the people that were come to heare the booke,

4 And

And in the audience of the gouernour, and of the kings countes, & before the Elders, and before the whole people, from the lowest vnto the highest, before all them that dwell at Babylon by the river || God.

Which when they heard it, wept, fasted, and made prayer before the Lord.

They made a collection also of money, according to every mans power,

And sent it to Ierusalem vnto Ioachim the sonne of Helcias, the sonne of Salom Priest, and vnto the other priests, & to all the people which were with him at Ierusalem.

When he had received the vessels of the temple of the Lord, that were taken away out of the temple, to bring them againe into the land of Iudah, the sixth day of the month || Suan, as wit, siluer vessels, which Ebedias the sonne of Iasias king of Iuda had made.

After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had led away Iechonias from Ierusalem, and his princes, and his nobles prisoners, and the people, and carried them to Babylon.

And they sayd, Behold, we haue sent you money, wherewith yee shall buy burnt offerings for sinne, and incense, & prepare a meat offering, and offer vpon the altar of the Lord our God.

And pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of Baltasar his sonne, that their dayes may be vpon earth, as the dayes of heauen.

And that God would giue vs strength and fighen our eyes, that we may liue vnder the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and vnder the shadow of Baltazar his sonne, that wee may long doe them seruice, and finde fauour in their sight.

Pray for vs also vnto the Lorde our God, that we haue sinned against the Lorde our God, and vnto this day the fury of the Lord and his wrath is not turned from vs.

And reade this booke (which we haue sent you) to be rehearsed in the temple of the Lord vpon the feast dayes, and at time conuenient.

Thus shall ye say, To the Lord our God, our fathers righteousnes, but vnto vs the confusion of our faces, as it is come to passe this day vnto them of Iuda, & to the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

And to our Kings, and to our Princes, & to our Priests, & to our Prophets, and to our fathers.

Because wee haue sinned before the Lord our God,

And haue not obeyed him, neither hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord our God, to walke in the commandements that he gaue vs openly.

From the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, even vnto this day, we haue bene disobedient vnto the Lord our God, and we haue bene negligent to heare his voice.

Wherefore the plagues are come vpon vs, and the curse which the Lord appointed by Moyses his seruant at the time that hee brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to giue vs a land that floweth with milke and hony, as appeared this day.

Nevertheless, we haue not hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord our God, according to all the words of the Prophets, whom he sent vnto vs.

But every one of vs followed his wicked imagination of his owne heart, to serue strange gods, and to doe euill in the sight of the Lord our God.

CHAP. II.

The first confession that they suffer for their sinnes. The true confession of the Christians. The second desire to haue the wrath of God turned from them. The third promise that he will call againe the people from captiuitie, and giue them a new and euerydaye Testament.

Therefore the Lord our God hath performed his word which hee pronounced against vs and against our Iudges that gouerned Israel, and against our Kings, and against our Princes, and against the men of Israel and Iuda.

To bring vpon vs great plagues, such as neuer came to passe vnder the whole heauen, as they that were done in Ierusalem, according to things that were written in the Law of Moyses.

That some among vs should eat flesh of his own son, and some the flesh of his own daughter.

Moreover, hee hath deliuered them to be in subjection to all the king domes that are round about vs, to be as a reproch and desolation among all the people round about where the Lord hath scattered them.

Thus they are brought beneath and not above, because wee haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not heard his voice.

To the Lord our God appertaineth righteousness, but vnto vs and to our fathers open shame, as appeareth this day.

For all these plagues are come vpon vs, which the Lord hath pronounced against vs.

Yet haue we not prayed before the Lord, that we might turne every one from the imaginations of his owne wicked heart.

So the Lord hath watched ouer the plagues, and the Lord hath brought them vpon vs: for the Lord is righteous in all his works, which hee hath commanded vs.

Yet we haue not hearkened vnto his voyce, to walke in the commandements of the Lorde that he hath giuen vnto vs.

And now, O Lord God of Israel, that haue brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mightie hand, & an hie arme, & with signes and with wonders, & with great power, and haue gotten thy selfe a Name, as appeareth this day.

O Lord our God, we haue sinned: we haue done wickedly: we haue offended in all thine ordinances.

Let thy wrath turne from vs: for we are but a fewe left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered vs.

Heare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, & deliuer vs for thine owne sake, & giue vs fauour in sight of them which haue led vs away.

That all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, and that thy Name is called vpon Israel and vpon their posteritie.

Therefore looke downe from thine holy Temple, and thinke vpon vs: incline thine eare, Lord, and heare vs.

Open thine eyes, and behold: for the dead that are in the graues, and whose soules are out of their bodies, giue vnto the Lord neither praise, nor righteousness.

But the soule that is vexed for the greatness of sinne, and he that goeth crookedly and weake, and the eyes that faile, and the hungry soule will giue thee praise and righteousness, O Lord.

For we doe not require mercie in thy sight, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, or of our Kings.

But because thou hast sent out thy wrath & indigna-indignation vpon vs, as thou hast spoken by thy seruants the Prophets, saying,

21 * Thus sayeth the Lord, Bow downe your shoulders, & serue the king of Babylon so shall ye remaiue in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers

22 But if yee will not heare the voyce of the Lord, to serue the king of Babylon,

23 I will cause to cease in the cities of Iuda, and in Ierusalem, I will cause to cease the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of ioy, and the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the bride, and the land shall be desolate of inhabitants.

24 But we would not hearken vnto thy voyce;
to serue the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou performed the wordes that thou spakest by thy seruants the Prophets: namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers should be caried out of their places.

25 And loe, they are cast out to the heat of the day, and to the colde of the night, and are dead in great misery with famine, and with the sword, and in banishment.

26 And the Temple wherein thy Name was called vpon, thou hast brought to the stare, as appeareth this day, for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast intreated vs, according to equitie, and according to all thy great mercy,

28 As thou spakest by thy seruant Moyses, in the day when thou didst commaund him to write thy Law before the children of Israel, saying,

29 * If ye will not obey my voyce, then shall this great swarme and multitude be turned into a very few among the nations where I will scatter them.

30 For I know that they will not heare me for it is a stiff necked people: but in the land of their captiuitie they shall remember themselves,

31 And know I am the Lord their God: then will I giue them an heart to vnderstand, & eares,

32 And they shall heare, and praye me in the land of their captiuitie, & thinke vpon my Name.

33 Then shall they turne them from their hard backs, and from their euill works: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.

34 And I will bring them again into the land, which I promised with an oath vnto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Iacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished.

35 And I will make an euermlasting Couenant with them, that I will be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more driue my people of Israel out of the land that I haue giuen them.

CHAP. III.

1 The people continueth in their prayer begun for their deliuerance.
2 He prayeth for wisdom vnto the people, shewing, that so great adversities come vnto them for the despising thereof. 34 One-ly God was the funder of wisdom. 37 Of the incarnation of Christ.

O Lord Almighty, O God of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, & the spirit that is vexed, cryeth vnto thee.

2 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercy: for thou art mercifull, and haue pitie vpon vs, because we haue sinned before thee.

3 For thou endurest for euer, & we vnto this day perish

4 O Lord Almighty, the God of Israel, heare now the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of their children, which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voyce of thee thy God, wherefore these plagues hang vpon vs.

5 Remember not the wickednesse of our fathers, but thinke vpon thy power, and thy Name at this time.

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O
Lord, will we praye.

7 And for this cause hast thou put thy feare in our hearts, that we should call vpon thy Name, and praise thee in our captiuitie, for we haue considered in our minds all the wickednesse of our fathers, that sinned before thee.

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captiui-tie, where thou hast scattered vs, to be a reproch and a curse, and subiect to paymentes, according to all the iniquities of our Fathers which are departed from the Lord their God.

9 O Israel, heare the commandementes of life:
hearken vnto them, that thou mayest learne wisdom.

10 What is the cause, O Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land, and art waxen old in a strange country?

11 And art defiled with the dead? & art coun-teined with them that go downe to the graues?

12 Thou hast forsake the fountain of wisdom.

13 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou shouldst haue remained safe for euer.

14 Learne where is wisdom, where is strength, where is vnderstanding, that thou mayest know also from whence cometh long continuance, and life, and where the light of the eyes, and peace is.

15 Who hath found out her place? or who hath come into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen, and such as ruled the beasts vpon the earth?

17 They that had their pastime with foules of the heauen, that hoarded vp silver & gold, wherein men trust, and made none end of their gathering?

18 For they that coined silver, & were so careful of their work, & whose inuention had none end, 19 Are come to nought, & gone downe to hell, and other men are come vp in their steads.

20 When they were yong, they saw the light, and dwelt vpon the earth: but they vnderstood not the way of knowledge,

21 Neither perceived the paths thereof, neither haue their children receiued it: but they were far off from that way.

22 It hath not bene heard of in the land of Chanaan; neither hath it bene seene in Theman,

23 Nor the Agarines that fought after wise-dome vpon the earth, nor the merchants of Nerran, & of Theman, nor the expounders of fables nor the teachers out of wisdom haue known the way of wisdom, neither do they thinke vpon the paths thereof.

24 O Israel, how great is the house of God! &
how large is the place of his possession!

25 It is great, and hath none end: it is hie, and vnmessurable.

26 There were the giants, famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, & so expert in warre.

27 Those did not the Lord chuse, neither gaue he the way of knowledge vnto them.

28 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdom, & perished through their own foolishnes.

29 Who hath gone vp into heauen to take her,
and brought her downe from the clouds?

30 Who hath gone ouer the sea to finde her,
and hath brought her rather then fine gold?

31 No

11 No man knoweth his way, neither hath he known her paths.

12 But he knoweth all things, knoweth her, and he hath found her out, & his understanding: the secret is he which hath prepared the earth for evermore, & hath filled it with fourfooted beasts.

13 When he seetheth out the light, it goeth, & when he calleth it again, it obedieth him with feare.

14 And she feares him in their which, and rejoices when he calleth them, they say, Here we be: and so with cheerefulness they shew light vnto him that made them.

15 This is our God, and there shall none other be compared vnto him.

16 He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath given it vnto Jacob his servant, and to Israel his beloved.

17 Afterward hee was seene vpon earth, and dwelt among men.

CHAP. III.

The frame of this booke the Law, & the punishment of them that despise it. 1. A comforting of the people brought captiue. 2. A consolation of Jerusalem, and a promise of the future of the Church. 3. A consolation and comforting of the people.

This is the booke of the commandments of God, and the Law that endureth for ever: all they that hope in it, shall come to life: but such as forsake it shall die.

1. Thus saith O Jacob, and take holde of it: walke by this brightness before the light thereof.

2. O that thou shouldst be like to another, nor the things that are profitable vnto thee, to a strange nation.

3. O Israel, we are blessed: for the things that are acceptable vnto God, are declared vnto vs.

4. Be of good comfort, O my people, which are the memoriall of Israel.

5. Ye are sold to bondage, not for your destruction, but because ye provoked God to wrath, ye were deliuered vnto the enemies.

6. For ye haue displeased him that made you, offering vnto devils, and not to God.

7. Ye haue forgotten him that created you, even the everlasting God, and ye haue grieved Jerusalem, that nourished you.

8. When the law the wrath coming vpon you, God the said, Hearken, yet that dwell about Sion, for God hath brought me into great heaviness.

9. I see the captiuitie of my sonnes & daughters, which the Everlasting will bring vpon them.

10. With ioy did I nourish them, but I must leaue them with weeping and mourning.

11. Let no man reioyce ouer me a widow, and forsaken of many, which for the sins of my children am desolate, because they departed from the Law of God.

12. They would not know his righteousness, they walke in the wayes of his commandments: neither did they enter into the paths of discipline, through his righteousness.

13. Come ye, that dwell about Sion, & call to remembrance the captiuitie of my sonnes & daughters, which I Everlasting hath brought vpon the.

14. For hee hath brought vpon them a nation from farre, an impudent nation, and of a strange language.

15. Which neither reuerence the aged, nor pitty the yong: these haue caried away the deare beloved of the widows, leauing me alone, and destruction of my daughters.

16. But what can I helpe you?

17. Early in the mornig I haue brought these plagues vpon you, can deliuer you from the hands of your enemies.

18. Go your way, O children, go your way: for I am left desolate.

19. I haue put off the clothing of peace, & put vpon me the sackcloth of prayer, and so long as I live I will call vpon the Everlasting.

20. Be of good comfort, O children: cry vnto God, and he will deliuer you from the power, and hand of the enemies.

21. For I haue hope of your saluation through the Everlasting, & ioy is come vpon me from the Holy one, because of I mercy which shall quickly come vnto you from our Everlasting Saviour.

22. For I sent you away with weeping & mourning, but with ioy and perpetuall gladnesse will God bring you againe vnto me.

23. Like as now, neighbours of Sion saw your captiuitie, so shall they also see shortly your saluation from God, which shall come vnto you with great glory, & brightness from the Everlasting.

24. My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come vpon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread vpon his necke.

25. My darlings haue gone by rough wayes, and were led away as a flocke that is scattered by the enemies.

26. Be of good comfort, my children, and cry vnto God, for he that led you away, hath you in remembrance.

27. And as it came into your mind to go astray from your God, so endeavour your selues sometimes more to come againe and to seek him.

28. For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, will bring you everlasting ioy again, with your saluation.

29. Take a good heart, O Ierusalem: for hee which gaue thee that name, will comfort thee.

30. They are miserable that afflict thee, & such as reioyce at thy fall.

31. The cities are miserable whom thy children serue, miserable is she that hath taken thy sonnes.

32. For as she reioiced at thy decay, & was glad of thy fall, so shall she be for her own desolation.

33. For I will take away the reioicing of her great multitude, and her ioy shall be turned into mourning.

34. For a fire shall come vpon her from I Everlasting, long to endure, and she shall be inhabited of devils for a great season.

35. O Ierusalem, look toward the East, & behold the ioy I cometh vnto thee from thy God.

36. Lo, thy founts (whom thou hast let goe) come gathered together from the East vnto the West, reioicing in the word of the Holy one vnto the honour of God.

CHAP. V.

Ierusalem is mourned vpon her plagues for the recovery of her people, and under the shadow of the Church.

Put off thy mourning clothes, O Ierusalem, & thine affliction, and decke thee with the worship and honour, that cometh vnto thee from God, for euermore.

1. Put on the garment of righteousness, that cometh from God, and set a crown vpon thine head of the glory of the Everlasting.

2. For God will declare thy brightness to every countrey vnder the heauen.

3. And God will name thee by this name for ever, and, The peace of righteousness, and the glory of the worship of God.

4 Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand vp on hie, and looke aboue thee towa d the East, and behold thy children gathered from the East vnto the West by the word of the Holy one, reioycing in the remembrance of God.

5 For they departed from thee on foot, and were ledde away of their enemies: but God will bring them againe vnto thee, exalted in glory, as children of the kingdome.

6 For God hath determined to bring downe every hie mountaine, & the long enduring rocks, and to fill the valleys, to make the ground plaine, that Israel may walk safely vnto y^e honor of God.

7 The woods and all sweet smelling trees shal overshadow Israel at the commandment of God.

8 For God shall bring Israel with ioy in the light of his maiestie, with the mercie and righteousness that commeth of him.

CHAP. VI.

A COPY OF THE EPISTLE THAT Jeremias sent vnto them that were ledde away captiues into Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to certifie them of the thing that was commanded him of God.

BECAUSE of the finnes, that yee haue committed against God, ye shall be led away captiues vnto Babylon, by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians.

1 So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shall remaine there many yeres, and a long season, euen seven generations, and after that will I bring you away peaceably from thence.

2 Now shall ye see in Babylon gods of siluer, and of gold, & of wood, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cause the people to feare.

3 Beware therefore that yee in no wise be like the strangers, neither be yee afraid of them, when yee see the multitude before them & behind them worshipping them.

4 But say yee in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee.

5 For mine Angel shal be with you, and shall beare for your soules.

6 As for their tongue, it is polished by the car-penter: and they themselves are gilded & laid ouer with siluer: yet are they but lies, & cannot speake.

7 And as they take gold for a maide that lo-ueth to be deckt,

8 So make they crownes for the heads of their gods: sometimes also the Priests themselves con-uey away the gold and siluer from their gods, and bestow it vpon themselves.

9 Yea, they giue of the same vnto the har-lots, that are in their houses: againe, they decke these gods of siluer, and gods of gold, & of wood with garments like men,

10 Yet can they not bee preserued from rust and wormes,

11 Though they haue covered them with clo-thing of purple, and wipe their faces because of the dust of the Temple, whereof there is much vp-on them.

12 One holdeth a scepter, as though hee were a certaine iudge of the cuntry: yet can hee not slay such as offend him.

13 Another hath a dagger or an axe in his right hand: yet he is not able to defend himselfe from battell, nor from theues: so then it is eu-ident, that they be no gods.

14 Therefore feare them not: for as a vessel that a man vieth, is nothing worth when it is broken,

15 Such are their gods: when they be ser vp in their temples, their eyes be full of dust by reason of the feet of those that come in:

16 And as the gates are shut in round about vpon him that hath offended the King: or as one that should be led to be put to death, so the priests keepe their temples with doores and with locks, and with barres, lest their gods should be spoiled by robbers.

17 They light vp candles before the: yea, more then for themselves, whereof they cannot see one: for they are but as one of the posts of the temple.

18 They confesse that euen their hearts are gnawen vpon: but when the things that creepe out of the earth, eate them and their clothes, they feelee it not.

19 Their faces are blacke through the smoke that is in the temple.

20 The owles, swallowes & birds flie vpo their bodies, and vpon their heads, yea, & the cats also.

21 By this yee may be sure, that they are not gods: therefore feare them not.

22 Notwithstanding the golde that is about them to make them beautifull, excepte one wipe off the rust, they cannot shine: neither when they were molten, did they feelee it.

23 The things wherein is no breath, are bought for a most high price.

24 They are borne vpon mens shoulders, be-cause they haue no feet, whereby they declare vn-to men, that they be nothing worth: yea, and they that worship them, are ashamed.

25 For if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise vp againe of themselves, neither if one set them vp right, can they mooue of them-selves, neither if they bee bowed downe, can they make themselves straight: but they set gifts before them, as vnto dead men.

26 As for the things that are offered vnto them, their Priests sel them, and abuse them: like-wise also the women lay vp of the same: but vnto the poore and sicke they giue nothing.

27 The menstuous women, and they that are in childbed, touch their sacrifices: by these things ye may know y they are no gods: feare them not.

28 From whence commeth it then, that they are called gods? because the women bring gifts to the gods of siluer, and gold, and wood.

29 And the Priests sit in their temples, hauing their clothes rent, whose heads and beards are shauen, and being bare headed,

30 They roare and cry before their gods, as men doe at the feast of one that is dead.

31 The priests also take away of their gar-ments, and clothe their wiues and children.

32 Whether it be euil that one doth vnto them or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set vp a king, nor put him downe.

33 In like maner they can neither giue riches, nor monie: though a man make a vow vnto them and keepe it not, they will not require it.

34 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mighty.

35 They cannot restore a blinde man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his need.

36 They can shewe no mercie to the widowe, nor doe good to the fatherlesse.

37 Their gods of wood, gold, and siluer, are as stones that bee hewen out of the mountaine, and they

24 They are borne vpon mens shoulders, because they haue no feet, whereby they declare vnto men, that they be nothing worth: yea, and they that worship them, are ashamed.

25 For if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise vp againe of themselves, neither if one set them vp right, can they mooue of themselves, neither if they bee bowed downe, can they make themselves straight: but they set gifts before them, as vnto dead men.

26 As for the things that are offered vnto them, their Priests sel them, and abuse them: likewise also the women lay vp of the same: but vnto the poore and sicke they giue nothing.

27 The menstruous women, and they that are in childbed, touch their sacrifices: by these things ye may know, they are no gods: feare them not.

28 From whence cometh it then, that they are called gods? because the women bring gifts to the gods of siluer, and gold, and wood.

29 And the Priests sit in their temples, hauing their clothes rent, whose heads and beards are shauen, and being bare headed,

30 They roare and cry before their gods, as men doe at the feast of one that is dead.

31 The priests also take away of their garments, and clothe their wiues and children.

32 Whether it be euil that one doth vnto them or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set vp a king, nor put him downe.

33 In like maner they can neither giue riches, nor moue though a man make a vow vnto them and keepe it not, they will not require it.

34 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mighty.

35 They cannot restore a blinde man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his need.

36 They can shewe no mercie to the widowe, nor doe good to the fatherlesse.

37 Their gods of wood, gold, and siluer, are as stones that bee hewen out of the mountaine, and they.

they that worship them, shalbe confounded.

39 How should a man thinke or say that they are gods?

40 Moreover the Caldeans themselves dishonour them: for when they see a dumbe man, that cannot speake, they present him vnto Bel, 41 And desire that hee would make him to speake, as though he had any feeling: yet they that vnderstand these things, cannot leaue them: for they also haue no sense.

42 Furthermore, the women girded with cords, sit in the streetes, and burne fl straw.

43 And if one of them bee drawn away, and goe with any such as come by, shee casteth her neighbour in the teeth, because shee was not so worthily reputed, nor her cord broken.

44 Whatlouer is done among the, is lies: how may it the be thought or said, that they are gods?

45 Carpenters and goldsmiths make them, neither bee they any other thing, but euen what the workman will make them.

46 Yea, they that make them are of no long continuance: how should then the things that are made of them, be gods?

47 Therefore they leaue lies, and shame for their posteritie.

48 For when there cometh any war or plague vpon them, the priests imagine with themselves, where they may hide themselves with them.

49 How then can men not perceiue, that they be no gods, which can neither defend themselves from warre nor from plagues?

• Psal. 115. 4.
• Psal. 115. 10.

50 For seeing they be but of wood, and of silver, and of gold, men shall knowe hereafter that they are but lies, and it shalbe manifest to all nations and kings, that they bee no gods, but the works of mens hands, and that there is no worke of God in them.

51 Whereby it may be knowen, that they are no gods.

52 They can sit vp no king in the land, nor giue raine vnto men.

53 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neither preferre fro iniurie, they haue no power, but are as crows betweene the heauen and the earth.

54 When there falleth a fire vpon the house of those gods of wood, and of silver, and of gold, the priests will escape and saue themselves, but they burne as the balikes therein.

55 They cannot withstand any King or enemies: how can it then bee thought or said, that they be gods?

56 Moreover their gods of wood, of gold, and of silver can neither defend themselves from theues nor robbers.

57 For they that are strongest take away their gold and silver, and apparell wherewith they be clothed: and when they haue it, they get them away: yet can they not helpe themselves.

58 Therefore it is better to be a king, and so to shewe his power, or else a profitable vessell in an house, whereby he that oweth it, might haue profite, then such false gods: or to bee a doore in an house, to keepe such things safe as be therein, then such false gods: or a pillar of wood in a palace, then such false gods.

59 For the sunne, and the moone, and the stars that shine, when they are sent downe for necessarie vses, obey.

60 Likewise also lightning, when it shineth, it is euident: & the wind bloweth in euery country.

61 And when God commandeth the cloudes to goe about the whole world, they doe as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue to destroy hills and woods, it doeth that which is commanded: but these are not like any of these things, neither in forme nor power.

63 Wherefore men should not thinke, nor say that they bee gods, seeing they can neither giue sentence in iudgment, nor doe men good.

64 For so much now as ye care sure that they be no gods, feare them not.

65 For they can neither curse nor blesse kings:

66 Neither can they shew signes in the heauen among the heathen, nor shine as the moone.

67 The beafts are better then they: for they can get them vnder a couert, & doe themselves good.

68 So yee may be certified that by no manner of meanes, they are gods: therefore feare them not.

69 For as a skarcrow in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and of silver, and of gold:

70 And likewise their gods of wood, and golde and silver are like to a white thorne in an orchard, that euery birde sitteth vpon, and as a dead body that is cast in the darke.

71 By the purple also and brightnes, which fadeth vpon them, ye may vnderstand, that they be no gods: yea, they themselves shalbe consumed at the last, and they shalbe a shame to the country.

72 Better therefore is the iust man, that hath none idoles: for he shalbe farre from reproofe.

The song of the three holy children, which followeth in the third Chapter of Daniel after this place, I they fell downe bound into the mids of the hete fierie furnace.

CHAP. I

25 The prayer of Azarias. 26 The earnest of the King. 27 The flame deuoureth the Caldeans. 28 The Angel of the Lord was in the furnace. 29 The three children praise the Lord, and praye all creatures to be the same.

30 And they walked in the mids of the flame, praising God, & magnified the Lord.

31 Then Azarias stood vp, and prayed on this manner, and opening his mouth in the mids of the fire, said, 32 Blessed bee thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy Name is worthy to be praised and honoured for euermore.

33 For thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done vnto vs, and all thy workes are true, and thy wayes are right, & all thy iudgements certaine.

34 In all the things that thou hast brought vpon vs, and vpon Ierusalem the holy city of our fathers, thou hast executed true iudgements: for by right and equitie hast thou brought all these things vpon vs, because of our finnes.

35 For we haue sinned and done wickedly, departing fro thee: in all things haue we trespassed, 36 And not obeyed thy commandements, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded vs, that we might prosper.

37 Wherefore in all that thou hast brought vpon upon vs. & in euery thing that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement:

32 As in deliuering vs into the hands of our wicked enemies, and most hatefull traitors, & to an vnrigheteous king, and the most wicked in all the world.

33 And now we may not open our mouthes: we are become a shame & reproofe vnto thy seruants and to them that worship thee.

34 Yet for thy names sake, we beseech thee, giue vs not vp for euer, neither breake thy couenant,

35 Neither take away thy mercy from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, and for thy seruants Isaacs sake, and for thine holy Israel sake,

36 To whom thou hast spoken and promised, that thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heauē, & as the sand that is vpon the sea shore.

37 For we, O Lord, are become lesse then any nation, & be kept vnder this day in all the world, because of our finnes:

38 So that now wee haue neither prince nor prophet, nor gouernour, nor burnt offering, nor sacrifice, nor oblation, nor incense, nor place to offer the first fruits before thee, that wee might find mercie.

39 Neuertheless in a contrite heart, and an humble spirit, let vs be receiued.

40 As in the burnt offering of rams and bullocks, and as in ten thousand of fat lambs, so let our offering bee in thy sight this day, that it may please thee: for there is no confusion vnto them that put their trust in thee.

41 And now we folow thee with al our heart, and feare thee, and seeke thy face.

42 Put vs not to shame, but deale with vs after thy louing kindnes, & according to the multitude of thy mercies.

43 Deliuer vs also by thy miracles, and giue thy Name the glory, O Lord,

44 That all they which doe thy seruants euill, may be confounded: euen let them bee confounded by thy great force and power, and lett their strength be broken,

45 That they may know that thou only art the Lord God, and glorious ouer the whole world.

46 ¶ Now the kings seruants that had cast the in, ceased not to make the ouen hote with naphtha, and with pitch, and with tow, & with fagots, 47 So that the flame went out of the furnace fourty and nine cubits.

48 And it brake forth, and burnt those Chaldeans, that it found by the furnace.

49 But the Angel of the Lord went down into the furnace with them that were with Azarias, & smote the flame of the fire out of the furnace,

50 And made in the mids of the furnace like a moist hissing wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither grieved nor troubled them.

51 The these three (as out of one mouth) praised & glorified & blessed God in the furnace, saying,

52 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers, and praised, and exalted about all things for euer, and blessed be thy glorious and holy Name, and praised about all things, and magnified for euer.

53 Blessed be thou in the Temple of thine holy glory and praised about all things, and exalted for euer.

54 Blessed be thou that beholdest the depths, and liest vpon the Cherubims, and prayed about all things, and exalted for euer.

55 Blessed be thou in the glorious Throne of thy kingdome, and prayed about all things, and exalted for euer.

56 Blessed be thou in the firmament of heauen, and praised about all things, & glorified for euer.

57 Al ye works of the Lord, blese ye the Lord: praise him, & exalt him about all things for euer.

58 O heauens, blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

59 O Angels of the Lord, blese ye the Lord: praise him, & exalt him about all things for euer.

60 All yee waters that bee about the heauen, blese yee the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

65 All yee windes, blese yee the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

66 O fire and heate, blese yee the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

67 O winter and summer, blese ye the Lord: praise him, & exalt him about all things for euer.

68 O dewes and stormes of snowe, blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

69 O frost and cold, blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

70 O yce and snow, blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

71 O nights and daies, blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

72 O light and darkenesse blese ye the Lord: praise him, & exalt him about all things for euer.

73 O lightnings and clouds blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

74 Let the earth blese the Lord: let it prayse him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

75 O mountaines, and hils, blese ye the Lord: praise him, & exalt him about all things for euer.

76 All things that grow on the earth, blese ye the Lord: prayse him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

77 O fountaines, blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

78 O sea and floods, blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

79 O whales, and all that moue in the waters, blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

80 All ye foules of heauen, blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

81 Al ye beastes and cattel, blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

82 O children of men blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

83 Let Israel blese the Lord, praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

84 O Priests of the Lord, blese yee the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

85 O seruants of the Lord, blese ye the Lord: praise him, & exalt him about all things for euer.

86 O spirits and foules of the righteous, blese ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

87. O Saints

87 O Saines and humble of heart, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, and exalt him about all things for euer.

88 O Ananias, Azarias, & Misael, blesse ye the Lord: praise him, & exalt him about all things for euer: for he hath deliuered vs fro the hell, & saved vs from the hand of death, and deliuered vs out of the midst of the furnace, and burning flame: euen out of the middes of the fire hath he deliuered vs, 89 Confesse vnto the Lord, that he is gracious for his mercie endureth for euer.

90 All yee that worship the Lord, blesse the God of gods: praise him, and acknowledge him: for his mercie endureth world without end.

THE HISTORIE OF SVSANNA, which some ioyned to the end of Daniel, and make it the thirteenth Chapter.

100. 30. min.

¶ The two gouernours are taken with the loss of Susanna, 19 They take her alone in the garden. 20 They accuse her in wickedness, 21 She chuseth rather to dye God, though it be to the danger of her life. 22 She is accused. 23 Daniel doth deliuer her. 24 The gouernours are put to death.

Here dwelt a man in Babylo called Ioachim.

1 And he tooke a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helcias, a very faire woman, and one that feared God.

2 Her father and her mother also were godly people, and taught their daughter according to the Law of Moses.

3 Now Ioachim was a great rich man and had a faire garden ioyning to his house, and to him resorted the Iewes, because he was more honorable than all others.

4 The same yeere were appointed two of the ancients of the people to bee Iudges, such as the Lord speaketh of, that the iniquity came fro Babylon, and from the ancient Iudges, which seemed to rule the people.

5 These haunted Ioachims house, and all such as had any thing to doe in the Law, came thither vnto them.

6 Now when the people departed away at noone, Susanna went into her husbands garden, to walke.

7 And the two Elders saw her that shee went in dayly and walked, so that their lust was inflamed toward her.

8 Therefore they turned away their mind, and cast downe their eyes, that they should not see heauen, nor remember iust iudgements.

9 And albeit they were both wounded with her loue, yet durst not one shew another his griefe.

10 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to haue to doe with her.

11 Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her.

12 And the one said to the other, Let vs goe now home, for it is dinner time.

13 So they went their way, and departed one from another: yet they returned againe, and came into the same place, and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: then appointed they a time both together when they might find her alone.

14 Now when they had spied out a conuenient time, that shee went in as her maner was, with two maides onely, and thought to wash her selfe in the garden (for it was an hote season)

15 And there was no body there, save the two Elders that had hid themselves, and watched for her.

16 Shee said to her maides, Bring me oile & sope, and shut the garden-doores, that I may wash mee.

17 And they did as shee bade them, and shut the garden doores, and went out themselves at a backe doore, to set the thing that shee had commaunded them: but they saw not the Elders, because they were hid.

18 Now when the maides were gone forth, the two Elders rose vp and ranne vnto her, saying,

19 Behold, the garden doores are shut, that no man can see vs, and wee burne in loue with thee: therefore consent vnto vs, and lie with vs.

20 If thou wilt, we will beare witness against thee, that a yong man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maides from thee.

21 Then Susanna sighed, & said, I am in trouble on every side: for if I do this thing, it is death vnto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands.

22 It is better for me to fall into your hands, & not doe it, then to sinne in the sight of the Lord.

23 With that Susanna cried with a lowd voice, and the two Elders cried out against her.

24 Then ranne the one, and opened the garden doore.

25 So when the seruants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the backe doore, to see what was done vnto her.

26 But when the Elders had declared their matter, the seruants were greatly ashamed: for there was neuer such a report made of Susanna.

27 On the morrow after, came the people to Ioachim her husband, & the two Elders came also, full of mischieuous imagination against Susanna, to put her to death.

28 And said before the people, Send for Susanna the daughter of Helcias Ioachims wife, And immediatly they sent.

29 So shee came with her father and mother, her children and all her kinned.

30 Now Susanna was very tender, and faire of face.

31 And these wicked men commanded to vncouer her face (for shee was couered) that they might so be satisfied with her beautie.

32 Therefore they that were about her, and all they that knew her, wept.

33 Then the two Elders stood vp in the mids of the people, and laide their hands vpon her head, 34 Which wept & looked vp toward heauen: for her heart trusted in the Lord.

35 And the Elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, shee came in with two maides, whom shee sent away from her, & shut the garden doores.

36 Then a yong man which there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.

37 Then wee which stode in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickednesse, ranne vnto them, and we saw them as they were together.

38 But wee could not holde him: for hee was stronger

100. 30. min.
God.

stronger then we, and opened the doore, and leaped out.

40 Now when we had taken this woman, we asked her what yong man this was, but shee would not tel vs: of these things are we witnesses.

41 Then the assembly beleued them, as those that were the Elders and Iudges of the people: so they condemned her to death.

42 Then Sufanna cried out w a loud voice, and said, O euermlasting God, that knowest the secrets, and knowest all things afore they come to passe, 43 Thou knowest that they haue borne false witness against me, & behold, I must die, whereas I neuer did such things as these men haue maliciously inuented against me.

44 And the Lord heard her voyce.

45 ¶ Therefore when she was led to be put to death, the Lord raised vp the holy spirit of a yong child, whose name was Daniel,

46 Who cried with a loud voyce, I am cleane from the blood of this woman.

47 Then all the people turned them towarde him, and said, What meane these words that thou hast spoken?

48 Then Daniel stood in the middes of them, & said, Are ye such fooles, O Israelites, that without examination, or knowledge of the trueth, yee haue condemned a daughter of Israel?

49 Returne again to iudgement: for they haue borne false witness against her.

50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all haste, and the Elders saide vnto him, Come, sit downe among vs, and shew it vs, seeing God hath giuen thee the office of an Elder.

51 Then said Daniel vnto them, Put these two aside one farre from another, and I will examine them.

52 So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them and said vnto him, O thou that art olde in a wicked life, now thy finnes which thou hast committed aforetime, are cometo light.

53 For thou hast pronounced false iudgements, and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guiltie go free, albeit the Lord saith, * The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. * Exod. 23. 7.

54 Now then if thou hast seene her, tell me, vnder what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Vnder a lentiske tree.

55 Then said Daniel, Verily thou hast liyed against thine owne head: for loe, the Angel of God hath receiued the sentence of God, to cut thee in two. Or, iust.

56 So he put him aside, and commaunded to bring the other, and said vnto him, O thou seed of Chanaan, and not of Iuda, beauty hath deceiued thee, and lust hath subuerted thine heart.

57 Thus haue yee dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for feare companied with you: but the daughter of Iuda would not abide your wickednesse.

58 Now therefore tell mee, vnder what tree diddest thou take them companying together? Who answered, Vnder a Prime tree. Or, iustice tree.

59 Then said Daniel vnto him, Verily thou hast also lied against thine head: for the Angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, and so to destroy you both.

60 ¶ With that all the whole assembly cryed with a loud voice, and praised God which saueh them that trust in him.

61 And they rose against the two Elders, (for Daniel had conuict them of false witness by their owne mouth)

62 * And according to the Law of Moyses they dealt with them, as they dealt wickedly against their neighbour, and put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was saued the same day. * Deut. 19. 19. 20. 19. 1.

63 Therefore Helcias & his wife prayed God for their daughter Sufanna, with Ioachim her husband, & all the kindred, that there was no dishonesty found in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

65 And king Astyages was laid with his fathers, and Cyrus of Persia reigned in his stead.

THE HISTORIE OF BEL AND of the Dragon, which is the fourteenth Chapter of Daniel after the Latine.

Now when king Astyages was laid with his fathers, Cyrus the Persian receiued his kingdome.

2 And Daniel did eate at the Kings table, and was honoured about all his friends.

Now the Babylonians had an idole, called Bel, and there were spent vpon him euery day twelue great measures of fine floure, and fourty sheepe, and fixe great pots of wine.

4 And the king worshipped it, and went daily to honour it: but Daniel worshipped his owne God. And the king said vnto him, Why doest not thou worship Bel?

5 Who answered, and said, Because I may not worship idoles made with handes, but the liuing God, which hath created the heauen & the earth, and hath power vpon all flesh.

6 Then said the king vnto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a liuing God? seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh euery day?

7 Then Daniel smiled & said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brasie without, and did neuer eat any thing.

8 So the king was wroth, and called for his Priests and said vnto them, If ye tell me not, who this is that eateth vp these expenses, ye shall die.

9 But if yee can certifie mee that Beleeateth them, then Daniel shall die: for hee hath spoken blasphemie against Bel. And Daniel said vnto the king, Let it be according to thy word.

10 (Now the Priestes of Bel were threescore and ten beside their wiues and children:) and the king went with Daniel into the Temple of Bel.

11 So Bel's Priestes said, Behold, we wil go out, and set thou the meate there, O King, and let the wine be filled: then shut the doore fast, and seale it with thine owne signet:

12 And to morow when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten vp all, we wil suffer death, or els Daniel that hath lied vpon vs.

13 Now they thought themselves sure inough:

Z z for

[Called Archa, whom every one continued to worship more than any god. In all the land there were many such as this, which will make them true.

for vnder the table they had made a priuie entrance, and there went they in euer, and tooke away the things.

14 So when they were gone forth, the king set meates before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his seruants to bring ashes, and these they strowed throughout all the Temple, in the presence of the king alone: then went they out and shut the doore, and sealed it with the kings signet, & so departed.

15 Now in the night came the Priestes, with their wiues and children, (as they were wont to doe) and did eat and drinke vp all.

16 In the morning betimes the king arose, and Daniel with him.

17 And the king said, Daniel, art thou whole? Who answered, Yea, O king, they be whole.

18 And assoone as he had opened the doore, the king looked vpon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit.

19 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not goe in, and saide, Behold now the pavement, and marke wel whose footsteps are these.

20 And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, & children: therefore the king was angry, 21 And tooke the Priestes, with their wiues, and children, and they shewed him the priuie doores, where they came in, and consumed such things as were vpon the table.

22 Therefore the king slew them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, who destroyed him and his temple.

23 Moreover in that same place there was a great Dragon, which the Babylonians worshipped.

24 And the king said vnto Daniel, Saiest thou, that this is of brasse also? For he liueth and eateth and drinketh, so that thou canst not say, that he is no liuing god: therefore worship him.

25 Then said Daniel vnto the king, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is the liuing God.

26 But giue me leaue, O king, and I will slay this dragon without sword or staffe. And the king said, I giue thee leaue.

27 Then Daniel tooke pitch, and fat, & haire, and did see the them together, and made lumpes thereof: this he put in the Dragons mouth, and so the Dragon burst in sunder. And Daniel said, Behold, whom ye worship.

28 When the Babylonians heard it, they were wonderfull wroth, and gathered them together against the king, saying, The king is become a Iew: for he hath destroyed Bel, and hath slaine the Dragon, and put the Priests to death.

29 So they came to the king, and said, Deliuer vs Daniel, or else we will destroy thee, and thine house.

30 Now when the king saw that they preassed fore vpon him, and that necessitie constrained him, he deliuered Daniel vnto them:

31 Who cast him into the Lions denne, where he was sixe dayes.

32 In the denne there were seuen Lions, and they had giuen them euery day two bodies and two sheepe, which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they mighe deuoure Daniel.

33 ¶ Now there was in Iurie a Prophet called Abbacuc, which had made pottage, and broken bread into a bowle, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers.

34 But the Angel of the Lord said vnto Abbacuc, Goe, cary the meates that thou hast into Babylon vnto Daniel, which is in the Lions denne.

35 And Abbacuc said, Lord, I neuer saw Babylon, neither doe I know where the denne is.

36 Then the Angel tooke him by the crowne of the head, & bare him by the haire of the head, and through an mighty winde set him in Babylon vpon the denne.

37 And Abbacuc cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner that God hath sent thee.

38 Then said Daniel, O God, thou hast thought vpon me, and thou neuer failest them that seeke thee and loue thee.

39 So Daniel arose, and did eat, and the Angel of the Lord set Abbacuc in his owne place againe immediatly.

40 Vpon the seuenth day, the king went to bewaile Daniel: and when he came to the denne, he looked in, and beheld, Daniel sate in the midst of the Lions.

41 Then cried the king with a loude voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee.

42 And he drew him out of the den, and cast them that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

THE FIRST BOOKE

of the Maccabees.

CHAP. I.

8 The death of Alexander the king of Macedonia. 11 Antiochus taketh the kingdome. 12 Many of the children of Israel make covenants with the Gentiles. 13 Antiochus subdueth Egypt and Ierusalem vnto his dominion. 14 Antiochus setteth up idols.

After that Alexander the Macedonian, the sonne of Philip went forth of the land of Chetijm, and slew Darius king of the Persians and Medes, and reigned for him, as he had before in Grecia,

2 He tooke great warres in hand, and wanne strong holds, and slew the kings of the earth.

3 So went he thorow to the ends of the world, and tooke spoyle of many nations, in so much that the world stood in awe of him: therefore his heart was puffed vp and was haucie.

4 Now when hee had gathered a mightie strong hoste,

5 And had reigned ouer regions, nations, and kingdomes, they became tributaries to him.

6 After these things he fell sicke, and knew that he should die.

7 Then hee called for the chiefe of his seruants, which had bene brought vp with him of children, and parted his kingdome among them, while he was yet aliue.

8 So Alexander had reigned twelue yeeres when he died.

9 And his seruants reigned euery one in his roume.

10 And they all caused themselves to be crowned ned after his death, and so did their children after them many yeeres, and much wickednesse increased in the world.

11 For out of these came the wicked roote, even Antiochus || Epiphanes, the sonne of king Antiochus, which had bene an hostage at Rome, and hee reigned in the hundreth and seven and thirtieth yeere of the kingdome of the Greekes.

12 In those daies went there out of Israel wicked men, which entised many, saying, Let vs goe, and make a covenant with the heathen, that are round about vs: for since we departed from them, we haue had much sorow.

13 So this deuise pleased them well.

14 And certaine of the people were ready, and went to the king, which gaue them licence to do after the ordinances of the heathen.

15 Then set they vp a place of exercise at Ierusalem, according to the fashions of the heathen,

16 And made themselves ^a vncircumcised, & forsooke the holy covenant & ioyned themselves to the heathen, and were sold to doe mischiefs.

17 So when Antiochus kingdome was set in order, he went about to reigne ouer Egypt, that he might haue the dominion of two Realmes.

18 Therefore hee entred into Egypt with a mightie company, with chariots, and Elephants, and with horsemen, and with a great naue, 19 And moued warre against Ptolemeus king of Egypt: but Ptolemeus was afraid of him, and fled, and many were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wan many strong cities in the land of Egypt, and tooke away the spoyles of the land of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned againe in the hundreth fortie and three yeere,

22 And went vp toward Israel and Ierusalem with a mightie people,

23 And entred proudly into the Sanctuary, & tooke away the golden altar, & the candlestick for the light, & all the instruments thereof, & the table of the shewbread, & the powring vessels, & the bowles, and the golden basins, and the vaille, and the crownes, and the golden apparell, which was before the Temple, and brake all in pieces.

24 He tooke also the siluer and gold, and the precious iewels, and he tooke the secret treasures that he found, and when he had taken away all, he departed into his owne land,

25 After hee had murdered many men, and spoken very proudly.

26 Therefore there was a great lamentation in euery place of Israel.

27 For the Princes and the Elders mourned: the young women and the yong men were made feeble, & the beauty of the women was changed.

28 Euery bridegroom tooke him to mourning, and shee that sate in the marriage chamber, was in heauinesse.

29 The land also was moued for the inhabitants thereof: for all the house of Iacob was couered with confusion.

30 After two yeeres the king sent his chiefe taxe master into the cities of Iuda, which came to Ierusalem with a great multitude,

31 Who spake peaceable words vnto them in deceit, and they gaue credite vnto him.

32 Then hee tell suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it with a great plague, and destroyed much people of Israel.

33 And when hee had spoyled the citie, he set fire on it, casting downe the houses thereof, and walles thereof on euery side.

34 The women and their children tooke they captiue, and led away the cattell.

35 Then fortified they the citie of Dauid with a great and thicke wal, and with mighty towers, and made it a strong hold for them.

36 Moreouer they set wicked people there, and vngodly persons, & fortified themselves therein.

37 And they stored it with weapons & victuals, and gathered the spoile of Ierusalem, and laid it vp there.

38 Thus became they a fore snare and were in ambushment for the Sanctuary, and were wicked enemies euermore vnto Israel.

39 For they shed innocent blood on euery side of the Sanctuary, and defiled the Sanctuary,

40 Inasmuch that y^e citizens of Ierusalem fled away because of them, & it became an habitation of strangers, being desolate of them whom shee had borne: for her owne children did leaue her.

41 Her Sanctuary was left waste as a wilderness: her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproch, & her honor brought to nought.

42 As her glory had bene great, so was her dishonour, and her excellencie was turned into sorow.

43 Also the king wrote vnto all his kingdom, that all the people should be as one, and that euery man should leaue his lawes.

44 And all the heathen agreed to the commandement of the king.

45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented to his religion, offering vnto idoles, and defiling the Sabbath.

46 So the king sent letters by the messengers vnto Ierusalem, & to the cities of Iuda, that they should follow the strange lawes of the countrey,

47 And y^e they should forbid the burnt offrings, and sacrifices, and the offerings in the Sanctuary,

48 And that they should defile the Sabbaths and the feasts,

49 And pollute the Sanctuary & the holy men, 50 And to set vp altars, and groues, and chapels of idoles, and offer vp swines flesh, and vncleane beastes,

51 And that they should leaue their children vncircumcised, and defile their soules with vncleannesse, & pollute themselves, that they might forget the Law, and change all the ordinances,

52 And that whosoever would not do according to the commandement of the king, should suffer death.

53 In like maner wrote he throughout al his kingdomes, and set ouerseers ouer all the people, for to compell them to doe these things.

54 And hee commanded the cities of Iuda to doe sacrifice, city by city.

55 Then went many of the people vnto them by heapes, euery one that forsooke the Law, and so they committed euill in the land.

56 And they droue y^e Israelites into secret places, euery where soeuer they could flee for succour.

57 The fifteenth day of Casleu in the hundreth and fise and fourtieth yeere, they set vp the abomination of desolation vpon the altar, and they builded altars throughout the cities of Iuda on euery side.

58 And before the doores of the houses, and in the streetes they burnt incense.

59 And the bookes of the Lawe which they found, they burnt in the fire, and cut in pieces.

60 Whosoever had a booke of the testament found by him, or whosoever consented vnto the Law, the Kings commandement was, that they should put him to death by their authoritie.

61 And they executed these things euery moneth vpon the people of Israel that were found in the cities.

62 And in the fise and twentieth day of the moneth they did sacrifice vpon the altar, which was in the stead of the altar of sacrifices.

63 And according to the commaundement, they put certain women to death, which had caused their children to be circumcised.

64 And they hanged vp the children at their neckes, and they spoiled their houses, and slewe the circumcisers of them.

65 Yet were there many in Israel, which were of courage, and determined in themselues, that they would not eat vncleanethings, 66 But chose rather to suffer death, then to be defiled with those meates, so because they would not breake the holy covenant, they were put to death.

67 And this || tyrannie was very sore vpon the people of Israel.

CHAP. II.

1 The mourning of Mattathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy cite. 19 They refuse to doe sacrifice vnto idoles. 24 The zeale of Mattathias for the Law of God. 33 They are slaine and will not fight againe because of the Sabbath day. 49 Mattathias dying, commaundeth his sonnes to stick by the word of God, after the example of the fathers.

In those dayes stode vp Mattathias the Priest, the sonne of Ioannes, the sonne of Simeon, of the sons of Ioarib of Ierusalem, and dwelt in Modin.

2 And he had fise sons, Ionan called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thafsi,

4 Iudas which was called Maccabeus,

5 Eleazar called || Abaron, and Ionathan, whose name was Apphus.

6 Now hee saw the blasphemies, which were committed in Iuda and Ierusalem,

7 And he said, Woe is me: wherefore was I borne, to see this destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy cite, & thus to sit stil? it is deliuered into the hands of the enemies,

8 And the sanctuary is in || hands of strangers: her Temple is as a man that hath no renouwne.

9 Her glorious vessels are caried away into captiuitie: her infants are slaine in the streetes, and her yong men are fallen by the sword of the enemies.

10 What people is it, that hath not some possession in her kingdom, or hath not gotten of her spoiles?

11 All her glory is taken away: of a free woman, she is become an handmaid.

12 Behold, our Sanctuary and our beauty, and honour is desolate, & the Gentiles haue defiled it.

13 What helpeth it vs then to liue any longer?

14 And Mattathias rent his clothes, hee, and his sonnes, and put sackecloth vpon them, and mourned very sore.

15 ¶ Then came men from the king to the cite of Modin to compell them to forsake God, and to sacrifice.

16 So many of the Israelites consented vnto them: but Mattathias and his sonnes assembled together,

17 Then spake the Commissioners of the king, and said vnto Mattathias, Thou art the chiefe and an honourable man, and great in the cite, and hast many children and brethren.

18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfill the kings commandement, as all the heathen haue done, and also the men of Iuda, and such as remaine at Ierusalem: so shalt thou and thy family be in the kings fauor, and thou and thy children shalbe enriched with siluer and gold, and with many rewards.

19 Then Mattathias answered and said with a loud voice, Though al nations that are vnder the kings dominion obey him, and fall away euery man from the religion of their fathers, and consent to his commandements, 20 Yet wil I and my sonnes, and my brethren, walke in the couenant of our fathers.

21 God be mercifull vnto vs, that we forsake not the Law and the ordinances.

22 We wil not hearken vnto the kings words to transgresse our religion, neither on the right side, nor on the left.

23 And when hee had left off speaking these words, there came one of the Iewes, in the sight of all to sacrifice vpon the altar which was at Modin, according to the kings commandement.

24 Now when Mattathias saw it, hee was so inflamed with zeale, that his reines shooke, and his wrath was kindled according to || ordinance of the Law: therefore he ran vnto him, and killed him by the altar:

25 And at the same time hee slewe the kings commissioner that compelled him to do sacrifice and destroyed the altar.

26 Thus bare hee a zeale to the Law of God, doing, as Phinees did vnto Zambri the sonne of Salom.

27 ¶ Then cried Mattathias with a loud voice in the cite, saying, Whosoever is zealous of the Law, and wil stand by the couenant, let him come foorth after me.

28 So hee and his sonnes fled into the mountaines, and left all that they had in the cite.

29 Then many that || sought after iustice, and iudgement,

30 Went downe into the wildernesse to dwell there, both they, and their children, and their wiues, and their cattell: for the afflictions increased sore vpon them.

31 ¶ Now when it was tolde vnto the kings seruants, and to the garisons, which were in Ierusalem in the cite of Dauid, that men had broken the kings commandement, and were gone downe into the secret places in the wildernesse,

32 Then many pursued after them: & hauing ouertaken them, they camped against them, & set the battell in aray against them on || Sabbath day,

33 And said vnto them, Let this now be sufficient: come forth and do according to the commandement of the king, and ye shall liue.

34 But they answered, We wil not goe forth, neither wil we doe the kings commandement to defile the Sabbath day.

35 Then they gaue them the battell.

36 But the other answered them nothing, neither cast any one stone at them, or stopped the priuie places,

37 But said, We wil die all in our innocencie: the heauen and earth shall testifie for vs, that yee destroy vs wrongfully.

38 Thus

38 Thus they gave them the battell vpon the Sabbath, and slew both men and cattell, their wiues and their children to the number of a thousand people.

39 ¶ When Mattathias and his friends vnderstood this, they mourned for them greatly,

40 And said one to another, If we al do as our brethren haue done, and fight not against the heathen for our liues, and for our lawes, then shall they incontinently destroy vs out of the earth.

41 Therefore they concluded at the same time, saying, Whosoever shall come to make battell with vs vpon the Sabbath day, we will fight against him, that we die not al, as our brethren that were murdered in the secret places.

42 Then came vnto them the assembly of the Asideans, which were of the strongest men of Israel, all such as were well minded toward the Law.

43 And all they that were fled for persecution, ioyned themselves vnto them, and were an helpe vnto them.

44 So they gathered a power, and smote the wicked men in their wrath, and the vngodly in their anger: but the rest fledde vnto the heathen, and escaped.

45 Then Mattathias and his friendes went about, and destroyed the altars, 46 And circumcised the children by force that were vncircumcised, as many as they found within the coasts of Israel.

47 And they pursued after the proud men, and this act prospered in their hands.

48 So they reconverted the Law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of kings, and gaue not place to the wicked.

49 Now when the time drew neere that Mattathias should die, he said vnto his sonnes, Now is pride and persecution increased, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation.

50 Now therefore my sonnes, be ye zealous of the Law, and giue your liues for the couenant of our fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what acts our fathers did in their time: so shall ye receiue great honour and an euermlasting name.

52 ¶ Was not Abraham found faithfull in temptation, and it was imputed vnto him for righteousness?

53 ¶ Ioseph in the time of his trouble kept the commandment, & was made the Lord of Egypt.

54 ¶ Phinees our father, because hee was zealous and seruent, obtained the couenant of the euermlasting Priesthood.

55 ¶ Iesus for fulfilling the word, was made the gouernour of Israel.

56 ¶ Caleb because he bare witness before the Congregation, receiued the heritage of the land.

57 ¶ Dauid because of his mercy obtained the throne of the kingdome for euermore.

58 ¶ Elias, because he was zealous and seruent in the Law, was taken vp euen vnto heauen.

59 ¶ Ananias, Azarias and Misael by their faith were deliuered out of the flame.

60 ¶ Daniel because of his innocency, was deliuered from the mouth of the Lions.

61 And thus yet may consider throughout all ages, that whosoever put their trust in him, shall not want strength.

62 ¶ Are not ye then the wordes of a sinfull man: for his glory is but dung and wormes.

63 To day is he set vp, and to morow hee shall * not be found: for he is turned into his dust, and his people perisheth.

64 Wherefore my sonnes, take good hearts and shewe your selues men for the Law: for by it shall you obtaine glory.

65 And behold, I know that your brother Simon is a man of counsell: giue care vnto him alway: he shall be a father vnto you.

66 And Iudas Maccabeus hath bin mighty & strong, euen from his youth vp: let him be your captaine, and fight you the battell for the people.

67 Thus shall ye bring vnto you all those that obserue the Law, and shall auenge the iniuries of your people.

68 Recompense fully the heathen, and giue your selues to the commandment of the Law.

69 So he blessed them, and was laid with his fathers,

70 And died in the hundreth, fourtie and sixe yeere, and his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

CHAP. III.

¶ Iudas is made ruler over the Iewes. 11 Hee killeth Apollonius and Seron the princes of Syria. 44 The confidence of Iudas toward God. 55 Iudas determineth to fight against Lysias, whom Antiochus had made captaine over his hostes.

¶ Then Iudas his sonne, called Maccabeus, rose vp in his place.

¶ And all his brethren helped him, and all they that held with his father, and fought with courage the battell of Israel.

¶ So he gaue his people great honour: he put on a breastplate as a gyant, and armed himselfe, and set the battell in aray, and defended the campe with the sword.

¶ In his acts he was like a Lion, and as a Lions whelp roaring after the pray.

¶ For he pursued the wicked, & sought them out, and burnt vp those that vexed his people,

¶ So that the wicked fled for feare of him, and all the workers of iniquitie were put to trouble: and saluation prospered in his hand.

¶ And he grieved diuers kings, but Iacob reioiced by his actes, and his memoriall is blessed for euer.

¶ He went also thorow the cities of Iuda, and destroyed the wicked out of them, and turned away the wrath from Israel.

¶ So he was renowned vnto the ends of the earth, and he assembled together those that were ready to perish.

¶ But Apollonius gathered the Gentils, & a great host out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

¶ Which when Iudas perceiued, hee went forth to meete him, and smote him, and slew him, so that many fell downe slaine, and the rest fled.

¶ So Iudas tooke their spoyles, and tooke also Apollonius sword, and fought with it all his life long.

¶ Now when Seron a prince of the army of Syria, heard that Iudas had gathered vnto him the Congregation, and Church of the faithfull, and went forth to the warre,

¶ He said, I will get me a name, and will bee glorious in the realme: for I will goe fight with Iudas and them that are with him, which haue despised the Kings commandment.

¶ So he made him ready to go vp, & there went with him a mighty hoste of the vagodly to help him, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when he came neere to the going vp of Bethhoron, Iudas went forth to meete him with a small company.

17 But when they saw the army comming against them, they said to Iudas, How are we able, being so few, to fight against so great a multitude and so strong, seeing we be so weary, and have fasted all this day?

18 Then said Iudas, It is an easie thing for many to be smut vp in the bloods of few, and there is no difference before the God of heaven, to deliuer by a great multitude or by a small company.

19 For the victory of the battel standeth not in the multitude of the hoste, but the strength commeth from heaven.

20 They come against vs with a cruel & proud multitude to destroy vs, and our wives, and our children to rob vs.

21 But we doe fight for our liues, and for our Lawes.

22 And God himselfe will destroy them before our face: therefore be not ye afraid of them.

23 And when he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly vpon them: so was Sison and his hoste destroyed before him.

24 And they pursued them from the going down of Bethhoron vnto the plaine: where there were slaine eight hundred men of them, and the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

25 Then the feare and terrour of Iudas and his brethren fell vpon the nations round about.

26 So that his fame came vnto the king: for all the Gentiles could tell of the wares of Iudas.

27 But when king Antiochus heard these ridings, hee was angry in his mind: wherefore hee sent forth, & gathered all the power of his realme, a very strong army.

28 And opened his treasure, and gaue his hoste mytered wages in hand, commaunding them to be ready for a yeele for all occasions.

29 Neuerthelesse, when he saw that the money of his treasures failed, and that the tributs in the countrey were small, because of the distemper, and plagies that hee had brought vpon the land, in taking away the lawes which had bene of old time,

30 Hee feared least he should not haue now at the second time, as at the first, for the charges and gifts that he had giuen with a liberal hand afore:
for in liberality hee hatte passed the other kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore he was heavy in his mind, and thought to goe into Persia, for to take tributes of the countreys, and to gather much money.

32 So he left Lysias a nobleman & of the kings blood to ouersee the kings businesse, from the ri-uer of Euphrates vnto the borders of Egypt.

33 And to bring vp his sonne Antiochus till he came againe.

34 Moreover, hee gaue him halfe of his hoste and elephants, and gaue him the charge of all things that he would haue done.

35 And concerning those which dwelt in Iu-da and Ierusalem, that he should send an army against them, to destroy and root out the power of Israel and the remnant of Ierusalem: and to pur out their memoriall fr. in that place.

36 And to let strangers for to inhabite in their quarters, and part their land among them.

37 And the king tooke the halfe of the hoste that remained, and departed from Antiochus his royall city, in the yeele an hundredth fourth and seuen, and passed the riuer Euphrates, and went thorow the hie countreys.

38 Then Lysias chose Ptolemeus the sonne of Doriminius, and Nicanor, and Gorgias mighty men, and the kings friends,

39 And sent with them fourtie thousand footmen, and seuen thousand horsemen, to go into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it, as the king commanded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came and pitched by Emmaus in the plaine
countrey.

41 Now when the marchants of the countrey heard the rumour of them, they tooke very much siluer and golde, and seruants, and came into the cappes, to buy the children of Israel for slauery, and the strength of Syria and of strange nations ioyned with them.

42 Now when Iudas and his brethren saw that trouble increased, and that the hoste drewe neere vnto their borders, considering the kings words, whereby he had commaunded to destroy the people, and utterly abolish them,

43 They sayd one to another, Let vs redresse the decay of our people, and let vs fight for our people, and for our Sanctuary.

44 Then the Congregation were soon ready gathered to fight, and to pray, and to desire mercy and compassion.

45 As for Ierusalem, it was not inhabited, but was as a wilderness. There went none that was borne in it, in or out at it, and the Sanctuary was troden downe, & the strangers kept the fortresse, and it was the habitation of the heathen: and the nurth of Iacob was taken away: the pipe and the harpe ceased.

46 So they gathered themselves together, and came to Maspha before Ierusalem: for in Mas-pha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Israel.

47 And they fasted that day, and put sacke cloth vpon them, and cast ashes vpon their heads, and rent their clothes.

48 And opened the booke of the law, wherein the heathen sought to paint the likeness of their idoles,

49 And brought the Priests garments, & the first fruits, and the tithes, and set there the Naza-rites, which accomplished their dayes.

50 And they cryed with a loud voice toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these? and whither shal we carry them away?

51 For thy Sanctuary is troden downe and Jerusalem, and thy Priests are in heauines, and brought downe.

52 And behold, the heathen are come against vs, to destroy vs: thou knowest what things they imagine against vs.

53 How can we stand before them, except thou helpe vs?

54 Then they blew the trumpets, and cryed with a loud voice.

55 And after this Iudas ordeined captaines ou-er the people, euen captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreds, and captaines ouer fifties, and captaines ouer tens.

56 And they commanded them that builded houses, or married wives, or planted vineyards, or were tearfull that they should returne every one to his owne house, according to the Law.

57 So the hoste remooued, and pitched vpon the South side of Emmaus.

58 And Iudas said, Arme your selues, and be valiant men, and be ready against the morning to fight with these nations, which are gathered together against vs, to destroy vs & our Sanctuary.

59 For it is better for vs to die in battell, then to see the calamities of our people and of our Sanctuary.

60 Neuerthelſſe as the will of God is in heauen, ſo be it.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Iudas goeth againſt Gorgias which ſith in waite. 24 Hee putteth Gorgias and his hoſte to flight. 28 Lyſias iuadeth Iudas. 29 Thus Iudas driueth him out. 43 Iudas puriſheth the Temple and dedicateth the altar.

Then tooke Gorgias five thouſand ſhoote men, and a thouſand of the beſt horſemen, and departed out of the campe by night.

2 To inuade the campe of the Iewes, and to ſlay them ſuddenly: and the men of the ſortreſſe were his guides.

3 Now when Iudas heard it, he remooued, and they that were valiant men to ſmite the Kings armie which was at Emmaus,

4 Whiles yet the armie was diſperſed from the campe.

5 In the meane ſeaſon came Gorgias by night into Iudas campe: and when hee found no man there, he fought them in the mountaines: for ſaid he, They flee from vs.

6 But aſſoone as it was day, Iudas ſhewed him ſelfe in the field with three thouſand men, which had neither harneſſe nor ſwords to their minds.

7 And they ſaw that the armies of the heathen were ſtrong and well armed, and their horſemen about them, & that theſe were expert men of war.

8 Then ſaid Iudas to the men that were with him, Feare ye not their multitude, neither be afraid of their aſſault.

9 Remember, how our fathers were deliuered in the red ſea, when Pharao purſued them with an armie.

10 Therefore now let vs cry vnto heauen, and the Lord will haue mercy vpon vs, and remember the covenant of our fathers, and will deſtroy this hoſte before our face this day:

11 So ſhall all the heathen know, that there is one which deliuereth and ſaueth Iſrael.

12 Then the ſtrangers liſt vp their eyes, and ſaw them comming againſt them,

13 And they went out of their tents into the battell, and they that were with Iudas, blew the trumpets.

14 So they ioyned together, and the heathen were diſcomfited and fled by the plaine.

15 But the hindmoſt of them fell by the ſword, and they purſued them vnto || Gazeron, and into the plaines of Idumea, and of Azotus, and of Iamnia, ſo that there were ſlaine of them about three thouſand men.

16 So Iudas turned againe with his hoſt from purſuing them.

17 And ſaid vnto the people, Be not greedy of the ſpoiles: for there is a battell before vs.

18 And Gorgias and the armie is hereby vs in the mountaine: but ſtand ye now faſt againſt your enemies, and ouercome them: then may yee ſafely take the ſpoiles.

19 As Iudas was ſpeaking theſe words, there appeared one part which looked from the mountaines.

20 But when Gorgias ſaw that his were fled, and that Iudas ſouldiers burnt the tents: (for the ſmoke that was ſcene, declared what was done)

21 When they ſaw theſe things, they were fore afraid, & when they ſaw alſo that Iudas & his hoſt were in the field ready to ſet themſelves in aray, 22 They fled every one into the land of ſtrangers.

23 So Iudas turned againe to ſpoile the tents, where he gate much gold and ſiluer, and precious ſtones, and purple of the ſea, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, and ſung Pſalmes, and praised toward the heauen: for hee is gracious, and his mercy endureth for euer.

25 And ſo Iſrael had a great victory in y day.

26 ¶ Now all the ſtrangers that eſcaped, came, and told Lyſias all the things that were done.

27 Who when he heard theſe things, was fore afraid, and diſcouraged, becauſe ſuch things came not vpon Iſrael as he would, neither ſuch things as the King had commanded him came to paſſe.

28 Therefore the next yere following gathered Lyſias threeſcore thouſand choſen ſhoote men, and five thouſand horſemen to fight againſt Ieruſalem.

29 So they came into || Idumea, and pitched their tents at || Beth-ſura, where Iudas came againſt them with ten thouſand men.

30 And when he ſaw y mighty army, he prayed, and ſaid, Bleſſed be thou, O Saviour of Iſrael, which diddeſt deſtroy the aſſault of the mightie man by the hand of thy ſeruant David, & gaueſt the hoſte of the ſtrangers into the hand of Ionathan, the ſonne of Saul, and of his armour bearer:

31 Shut vp this armie in the hand of thy people of Iſrael, and let them bee confounded with their power, and with their horſemen.

32 Make them afraid, and conſume their boldneſſe and ſtrength, that they may be aſtoniſhed at their deſtruction.

33 Caſt them downe by the ſword of them that loue thee: then ſhall all they that know thy Name, praife thee with ſongs.

34 So they ioyned together, and there were ſlaine of Lyſias hoſte, five thouſand men, and they fell before them.

35 Then Lyſias, ſeeing his army put to flight, and the manlineſſe of Iudas ſouldiers, & that they were ready, either to liue or die valiantly, he went into Antiochia and gathered ſtrangers, and when hee had furniſhed his armie, hee thought againe (being prepared) to come againſt Iudea.

36 Then ſaid Iudas and his brethren, Behold, our enemies are diſcomfited: let vs now go vp to clenſe, and to repaire the Sanctuary.

37 So all the hoſte gathered them together, and went vp into the mountaine of Sion.

38 Now when they ſaw the Sanctuary layde waſte, and the altar deſiled, and the doores burnt vp, and the ſhrubs growing in the courts, as in a foreſt, or as on one of the mountaines, and that the Priests chambers were broken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and caſt aſhes vpon their heads,

40 And fell downe to the ground on their faces, and blew an alarme with the trumpets, and cried toward heauen.

41 Then Iudas commanded certaine of the men to fight againſt thoſe which were in the caſtle, till he had clenſed the Sanctuary.

42 So hee choſe Priests that were vndefiled, ſuch as delighted in the Law, 43 And they cleansed the Sanctuary, and bare out the defiled stones into an vnclene place.

44 And consulted what to doe with the altar of burnt offerings, which was polluted.

45 So they thought it was best to destroy it, lest it should be a reproch vnto them, because the heathen had defiled it: therefore they destroyed the altar.

46 And laid vp the stones vpon the mountain of the Temple in a conuenient place, till there should come a Prophet, to shewe what should be done with them.

47 So they tooke whole stones according to the Law, and builded a new altar according to the former,

48 And made vp the Sanctuary, and the things that were within the Temple, and the courts, and all things.

49 They made also new holy vessels, & brought into the Temple the candlesticke, and the altar of burnt offerings, and of incense, and the table.

50 And they burnt incense vpon the altar, and lighted the lampes which were vpon the candlesticke, that they might burne in the Temple.

51 They set also the shewbread vpon the Table, and hanged vp the vases, and finished all the workes that they had begun to make.

52 And vpon the fife and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, which is called the moneth of Challeu, in the hundredth and eight and fourtieth yeere they rose vp betimes in the morning.

53 And offered sacrifice according to the Law, vpon the new altar of burnt offerings, that they had made.

54 According to the time, and according to the day, that the heathen had defiled it, in the same day was it made new with songs, and harps, and lutes and tymbals.

55 And all the people fell vpon their faces, worshipping and praising toward the heauen him that had giuen them good successe.

56 So they kept the dedication of the altar eight dayes, offering burnt offerings with gladnes, and offered sacrifices of deliuerance and praise.

57 And deckt the forefront of the Temple with crownes of golde and shields, and dedicated the gates and chambers, and hanged doores vpon them.

58 Thus there was very great gladnes among the people, and the reproch of the heathen was put away.

59 So Iudas and his brethren with the whole congregation of Israel, ordeined that the dayes of dedication of the altar should be kept in their season from yeere to yeere, by the space of eight dayes, from the fife and twentieth day of the moneth Challeu, with mirth and gladnesse.

60 And at the same time builded they vp mount Sion with high waller, and strong towers round about, lest the Gentiles should come and treade it downe, as they had done afore.

61 Therefore they set a garrison there to keepe it, and fortified Beth-sura to keepe it, that the people might haue a defence against Idumea.

CHAP. V.

3 Iudas vanquished the heathen that were about to destroy Israel, and a helper of his brethren Simon and Jonathan. 10. He overthrew the citie of Ephron, because they denied him passing thorow it.

Now when the nations round about heard, that the altar was builded, and the Sanctuary renewed as afore, they were sore grieved.

2 Therefore they thought to destroy the generation of Iacob that was among them, and began to slay and destroy the people.

3 Then Iudas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at Arrabathene, because they besieged the Israelites, and he smote them with a great plague, and drouethem to straits, and tooke their spoiles.

4 Hee thought also vpon the malice of the children of Beau, which had been a share and an hindrance vnto the people, when they lay in wait for them in the hie way.

5 Wherefore he shut them vp in towers, and besieged them, and destroyed them utterly, and burnt their towers with fire, with all that were in them.

6 Afterward went hee against the children of Ammon, where hee found a mightie power, and a great multitude with Timotheus their capitaine.

7 So he had many battels with them, but they were destroyed before him, and so hee discomfited them.

8 And tooke Gazer with the townes thereof, and so turned againe into Iudea.

9 ¶ Then the heathen that were in Galaad, gathered them together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castle of Datheman.

10 And sent letters to Iudas, and to his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs, to destroy vs,

11 And they make them ready for to come, and to take the fortress, whereunto we are fled, and Timotheus is capitaine of their hoste.

12 Come now therefore, and deliuer vs out of their hands: for many of vs are slaine.

13 And all our brethren that were at Tubin, are slaine, and they haue taken away their wines, and their children, and their goods, and destroyed there almost a thousand men.

14 While these letters were yet a reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee, with their clothes rent, which tolde the same tidings.

15 And said, that they of Ptolemais, and of Tyrus, and of Sidon, and of all Galilee of the Gentiles were gathered against them to destroy them.

16 When Iudas, and the people heard these words, a great congregation came together, to consult what they might doe for their brethren that were in trouble, and whom they besieged.

17 Then said Iudas to Simon his brother, Chuse thee out men, and goe and deliuer thy brethren in Galilee, and I and my brother Jonathan will goe into the countrey of Galaad.

18 ¶ So hee left Iosephus the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias to bee captaines of the people, and to keepe the remnant of the hoste in Iudea.

19 And commanded them, saying, Take the oversight of this people, and make no warre against the heathen, vntill we come againe.

20 And vnto Simon were given three thousand men to goe into Galilee, and to Iudas eight thousand men for the countrey of Galaad.

21 Then went Simon into Galilee, and gaue diuers battels to the heathen, and the heathen were discomfited by him.

22 And he pursued them vnto the gates of Ptolemais: & there were slaine of the heathen almost three thousand men: so hee took their spoiles.

23 Thus

23 Thus they rescued them that were in Galilee and in Arbattis, with their wives and their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Iudea with great ioy.

24 ¶ Iudas Maccabeus also, and his brother Ionathan went ouer Iorden, and trauielled three dayes iourney in the wilderness,

25 Where they met with the Nabathites, who receiued them louingly, and tolde them euery thing that was done vnto their brethren in the countrey of Galaad,

26 And how that many of them were besieged in Boforra, & Bofor, in Alemis, Chasbon, Maged and Carnaim (all these cities are strong & great)

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaad, & to morrow they are appointed to bring their hoste vnto these forts, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

28 So Iudas and his host turned in all haste by the way of the wilderness toward Boforra, and wan the citie, and slewe all the males with the edge of the sword, and tooke all their spoile, and set fire vpon the citie.

29 And in the night he removed from thence, and went toward the fortresse.

30 And betimes in the morning when they looked vp, behold, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders, and instruments of warre, to take the fort, and had assaulted them.

31 When Iudas sawe that the battell was begun, and that the crie of the citie went vp to heauen with trumpets, and a great sound, 32 Then he said vnto the armie, Fight this day for your brethren.

33 So he went forth behind them with three companies, and they blew the trumpets, and cried with prayer.

34 Then the hoste of Timotheus knew that it was Maccabeus, and they fled from him, and hee smote them with a great slaughter, so that there was killed of them the same day almost eight thousand men.

35 ¶ Then departed Iudas vnto Maspha, and laid siege vnto it, & wan it, and slewe all the males thereof, and spoiled it, and set fire vpon it.

36 From thence went he and tooke Chasbon, Maged, and Bofor, and the other cities in Galaad.

37 After these things gathered Timotheus another hoste, and he camped before Raphon beyond the flood.

38 Now Iudas had sent to espie the hoste, and they brought him word againe, saying, All the heathen that be round about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the hoste is very great,

39 And hee hath hired the Arabians to helpe them, and they haue pitched their tents beyond the flood, and are readie to come and fight against thee. So Iudas went to meet them.

40 Then Timotheus said vnto the captaines of his hoste, When Iudas and his host come neere the flood, if he passe ouer first vnto vs, we shal not be able to withstand him: for he wil be too strong for vs.

41 But if hee be afraid, and campe beyond the flood, wee will goe ouer vnto him, and shal preuaile against him.

42 Now when Iudas came neere to the flood, he caused the governors of the people to remaine by the flood, & commanded them, saying, Suffer none to pitch a tent, but let euery man come to y battell.

43 So he went first ouer toward them, & all the people after him: and all the heathen were discomfited before him, & cast away their weapons, and fled into the Temple that was at Carnaim.

44 Which city Iudas wan, and burnt the Temple with all that were in it: so was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstand Iudas.

45 ¶ Then Iudas gathered all the Israelites that were in the countrey of Galaad, from the least vnto the most, with their wives and their children, & their baggage, a very great hoste to come into the land of Iuda.

46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a great city by the way, and strongly defended: they could not passe, neither at the right hand nor at the left, but must goe thorow it.

47 But they y were in the city shut themselves in, & stopped vp the gates with stones: and Iudas sent vnto them with peaceable words, saying,

48 Let vs passe thorow your land, that we may goe into our owne countrey, and none shall hurt you: we will but onely goe thorow on foot: but they would not open vnto him.

49 Wherefore Iudas commanded a proclamation to be made throughout the hoste, that euery man should assault it according to his standing.

50 So the valiant men set vpon it, and assaulted the citie all that day, and all that night, and the citie was giuen ouer into his hands:

51 Who slew all the males with the edge of the sword, & destroyed it, & tooke the spoile thereof, & went thorow the city ouer the that were slaine.

52 Then went they ouer Iorden into the great plaine before Bethsan.

53 And Iudas gathered together those that were behind, and gaue the people good exhortation all the way thorow, till they were come into the land of Iuda.

54 Thus they went vp with ioy and gladnesse vnto mount Sion, where they offered burnt offerings, because there were none of them slaine, but came home againe in safetie.

55 ¶ Now whilest Iudas and Ionathan were in the land of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galile before Ptolemais,

56 Ioseph the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias the captaines hearing of the valiant acts, and battels which they had atchieued, sayd, 57 Let vs get vs a name also, and goe fight against the heathen that are round about vs.

58 So they gaue their hoste a commandement and went toward Iamnia.

59 But Gorgias and his men came out of the citie to fight against them.

60 And Ioseph and Azarias were put to flight, and pursued vnto the borders of Iudea: and there were slaine that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men: so that there was a great ouerthrow among the people of Israel, 61 Because they were not obedient vnto Iudas and his brethren, but thought to doe some valiant thing.

62 Also they came not off y stock of these men, by whose hands deliuerance was giuen to Israel.

63 But the man Iudas & his brethren were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, and of all y heathen, wherefoeuer their name was heard of.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.

65 Afterward went Iudas forth with his brethren, & fought against the childre of Esau in the land toward the South, where he wan Hebron, and and the towres thereof, & he destroyed the castle thereof, & burnt the towres thereof round about.

66 Then remooued he to goe into the land of the strangers, and went thorow Samaria.

67 At the same time were the Priests of the cities slaine in the battell, which would shew their valiancyes, and went forth to battell without counsell: And when Iudas came to Azotus in the strangers land, hee brake downe their altars, and burnt with fire the images of their gods, & tooke away the spoiles of the cities, and came againe into the land of Iuda.

1 Antiochus willing to take the cite of Ellimais, is driven away of the citizens: 2 Hee falleth into sickness, and dieth. 17 His sonne Antiochus is made king. 34 The manner to prouoke Elephants to fight. 43 Elephants valiant as. 48 The siege of Ieru-

chap. 13.

Now when king Antiochus traualled thorow the high countreys, he heard that Elimais in the countrey of Persia, was a cite greatly renowned for riches, siluer and gold,

1 And that there was in it a very rich Temple, whereas were coverings of golde, coate armors, and harpesse, which Alexander king of Macedonia the sonne of Philip (that reigned first in Grecia) had left there.

2 Wherefore he went about to take the cite, and to spoile it, but he was not able, for the citizens were warned of the matter,

3 And rose vp against him in battell, and hee fled and departed thence with great heauinesse, and came againe into Babylon.

4 Moreover, there came one which brought him tidings in the countrey of Persia, that the armies that went against the land of Iuda, were driven away,

5 And that Lyfias which went forth first with a great power, was driven away of the Iewes, and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and diuers spoiles which they had gotten of the armies whom they had destroyed,

6 And that they had pulled downe the abomination, which hee had set vp vpon the altar at Ierusalem, and fenced the Sanctuary with high walles, as it was afore, and Beth-sura his cite.

7 So when the king had heard these words, he was astonished, and sore moued: therefore hee laid him downe vpon his bed, and fell sick for very sorow, because it was not come to passe, as hee had thought.

8 And there continued he many dayes: for his griefe was euer more and more, so that he saw he must needs die.

9 Therefore hee sent for all his friends, and said vnto them, The sleep is gone from mine eyes, and mine heart faileth for very care.

10 And I thinke with my selfe, Into what aduersitie am I come? & into what floods of misery am I fallen now, whereas aforetime I was in prosperitie, & greatly set by, by reason of my power?

11 And now doe I remember the evils that I haue done at Ierusalem: for I tooke all the yessels of golde and siluer that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabitants of Iuda without cause.

12 I know that these troubles are come vpon me for the same cause, and behold, I must die with great sorow in a strange land.

13 Then called he for Philip, one of his friends, whom he made ruler of all his realme,

14 And gaue him the crowne, & his robe, and saying, that he should instruct his son Antiochus, and bring him vp, till he might reigne himselfe.

15 So king Antiochus died there in the hundredeth and fortie and ninth yeere.

16 When Lyfias knewe that the king was dead, he ordeined Antiochus his sonne (whom he had brought vp) to reigne in his fathers stead, and called him Eupator.

17 Now they that were in the castle at Ierusalem, kept in the Israelites round about the Sanctuary, and fought alwayes their hurt, and the strengthening of the heathen.

18 Therefore Iudas thought to destroy them, & called all the people together to besiege them.

19 So they came together and besieged them, in the hundredeth and fiftie yeere, and made instruments to shoot, and other engins of warre.

20 But certaine of them that were besieged, gate forth, (vnto whom some vngodly men of Israel ioyned themselves)

21 And they went vnto the king, saying, How long wilt thou cease from executing iudgement, and auenge our brethren?

22 Wee haue beene ready to serue thy father, and to goe forward in those things that he appointed, and to obey his commandements.

23 Therefore they of our nation fell from vs for this cause, and wherefoeuer they found any of vs, they slew them, and spoiled our inheritance.

24 And they haue not onely laid hand vpon vs, but vpon all about their borders.

25 And behold, this day are they besieging the castle at Ierusalem to take it, and haue fortified the Sanctuary and Beth-sura.

26 And if thou doest not preuent them quickly, they will doe greater things then these, and thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.

27 When the king heard this, he was very angry, and called all his friends, the captaines of his armie, and his horsemen,

28 And bands that were hired came vnto him, from the kings that were confederate, and from the yles of the sea.

29 So the number of his armie was an hundred thousand footemen, and twentie thousand horsemen, and two and thirtie Elephants exercised in battell.

30 These came thorow Idumea, and drew neere to Beth-sura, and besieged it a long season, and made engins of warre: but they came out and burnt them with fire, and fought valiantly.

31 Then departed Iudas from the castle, and remooued the hoste toward Beth-zacarias ouer against the kings campe.

32 So the king arose very early, and brought the army and his power toward the way of Beth-zacarias, where the armie set themselves in aray to the battell, and blew the trumpets.

33 And to prouoke the elephants for to fight, they shewed them the blood of grapes and mulberries,

34 And they set the beasts according to the ranges: so that by euery elephant therestood a thousand men armed with coates of maile and helmets of brasse vpon their heads, and vnto euery beast were ordeined fine hundredth horsemen of the best,

35 Which were ready at all times wherefoeuer the beast was: and whitherfoeuer the beast went, they went also, and departed not from him.

36 And vnto them were strong towers of wood that couered euery beast, which were fastned theron with instruments, & vpon euery one was two

and

and thirye men that fought in them, and the Indian that ruled him.

38 They set also the remnant of the horsemen vpon both the sides in two wings of the hoste, to stirre them vp, and to keepe them in the valleys.

39 And when the sunne shone vpon the golden shields, the mountaines gliistered therewith, and gaue light as lamps of fire.

40 Thus part of the kings armie was spread vpon the high mountaines, and part beneath: so they marched forward warily, and in order.

41 And all they that heard the noyse of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the rattling of the harnesse, were astonished: for the armie was very great and mighty.

42 Then Iudas and his hoste entred into the battell, and they slewe fixe hundred men of the kings armie.

43 ¶ Now when Eleazar the sonne of Abaron, sawe one of the elephants armed with royall harnesse, and was more excellent then all the other beasts, he thought that the king should bee vpon him.

44 Wherefore he ieopardied himselfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetuall name,

45 And ran boldly vnto him through the mids of the hoste, slaying on the right hand and on the left, so that they departed away on both sides.

46 So went hee to the elephants feet, and gate him vnder him, and slew him: then fell the elephant downe vpon him, and there he died.

47 But the other, seeing the power of the king, and the fiercenesse of his armie, departed from them.

48 ¶ And the kings armie went vp to meette them toward Ierusalem, and the king pitched his tents in Iudea toward mount Sion.

49 Moreover, the king tooke truce with them that were in Beth-sura: but when they came out of the city, because they had no vitailles there, and were shut vp therein, and the land had rested,

50 The king tooke Beth-sura, and set there a garrison to keepe it,

51 And besieged the Sanctuary many dayes, and made instruments to shoot, and other engines of warre, and instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts and slings.

52 ¶ They also made engines against their engines, and fought a long season.

53 But in the garners there were no vitailles: for it was the seventh yeere, and then they that were in Iudea, and were deliuered from the Gentiles, had eaten vp the residue of the store,

54 So that in the Sanctuary were fewe men left: for the famine came so vpon them, that they were scattered euery man to his owne place.

55 ¶ Now when Lyfias heard that Philip (whom Antiochus the king, whiles he liued, had ordeined to bring vp Antiochus his sonne, that he might bee King)

56 Was come againe out of Persia and Media, and the kings hoste with him, & thought to take vnto him the rule of things,

57 He and his hoste, and were stirred forward by them in the castle to go and tell the king, and the captaines of the hoste, and to others, saying, We decreafe daily, and our vitailles are but small, and the place that we lay siege vnto is strong, & the vittues of the realme depend vpon vs.

58 Now therefore let vs agree with these men, and take truce with them, & with all their nation,

59 And grant them to liue after their law, as they did afore: for they be grieved, and doe all these things, because we haue broken their lawes.

60 So the king and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace, and they receiued it.

61 When the king and the princes had made an oath vnto them, they came vpon this out of the fortresse.

62 And the king went vp to mount Sion: but when he saw that the place was well defended, he brake his oath that he had made, and commaunded to breake downe the wall round about.

63 Then departed he in all haste, and returned vnto Antiochia, where hee found Philip hauing dominion of the citie: so he fought against him, and tooke the city by force.

CHAP. VII.

1 Demetrius reigned, after he had killed Antiochus and Lyfias. 2 Hee troubleth the children of Israel through the counsell of certain wicked persons. 37 The prayer of the Priests against Nicanor. 41 Iudas killeth Nicanor, after he had made his prayer.

IN the hundredth and one and fiftieth yeere, departed Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus from Rome, and came vp with a few men vnto a citie of the sea coast, and reigned there.

2 And when he came into the possession of his fathers kingdome, his souldiers tooke Antiochus and Lyfias, and brought them vnto him.

3 But when it was told him, he said, Shew me not their faces.

4 So they put them to death. Now when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdom,

5 There came vnto him all the wicked and vngodly men of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, that would haue bene the hie Priest.

6 These men accused the people vnto the king, saying, Iudas and his brethren haue slaine all thy friends, and driuen vs out of our owne land.

7 Wherefore send now some man whom thou trustest, that he may go and see all the destruction, which he hath done vnto vs, and to the kings land, and let him punish them with all their partakers.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides a friend of his, which was a great man in the realme, and ruled beyond the flood, and was faithfull vnto the king, and sent him,

9 And that wicked Alcimus, whom he made hie Priest, and commanded him to be auenged of the childreu of Israel.

10 So they departed, and came with a great hoste into the land of Iuda, and sent messengers to Iudas & his brethren deceitfully with peaceable words.

11 But they beleueed not their saying: for they saw that they were come with a great hoste.

12 Then a company of the gouernours assembled vnto Alcimus and Bacchides to intreate of reasonable poynts.

13 And the Asideans were the first that required peace among the children of Israel.

14 For, said they, He that is a Priest of the seed of Aaron, is come with this army: therefore he will not hurt vs.

15 Then he spake vnto them peaceably, and swore vnto them, and sayd, Wee will doe you no harme, neither your friends.

16 And they beleueed him: but hee tooke of them thre score men, & slew them in one day according-according to the words that were written, 17 They have cast the bodies of thy Saints, and their blood round about Ierusalem, and there was no man that would burie them.

18 So there came a feare and trembling among all the people: for they said, There is neither truth nor righteousness in them: for they have broken the appointment and othe that they made.

19 Then Bacchides remoued from Ierusalem, and pitched his tent at Beth-zacha, where hee sent forth and tooke many of the men that had forsaken him, and certaine of the people, whom he slew and cast into the great pit.

20 Then committed he the countrey vnto Alcimus, and left men of warre with him to helpe him: so Bacchides went vnto the king.

21 Thus Alcimus stroue for the Priesthood.

22 And all such as troubled the people, resorted vnto him: inso much that they obtained the land of Iuda, and did much hurt in Israel.

23 Now when Iudas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his companie had done among the Israelites more then the heathen,

24 He went forth round about all the borders of Iudea, and punished those that were fallen away, so that they came no more abroad in the countrey.

25 But when Alcimus saw that Iudas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, and knew that he was not able to abide them, he went againe to shaking and accused them of wicked things.

26 Then the king sent Nicanor one of his chiefe princes, which hated Israel deadly, & commanded him that he should destroy the people.

27 So Nicanor came to Ierusalem with a great hoste, and sent vnto Iudas and his brethren deceitfully with friendly words, saying,

28 Let there bee no warre betweene mee, and you: I will come with few men, to see how you doe friendly,

29 So hee came vnto Iudas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were prepared to take away Iudas.

30 Neuertheless, it was tolde Iudas, that hee came vnto him vnder deceit: therefore he feared him, and would see his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceived that his counsell was bewrayed, hee went out to fight against Iudas, beside Carphasalama.

32 Where there were slaine of Nicanors hoste about five thousand men: so they fled vnto the citie of David.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and some of the Priestes with the Elders of the people went forth of the Sanctuary to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the burnt offering that was offered for the king.

34 But he laughed at them, and mocked them,
and counted them prophane, and spake proudly,

35 And swore in his wrath, saying, If Iudas and his hoste bee not deliuered now into mine hands, if euer I come againe in safety, I will burne vp this house. With that, he went out in a great anger.

36 Then the Priestes came in, and stood before the altar in the Temple, weeping, and saying,

37 Forso much as thou, O Lord, hast chosen this house, that thy Name might be called vpon therein, and that it should bee an house of prayer and petition for thy people,

38 Be auenged of this man and his hoste, and let them bee slaine by the sword: remembre their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue.

39 ¶ When Nicanor was gone from Ierusalem, he pitched his tent at Beth-horon, and there an hoste met him out of Syria.

40 And Iudas pitched in Adasa with three thousand men, where Iudas prayed, saying,

41 O Lord, because the messengers of king Sennacherib blasphemed thee, thine Angel went forth, and slew an hundredth, fourscore and five thousand of them.

42 So destroy thou this host before vs to day, that al other may know that he hath spoken wickedly against thy Sanctuary, and punish him according to his malice.

43 So the armies ioyned together in battell, the thirtieth day of the moneth Adar: but Nicanors hoste was discomfited, and he himselfe was first slaine in the battell.

44 Now when his army saw that Nicanor was slaine, they cast away their weapons, and fled.

45 But they pursued after them a dayes journey from Adasa vnto Gadera, blowing an alarme with the trumpets after them.

46 So they came forth of all the townes of Iudea round about, and rushed vpon them, and threw them from one to another, so that they all fell by the sword, and there was not one of them left.

47 Then they tooke the spoiles and the pray, and smote off Nicanors head, and his right hand, which he held vp so proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged them vp afore Ierusalem.

48 So the people reioyced greatly, and kept that day as a day of great gladnes.

49 And they ordeined to keepe yerely that day on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar.

50 Thus the lande of Iuda was in rest a little while.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Iudas considering the power and policie of the Romanes, desired peace with them. 2 The conditions of small friendship sent to the Iewes.

Iudas heard also the same of the Romanes, that they were mighty and valiant, and agreeable to all things that were required of them, and made peace withall that came vnto them,

2 And that they were men of great power, and they told them of their battels, & their worthy acts which they did among the Galatians, whom they had conquered, and made to pay tribute.

3 And what they had done in the countrey of Spaine: how that they had won there the mines of silver and gold,

4 And that by their counsel, and gentle be-hauour they were rulers in euery place, though the place was farre from them, and that they had discomfited and giuen great overthrowes to the kings that came against the, from the vttermost part of the earth, and that others gaue them tribute euery yeere,

5 How they had also discomfited by battell Philip and Peres kings of the Macedonians, and others that rose against them, and how they ouercame them,

6 And how great Antiochus king of Asia that came against them in battell, hauing an hundredth and twenty elephants, with horsemen and charets, and a very great army was discomfited
by them,

7 And how they tooke him alieue, and ordeined him, with such as should reigne after him, to pay a great tribute, and to giue hostages, and a separate portion.

8 Euen the countrey of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of his best countreys, which they took of him, and gaue them to king Eumenes.

9 Againe, when it was tolde them that the Grecians were comming to destroy them,

10 They sent against them a capitaine, which gaue them battell, and slewe many of them, and tooke many prisoners with their wiues and children, and spoiled them, and conquered their land, and destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bondmen, vnto this day:

11 Moreouer, how they destroyed & brought into subiection other kingdomes and yles, whosoever had withstood them:

12 But that they kept amitie with their owne friends, and those that stayed vpon them: finally, that they conquered kingdomes, both farre and neere, insomuch that whosoever heard of their renoume, was afraid of them.

13 For whom they would helpe to their kingdomes, those reigned, and whom they would, they put downe: thus were they in most high authority.

14 Yet for all this that none of them wore a crowne, neither was clothed in purple, to be magnified thereby,

15 But that they had ordeined themselves a council, wherein three hundred and twenty men consulted dayly, and prouided for the common affaires to gouerne them well.

16 And that they committed their gouernment to one man euery yere, who did rule ouer all their countrey, to whom euery man was obedient: and there was neither hatred nor enuie among them.

17 ¶ Then Iudas chose Eupolemus the sonne of Iohn, the sonne of Accus, and Iason the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them vnto Rome to make friendship and mutuall fellowship with them,

18 That they might take from them the yoke (for they saw that the kingdome of the Grecians would keepe Israel in bondage.)

19 So they went vnto Rome, which was a very great iourney, and came into the Senat, where they spake and said, 20 Iudas Maccabeus with his brethren, and the people of the Iewes hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bond of friendship & peace with you, and ye to register vs as your partakers and friends.

21 And the matter pleased them.

22 And this is the copie of the epistle that they wrote in tables of brasse, and sent to Ierusalem, that they might haue by them a memoriall of the peace, and mutuall fellowship.

23 Good successe be to the Romans, and to the people of the Iewes, by sea, and by land for euer, and the sword and enemye be from them.

24 If there come first any warre vpon the Romanes, or any of their friends thorowout all their dominion,

25 The people of the Iewes shall helpe them, as the time shall be appointed, with all their heart.

26 Also they shall giue nothing to them that come to fight for the, nor serue them with wheat nor weapons, nor money, nor ships, as it pleaseth the Romanes, but they shall keepe their covenants, without taking any thing of them.

27 Likewise also if warre come first against the nation of the Iewes, the Romans shall helpe them with a good will, according as the time shall be appointed them.

28 Neither shall wheate bee giuen vnto them, that take their part, nor weapons, nor money, nor ships, as pleaseth the Romanes, who will keepe these covenants without deceit.

29 According to these articles the Romanes made the bonds with the people of the Iewes.

30 If after these points, the one partie or the other will adde or diminish, they may doe it at their pleasures, and whatsoeuer they shall adde or take away, shall be ratified.

31 And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath done vnto the Iewes, wee haue written vnto him, saying, Wherefore layest thou thine heauie yoke vpon our friends & confederates the Iewes?

32 If therefore they complaine any more against thee, wee will doe them iustice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

CHAP. IX.

1 After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius sendeth his army against Iudas. 18 Iudas is slaine. 31 Jonathan is put in the stead of his brother. 47 The battell betwene Bacchides and Jonathan. 55 Alcimus is smitten with the palfe, and dieth. 68 He commeth vpon Jonathan by the counsel of certaine wicked persons, and is overcome. 70 The truce of Jonathan with Bacchides.

IN the meane season when Demetrius had heard how Nicanor and his hoste had giuen the battell, hee sent Bacchides and Alcimus againe into Iudea, and his chiefe strength with them.

2 So they went forth by the way that is toward Galgala, and pitched their tents before Mefaloth which is in Arbelis, and wan it, and slewe much people.

3 And in the first moneth of the hundredth fiftie and two yeere, they laid their siege against Ierusalem.

4 But they raised their campe, and came to Berea, with twentie thousand footemen, and two thousand horsemen.

5 Now Iudas had pitched his tent at Eleasa, and three thousand chosen men with him.

6 And when they sawe that the multitude of the armie was great, they were fore afraid, and many conueyed themselves out of the hoste, so that there abode no more of them, but eight hundred men.

7 When Iudas sawe that his hoste failed him, and that he must needs fight, he was sore troubled in minde, that hee had no time to gather them together, and was discouraged.

8 Neuertheless, he said vnto them that remained, Let vs rise, and goe vp against our enemies, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them.

9 But they would haue stayed him, saying, We are not able, but let vs rather saue our liues: turne backe now, seeing our brethren are departed: for shall we fight against them that are so few?

10 Then Iudas said, God forbid that we should doe this thing, to flee from them: if our time bee come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, and let vs not staine our honour.

11 Then the hoste remoued out of the tents, and stood against them, who had diuided their horsemen into two troupes, and they that threw with slings, and the archers marched in the foreward, and they that fought in the foreward, were all valiant men.

12 And Bacchides was in the right wing. So the armie drew neere on both sides, and blew the trumpets.

13 They of Iudas side blew the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noise of the armies, and the battell continued from morning to night.

14 And when Iudas sawe that Bacchides and the strength of his armie was on the right side, he tooke with him all the hardie men,

15 And brake the right wing, and followed vpon them vnto mount Azotus.

16 Nowe when they which were of the left wing sawe that the right wing was discomfited, they followed Iudas behinde, and them that were with him hard at the heeles.

17 Then was there a sore battell: for many were slaine of both the parties.

18 Iudas also himselfe was killed, and the remnant fled.

19 So Jonathan and Simon tooke Iudas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre in the cite of Modin.

20 And all the Israelites wept for him, and mourned greatly for him, and lamented many dayes, saying,

21 How is the valiant man fallen which deliuered Israel!

22 Concerning the other things of Iudas, both the battells and the valiant actes that hee did, and of his worthinesse, they are not written: for they were very many.

Isa. 53. 12.
chap. 1. v. 3.

23 ¶ Now after the death of Iudas, wicked men came vp in all the coasts of Israel, and there arose all such as gaue themselves to iniquitie.

24 In those dayes was there a very great famine in the land, and all the countrey gaue ouer themselves with them.

25 And Bacchides did chuse wicked men, and made them lords in the land.

26 These sought out, and made search for Iudas friends, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged himselfe vpon them, and mocked them.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no Prophet was seene among them.

28 Then came all Iudas friends together, and said vnto Jonathan,

29 Seeing thy brother Iudas is dead, and there is none like him to go forth against our enemies, euen against Bacchides, and || against them of our nation that are enemies vnto vs,

|| Or, against the enemies of our nation.

30 Therefore this day we chuse thee, that thou mayest be our prince and captaine in his place, to order our battell.

31 So Jonathan tooke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in stead of his brother Iudas.

32 But when Bacchides knew it, he sought for to slay him.

33 Then Jonathan and Simon his brother perceiuing that, fled into the wilderness of Thecua with all their company, and pitched their tents by the water poole of Asphar.

34 Which when Bacchides vnderstood, hee came ouer Iorden with all his host vpon the Sabbath day.

35 (Now had Jonathan sent his brother Iohn, a captaine of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, that they would keepe their baggage which was much.

|| Or, Iambri.

36 But the children of || Ambri came out of Medaba, and tooke Iohn and all that he had, and when they had taken it, went their way.

37 After this came word vnto Jonathan, and to Simon his brother, that the children of Ambri made a great marriage, & brought the bride from || Medaba with great pompe: for she was daughter || Or, Nadabath. to one of the noblest princes of Canaan.

38 Therefore they remembered Iohn their brother, and went vp, and hid themselves vnder the couert of the mountaine.

39 So they lift vp their eyes, and looked, & behold, there was a great noise, and much preparation: then the bridegrome came forth, and his friends and his brethren met them with timbrels, and instruments of musicke, and many weapons.

40 Then Ionathans men that lay in ambush, rose vp against them, and slew many of them, and the remnant fled into the mountains, so that they tooke all their spoiles.

41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noise of their melody into lamentation.

42 And so when they had auenged the blood of their brother, they turned againe vnto Iorden.

43 When Bacchides heard this, he came vnto the border of Iorden with a great power vpon the Sabbath day.)

44 Then Jonathan said vnto his company, Let vs rise now, and fight against our enemies: for it is not to day as in time past.

45 Behold, the battell is before vs, and behinde vs, and the water of Iorden on this side and that side, and the marish, and Forrest, so that there is no place for vs to turne aside.

46 Wherefore crie now vnto heauen, that yee may bee deliuered from the power of your enemies: so they ioyned battell.

47 Then Jonathan stretched out his hand to smite Bacchides: but hee turned aside from him and reculed.

48 Then Jonathan, and they that were with him, leapt into Iorden, and swimmied ouer vnto the further banke: but the other would not passe thorow Iorden after them.

49 So in that day were slaine on Bacchides side about a thousand men.

50 Then he turned againe to Ierusalem, & built vp the strong cities in Iuda, as the castle of Iericho, and Emmaus, & Bethhoron, and Bethel, and Thamnatha, || Parathoni, and || Tepho, with high walles, with gates, and with barres, || Or, Pharo. || Or, Thopo.

51 And set garisons in them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 Hee fortified also the cite Beth-sura, and Gazara, and the castle, and set a garison in them with prouision of vitayles.

53 Hee tooke also the chiefeest mens sonnes in the countrey for hostages, and put them in the castle at Ierusalem to be kept.

54 ¶ Afterward in the hundreth fifty and three yeere, in the second moneth, Alcimus commanded, that the walles of the inner court of the Sanctuary should be destroyed, and he pulled downe the monuments of the Prophets, and began to destroy them.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and his enterprises were hindered, and his mouth was stopped: for he was smitten with a palfie, and could no more speake, nor giue order concerning his house.

56 Thus died Alcimus with great torment at the same time.

57 And when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, he turned againe to the king, and so the land of Iuda was in rest two yeeres.

58 Then

58 Then all the vngodly men held a counsell, saying, Behold, Jonathan, & his company dwell at ease, & without care: wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, & he will take them all in one night.

59 So they went and consulted with him.

60 Who arose & came with a great host, and sent letters priuily to his adherents, which were in Iudea, to take Jonathan and those that were with him: but they could not, for their counsell was knowen vnto them.

107, Jonathan.

61 And || they tooke fiftie men of the countrey, which were the chiefe workers of this wickednesse, and slew them.

107, Beth-basin.

62 ¶ Then Jonathan and Simon with their company departed vnto || Beth-basin, which is in the wilderness, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it strong.

63 When Bacchides knew this, he gathered all his host, & sent word to them that were of Iudea.

64 Then came he & laide siege to Beth-basin, and fought against it a long season, and made instruments of warre.

65 But Jonathan had left his brother Simon in the cite, and went forth into the countrey, and came with a certaine number, 107, Odomer.

66 And slew || Odomer and his brethren and the children of Phasron in their tents: so he began to slay, and increased in power.

67 Simon also and his company went out of the city, and burnt vp the instruments of warre,

68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfired him, and vexed him sore, so that his counsell and iourney was in vaine.

69 Wherefore he, was very wroth at the wicked men, that gaue him counsell to come into the countrey, and slew many of them, and purposed to returne into his owne countrey.

70 Whereof when Jonathan had knowledge, he sent Ambassadors vnto him, to intreate of peace with him, and that the prisoners should be deliuered.

71 Which thing he accepted, and did according to his desire, & made an othe, that he would neuer doe him harme all the dayes of his life.

72 So he restored vnto him the prisoners that he had taken aforetime out of the land of Iuda, and so returned & went into his owne land, neither did he come any more into their borders.

73 Thus the sword ceased from Israel, and Jonathan dwelt at Machmas, and beganne there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

CHAP. X.

4. Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Jonathan. 18. Alexander also desireth peace with the Iewes. 48. Alexander maketh warre against Demetrius. 50. Demetrius is slaine. 51. The friendship of Ptolemus and Alexander.

107, Antig. 13. cap. 23.

IN the hundredth and threescore yere came Alexander the sonne of Antiochus Epiphanes, and tooke Ptolemas, and they receiued him, and there he reigned.

2 Now when Demetrius the king heard it, he gathered an exceeding great host, and went forth against him to fight.

3 Also Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathan, with louing words, as though he would prefer him.

4 For he said, We will first make peace with him, before he ioine with Alexander against vs.

5 Els he will remember all the euill that wee haue done against him, and against his brethren and his nation.

6 And so he gaue Jonathan leaue to gather an host, & to prepare weapons, and to be confederate with him, and commanded the hostages that were in the castle, to be deliuered vnto him.

7 ¶ Then came Jonathan to Ierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the castle.

8 Therefore they were sore afraide, because they heard that the king had giuen him license to gather an army.

9 So they that were of the castle, deliuered the hostages vnto Jonathan, who restored them to their parents.

10 Jonathan also dwelt at Ierusalem, and began to build and repaire the city.

11 And hee commaunded the workemen to build the walles, & the mount Sion round about with hewen stone, to fortifie it: and so they did.

12 Then the strangers that were in the castles which Bacchides had made, fled, 13 So that euery man left his place, and went into his owne countrey.

14 Only at Beth-sura, remained certaine which had forsaken the Law, and the commandements: for it was their refuge.

15 ¶ Now when king Alexander had heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathan: and when it was told him of the battels and noble acts, which hee and his brethren had done, and of the paines that they had endured,

16 He sayd, Might we find such a man? now therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

17 Vpon this he wrote a letter, and sent it vnto him, with these words, saying,

18 KING ALEXANDER to his brother Jonathan sendeth salutation.

19 Wee haue heard of thee, that thou art a very valiant man, and worthy to be our friend.

20 Wherefore this day we ordeine thee to bee the high Priest of thy nation, and to be called the kings friend: (and he sent him a purple robe, and a || crown of gold) that thou maiest || consider what is for our profit, and keepe friendship toward vs.

107, Antig. 13. cap. 23.

21 So in the seventh moneth of the hundred & threescore yere, vpon the feast day of the tabernacles, Jonathan put on the holy garment, and gathered an hoste, and prepared many weapons.

22 ¶ Which when Demetrius heard, hee was marueilous fory, and said,

107, Antig. 13. cap. 23.

23 What haue we done, that Alexander hath preuented vs in getting the friendship of the Iewes for his strength?

24 Yet wil I write and exhort them, and promise them dignities and rewardes, that they may helpe me.

25 Whereupon he wrote vnto them these words, KING DEMETRIUS vnto the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

26 We haue heard that ye haue kept your covenent toward vs, & continued in our friendship, and haue not ioined with our enemies, wherof we are glad.

27 Now therefore remaine still and keepe fidelitie toward vs, & we wil recompense you for the good things that ye haue done for vs.

28 And will release you of many charges, and giue you rewardes.

29 And now I discharge for your sake all the Iewes from tributes, & free you from the customes of salt, and the crownetaxes, and from the third part

part of the seed.

30 And from the halfe of the fruit of the trees which is mine owne duety, I so releafe them, that from this day forth, none shall take any thing of the lande of Iuda, or of the three gouernments which are added thereunto, as of Samaria, and of Galile, from this day forth for euermore.

31 Ierusalem also with all things belonging thereto, shall be holy and free from the tenths, and tributes.

32 Also I releafe the power of the castle which is at Ierusalem, & giue it vnto the hie Priest, that he may set in it such men, as he shall chuse to keepe it.

33 Moreover I freely deliuer euery one of the Iewes that were taken away prisoners out of the land of Iuda throughout all my realme, and euery one of them shall bee free from tributes, yea, euen their cattell.

34 And al the feastes, and Sabbaths, and new Moones, and the dayes appointed, and the three dayes before the feast, and the three dayes after the feast, shall be dayes of freedome, and libertie for all the Iewes in my realme.

35 So that in them no man shall haue power to do any thing, or to vexe any of them in any manner of cause.

36 Also thirty thousand of the Iewes shall be written vp in the kings hoste & haue their wages payed them, as appertaineth to all them that are of the kings army: and of them shall be ordeined certaine to keepe the kings strong holds.

37 And some of them shall be set ouer the kings most secret affaires, and their gouernours & their Princes shall be of themselves, and they shall liue after their owne laws, as the king hath commanded in the land of Iuda.

38 And the three gouernments that are added vnto Iudea from the countrey of Samaria shall be ioyned vnto Iudea, and they shall be as vnder one, and obey none other power, but the hie Priest.

39 And I giue Ptolemas & the borders therof vnto the Sanctuary at Ierusalem, for the necessary expences of the holy things.

40 Moreover, I will giue euery yeere fifteene thousand sicles of siluer of the Kings reuenues out of the places appertaining vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not paid for the things due, as they did in the former yeeres, from henceforth they shall giue it toward the works of the Temple.

42 And besides this, the five thousand sicles of siluer which they receiued yeerely of the account appointed for the intertainment of the Sanctuary these yeres passed, eue these things shall be releafed because they appertaineto Priests that minister.

43 Item, whosoever they be that flee vnto the Temple at Ierusalem, or within the liberties therof, and are indebted to the king for any manner of thing, they shall be pardoned, and all that they haue in any Realme.

44 For the building also and repairing of the works of the Sanctuary, expenses shall be giuen of the kings reuenues.

45 And for the making of the walles of Ierusalem, and fortifying it round about, that the holds in Iudea may be built vp, that also the costs be giuen out of the kings reuenues.

46 But when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gaue no credit vnto them, neither receiued them: for they remembered the great wickednesse that he had done in Israel, and how fore he had vexed them.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander: for he was the first that had intreated of true peace w them, and so were confederate with him alway.

48 Then gathered king Alexander a great hoste, and camped ouer against Demetrius.

49 So the two kings ioyned battel, but Demetrius hoste fled, and Alexander pursued him, and preuailed against them.

50 So that fore battel continued till the sunne went down, & Demetrius was slaine the same day.

51 ¶ Then Alexander sent Ambassadors vnto Ptolemus the king of Egypt with these wordes, saying,

52 For so much as I am come againe to my Realme, and am set in the throne of my fathers, and haue gotten the dominion, and haue destroyed Demetrius, and enioy my countrey,

53 Seeing that I haue euen giuen him the battel, and he and his army is discomfited by me, and I sit in the throne of his kingdom,

54 Let vs now make friendship together, and giue me now thy daughter to wife: so shall I bee thy sonne in law, and giue thee rewards, and vnto her things according to thy dignity.

55 Then Ptolemus the king gaue answer, saying, Happy be the day, wherein thou art come againe vnto the land of thy fathers, and sittest in the throne of their kingdom.

56 Now therefore I will fulfil thy writing: but meete me at Ptolemas that we may see one another, and that I may make thee my sonne in lawe, according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolemus went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolemas in the hundredth threescore and two yeere.

58 Where king Alexander met him, and hee gaue vnto him his daughter Cleopatra, and married them at Ptolemas with great glory, as the manner of kings is.

59 ¶ Then wrote king Alexander vnto Jonathan, that he should come and meete him.

60 So hee went honourably vnto Ptolemas, and there he met the two kings, and gaue them great presents of siluer and golde, and to their friends, and found fauour in their sight.

61 And there assembled certaine pestilent fellows of Israel, & wicked men to accuse him: but the king would not heare them.

62 And the king commanded that they should take off the garments of Jonathan, and cloth him in purple, and so they did: and the king appointed him to sit by him.

63 And said vnto his princes, Go with him into the mids of ¶ city, & make a proclamatiõ that no man complaine against him of any matter, & that no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 So when his accusers saw his honor according as it was proclaimed, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 And the king preferred him to honor, and wrote him among his chiefe friends, & made him a Duke, and partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Jonathan returned to Ierusalem with peace and gladnesse.

67 ¶ In the hundredth threescore and five yeere came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius, from Crera into his fathers land.

68 Whereof when king Alexander heard, hee was very sorry, and returned vnto Antiochia.

69 Then Demetrius appointed Apollonius the gouernour

Josephus. Ant. 11. cap. 6.

governour of Coelosyria, who gathered a great hoste, and camped in Iamnia, and sent vnto Ionathan the high Priest, saying, 70 Darest thou, being but alone, lift vp thy selfe against vs? and I am laughed at, and reproched, because of thee: now therefore why dost thou vaunt thy self against vs in the mountaines?

71 Now then if thou trust in thine owne strength, come downe to vs into the plaine field, and there let vs trie the matter together: for I haue the strength of cities.

72 Aske and learne who I am, and they shall take my part: & they shal tell thee that your foot is not able to stand before our face: for thy fathers haue bene twise chastised in their owne land.

73 And now how wilt thou bee able to abide so great an host of horsemen and footmen in the plaine, where is neither stone, nor rock, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Ionathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moued in his minde: wherefore he chose ten thousand men, and went out of Ierusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to helpe him.

75 And he pitched his tents at Ioppe: but they shut him out of the city: for Apollonius garison was in Ioppe.

76 Then they fought against it, and they that were in the city, for very feare let him in: so Ionathan wan Ioppe.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, tooke three thousand horsemen, with a great host of foot men, and went toward Azotus, as though hee would go forward, and came immediatly into the plaine field, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Ionathan followed vpo him to Azotus, and the army skirmished with his arriere band.

79 For Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen behind them in ambush.

80 And Ionathan knew that there was an ambushment behinde him: and though they had compassed in his hoste, and thot darst the people from the morning to the euening.

81 Yet the people stood still, as Ionathan had commanded them, till their horses were weary.

82 Then brought Simon forth his hoste, and set them against the band: but the horses were weary, and he discomfited them, and they fled: so the horsemen were scattered in the field.

83 And they fled to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idole, that they might there saue themselves.

84 But Ionathan set fire vpon Azotus and all the cities round about it, and tooke their spoiles, and burnt with fire the temple of Dagon with all them that were fled into it.

85 Thus were slaine and burnt about eight thousand men.

86 So Ionathan remoued the host from thence, and camped by Alcalon, where the men of the citie came forth, and met him with great honour.

87 After this went Ionathan and his hoste againe to Ierusalem with great spoiles.

88 And when king Alexander heard these things, he began to doe Ionathan more honour, 89 And sent him a collar of gold, as the vse is to be giuen vnto such as are of the kings blood: hee gaue him also Accaron, with the borders thereof in possession.

CHAP. XI.

1 The digestion betweene Ptolemus and Alexander his sonne in law. 17 The death of Alexander. 19 Demetrius requesteth after the death of Ptolemus. 23 Sion is besieged of Ionathan. 42 Demetrius seeing that no man resisted him, sendeth his army againe. 54 Tryphon moueth Antiochus against Demetrius.

And the king of Egypt gathered a great hoste, like the sand that lieth vpon the sea shore, and many ships, and went about through deceit to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioine it vnto his owne realme.

2 Vpon this he went into Syria with friendly words, and was let into the cities, and men came forth to meet him: for king Alexander had commanded them to meete him, because hee was his father in law.

3 Now when hee entred into the city of Ptolemais, he left bands and garisons in euery citie.

4 And when hee came neere to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus, and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that hee had burnt in the battell: for they had made heapes of them by the way where hee should passe.

5 And they told the king what Ionathan had done, to the intent they might get him euil will: but the king held his peace.

6 And Ionathan met the king with great honour at Ioppe, where they saluted one another, and lay there.

7 So when Ionathan had gone with the king vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, hee turned againe to Ierusalem.

8 So king Ptolemus gate the dominion of the cities by the sea vnto Seleucia vpon the Sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander,

9 ¶ And sent Ambassadors vnto king Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a league betweene vs, & I will giue thee my daughter, which Alexander hath, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

10 For I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter: for he goeth about to slay me.

11 Thus he slandered Alexander, as one that should desire his realme.

12 And he tooke his daughter from him, and gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsooke Alexander, so that their hatred was openly knownen.

13 Then Ptolemus came to Antiochia, where he set two crownes vpon his owne head, of Asia, and of Egypt.

14 In the meane season was king Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places, had rebelled against him.

15 But when Alexander heard it, hee came to warre against him, and Ptolemus brought forth his hoste, and met him with a mighty power, and put him to flight.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: so Ptolemus was exalted.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote off Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolemus.

18 But the third day after, king Ptolemus died: and they that were in the holds, were slaine one of another.

19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundred threescore and seuenth yeere.

20 ¶ At the sametime gathered Ionathan them that were in Iudea, to lay siege vnto the castle, which was at Ierusalem, and they made many instruments

struments

struments of warre against it.

21 Then went there certaine vngodly persons (which hated their owne people) vnto king Demetrius, and told him that Ionathan besieged the castle.

22 So when he heard it, he was angry, and immediately came vnto Ptolemais, and wrote vnto Ionathan, that he should lay no more siege vnto it, but that he should meete him and speake with him at Ptolemais in all haste.

23 Neuerthelesse when Ionathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it: hee chose also certaine of the Elders of Israel, and the Priests, and put himselfe in danger.

24 And tooke with him silver and golde, and apparell, and diuers presents, and went to Ptolemais vnto the King, and found fauor in his sight.

25 And though certaine vngodly men of his owne nation had made complaints vpon him,

26 Yet the king intreated him as his predecessor had done, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends.

27 And confirmed him in the high Priesthood with all the honourable things, that he had asore, and made him his chiefe friend.

28 Ionathan also desired the king that hee would make Iudea free with the three gouernements, and the countrey of Samaria, and Ionathan promised him three hundred talents.

29 Whereunto the king consented, and gaue Ionathan writing of the same, containing these words.

30 KING DEMETRIUS vnto his brother Ionathan, and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

31 We send you here a copy of the letter which we did write vnto our cousin Lathenes concerning you, that ye should see it.

32 King Demetrius vnto Lathenes his father, sendeth greeting.

33 For the faithfulness that our friends the nation of the Iewes keepe vnto vs, and for their good will toward vs, we are determined to doe them good.

34 Wherefore we assigne to them the coasts of Iudea with the three gouernements, Apherema, and Lydda, and Ramathe (which are added vnto Iudea from the countrey of Samaria) and all that appertaineth to all them that sacrifice in Ierusalem both concerning the payments which the King tooke yereley asoretime, both for the fruits of the earth, and for the fruits of the trees.

35 As for the other things appertaining vnto vs of the tenths and tributes which were due vnto vs, and the customes of salt, and crowne taxes, which were payed vnto vs, we discharge them of all from henceforth.

36 And nothing hereof shalbe reckoned from this time forth and for euer.

37 Therefore see that ye make a copy of these things, and deliuer it vnto Ionathan, that it may be set vp vpon the holy mount in an open place.

38 After this when Demetrius the King saw that his land was in rest, & that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his host euery man to his owne place, except certaine bands of strangers, whom he brought from the yles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers host hated him.

39 Now was there one Tryphon, that had bin of Alexanders part asore, which when he saw that all the host was turned against Demetrius, he went to || Simalcus the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the sonne of Alexander.

40 And lay sore vpon him, to deliuer him this yong Antiochus, that hee might reigne in his fathers stead: he told him also what great euil Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre hated him, and he remained there a long season.

41 Also Ionathan sent vnto king Demetrius to driue them out which were in the castle at Ierusalem, and those that were in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.

42 So Demetrius sent vnto Ionathan, saying, I will not onely doe these things for thee and thy nation, but if opportunitie serue, I will honour thee, and thy nation.

43 Now therefore thou shalt doe mee a pleasure, if thou wilt send me men to helpe me: for all mine army is gone from me.

44 So Ionathan sent him three thousand strong men vnto Antiochia, and they came vnto the King: wherefore the king was very glad at their coming.

45 ¶ But they that were of the city, even an hundred & twenty thousand men, gathered them together in the mids of the cite, and would haue slaine the king.

46 But the King fled into the palace, and the citizens kept the streets of the cite, and began to fight.

47 Then the King called to the Iewes for helpe, which came to him altogether, and went abroad thorow the city.

48 And slew the same day an hundred thousand, and set fire vpon the city, and tooke many spoiles in that day, and deliuered the king.

49 So when the citizens saw that the Iewes had gotten the vpper hand of the city, and that they themselves were disappointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the king, saying,

50 ¶ Grant vs peace, and let the Iewes cease from vexing vs and the city.

51 So they cast away their weapons, & made peace, & the Iewes were greatly honoured before the king: before all that were in his realme, and they came againe to Ierusalem with great praye.

52 Then king Demetrius sat in the throne of his kingdom, and had peace in his land.

53 Neuerthelesse he dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrew himselfe from Ionathan, neither did hee reward him according to the benefits which hee had done for him, but troubled him very sore.

54 ¶ After this returned Tryphon with the yong childe Antiochus, which reigned, and was crowned.

55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of war, whom Demetrius had scattered, and they fought against him, who fled & turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the || beasts, and wanne Antiochia.

57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Ionathan, saying, I appoint thee to be the chiefe Priest, and make thee ruler ouer the foure gouernments, that thou mayest be a friend of the kings.

58 Vpon this he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, & gaue him leaue to drinke in gold, and to weare purple, and to haue a collar of gold.

59 He made his brother Simon also captaine from the coastes of Tyrus vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Ionathan went soorth, and passed thorow.

thorow the cities beyond the flood, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Askelon, and they of the city receiued him honourably.

61 And from thence went hee vnto Gaza: but they of Gaza shut him out: wherefore hee layd siege vnto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoyled them.

62 Then they of Gaza made supplication vnto Ionathan, and hee made peace with them, and tooke of the sonnes of the chiefe men for hostages, and sent them to Ierusalem, and went thorow the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 And when Ionathan heard that Demetrius princes were come into Cades, which is in Galile, with a great hoste, purposing to driue him out of the countrey, 64 Hee came against them, and left Simon his brother in the countrey.

65 And Simon besieged Beth-sura, and fought against it a long season, and shut it vp.

66 So they desired to haue peace with him, which he granted them, and after ward put them out from thence, and tooke the city, and set a garrison in it.

67 Then Ionathan with his hoste came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morning came to the plaine of Azor.

Dr. Ierusalem.

68 And behold, the hostes of the strangers met him in the plaine, and had laid ambushments for him in the mountaines.

69 So when they came against them, the ambushments rose out of their places & skirmished.

Dr. Abisalomus.

70 So that all that were of Ionathans side, fled: and there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the sonne of Abisalomus, and Iudas the sonne of Calphi the captaines of the hoste.

71 Then Ionathan rent his clothes, and cast earth vpon his head, and prayed,

72 And turned againe to them to fight, and put them to flight, so that they fled away.

73 Now when his owne men that were fled, saw this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to follow after all vnto their tents at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the strangers the same day about three thousand men, and Ionathan turned againe to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XII.

1 Ionathan sendeth ambassadours to Rome. 2 And to the people of Sparta, to renew their couenant of friendship. 24 Ionathan purpeth to fight the princes of Demetrius. 30 Tryphou saileth Ionathan by deceit.

Joseph. Antiq. 13. cap. 8.

1 Onathan now seeing that the time was meete for him, chose certaine men, and sent them vnto Rome, to establish and renew the friendship with them.

2 He sent letters also vnto the Spartians and to other places, for the same purpose.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the Senate, and said, Ionathan the high Priest and the nation of the Iewes, sent vs vnto you; for to renew friendship with you, and the bond of loue, as in times past.

4 So the Romanes gave them free passports, that men should leade them home into the land of Iuda peaceably.

5 AND THIS is the copie of the letters that Ionathan wrote vnto the Spartians.

6 Ionathan the high Priest with the Elders of the nation, and the Priests, and the rest of the people of the Iewes, send greeting vnto the Spartians their brethren.

7 Heretofore were letters sent vnto Onias the high Priest, from Arius, which then reigned among you, that yee would be our brethren, as the copie hereunder written specieth.

Joseph. Antiq. 12. cap. 5. Dr. Darius.

8 And Onias intreated the ambassador honourably, and receiued the letters: wherein there was mention made of the bond of loue & friendship.

9 But as for vs, we need no such writings: for we haue the holy books in our hands for comfort.

10 Neuerthelesse we thought it good to send vnto you, for the renewing of the brotherhood and friendship, lest we should be strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent vnto vs.

11 Wherefore we remember you at all seasons continually, and in the feasts and other dayes appointed, when wee offer sacrifices and prayers, as it meete and conuenient to thinke vpon our brethren.

12 And we reioyce at your prosperous estate.

13 And though we haue bene inuironed with great troubles & warres, so that the kings round about vs haue fought against vs,

14 Yet would wee not bee grieuous vnto you, nor to other of our confederates and friendes in these warres.

15 For wee haue had helpe from heauen, that hath succoured vs, and we are deliuered from our enemies, and our enemies are subdued.

16 Yet haue we chosen Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Iason, and sent them vnto the Romans, for to renew the former friendship with them, and league.

17 We commanded them also to go vnto you, and to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters, concerning the renewing of the brotherhood.

18 And now ye shall doe vs a pleasure to giue vs an answer of these things.

19 And this was the copie of the letters, which Arius the king of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 THE KING of the Spartians vnto Onias the high Priest sendeth greeting.

21 It is found in writing, that the Spartians and Iewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham.

22 And now for so much as this is come to our knowledge, yee shall doe well, to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs wee haue written vnto you, that your cattell and goods are ours, and ours are yours: these things haue wee commanded to bee shewed vnto you.

24 Now when Ionathan heard that Demetrius princes were come to fight against him, with a greater host then afore, 25 Hee went from Ierusalem, and met them in the land of Hamath: for hee gaue them not space to come into his owne countrey.

26 And hee sent spies vnto their tents, which came againe, and tolde him, that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night.

27 Wherefore when the Sun was gone downe, Ionathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in armes ready to fight all the night, and sent watchmen round about the hoste.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Ionathan was ready with his men to the battell, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and kindled fires in their tents, and fled away.

29 Neuerthelesse Ionathan and his company knew it not till the morning: for they saw the fires burning.

30 Then Jonathan followed vpon them, but he could not ouertake them: for they were gone ouer the flood Eleutherus.

31 So Jonathan turned to the Arabians, which were called Zabedei, and slew them, and tooke their spoile.

32 Hee proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thorow all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother went forth, & came to Afcalon, and to the next holds, departing vnto Ioppe, and warne it.

34 For hee heard that they would deliuer the hold to them that tooke Demetrius part: wherefore he set a garison there to keepe it.

35 ¶ After this came Jonathan home, & called the Elders of the people together, & deuised with them for to build vp the strong holds in Iudea.

36 And to make the walles of Ierusalem hier, and to make a great mount betwixt the castle and the cite, for to separate it from the cite: that it might bee alone, and that men should neither buy nor sell in it.

37 So they came together to build vp the city: for part of the wall vpon the brooke of the East side was fallen downe, and they repaired it, and called it Caphienatha.

38 Simon also set vp Adida in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and barres.

39 ¶ In the meane time Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, and to bee crowned when hee had slaine the king Antiochus.

40 But hee was afraid that Jonathan would not suffer him, but fight against him: wherefore he went about to take Jonathan, and to kill him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.

41 Then went Jonathan forth against him to the battell with forty thousand cholen men, and came vnto Bethsan.

42 But when Tryphon sawe that Jonathan came with so great an host, he durst not lay hand vpon him.

43 But receiued him honourably, and commended him vnto al his friends, and gaue him rewards, and commanded his men of warre to bee as obedient vnto him as to himselfe.

44 And said vnto Jonathan, Why hast thou caused this people to take such trauaile, seeing there is no warre betweene vs?

45 Therefore send them now home againe, and chuse certaine men to waite vpon thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais: for I will giue it thee, with the other strong holds, and the other garisons, and all them that haue the charge of the common affaires: so will I returne, and depart: for this is the cause of my comming.

46 Jonathan beleued him, and did as he said, and sent away his host, which went into the land of Iuda.

47 And retained but three thousand with him, whereof hee sent two thousand into Galile, and one thousand went with himselfe.

48 Now as soone as Jonathan entred into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, & tooke him, and slew all them with the sword, that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footemen, and horsemen into Galile, & into the great plain to destroy all Ionathans company.

50 But when they knewe that Jonathan was taken, and slaine, and those that were with him, they encouraged one another, and came forth against them ready to the battell.

51 But when they which followed vpon them, saw that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 By this meanes all they came into the land of Iuda peaceably, and bewailed Jonathan, and them that were with him, and feared greatly, and all Israel made great lamentation.

53 For all the heathen that were round about them, fought to destroy them.

54 For they said, Now haue they no captaine, nor any man to helpe them, therefore let vs now fight against them, and roote out their memorie from among men.

C H A P. XIII.

1 After Jonathan was taken, Simon is chosen captaine. 17 Tryphon saving his children, and money for the redemption of Jonathan, killeth him and his children. 31 Tryphon killeth Antiochus and possesseth the Realme. 36 Demetrius taketh truce with Simon. 43 Simon winneth Gaza. 50 He goeth to Ierusalem the tower of Sion. 53 He maketh his sonne Iohn captaine.

NOW when Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great host to come into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it,

2 And saw that the people was in great trembling and feare, he came vp to Ierusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gaue them exhortation, saying, Yee know what great things I, and my brethren, and my fathers house haue done for the Lawe and the Sanctuary, and the battels, and troubles that wee haue seene.

4 By reason whereof all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 Now therefore God forbid, that I should spare mine owne life in any time of trouble: for I am not better then my brethren.

6 But I will auenge my nation, and the Sanctuary, and our wines, and our children: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs of very malice.

7 In hearing these wordes, the hearts of the people were kindled.

8 So that they cryed with a lowde voyce, saying, Thou shalt be our captaine in stead of Iudas and Jonathan thy brethren.

9 Fight thou our battels, and whatsoeuer thou commandest vs, we will doe it.

10 ¶ So he gathered all the men of warre, making haste to finish the walles of Ierusalem, and fortified it round about.

11 Then sent he Jonathan the sonne of Abfalomus with a great hoste vnto Ioppe, which droue them out that were therein, and remained there himselfe.

12 Tryphon also remooued from Ptolemais with a great armie, to come into the land of Iuda, and Jonathan was with him as prisoner.

13 And Simon pitched his tents at Addidis vpon the open plaine.

14 But when Tryphon knewe that Simon stood vp in stead of his brother Jonathan, & that hee would fight against him, hee sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Whereas we haue kept Ionathas thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the Kings account concerning his busines that hee had in hand.

16 Wherefore send now an hundred talents of siluer, and his two sons, for hostage, that when hee is letten forth, he will not turne from vs, and we will send him againe.

17 Neuertheles Simon knew that he dissembled in his words, yet commaunded he the money, and children to be deliuered vnto him, least he should be in greater hatred of the people of Israel:

18 Who might haue said, Because he sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathan dead.

19 So he sent the children & an hundred talents: but he dissembled, and would not let Jonathan goe.

20 ¶ Afterward came Tryphon into the land to destroy it, and went round about by the way, that leadeth vnto Adora: but wheresoeuer they went, thither went Simon and his hoste.

21 Now they that were in the castle sent messengers vnto Tryphon that he should make haste to come by the wilderness, & to send them vitayles.

22 So Tryphon made ready all his horsemen: but the same night fell a very great snow, so that he came not because of the snow: but he remooued and went into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when he came neere to Bascama, he slew Jonathan, and he was buried there.

24 So Tryphon returned, and went into his owne land.

25 ¶ Then sent Simon to take the bones of Jonathan his brother, and they buried him in Modin his fathers citie.

26 And all Israel bewailed him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, a building hie to looke vnto, of hewen stone behind and before,

28 And set vp seuen pillars vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren,

29 And set great pillars round about them, and set armes vpon the pillars for a perpetual memory, & carued ships beside the armes, that they might be seene of men sailing in the sea.

30 This sepulchre which he made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day.

31 ¶ Now as Tryphon went forth with the yong king Antiochus, he slew him traiterously, 32 And reigned in his stead, & crowned himselfe king of Asia, and brought a great plague vpon the land.

33 Simon also built vp the castles of Iudea, and compassed them about with hie towers, and great walles, euen with towers, and gates, and barres, and laid vp vitayles in the strong holds.

34 Moreouer Simon chose certaine men & sent them to king Demetrius, that he would discharge the land for al Tryphons doings were robberies.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the king answered him, and wrote vnto him after this maner, 36 DEMETRIUS the king vnto Simon the hie Priest, and the friend of kings, and to the Elders and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

37 The golden crowne, and || precious stone that yee sent vnto vs, haue wee receiued, and are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, and to write vnto the officers to release you of the things wherein we made you free.

38 So the things that we haue graunted you, shall be stable: the strong holds which yee haue builded shall be your owne.

39 Also we forgiue the ouersights, and faults committed vnto this day, & the crowne taxe that ye ought vs: and whereas was any other tribute in Ierusalem, it shall be now no tribute.

40 And they that are mette among you to be written with our men, let them bee written vp, that there may be peace betwene vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Israel in the hundred and seuentie yeere.

42 And the people of Israel began to write in their letters, and publike instruments, IN THE FIRST yeere of Simon, the hie and chiefe Priest gouernour and prince of the Iewes.

43 In those dayes Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it round about, where hee set vp an engine of warre, and approached neere the city, and beat a tower, and tooke it.

44 So they that were in the engine, leapt into the city, and there was great trouble in the city.

45 Inasmuch that the people of the city rent their clothes, and climed vp vpon the wals with their wiues, and children, and cryed with a loude voyce, beseeching Simon to grant them peace, saying,

46 Deale not with vs according to our wickednesse, but according to thy mercy.

47 Then Simon pitied them, and would fight no more against them, but put them out of the citie, and cleansed the houses, wherein the idoles were, and so entred thereunto with Psalmes and thanksgiuing.

48 So when he had cast all the filthines out, he set such men in it as kept the Law, and fortified it, and builded there a dwelling place for himselfe.

49 Now when they in the castle at Ierusalem were kept, that they could not come forth, nor goe into the countrey, neither buy nor sell, they were very hungry, and many of them were famished to death,

50 Inasmuch that they besought Simon to make peace with them, which he granted them, and put them out from thence, and cleansed the castle from filthinesse.

51 And vpon the three and twenty day of the second moneth, in the hundred seuentie and one yeere, they entred into it with thanksgiuing, and branches of palme trees, and with harpes, and with cymbales, and with viols, & with Psalmes, and songs, because the great enemy of Israel was overcome.

52 And he ordained that the same day should be kept euery yeere with gladnesse.

53 And he fortified the mount of the Temple, that was beside the castle where he dwelt himself with his company.

54 Simon also seeing that Iohn his sonne was now a man, he made him captaine of al the hosts, and caused him to dwell in || Gazaris.

10r, Gaza.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Demetrius is overcome of Arsaces. 11 Simon being captaine where is great quietnesse in Israel. 18 The couenants of friendship with the Romanes and with the people of Sparta renewed.

IN the hundredth seuentie and two yeere gathered King Demetrius his hoste, & departed into Media, to get him help for to fight against Tryphon.

2 But when Arsaces the king of Persia and Media heard, that Demetrius was entred within his borders, hee sent one of his princes to take him aliue.

3 So he went, and ouercame the army of Demetrius, and tooke him, and brought him to Arsaces, which kept him in ward.

4 Thus all the land of Iuda was in rest, so long as Simon lined: for he sought the wealth of his nation, therefore they were glad to haue him for their ruler, and to do him worship alway.

5 Simon also wanne the city of Ioppe to his great honour to be an haven towne, and made it an entrance vnto the yles of the sea.

6 He enlarged also the borders of his people, and conquered the countreys.

7 Hee gathered vp many of their people that were prisoners, and he had the dominion of Gazaris, and Beth-sura, and the castle, which he clen- sed from filthinesse, and there was no man that resisted him.

8 So that every man tilled his ground in peace, and the land gaue her fruites, and the trees gaue their fruit.

9 The Elders sate in the open places, and con- sulted together for the common wealth, and the yong men were honourably clothed and armed.

10 He prouided vitayles for the cities, and all kind of munition, so that his glorious fame was renowned vnto the end of the world.

11 He made peace throughout the land, and Israel had perfect mirth and ioy.

12 For every man sate vnder his vine, and the figge trees, and there was no man to fray them.

13 There was none in the land to fight against them: for then the kings were ouercome.

14 He helped all those that were in aduersity among his people: he was diligent to see the Law kept, and he tooke away the vngodly, & wicked.

15 He beautified the Sanctuary, and increased the vessels of the Temple.

16 When the Romanes heard, and the Sparti- ans had knowledge, that Ionathan was dead, they were very fory.

17 But when they heard that Simon his bro- ther was made hie Priest in his stead, and how he had wonne the land againe with the cities in it.

18 They wrote vnto him in tables of bras- se, to renue the friendship, and bond of loue, which they had made with Iudas and Ionathan his bre- thren.

19 Which writings were read before the con- gregation at Ierusalem, and this is the copy of the letters that the Spartians sent,

20 THE SENATORS and city of Sparta vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the Elders, and to the Priests, and to the residue of the people of the Iewes their brethren, send greeting.

21 When your ambassadours that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your glory and honour, we were glad of their coming,

22 And haue registred their ambassage in the publike records in this maner, NUMENIVS the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Iason the Iewes ambassadours, came vnto vs to renue amitie with vs.

23 And it pleased the people that the men should be honourably intreated, and that the co- py of the ambassage should bee registred in the publike records, that it might be for a memorial vnto the people of Sparta: and a copy of the same was sent to Simon the chiefe Priest.

24 After this Simon sent Numenius to Rome, with a great shield of golde of a thousand pound weight, to confirme the friendship with them.

25 Which when the people vnderstood, they said, What thanks shall we recompense againe vnto Simon and his child: en?

26 For he and his brethren; and the house of his father haue established Israel, and ouercome their enemies, and haue confirmed the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of bras- se, and set it vpon pillars in mount Zion.

27 The copy of the writing is this, In the eight and twenty day of the moneth Elul in the hun- dredth seuenthy and two yeere, in the third yeere of Simon the hie Priest.

28 In ¶ Saramel in the great congregation of the Priests, and of the people, and of the gouer- nours of the nation, & of the Elders of the coun- trey, we would signifie vnto you, that many bat- tles haue bene fought in our countrey.

29 Wherin Simon the son of Mattathias (come of the children of Iarib) & his brethren put them selues in danger, and resisted the enemies of their nation, that their Sanctuary, and Law might bee maintained, and did their nation great honour.

30 For Ionathan gathered his nation toge- ther, and became their hie Priest, and is laid with his people.

31 After that would their enemies haue inua- ded their countrey, and destroyed their land, and lay their hands on their Sanctuary.

32 Then Simon resisted them, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, & gaue them wages.

33 He fortified also the cities of Iudea, and Beth-sura that lieth vpon the borders of Iudea, (where the ordinance of their enemies lay some- time) and set there a garison of the Iewes.

34 And he fortified Ioppe, which lieth vpon the sea, and ¶ Gazara, that bordereth vpon Azotus, (where the enemies dwelt afore) and there he placed Iewes, and furnished them with things ne- cessary for the reparation thereof.

35 Now when the people saw the faithfulness of Simon, and to what glory he thought to bring his nation vnto, they made him their gouernour, and the chiefe Priest, because hee had done all these things, and for the vprightnesse, and fidelity that he had kept to his nation, and that sought by all meanes to exalt his people.

36 For in his time they prospered wel by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their coun- trey, and they also which were in the city of Da- uid, at Ierusalem, where they had made them a castle, out of the which they went, and desiled all things that were about the Sanctuary, and did great hurt vnto religion.

37 And he set Iewes in it, and fortified it for the assurance of the land, and citie, and raised vp the wallles of Ierusalem.

38 And King Demetrius confirmed him in his hie Priesthood for these causes, 39 And made him one of his friends, and gaue him great honour.

40 For it was reported that ¶ Romanes called the Iewes their friends, & confederates, and that they honourably receiued Simons ambassadours.

41 And that the Iewes, and Priests consented, that Simon should be their Prince, and hie Priest perpenually, till God raised vp the true Prophet.

42 And that he should be their captaine, and haue the charge of the Sanctuary, and so set men ouer the workes, and ouer the countrey, and ouer the weapons, and ouer the fortresses, and that should make prouision for the holy things,

43 And that he should be obeyed of euery man, and that all the writings in the countrey should be made in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and weare gold,

44 And that it should not be lawfull for any of the people or Priestes to breake any of these things, or to withstand his words, or to call any congregation in the countrey without him, or be clothed in purple, or weare a collor of gold:

45 And if any did contrary to these things, or brake any of them, hee should be punished.

46 So it pleased all the people to agree that it should be done to Simon according vnto these words.

47 Simon also accepted it, and was content to be the hie Priest, and the capitaine, and the prince of the Iewes, and of the Priestes, and to be the chiefe of all.

48 And they commanded to set vp this writing in tables of brasse, and to fasten it to the wall that compassed the Sanctuary in an open place,

49 And that a copie of the same should be laid vp in the tresurie, that Simon and his sonnes might haue it.

CHAP. XV.

1 Antiochus maketh a covenant of friendship with Simon. 11 Tryphon is purged. 15 The Romanes write letters vnto kings and nations in the defence of the Iewes. 27 Antiochus refusing the helpe that Simon sent him, breaketh his covenant.

Moreouer king Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius sent letters from the yles of the Sea vnto Simon the Priest, and prince of the Iewes, and to all the nation,

2 Conteyning these words, ANTIOCHVS the king vnto Simon the great Priest, and to the nation of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

3 For so much as certaine pestilent men haue vnturped the kingdome of our fathers, I am purposed to challenge the Realme againe, and to restore it to the olde estate: wherefore I haue gathered a great hoste, and prepared ships of warre,

4 That I may goe thorow the countrey, and beaueged of them, which haue destroyed our country, and wasted many cities in the Realme.

5 Now therefore I doe confirme vnto thee all the liberties whereof all the kings my progenitors haue discharged thee, and all the paiments, whereof they haue released thee.

6 And I giue thee leaue to coyne money of thine owne stampe within thy countrey,

7 And that Ierusalem, and the Sanctuarie bee free, and that all the weapons that thou hast prepared, and the fortresse, which thou hast builded, and keepest in thine hands, shall be thine.

8 And all that is due vnto the king, and all that shall be due vnto the king, I forgiue it thee, from this time forth for euermore.

9 And when we haue obtained our kingdom, we will giue thee, and thy nation and the Temple great honour, so that your honour shall be known throughout the world.

10 ¶ In the hundreth seuentie and foure yeere, went Antiochus into his fathers land, and all the bands came together vnto him, so that fewe were left with Tryphon.

11 So the king Antiochus pursued him, but he fledde, and came to Dora, which lyeth by the Sea side.

12 For he saw that troubles were toward him, and that the armie had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Dora with an hundreth and twentie thousand fighting men, and eight thousand horsemen.

14 So hee compassed the citie about, and the ships came by the sea. Thus they pressed the citie by land and by sea, in so much that they suffered no man to goe in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Numenius, and his companie from Rome, hauing letters writtea vnto the kings and countreys, wherein were contained these words.

16 LVCIVS the Consull of Rome vnto king Ptolemeus sendeth greeting.

17 The Ambassadors of the Iewes are come vnto vs as our friends and confederates from Simon the high Priest, and from the people of the Iewes to renew friendship, and the bond of loue, 18 Who haue brought a shield of golde weighing a thousand pound.

19 Wherefore wee thought it good to write vnto the kings & countreys, that they should not go about to hurt them, nor to fight against them, nor their cities, nor their countrey, neither to maintaine their enemies against them.

20 And wee were content to receiue of them the shield.

21 If therefore there be any pestilent fellows fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the high Priest, that hee may punish them according to their owne law.

22 The same things were written to Demetrius the king, and to Attalus, and to Arathes, and to Arfices,

23 And to all the countreys, as || Samphames, and to them of Sparta, and to || Delus, & to || Mindus, and to Sycion, and to Caria, and to Samos, and to Pamphylia, and to Lyfia, and to Halicarnassus, and to Rhodus, and to Phaselis, and to Coos, and to Siden, and to Cortina, and to Gnidon, and to Cyprus, and to Cyrene.

24 And they sent a copie of them to Simon the high Priest.

25 So Antiochus the king camped against Dora the second time, euer ready to take it, and made diuers engines of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that he could neither goe in nor out.

26 Then Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to helpe him, with siluer and golde, and much furniture.

27 Neuertheless, he would not receiue them, but brake all the covenant, which hee had made with him afore, and withdrew himselfe from him.

28 And sent vnto him Athenobius one of his friends to commune with him, saying, Yee withhold Ioppe, and Gazara, with the castles that is at Ierusalem, the citie of my Realme.

29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed & done great hurt in the land, and haue the gouernment of many places of my kingdom.

30 Wherefore now deliuer the cities, which yee haue taken, with the tribute of the places, that yee haue rule ouer, without the borders of Iudea.

31 Or else giue mee for them fiftie hundreth talents of siluer, and for the harme that yee haue done, and for the tributes of the places other fiftie hundreth talents: If not, we will come, and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the kings friend came to Ierusalem, and when he saw the honor of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and siluer plate, and so great preparation, hee was astonished, and tolde him the kings message.

33 Then answered Simon, & said vnto him, We haue have neither taken other mens lands, nor withholden that which appertaineth to others: but our fathers heritage which our enemies had vnrighteously in possession a certaine time.

34 But when we had occasion, wee recovered the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And whereas thou requirest Toppe and Gazara, they did great harme to our people, and thorow our country, yet wil we giue an hundred talents for them. But Athenobius answered him not one word.

36 But turned againe angrie vnto the king, and told him all these words, and the dignitie of Simon, with all that he had seene: and the King was very angry.

37 ¶ In the meane time fled Tryphon by ship vnto Orthofias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captaine of the sea coast, and gaue him bands of footmen, and horsemen.

39 And commanded him to remoue the hoste toward Iudea, and to build vp Cedron, and to fortifie the gates, and to warre against the people: but the king pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Tannia, and began to vex the people, and to invade Iudea, and to take the people prisoners, and to slay them.

41 And hee built vp Cedron, where hee set horsemen and garisons, that they might make outrodes by the wayes of Iudea, as the king had commanded him.

¶ Then came Iohn vp from Gazara, and told Simon his father, what Cendebeus had done.

2 So Simon called two of his eldest sonnes, Iudas and Iohn, and sayd vnto them, I, and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vnto this day fought against the enemies of Israel, & the matters haue had good successe vnder our hands, and wee haue deliuered Israel oftentimes.

3 But I am now olde, and yee by Gods mercy are of a sufficient age: be ye therefore in stead of me and my brother, and goe forth and fight for our nation, and the helpe of heauen be with you.

4 So he chose twentie thousand fighting men of the countrey with the horsemen, which went forth against Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.

5 In the morning they arose, and went into the plaine field: and behold, a mighty great hoste came against them both of footmen, and horsemen: but there was a riuer betwixt them.

6 And Iohn ranged his armie ouer against him, and when hee sawe that the people was afraid to goe ouer the riuer, hee went ouer first himselfe, and the men seeing him passed through after him.

7 Then he diuided his men, and set the horsemen in the middes of the footmen.

8 For their enemies horsemen were very many: but when they blew the trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his hoste, whereof many were slaine, and the remnant gate them to the fortreffe.

9 Then was Iudas Iohns brother wounded: but Iohn followed after them, til hee came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had built.

10 Also they fled vnto the towers, that were in the fields of Azotus, and those did Iohn burne with fire: thus were there slaine two thousand men of them: so hee returned peaceably into the land of Iuda.

11 ¶ Now in the field of Iericho was Ptolemeus the sonne of Abubus made captaine, and he had abundance of siluer and gold.

12 (For he had married the daughter of the high Priest.)

13 Therefore he waxed proud in his mind, and thought to rule the land, and thought to slay Simon and his sonnes by deceit.

14 Now as Simon went about thorow the cities of the countrey, & studied carefully for them, he came downe to Iericho with Mattathias, and Iudas his sonnes in the hundredth seuentie and seuen yeere, in the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth Sabat.

15 Then the sonne of Abubus received them by treason into a litle hold, called Doctus, which he had built, where hee made them a great banquet, and had hid men there.

16 So when Simon and his sonnes had made good cheere, Ptolemeus flood vp with his men and tooke their weapons, and entred in to Simon in the banquet house, and slew him with his two sonnes, and certaine of his seruants.

17 Whereby hee committed a great villenie, and recompensed euill for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolemeus these things and sent to the king, that he might send him an hoste to helpe him, and so would deliuer him the countrey with the cities.

19 Hee sent other men also vnto Gazara, to take Iohn, and sent letters vnto the captaines to come to him, and he would giue them siluer, and gold and rewards.

20 And to Ierusalem he sent othe to take it, and the mountaine of the Temple.

21 But one ran before, and told Iohn in Gazara, that his father, and his brethren were slaine, and that Ptolemeus had sent to slay him.

22 When hee heard this, he was for astonish- ed, and layde hands on them that were come to slay him, and slew them: for hee knew that they went about to kill him.

23 Concerning other things of Iohn, both of his warres, and of his noble actes (wherein he behaved himselfe manfully) of the building of wals which he made, and other of his deedes, 24 Behold they are written in the Chronicles of his Priesthood, from the time that he was made high Priest after his father.

THE

THE SECOND BOOKE OF THE MACCABEES.

CHAP. I.

An Epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Ierusalem sent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhort them to give thanks for the birth of Antiochus. 19. Of the fire that was kindled in the pit. 24. The prayer of Neemias.

He brethren the Iewes which be at Ierusalem, and they that are in the country of Iudea, vnto the brethren the Iewes, that are thoroughout Egypt, send salutation and prosperitie.

2 God be gracious vnto you, and remember his couenant made with Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob his faithfull seruants,

3 And giue you all an heart to worship him, and to doe his will with a whole heart, and with a willing minde,

4 And open your hearts in his Law, and commandments, and send you peace,

5 And heare your prayers, and be reconciled with you, & neuer forsake you in time of trouble.

6 Thus now we pray here for you.

7 When Demetrius reigned, in the hundredth threescore and ninth yeere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs in those yeeres, after that Iason and his company departed out of the holy land and kingdome,

8 And burnt the porch, and shed innocent blood: Then we prayed vnto the Lord, and were heard: we offered sacrifices and fine flowre, and lighted the lamps, and set forth the bread.

9 Now therefore keepe yee the dayes of the feast of the Tabernacles in the moneth Chasleu.

10 ¶ In the hundredth fourescore and eight yeere, the people that was at Ierusalem & in Iudea, and the Councell & Iudas, vnto Aristobulus king Ptolomeus master, which is of the stocke of the anoynted Priests, and to the Iewes that are in Egypt, sendeth greeting and health.

11 In so much as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, as though we had ouercome the king.

12 For he brought them into Persia by heaps, that fought against the holy citie.

13 For albeit the captaine, and the armie that was with him, seemed inuincible, yet they were slaine in the Temple of Nanea, by the deceit of Naneas Priests.

14 For Antiochus, as though he would dwell with her, came thither, he, & his friends with him to receiue money vnder the title of a dowrie.

15 But when the Priests of Nanea had laid it forth, and he was entred with a small companie within the Temple, they shut the Temple, when Antiochus was come in.

16 And by opening a priuy doore of the vault, they cast stones as it were thunder, vpon the captaine and his, and hauing braised them in pieces, they cut off their heads and threwe them to those that were without.

17 God be blessed in all things, which hath deliuered vp the wicked.

18 Whereas we are now purposed to keepe the purification of the Temple vpon the five & twentieth day of the moneth Chasleu, we thought it necessarie to certifie you thereof, that ye also might keepe the feast of the Tabernacles, and of the fire which was giuen vs when Neemias offered sacrifice after that he had built the Temple, and the altar.

19 For when as our fathers were led away vnto Persia, the Priests which sought the honour of God, tooke the * fire of the altar priuily, and hid it in an hollow pit, which was drie in the bottom, and therein they kept it, so that the place was vnknown vnto euery man.

* Leuit 6. 13. and 10. 2. and 16. 12.

20 Now after many yeeres when it pleased God that Neemias should bee sent from the king of Persia, he sent of the posterity of those Priests, which had hid it to fetch the fire, and as they told vs, they found no fire, but thicke water.

21 Then commanded he them to draw it vp, and to bring it, and when the things appertaining to the sacrifices were brought, Neemias commanded the Priests to sprinkle the wood, and the things laid thereupon with water.

22 When this was done, and that the time came that the sunne shone, which afore was hid in the cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that euery man marueiled.

23 Now the Priests and all prayed, while the sacrifice was consuming. Ionathan began, and the other answered thereunto.

24 And the prayer of Neemias was after this manner, O Lord, Lord God maker of all things, which art fearefull, and strong, and righteous, and mercifull, and the onely and gracious King,

25 Only liberall, only iust and Almighty, and euerlasting, thou y deliuerest Israel from all trouble, & hast chosen the fathers, and sanctified them,

26 Receiue the sacrifice for the whole people of Israel, and preserue thine owne portion, and sanctifie it.

27 Gather those together y are scattered from vs: deliuer those that serue among the heathen, looke vpon them which are despised & abhorred, that y heathen may know that thou art our God:

28 Punish them that oppresse vs, and with pride doe vs wrong.

29 Plant thy people againe in thine holy place, as * Moyses hath spoken.

* Deut 30. 3.

30 And the Priests sang Psalmes thereunto.

31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Neemias commanded the great stones to be sprinkled with the residue of the water.

32 Which when it was done, there was kindled a flame, which was consumed by the light that shined from the altar.

33 ¶ So when this matter was knowen, it was tolde the king of Persia, that in the place where the Priests, which were ledde away, had hid fire, there appeared water, wherewith Neemias and his company had purified the sacrifices.

34 The king tried out the thing, and closed the place about, and made it holy.

35 And to them that the king fauoured, hee gaue and bestowed many gifts.

36 And Neemias called the same place Ephthar, which is to say, Purification: but many men call it Nephthar.

a That is to say, a shining, it is also called Nephthar, which is a cleansing.

CHAP. II.

How Ieremias hid the Tabernacle, the Arke and the Altar in the hill. 23. Of the fine bookes of Iason contained in one.

It is found also in the writings of Ieremias the Prophet, that he commanded them which were caried away, to take fire as was declared, and as the Prophet commanded them that were ledde into captiuitie,

2 *Giuing them a lawe that they should not forget the commandements of the Lord, and that they should not erre in their minds, whe they saw images of gold and siluer, with their ornaments.

3 These and such other things commaunded he them, and exhorted them that they should not let the Law goe out of their hearts.

4 It is written also, how the Prophet by an oracle that he had, charged them to take the Tabernacle and the Arke, and followe him: and when he came vp into the mountain where Moy-ses went vp,* and saw the heritage of God,

5 Ieremias went forth and found an hollow caue, wherein he laid the Tabernacle & the Arke, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the doore.

6 And there came certaine of those that fol- lowed him to marke the place: but they could not finde it.

7 Which when Ieremias perceiued, he repro- ued them, saying, As for that place, it shall be vn- known, vntill the time that God gather his peo- ple together againe, and that mercie be shewed.

8 Then shal the Lord shew them these things, and the maiestie of the Lord shal appeare, and the cloud also, as it was shewed vnder Moy- ses, and as
* when Salomon desired, that the place might be honourably sanctified.

9 For it is manifest that he, being a wise man offered the *sacrifice of dedication, and consecra- tion of the Temple.

10 * And as when Moy- ses prayed vnto the Lord, the fire came downe from heauen, and con- sumed the sacrifice: so, when Salomon prayed, * the fire came down from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering.

11 And Moy- ses said, Because the suins-offring was not eaten, therefore is it consumed.

12 So Salomon kept those eight dayes.

13 These things also are declared in *writings and registers of || Neemias, and how he made a li- brary, and how he gathered the acts of the kings, and of the Prophets, & the acts of Dauid, and the epistles of the kings, concerning the holy gifts.

14 Euen so Iudas also gathered al things that came to passe by the warres that were among vs, which things we haue.

15 Wherefore if yee haue neede thereof, send some to fetch them vnto you.

16 Whereas wee then are about to celebrate the purification, wee haue written vnto you, and ye shall doe well if ye keepe the same dayes.

17 We hope also that the God, which deliue- red all his people, and gaue an heritage to them all and the kingdom, and the Priesthood, and the Sanctuarie,

18 *As he promised in § Law, wil shortly haue mercy vpon vs, & gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holy place: for hee hath saued vs from great perils, and hath clen- sed the place.

19 As concerning Iudas Maccabeus, and his brethren, the purification of the great Temple, and the dedication of the altar,

20 And the warres against Antiochus Epi- phanes and Eupator his sonne,

21 And the manifest signes that came from heauen vnto those, which manfully stood for the Iewes religion: (for though they were but fewe, yet they ranne thorow whole countreys, and pur- sued the barbarous armies, 22 And repaired the Temple that was renow- med throughout all the world, and deliuered the citie, and established the Lawes, that were like to be abolished, because the Lord was merciful vnto them with all lenitie)

23 Wee will assaye to abridge in one volume those things, that Iason the Cyrenian hath decla- red in fine bookes.

24 For considering the wonderfull number, and the difficultie that they haue that would bee occupied in the rehearsal of stories, because of the diuersitie of the matters,

25 We haue endeouored, that they that would reade, might haue pleasure, and that they which are studious, might easily keepe them in memory, and that whosoever read them, might haue profit.

26 Therefore to vs that haue taken in hand this great labour, it was no easie thing to make this abridgement, but required both sweate and watching.

27 Like as he that maketh a feast, and seeketh other mens commoditie, hath no small labour: so wee also for many mens sakes are very well con- tent to vndertake this great labour.

28 Leauing to the author the exact diligence of euery particular, we will labor to go forward ac- cording to the prescript order of an abridgement.

29 For as he that wil build a new house, must prouide for § whole building, but he that setteth out the plat, or goeth about to paint it, seeketh but onely what is comely for the decking therof:

30 Euen so I thinke for vs, that it appertaineth to the first writer of a storie to enter deeply into it, and to make mention of all things, and to bee curious in euery part:

31 But it is permitted to him that will shor- ten it, to vse few words, and to auoid those things that are curious therein.

32 Here then will we begin the story, adding thus much to our former wordes, that it is but a foolish thing to abound in wordes before the sto- rie, and to be short in the story.

CHAP. III.

2 Of the honour done vnto the Temple by the kings of the Gentiles
6 Simon treasurer whos treasures in the Temple. 7 Heliodorus is sent to take them away. 26 He is stricken of God and healed as the prayer of Onias.

VVhat time as the holy citie was inhabited with all peace, and when the Lawes were very well kept, because of the godlinesse of Onias the high Priest, and hatred of wickednesse,

2 It came to passe that euen the kings did ho- nour that place, and garnished the Temple with great gifts.

3 Insomuch that Seleucus king of Asia of his owne rents, bare all the costes belonging to the seruice of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin be- ing appointed ruler of the Temple, contended with the high Priest concerning the || iniquitie committed in the citie.

5 And when hee could not ouercome Onias, hee gate him to Apollonius the sonne of Thrase- as, which then was gouernour of Cælosyria and Phenice,

6 And tolde him that the treasure in Ierusa- lem was ful of innumerable money, which did not belong to the prouision of his sacrifices, and that it were possible that these things might come into the kings hands.

7 Nowe when Apollonius came to the king, and had shewed him of the money, as it was told him, the king chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commaundement, to bring him the foresaid money.

8 Immediately Heliodorus took his journey as though hee would visit the cities of Cælosyria & Phenice, but in effect to fulfill the kings purpose.

9 So when hee came to Ierusalem, and was courteously receiued of the hie Priest into the citie, he declared what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his coming, and asked if these things were so indeed.

10 Then the hie Priest told him that there were such things laid vp by the widowes and fatherles,

11 And that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias a noble man, and not as that wicked Simon had reported, and that in all, there were but foure hundred talents of silver, and two hundred of gold,

12 And that it were altogether impossible to doe this wrong to them that had committed it of trust to the holinesse of the place and Temple, which is honoured thorow the whole world for holinesse and integritie.

13 But Heliodorus because of the kings commaundement giuen him, said that in any wise it must be brought into the kings treasure.

14 So he appointed a day, and went in to take order for these things: then there was no small grieffe throughout the whole citie.

15 For the Priests fel down before the altar in the Priests garments, & called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a law concerning things giuen to be kept, that they should bee safely preferred for such as had committed them to be kept.

16 Then they that looked the hie Priest in the face, were wounded in their heart: for his countenance, and the changing of his colour declared the sorow of his mind.

17 The man was so wraped in feare and trembling of the body, that it was manifest to the that looked vpon him, what sorow he had in his heart.

18 Others also came out of their houses by heaps vnto the common prair, because the place was like to come vnto contempt.

19 And the women girt with sackcloth vnder their breasts, filled the streets, and the virgins that were kept in, ran some to the gates, and some to the wals, and others looked out of the windowes

20 And al held vp their hands toward heauen, and made prayer.

21 It was a lamentable thing to see the multitude that fell downe of all forts, and the expectation of the hie Priest beeing in such anguish.

22 Therefore they called vpon the Almighty Lord, that hee would keepe safe and sure the things, which were laide vp for those that had deliuered them.

23 Neuerthelesse the thing that Heliodorus was determined to do, that did he performe.

24 And as he and his souldiers were now there present by the treasure, he that is the Lord of the spirits, and of all power, shewed a great vision, so that all they which presumed to come with him, were astonished at the power of God, and fel into feare and trembling.

25 For there appeared vnto them an horse with a terrible man sitting vpon him, most richly barbed, and hee ran fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat vpon the horse, had harness of gold.

26 Moreover there appeared two yong men, notable in strength, excellent in beauty, and comely in apparell, which stood by him on either side, and scourged him continually, and gaue him many sore stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fel suddenly vnto the ground, & was couered with great darknes: but they that were with him, took him vp, & put him in a litter

28 Thus he that came with so great company, & many souldiers into the said treasury, was borne out: for hee could not helpe himselfe with his weapons.

29 So they did know the power of God manifestly, but he was dumbe by the power of God, and lay destitute of all hope and health.

30 And they praised the Lord that had honoured his own place: for the Temple which is a little afore was full of feare & trouble, when the almighty Lord appeared, was filled with ioy & gladnes.

31 Then straighwayes certaine of Heliodorus friends prayed Onias, that he would call vpon the most High to grant him his life, which lay ready to giue vp the ghost.

32 So the hie Priest, considering that the king might suspect that the Iewes had done Heliodorus some euill, he offered a sacrifice for the health of the man.

a In working some trecherie or forcerie against him.

33 Now when the high Priest had made his prayer, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared and stood before Heliodorus, saying, Giue Onias the hie Priest great thanks: for, for his sake hath the Lord granted thee life:

34 And seeing that thou hast bene scourged from heauen, declare vnto all men the mightie power of God: and when they had spoken these words, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto the Lord sacrifice, and made great vowes vnto him, which had granted him his life, and thanked Onias, and went againe with his hoste to the king.

36 Then testified he vnto euery man of the great works of God that he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who were meete to be sent yet once againe to Ierusalem, he said,

38 If thou hast any enemie or traitour, send him thither, & thou shalt receiue him well scourged if he escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is a speciall power of God.

39 For hee that dwelleth in heauen, hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it, and he beateth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 This came to passe concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasury.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Simon repaireth euill of Onias. 7 Iason obtaiue the office of the high Priest by corrupting the kyng. 27 And was by Menelaus de franded by like bribing. 34 Onias is slaine traitorously by Antiochus.

This Simon now, of whom we spake afore, being a bewrayer of the money and of his own natural coutrie, reported euill of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and had bene the inuenter of the euill.

2 Thus was hee bold to call him a traytor: that was so beneficiall to the citie, and a defender of his nation, and so zealous of the Lawes.

3 But when his malice increased so farr, that through one that belonged to Simon, murders were were committed,

4 Onias considering the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as hee that was the gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice, did rage, and increased Simons malice,

5 Hee went to the king not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that intended the common wealth both priuately and publikely.

6 For hee sawe it was not possible except the king tooke order, to quiet the matters, and that Simon would not leaue off his follie.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus called Epiphanes, tooke the kingdome, Iason the brother of Onias laboured by vnlawfull meanes to be high Priest.

8 For hee came vnto the king, and promised him three hundredth and threescore talents of siluer, and of another rent fourescore talents.

9 Besides this, hee promised him an hundredth and fifty, if he might haue license to set vp a place for exercise, and a place for the youth, & that they would name them of Ierusalem, Antiochians,

10 The which thing when the king had granted, and hee had gotten the superioritie, he began immediately to draw his kinsmen to the customs of the Gentiles,

11 And abolished the friendly priuiledges of the kings, that the Iewes had set vp by Iohn the father of Enpolemus, which was sent ambassador vnto Rome, to become friends and confederates: he put downe their lawes & policies, and brought vp new statutes, and contrary to the Law.

12 For hee presumed to build a place for exercise vnder the castle, and brought the chiefe yong men vnder his subiection, and made them weare hats.

13 So there began a great desire to follow the manners of the Gentiles, and they tooke vp the fashions of strange nations by the exceeding wickednesse of Iason, not the high Priest, but the vngodly person,

14 So that the Priests were now no more diligent about the seruice of the altar, but despised the Temple, and regarded not the sacrifices, but made haste to bee partakers of the wicked expenses at the play, after the casting of the stone.

15 For they did not set by the honour of their fathers, but liked the glory of the Gentiles best of all.

16 By reason whereof great calamitie came vpon them: for they had them to bee their enemies and punishers, whose custome they followed so earnestly, & desired to be like them in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to transgresse against the Lawes of God, but the time following shall declare these things.

18 ¶ Nowe when the games that were vsed euery five yeere, were played at Tyrus, the king being present,

19 This wicked Iason sent from Ierusalem men to looke vpon them, as though they had ben Antiochians, which brought three hundreddrachmes of siluer for a sacrifice to Hercules: albeit they that caried them, desired they might not be bestowed on the sacrifice (because it was not comely) but to be bestowed for other expences.

20 So he that sent them, sent them for the sacrifice of Hercules: but because of those that brought them, they were giuen to the making of gallies.

21 ¶ Now Apollonius the sonne of Menestheus was sent into Egypt because of the coronation of king Ptolemies Philometor: but when Antiochus perceived that he was euil affectioned toward his affaires, he fought his owne assurance, & departed from thence to loppe, and so came to Ierusalem, 22 Where hee was honourably receiued of Iason, and of the citie, and was brought in with torchlight, and with great shoutings, and so hee went with his host vnto Phenice.

23 Three yeere afterward Iason sent Menelaus the foresaid Simons brother, to beare the money vnto the king, and to bring to passe certaine necessary affaires, whereof hee had giuen him a memoriall.

24 But he, being comended to the king, magnified him for the appearance of his power, and turned the Priesthood vnto himselfe: for he gaue three hundredth talents of siluer more then Iason.

25 So he gate the kings letters patents, albeit hee had nothing in himselfe worthy of the his Priesthood, but bare the stomacke of a cruell tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde beast.

26 Then Iason which had deceiued his owne brother, being deceiued by another, was compelled to flee into the countrey of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus gate the dominion: but as for the money that hee had promised vnto the king, he tooke none order for it, albeit Sosstratus the ruler of the castle required it.

28 For vnto him appertained the gathering of the customes: wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Now Menelaus left his brother Lyfimachus in his stead in the Priesthood, and Sosstratus left Crates which was gouernour of the Cyprians.

30 ¶ Whiles these things were in doing, the Thasians and they of Mallot made insurrection, because they were giuen to the kings concubine called Antiochis.

31 Then came the king in all haste to appease the businesse, leauing Andronicus a man of authoritie to be his lieutenant.

32 Now Menelaus supposing that he had gotten a conuenient time, stole certaine vessels of gold out of the Temple, and gaue certaine of them to Andronicus: and some hee solde at Tyrus and in the cities thereby.

33 Which when Onias knew of a surety, hee reprovved him, and withdrew himselfe into a Sanctuary at Daphne by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to slay Onias: so when he came to Onias, hee counselled him craftily, giuing him his right hand with an othe: (howbeit he suspected him, and perswaded him to come out of the Sanctuary) so he slew him incontinently without any regard of righteousnesse.

35 For the which cause not only the Iewes, but many other nations also were grieved, and tooke it heauily for the vnrightheous death of this man.

36 ¶ And when the king was come againe from the places about Cilicia, the Iewes that were in the city, and certaine of the Greekes that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slaine without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was sorry in his mind, and he had compassion, and wept because of the modesty & great discretion of him that was dead.

38 Wherefore being kindled with anger, hee took away Andronicus garment of purple, & rent his clothes, & commanded him to be led thorough our the city, and in the same place where hee had committed committed the wickednesse against Onias, he was slaine as a nurtherer. Thus the Lorde rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserued.

39 ¶ Now when Lyfimachus had done many wicked deedes in the citie through the counsell of Menelaus, & the bruit was spread abroad, the multitude gathered the together against Lyfimachus: for he had caried out much vessel of gold.

40 And when the people arose, and were full of anger, Lyfimachus armed about threethousand and began to vse vnlawfull power, a certaine tyrant being their captaine, who was no lesse decayed in wicthen in age.

41 But when they vnderstood the purpose of Lyfimachus, some gate stones, some great clubs, and some cast handfulls of dust which lay by, vpon Lyfimachus men, & those that iquaded them.

42 Whereby many of them were wounded, some were slaine, and all the other chased away: but the wicked Church-robber himselfe they killed besides the treasure.

43 For these causes an accusation was laid against Menelaus.

44 And when the king came to Tyrus, three men sent from the Senate pleaded the cause before him.

45 But Menelaus being now conuicted, promised to Ptolemus the sonne of Dorimenes much money if he would perswade the king.

46 So Ptolemus went to the king into a court, whereas he was to coole himselfe, and turned the kings minde,

47 In so much that hee discharged Menelaus from the accusation (notwithstanding he was the cause of all mischiefe) & condemned those poore men to death, which if they had told their cause, yea, before the Scythians, they should haue bene heard as innocent.

48 Thus were they soone punished vniustly, which followed vpon the matter for the city, and for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they of Tyrus hated that wickednesse, and ministred all things liberally for their buriall.

50 And so through the couetousnesse of them that were in power, Menelaus remained in authoritie, increasing in malice, and declared himselfe a great traitour to the citizens.

CHAP. V.

2 Of the signes and tokens seene in Ierusalem. 6 Of the end and wickednesse of Iason. 11 The pursuit of Antiochus against the Jews. 15 The spoiling of the Temple. 27 Maccabees flee into the wilderness.

About the same time Antiochus vnderooke his second voyage into Egypt.

2 And then there were seene throughout all the citie of Ierusalem, fourtie dayes long, horsemen running in the ayre, with robes of gold, and as bands of spearmen,

3 And as troupes of horsemen set in aray, encountering & coursing one against another with shaking of shields and multitude of darts, and drawing off swords, and shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour seene, and harness of all sort.

4 Therefore every man prayed that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bene dead, Iason took at the least a thousand men, & came suddenly vpon the city, & they that were vpon the wals, being put backe, and the citie at length taken,

6 Menelaus fled into the castle, but Iason slew his own citizens without mercie, not considering that to haue the aduantage against his kinsmen, is greatest disadvantage, but thought that he had gotten the victorie of his enemies, and not of his owne nation.

7 Yet he gat not the superiority, but at the last receiued shame for the reward of his treason, and went againe like a vagabond into the country of the Ammonites.

8 Finally hee had this end of his wicked conuersation, that hee was accused before Areta the king of the Arabians, and fled from citie to citie, being pursued of euery man, and hated as a forsaker of the Lawes, and was in abomination, as an enemy of his country and citizens, and was driven into Egypt.

9 Thus he that had chased many out of their owne country, perished as a banished man, after that he was gon to the Lacedemonians, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kinred.

10 And hee that had cast many out vnburi'd, was throwen out himselfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: neither was he partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 ¶ Now when these things that were done, were declared to the king, he thought that Iudea would haue fallen from him: wherefore he came with a furious minde out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence.

12 He commanded his men of warre also, that they should kill, and not spare such as they met, and to slay such as went into their houses.

13 Thus was there a slaughter of young men, and olde men, and a destruction of men and women, and children, and virgins, and infants were murdered:

14 So that within three daies were slaine fourescore thousand, and fourtie thousand taken prisoners, and there were as many sold as were slaine.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but durst goe into the most holy Temple of all the world, hauing Menelaus that traitour to the Lawes, and to his owne country, to be his guide,

16 And with his wicked hands tooke the holy vessels, which others kings had giuen for the garnishing, glory and honour of that place, and handled them with his wicked hands.

17 So haucie in his miud was Antiochus, that he considered not, that God was not a litle wroth for the finnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for the which such contempt came vpon that place.

18 For if they had not bene wrapped in many finnes, hee, as soone as hee had come, had suddenly bene punished, and put backe from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to view the treasure.

19 But God hath not chosen the nation for the places sake, but the place for the nations sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterward shall it bee partaker of the benefits of the Lord, and as it is now forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, so when the great Lord shall be reconciled, it shall be set vp in great worship againe.

21 ¶ So when Antiochus had taken eighteene hundred talents out of the Temple, hee gate him to Antiochia in all haste, thinking in his pride to make men faile vpon the drie land, and to walke vpon the sea, such an high mind had he.

22 But he left deputies to vex the people at Ierusalem.

rusalem Philip a Phrygian by birth, in manners more cruell then he that set him there:

23 And at Garizin Andronicus, and with them Menelaus, which was more grienous vnto the citizens then the other, and was despirefull against the Iewes his citizens.

24 He sent also Apollonius a cruel prince with an armie of two and twentie thousand, whom he commanded to slay those that were toward mans age, and to sell the women and the yonger sort.

25 So when hee came to Ierusalem, hee fained peace, & kept him still vnto the holy day of Sabbath: and then finding the Iewes keeping y feast, he commanded his men to take their weapons.

26 And so he slew al them that were gone forth to the shew, and running through the citie with his men armed, he murdered a great number.

27 But Iudas Maccabeus being as it were the tenth, fled into the wildernes, & liued there in the mountaines with his company among the beasts, and dwelling there, and eating grasse, least they should be partakers of the filthinesse.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Iewes are compelled to leaue the Law of God. 4 The Temple is defiled. 10 The women cruelly punished. 18 The grienous paine of Eleazar.

1 Or, Antiochia.

Not long after this, sent the King an old man of Athens, for to compel the Iewes to transgresse the lawes of the fathers, and not to bee gouerned by the Law of God,

2 And to defile the Temple that was at Ierusalem, and to call it the Temple of Iupiter Olympius, and that of Garizin, according as they did that dwelt at that place, Iupiter that keepeth hospitalitie.

3 This wicked gouernement was sore and grienous vnto the people.

4 For the Temple was full of dissolution and gluttony of the Gentiles, which dallied with harlots, & had to do with women within the circuit of the holy places, and brought in such things as were not lawfull.

5 The altar also was full of such things, as were abominable and forbidden by the Law.

6 Neither was it lawfull to keepe the Sabbath, nor to obserue the ancient feasts, nor plainly to confesse himselfe to be a Iew.

7 In the day of the kings birth they were grienously compelled perforce euery month to banquet, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrained to goe in the procession of Bacchus with garlands of yuie.

8 Moreouer through the counsel of Ptolemeus, there went out a commandement vnto the next cities of the heathen against the Iewes, that the like custome, and banquetting should be kept.

9 And who so would not conformethelues to the maners of y Gentiles, should be put to death: then might a man haue scene the present miserie.

10 For there were two women brought forth, that had circumcised their sonnes, whom when they had led about the city (the babes hanging at their breasts) they cast them downe headlong over the walles.

11 Some that were runne together into dens to keepe the Sabbath day secretly, were discovered vnto Philip, and were burnt together, because that for the reuerence of the honourable day, they were afraid to helpe themselves.

12 Now I beseech those which read this book, that they be not discouraged for these calamities, but that they iudge these afflictions, not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodnesse not to suffer sinners long to continue, but straightwayes to punish them.

14 For the Lord doeth not long waite for vs, as for other nations, whom hee punisheth when they are come to the fulnesse of their finnes.

15 But thus he dealeth with vs, that our finnes should not be heaped vp to the full, so that afterward he should punish vs.

16 And therefore hee neuer withdraweth his mercy from vs: and though hee punish with aduersitie, yet doeth he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this hee spoken now for a warning vnto vs: and now wil wee come to the declaring of the matter in few words.

18 Eleazar then one of the principal scribes, an aged man, and of a wellfaoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and to eate swines flesh.

19 But hee desiring rather to die gloriously, then to liue with hatred, offred himselfe willingly to the torment, and spit it out:

20 As they ought to goe to death which suffer punishment for such things, as is not lawfull to taste of for the desire to liue.

21 But they that had the charge of this wicked banquet, for that old friendship of the man, tooke him aside priuily, and prayed him, that hee would take such flesh, as was lawfull for him to vse, and as hee would prepare for himselfe, and dissemble as though hee had eaten of the things appointed by the king, euen the flesh of the sacrifice.

22 That in so doing hee might bee deliuered from death, and that for the olde friendship that was among them, he would receiue this fauour.

23 But he began to consider discreetly, and as became his age, and the excellencie of his ancient yeres, & the honour of his gray haire, whereunto hee was come, and his most honest conuersation from his childhood, but chiefly the holy Lawe made and giuen by God: therefore hee answered consequently, and willed them straightwayes to send him to the graue.

24 For it becommeth not our age, said he, to dissemble, whereby many young persons might think, that Eleazar beinge fourescore yere olde and ten, were now gone to another religion.

25 And so through mine hypocrisie (for a little time of transitorie life) they might be deceived by me, and I should procure malediction & reproch to mine old age.

26 For though I were now deliuered from the torments of men, yet could I not escape the hand of the Almighty, neither aliue nor dead.

27 Wherefore I wil now change this life manfully, and will shew my selfe such as mine age requireth,

28 And so will leaue a notable example for such as be yong, to die willingly and courageously for the honorable and holy Lawes. And when he had said these words, immediatly he went to torment.

29 Now they that led him, changed the loue which they bare him before, into hatred, because of the words that he had spoken: for they thought it had bene a rage.

30 And as hee was ready to giue the ghost because of the strokes, he sighed and said, The Lord that hath y holy knowledge, knoweth manifestly that whereas I might haue beene deliuered from death,

1 Or, as another manner of life.

1 Or, seeing of the flesh that was sacrificed.

death, I am scourged, & suffer these sore paines of my body: but in my mind I suffer them gladly for his religion.

31 Euen now after this maner ended he his life, leauing his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memorie of vertue, not opely vnto yong men, but vnto all his nation.

CHAP. VII.

The punishment of the iewish brethren and of their mother.

IT came to passe also, that seuen brethren, with their mother, were taken to be compelled by the king, against the law, to taste swines flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whips.

2 But one of them which spake first, said thus, What seekst thou? & what wouldst thou know of vs? we are ready to die, rather then to transgresse the lawes of our fathers.

3 Then was the king angry, and commanded to heat pannes and caldrons, which were incontinently made hote.

4 And he commanded the tongue of him that spake first, to be cut out, and to lay him, and to cut off the vtmost parts of his body in the sight of his other brethren and his mother.

5 Now when he was thus mangled in all his members, he comanded him to be brought alieue to the fire, & to frie him in the pan: and while the smoke for a long time smoked out of the pan, the other brethren with their mother exhorted one another to die courageously, saying in this maner,

6 The Lord God doth regard vs, and in deed taketh pleasure in vs, as Moyses declared in the song wherein he testified openly, saying, That God will take pleasure in his seruants.

7 ¶ So when the first was dead after this maner, they brought the second to make him a mocking stocke: & when they had pulled the skinne with the haire ouer his head, they asked him, if he would eate, or he were punished in all the members of the body.

8 But he answered in his owne language, and said, No. Wherefore he was tormented forthwith like the first.

9 And when he was at the last breath, he said, Thou murderer takest this present life from vs, but the king of this world wil raise vs vp, which die for his Lawes, in the resurrection of euellasting life.

10 ¶ After him was the third had in derision, and when they demanded his tongue, hee put it out incontinently, and stretched forth his hands boldly,

11 And spake manfully, These haue I had from the heauen, but now for the Law of God I despise them, and trust that I shall receiue them of him againe.

12 Inasmuch that the king and they which were with him, marueiled at the yong mans courage, as at one that nothing regarded the paines.

13 ¶ Now when he was dead also, they vexed and tormented the fourth in like maner.

14 And when he was now ready to die, he said thus, It is better if we should change this which we might hope for of men, and wait for our hope fro God, that we may be raised vp againe by him: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

15 ¶ Afterward they brought the fifth also, and tormented him.

16 Who looked vpon the king, and said, Thou hast power among men, and though thou bee a mortall man, thou dost what thou wilt: but thinke not, that God hath forsaken our nation.

17 But abide a while, & thou shalt see his great power, how he will torment thee and thy seede.

18 After him also they brought the sixth, who being at the point of death, said, Deceiue not thy selfe foolishly: for we suffer these things, which are worthy to be wondrous at for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God.

19 But thinke not thou, which vndertakest to fight against God, that thou shalt be vnpanished.

20 But the mother was maruelous aboue all other, and worthy of honourable memorie: for when she saw her seuen sonnes slaine within the space of one day, she suffered it with a good will, because of the hope that she had in the Lord.

21 Yea, she exhorted euery one of them in her owne language, and being full of courage and wisdom, stirred vp her womanly affections with a manly stomacke, and sayd vnto them,

22 I cannot tel how ye came into my wombe: for I neither gaue you breath nor life: it is not I that set in order the members of your body,

23 But doublelesse the Creatour of the world, which formed the birth of man, & found out the beginning of all things, wil also of his own mercy giue you breath and life againe, as ye now regard not your owne selues, for his Lawes sake.

24 Now Antiochus thinking himselfe despised, and considering the iniurious wordes, while the yongest was yet alieue, he did exhort him not only with wordes, but swore also vnto him by an oth, that he would make him rich and wealthy, if hee would forsake the lawes of his fathers, & that he would take him as a friend, and giue him offices.

25 But when the yong man would in no case hearken vnto him, the king called his mother, & exhorted that she would counsel the yong man to saue his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many wordes, she promised him that she would counsell her sonne.

27 So she turned her vnto him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorne, and spake in her owne language, O my sonne, haue pitie vpon me, that bare thee nine moneths in my wombe, and gaue thee sucke three yeeres, and nourished thee, and tooke care for thee vnto this age, and brought thee vp.

28 I beseech thee, my sonne, looke vpon the heauen and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them of things that were not, and so was mankind made likewise.

29 Feare not this hangman, but shew thy selfe worthy such brethren by suffering death, that I may receiue thee in mercy with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these wordes, the yong man said, Whom wait ye for? I will not obey the kings commandement: but I will obey the commandement of the Lawe that was giuen vnto our fathers by Moyses.

31 And thou that imaginest all mischief against the Hebrewes, shalt not escape the hand of God.

32 For we suffer these things, because of our sinnes.

33 But though the liuing Lord be angry with vs a litle while for our chastising and correction, yet wil he be reconciled with his owne seruants.

34 But thou, O man without religion & most wicked of all men, list not thy selfe vp in vaine, which art puffed vp with vncertaine hope, and listest thine hands against the seruants of God.

35 For

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgement of almighty God, which seeth all things.

36 My brethren that haue suffered a litle pain, are now vnder the diuine covenant of euertlasting life: but thou through the iudgement of God, shalt suffer iust punishments for thy pride.

37 Therefore I, as my brethren haue done, offer my body and life for the lawes of our fathers, beseeching God, that he wil soone be merciful vnto our nation, & that thou by torment and punishment mayest confesse, that he is the onely God,

38 And that in me and my brethren the wrath of the Almighty, which is righteously fallen vpon all our nation, may cease.

39 Then the king being kinled with anger, ragèd more cruelly against him then the others, and tooke it grievously that he was mocked.

40 So he also died holily, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Last of al, after the sonnes, was the mother put to death.

42 Let this now be enough spoken concerning the bankes and extreme cruelties.

CHAP. VIII.

1. Iudas gathereth together his hosts. 2. Nicanor is sent against Iudas. 3. Iudas exhorteth his souldiers to constancie. 4. Nicanor is auerred. 5. The Iewes give thanks, after they haue put their enemies to flight, dividing part of the spoiles vnto the fatherlesse, and vnto the widower. 6. Timotheus and Bacchides are discouered. 7. Nicanor flieth vnto Antiochus.

Then Iudas Maccabeus, & they that were with him, went priuily into the townes, and called their kinsfolks & friends together, and took vnto them all such as continued in the Iewes religion, and assembled fixe thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lord, that he would haue an eye vnto his people, which was vexed of euery man, and haue pitie vpon the Temple that was defiled by wicked men,

3 And that he would haue compassion vpon the city that was destroyed, and almost brought to the ground, and that he would heare the voice of the blood that cryed vnto him,

4 And that he would remember the wicked slaughter of the innocent children, & the blasphemies committed against his name, and that hee would shew his hatred against the wicked.

5 Now when Maccabeus had gathered this multitude, he could not be withstood by the heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

6 Therefore he came at vnwares, & burnt vp the townes and cities: yet he took the most commodious places, and slew many of the enemies.

7 But specially hee vsed the nights to make such assaults, inso much that the bruit of his manlinesse was spread euery where.

8 ¶ So when Phillip saw that this man increased by litle and litle, and that things prospered with him for the most part, he wrote vnto Ptolemeus the gouernour of Cælosyria and Phenice, to helpe him in the kings businesse.

9 Then sent he speedily Nicanor the sonne of Patrochus, a speciall friend of his, and gaue him of all nations of the heathen no lesse then twenty thousand men, to roote out the whole generation of the Iewes, and ioyned with him Gorgias a captain, which in matters of warre had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordeined also a tribute for the king, of two thousand talents, which the Romans should haue, to betaken of the Iewes that were taken prisoners.

11 Therefore immediatly he sent to the cities on the sea coast, prouoking the to buy Iewes to be their seruants, promising to tel fourescore & ten for one talent: but he considered not the vengeance of almighty God, that should come vpon him.

12 When Iudas then knew of Nicanors coming, hee told them that were with him, of the coming of the army.

13 Now were there some of them fearefull, which trusted not vnto the righteousnes of God, but fled away, and abode not in that place.

14 But the other fold al that they had left, and besought the Lord together, to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had sold them, or euer he came neare them.

15 And though he would not do it for their sakes, yet for the covenant made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious Name.

16 And so Maccabeus called his men together, about fixe thousand, exhorting them not to be afraid of their enemies, neither to feare the great multitude of the Gentiles, which came against them vnrighteously, but to fight manly,

17 Setting before their eyes the iniurie that they had vniuently don to the holy place, and the cruelty don to the city by derision, & the destruction of the orders established by their fathers.

18 For they, said he, trust in their weapons & boldenesse: but our confidence is in the Almighty God, which at a becke can both destroy them that come against vs, and all the world.

19 Moreover he admonished them of the help that God shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perished an hundred & fourescore and fixe thousand vnder Sennacherib,

20 And of the battell that they had in Babylon against the Galatians, how they came in al to the battell eight thousand, with foure thousand Macedonians: and when the Macedonians were astonished, the eight thousand slew an hundred & twenty thousand through the helpe that was given them from heauen, whereby they had receiued many benefits.

21 Thus when hee had made them bold with these words, and ready to die for the lawes & the countrey, he diuided his army into foure parts,

22 And made his owne brethren captaines ouer the army, to wit, Simon, & Ioseph, and Ionathan, giuing ech one fiftene hundred men.

23 And when Eliazarus had read the holy booke, and giuen them a token of the helpe of God, Iudas which led the foreward, ioyned with Nicanor.

24 And because the Almighty helped them, they slew about nine thousand men, and wounded and maimed the most part of Nicanors host, and so put all to flight,

25 And tooke the money from those that came to buy them, and pursued them farre: but lacking time they returned.

26 For it was the day before the Sabbath, and therefore they would no longer pursue them.

27 So they tooke their weapons, and spoyled the enemies, and kept the Sabbath giuing thanks and praising the Lord wonderfully, which had deliuered them that day, and powred vpon them the beginning of his mercy.

28 And after the Sabbath, they distributed the spoyles spoiles to the sicke, and to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes, & diuided the residue among themselves and their children.

29 When this was done, and they all had made a general praier, they besought the merciful Lord to be reconciled at the length with his seruants.

30 Afterward, with one consent they fell vpon Timotheus and Bacchides, and slew about twentie thousand, and wanne hie and strong holdes, and diuided great spoiles, and gaue an equal portion vnto the sicke, and to the fatherlesse, and to the widowes, and to aged persons also.

31 Moreover, they gathered their weapons together, and laid them vp diligently in conuenient places, and brought the remnant of the spoiles to Ierusalem.

32 They slew also Philarches a most wicked person, which was with Timotheus, & had vexed the Iewes many wayes.

33 And when they kept the feast of Victory in their country, they burnt Calisthenes that had set fire vpon the holy gates, which was fled into a litle house: so he receiued a reward meete for his wickednesse.

34 And that most wicked Nicanor, which had brought a thousand merchants to buy the Iewes,

35 Hee was through the helpe of the Lorde brought down of them whom he thought as nothing, inso much that he put off his glorious rayment, and fled owerthwart the cuntry like a fugitiue seruant, and came alone to Antiochia, with great dishonour through the destruction of his hoste.

36 Thus he that promised to pay tribute to the Romans, by meanes of the prisoners of Ierusalem, brought newes, that the Iewes had a defender, & for this cause none could hurt the Iewes, because they followed the Lawes appoynted by him.

CHAP. IX.

Antiochus willing to spoyle Persepolis, is put to flight. 5 As he persecuteth the Iewes, he is stricken of the Lord. 13 Hee faimeth repentance of Antiochus. 28 Hee dieth miserably.

At the same time came Antiochus again with dishonour out of the cuntry of Persia.

2 For when he came to Persepolis, and went about to rob the Temple, and to subdue the citie, the people ranne in a rage to defend themselves with their weapons, and put them to flight, and Antiochus was put to flight by the inhabitants, and returned with shame.

3 Now when he came to Ecbatane, he vnderstood the things that had come to Nicanor, and Timotheus.

4 And then being chafed in his fume, hee thought to impute to the Iewes their fault, which had put him to flight, and therefore commanded his charer men to driue continually, and to dispatch the journey: for Gods iudgement compelled him: for hee had said thus in his pride, I will make Ierusalem a common burying place of the Iewes, when I come thither.

5 But the Lord almighty, and God of Israel, smote him with an incurable & inuisible plague: for as soone as he had spoken these words, a paine of the bowels, that was remediless, came vpon him, and sore torments of the inward parts,

6 And that most iustly: for hee had tormented other mens bowels with diuers and strange torments.

7 Howbeit he would in no wise cease from his arrogancy, but swelled the more with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Iewes, and commanded to haste the journey: but it came to passe that he fell downe from the charet that ran swiftly, so that all the members of his body were bruised with the great fall.

8 And thus hee that a litle afore thought hee might command the floods of the sea (so proud was he beyond the condition of man) & to weigh the hie mountaines in the ballance, was now cast on the ground, and caried in an horlitter, declaring vnto all the manifest power of God,

9 So that the wormes came out of the body of this wicked man in abundance: and whiles he was aliue, his flesh fell off for paine and torment, and all his armie was grieved at his smell.

10 Thus no man could beare, because of his stinke, him that a litle afore thought hee might reach to the starres of heaen.

11 Then he began to leaue off his great pride, and selfe will, when he was plagued and came to the knowledge of himselfe by y^e scourge of God, and by his paine which increased euery moment.

12 And when he himselfe might not abide his owne stinke, he said these words, It is meete to be subiect vnto God, and that a man which is mortal, should not thinke himselfe equall vnto God through pride.

13 This wicked person prayed also vnto the Lord, who would now haue no mercy on him,

14 And said thus, that he would set at liberty the holy city vnto the which hee made haste to destroy it, and to make it a burying place.

15 And as touching the Iewes (whom he had iudged not worthy to be buried, but would haue cast them out with their children to be deuoured of the fowles and wilde beasts) hee would make them all like the citizens of Athens.

16 And whereas hee had spoyled the holy Temple afore, hee would garnish it with great gifts, and increase the holy vessels, and of his owne rents beare the charges belonging to the sacrifices.

17 Yea, and that he would also become a Iew himselfe, and goe thorow all the world that was inhabited, and preach the power of God.

18 But for all this, his paines would not cease: for the iust iudgement of God was come vpon him: therefore despairing of his health, he wrote vnto the Iewes this letter vnder written, containing the forme of a supplication.

19 ¶ THE KING and Prince Antiochus vnto the Iewes his louing citizens wisheth much ioy, and health, and prosperity.

20 If ye and your children fare well, and if all things goe after your minde, I giue great thanks vnto God, hauing hope in the heauen.

21 Though I lie sick, yet am I mindful of your honour, and good will, for the loue I beare you: therefore when I returned from the cuntry of Persia, and fell into a sore disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common safety of all,

22 Nor distrusting mine health, but hauing great hope to escape this sicknesse.

23 Therefore considering that when my father led an host against the hie countreys, he appointed who should succede him:

24 That if any controuersie happened contrary to his expectation, or if that any tidings were brought that were grievous, they in the land might know to whom the affaires were committed, that they should not be troubled.

25 Again, when I ponder how that the gouernours that are borderers, and neighbors vnto my kingdome, waite for all occasions, and looke but for opportunitie, I haue ordained that my sonne Antiochus shall be king, whom I oit commended and committed to many of you, when I went into the high prouinces, and haue written vnto him as followeth hereafter.

26 Therefore I pray you, and require you to remember the benefits that I haue done vnto you generally, and particularly, and that euery man will be faithfull vnto me and to my sonne.

27 For I trust that he wil be gentle, and louing vnto you according vnto my minde.

28 ¶ Thus the murtherer and blasphemous suffered most grievously, and as he had intreated other men, so he died a miserable death in a strange country among the mountaines.

29 And Philip that was brought vp with him, caried away his body, who fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemeus Philometor.

1 Judas Maccabem taketh the cite and the temple. 20 The allies of Eupator. 26 The Iewes fight against the Idumeans. 27 Timotheus invadeth Iudaea, with whom Iudas hath battell. 29 Five men appeare in the ayre to the vyse of the Iewes. 37 Timotheus is slaine.

Maccabeus now and his company, through the helpe of the Lord, warne the temple and the city againe,

2 And destroyed the altars, and chappels, that the heathen had builded in the open places,

3 And censed the Temple, and made another altar, and burned stones, and tooke fire of them, and offered sacrifices, and incense, two yeeres and fixe moneths after, and set forth the lampes, and the shewbread.

4 When that was done, they fell downe flat vpon the ground, & besought the Lord that they might come no more into such troubles, but if they sinned any more against him, that hee himselfe would chasten them with mercy, and that they might not bee deliuered to the blasphemous and barbarous nations.

5 Now vpon the same day that the strangers polluted the Temple, on the very same day it was censed againe, even the fixe and twentie day of the same moneth which is || Chasseu.

6 They kept eight dayes with gladnesse as in the feast of the Tabernacles, remembering that not long afore they held the feast of the Tabernacles when they liued in the mountaines and denues like beasts.

7 And for the same cause they bare greene boughes, and faire branches and palmes, and sang Psalmes vnto him that had giuen them good successe in cleansing his place.

8 They ordeined also by a common statute and decree, that euery yeere those dayes should be kept of the whole nation of the Iewes.

9 And this was the end of Antiochus, called Epiphanes.

10 ¶ Now will wee declare the acts of Antiochus Eupator, which was the sonne of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the warres that followed.

11 For when hee had taken the kingdome, he made one Lyfias, which had bene captaine of the hoste in Phenice, and Coelosyria, ruler ouer the affaires of the realme.

12 For Ptolemeus that was called Macron purposed to doe iustice vnto the Iewes, for the wrong that had bene done vnto them, and went about to behaue himselfe peaceably with them.

13 For the which cause he was accused of his friends before Eupator, and was called oft times traitor, because he had left Cyprus, that Philometor had committed vnto him, and came to Antiochus Epiphanes: therefore seeing that hee was no more in estimation, he was discouraged, and poysoned himselfe, and died.

14 ¶ But when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, hee entertained strangers, and made warre oftentimes against the Iewes.

15 Moreover, the Idumeans that helde the strong holds, which were meet for their purpose, troubled the Iewes, and by receiuing them that were driuen from Ierusalem, tooke in hand to continue warre.

16 Then they that were with Maccabeus made prayers, & besought God that he would be their helper, and so they fell vpon the strong holdes of the Idumeans,

17 And assaulted them fore, that they wan the places, and slew all that fought against them on the wall, and killed all that they met with, and slew no lesse then twenty thousand.

18 And because certaine (which were no lesse then nine thousand) were fled into two strong castles, hauing all maner of things comenient to sustaine the siege,

19 Maccabeus left Simon, & Ioseph, and Zachheus also, and those that were with them, which were enow to besiege them, and departed to those places which were more necessary.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with couetousnesse, were intreated for money (through certaine of those that were in the castle) and tooke seventy thousand^a drachmes, and let some of them escape.

21 But when it was told Maccabeus what was done, hee called the gouernours of the people together, and accused those men that they had sold their brethren for money, and let their enemies goe.

22 So hee slew them when they were conuict of treason, and immediately wan the two castles:

23 And hauing good successe, as in al the wars that hee tooke in hand, hee slew in the two castles moe then twenty thousand.

24 Now Timotheus whom the Iewes had ouer come afore, gathered an army of strangers of all sorts, and brought a great troupe of horsemen out of Asia to win Iury by strength.

25 But when hee drew neere, Maccabeus and they that were with him, turned to pray vnto God, and sprinkled earth vpon their heads, and girded their reines with sackcloth,

26 And fel downe at the foot of the altar, and besought the Lord to be mercifull vnto them, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and to be an aduersary to their aduersaries, as the Law declar-^beth.

27 So after the prayer, they tooke their weapons, and went on further from the city, and when they came neere to the enemies, they tooke heede to themselves.

28 And when the morning appeared, they both ioyned together: the one part had the Lord for their refuge, and pledge of prosperity, and noble victory, victorie, and the other tooke courage as a guide of the warre.

^a A drachme is the eight part of an ounce, which is about three pence.

29 But when the battell waxed strong, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen five comely men vpon horses with bridles of golde and two of them led the Iewes,

30 And tooke Maccabeus betwixt them, and couered him on euery side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot darts, and lightnings against the enemies, so that they were confounded with blindness, and beaten downe and full of trouble.

31 There were slaine off ate men twenty thousand and five hundred, and fixe hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himselfe, he fledde vnto Gazara, which was called a very strong holde, wherein Chereas was capitaine.

33 But Maccabeus and his company laid siege against the fortresses with courage for foure dayes.

34 And they that were within, trusting to the height of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and spake horrible words.

35 Neuertheless vpon the fifth day in the morning, twenty yong men of Maccabeus company, whose hearts were inflamed, because of the blasphemies, came vnto the wall, and with bolde stomacke smote downe those that they met.

36 Others also that climbed vp vpon the engines of warre against them that were within, set fire vpon the towers, & burnt those blasphemers quicke with the fires that they had made, and others brake vp the gates, and receiued the rest of the armie, and tooke the citie.

37 And hauing found Timotheus, that was crept into a caue, they killed him, and Chereas his brother with Apolophanes.

38 When this was done, they praised the Lord with Psalmes, and thanksgiuing, which had done so great things for Israel, and giuen them the victory.

CHAP. XI.

1 Lysias goeth about to overcome the Iewes. 8 Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Iewes. 16 The letter of Lysias vnto the Iewes. 20 The letter of King Antiochus vnto Lysias. 27 A letter of the same vnto the Iewes. 34 A letter of the Romans to the Iewes.

Very shortly after this, Lysias the kings steward, and a kinsman of his, which had the gouernance of the affaires, took sore displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when hee had gathered about fourescore thousand, with all the horsemen, he came against the Iewes, thinking to make the citie an habitation of the Gentiles.

3 And the Temple would he haue to get money by, like the other temples of the heathen: for he would sell the Priests office euery yeere.

4 And thus being puffed vp in his minde, because of the great number of footmen, and thousands of horsemen, & in his fourescore elephants,

5 He came into Iudea, & drew neere to Bethsura, which was a castle of defence, five furlongs from Ierusalem, and laid siege vnto it.

6 But when Maccabeus, and his company knewe that he besieged the holds, they, and all the people made prayers with weeping, & teares before the Lord, that hee would send a good Angel to deliuer Israel.

7 And Maccabeus himselfe first of all tooke weapons, exhorting the other that they would repard themselves together with him to helpe their brethren: so they went forth together with a couragious minde.

8 And as they were there besides Ierusalem, there appeared before them vpon horsebacke a man in white clothing, shaking his harness of golde.

9 Then they praised the mercifull God all together, and tooke heart, insomuch that they were ready, not onely to fight with men, but with the most cruell beasts, and to breake downe wals of yron.

10 Thus they marched forward in aray, hauing an helper from heauen: for the Lord was mercifull vnto them.

11 And running vpon their enemies like Lyons, they slew eleuen thousand footmen, and fixteene hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked, and Lysias himselfe fled away shamefully, and so escaped.

13 Who as he was a man of vnderstanding, considering what losse he had had, and knowing, that the Hebrues could not be overcome, because the Almighty God helped them, sent vnto them,

14 And promised that hee would consent to all things which were reasonable, and perswade the king to be their friend.

15 Maccabeus agreed to Lysias requests, hauing respect in all things to the common wealth, and whatsoever Maccabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Iewes, the King granted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Iewes from Lysias, containing these words, Lysias vnto the people of the Iewes sendeth greeting.

17 Iohn and Abessalom, which were sent from you, deliuered mee the things that you demand by writing, and required me to fulfill the things that they had declared.

18 Therefore what things soeuer were meete to be reported to the king himselfe, I haue declared them, and he granted that that was possible.

19 Therefore if ye behaue your selues as friends toward his affaires, hereafter also I will endeavour myselfe to doe you good.

20 As concerning these things, I haue giuen commandement to these men, and to those whom I sent vnto you, to commune with you of the same particularly.

21 Fare you well, the hundredth and eight and fourtie yeere, the foure and twentieth day of the moneth Dioscorinthius.

22 ¶ Now the Kings letters contained these words, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto his brother Lysias sendeth greeting.

23 Since our father is translated vnto the gods, our wil is, that they which are in our Realme, liue quietly, & euery man may apply his owne affaires.

24 We vnderstand also that the Iewes would not consent to our father, for to be brought vnto the custome of the Gentiles, but would keepe their owne maner of liuing: for the which cause they require of vs, that wee would suffer them to liue after their owne Lawes.

25 Wherefore our minde is, that this nation shall bee in rest, and haue determined to restore them their Temple, that they may bee gouerned according to the custome of their fathers.

26 Thou shalt do well therefore to send vnto them & grant them peace, that when they are certified of our minde, they may be of good comfort and cheerefully goe about their owne affaires.

27 And this was the Kings letter vnto the nation, KING ANTIOCHVS vnto the Elders of the Iewes, and to the rest of the Iewes, sendeth greeting.

28 If yee fare well, we haue our desire: we are also in good health.

29 Menelaus declared vnto vs, that your desire was to returne home, and to apply your owne businesse.

30 Wherefore, those that will depart, we giue them free libertie, vnto the thirtieth day of the moneth of Panthicus,

31 That the Iewes may vse their owne manner of lining and lawes, like as afore, and none of them by any manner of wayes to haue harme for things done by ignorance.

32 I haue sent also Menelaus to comfort you

33 Fare yee well: the hundredth and eight and fourtie yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

34 ¶ The Romanes also sent a letter containing these wordes, QVINTVS MAMMIVS and Titus ¶ Manilius ambassadours of the Romanes, vnto the people of the Iewes send greeting.

35 The things that Lysias the Kings kinsman hath granted you, we grant the same also.

36 But concerning that which he shall report vnto the King, send hither some with speed, when ye haue considered the matter diligently, that we may consult thereupon as shall bee best for you: for we must goe vnto Antiochia.

37 And therefore make haste and send some men that we may know your minde.

38 Farewell: this hundredth and eight and fortie yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of Panthicus.

CHAP. XII.

1 Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 2 The wicked deede of them of Ioppe against the Iewes. 3 Iudas is enraged of them. 4 Hee fetcheth fire in the haues of Lemnia. 5 The pursuit of the Iewes against Timotheus. 6 Timotheus is taken and let goe vnbare. 7 Iudas pursueth Gorgias.

Vhen these couenants were made, Lysias went vnto the King, and the Iewes tilled their ground.

2 But the gouernours of the place, as Timotheus and Apollonius the sonne of Genneus, and Ieronimus, and also Demophon, and besides them Nicanor the gouernour of Cyprus, would not let them liue in rest and peace.

3 ¶ They of Ioppe also did such a vile acte: they prayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to goe with their wiues and children into the ships, which they had prepared as though they had ought them none euill will.

4 And so by the common aduice of the citie, they obeyed them, and suspect nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two hundred of them.

5 Nowe when Iudas knewe of this crueltie shewed against his nation, hee commanded those men that were with him, to make them ready.

6 And hauing called vpon God the righteous Iudge, he went forth against the murderers of his brethren, and set fire in the haues by night and burnt the shippes, and those that fled thence, he slew.

7 And when the city was shut vp, he departed as though he would come againe, and rooke out all them of the citie of Ioppe.

8 ¶ But when he perceiued that the Iaminites were munded to do in like maner vnto the Iewes, which dwelt among them,

9 Hee came vpon the Iaminites by night, and set fire in the haues with the nauie, so that the light of the fire was scene at Ierusalem, vpon a two hundredth and fourtie furlongs.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs, in their journey toward Timotheus, about fise thousand men of foote and fise hundredth horsemen of the Arabians set vpon him.

11 So the battell was sharpe, but it prospered with Iudas through the helpe of God: the ¶ Nomades of Arabia being ouercome, besought Iudas to make peace with them, and promised to giue him certaine ¶ cattell, and to helpe him in other things.

12 And Iudas thinking that they should indeede bee profitable concerning many things, granted them peace: whereupon they shooke hands, and so they departed to their tents.

13 ¶ Iudas also assailed a citie called Caspis, which was strong by reason of a bridge, and fenced round about with walles, and had diuers kindes of people dwelling therein.

14 So they that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in store of vittales, that they were the slacker in their doings, reuiling them that were with Iudas, and reproching them: yea they blasphemed and spake such wordes as were not lawfull.

15 But Maccabeus souldiers, calling vpon the great Prince of the world (which without any ¶ instruments, or engines of warre, did cast down the walles of Iericho, in the time of Iesus) gaue a fierce assault against the walles,

16 And tooke the citie by the wil of God, and made an exceeding great slaughter, insomuch that a lake of two furlongs broad, which lay thereby, seemed to flow with blood.

17 ¶ Then departed they from thence, seuen hundredth and fiftie furlongs, and came to Characa vnto the Iewes that are called Tubieni.

18 But they found not Timotheus there: for hee was departed from thence, and had done nothing, and had left a garison in a very strong holde.

19 But Dositheus and Sosipater, which were captaines with Maccabeus, went forth and slew those that Timotheus had left in the fortreffe, more then ten thousand men.

20 And Maccabeus prepared, and ranged his armie by bands, and went courageously against Timotheus, which had with him an hundredth and twentie thousand men of foote, and two thousand and fise hundredth horsemen.

21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Iudas comming, he sent the women and children, and the other baggage afore vnto a fortreffe called Carnion (for it was hard to besiege, and vneasier to come vnto because of the straits on all sides)

22 But when Iudas first band came in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare, and a trembling was among them through the presence of him that seeth all things, insomuch that they fleeing one heere, another there, were oft times hurt by their owne people, and wounded with the points of their owne swords.

23 But Iudas was very earnest in pursuing, and slew slew those wicked men: yea, he slew thirty thousand men of them.

24 Timotheus also himselfe fel into the hands of Dositheus and of Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him goe with his life, because hee had many of the Iewes parents and the brethren of some of them, which if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when hee had assured them with many words, and promised that hee would restore them without hurt, they let him goe for the health of their brethren.

26 ¶ Then went Maccabeus toward Carnion, and Attagatton, and slew five and twenty thousand persons.

27 And after that hee had chased away and slaine them, Iudas remooued the hoste toward Ephron a strong citie, wherein was Lyfias and a great multitude of all nations, and the strong young men kept the walles defending them mightily: there was also great preparation of engines of warre, and darts.

28 But when they had called vpon the Lord, which with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they wanne the citie, and slew five and twentie thousand of them that were within.

29 ¶ From thence went they to Scythopolis, which lyeth fixe hundredth furlongs from Ierusalem.

30 But when the Iewes which dwelt there, testified, that the Scythopolitanes dealt louingly with them, and intreated them kindly in the time of their aduersitie,

31 They gaue them thanks, desiring them to bee friendly still vnto them, and so they came to Ierusalem, as the feast of the weekes approached.

32 ¶ And after the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea:

33 Who came out with three thousand men of foot, and foure hundredth horsemen.

34 And when they ioyned together, a few of the Iewes were slaine,

35 And Dositheus, one of the Baccenors, which was on horsebacke & a mighty man, tooke Gorgias, and laid hold on his garment, and drew him by force, because he would haue taken the wicked man alie: but an horseman of Thracia fell vpon him, and smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled into Marisa.

36 And when they that were with Eferin, had foughten long, and were weary, Iudas called vpon the Lord, that he would shew himselfe to be their helper, and captaine of the field.

37 And then he began in his owne language, and sung Psalmes with a loud voyce, in so much that straightwaies he made them that were about Gorgias, to take their flight.

38 ¶ So Iudas gathered his hoste, and came into the citie of Odolla. And when the seventh day came, they cleansed themselves (as the custome was) and kept the Sabbath in the same place.

39 And vpon the day following, as necessitie required, Iudas and his companie came to take vp the bodies of them that were slaine, and to burie them with their kinsmen in their fathers graues.

40 Now vnder the coates of every one, that was slaine, they found iewels that had bin consecrate to the idoles of the Iamaïtes, which thing is forbidden the Iewes by the Lawe. Then every man saw, that this was the cause wherefore they were slaine.

41 And so every man gaue thanks vnto the Lord, the righteous Iudge, which had opened the things that were hid.

42 And they gaue themselves to prayer, and besought him, that they should not vterly be destroyed for the fault committed. Besides that, noble Iudas exhorted the people to keep themselves from sinne, for so much as they saw before their eyes the things which came to passe by the sinne of these that were slaine,

43 And hauing made a gathering through the company, sent to Ierusalem about two thousand drachmes of siluer, to offer a sinne offering, doing very well, and honestly, that he thought of the resurrection.

44 For if hee had not hoped, that they which were slaine, should rise againe, it had beene superfluous and vaine, to pray for the dead.

45 And therefore he perceiued, that there was great fauour laid vp for those that died godly. (It was an holy and a good thought) So hee made a reconciliation for the dead, that they might be deliuered from sinne.

owne infirmity, desireth pardon, if he haue not attained to that he should. And it seemeth that this Iason the Cyrenian, out of whom he took this abridgement, is Ioseph Ben Gorion, who hath written in Hebrew five bookes of these matters, and intreating of this place, maketh no mention of this prayer for the dead, Lib. 3. chap. 19. for it is contrary to the custome of the Iewes, euen to this day, to pray for the dead. And though Iudas had so done, yet this particular example is not sufficient to establish a doctrine, no more then Zipporahs was so prouoc that women might minister the Sacraments, Exod. 4. 25. or the example of Raais that one might kill himselfe, whom this author so much commendeth, Chap. 14. 41.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The coming of Eupator into Iudea. 4 The death of Menelaus. 10 Maccabeus going to fight against Eupator, mooueth his souldiers vnto prayer. 15 Hee killeth foure score thousand men in the tents of Antiochus. 21 Rhodocus the betrayer of the Iewes is taken.

IN the hundredth forty and nine yeere it was told Iudas, that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Iudea,

2 And Lyfias the steward and ruler of his affaires with him, hauing both in their armie an hundredth and ten thousand men of foote of the Grecians, and five thousand horsemen, and two and twentie Elephants, and three hundredth charrets set with hookes.

3 Menelaus also ioyned himselfe with them, and with great deceit encouraged Antiochus, not for the safeguard of the cuntry, but because he thought to haue bene made the gouernour.

4 But the King of kings mooued Antiochus mind against this wicked man, and Lyfias informed the king, that this man was the cause of all mischief, so that the king commanded to bring him to Berea to put him vnto death, as the maner was in that place.

5 Now there was in that place a tower of fiftie cubites high, full of ashes, and it had an instrument that turned round, and on every side it rolled downe into the ashes:

6 And there whosoever was condemned of sacrilege, or of any other grieuous crime, was cast of all men to the death.

7 And so it came to passe that this wicked man should die such a death, and it was a most iust thing that Menelaus should want buriall.

8 For because he had committed many sinnes by the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy: hee himselfe also died in the ashes.

9 ¶ Now the King raged in his minde, and came to shew himselfe more cruel vnto the Iewes

10 Which things when Iudas perceiued, hee commaunded the people to call vpon the Lorde night and day, that if euer he had holpen them, he would now helpe them, when they should be put from their Law, from their country, and from the holy Temple:

11 And that hee would not suffer the people, which a litle before began to recouer, to bee subdued vnto the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had done this all together, & besought the Lord for mercy with weeping, and fasting, and falling downe three dayes together, Iudas exhorted them to make themselves ready.

13 And he being apart with the Elders, tooke counsell to goe forth, afore the king brought his hoste into Iudea, and should take the citie, and commit the matter to the helpe of the Lord.

14 So committing the charge to the Lord of the world, he exhorted his souldiers to fight man-fully euen vnto death, for the Lawes, the Temple, the city, their country, and the common wealth, and camped by Modin.

15 And so giuing his soldiers for a watchword,
The victory of God, hee piked out the manliest yong men, & went by night into the kings camp, and slew of the host fourteene thousand men, and the greatest elephant with all that sate vpon him.

16 Thus when they had brought a great feare and trouble in the campe, and all things went prosperously with them, they departed.

17 This was done in the breake of the day, because the protection of the Lord did helpe them.

18 ¶ Now when the king had tasted the manlinesse of the Iewes, hee went about to take the holds by policie,

19 And marched toward Beth-sura, which was a strong hold of the Iewes: but hee was chased away, hurt, and lost of his men.

20 For Iudas had sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessary.

21 But Rhodocus which was in the Iewes hoste, disclosed the secrets to the enemies: therefore hee was sought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 After this did the king commune with them that were in Beth-sura, and tooke truce with them, departed, and ioyned battell with Iudas, who ouercame him.

23 But when he vnderstood that Philip (whom he had left to be ouerfeer of his busines at Antio-chia did rebell against him, he was astonished, so that hee yeilded himselfe to the Iewes, and made them an othe to do al things that were right, and was appeased toward them, and offered sacrifice and adorned the Temple, and shewed great gen-tlenesse to the place.

24 And embraced Maccabeus, and made him captaine and gouernour from Ptolemais vnto the Gerreans.

25 Neuertheless, when he came to Ptolemais, the people of the citie were not content with this agreement: and because they were grieved, they would that he should breake the covenants.

26 Then went Lysias vp into the iudgement seate, and excused the fact as well as he could, and perswaded them, and pacified them, & made them well affectioned, & came againe vnto Antiochia.
This is the matter concerning the kings iourney, and his returne.

CHAP. XIII.

Demetrius moued by Alcimus, sendeth Nicanor to kill the Iewes.
18 Nicanor maketh a compall with the Iewes, 29 which hee yes breaketh through the motion of the King 37 Nicanor com-mandeth Ratis to be taken, who slayeth himselfe.

After three yeeres Iudas was enformed that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus was come vp with a great power and naue by the hauen of Tripolis.

2 When he had won the country, and slaine
Antiochus and his lieutenant Lysias.

3 Nowe Alcimus which had beene the high Priest, and wilfully defiled himselfe in the time that all things were confounded, seeing that by no meanes hee could saue himselfe, nor haue any more entrance to the holy Altar,

4 He came to king Demetrius in the hundredth fiftie and one yere, presenting vnto him a crowne of golde, and a palme, and of the boughes, which were vsed solemnly in the Temple, and that day he held his tongue.

5 But when hee had gotten opportunitie, and occasion for his rage, Demetrius called him to counsell, and asked him what deuises or counfels the Iewes leaned vnto.

6 To the which he answered, The Iewes that be called Asideans, whose captaine is Iudas Mac-cabeus, maintaine warres, and make insurrections, and will not let the Realme be in peace.

7 Therefore I, being depriued of my fathers honour (I meane the high Priesthood) am now come hither,

8 Partly, because I was well affectioned vnto
the kings affaires, and secondly, because I sought the prout of mine owne citizens: for all our people through their rashnes are not a litle troubled.

9 Wherefore O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, make prouision for the country, and our nation which is abused, according to thine owne humanitie, that is ready to helpe all men.

10 For as long as Iudas liueth, it is not possible that the matter should be well.

11 When hee had spoken these wordes, other friends also hauing euill will at Iudas, set Demetrius on fire.

12 Who immediatly called for Nicanor the ruler of the Elephants, and made him captaine ouer Iudea,

13 And sent him forth, commanding him to slay Iudas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus hie Priest of the great Temple.

14 Then the heathen which fled out of Iudea from Iudas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harme and calamities of the Iewes to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Iewes heard of Nicanors comming, and the gathering together of the heathen, they sprinkled themselves with earth, and prayed vnto him, which had appointed himselfe a people for euer, and did alwayes defend his owne portion with euident tokens.

16 So at the commandement of the captaine, they remoued straightwayes from thence, and came to the towne of Desian.

17 Where Simon Iudas brother, had ioyned battell with Nicanor, and was somewhat astonished through the sudden silence of the enemies.

18 Neuertheless Nicanor hearing the manlinesse of them that were with Iudas, and the bold stomacks they had for their countrey, durst not prooue

for, sent and took the right hand;

prone the matter with bloodshedding.

19 Wherefore he sent Pofidonius, || Theodorus and || Matthias before to make peace.

20 So when they had taken long aduifement thereupon, and the captaine fhewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde, and conſented to the covenants.

21 And they appointed a day when they ſhould particularly come together: ſo when the day was come, they ſet for euery man his ſtoole.

22 Neuertheleſſe, Iudas commanded certaine men of armes to wait in conuenient places, leſt there ſhould ſuddenly ariſe an euill through the enemies: and ſo they communed together of the things whereupon they had agreed.

23 Nicanor, while he abode at Ieruſalem, did none hurt, but ſent away the people that were gathered together.

24 He || loued Iudas, and fauoured him in his heart.

25 He prayed him alſo to take a wife, and to beget children: ſo he married, and they liued together.

26 But Alcimus perceiuing the loue that was betweene them, and vnderſtanding the covenants that were made, came to Demetrius and told him that Nicanor had taken ſtrange matters in hand, and ordeined Iudas, a traitour to the realme, to be his ſucceſſour.

27 Then the king was diſpleaſed, & by the reports of this wicked man, he wrote to Nicanor, ſaying, that he was very angry for the covenants, commanding him that he ſhould ſend Maccabeus in all haſte priſoner vnto Antiochia.

28 When theſe things came to Nicanor, hee was aſtoniſhed and ſore grieved, that hee ſhould breake the things wherein they had agreed, ſeeing that that man had committed no wickedneſſe.

29 But becauſe it was not commodious to him to withſtand the king, he ſought craftily to accompliſh it.

30 Notwithſtanding, when Maccabeus perceiued that Nicanor began to be rough vnto him, and that he intreated him more rudely then hee was wont, he perceiued that ſuch rigour came not of good, and therefore he gathered a few of his men, and withdrew himſelfe from Nicanor.

31 But the other perceiuing that he was preuented by Maccabeus worthy policie, came into the great and holy Temple, and commanded the Priests, which were offering their viſuall ſacrifices, to deliuer him the man.

32 And when they ſware that they could not tell where the man was, whom he ſought,

33 Hee ſtretched out his right hand toward the Temple, and made an oath in this maner, If ye will not deliuer me Iudas as a priſoner, I will make this Temple of God a plaine field, and will breake downe the altar, and will erect a notable Temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After theſe words hee departed: then the Priests liſt vp their hands toward heauen, and beſought him that was euer the defender of their nation, ſaying in this maner, 35 Thou, O Lord of all things, which haſt neede of nothing, wouldeſt that the Temple of thine habitation ſhould be among vs.

36 Therefore now, O moſt holy Lord, keepe this houſe euer vndeſiled, which lately was clenſed, and ſtop all the mouthes of the vnrighteous.

37 Now was there accuſed vnto Nicanor, Razis, one of the Elders of Ieruſalem, a louer of the city, and a man of very good report, which for his loue was called a father of the Iewes.

38 For this man aforetimes, when the Iewes were minded to keepe themſelues vndeſiled and pure, being accuſed to be of the religion of the Iewes, did offer to ſpend his body and life, with all conſtancy, for the religion of the Iewes.

39 So Nicanor, willing to declare the hatred that he bare to the Iewes, ſent about ſiue hundred men of warre to take him.

40 For he thought by taking him, to doe the Iewes much hurt.

41 But when his company would haue taken his caſtle, and would haue broken the gates by violence, and commanded to bring fire to burne the gates, ſo that he was ready to bee taken on euery ſide, he || fell on his ſword,

42 Willing rather to die manfully, then to giue himſelfe into the handes of wicked men, and to ſuffer reproch vnworthy for his noble ſlocke.

43 Notwithſtanding, what time as hee miſſed of his ſtroke for haſte, and the multitude ruſhed in violently betwene the doores, he ran boldly to the wal, and caſt himſelfe down manfully among the multitude,

44 Which conueyed themſelues lightly away, and gaue place, ſo that he fell vpon his belly.

45 Neuertheleſſe, while there was yet breath in him, being kindled in his minde, he roſe vp, and though his blood guſhed out like a fountain, and he was very fore wounded, yet he ran thorow the miſt of the people,

46 And gate him to the top of an high rocke: ſo when his blood was vtterly gone, he tooke out his owne bowels with both his hands, and threw them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lorde of life and ſpirit, that he would reſtore them againe vnto him: and thus he died.

CHAP. XV.

1 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Iudas vpon the Sabbath day. 2 The blaſphemie of Nicanor. 3 Maccabeus exhorting vnto the Iewes the viſion, encourageth them. 4 The prayer of Maccabeus. 5 Maccabeus commendeth Nicanors death and hands to be cut off and his tongue to be giuen vnto the ſoules. 6 The author exhorteth himſelfe.

NOW when Nicanor knew that Iudas and his company were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with all aſſurance to come vpon them, vpon the Sabbath day.

2 Neuertheleſſe, the Iewes that were compelled to goe with him, ſaid, O kil not ſo cruelly and barbarouſly, but honor and ſanctifie the day, that is appoynted by him that ſeech all things.

3 But this moſt wicked perſon demanded, Is there a Lord in the heauen, that commanded the Sabbath day to be kept?

4 And when they ſaid, There is a liuing Lord, which ruleth in the heauen, who commanded the ſeuenth day to be kept,

5 Then he ſaid, And I am mighty vpon earth to command them ſo to arme themſelues, and to performe the kings buſines. Notwithſtanding, he could not accompliſh his wicked enterpriſe.

6 For Nicanor liſted vp with great pride, purpoſed to ſet vp a memoriall of the victory obtained of all them that were with Iudas.

7 But Maccabeus had euer ſure confidence and a perfect hope that the Lord would helphim.

8 And exhorted his people not to be afraid at the coming of the heathen, but alway to remember

[As this private example ought not to be followed of the godly, becauſe it is contrary to the word of God, although the author ſeeme here to approve it: ſo that place as touching prayer, Cha. 12. 44. though Iudas had appointed it, yet were it not ſufficient to prone a doctrine, becauſe it is onely a particular example.]

her the helpe that had bene shewed vnto them from heauen, and to trust now also, that they should haue the victory by the Almighty.

9 Thus he encouraged them by the Law and Prophets, putting them in remembrance of the barcels that they had wonne afore, and so made them more willing.

10 And stirred vp their hearts, & shewed them also the deceitfulness of the heathen, & how they had broken their othes.

11 Thus he armed every one of them, not with the assurance of shields and speares, but with wholesome words and exhortations, and shewed them adream worthy to be beleued, and reioyced them greatly.

12 And this was his vision. He thought that he saw Onias (which had bene the hie Priest, a vertuous and a good man, reuerent in behauiour, and of sober conuersation, well spoken, and one that had bin exercised in all poynts of godlinesse from a child) holding vp his hands towards heauen, and praying for the whole people of the Iewes.

13 After this there appeared vnto him another man which was aged, honourable, and of a wonderful dignitie, and excellencie aboue him.

14 And Onias spake, & layd, This is a louer of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy city, Jeremias the Prophet of God.

15 He thought also, that Jeremias held out his right hand, and gaue vnto Iudas a sword of gold: and as he gaue it he spake thus,

16 Take this holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt wound the aduersaries.

17 And so being comforted by the wordes of Iudas, which were very sweet & able to stir them vp to valiantnesse, and so to encourage the hearts of the yong men, they determined to pitch no camp, but courageously to set vpon them, & manfully to assault them, and to try the matter hand to hand, becaus the city and the Sanctuary and the Temple were in danger.

18 As for their wiues, & children, & brethren and kinsfolks, they let lesse by their danger: but their greatest and principall feare was for the holy Temple.

19 Again, they that were in the city, were cheerfull for the army that was abroad.

20 Now whiles they all waited for the trial of the matter, and the enemies now met with them, and the host was set in aray, and the beasts were separated into convenient places, and the horsemen were placed in the wings:

21 Maccabeus considering the coming of the multitude, & the diuers preparations of weapons, and the fiercenesse of the beasts, held vp his hands toward heauen, calling vpon the Lord that doeth wonders, and that looked vpon them, knowing that the victory competeth not by the weapons, but that he giveth the victory to them that are worthy, as Ioseph's good vnto him.

22 Therefore in his prayer he layd after this manner, O Lord, thou that dost send thine Angel in the name of Iudas king of Iuda, who in the hoste of Sennacherib slew an hundred fourescore and five thousand,

23 Send now also thy good Angel before vs, O Lord of heauens, for a feare and dread vnto them,

24 And let them bee discomfited by the strength of thine arme, which come against thine holy people to blaspheme. Thus with these wordes he made an end.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him, drew neere, with trumpets and shoutings for ioy.

26 But Iudas and his company praying and calling vpon God, encountered with the enemies,

27 So that with their hands they fought, but with their hearts they prayed vnto God, and slew no lesse then five and thirtie thousand men: for through the presence of God they were wonderfully comforted.

28 Now when they left off, and were turning againe with ioy, they vnderstood that Nicanor himselfe was slaine for all his armour.

29 Then they made a great shout and a cry, praying the Almighty in their owne language.

30 Therefore Iudas, which was euer the chiefe defender of his citizens both in body and minde, and which bare euer good affection towards them of his nation, commanded to smite off Nicanors head, with his hand and shoulder, and to bring it to Ierusalem.

31 And when he came there, he called all them of his nation, and let the Priests by the altar, and sent forthem of the castle.

32 And shewed them wicked Nicanors head, and the hand of that blasphemor, which hee had holden vp against the holy Temple of the Almighty with proud brags.

33 He caused the tongue also of wicked Nicanor to be cut in little peeces, and to bee cast vnto the fowles, and that the rewards of his madnesse should be hanged vp before the Temple.

34 So eueri man prayed toward the heauen the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his place vndefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanors head vpon the hie castle, for an euident and plaine token vnto all of the helpe of God.

36 And so they established all together by a common decree, that they would in no case suffer this day, without keeping it holy:

37 And that the feast should be the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is called Adar in the Syrians language, the day before Mardocheus day.

38 Thus farre as concerning Nicanors matters, and from that time the Hebrewes had the citie in possession. And here will I also make an end.

39 If I haue done well, and as the story required, it is that which I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, it is that I could.

40 For as it is hurtful to drink wine alone, and then againe water: & as wine tempered with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste: so the setting out of the matter delighteth the eares of the that read the story. And here shall be the end.

THE PRINTER

to the diligent Reader.

DEARE Christian Reader, to the intent that thou mightest the better enjoy the benefit of these notes or expositions vpon the New Testament: I thought it not amisse to declare vnto thee the manner of the same. And first, forasmuch as the quotations of places of the Scriptures in the margent which direct to other places, containing like phrase or sense, haue bene so placed, that none without great labour could finde out the texts alledged, I haue made these five seuerall figures or marks, \diamond \circ \times \star \cdot , and haue set them aswel in the margent as in the text, so that thou mayest easily finde that which thou desirest. For example, in the first worde of the first Chapter of Matthew is placed this first marke \diamond : looke out the like marke in the margent, and there thou shalt finde Luke 3. 23. which place agreeth to this of Matthew: and so likewise thou shalt finde in the residue. But if many quotations belong to one place, word, or sentence, the first is onely marked, and those that follow vnmaked, appertaine to the same. And if it fall out that there be more then five directions in one colunne, then is the first repeated againe, and the residue following in order as at the beginning: as it appeareth in the first colunne of Matthew, where both in the text and margent also, they are all two times set downe, and the foure first repeated againe.

The Notes which are directed by figures of Arithmetike, as 1. 2. 3. 4. &c. throughout the Euangelists and Acts, declare the effect or summe of the doctrine contained betwene one of the sayd figures, and the next that followeth: as for example, from the figure 1. in the first line and first worde of Matthew vnto the figure 4. in the 19. verse of the same Chapter, the doctrine there gathered is set downe in the margent in this sort: 1. Iesus came of Abraham of the tribe of Iuda, and of the stocke of Dauid as God promised. And in the Epistles in like sort they declare the methode and way which the Apostles vse, and how every argument or reason dependeth one vpon another: these figures are begunne againe at the beginning of euery Chapter.

Lastly, the Notes which goe by order of the letters of the Alphabet placed in the text, with the like answering vnto them in the margent, serue to expound and lighten the darke wordes and phrases immediately following them. As in the first line and second worde, the letter, α , being referred vnto α , directly against him in the margent, sheweth that this word, Bookes, significeth Archeisall as the Hebrewes vs^e to day: as Genes. 1. 1. The booke of the generations. These letters beginne at the beginning of euery Chapter, continuing vnto ω , and so beginning againe with α .

If there be so many Notes that they do exceede in number the letters of one Alphabet. This haue I faithfully done for the conmoditie, scape thou this from and praye to God.

the praye to God.

THE

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF IESVS CHRIST, ACCORDING TO S. MATTHEW.

CHAP. I.

1 That Iesus is that Messiah the Saviour promised to the Fathers.
2 The naturallite of Christ.

He is a booke of the generation of Iesus Christ the sonne of Dauid, the sonne of Abraham.

1 Abraham begate Isaac. 2 And Isaac begate Jacob. And Jacob begate Iudas and his brethren.

3 And Iudas begate Phares, and Zara of Thamar. And Phares begate Esrom. And Esrom begate Aram.

4 And Aram begate Aminadab. And Aminadab begate Naasson. And Naasson begate Salmon.

5 And Salmon begate Booz of Rachab. And Booz begate Obed of Ruth. And Obed begate Iesse.

6 And Iesse begate Dauid the King. And Dauid the King begate Salomon of her that was his wife of Vrias.

7 And Salomon begate Roboam. And Roboam begate Abia. And Abia begate Asa.

8 And Asa begate Iosaphat. And Iosaphat begate Ioram. And Ioram begate Hozias.

9 And Hozias begate Ioatham. And Ioatham begate Achaz. And Achaz begate Ezekias.

10 And Ezekias begate Manasses. And Manasses begate Amnon. And Amnon begate Iosias.

11 And Iosias begate Iakim. And Iakim begate Iechonias & his brethren about the time they were caried away to Babylon.

12 And after they were caried away into Babylon, Iechonias begate Salathiel. And Salathiel begate Zorobabel.

13 And Zorobabel begate Abiud. And Abiud begate Eliacim. And Eliacim begate Azor.

14 And Azor begate Zadoc. And Zadoc begate Achim. And Achim begate Eliud.

15 And Eliud begate Eleazar. And Eleazar begate Matthan. And Matthan begate Iacob.

16 And Iacob begate Ioseph husband of Mary, of whom was borne Iesus, that is called Christ.

17 So at the generations from Abraham to Dauid, are fourteene generations. And from Dauid vntill they were caried away into Babylon, fourteene generations: and after they were caried away into Babylon vntill Christ, fourteene generations.

18 Now the birth of Iesus Christ was thus. When as his mother Mary was betrothed to Ioseph, before they came together, shee was found with child of the holy Ghost.

19 Then Ioseph her husband being a iust man, and not willing to make her a publike example, was minded to put her away secretly.

20 But while he thought these things, behold the Angel of the Lorde appeared vnto him in a dreame, saying, Ioseph, the sonne of Dauid, feare not to take Mary thy wife: for that which is in her conceived in her, is of the holy Ghost.

21 And shee shall bring forth a sonne, and thou shalt call his name Iesus: for he shall save his people from their sinnes.

22 And all this was done that it might be fulfilled, which is spoken of the Lorde, by the Prophet, saying,

23 Behold, a virgine shall be with child, and shall beare a sonne, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, God with vs.

24 Then Ioseph being raised from sleepe, did as the Angel of the Lorde had inioyned him, and tooke his wife.

25 But he knew her not, till she had brought forth her first borne sonne, and hee called his name Iesus.

26 And when Iesus was borne, he was laid in a manger, because there was no place for him in the inn.

27 And when the day was come, the shepherds went out to feed their flock in the field.

28 And as they went, behold the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Feare not, for behold, I have good tidings of great joy, which shall come to all people.

29 For unto you is borne this day, a saviour, who is Christ the Lorde.

30 And this shall be a signe vnto you, that ye shall find him wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger.

31 And when the Angel had said these things, he departed, and behold, the shepherds were afraid and trembling.

32 And they said one to another, Let vs go and see this thing which is told us.

33 And they went quickly, and found Mary, and Ioseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

34 And when they had seen, they told the shepherds all the things which were told them of the Angel.

35 And the shepherds were amazed, and said, This hath beene said vnto vs.

36 And they returned, and glorified and praised God, saying, We have now seen and heard all things which were told vs.

37 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

38 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

39 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

40 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

41 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

42 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

43 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

44 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

45 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

46 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

47 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

48 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

49 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

50 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

51 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

52 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

53 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

54 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

55 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

56 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

57 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

58 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

59 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

60 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

61 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

62 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

63 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

64 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

65 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

66 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

67 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

68 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

69 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

70 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

71 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

72 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

73 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

74 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

75 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

76 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

77 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

78 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

79 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

80 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

81 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

82 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

83 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

99 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

CHAP. II.

The wisemen, who are the first fruits of the Gentiles, worship Christ.

1 Ioseph fleeth into Egypt with Iesus and his mother. 2 Herod sleigheth the children.

3 Then Iesus was borne at Beth-lehem in Iudea, in the daies of Herod the king, behold, there came Wisemen from the East to Hierusalem,

4 Saying, Where is that King of the Iewes this is borne? for we haue seene his starre in the East, and are come to worship him.

5 When king Herod heard this, he was troubled, and all Hierusalem with him.

6 And gathering together all the chiefe Priestes and Scribes of the people, he asked of them, where Christ should be borne.

7 And they sayd vnto him, At Beth-leem in Iudea: for so it is written by the Prophet,

8 And thou Beth-leem in the land of Iuda, art not the least among the Princes of Iuda: for out of thee shall come the gouernour that shall feede my people Israel.

9 Then Herod priuily called the Wise men, and diligently inquired of them the time of the starre that appeared,

10 And sent them to Beth-leem, saying, Goe, and search diligently for the babe: and when ye haue found him, bring mee word againe, that I may come also, and worship him.

11 So when they had heard the king, they departed: and loe, the starre which they had seene in the East, went before them, till it came and stood ouer the place where the babe was.

12 And when they saw the starre, they reioiced with an exceeding great ioy,

13 And went into the house, and found the babe with Mary his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him, and opened their treasures, and presented vnto him gifts, euen gold, and frankincense, and myrrhe.

14 And after they were warned of God in a dreame, that they should not go againe to Herod, they returned into their country another way.

15 Though thou see a small teame yet shall thou be very famous and noble, through the birth of the Messias, who shall bee borne in thee. 2 That shall rule and gouerne the Kings are first called Kings, and they be words of the people. 3 A kinde of humble and lowly reuerence. 4 The rich and costly presents, which they brought him. 5 God warned and told them of it, when as they asked in what.

16 And when they were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

17 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

18 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

19 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

20 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

21 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

22 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

23 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

24 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

25 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

26 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

27 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

28 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

29 And when the shepherds had heard, they departed, and glorified and praised God.

30 And when the shepherds were thus praising God, behold, the Angel of the Lorde stood by them, saying, Praise the Lorde continually, ye all, from this time forth, and forevermore.

12 After their departure beholde the Angel of the Lord appeareth to Ioseph in a dreame, saying, Arise and take the babe & his mother, and flee into Egypt: & be there till I bring thee word:
for Herod will seeke the babe, to destroy him.

14 So he arose & tooke the babe and his mother by night and departed into Egypt.

15 And was there vnto the death of Herod, that that might be fulfilled, which is spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying, Out of Egypt
haue I called my sonne.

16 Then Herod, seeing that he was mocked of the Wise men, was exceeding wrath, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Beth-leem, and in all the coasts thereof from two yeere old and vnder, according to the time which he had diligently searched out of the Wise men.

17 Then was that fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet Ieremias, saying,

18 In Rama was a voice heard, mourning, and weeping, and great howling: Rachel weeping for her children, & would not be comforted, because they were not.

19 And when Herod was dead, beholde, an Angel of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Io-seph in Egypt,

Saying, Arise, and take the babe and his mother, and goe into the land of Israel: for they are dead, which sought the babes life.

21 Then he arose vp, and tooke the babe and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But when he heard that Archelaus did reign in Iudea in stead of his father Herod, he was afraid, to goe thither: yet after he was warned of God in a dreame, he turned aside into the parts of Galilee,

23 And went and dwelt in a citie called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophets, which was, That hee should be called a Nazarene.

CHAP. III.

1 John preacheth, 4 His apparel and meate, 3 His baptisme, 5 The fruit of repentance, 10 The axe at the roote of the tree, 11 The iunior and Parable, 12 Christ is baptized.

1 And in those dayes, John the Baptist came and preached in the wilderness of Iudea, And said, Repent: for the Kingdome of heauen is at hand.

For this is hee of whom it is spoken by the Prophet, saying, The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

And this John had his garment of camel
haire, and a girdle of a skaine about his loynes:
his meate was wilde locusts and wilde hony.

Then came vnto him Ierusalem and all
Iudea, and all the region about Iordan,

6 And they were baptized of him in Iordan,
confessing their sinnes.

7 Now when hee saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees came to his baptisme, he said vnto them, O generations of vipers, who haue forerwarned you to flee from the anger to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruit worthy amendment of life.
9 And thinke not to say with your selues,
We haue Abraham for our father: for I say vnto
you, that God is able enen of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.
10 And now also is the axe put to the roote of the trees: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewen down, and cast into the fire.
11 In deede I baptize you with water to amendment of life, but he that cometh after me is mightier then I, whose shoes I am not worthy to beare, hee will baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.
12 Which hath his fanne in his hand, and will make cleane his floore, and gather his wheat into his garner, but will burne vp the chaffe with vnquenchable fire.
13 Then came Iesus from Galilee to Tor-
dan vnto John to be baptized of him.
14 But John earnestly put him backe, saying, I haue neede to be baptized of thee, and comest
thou to me?
15 Then Iesus answering, sayd to him, Let bee
nowe: for thus it becometh vs to fulfill all righteousnesse. So he suffered him.
16 And Iesus when hee was baptized, came straight out of the water. And lo the heauens were opened vnto him, & he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting vpon him.
17 And loe, a voyce came from heauen, saying, This is my beloued Sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

And of the Sadducees come to his baptisme, he said vnto them, O generations of vipers, who haue
forerwarned you to flee from the anger to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruit worthy amendment of life.

9 And thinke not to say with your selues,
We haue Abraham for our father: for I say vnto
you, that God is able enen of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

10 And now also is the axe put to the roote of the trees: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewen down, and cast into the fire.

11 In deede I baptize you with water to amendment of life, but he that cometh after me is mightier then I, whose shoes I am not worthy to beare, hee will baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

12 Which hath his fanne in his hand, and will make cleane his floore, and gather his wheat into his garner, but will burne vp the chaffe with vnquenchable fire.

13 Then came Iesus from Galilee to Tor-
dan vnto John to be baptized of him.

14 But John earnestly put him backe, saying, I haue neede to be baptized of thee, and comest
thou to me?

15 Then Iesus answering, sayd to him, Let bee
nowe: for thus it becometh vs to fulfill all righteousnesse. So he suffered him.

16 And Iesus when hee was baptized, came straight out of the water. And lo the heauens were opened vnto him, & he saw the Spirit of God
descending like a dove, and lighting vpon him.

17 And loe, a voyce came from heauen, saying, This is my beloued Sonne, in whom I am well pleased.

For this is hee of whom it is spoken by the Prophet, saying, The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.
And this John had his garment of camel
haire, and a girdle of a skaine about his loynes:
his meate was wilde locusts and wilde hony.
Then came vnto him Ierusalem and all
Iudea, and all the region about Iordan,
6 And they were baptized of him in Iordan,
confessing their sinnes.
7 Now when hee saw many of the Pharisees

1 Men was Iesus led into the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the deuil.

2 And when hee had fasted fortie dayes, and fortie nightes, hee was afterward hungry.

3 Then came to him the tempter, and sayd, If thou be the Sonne of God, commaund that these stones be made bread.

4 Hee answering, said, It is written, & Man shall not liue by bread onely, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the deuil tooke him vp into the holy city, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple,

6 And said vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, cast thy selfe downe: for it is written, that he wil giue his Angels charge ouer thee, & with their hands they shall lifte thee vp, lest at any time thou thoult dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Iesus sayd vnto him, It is written againe, & Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

He speaketh of the judgement of God, and of the difference of sinners, for whosoever shall say, Foole, shall be punished with hell fire.

Off that judgement which was spoken by those who had the hearing and discerning of many matters, and of the judgement of God, who had the hearing of all.

Off that judgement which was spoken by those who had the hearing of all, and of the judgement of God, who had the hearing of all.

Off that judgement which was spoken by those who had the hearing of all, and of the judgement of God, who had the hearing of all.

Off that judgement which was spoken by those who had the hearing of all, and of the judgement of God, who had the hearing of all.

Off that judgement which was spoken by those who had the hearing of all, and of the judgement of God, who had the hearing of all.

Off that judgement which was spoken by those who had the hearing of all, and of the judgement of God, who had the hearing of all.

Off that judgement which was spoken by those who had the hearing of all, and of the judgement of God, who had the hearing of all.

Off that judgement which was spoken by those who had the hearing of all, and of the judgement of God, who had the hearing of all.

Off that judgement which was spoken by those who had the hearing of all, and of the judgement of God, who had the hearing of all.

But I say unto you, whosoever is angry with his brother without cause, shall be culpable of judgement. And whosoever saith unto his brother, Raca, shall be worthy to be punished by the Council. And whosoever shall say, Foole, shall be worthy to be punished with hell fire.

If then thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee,

Leave there thine offering before the altar, and go thy way: first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

Agreed with thine adversary quickly, while thou art in the way with him, lest thine adversary deliver thee to the Judge, and the Judge deliver thee to the scribe, and thou be cast into prison.

Verily I say unto thee, thou shalt not come out thence, till thou hast payed the utmost farthing.

Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery:

But I say unto you, that whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

Wherefore if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for better it is for thee, that one of thy members perish, than that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

Also if thy right hand maketh thee to offend, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for better it is for thee, that one of thy members perish, than that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

It hath bene said also, whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a bill of divorcement:

But I say unto you, whosoever shall put away his wife (except it be for fornication), and shall marry her, committeth adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced, committeth adultery.

Againe ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt performe thine othes to the Lord.

But I say unto you, Swear not at all, neither by heaven, for it is the throne of God:

Nor yet by the earth, for it is his footstool: neither by Hierusalem, for it is the city of the great King.

Neither shalt thou sweare by thine head, because thou shalt not make one hair white or blacke.

But let your communication be, Yea, yea: Nay, nay. For whatsoever is more then these, commeth of euill.

Ye have heard that it hath bene said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth:

But I say unto you, Resist not euill: but whosoever shall smite thee on the right cheek, turne to him the other also.

And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloke also.

And whosoever will compell thee to goe a mile, goe with him twaine.

Give to him that asketh, and from him that would borrow of thee, turne not away.

Ye have heard that it hath bin said, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour, and hate thine enemies:

But I say unto you, Love your enemies: bless them that curse you, and pray for them which hate you, and persecute you.

That ye may be the children of your father that is in heauen: for he maketh his sunne to arise on the euill, and the good, and sendeth raine on the iust and vniust.

For if ye loue them, which loue you, what reward shall you have? Do not the Publicanes euen the same?

And if ye be friendly to your brethren only, what singular thing doe ye? doe not euen the Publicanes likewise?

Ye shall therefore be perfect, as your Father which is in heauen, is perfect.

delike their father: the other is taken of compassion. The children of God must be perfect, when the children of the world.

Ye shall therefore be perfect, as your Father which is in heauen, is perfect.

21. ¶ 7. Not every one that faith vnto mee, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdome of heauen, & but he that doeth my Fathers will which is in heaven.
22. ¶ 8. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, haue we not by thy Name prophesied?
and by thy Name cast out deuils? & by thy Name done many great workes?
23. And then wil I professe to them, & I neuer knew you, & depart from me & yet that worke iniquitie.
24. ¶ 9. Whosoever then heareth of mee these words, & doeth the same, I wil liken him to a wise ma, which hath builded his house on a rock.
25. And the raine fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat vpon that house, and it fell not: for it was grounded on a rocke.
26. But whosoever heareth these my wordes, and doeth them not, shall be likened vnto a foolish man, which hath builded his house vpon the sand.
27. And the raine fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat vpon that house, and it fell, and the fall thereof was great.
28. ¶ 10. And it came to passe, when Iesus had ended these wordes, the people were astonished at his doctrine.
29. For he taught them as one hauing autho-ritie, and not as the Scribes.

30. And the children of the kingdome shall be cast out into vnto & darknesse: there shall bee weeping and gnashing of teeth.
31. ¶ 11. Then Iesus sayd vnto the Centurion, Goe thy way, and as thou hast beleueed, so be it vnto thee. And his seruant was healed the same houre.
32. ¶ 12. And when Iesus came to Peters house he saw his wines mother laid downe, and sicke of a feuer.
33. And he touched her hand, and the feuer left her: so she arose, and ministred vnto them.
34. ¶ 13. When the Euen was come, they brought vnto him many that were possessed with deuils:
and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sicke, 35. ¶ 14. That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by Esaias the Prophet, saying, He tooke our infirmities, and bare our sicknesse.
36. ¶ 15. And when Iesus saw great multitudes of people about him, he commanded them to goe ouer the water.
37. ¶ 16. Then came there a certaine Scribe, and sayd vnto him, Master, I wil follow thee whither-soever thou goest.
38. ¶ 17. But Iesus saide vnto him, The foxes haue holes, and the birds of the heauen haue nestes, but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to rest his head.
39. ¶ 18. And another of his disciples said vnto him, Master, suffer mee first to goe, and burie my father.
40. ¶ 19. But Iesus saide vnto him, Follow me, and let the dead burie their dead.
41. ¶ 20. And when he was entred into the ship, his disciples followed him.
42. And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, so that the ship was couered with waves:
but he was asleepe.
43. ¶ 21. Then his disciples came, and awoke him, saying, Master, we perishe.
44. ¶ 22. And he said vnto them, Why are ye fearefull, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the windes and the sea: and there was a great calme.
45. ¶ 23. And the men marvelled, saying, What man is this, that both the windes and the sea obey him?
46. ¶ 24. And when he was come to the other side into the countrey of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with deuils, which came out of the graues vnto him, so that no man might goe by that way.
47. ¶ 25. And behold, they cried out, saying, Iesus the Sonne of God, what haue we to doe with thee? Art thou come hither to torment vs before the time?
48. ¶ 26. Now there was a farse off from them, a great herde of swine feeding.
49. ¶ 27. And the deuils besought him, saying, If thou cast vs out, suffer vs to goe into the herde of swine.
50. ¶ 28. And he said vnto them, Goe. So they went out, and departed into the herde of swine: and behold, the whole herde off swine ran headlong into the sea, and died in the water.
51. ¶ 29. Then the herde-men fled: and when they were come into the citie, they told all things, and what was become of them that were possessed with the deuils.
52. ¶ 30. And behold, all the citie came out to mee-te Iesus: and when they saw him, they besought him to depart out of their countie.

CHAP. IX.

One sick of the palsey is healed. 5 Remission of sinners. 9 Matthew called. 10 Sinners. 17 New wine. 18 The rulers daughter raised. 20 A woman healed of a bloody issue. 28 Two blinde men by faith receive sight. 32 A dumbe man possessed in behold. 37 The banisht and workemen.

Then hee entred into a ship, and passed ouer, and came into his owne citie.

2 And hee, they brought to him a man sicke of the palsey layed on a bed. And Iesus be-seeing their faith, sayd to the sicke of the palsey, Sonne, bee of good comfort: thy sinnes are forgiuen thee.

3 And beholde, certaine of the Scribes sayd with themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 But when Iesus saw their thoughts, he sayd, Wherefore thinke ye euil things in your hearts?

5 For whether is it easier to say, Thy sinnes are forgiven thee, or to say, Arise, and walke?

6 And that yee may know that the Sonne of man hath authoritie in earth to forgive sinnes (then sayd hee vnto the sicke of the palsey,) Arise, take vp thy bed, and goe to thine house.

7 And hee arose, and departed to his owne house.

8 So when the multitude saw it, they marueiled, and glorified God, which had giuen such au-thoritie to men.

9 ¶ And as Iesus passed forth from thence,
he saw a man sitting at the custome, named Matthew, and sayd to him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 And it came to passe, as Iesus sate at meate in his house, beholde, many Publicanes and sinners that came thither, sate down at the table with Iesus and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharises saw that, they sayd to his disciples, Why eateth your master with Publicanes and sinners?

12 Nowe when Iesus heard it, hee sayd vnto them, The whole need not a Physician, but they that are sicke.

13 But goe ye and learne what this is: I wil haue mercie, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but the sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ Then came the disciples of Iohn to him, saying, Why doe we and the Pharises fast oft, and thy disciples fast not?

15 And Iesus sayd vnto them, Can the children of the marriage chamber mourne as long as the bridegrome is with them? but the dayes will come, when the bridegrome shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

16 Moreover, no man pieceth an old garment with a piece of a new cloth: for that that should fill it vp, taken away from the garment, and the breach is worse.

17 Neither doe they put newe wine into olde vessels: for then the vessels would breake, and the wine would be spilt, and the vessels should perish:
but they put new wine into new vessels, and so are both preferred.

18 ¶ While hee thus spake vnto them, be-holde, there came a certaine ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is now deceased:
but come and lay thine hand on her, and she shall liue.

19 And Iesus arose and followed him with his disciples.

20 And behold, a woman which was diseased with an issue of blood twelue yeeres, came behind him, and touched the hemme of his garment.

21 For she said in her selfe, If I may touch but his garment onely, I shall be whole.

22 Then Iesus turned him about, and seeing her, sayd, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole at that same moment.)

23 ¶ Nowe when Iesus came into the Rulers house, and sawe the minstrels and the multitude making noyse,

24 He sayd vnto them, Get you hence: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorne.

25 And when the multitude were put soorth, hee went in and tooke her by the hand, and the maid arose.

26 And this brute went throughout all that land.

27 ¶ And as Iesus departed thence, two blinde men followed him, crying, and saying, O sonne of Dauid, haue mercie vpon vs.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blinde came to him, and Iesus sayd vnto them, Beleeue yee that I am able to doe this? And they sayd vnto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes saying, Accord-ding to your faith be it vnto you.

30 And their eyes were opened, and Iesus gaue them great charge, saying, See that no man know it.

31 But when they were departed, they spread abroad his fame thorowout all that land.

32 ¶ And as they went out, beholde, they brought to him a dumbe man possessed with a deuill.

33 And when the deuill was cast out, the dumbe spake: then the multitude maruiled, saying, The like was neuer seene in Israel.

34 But the Pharises sayd, ¶ He casteth our de-uils through the prince of deuils.

35 ¶ And Iesus went about all cities and townes, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdome, and healing euery sicknesse and euery disease among the people.

36 But when he saw the multitude, hee had compassion vpon them, because they were dispersed, and scattered abroad, as sheepe hauing no shepherd.

37 Then sayd hee to his disciples, ¶ Surely the haruest is great, but the labourers are few.

38 Wherefore pray the Lord of the haruest, that he would send forth labourers into his haruest.

For this they shall well find,
in their hearts in mind.

18 ¶ Hear ye therefore the parable of the Sower.

19 Whensoever any man heareth the word of that kingdome, and vnderstandeth it not, that e- will one commeth, and catcheth away that which was sowed in his heart: and this is hee which hath receiued the seede by the way side.

20 And hee that receiued seede in the stonie ground, which heareth the word, and in- con- Letteth it, and receiue it,

21 Letteth it, he no roote in himselfe, and du- teth but a season: for as soone as tribulation or persecution commeth because of the worde, by and by he is offended.

22 And hee that receiued the seede among thornes, is hee that heareth the worde: but the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and he is made vnfruitfull.

23 But he that receiued the seede in the good ground, is he that heareth the word, and vnder- standeth it, which also beareth fruit, & bringeth forth, some an hundred folde, some sixtie folde, and some thirtie folde.

24 ¶ Another parable put hee forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man which soweth good seede in his field.

25 But while men slept, there came his enemy and sowed tares among the wheate, and went his way.

26 And when the blade was sprung vp, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 Then came the seruants of the housholder, and sayd vnto him, Master, sowedst thou not good seede in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 And he said vnto them, Some enuious man hath done this. Then the seruants said vnto him, Wilt thou then that we goe and gather them vp?

29 But he said, Nay, lest while ye goe about to gather the tares, ye plucke vp also with them the wheate.

30 Let both grow together vntil the haruest, & in time of haruest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye first the tares, and bind them in sheaves to burne them: but gather the wheate into my barn.

31 ¶ Another parable he put forth vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a graine of mustard seede, which a man taketh and soweth in his field:

32 Which in deed is the least of all seedes: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, and it is a tree, so that the birds of heauen come and build in the branches thereof.

33 ¶ Another parable spake hee to them, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto leaven, which a woman taketh and hideth in three pecks of meale, till all be leavened.

34 ¶ All these things spake Iesus vnto the multitude in parables, & without parables spake he not vnto them,

35 That it might be fulfilled, which was spo- ken by the Prophet, saying, * I will open my mouth in parables, & will utter the things which haue bene kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then sent Iesus the multitude away, and went into the house. And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of that field.

37 ¶ Then answered he, and said to them, Hee that soweth the good seede, is the Sonne of man, 38 And the fildes is the world, and the good soule are the children of the kingdome, and the tares are the children of that wicked one.

39 And the enemye that soweth them, is the deuill, & the haruest is the end of the world, and thereapers be the Angels.

40 As then the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so shall it be in the end of this world.

41 The Sonne of man shal send forth his An- gels, and they shal gather out of his kingdome all things that offend, and them which doe iniquity;

42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire. There shalbe wailing and gnashing of teeth.

43 ¶ Then shal the iust men shine as the sunne in the kingdome of their Father. Hee that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

44 ¶ Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a treasure hid in the field, which when a man hath found, he hideth it, and for ioy there- of departeth, and selleth all that he hath, and buy- eth that field.

45 ¶ Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like to a merchant man that seeketh good pearles, 46 Who hauing found a pearle of great price, went and sold all that he had and bought it.

47 ¶ Againe, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a draw net cast into the sea, that gathereth of all kindes of things.

48 Which, when it is full, men draw to land, and sit and gather the good into vessels, and cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world. The Angels shal goe forth, and feuer the bad from a- mong the iust,

50 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shalbe wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 ¶ Iesus said vnto them, Vnderstand yee all these things? They said vnto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then sayd he vnto them, Therefore euery Scribe which is taught vnto the kingdome of hea- uen, is like vnto an housholder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things both new & old.

53 ¶ And it came to passe, that when Iesus had ended these parables, he departed thence,

54 ¶ And came into his owne country, and taught them in their Synagogue, so that they were astonished, and sayd, Whence commeth this wise- dome and great workes vnto this man?

55 Is not this the carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Marie, & his brethren Iames and Ioses, and Simon, and Iudas?

56 And are not his sisters all with vs? Whence then hath he all these things?

57 And they were offended with him. Then Iesus said to them, * A Prophet is not without honour, saue in his owne country, and in his owne house.

58 And he did not many great workes there, for their vnbeliefes sake.

himself, that he feels some thing,
and feels nothing.

2 And said unto his disciples, This is that John Baptist, he is risen againe from the dead, & therefore great works are wrought by him.
3 For Herod had taken Iohn, and bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philipps wife.
4 For Iohn said unto him, It is not a lawfull for thee to have her.
5 And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a Prophet.
6 But when Herods birthday was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod.
7 Wherefore hee promised with an othe, that he would give her whatsoever she would aske.
8 And she being before instructed of her mother, sayd, Give mee here Iohn Baptists head in a platter.
9 And the King was sorry: nevertheless, because of the othe, and them that sat with him at the table, he commanded it to be given her.
10 And sent, and beheaded Iohn in the prison.
11 And his head was brought in a platter, and given to the mayd, and she brought it vnto her mother.
12 And his disciples came, and tooke vp the body, and buried it, and went, and told Iesus.
13 And when Iesus heard it, hee departed thence by shippe into a desert place apart. And when the multitude had heard it, they followed him on foot out of the cities.
14 And Iesus went forth & saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sicke.
15 ¶ And when even was come, & his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is already past: let the multitude depart, that they may goe into the townes, and buy them victuals.
16 But Iesus said to them, They have no need to goe away: give yethem to eat.
17 Then said they vnto him, Wee haue here but five loaves, and two fishes.
18 And he said, Bring them hither to me.
19 And hee commanded the multitude to sit downe on the grasse, & tooke the five loaves and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, and blessed, and brake, and gaue the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.
20 And they did all eat, and were sufficed, and they tooke vp of the fragments that remained, twelve baskets full.
21 And they that had eaten, were about five thousand men, beside women and little children.
22 ¶ And straightway Iesus compelled his disciples to enter into a ship, and to goe ouer before him, while he sent the multitude away.
23 And as soone as hee had sent the multitude away, he went vp into a mountain alone to pray:
and when the evening was come, hee was there alone.
24 And the ship was now in the middes of the sea, and was tossed with waves: for it was a contrary wind.
25 And in the fourth watch of the night, Ie-sus came unto them walking on the sea.
26 And when his disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit, and tried one for feare.

27 But straightway Iesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good comfort, It is I: bee not afraid.
28 ¶ Then Peter answered him, and said, Master, if it be thou, bid mee come vnto thee on the water.
29 And he sayd, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the ship, hee walked on the water, to goe to Iesus.
30 But when he saw a mighty wind, he was afraid: and as he began to sinke, he cried, saying, Master, saue me.
31 So immediatly Iesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said to him, O thou of little faith, wherefore diddest thou doubt?
32 And as soone as they were come into the ship, the winde ceased.
33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Sonne of God.
34 ¶ And when they were come ouer, they came into the land of Cenezareth.
35 And when the men of that place knew him, they sent out into all that countrey round about, and brought vnto him all that were sicke, 36 And besought him, that they might touch the hemme of his garment onely: and as many as touched it were made whole.

Then came to Iesus the Scribes and Pharises, which were of Ierusalem, saying,
3 Why do thy disciples transgresse the tradition of the Elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.
3 But he answered and said vnto them, Why doe yee also transgresse the commandment of God by your traditions?
4 For God hath commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: and hee that cur-seth father or mother, let him die the death.
5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to father or mother, By the gift that is offered by mee, thou mayest haue profir, 6 Though hee honour not his father, or his mother, shall be free: thus haue ye made the commandment of God of no authoritie by your tradition.
7 O hypocrites, Esaias prophesied well of you, saying,

their mouth, and honoureth me with the lips, but their heart is farre off from me.
9 But in vaine they worship me, teaching for Below upon the Temple, in the profit for it is as good as if I gave it thee, for (as the ruler of our time saith) it shall be meritorious for thee: for vnder the colour of religion, they raided all to themselves, as though that hee that had giuen any thing to the Temple, had done the duty of a child. d You made it of no power and authority as much as I say in you: for other wise the commandments of God stand fast in the Church of God, in despite of the world and Satan. 3 The same men are condemned for hypocrite and superstition, because they make the kingdom of God to stand in outward things.

e Exo. 20.12. 4 Christ teacheth vs that hypocrite of false teachers which decend on to sales, is not to be borne withal, so not in indifferent matters, and there is no reason why their ordinary vocation should blinde our eyes: otherwise wee are like to perill with them.

Revealed are then, Simon, the sonne of Ionas: for fish and blood hath not revealed it vnto thee, but my Father, which is in heauen.

18 And I say also vnto thee, that thou art
Peter, and vpon this rocke I will build my Church: and the gates of hell shall not ouer-come it.

19 And I will giue vnto thee the keyes of the kingdome of heauen: and whatsoever thou shalt bind vpon earth, shall be bound in heauen;

and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed in heauen.

20 Then he charged his disciples, that they should tell no man that he was Iesus the Christ.

21 From that time forth Iesus began to shew vnto his disciples, that he must go vnto Hierusalem, and suffer many things of the Elders, and of the pie Priests, and Scribes, and bee slaine,
and be raised againe the third day.

22 Then Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him saying, Master, picie thy selfe: this shall not be vnto thee.

23 Then he turned backe, and said vnto Peter, Get thee behinde mee, for thou art an offence vnto mee, because thou vnderstandest not the things that are of God, but the things that are of men.

24 Iesus then sayd to his disciples, If any man will follow me, let him forsake himselfe, and take vpon his crosse, and follow me.

25 For a whooeuer will saue his life, shall lose it: and whooeuer shall lose his life for my sake, shall finde it.

26 For what shall it profite a man, though he should winne the whole world, if he lose his owne soule: or what shall a man giue for recompence of his soule?

27 For the Sonne of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his Angels, and then shall he giue to every man according to his deeds.

28 Verily I say vnto you, there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they haue seene the Sonne of man come in his kingdome.

29 The power of Iesus, 31 Prayer and fasting, 33 Christ predicted his passion, 34 His power restored.

And after sixe dayes, Iesus tooke Peter, and Iames, and Iohn his brother, & brought them vp into an high mountaine apart.

2 And was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the Sunne, and his clothes were as white as the light.

3 And behold, there appeared vnto them Moses, and Elias, talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and sayd to Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: if thou wilt, let vs make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 While he yet spake, beholde, a bright cloud shadowed them: and beholde, there came a voyce out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Sonne, in whom I am well pleased: heare him.

6 And when the disciples heard that, they fell on their faces, and were sore afraid.

7 Then Iesus came and touched them, & said,
Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they lifted vp their eies, they saw no man save Iesus onely.

9 And as they came downe from the moun-taine, Iesus charged them, saying, Shew the scripture vnto no man, till the Sonne of man be againe from the dead.

10 And his disciples aske him saying, Why then say the Scribes that Elias must first come?

11 And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Certainly Elias must first come, and restore all things.

12 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but haue done vnto him what they would: likewise shall also the Sonne of man suffer of them.

13 Then the disciples perceived that he spake vnto them of Iohn Baptist.

14 And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certaine man, and fell downe at his feet.

15 And sayd, Master, haue pite on my sonne:
for he is a lunaticke, & sore vexed: for oftimes he falleth into the fire, and oftentimes into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not heale him.

17 Then Iesus answered, and said, O generation faithlesse, and crooked, how long now shall I be with you! how long now shall I suffer you!

18 And Iesus rebuked the deuill, and he went out of him: & the child was healed at that houre.

19 Then came the disciples to Iesus apart, and sayd, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Iesus sayd vnto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say vnto you, if yee haue faith as much as a graine of mustard seede, yee shall say vnto this mountaine, Remove hence to yonder place, and it shall remove: and nothing shall be impossible vnto you.

21 Howebeit this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting.

22 And they being in Galilee, Iesus said vnto them, The Sonne of man shall be deliuered into the hands of men.

23 And they shall kill him, but the third day shall he rise againe: and they were very sorry.

CHAP. XVII.

The transfiguration of Christ, 1. Christ asked to be heard, 2. Peter's vision, 3. The transfiguration, 4. The prayer of the disciples.

1 And it came to passe, after sixe dayes, that Iesus tooke Peter, and Iames, and Iohn his brother, & brought them vp into an high mountaine apart.

2 And was transfigured before them: and
his face did shine as the Sunne, and his clothes
were as white as the light.

3 And behold, there appeared vnto them Moses, and Elias, talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and sayd to Iesus, Master, it is good for vs to be here: if thou wilt, let vs
make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

19 And seeing a figge tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaues only, and said to it, Neuer fruit grow on thee henceforward. And anon the figgetree withered.

20 And when his disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soone is the figgetree withered?

21 And Iesus answered and said vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, if ye haue faith, & doubt not, ye shall not only doe that, which I haue done to the figtree, but also if ye say vnto this mountaine, Take thy selfe away, and cast thy selfe into the sea, it shall be done.

22 And whatsoeuer ye shall aske in prayer if ye beleue, ye shall receiue it.

23 ¶ And when he was come into the Temple, the chiefe Priests, and the Elders of the people came vnto him, as he was teaching, and sayd, By what authoritie doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this authoritie?

24 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, I also wil aske of you a certaine thing, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I doe these things.

25 The baptisme of Iohn, whence was it? from heauen, or of men? Then they reasoned among themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleue him?

26 And if we say, Of men, we feare the multitude, for all hold Iohn as a Prophet.

27 Then they answered Iesus, and said, We can not tell. And he said vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I doe these things.

28 ¶ But what thinke ye? A certaine man had two sonnes, and came to the elder, and sayde, Sonne, goe and worke to day in my vineyard.

29 But hee answered, and said, I will not: yee afterward he repented himselfe, and went.

30 Then came herto the second, and said likewise, And he answered, and said, I will, Sir: yet he went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the wil of the father? They said vnto him, The first. Iesus sayd vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, that the Publicanes and the harlots, goe before you into the kingdome of God.

32 For Iohn came vnto you in the way of righteousness, and ye beleued him not: but the Publicanes and the harlots beleued him, and yet though ye saw it, were not moued with repentance afterward that ye might beleue him.

33 ¶ Heare another parable, There was a certaine householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and made a wine-press therein, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange country.

34 And when the time of the fruit drew neere, he sent his seruants to the husbandmen to receiue the fruits thereof.

35 And the husbandmen tooke his seruants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again he sent other seruants, moethen the first: and they did the like vnto them.

37 But last of all he sent vnto them his owne sonne, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the sonne, they sayd among themselves, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, & let vs take his inheritance.

39 So they tooke him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and flew him.

40 Wherefore the Lorde of the vineyard shall come, what will hee doe to those husbandmen?

41 They said vnto him, He will cruelly destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shall deliuer him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Iesus said vnto them, Read ye neuer in the Scriptures, The stone which the builders refused, the same is made the head of the corner?

43 This was the Lords doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes.

44 Therefore I say vnto you, The kingdome of God shall be taken from you, and shall be giuen to a nation, which shall bring forth the fruits thereof.

45 And whosoever shall fall on this stone, he shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will dash him in pieces.

46 And when the chiefe Priests and Pharises had heard his parables, they perceiued that hee spake of them.

47 And they seeking to lay hands on him, feared the people, because they tooke him as a Prophet.

48 The fruits of the spirit, and not of the flesh, Gal. 5. ¶ Esa. 8.14. to be scattered with the wind, for he useth a word which signifieth properly, to separate the chaffe from the corne with winnowing, and to scatter it also, can doe nothing, but what God will.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The parable of the marriage. 2 The calling of the Gentiles. 3 The wedding garment, faith. 16 Of 1688 tributes. 23 The question with Christ touching the resurrection. 32 God is of the living. 36 The greatest commandment. 39 To love God. 39 To love our neighbour. 42 Iesus reasoneth with the Pharisees touching the Messias.

¶ Then Iesus answered, and spake vnto them againe in parables, saying,

1 The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a certaine King which married his sonne,

2 And sent forth his seruants, to call them that were bidde to the wedding, but they would not come.

3 Again he sent forth other seruants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I haue prepared my dinner: mine oxen & mine fattings are killed, and all things are ready: come vnto the marriage.

4 But they made light of it, and went their wayes, one to his farme, and another about his merchandise.

5 And the remnant tooke his seruants, and intreated them sharply, and flew them.

6 But when the king heard it, he was wroth, and sent forth his warriours, and destroyed those murderers, and burnt vp their citie.

7 Then said hee to his seruants, Truly the wedding is prepared: but they which were bidden, were not worthy.

8 ¶ Goe ye therefore out into the hie wayes, and as many as ye find, bid them to the marriage.

9 So those seruants went out into the high wayes, and gathered together all that euer they found, both good and bad: so the wedding was furnished with guests.

10 ¶ Then the king came in, to see the guests.

11 ¶ God doth first call vs, when we thinke nothing of it. ¶ The general calling of the Gospel to all men, but their life is examined, sheweth in. 4 In the small number which come at the calling, there are some cast awayes which doe not not confirme their faith with newnesse of life.

and saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment.

12 And he said vnto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, and hast not on a wedding garment? And he was speechlesse.

13 Then said the King to the seruants, Bind him hand and foot: take him away, and cast him into vtter darkenesse: there shall bee weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 For many are called, but few chosen.

15 Then went the Pharisees and tooke counsell how they might tangle him in talke.

16 And they sent vnto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God truly, neither carest for any man: for thou considerest not the person of men.

17 Tell vs therefore, how thinkest thou? Is it lawfull to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or not?

18 But Iesus perceived their wickednesse, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shewe mee the tribute money. And they brought him a penie.

20 And hee saide vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

21 They saide vnto him, Cefars. Then said he vnto them, Giue therefore to Cesar, the things which are Cefars, & giue vnto God, those things which are Gods.

22 And when they heard it, they maruelled, and left him, and went their way.

23 The same day the Sadducees came to him, (which say that there is no resurrection) and asked him,

24 Saying, Master, Moses said, If a man die, hauing no children, his brother shal marrie his wife by the right of alliance, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.

25 Now there were with vs seuen brethren, and the first married a wife, and deceased: and hauing no issue, left his wife vnto his brother.

26 Likewise also the second, and the third, vnto the seuenth.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the seuen? for all had her.

29 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Ye are deceived, not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they neither marrie wives, nor wives are bestowed in marriage, but are as the Angels of God in heauen.

31 And concerning the resurrection of the dead, haue ye not read what is spoken vnto you of God, saying,

32 I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the liuing.

33 And when the multitude heard it, they were attonied at his doctrine.

34 But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadduces to silence, they assembled together.

35 And one of them, which was an expounder of the Law, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,

36 Master, which is the great commandment in the Law?

37 Iesus saide to him, Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, with all thy soule, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the first and the great commandment.

39 And the second is like vnto this, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

40 On these two commandements hangeth the whole Law and the Prophets.

41 While the Pharisees were gathered together, Iesus asked them,

42 Saying, What thinke ye of Christ? whose sonne is he? They said vnto him, Dauids.

43 He said vnto them, How then doeth Dauid in spirit call him Lord, saying,

44 The Lord saide to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

45 If then Dauid call him Lord, how is he his sonne?

46 And none could answer him a word, neither durst any from that day forth aske him any more questions.

1 Saying, The Scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses seate.

3 For they bind heauie burdens, and grievous to be borne, and lay them on mens shoulders, but they themselues will not moue them with one of their fingers.

7 Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lampes.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so, lest there will not be enough for vs and you: but goe ye rather to them that sell, & buy for your selues.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegrome came, and they that were ready, went in with him to the wedding: and the gate was shut.

11 Afterwards came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.

12 But he answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, I know you not.

13 Which therefore for ye know neither the day, nor the houre, when the Sonne of man will come.

14 ¶ For the kingdom of heauen is like a man that goeth into a strange country, called his seruants, and deliuered to them his goods.

15 And vnto one he gaue five talents; and to another two, and to another one, to euery man after his owne abilitie, and straightway went from home.

16 Then he that had receiued the five talents, went and occupied with them, and gained other five talents.

17 Likewise also he that receiued two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that receiued that one, went and digged in the earth, & hid his masters money.

19 But after a long season the master of those seruants came, and reckoned with them.

20 Then came he that had receiued five talents, and brought the other five talents, saying, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me five talents: behold, I haue gained with them other five talents.

21 Then his master said vnto him, It is well donee good seruant, and faithful, Thou hast bene faithful in little, I will make thee ruler over much: enter into my masters ioy.

22 Also he that had receiued two talents, came, and said, Master, thou deliueredst vnto me two talents: behold, I haue gained two other talents more.

23 His master said vnto him, It is well donee good seruant, and faithful, Thou hast bene faithful in little, I will make thee ruler over much: enter into my masters ioy.

24 Then hee that had receiued the one talent, came, and said, Master, I knew that thou wast an hard man, which reapest where thou sowedst not, and gatherest where thou sowedst not:

25 I was therefore afraid, and went, & hid thy talent in the earth: behold, thou hast thine owne.

26 And his master answered, and said vnto him, Thou evil seruant, and slothfull, thou knowest that I reape where I sowed not, and gather where I sowed not.

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming should I haue receaued mine owne with vantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it vnto him which hath ten talents.

29 ¶ For vnto euery man that hath, it shall be giuen, and he shall haue abundance, and from him that hath not, euen that hee hath shall be taken away.

30 Cast therefore that vnprofitable seruant into vtter darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ And when the sonne of man cometh in his glory, and all the holy Angels with him, then shall he sit vpon the throne of his glory.

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and he shall separate them one from another as a shepheard separateth the sheepe from the goates.

33 And hee shall set the sheepe on his right hand, and the goates on the left.

34 Then shall the king say to them on his right hand, Come ye blessed of my Father: take the inheritance of the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

35 ¶ For I was an hungred, and ye gaue mee meate: I thirsted, and ye gaue mee drinke: I was a stranger, and ye tooke me in vnto you.

36 I was naked, and ye clothed mee: I was sicke, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or a thirst, and gaue thee drinke?

38 And when saw we thee a stranger, & tooke thee in vnto vs? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when saw we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

40 And the King shall answer, and say vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, in as much as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done it to me.

41 Then shall he say to them on the left hand, Depart from me ye cursed, into everlasting fire, which is prepared for the deuill and his angels.

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me no meate: I thirsted, and ye gaue me no drinke:

43 I was a stranger, and ye tooke me not in vnto you: I was naked, and ye clothed mee not: sicke, and in prison, and visited me not.

44 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee?

45 Then shall he answer them, and say, Verely I say vnto you, in as much as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 And these shall goe into everlasting paine, and the righteous into life eternall.

12. And immediatly the Spirit driueth him into the wilderness.

13. And hee was there in the wilderness fourtie dayes, and was tempted of Satan: he was also with the wilde beastes, and the Angels ministred vnto him.

14. ¶ Now after that Iohn was committed to prison, Iesus came into Galile, preaching the Gospel of the kingdome of God.

15. And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdome of God is at hand: repent and beleue the Gospel.

16. ¶ And as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea, (for they were fishers.)

17. Then Iesus said vnto them, Follow me, and I will make you to be fishers of men.

18. And straightway they forsooke their nets and followed him.

19. And when hee had gone a little further thence, hee saw Iames the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, as they were in the ship, mending their nets.

20. And anon hee called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with his hired seruants, and went their way after him.

21. ¶ So they entered into Capernaum: and straightway on the Sabbath day hee entered into the Synagogue, and taught.

22. And they were astonied at his doctrine, for he taught them as one that had authoritie, and not as the Scribes.

23. ¶ And there was in their Synagogue a man in whom was an vnclene spirit, and hee cried out,

24. Saying, Ah, what haue we to do with thee, O Iesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy vs? I know thee what thou art, euen that holy One of God.

25. And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26. And the vnclene spirit tare him, and cried with a loud voyce, and came out of him.

27. And they were all amazed, so that they demanded one of another, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for hee commandeth euen the foule spirits with authoritie, and they obey him.

28. And immediatly his fame spread abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galilee.

29. ¶ And as soon as they were come out of the Synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with Iames and Iohn.

30. And Simons wiues mother lay sicke of a feuer, and anon they told him of her.

31. And hee came and tooke her by the hand, and lifted her vp, and the feuer forsooke her by and by, and she ministred vnto them.

32. And when euen was come, at what time the Sonne setteth, they brought to him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with deuils.

33. And the whole city was gathered together at the doore.

34. And hee healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases: and hee cast out many deuils, and suffered not the deuils to say that they knew him.

35. And in the morning very early before day, Iesus arose and went out into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36. And Simon, and they that were with him, followed carefully after him.

37. And when they had found him, they sayd vnto him, All men seeke for thee.

38. Then he said vnto them, Let vs go into the next townes, that I may preach there also: for I came out for that purpose.

39. And hee preached in their Synagogues, throughout all Galilee, and cast the deuils out.

40. ¶ And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeled downe vnto him, and sayd to him, If thou wilt, thou canst make mee cleane.

41. And Iesus had compassion, and put forth his hand, and touched him, and said to him, I will be thou cleane.

42. And as soone as he had spoken immediatly the leprosie departed from him, and he was made cleane.

43. And after he had giuen him a straight commandement, he sent him away forthwith,

44. And sayd vnto him, See thou say nothing to any man, but get thee hence, and shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moyses commanded, for a testimoniall vnto them.

45. But when hee was departed, he began to tell many things, and to publish the matter: so that Iesus could no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from euery quarter.

6. And there were certaine of the Scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7. Why doeth this man speake such blasphemies? who can forgive finnes, but God onely?

9. Whether is it easier to say to the sicke of the palsey, Thy finnes are forgiven thee? or to say, Arise, and take vp thy bed, and walke?

CHAP. IIIII.

¶ The parable of the sower. 14 And the meaning thereof. 18 Thornes. 21 The candle. 26 Of him that sowed, & them that sowe. 31 The graine of mustard seed. 38 Christ sleepeth in the ship.

And hee began againe to teach by the sea-side, and there gathered vnto him a great multitude, so that he entred into a ship, and fate in the sea, and all the people was by the sea side on the land.

1 And he taught them many things in parables, and said vnto them in his doctrine.

2 ¶ Hearken: Behold, there went out a sower to sow.

3 And it came to passe as he sowed, that some fell by the way side, and the fowles of the heauen came, and deuoured it vp.

4 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth, and by and by sprang vp, because it had not depth of earth.

5 But as soone as the Sunne was vp, it was burnt vp, and because it had not root, it withered away.

6 And some fell among the thornes, and the thornes grew vp, and choked it, so that it gaue no fruit.

7 And some fell in good ground, and did yeele fruite that sprung vp, and it grewe, and it brought forth, some thirtie fold, some sixtie fold, and some an hundred fold.

8 Then he sayd vnto them, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

9 And when hee was alone, they that were about him with the twelue, asked him of the parable.

10 And he said vnto them, To you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdome of God: but vnto them that are without, all things bee done in parables,

11 ¶ That they seeing, may see, and not discernie: and they hearing, may heare, and not vnderstand. least at any time they should turne, and their finnes should be forgiven them.

12 ¶ Again he said vnto them, Perceiue ye not this parable? how then should ye vnderstand all other parables?

13 The sower soweth the word.

14 And they are they that receive the seede by the wayeside, in whom the word is sown:

but when they haue heard it, Satan commeth immediately, and takeh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

16 And likewise they that receive the seede in stony ground, are they which when they haue heard the word, straightwayes receive it with gladnesse.

17 Yet haue they no roote in themselves, and endure but a time: for when trouble and persecution ariseth for the word, immediately they be offended.

18 Also they that receive the seede among the thornes, are such as heare the word:

19 But the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things enter in, and choke the word, and it is vnfruitfull

20 But they that haue receiued seede in good ground, are they that heare the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruite: one corne thirtie, an other sixtie, and some an hundred.

21 ¶ Also hee sayd vnto them, ¶ Commeth the candle in, to be put vnder a bushell, or vnder the bed, and not to be put on a candlestick?

22 ¶ For there is nothing hid that shall not be opened: neither is there a secret, but that it shall come to light.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

24 ¶ And he sayd vnto them, Take heed what ye heare. ¶ With what measure you mete, it shall be measured vnto you: and vnto you that heare, shall more be giuen.

25 ¶ For vnto him that hath, shall it be giuen, and from him that hath not, shall be taken away, euen that he hath.

26 ¶ Also he sayd, So is the kingdome of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground, 27 And it should sleepe, and rise vp night and day, and the seede should spring and grow vp, hee not knowing how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of it selfe, first the blade, then the eares, after that full cometh in the eares.

29 And as soone as the fruite sheweth it selfe, anon he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 ¶ He sayd moreover, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdome of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 It is like a graine of mustard seede, which when it is sown in the earth, is the least of all seedes that be in the earth:

32 But after that it is sown, it groweth vp, and is greatest of all herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the fowles of the heauen may build vnder the shadow of it.

33 And with many such parables he preached the word vnto them, as they were able to heare it.

34 And without parables spake hee nothing vnto them: but he expounded all things to his disciples apart.

35 ¶ Nowe the same day when euen was come, he sayd vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side

36 And they left the multitude, and tooke him as he was in the shippe, and there were also with him other little ships.

37 ¶ And there arose a great storme of winde, and the waues dashed into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And hee was in the sterne asleepe on a pillow:

12 And all the devils besought him saying, Send vs into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And incontinently Iesus gaue them leaue. Then the vncleane spirits went out and entred into the swine, and the heard ranne headlong from the high banke into the ^f sea, (and there were about two thousand swine) and they were choked vp in the sea.

14 And the swineheards fled, and told it in the citie, and in the country, and they came out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they came to Iesus, and saw him that had bene possessed with the deuill, and had the legion, sit both clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

16 And they that saw it, told them, what was done to him that was possessed with the deuill, and concerning the swine.

17 Then they began to pray him, that he would depart from their coasts.

18 And when he was come into the ship, hee that had bene possessed with the deuill, prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit, Iesus would not suffer him, but said vnto him, Goe thy way home to thy friends, and shewe them what great things the Lorde hath done vnto thee, and how hee hath had compassion on thee.

20 So he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis, what great things Iesus had done vnto him: and all men did marueile.

21 ¶ And when Iesus was come ouer againe by ship vnto the other side, a great multitude gathered together to him, and he was nere vnto the sea.

22 ¶ And behold, there came one of the rulers of the Synagogue, whose name was Iairus, and when he saw him, he fell downe at his feete.

23 And besought him instantly, saying, My little daughter lieth at point of death: I pray thee that thou wouldest come and lay thine hands on her, that she may be healed and liue.

24 Then he went with him, and a great multitude followed him and thronged him.

25 ¶ And there was a certaine woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelue yeeres,

26 And had suffered many things of many Physicians, and had spent all that she had, and it auailed her nothing, but she became much worse.

27 When she had heard of Iesus, she came in the prease behind, and touched his garment.

28 For she said, If I may but touch his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And straightway the course of her blood was dried vp, and she felt in her body, that shee was healed of that plague.

30 And immediately when Iesus did know in himselfe the vertue that went out of him, hee turned him round about in the prease, and said, Who hath touched my clothes?

31 And his disciples sayd vnto him, Thou seeest the multitude throng thee, and sayest thou, Who did touch me?

32 And he looked round about to see her that had done that.

33 And the woman feared and trembled: for shee knew what was done in her, and shee came and fell downe before him, and tolde him the whole truth.

34 And he sayd to her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.)

35 While he yet spake, there came from the same ruler of the Synagogues house certaine which sayd, Thy daughter is dead: why diseatest thou the master any further?

36 ¶ As soone as Iesus heard that word spoken, he sayd vnto the ruler of the Synagogue, Be not afraid: onely beleue.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him saue Peter and Iames, and Iohn the brother of Iames.

38 So hee came vnto the house of the ruler of the Synagogue, & saw the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And he went in, and sayd vnto them, Why make ye this trouble, and weepe? the child is now dead, but sleepe.

40 ¶ And they laughed him to scorne: but hee put them all out, and tooke the father, and the mother of the child, and them ^h that were with him, and entred in where the child lay,

41 And tooke the child by the hand, and sayd vnto her, Talitha cumi, which is by interpretation, Mayden, I say vnto thee, arise.

42 And straightway the mayden arose, and walked: for she was of the age of twelue yeeres, and they were astonished out of measure.

CHAP. VI.

3 Christ preaching in his country, his owne outcome him. 4 The vnbellest of the Nazarenes. 7 The Apostles are sent. 13 They cast out deuils & they anoynt the sicke with oyle. 14 Herodes opinion of Christ. 18 The cause of Iohns imprisonment. 23 Drowning. 27 Iohn beheaded. 29 Buried. 30 The Apostles retaine from preaching. 34 Christ teacheth in the desert. 37 Hee feedeth the people with fift loaves. 48 The Apostles are troubled on the sea. 56 The sicke that touch Christes garment, are healed.

And ϕ he departed thence, and came into his owne country, and his disciples followed him.

2 And when the Sabbath was come, he began to teach in the Synagogue, and many that heard him, were astonied, and sayd, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this that is giuen vnto him, that euen such great works are done by his hands?

3 Is not this that carpenter Maries sonne, the brother of Iames and Ioses, and of Iuda and Simon? and are not his sisters here with vs? And they were offended in him.

4 Then Iesus said vnto them, A ϕ Prophet is not without honour, but in his owne country, and among his owne kinred, and in his owne house.

5 And hee d could there doe no great works, saue that he laid his hands vpon a few sicke folkes, and healed them.

6 And hee maruelled at their vnbelife, and went about by the townes on euery side, teaching.

7 ϕ And hee called vnto him the twelue, and began to send them forth two and two, and gaue them power ouer vncleane spirits.

8 And commaunded them that they should take nothing for their iourney, saue a staffe onely: neither scrip, neither bread, neither monie in their girdles:

9 But that they should be shod with ϕ sandals, and that they should not put on ϕ two coats.

10 And hee sayd vnto them, Wheresoeuer yee shall enter into an house, ϕ there abide till ye depart thence.

11 ϕ And whosoever shall not receiue you, nor heare you, when ye depart thence, ϕ shake off the dust that is vnder your feet, for a witnesse vnto them. Verely I say vnto you, It shall be easier for Sodome or Gomorraha at the day of Iudgement, then for that citie.

12 ϕ And they went out, and preached, that men should amend their liues.

13 And they cast out many deuils: and they ϕ anointed many that were sicke, with oyle, and healed them.

14 ϕ Then King Herod heard of him, (for his Name was made manifest) and said, Iohn Baptist is risen againe from the dead, and therefore great works are wrought by him.

15 Other said, It is Elias: and some said, It is a Prophet, or as one of those Prophets.

16 ϕ So when Herod heard, he said, It is Iohn whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.

17 For Herod himselfe had sent forth, and had taken Iohn, & bound him in prison for Herodias sake, which was his brother Philips wife, because he had married her.

18 For Iohn said vnto Herod, ϕ It is not lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.

19 Therefore Herodias ϕ laid wait against him, and would haue killed him, but she could not:

20 For Herod feared Iohn, knowing that he was a iust man, and an holy, and reuerenced him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him ϕ gladly.

21 But the time being conuenient, when Herod on his birthday made a banquet to his princes and captaines, and chiefe estates of Galile:

22 And the daughter ϕ of the same Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod, and them that fate at table together, the King said vnto the maid, Aske of me what thou wilt, and I will giue it thee.

23 And hee swaie vnto her, Whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of me, I will giue it thee, euen vnto the halfe of my kingdome.

24 ϕ So she went forth, and said to her mother, What shall I aske? And she said, Iohn Baptists head.

25 Then she came in straightway with haste vnto the King, and asked, saying, I would that thou shouldst giue me euen now in a charger the head of Iohn Baptist.

26 Then the King was very fory: yet for his othes sake, and for their sakes which fate at table with him, he would not refuse her.

27 And immediatly the King sent the ϕ hangman, and gaue charge that his head should bee brought in. So he went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the maide, and the maide gaue it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard it, they came and tooke vp his body, and put in a tombe.

30 ϕ And the Apostles gathered themselues together to Iesus, and tolde him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31 ϕ And he said vnto them, Come yee apart into the wilderness, and rest a while: for there were many comers and goers, that they had no leasure to eat.

32 ϕ So they went by ship out of the way into a desert place.

33 But the people saw them when they departed, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and assembled vnto him.

34 ϕ Then Iesus went out, & saw a great multitude, and had compassion on them, because they were like sheepe which had no shepheard: ϕ and he began to teach them many things.

35 ϕ And when the day was now farre spent, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and now the day is farre passed.

36 Let them depart, that they may go into the country and townes about, and buy them bread: for they haue nothing to eat.

37 But he answered, and said vnto them, Giue ye them to eat. And they said vnto him, Shal we goe and buy two hundredren peniworth of bread, and giue them to eat?

And from thence he went, and came into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into an house, and would that no man should have known: but he could not be hid.

For a certain woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came, and fell at his feet.

And the woman was a Greek, a Syrian by nation, and she besought him that hee would cast out the deuill out of her daughter.

But Iesus sayde vnto her, Let the children first be fedde, for it is not good to take the childrens bread, and to cast it vnto the whelpes.

Then she answered, and sayde vnto him, Truth, Lord: yet in deed the whelpes eate vnder the table of the childrens crummes.

Then he said vnto her, For this saying go thy way: the deuill is gone out of thy daughter.

And when she was come home to her house, she found the deuill departed, & her daughter lying on the bed.

And he departed againe from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, and came vnto the sea of Galilee, through the middes of the coastes of Decapolis.

And they brought vnto him one that was deafe and stumbled in his speech, and prayed him to put his hand vpon him.

Then he tooke him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers in his eares, and did spit, and touched his tongue.

And looking vp to heauen, hee sighed, and sayd vnto him, Ephthata, that is, Be opened.

And straightway his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and hee spake plaine.

And he commanded them that they should tell no man: but howe much fouer hee forbade them, the more a great deale they published it.

And were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaffe to heare, and the dumbe to speake.

In those dayes, when there was a very great multitude, and had nothing to eate, Iesus called his disciples to him, and said vnto them,

I haue compassion on the multitude, because they haue now continued with mee three dayes, and haue nothing to eate.

And if I send them away fasting to their owne houses, they would faint by the way: for some of them came from farre.

Then his disciples answered him, Whence can a man satysfie these with bread here in the wilderness?

And hee asked them, How many loaves haue ye? And they said Seuen.

Then hee commanded the multitude to sit downe on the ground: and hee tooke the seuen loaves, and gaue thanks, brake them, and gaue to his disciples to set before them, and they did set them before the people.

They had also a few small fishes, and when he had giuen thanks, he commanded them also to be set before them.

So they did, and were filled, and they took vp of the broken meat that was left, seuen baskets full.

And they that had eaten were about foure thousand, so he sent them away.

And anon he entered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

And the Pharisees came forth, and began to dispute with him, seeking of him a signe from heauen, and tempting him.

Then hee sighed deeply in his spirit, and sayd, Why doeth this generation seeke a signe? Verily I say vnto you, a signe shall not be giuen vnto this generation.

So he left them, and went into the ship againe, and departed to the other side.

And they had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them, but one loafe.

And he charged them, saying, Take heede and beware of the leauen of the Pharisees, and of the leauen of Herod.

And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we haue no bread.

And when Iesus knew it, he said vnto them, Why reason you thus, because yee haue no bread? perceiue ye not yet, neither vnderstand? haue yee your hearts yet hardened?

Hue ye eyes, and see not? and haue yee eares, and heare not? and doe ye not remember?

When I brake the fise loaves among fise thousand, how many baskets full of broken meat tooke ye vp? They said vnto him, Twelue.

And when I brake seuen among foure thousand, how many baskets of the leauings of broken meat tooke yee vp? And they sayd, Seuen.

Then he sayd vnto them, How is it that ye vnderstand not?

And hee came to Bethsaida, and they brought a blinde man vnto him, and desired him to touch him.

Then he tooke the blind by the hand, and led him out of the towne, and spat in his eyes, and put his hands vpon him, and asked him, if he saw ought.

And he looked vp, and said, I see men: for I see them walking like trees.

After that, hee put his hands againe vpon his eyes, and made him looke againe. And hee was restored to his sight, & saw euery man as farre off clearly.

And he sent him home to his house, saying, Neither go into the towne, nor tell it to any in the towne.

And Iesus went out, and his disciples into the townes of Cesarea Philippi. And by the way hee asked his disciples, saying vnto them, Whom doe men say that I am?

And they answered, Some say, Iohn Baptist: and some Elias: and some, one of the Prophets.

And he said vnto them, But whom say yee that I am? Then Peter answered, and sayd vnto him, Thou art that Christ.

And he sharply charged them, that concerning him they should tell no man.

He commanded him againe, so iris in d. m. he could see with or no. Christ will not haue his miracles to be separated from his doctrine. Many praise Christ, which yet notwithstanding spoile him of his praise. Christ hath appointed his time to the preaching of the Gospel: and therefore here deferreth it too more commodious time, least hee denia should rather hinder then further the mystery of his coming.

39 ¶ But Iesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man that can doe a miracle by my Name, that can lightly speake euill of me.

40 For whosoever is not against vs, is on our part.

41 ¶ And whosoever shall giue you a cup of water to drinke for my Names sake, because yee belong to Christ, verely I say vnto you, hee shall not lose his reward.

42 ¶ And whosoever shall offende one of these little ones, that beleene in me, it were better for him rather, that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that hee were cast in the sea.

43 ¶ Wherefore if thine hand cause thee to offend, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life, maimed, then hauing two hands, to go into hell, into the fire that neuer shall be quenched.

44 ¶ Where their worme dieth not, and the fire neuer goeth out.

45 Likewise if thy foote cause thee to offend, cut it off: it is better for thee to goe halt into life, then hauing two feete, to bee cast into hell, into the fire that neuer shall be quenched.

46 Where their worme dieth not, and the fire neuer goeth out.

47 And if thine eye cause thee to offend, plucke it out: it is better for thee to goe into the kingdome of God with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hell fire.

48 Where their worme dieth not, and the fire neuer goeth out.

49 ¶ For every man shall be salted with fire: and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 ¶ Salt is good: but if the salt be vnfauery, wherewith shall it be seasoned? haue salt in your selues, and haue peace one with another.

CHAP. X.

9 The wife truly fornication, is to be put away. 10 Little children are brought to Christ. 11 A rich man asketh Iesus how he may possesse eternall life. 12 The Apostles forsake all things for Christs sake. 13 Christ foretelleth his death. 14 Zedekiah his iourneys request. 15 Linda Baranum healed.

And hee arose from thence, and went into the coastes of Iudea by the farr side of Iordan, and the people resorted vnto him againe, and as he was wont, he taught them againe.

2 Then the Pharisees came and asked him, if it were lawfull for a man to put away his wife, and tempted him.

3 And he answered, and said vnto them, What did Moses command you?

4 And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of diuorcement, and to put her away.

5 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, For the hardnesse of your heart hee wrote this precept vnto you.

6 But he that made them at first, made a good prouise for the winers against the fallowen of their buildings.

6 But at the beginning of the creation God made them male and female:

7 ¶ For this cause shall man leaue his father and mother, and cleaue vnto his wife:

8 And they twaine shall be one flesh: so that they are no more twaine, but one flesh.

9 ¶ Therefore, what God hath coupled together, let not man separate.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him againe of that matter.

11 And he said vnto them, ¶ Whosoever shall put away his wife & marry another, committeth adulterie against her.

12 And if a woman put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adulterie.

13 ¶ Then they brought little children to him, that he should touch them, and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Iesus saw it, hee was displeased, and saide to them, Suffer the little children to come vnto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdome of God.

15 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoever shall not receiue the kingdome of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

16 And he tooke them vp in his armes, and put his hands vpon them, and blessed them.

17 ¶ And when he was gone out on the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I doe, that I may possesse eternall life?

18 Iesus said to him, Why callest thou mee good? there is none good but one, euen God.

19 Thou knowest the commandments, ¶ Thou shalt not commit adulterie. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not steale. Thou shalt not beare false witnesse. Thou shalt honour him. Honour thy father and mother.

20 Then he answered, & said to him, Master, all these things I haue obserued from my youth.

21 And Iesus looked vpon him, and loued him, and saide vnto him, One thing is lacking vnto thee, Goe and sell all that thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heaven, and come, followe mee, and take vp the crosse.

22 But he was sad at that saying, and went away sorrowfull: for he had great possessions.

23 And Iesus looked round about, and sayde vnto his disciples, How hardly do they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God!

24 And his disciples were afraid at his words. But Iesus answered againe, and saide vnto them, Children, howe hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdome of God!

25 It is easier for a camell to goe through the eye of an needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 And they were much more astonied, saying with themselves, Who then can be saved?

27 But Iesus looked vpon them, and sayd, With men it is vnpossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

28 ¶ Then Peter began to say vnto him, Lo, we haue forsaken all, and haue followed thee.

29 Iesus answered, and said, Verely I say vnto you, there is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my sake, and the Gospels at this present houses & brethren and mothers and children, and in the world to come, for all life.

31. But many that are built shall be left, and the last first.

32. And they were in the way going up to Hierusalem, and Iesus went before them, and they were troubled, and as they followed, they were afraid, and Iesus took the twelve again, and began to tell them what things should come vnto him.

33. Saying, Beholde, we goe up to Hierusalem, and the Sonne of man shall be deliuered vnto the hie Priests, and to the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death, and shall deliuer him to the Gentiles,

34. And they shall mocke him, and scourge him, and spye vpon him, & kill him: but the third day he shall rise againe.

35. ¶ Then Iames and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedeus came vnto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldst doe for vs that we desire.

36. And he said vnto them, What would ye I should doe for you?

37. And they said vnto him, Grant vnto vs, that we may sit, one at thy right hand, and the other at thy left hand in thy glory.

38. But Iesus said vnto them, Yee knowe not what ye aske. Can ye drinke of the cup that I shall drinke of, & be baptized with the baptisme that I shall be baptized with?

39. And they said vnto him, We can. But Iesus said vnto them, Yee shall drinke in deede of the cup that I shall drinke of, and be baptized with the baptisme wherewith I shall be baptized:

40. But to sit at my right hand and at my left, is not mine to giue, but it shall be giuen to them for whom it is prepared.

41. And when the ten heard that, they began to disdaigne at Iames and Iohn.

42. But Iesus called them vnto him, and said to them, ¶ Ye knowe that they which are princes among the Gentiles, haue domination ouer them, and they that be great among them, exercise authoritie ouer them.

43. But it shall not be so among you, but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your seruant.

44. And whosoever will be chiefe of you, shall be the seruant of all.

45. For the Sonne of man came not to be serued, but to serue, and to giue his life for the ranfome of many.

46. ¶ Then they came to Iericho: and as he went out of Iericho with his disciples, and a great multitude, Bartimeus the sonne of Timeus, a blinde man, sat by the wayes side, begging.

47. And when hee heard that it was Iesus of Nazareth, he began to cry, and to say, Iesus the Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

48. And many rebuked him, because he should hold his peace: but he cried much more, O Sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

49. Then Iesus stood still, and commanded him to be called: & they called the blinde, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort: arise, he calleth thee.

50. So he threw away his cloke, and rose, and came to Iesus.

51. And Iesus answered, & said vnto him, What wilt thou that I doe vnto thee? And the blinde said vnto him, Lord, I desire to see thee fight.

52. Then Iesus said vnto him, Go thy way: thy faith hath saved thee. And by and by hee received his sight, and followed Iesus in the way.

¶ And when they came neere to Hierusalem, vnto Bethphage and Bethania vnto the mount of Olives, he sent forth two of his disciples,

2. And said vnto them, Goe your wayes into that towne that is ouer against you, and as soon as ye shall enter into it, ye shall finde a colt tied by the doore without, in a place where two wayes meet, and they loosed him.

3. Then certaine of them that stood there, said vnto them, What doe ye loosing the colt?

4. And they said vnto them, as Iesus had commanded them: So they let them goe.

5. And they brought the colt to Iesus, and cast their garments on him, and hee sat vpon him.

6. And many spread their garments in the way: other cut downe branches off the trees, & strawed them in the way.

7. And they that went before, and they that followed, cryed, saying, Hosanna: blessed be he that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

8. Blessed be the kingdome that cometh in the Name of the Lord of our father Dauid: Hosanna, O thou which art in the highest heauens.

9. So Iesus entered into Hierusalem, and into the Temple: and when hee had looked about on all things, and now it was euening, he went forth vnto Bethania with the twelve.

10. And on the morrow when they were come out from Bethania, he was hungry.

11. And seeing a figge tree a farre off, that had leaues, hee went to see if he might finde any thing thereon: but when hee came vnto it, hee found nothing but leaues: for the time of figges was not yet.

12. Then Iesus answered, and said to it, Neuer man eate fruite of thee hereafter while the world standeth: and his disciples heard it.

21 Then Peter remembred, and sayde vnto him, Master, behold, the fig tree which thou curfedit is withered.
22 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Haue the faith of God.
23 For verely I say vnto you, that whosoever shall say vnto this mountaine, Be thou taken away, and cast into the sea, & shal not wauer in his heart, but shall beleue that those things which he saith, shall come to passe, whatsoever he saith, shall be done to him.
24 ¶ Therefore I say vnto you, Whatsoever ye desire when ye pray, beleue that ye shal haue it, and it shall be done vnto you.
25 ¶ But when yee shall stand, and pray, forgive, if yee haue any thing against any man, that your Father also which is in heauen, may forgive you your trespasses.
26 For if you will not forgive, your Father which is in heauen, will not pardon you your trespasses.
27 ¶ Then they came againe to Ierusalem: and as hee walked in the Temple, there came to him the hie Priests, & the Scribes, and the Elders.
28 And sayd vnto him, By what authoritie doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this authoritie, that thou shouldst doe these things?

33 Then they answered, and said vnto Iesus, We cannot tell. And Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Neither will I tell you by what authoritie I doe these things.
CHAP. XII.
1 Of the vineyard. 10 Christ the stone refused of the Iewes. 12 Of tribute to bee giuen to Cesar. 18 The Sadduces denying the resurrection. 28 The first commandement. 31 To loue God and the neighbour is better then sacrifices. 36 Christ Dauidis sonne. 38 To beware of the Scribes and Pharisees. 42 The poore widow.

And he began to speake vnto them in parables. ¶ A certaine man planted a vineyard, & compassed it with an hedge, and digged a pit for the winepresse, and built a towre in it, & let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange country;
2 And at the time, hee sent to the husbandmen a seruant, that hee might receiue of the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.
3 But they tooke him, and beat him, and sent him away emptye.
4 And againe they sent vnto them another seruant, and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away shamefully handled.
5 And againe he sent another, & him they slew, and many other, beating some, and killing some.
6 Yet had hee one sonne, his deare beloued: him also he sent the last vnto them, saying, They will reuerence my sonne.
7 But the husbandmen sayde among themselues, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

8 So they tooke him, & killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.
9 What shall then the Lord of the vineyard doe? He will come and destroy these husbandmen, and giue the vineyard to others.
10 Haue ye not read so much as this Scripture? ¶ The stone which the builders did refuse, is made the head of the corner.
11 This was done of the Lord, and it is marueilous in our eyes.
12 Then they went about to take him, but they feared the people: for they perceived that he spake that parable against them: therefore they left him, and went their way.
13 ¶ And they sent vnto him certaine of the Pharisees, & of the Herodians, that they might take him in his talke.
14 And when they came, they said vnto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God truly, Is it lawful to giue tribute to Cesar, or not?
15 Should wee giue it, or should we not giue it? but hee knew their hypocrisie, and sayd vnto them, Why tempt ye mee? Bring me a penie, that I may see it.
16 So they brought it, and hee said vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription? and they said vnto him, Cessars.
17 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto them, Giue to Cesar the things that are Cessars, and to God, those that are Gods: and they marueiled at him.
18 ¶ Then came the Sadduces vnto him, (which say, there is no resurrection) and they asked him, saying,
19 Master, Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die, and leaue his wife, and leaue no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.
20 There were seuen brethren, and the first tooke a wife, and when he died, left no issue.
21 Then the second tooke her, & he died, neither did he yet leaue issue, and the third likewise.
22 So those seuen had her, and left no issue: last of all the wife died also.
23 In the resurrection then, when they shall rise againe, whose wife shall she be of them? for seuen had her to wife.
24 Then Iesus answered and said vnto them, Are ye not therefore deceived, because yee know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?
25 For when they shall rise againe from the dead, neither men marrie, nor wiues are married, but are as the Angels which are in heauen.
26 And as touching the dead, that they shall rise againe, haue ye not read in the booke of Moses, how in the bush God spake vnto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?
27 God is not the God of the dead, but of the liuing. Ye are therefore greatly deceived.
28 ¶ Then came one of the Scribes that had heard them disputing together, and perceiving that hee had answered them well, hee asked him, Which is the first commandement of all?
29 Iesus answered him, The first of all the commandements is, ¶ Heare Israel, The Lord our God is the only Lord.

30. Thou shalt therefore love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.

31. And the second is like that, is, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy selfe. There is none other commandment greater then these.

32. Then that Scribe said vnto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth, that there is one God, and that there is none but he.

33. And to love him with all the heart, & with all the vnderstanding, and with all the soule, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himselfe is more then all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.

34. Then when Iesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said vnto him, Thou art not farre from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst aske him any question.

35. And Iesus answered & said teaching in the Temple, How say the Scribes that Christ is the sonne of David?

36. For David himselfe said by the holy Ghost, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37. Then David himselfe calleth him Lord: by what meanes is he then his sonne? and much people heard him gladly.

38. Moreover he said vnto them in his doctrine, Beware of the Scribes which loue to go in long robes, and loose salutations in the markets,

39. And the chiefe seates in the Synagogues, and the first roumes at feasts,

40. Which deuoure widowes houses, even vnder a colour of long prayers. These shall receiue the greater damnation.

41. And as Iesus sate ouer against the treasure, he beheld how the people cast money into the treasure, and many rich men cast in much.

42. And there came a certaine poore widow, & she threw in two mites, which make a quadrin.

43. Then he called vnto him his disciples, and said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that this poore widow hath cast more in, then all they which haue cast into the treasure.

44. For they all did cast in of their superfluity: but she of her pouertie did cast in all that shee had, euen all her liuing.

CHAP. XIII.

1. Of the destruction of Ierusalem. 2. Persecution for the Gospel. 3. The Gospel must be preached to all nations. 4. Of Christes coming to iudgement. 5. We must watch and pray.

And as he went out of the Temple, one of his disciples said vnto him, Master, see what maner stones, & what maner buildings are here.

2. Then Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone vpon a stone, that shall not be thrown downe.

3. And as he sate on the mount of Olives, ouer against the Temple, Peter, and Iames, and Iohn and Andrew asked him secretly,

4. Tell vs, when shall these things bee? and what shall be the signe when all these things shall be fulfilled?

5. And Iesus answered them, and began to say, Take heed lest any man deceiue you.

6. For many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceiue many.

7. Furthermore when ye shall heare of warres, and rumours of warres, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be: but the end shall not be yet.

8. For nation shall rise against nation, & kingdome against kingdome, and there shall be earthquakes in diuers quarters, & there shall be famines and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorowes.

9. But take ye heed to your selues: for they shall deliuer you vp to the Councils, and to the Synagogues: ye shall be beaten, and brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimoniall vnto them.

10. And the Gospel must first be published among all nations.

11. But when they leade you, and deliuer you vp, be not careful before hand, neither studie what ye shall say: but what is given you at the same time, that speake: for it is not you that speake, but the holy Ghost.

12. Yea, and the brother shall deliuer the brother to death, and the father the sonne, and the children shall rise against their parents, and shall cause them to die.

13. And ye shall be hated of all men for my Names sake: but whosoever shall endure vnto the end, he shall be saved.

14. Moreover, when ye shall see the abomination of desolation (spoken of by Daniel the Prophet) set where it ought not, (let him that readeth, consider it) then let them that be in Iudea, flee into the mountaines,

15. And let him that is vpon the house, not come downe into the house, neither enter therein, to fetch any thing out of his house.

16. And let him that is in the fildes, not turne backe againe to take his garment.

17. Then woe shall be to them that are with child, and to them that giue sucke in those daies.

18. Pray therefore that your flight bee not in the winter.

19. For those daies shall be such tribulation, as was not fro the beginning of the creation which God created vnto this time, neither shall be.

20. And except that the Lord had shortened those daies, no flesh should be saved: but for the elects sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those daies.

21. Then if any man say to you, Loe, here is Christ, or loe, he is there, beleene it not.

22. For false Christs shall rise, and false prophets, and shall shew signes and wonders, to deceiue if it were possible, the very elect.

23. But take ye heed: behold, I haue shewed you all things before.

24. Moreover in those daies, after that tribulation, the sunne shall waxe darke, and the moone shall not giue her light.

25. And the starres of heauen shall fall: and the powers which are in heauen, shall shake.

26. And then shall they see the Sonne of man, coming in the cloudes, with great power and glory.

27. And he shall then send his Angels, & shall gather together his elect from the foure windes, and from the vttermoost part of the earth to the vttermoost part of heauen.

28. Nowe learne a parable of the figgetree. When her bough is yet tender, and it bringeth forth leaues, ye know that sommer is nigh.

come to passe, knowe that the Kingdome of God is neere, even at the doores.

30 Verely I say vnto you, that this generation shall not passe, till all these things be done.

31 Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

CHAP. XIII.

The Priests conspire against Christ. 3 The woman pouring oyle on Christs head. 12 The preparing of the Pasche. 22 The institution of the Supper. 41 Christ delivered into the hands of men: 43 Iudas betrayeth him with a kisse. 53 Christ is before Caiaphas. 66 Peters denials.

And two dayes after followed the feast of the Pasche, and of vleauened bread: and the hie Priests & Scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they sayd, Not in the feast day, lest there be any tumult among the people.

3 And when he was in Bethania in the house of Simon the leper, as hee sate at table, there came a woman hauing a box of ointment of Spikenard, very costly, and she brake the boxe, and powred it on his head.

4 Therefore some disdained among themselves, and said, To what end is this waste of ointment?

5 For it might haue bene solde for more then three hundred pence, and bene giuen vnto the poore, and they murmured against her.

6 But Iesus sayd, Lether alone: Why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good worke on me.

7 For yee haue the poore with you alwayes, and when ye will ye may doe them good, but me ye shall not haue alwayes.

8 She hath done that she could: she came aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verely I say vnto you, wheresoeuer this Gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done, shall be spoken of in remembrance of her.

10 Then Iudas Iscariot, one of the twelue, went away vnto the hie Priests, to betray him vnto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised that they would giue him money: therefore he sought how hee might conueniently betray him.

12 Nowe the first day of vleauened bread, when they sacrificed the Pasche, his disciples sayd vnto him, Where wilt thou that wee goe and prepare, that thou mayest eate the Pasche?

13 Then he sent forth two of his disciples, & sayd vnto them, Goe ye into the citie, and there shall a man meete you bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

14 And whithersoever hee goeth in, say ye to the good man of the house, The Master sayeth, Where is the lodging where I shall eat the Pasche with my disciples?

15 And he will shew you an vpper chamber which is large, trimmed and prepared: there make it ready for vs.

16 So his disciples went forth, and came to the citie, and found as he had said vnto them, and made ready the Pasche.

17 And at euen he came with the twelue.

18 And as they sate at table and did eate, Iesus sayd, Verely I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me, which eateth with me.

19 Then they began to bee sorrowfull and to say to him one by one, Is it I? And another, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said vnto them, It is one of the twelue that dippeth with mee in the platter.

21 Truly the Sonne of man goeth his way, as it is written of him: but woe be to that man, by whome the Sonne of man is betrayed: it had bene good for that man, if hee had neuer bene borne.

22 And as they did eate, Iesus tooke the bread, and when hee had giuen thanks, he brake it, and gaue to them, and said, Take, eat, this is my body.

23 Also hee tooke the cup, and when hee had giuen thanks, gaue it to them, and they al dranke of it.

24 And he said vnto them, This is my blood of that new Testament which is shed for many.

25 Verely I say vnto you, I will drinke no more of the fruit of the vine vntil that day, that I drinke it new in the kingdome of God.

26 And when they had sung a Psalme, they went out to the mount of Oliues.

27 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, All yee shall be offended by me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shall be scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I will go into Galilee before you.

29 And Peter sayd vnto him, Although all men should be offended at thee, yet would not I.

30 Then Iesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, this day, even in this night before the cocke crow twice, thou shalt denie me thrise.

31 But he said more earnestly, If I should die with thee, I will not denie thee: likewise also said they all.

32 After they came into a place named Gethsemane: then he said to his disciples, Sit ye here, till I haue prayed.

33 And he tooke with him Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and he beganne to be troubled, and in great heauinesse.

34 And said vnto them, My soule is very heauie, even vnto the death: tarry here, and watch.

35 So he went forward a little, and fell downe on the ground, & prayed, that if it were possible, that houre might passe from him.

desire that he would doe as hee had ever done vnto them.

9 Then Pilate answered them, & said, Will ye that I let loose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

10 For he knew that the high Priests had deliuered him of enuie.

11 But the high Priests had moued the people to desire that hee would rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 And Pilate answered, and said againe vnto them, What will yee then that I doe with him, whom ye call the King of the Iewes?

13 And they cried againe, Crucifie him.

14 Then Pilate said vnto them, But what euill hath he done? And they cried the more feruently, Crucifie him.

15 So Pilate willing to content the people, loosed them Barabbas, and deliuered Iesus when he had scourged him, that he might be crucified.

16 Then the souldiers led him away into the hall, which is the common hall, and called together the whole band,

17 And clad him with purple, and platted a crowne of thornes, and put it about his head,

18 And began to salute him, saying, Haile, King of the Iewes.

19 And they smote him on the head with a reede, and spat vpon him, and bowed the knees, and did him reuerence.

20 And when they had mocked him, they tooke the purple off him, & put his owne clothes on him, and led him out to crucifie him.

21 And they compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Cyrene (which came out of the country, and was father of Alexander and Rufus) to beare his crosse.

22 And they brought him to a place named Golgotha, which is by interpretation, the place of dead mens skulls.

23 And they gaue him to drinke wine mingled with myrre: but he receiued it not.

24 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots for them, what euery man should haue.

25 And it was the third houre when they crucified him.

26 And the title of his cause was written aboue, THAT KING OF THE IEWES.

27 They crucified also with him two theeues, the one on the right hand, and the other on his left.

28 Thus the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, And he was counted among the wicked.

29 And they that went by, railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Hey, thou that destroyest the Temple, & buildest it in three dayes,

30 Saue thy selfe, and come downe from the crosse.

31 Likewise also euen the high Priests mocking, sayd among themselves with the Scribes, Hee saued other men, himselfe he cannot saue.

32 Let Christ the King of Israel now come downe from the crosse, that we may see, and beleue. They also that were crucified with him, reuiled him.

33 Now when the sixth houre was come, & darkenesse arose ouer all the land vntill the ninth houre.

34 And at the seventh houre Iesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eloi, Eloi, lamma-sabach-thani? which is by interpretation, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, sayd, Behold, he calleth Elias.

36 And one ranne, and filled a sponge full of vineger, and put it on a reede, and gaue him to drinke, saying, Let him alone & let vs see if Elias will come, and take him downe.

37 And Iesus cried with a loud voyce, and gaue vp the ghost.

38 And the vaile of the Temple was rent in twaine, from the top to the bottome.

39 Now when the Centurion, which stood ouer against him, saw that hee thus crying gaue vp the ghost, hee said, Truly this man was the Sonne of God.

40 There were also women which beheld afarre off, among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of Iames the lesse, and of Ioses, and Salome, 41 Which also when hee was in Galilee, followed him, and ministred vnto him, and many other women which came vp with him vnto Hierusalem.

42 And now when the night was come (because it was the day of the preparacion that is before the Sabbath)

43 Ioseph of Arimathea, an honorable counsellour, which also looked for the kingdom of God, came, and went in boldly vnto Pilate, and asked the body of Iesus.

44 And Pilate marvelled, if hee were already dead, and called vnto him the Centurion, and asked of him whether hee had bene any while dead.

45 And when hee knew the truth of the Centurion, he gaue the body to Ioseph:

46 Who bought a linnen cloth, and tooke him downe, & wrapped him in the linnen cloth, and layed him in a tombe that was hewen out of a rocke, and rolled a stone vnto the doore of the sepulchre:

47 And Marie Magdalene, and Marie Ioses mother, beheld where he should be layed keirin, or is taken into counsell by Pilate. If wee consider what danger Ioseph cast himselfe into, wee shall perceiue how bold he was.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Of Christes resurrection. 9 Hee appeareth to Mary Magdalene and others. 15 Hee sendeth his Apostles to preach. 19 His ascension.

And when the Sabbath day was past, Marie Magdalene, and Marie the mother of Iames and Salome, bought sweet ointments, that they might come and anoynt him.

2 Therefore early in the morning, the first day of the weeke, they came vnto the sepulchre, when the Sunne was now risen.

3 And they sayd one to another, Who shall roll vs away the stone from the doore of the sepulchre?

4 And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away (for it was a very great one)

5 So they went into the sepulchre, and saw a young man sitting at the right side, clothed in a long white robe: & they were fore troubled.

6 But he said vnto them, Be not so troubled: yee seeke Iesus of Nazareth, which hath bene crucified: he is risen, he is not here: behold the place where they put him,

7 Christ rising mightily with Satan, with fume and with death, all three armed with the horrible curse of God, grievously tormented in bodily hanging vpon the crosse, and in soule plunged in the depth of hell yet he tidderh himselfe, crying with a mightie voyce: and notwithstanding the wound which he receiued of death in that he died, yet by limiting both things above, & things beneath, by renting of the vaile of the Temple, and by these testimonies wrung out of them which murdered him, he sheweth evidently vnto the rest of his enemies which are as yet obstinate, and mocke at him, that hee shall be knowne out of hand to be conquerour and Lord of all.

8 Christ to the great shame of men which forsooke the Lord, chose women for his witnesses, which beheld all this while sitting on.

by shall I know this? for I am an olde man, and my wife is of a great age.

19 And the Angel answered, and sayd vnto him, I am Gabriel that stand in the ptesence of God, and am sent to speake vnto thee, and to shew thee these good tidings.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumbe, and not be able to speake, vntill the day that these things bee done, because thou beleuest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 Now the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he taried so long in the Temple.

22 And when he came out, hee could not speake vnto them: then they perceiued that hee had seene a vision in the Temple: for hee made signes vnto them, and remained dumbe.

23 And it came to passe, when the dayes of his office were fulfilled, that hee departed to his owne house.

24 And after those dayes, his wife Elisabet conceived, and hid her selfe five moneths, saying,

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with mee, in the dayes wherein he looked on me, to take from me my rebuke among men.

26 ¶ And in the sixt moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God vnto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 ¶ To a virgin affianced to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the house of David, and the virgins name was Marie.

28 And the Angel went in vnto her, and sayd, Haile thou that art freely beloued: the Lord is with thee: a blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and thought what maner of salutation that should be.

30 Then the Angel sayd vnto her, Feare not, Marie: for thou hast found fauour with God.

31 ¶ For loe, thou shalt conceive in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, and shalt call his Name Iesus.

32 He shall be great, and shall be called the Sonne of the most High, and the Lord God shall giue vnto him the throne of his father David.

33 ¶ And hee shall reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome shall be none ende.

34 Then sayd Marie vnto the Angel, How shall this be seeing I know not man?

35 And the Angel answered, and said vnto her, The holy Ghost shall come vpon thee, and the power of the most High shall ouershadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be borne of thee, shall be called the Sonne of God.

36 And behold, thy cousin Elisabet, she hath also conceived a sonne in her old age: and this is her sixth moneth, which was called barren.

37 For with God shall nothing bee vnpossible.

38 Then Marie said, Behold the seruant of the Lord: be it vnto me according to thy word: So the Angel departed from her.

39 ¶ And Marie arose in those dayes, and went into the hill country with haste to a citie of Iuda, 40 And entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabet.

41 And it came to passe, as Elisabet heard the salutation of Mary, the babe sprang in her belly, and Elisabet was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she cried with a loud voyce, and sayd, Blessed art thou among women, because the fruit of thy wombe is blessed.

43 And whence cometh this to mee, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For loe, as soon as the voyce of thy salutation founded in mine eares, the babe sprang in my belly for ioy.

45 And blessed is shee that beleued: for those things shall be performed, which were tolde her from the Lord.

46 ¶ Then Marie said, My soule magnifieth the Lord,

47 And my spirit reioyceth in God my Saviour.

48 For hee hath looked on the poore degree of his seruant: for behold, from henceforth shall all ages call me blessed.

49 Because he hath is mighty hath done for me great things, and holy is his Name.

50 And his mercy is from generation to generation on them that feare him.

51 ¶ He hath shewed strength with his arme: he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

52 Hee hath put downe the mighty from their seates, and exalted them of low degree.

53 Hee hath filled the hungry with good things, and sent away the rich empty.

54 ¶ He hath vpholden Israel his seruant, to be mindfull of his mercy.

55 ¶ As hee hath spoken to our fathers, so will he do to Abraham and his seede for euer.

56 ¶ And Marie abode with her about three moneths: after she returned to her owne house.

57 ¶ Now Elisabets time was fulfilled, that she should be deliuered, and she brought forth a sonne.

58 And her neighbours and coufins heard tell how the Lord had shewed his great mercie vpon her, and they reioyced with her.

59 And it was so that vpon the eight day they came to circumcise the babe, and called him Zacharias after the name of his father.

60 But his mother answered, and said, Nor so, but he shall be called Iohn.

61 And they said vnto her, There is none of thy kintred that is named with this name.

62 Then they made signes to his father, how he would haue him called.

63 So he asked for writing tables, and wrote, saying, His name is Iohn, and they marvelled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue, and he spake, and praised God.

65 Then feare came on all them that dwelt nere vnto them, & all these words were noised abroad thorowout all the hill country of Iuda.

66 And Marie kept all these sayings, and meditated them in her heart.

67 ¶ And as for Zacharias, he was dumb, and could not speake, vntill the day that these things should be accomplished, which the Lord had said by the mouth of his wife Elisabet.

68 ¶ And all these things were done to Marie, as it was written, saying, Behold, thou shalt be with child, and shalt beare a sonne, and shalt call his name Iesus.

69 ¶ And shee brought forth her firstborne sonne, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and layd him in a manger, because there was no place for him in the inn.

70 ¶ And as for Elisabet, shee also brought forth a sonne, and shee called his name Iohn.

71 ¶ And shee was circumcised, as it was written, saying, Thou shalt be circumcised on the eighth day.

72 ¶ And shee brought forth her firstborne sonne, and shee called his name Iohn.

73 ¶ And shee was circumcised, as it was written, saying, Thou shalt be circumcised on the eighth day.

74 ¶ And shee brought forth her firstborne sonne, and shee called his name Iohn.

16 And there was a Prophetesse, one Anna the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser, which was of a great age, after she had liued with an husband seven yeeres from her virginitie:

17 And she was widow about fourescore and foure yeeres, and went not out of the Temple, but fasted with fasting & prayers night and day.

18 She then comming at the same instant vpon them, confessed likewise the Lord, and spake of him to all that looked for redemption in Hierusalem.

19 And when they had performed all things, according to the Law of the Lord, they returned into Galile to their owne citie Nazareth.

20 And the child grew, and waxed strong in Spirit, and was filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was with him.

21 ¶ Now his parents went to Hierusalem every yeere, at the feast of the Pascheouer.

22 And when he was twelue yeere olde, and they were come vp to Hierusalem, after the custome of the feast,

23 And had finished the dayes thereof, as they returned, the child Iesus remayned in Hierusalem, and Ioseph knew not, nor his mother, 24 But they supposing that he had been in the company, went a dayes iourney, and sought him among their kinsfolke, and acquaintance.

25 And when they found him not, they turned backe to Hierusalem, and sought him.

26 And it came to passe three dayes after, that they found him in the Temple, sitting in the mids of the doctours, both hearing them, and asking them questions:

27 And all that heard him, were astonished at his vnderstanding and answers.

28 So when they saw him, they were amazed, and his mother said vnto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with vs? behold, thy father and I have sought thee with very heauy hearts.

29 Then sayde he vnto them, How is it that ye sought me? knew ye not that I must goe about my fathers businesse?

30 But they vnderstood not the word that he spake to them.

31 Then hee went downe with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subiect to them: and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

32 And Iesus increased in wisdom, and stature, and in fauour with God and men.

CHAP. III.

1 Iesus cometh to baptize. 2 His testimony of Christ. 3 Herod beareth him in prison. 22 Christ baptized. 23 His pedigree.

Now in the fifteenth yeere of the reigne of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being gouernour, which exhibited vnto vs, setting forth the true obseruance in Christ, which commeth after him, vnto also baptizing with water of regeneration and also of forgiveness of finnes, gour of Iudea, and Herod being Tetrarch of Galilee, & his brother Philip Tetrarch of Iturea, and of the countrey of Traconitis, and Lysanias the Tetrarch of Abilene,

2 ¶ When Annas and Caiaphas were the hie Priests, the word of God came vnto Iohn, the sonne of Zacharias in the wilderness.

3 And hee came into all the coastes about Iordan, preaching the baptisme of repentance for the remission of finnes,

4 As it is written in the booke of the sayings of Esaias the Prophet, which saith, The voyce of him that crieth in the wilderness is, Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his paths straight.

5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountaine and hill shall be brought low, and crooked things shall be made straight, and the rough waies shall be made smooth.

6 And all flesh shall see the saluation of God.

7 Then sayd hee to the people that were come out to be baptized of him, O generations of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruites worthy amendment of life, and beginne not to say with your selues, We haue Abraham to our Father: for I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

9 Nowe also is the axe layd vnto the roote of the trees: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit, shall be hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

10 ¶ Then the people asked him, saying, What shall we doe then?

11 And he answered, and said vnto them, He that hath two coates, let him part with him that hath none: And he that hath meate, let him doe likewise.

12 Then came there Publicanes also to bee baptized, and sayd vnto him, Master, what shall we doe?

13 And he sayd vnto them, Require no more then that which is appointed vnto you.

14 The souldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we doe? And he sayd vnto them, Doe violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely: and be content with your wages.

15 As the people waited, and all men mulled in their hearts of Iohn, if hee were northat Christ,

16 Iohn answered, and sayd to them all, I indeed baptize you with water, but one stronger then I, cometh, whose shoes I latche I am not worthy to vnloose: he will baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

17 Whose fanne is in his hand, and he will make cleane his floore, and will gather the wheat into his garner, but the chaffe will he burne vp with fire that neuer shall be quenched.

18 Thus then exhorting with many other things he preached vnto the people.

19 But when Herod the Tetrarch was rebuked of him, for Herodias his brother Philips wife, and for all the euils which Herod had done, 20 He added yet this abuse, that he shut vp Iohn in prison.

21 ¶ Now it came to passe, as all the people were baptized, and that Iohn was baptized and did pray, that the heauen was opened.

22 And the holy Ghost came downe in a bodily shape like a doue vpon him, and there was a

18 Then all that were in the Synagogue, when they heard it, were filled with wrath.

19 And rose vp, and thrust him out of the churche, and led him vnto the edge of the hill where-on their citie was built, to cast him downe headlong.

20 But hee passed through the mids of them, and went his way,

21 ¶ And came downe into Capernaum a citie of Galilee, and there taught them on the Sabbath dayes.

22 And they were astonied at his doctrine: for his word was with authoritie.

23 And in the Synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an vncleane deuill, which cried with a loud voice,

24 Saying, Oh, what haue wee to doe with thee, thou Iesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy vs? I know who thou art, even the Holy one of God.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, & come out of him. Then the deuill throwing him in the middes of them, came out of him, and hurt him nothing at all.

26 So feare came on them all, and they spake among themselves, saying, What thing is this? for with authoritie and power hee commandeth the foule spirits, and they come out.

27 And the fame of him spred abroad through-out all the places of the countrey round about.

28 ¶ And he rose vp, and came out of the Synagogue, & entred into Simons house. And Simons wifes mother was taken with a great feuer, and they required him for her.

29 Then hee stood ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her, and immediatly she arose, and ministred vnto them.

30 Now at the Sunne setting, all they that had sicknes, of diuers diseases, brought them vnto him, and he laid his hands on euery one of them, and healed them.

31 And deuils also came out of many, crying, and saying, Thou art that Christ that Son of God: but he rebuked them, and suffered them not to say that they knew him to be that Christ.

32 And when it was day, hee departed, and went forth into a desert place, and the people sought him, and came to him, and kept him that he should not depart from them.

33 But hee said vnto them, Surely I must also preach the kingdome of God to other cities: for therefore am I sent.

34 And hee preached in the Synagogues of Galilee.

¶ Christ teacheth out of the ship. 5 Of the draught of fish. 12 The Leper. 18 Christ preacht in the desert. 26 One sicke of the palse. 37 Levi the Publicane. 54 The fasting and afflicting of the Apostles after Christes ascension. 56. 57. 58 ¶ Pain: hearted and weakie disciples are likened to old bottles and wines bottles.

¶ Then it came to passe, as the people pressed vpon him to heare the word of God, that he stood by the Lake of Gennesaret,

And sawe two ships stand by the lakes side, but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

And he entred into one of the ships, which was Simons, & required him that he would thrust off a litle from the land: and he sat downe, and taught the people out of the ship.

¶ Now when hee had left speaking, he said vnto Simon, Launch out into the deepe, and let downe your nets to make a draught.

¶ Then Simon answered, and said vnto him, Master, we haue trauailed fore all night, & haue taken nothing: neuerthelesse at thy word I will let downe the net.

¶ And when they had so done, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes, so that their net brake.

¶ And they beckened to their parteners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and helpethem, who came then, and filled both the ships, that they didinke.

¶ Now when Simon Peter saw it, he fel downe at Iesus knees, saying, Lord, goe from me: for I am a sinfull man.

¶ For hee was vnderly astonied, and all that were with him, for the draught of fishes which they tooke.

¶ And so was also Iames and Iohn the sonnes of Zebedeus, which were companions with Simon. Then Iesus said vnto Simon, Feare not: from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

¶ And when they had brought the ships to land, they forsooke all, and followed him.

¶ ¶ Now it came to passe, as he was in a certaine citie, beholde, there was a man full of leprosie, and when he saw Iesus, he fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

¶ So he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will, be thou cleane. And immediatly the leprosie departed from him.

¶ And he commanded him that he should tel it no man: but, Goe, saith he, and shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy clenfing, as ¶ Moses hath commanded, for a witnesse vnto them.

¶ But so much more went there a fame abroad of him, & great multitudes came together to heare, & to be healed of him of their infirmities.

¶ But he kept himselfe apart in the wilderness, and prayed.

¶ ¶ And it came to passe on a certaine day, as he was teaching, that the Pharises and doctors of the Law sat by, which were come out of euery towne of Galilee, and Iudea, and Hierusalem, and the power of the Lord was in him, to heale them.

¶ Then behold, men brought a man lying in a bed, which was taken with a palse, and they sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

¶ And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in, because of the palse, they went vp on the house, and let him downe through the tyling, bed and all, in the mids before Iesus.

¶ And when he saw their faith, hee said vnto him, Man, thy finnes are forgiven thee.

¶ Then the Scribes and the Pharises began to reason saying, What is this that speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive finnes, but God onely?

¶ But when Iesus perceiued their reasoning, he answered, and said vnto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

¶ Whether is easier to say, Thy finnes are forgiven thee, or to say, Rise and walke?

34 And he said vnto them, Can ye make the children of the wedding chamber to fast as long as the bridegrome is with them?

35 But the dayes will come, when the bridegrome shall be taken away from them: then shall they fast in those dayes.

36 Again he spake also vnto them a parable, No man putteth a piece of a new garment into an olde vesture: for then the new renteth it, and the peece taken out of the newe, agreeth not with the old.

37 Also no man powreth new wine into olde vessels: for then the new wine will breake the vessels, and it will run out, and the vessels will perish.

38 But new wine must bee powred into new vessels: so both are preferred.

39 Also no man can drinke olde wine, straightway desirous new: for he saith, The old is more profitable.

CHAP. VI.

The disciples put the eares of corne on the Sabbath. 6. Of him that had a withered hand. 12. The blinding of the Apostles. 13. The blessing of the multitude. 17. Iesus shall loose our enemies. 46. Iesus shall loose the world of God.

¶ And he came to passe on a second solemne Sabbath, that hee went through the corne fields, and his disciples aplucked the eares of corne, and did eat, and rub them in their hands.

¶ And certaine of the Pharises said vnto them, Why doe ye that which is not lawfull to doe on the Sabbath dayes?

3 Then Iesus answered them, & said, Have ye not read this, that Dauid did when he himselfe was an hungred, and they which were with him,

4 How hee went into the house of God, and to them which were with him, which was not lawfull to eat, but for the Priests onely?

5 And he said vnto them, The Sonne of man is Lord also of the Sabbath day.

6 ¶ He came to passe also on another Sabbath, that hee entred into the Synagogue, and taught, and there was a man, whose right hand was dried vp.

7 And the Scribes and Pharises watched him, whether he would heale on the Sabbath day, that they might find an accusation against him.

8 But hee knewe their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Arise, and stand vp in the middes. And he arose, and stood vp.

9 Then said Iesus vnto them, I will aske you a question, Whether is it lawfull on the Sabbath dayes to doe good, or to doe euill? to saue life, or to destroy?

10 And hee beheld them all, in compasse, and said vnto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And hee did so, and his hand was restored againe, as whole as the other.

11 Then they were filled full of madnesse, and communed one with another, what they might doe to Iesus.

12 ¶ And it came to passe in those daies that he went into a mountain to pray, and spent the night in prayer to God.

13 And when it was day, he called his disciples, and of them he chose twelue which also hee called Apostles.

14 (Simon whom hee named also Peter, and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartolomew, 15 Matthew and Thomas: James the sonne of Alphaeus, and Simon called Zelous, 16 Iudas James brother, and Iudas Iscariot, which also was the traitour)

17 Then he came downe with them and stood in a plaine place, with the company of his disciples and a great multitude of people not of all Iudea, and Hierusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyrus and Sidon, which came to heare him, and to be healed of their diseases:

18 And they that were vexed with foule spirits, and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.

20 ¶ And he lifted vp his eyes vpon his disciples, and said, Blessed be ye poore: for yours is the kingdome of God.

21 ¶ Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be satisfied: * blessed are ye that weepe now: for ye shall laugh.

22 ¶ Blessed are ye when men hate you, and when they separate you, and reuile you, and put out your name as euill for the Sonne of mans sake.

23 Reioyce ye in that day, and be glad: for behold, your reward is great in heauen: for after this manner their fathers did to the Prophets.

24 ¶ But woe be to you that are rich: for ye haue receiued your consolation.

25 ¶ Woe be to you that are full: for ye shall hunger: Woe be to you that now laugh: for ye shall weile and weepe.

26 ¶ Woe be to you when all men speake well of you: for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

throughout all Iudea, and throughout all the region round about.

19 And the disciples of Iohn shewed him of these things.

20 So Iohn called vnto him two certaine men of his disciples, and sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou he that should come, or shall wee wait for another?

21 And when the men were come vnto him, they said, Iohn Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come, or shall wee wait for another?

22 And at that time, he cured many of their sicknesses, and plagues, and of euill spirits, and vnto many blinde men he gaue sight freely.

23 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Go your wayes, and shew Iohn, what things ye haue seene and heard: that the blinde see, the deafe heare, the deafe are cleansed, the deafe heare, the dead are raised, and the poore receiue the Gospell.

24 And blessed is he, that shall not be offended in me.

25 And when the messengers of Iohn were departed, he began to speake vnto the people of Iohn, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reede shaken with the wind?

26 But what went ye out to see? A man clothed in soft rayment? beholde, they which are gorgeously appareled, and liued delicately, are in kings courts.

27 But what went ye forth to see? A Prophet? yea, I say to you, & greater then a Prophet.

28 This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

29 For I say vnto you, there is no greater Prophet then Iohn, among them that are begotten of women: neuertheless, he that is the least in the kingdome of God, is greater then he.

30 Then all the people that heard, and the Publicanes, iustified God, being baptized with the baptisme of Iohn.

31 But the Pharisees and the expounders of the Law despised the counsell of God, against themselves, and were not baptized of him.

32 And the Lord said, Whereunto shall I liken the men of this generation? and what thing are they like vnto?

33 They are like vnto little children sitting in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not danced: we haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

34 For Iohn Baptist came neither eating bread, nor drinking wine: and ye say, He hath the deuill.

35 The sonne of man is come, and eateth, and drinketh: and ye say, Behold, a man which is a glutton, and a drinker of wine, a friend of Publicanes and sinners.

36 But wisdome is iustified of all her children.

37 And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him: and hee went into the Pharisees house, and sate downe at table.

38 And beholde, a woman of the citie, which was a sinner, when she knew that Iesus sate at table in the Pharisees house, she brought a boxe of oymntment.

39 And shee stoode at his feete behinde him weeping, and began to wash his feet with teares, and did wipe them with the haire of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the oymntment.

40 Now when the Pharise which bade him, saw it, he spake within himself, saying, If this man were a Prophet, he would surely haue knowne who, and what manner of woman this is, which toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

41 And Iesus answered and sayd vnto him, Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. And he sayd, Master, say on.

42 There was a certaine lender, which had two debtors: the one ought fiftie hundred pence, and the other fiftie.

43 When they had nothing to pay, he forgave them both: Which of them therefore tell me, will loue him most?

44 Simon answered, and said, I suppose that he to whom he forgave most. And he sayd vnto him, Thou hast truly iudged.

45 Then he turned to the woman, and said vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, and thou gauest me no water to my feet: but she hath washed my feete with teares, and wiped them with the haire of her head.

46 Thou gauest me no kisse: but she since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feet.

47 Mine head with oyle thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feet with oymntment.

48 Wherefore I say vnto thee, many finnes are forgiven her: for she loued much. To whom a little is forgiven, he doth loue a little.

49 And he said vnto her, Thy finnes are forgiven thee.

50 And they that sate at table with him, began to say within themselves, Who is this that euen forgiveth finnes?

51 And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee: & goe in peace.

52 And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee: & goe in peace.

53 And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee: & goe in peace.

and bare fruit, an hundred fold. And as he said these things, he cried, Hethath hath eares to heare, let him heare:

Then his disciples asked him, demanding what parable that was.

10 And he said, Vnto you it is ginen to know the secrets of the kingdome of God, but to other in parables, that when they see, they should not see, and when they heare, they should not vnderstand.

11 The parable is this, The seed is the word of God:

12 And they that are beside the way, are they that heare: afterward commeth the deuill, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should beleue, and be saued.

13 But they that are on the stones, are they which when they haue heard, receiue the worde with ioy: but they haue no rootes: which for a while beleue, but in the time of tentation goe away.

14 And that which fell among thornes, are they which haue heard, & after their departure are choked with cares and with riches, and voluptuous liuing, and bring forth no fruit.

15 But that which fell in good ground, are they which with an honest & good heart heare the word, and keepe it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

16 ¶ No man when he hath lighted a candle, couereth it vnder a vessell, neither putteth it vnder the bed, but setteth it on a candlesticke, that they that enter in, may see the light.

17 For nothing is secret, that shall not be euident: neither any thing hidde, that shall not be known, and come to light.

18 Take heed therefore how ye heare: for whosoever hath, to him shall be giuen: & whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken euen that which he seemeth that he hath.

19 ¶ Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come neere to him for the preasse.

20 And it was told him by certaine which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, and would see thee.

21 But he answered and saide vnto them, My mother and my brethren are these which heare the word of God, and doe it.

22 ¶ And it came to passe on a certaine day, that he went into a ship with his disciples, and he said vnto them, Let vs goe out vnto the other side of the lake. And they lanchd forth.

23 And as they sailed, hee fell asleepe, and there came downe a storme of winde on the lake, and they were filled with water, & were in iopardie.

24 Then they went to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, Master, we perish. And hee arose, and rebuked the winde, and the waues of water: and they ceased, and it was calme.

25 Then he saide vnto them, Where is your faith? and they feared, & wondered among themselves, saying, Who is this that commandeth both the windes and water, and they obey him!

26 ¶ So they sailed vnto the region of the Gadarenes, which is ouer against Galile.

27 And as hee went out to lande, there met him a certaine man out of the citie, which had deuils long time, and he ware no garment, neither abode in house, but in the graues.

28 And when he sawe Iesus, he cryed out, and fell downe before him, and with a loud voyce said, What haue I to do with thee, Iesus the sonne of God, the most High? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 For he commanded the foule spirit to come out of the man: (for oft times hee had caught him: therefore he was bound with chaines, and kept in fetters: but he brake the bands, and was caried of the deuill into wilderneses.)

30 Then Iesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? and he said, Legion, because many deuils were entred into him.

31 And they besought him, that he would not command them to goe out into the deepe.

32 And there was there by an heard of many swine feeding on an hill: and the deuils besought him, that hee would suffer them to enter into them. So he suffered them.

33 Then went the deuils out of the man, and entred into the swine: and the heard was caried with violence from a steepe downe place into the lake, and was choked.

34 When the herdmen sawe what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they told it in the citie and in the country.

35 Then they came out to see what was done, and came to Iesus, and found the man, out of whome the deuils were departed, sitting at the feete of Iesus, clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it, told them by what meanes he that was possessed with the deuill, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the country about the Gadarenes, besought him that hee would depart from them: for they were taken with a great feare: and he went into the ship, and returned.

38 Then the man out of whome the deuils were departed, besought him that he might be with him: but Iesus sent him away, saying,

39 Returne into thine owne house, and shewe what great things God hath done to thee. So he went his way, and preached throughout all the citie, what great things Iesus had done vnto him.

40 ¶ And it came to passe, when Iesus was come againe, that the people receiued him: for they all waited for him.

41 ¶ And beholde, there came a man named Iairus, and hee was the ruler of the Synagogue, who fell downe at Iesus feete, and besought him that hee would come into his house.

42 For hee had but a daughter onely, about twelue yeeres of age, and she lay a dying (and as he went, the people thronged him).

43 And a woman hauing an issue of blood, twelue yeeres long, which had spent all her substance vpon physicians, and could not be healed of any:

44 When he came behind him, she touched the hemme of his garment, and immediatly her

45 Then Iesus said, Who is it that hath touched me? When every man denied, Peter said, and they that were with him, Master, the multitude thrust thee, and tread on thee, and sayest thou, Who hath touched me?

46 And Iesus said, Some one hath touched me: for I perceive that virtue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and fell down before him, and told him before all the people; for what cause she had touched him, & how she was healed immediately.

48 And he said vnto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath saved thee: goe in peace.)

49 While he yet spake, there came one from the ruler of the Synagogues house, which said to him, Thy daughter is dead: discomfite not the Master.

50 When Iesus heard it, he answered him, saying, Feare not: beleue onely, and shee shall be saved.

51 And when he went into the house, he suffered no man to goe in with him, save Peter, and James, and Iohn, and the father and mother of the maide.

52 And all wept & sorrowed for her: but he said, Weepe not: for she is not dead, but sleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to scorne, knowing that she was dead.

54 So he cruet them all out, and tooke her by the hand, and cried, saying, Maid, arise.

55 And her spirit came againe, and she arose straightway: & he commanded to giue her meat.

56 Then her parents were astonished: but hee commaunded them that they should tell no man what was done.

CHAP. IX.

The Apostles are sent to preach. 1 and 19 The common opinion of Christ. 25 Of the first Iames & Iohn. 26 The Apostles' commission. 34 To lift the life. 35 Hee maketh Christ. 39 The first of a sign. 40 Such among the Jews for the Promises. 42 That calling on death in Christ's Name. 52 The Samaritans will not receive Christ. 55 Hee maketh blind. 57-59. Of them that would follow Christ, but on their own conditions.

Then called he his twelve disciples together, and gaue them power and authoritie ouer all deuiils, and to heale diseases.

2 And hee sent them forth to preach the kingdome of God, and to cure the sicke.

3 And he saide to them, Take nothing to your iourney, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, nor filer, neither haue two coats a peece.

4 And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 And how many soeuer will not receiue you, when ye goe out of that citie, shake off the venge dust from your feete for a testimonie against them.

6 And they went out, and went through euery towne preaching the Gospel, and healing euery where.

7 Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he doubted because that it was said of some, that Iohn was risen againe from the dead.

8 And of some, that Elias had appeared: and of some, that one of the olde Prophets was risen againe.

9 Then Herod saide, Iohn haue I beheaded: who is this then of whom I heare such things? and he desired to see him.

10 And when the Apostles returned, they told him what great things they had done. Then he tooke them to him, and went aside into a solitarie place, neere to the citie called Bethsaida.

11 But when the people knewe it, they followed him: and he receiued them, and spake vnto them of the kingdome of God, & healed them that had neede to be healed.

12 And when the day began to waere away, the twelve came, and said vnto him, Send the people away, that they may goe into the townes and villages round about, and lodge, and get meat: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he layd vnto them, Giue ye them to ate. And they saide, We haue no more but five loaves and two fishes, except we should goe and buy meate for all this people.

14 For they were about five thousand men. Then hee said to his disciples, Cause them to sit downe by fifties in a companie.

15 And they did so, and caused all to sit downe.

16 Then he tooke the five loaves, and the two fishes, & looked vp to heauen, and blessed them, and brake, and gaue to the disciples, to set before the people.

17 So they did all eat, and were satisfied: and there was taken vp of that remained to them, twelue baskets full of broken meate.

18 And it came to passe, as hee was alone praying, his disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Whome say the people that I am?

19 They answered, and said Iohn Baptist, and others say, Elias: and some say, that one of the olde Prophets is risen againe.

20 And he said vnto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answered, and said, That Christ of God.

21 And he warned and commanded them that they should tell that to no man.

22 Saying, The sonne of man must suffer many things, and be reproboued of the Elders, and of the hie Priests and Scribes, and be slaine, and the third day rise againe.

23 And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him denie himselfe, and take vp his crosse daily, and follow me.

24 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.

25 For what advantage is it a man, if hee win the whole world, & destroy himselfe, or lose himselfe?

26 For whosoever shall be ashamed of mee, and of my words, of him shall the Sonne of man be ashamed, when hee shall come in his glory, and in the glory of the Father, and of the holy Angels.

27 And I tell you of a veritie, there be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they haue seene the kingdome of God.

And it came to passe about an eight dayes after those wordes, that he tooke Peter and Iohn, and Iames, and went vp into a mountaine to pray.

And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was chaunged, & his garment was white and glistered.

And beholde, two men talked with him, which were Moses and Elias :

Which appeared in glory, and tolde of his departing, which he should accomplish at Hierusalem.

But Peter & they that were with him were heavy with sleepe, & when they awoke, they saw his glory, and the two men standing with him.

And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter said vnto Iesus, Master, is it good for vs to be here : let vs therefore make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias, and wist not what he said.

Whiles he thus spake, there came a cloude and ouersadowed them, and they feared when they were entering into the cloude.

And there came a voice out of the cloude, saying, This is that my beloued Sonne, heare him.

And when the voice was past, Iesus was found alone : and they kept it close, and tolde no man in those dayes any of those things which they had seene.

And it came to passe on the next day, as they came downe from the mountaine, much people met him.

And beholde, a man of the company cryed out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, behold my sonne : for he is all that I haue.

And loe, a spirit taketh him, and suddenly he cryeth, and he teareth him, that he fometh, and hardly departeth from him, when he hath brui- sed him.

Now I haue besought thy disciples to cast him out, but they could not.

Then Iesus answered and said, O generation faithlesse, & crooked, how long now shall I be with you, and suffer you? bring thy sonne hither.

And whiles he was yet comming, the deuil rent him, and tare him, and Iesus rebuked the vn- cleane spirit, and healed the childe, and deliuered him to his father.

And they were all amased at the mightie power of God : & while they al wondered at al things which Iesus did, he said vnto his disciples,

Marke these wordes diligently : for it shall come to passe, that the sonne of man shal be deliuered into the hands of men.

But they vnderstood not that word : for it was hid from them, so that they could not perceiue it : & they feared to aske him of that word.

Then there arose a disputation among them, which of them should be the greatest.

When Iesus sawe the thoughtes of their hearts, he tooke a litle childe, & set him by him.

And said vnto them, Whosoever receiueh this litle childe in my Name, receiueh mee : and whosoever shall receiue mee, receiueh him that sent me : for he that is least among you all, he shal be great.

And Iohn answered and sayde, Master, we sawe one casting out deuils in thy Name, and we forbade him, because he followeth thee not with vs.

Then Iesus sayde vnto him, Forbid ye him not : for he that is not against vs, is with vs.

And it came to passe, when the dayes were accomplished, that he should be receiued vp, he steeled himselfe fully to goe to Hierusalem.

And sent messengers before him : and they went and entred into a towne of the Samaritans, to prepare him lodging.

But they would not receiue him, because his behauiour was as though he would go to Hierusalem.

And when his disciples, Iames & Iohn sawe it, they sayde, Lorde, wilt thou that we commaund, that fire come downe from heauen, and consume them, even as Elias did?

But Iesus turned about, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not of what spirit ye are.

For the Sonne of man is not come to destroy mens liues, but to saue them. Then they went to another towne.

And it came to passe that as they went in the way, a certain man said vnto him, I will follow thee, Lord, whither soeuer thou goest.

And Iesus said vnto him, The Foxes haue holes, and the birds of the heauen nests, but the Sonne of man hath not whereon to lay his head.

But he said vnto another, Follow mee. And the same said, Lord, suffer me first to goe and bury my father.

And Iesus said vnto him, Let the dead bury their dead : but goe thou, and preach the king- dome of God.

Then another saide, I will follow thee, Lord : but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at mine house.

And Iesus said vnto him, No man that putteth his hand to the plough, and looketh backe, is apt to the kingdome of God.

The calling of God ought to be preferred, without all controuersie, before all duties that we owe to men. Who notwithstanding that they liue in this world of men, yet are strangers from the true life, which is everlasting.

Such as follow Christ, must at once renounce all worldly cares.

After these things, the Lord appoynted o- ther seuentie also, and sent them two and two before him into euery citie and place, whither he himselfe should come.

And hee saide vnto them, The harvest is great, but the labourers are few : pray therefore the Lord of the harvest to send forth labourers into his harvest.

Go your wayes : beholde, I send you forth as lambes among wolues.

Beare no bagge, neither scrippe, nor shooes, and salute no man by the way.

But into whatsoever citie ye shall enter, they will receive you: & eat such things as are set before you.

And heale the sicke that are there, and say vnto them, The kingdome of God is come neere vnto you.

But into whatsoever citie ye shall enter, if they will not receive you, goe your wayes out into the streets of the same, and say,

Even the very dust, which cleaueth on vs of your citie, we wipe off against you: notwithstanding knowe this, that the kingdome of God was come neere vnto you.

For I say to you, that it shall be easier in that day for them of Sodom, then for that citie,

Wo be to thee, Chorazin, wo be to thee, Bethsaida: for if the miracles had bene done in Tyrus and Sidon, which haue bene done in you, they had a great while agoone repented, sitting in sackcloth and asher.

Therefore it shall be easier for Tyrus, and Sidon, at the iudgement, then for you.

And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted to heauen, shalt be thrust downe to hell.

He that heareth you, heareth me: and he that despiseth you, despiseth mee: and he that despiseth me, despiseth him that sent me.

And the leuentic turned againe with ioy, saying, Lord, euen the deuils are subdued to vs through thy Name.

And he said vnto them, I saw Sathan, like lightning, fall downe from heauen.

Behold, I giue vnto you power to tread on Serpents, and Scorpions, & ouer all the power of the enemye, and nothing shall hurt you.

Nevertheless, in this reioyce not, that the spirits are subdued vnto you: but rather reioyce, because your names are written in heauen.

That same houre reioyced Iesus in the spirit, and said, I confesse vnto thee, Father, Lord of heauen & earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise, and vnderstanding, and hast reueiled them to babes: yea, so, Father, because it so pleased thee.

All things are giuen mee of my Father: and no man knoweth who the sonne is, but the Father: neither who the Father is, but the Sonne, and he to whom the Sonne will reueile him.

And he returned to his disciples, and said secretly, Blessed are the eyes, which see that ye see.

For I tell you that many Prophets & Kinges haue desired to see those things, which ye see, and haue not seene them: and to heare those things, which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

Then beholde, a certaine Lawyer stood vp, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I doe to inherite eternall life?

And he said vnto him, What is written in the Law? how readest thou?

And he answered and said, Thou shalt love the Lord God with all thine heart, and with all thy loue, and with all thy strength, and with all thy thought, & and thy neighbour as thy selfe.

Then he said vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this doe, and thou shalt liue.

But he willing to iustifie himselfe, said vnto Iesus, Who is then my neighbour?

And Iesus answered, and said, A certaine man went downe from Hierusalem to Iericho, and fell among theenes, and they robbed him of his rayment, and wounded him, and departed, leauing him halfe dead.

Now so it fell out, that there came downe a certaine Priest that same way, and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

And likewise also a Leuite, when hee was come neere to the place, went and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

Then a certaine Samaritane, as he journeyed, came neere vnto him, and when he saw him, he had compassion on him,

And went to him, & bound vp his wounds, and powred in oyle and wine, and put him on his owne beast, and brought him to an Inne, and made provision for him.

And on the morow, when he departed, hee tooke out two pence, and gaue them to the hoste, and said vnto him, Take care of him, and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come againe, I will recompense thee.

Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the theenes?

And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Iesus vnto him, Goe, and do thou likewise.

Now it came to passe, as they went, that he entered into a certaine towne, and a certaine woman named Martha, receiued him into her house.

And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Iesus feet, and heard his preaching.

But Martha was troubled about much serving, and came to him, and saide, Master, dost thou not care that my sister hath left mee to serue alone? but her therefore that she helpe me.

And Iesus answered, and said vnto her, Martha, Martha, thou carest, and art troubled about many things:

But one thing is needfull, Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

47 ¶ Wo be to you: for you build the sepulchres of the Prophets, & your fathers killed them.
 48 Truly ye beare witness, and allow the deeds of your fathers: for they killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.
 49 Therefore said the wisdome of God, I will send them Prophets and Apostles, and of them they shall slay, and persecute away,
 50 That the blood of all the Prophets, shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation.
 51 From the blood of Abel, vnto the blood of Zacharias which was slaine between the altar and the Temple: verely I say vnto you, it shall be required of this generation.
 52 Wo be to you, Lawyers, for ye haue taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in your felices, and them that came in, ye forbade.
 53 And as hee said these things vnto them, the Scribes and Pharisees began to vrge him fore, and to provoke him to speake of many things.
 54 Laying waite for him, and seeking to catch some thing of his mouth, whereby they might accuse him.

9 But he that shall denie me before men, shall be denied before the Angels of God.
 10 And when they shall speake a word against the Sonne of man, it shall be forgiven him: but vnto him that shall blaspheme the holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven.
 11 And when they shall bring you vnto the Synagogues, and vnto the rulers & Princes, take no thought how, or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall speake.
 12 For the holy Ghost shall teach you in the same houre, what ye ought to say.
 13 And one of the companie sayd vnto him, Master, bid my brother divide the inheritance with me.
 14 And he sayd vnto him, Man, who made me a iudge, or a diuider ouer you?
 15 Wherefore he sayd vnto them, Take heed, and beware of counteneyce: for though a man haue abundance, yet his life standeth not in his riches.
 16 And hee put forth a parable vnto them, saying, The ground of a certaine rich man brought forth fruit plentifully.
 17 Therefore he thought with himselfe, saying, What shall I doe, because I haue no roome where I may lay vp my fruits?
 18 And he said, This will I do, I will pul down my barnes, and build greater, and therein will I gather all my fruits, and my goods.
 19 And I will say to my soule, Soule, thou hast much goods layd vp for many yeeres: take ease, eat, drinke, and rake thy pasture.
 20 But God said vnto him, O foole, this night wil they fetch away thy soule frō thee: the whose shall those things be which thou hast provided?
 21 So he that gathereth riches, to himselfe, and is not rich in God.
 22 And he spake to his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, neither for your bodie, what ye shall put on.
 23 The life is more then meate: and the body more then the raiment.
 24 Consider the ravens: for they neither sowe nor reape: which neither haue storehouse nor barn, & yet God feedeth them: how much more are ye better then fowles?
 25 And which of you with taking thought, can add to his stature one cubite?
 26 If ye then be not able to do the least thing, why take ye thought for the remnant?
 27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they labour not, neither spinne they: yet I say vnto you, that Salomon himselfe in all his royaltie was not clothed like one of these.
 28 If then God so clothe the grasse which is to day in the field, & to morrow is cast into the oven, how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?
 29 Therefore aske not what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drinke, neither hang you in suspence.
 30 For all such things the people of the world seeke for: and your Father knoweth that ye haue need of these things.

But rather seeke ye after the kingdome of God, and all these things shall be cast vpon you.

32 Feare not, little flocke: for it is your Fathers pleasure to giue you the kingdome.

33 ¶ Sell that ye haue, and giue almes: make you bagges which waxe not old, a treasure that can neuer faile in heauen, where no thiefe commeth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your hearts be also.

35 ¶ Let your loines be girded about, and your lights burning.

36 And ye your selues like vnto men that wait for their master, when hee will returne from the wedding, that when he commeth and knocketh, they may open vnto him immediatly.

37 Blessed are those seruants, whom the Lord when hee commeth shall find awake: verily I say vnto you, hee will gird himselfe about, and make them to sit downe at table, and will come forth, and serue them.

38 And if hee come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and shall find them so, blessed are those seruants.

39 ¶ Now vnderstand this, that if the good man of the house had known at what houre the thiefe would haue come, he would haue watched, and would not haue suffered his house to be digged thorow.

40 ¶ Bee ye also prepared therefore: for the Sonne of man will come at an houre when yee thinke not.

41 Then Peter sayd vnto him, Master, tellest thou this parable vnto vs, or euen to all?

42 And the Lord said, Who is a faithfull steward and wife, whom the master shall make ruler ouer his household, to giue them their portion of meate in season?

43 Blessed is that seruant, whom his master when he commeth, shall find so doing.

44 Of a trueth, I say vnto you, that hee will make him ruler ouer all that he hath.

45 But if that seruant say in his heart, My master doth deferre his comming, and shall begin to smite the seruants, and maidens, and to eate and drinke, and to be drunken,

46 The master of that seruant will come in a day when he thinketh not, and at an houre when hee is not ware of, and will cut him off, and giue him his portion with the vnbelieuers.

47 ¶ And that seruant that knew his masters will, and prepared not himselfe, neither did according to his will, shalbe beaten with many stripes.

48 But hee that knew it not, and yet did commit things worthy of stripes, shalbe beaten with few stripes: for vnto whomsoever much is giuen, of him shalbe much required, and to whom men much commit, the more of him will they aske.

49 ¶ I am come to put fire on the earthy, and what is my desire, if it bee already kindled?

50 Notwithstanding I must be baptized with baptisme, & how am I grieved, till it be ended?

51 ¶ Thinke yethat I am come to giue peace on earth, I tell you, nay, but rather debate.

52 For from henceforth there shall be sune in one house diuided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shalbe diuided against the son, and the sonne against the father: the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother: the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

54 ¶ Then sayd he to the people, When yee see a cloud arise out of the West, straightway yee say, A shewre commeth: and so it is.

55 And when ye see the South wind blow, ye say, that it will be hote: and it commeth to passe.

56 Hypocrites, yee can discerne the face of the earth, and of the skie: but why discern yee not this time?

to demand and gather the auerements which they were condemned vnto: that had wrongfully troubled men: moreover, the magistrates officers make them to be condemned, pay that they owe, yea, and oftentimes if they be obtinate, they do not only take the cost and charges of them, but also imprison them.

CHAP. XII.

1 Of the Galileans, 4 and those that were slaine vnder Siloam. 6 The fig tree that bare no fruit. 11 The woman caught with the spirit of infirmitie, that is, with a disease brought on her by Satan, is healed. 19 The parable of the graue of mustard seed. 21 Of leasum. 23 How few shall be saved. 24 Herod that Foxe.

¶ These were certaine men present at the same feast, that shewed him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Suppose ye, that these Galileans were greater sinners then all the other Galileans, because they haue suffered such things?

3 I tell you, nay: but except yee amend your liues, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or thinke you that those eightene, vpon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, were sinners aboue all men that dwell in Hierusalem?

5 I tell you, nay: but except yee amend your liues, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 ¶ Hee spake also this parable, A certaine man had a fig tree, planted in his vineyard: & he came and sought fruit thereon and found none.

7 Then said hee to the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, this three yeeres haue I come and sought fruit of this fig tree, and find none: cut it downe: why keepeth it also the ground barren?

8 And he answered, and said vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yere also, till I digge round about it, and dung it.

9 And if it beare fruit, well: if not, then after thou shalt cut it downe.

11 And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmitie eightene yeeres, and was bowed together, and could not lift vp her selfe in any wise.

12 When Iesus saw her, he called her to him, and sayd to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.

13 And he layed his hands on her, and imme-

14 Men which are very quicke of sight in earthly things are blinde in those things which pertaine to the heavenly life, and that through their own malice. 15 Which appereth selfe together in that part of the 4370.

to demand and gather the auerements which they were condemned vnto: that had wrongfully troubled men: moreover, the magistrates officers make them to be condemned, pay that they owe, yea, and oftentimes if they be obtinate, they do not only take the cost and charges of them, but also imprison them.

18 We must not reioyce at the punishment of others, but rather be instructed thereby to repentance.

19 Pontius Pilate was gouernour of Iudea almost three yeeres, and about the fourth yere of his gouernment, which might be about the fiftieth yere of Tiberius reign. Christ finished the works of our redemption by his death.

21 So that servant returned, and shewed his master these things. Then was the goodman of the house angry, and sayd to his servant, Goe out quickly into the streetes and lanes of the citie, and bring in hither the poore, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blinde.

22 And the servant sayd, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room.

23 Then the master sayd to the servant, Goe out into the hie wayes, and hedges, and compelel them to come in, that mine house may be filled.

24 For I say vnto you, that none of these men which were bidden, shall taste of my supper.

25 Now there went great multitudes with him, and he turned and sayd vnto them,

26 ¶ If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters: yea, and his owne life also, he cannot be my discipule.

27 And whosoever beareth not his crosse, and cometh after me, cannot be my discipule.

32 Or else while he is yet a great way off, hee sendeth an ambassage, and desireth peace.

33 So likewise, whosoever hee be of you, that forsaketh not all that hee hath, he cannot be my discipule.

CHAP. XV.

¶ The parable of the lost sheepe, 8 Of the goate, 11 And of the prodigall sonne.

Then he resorted vnto him all the Publicanes and sinners, to heare him.

3 Therefore the Scribes and Pharises murmured, saying, He receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

4 Then spake he this parable to them, saying,

¶ What man of you having an hundred sheepe, if hee lose one of them, doeth not leave ninetie and nine in the wilderness, and goe after that which is lost, vntill he finde it?

5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders with ioy.

6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with mee: for I haue found my sheepe which was lost.

7 May vnto you, that likewise ioy shall be in heaven for one sinner that conuerteth, more then for ninetie and nine iust men, which need none amendment of life.

8 Either what woman having ten groates, if she lose one groate, doeth not light a candle and sweepe the house, and seeke diligently till shee finde it?

9 And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends, and neighbours, saying, Reioyce with me: for I haue found the groate which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the Angels of God, for one sinner that conuerteth.

11 ¶ He sayd moreouer, A certaine man had two sonnes.

12 And the younger of them said to his father, Father, giue mee the portion of the goods that falleth to me. So hee diuided vnto them his substance.

13 So not many dayes after, when the younger sonne had gathered all together, hee tooke his journey into a farr countrey, and there he wasted his goods with riotous liuing.

14 Now when hee had spent all, there arose a great dearth throughout that land, and he began to be in necessitie.

15 Then hee went and claue to a citizen of that countrey, and hee sent him to his farme, to feede swine.

16 And hee would faine haue filled his bellie with the huskes that the swine ate: but no man gaue them him.

17 Then he came to himselfe, and sayd, How many hired seruants at my fathers haue bread enough, and I die for hunger?

18 I will rise and go to my father, and say vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee,

19 And am no more worthy to be called thy sonne: make me as one of thine hired seruants.

20 So hee arose and came to his father, and when hee was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran and fell on his necke, and kissed him.

21 And the sonne sayd vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne.

22 Then the father sayd to his seruants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shooes on his feete,

23 And bring the fat calfe, and kill him, and let vs eate, and be merry:

24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe: and he was lost, but he is found. And they began to be merry.

25 Now the elder brother was in the field, and when hee came and drew neere to the house, he heard melodie, and dancing.

26 And called one of his seruants, and asked what those things meant.

27 And he said vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fatted calfe, because he hath receiued him safe and sound.

28 Then hee was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

29 But hee answered and said to his father, Lo, these many yeres I haue done thee dutie, and yet thou never giued me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends.

Men by their voluntary falling from God, having spoiled themselves of the benefits which they receiued of him, cast themselves headlong into infinite calamities: but God of his singular goodness, offering himselfe freely to them, whom hee called to repentance, through the greatness of their misery, whereunto they were tamed, doeth not easily greatly reuerse them, but also mercifully turneth them with faine graces, gifts, and blessings, them with the chiefest bliss.

3 The beginning of repentance is the acknowledging of the mercy of God, which filleth vs to hope well.

4 Against God, because hee is said to dwell in heaven.

5 In true repentance there is a feeling of our sinnes, ioynt with sorrow and shame, from whence springeth a consolation, after which followeth forgiveness.

6 Such as truly feare God, desire to haue all men to be their followers.

And he said vnto him, Some thou art euer with me, and all that I haue is thine. It was meete that thou shouldest make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliue againe: and he was lost, but he is found.

CHAP. XVI.

The parable of the steward accused to his master, 13. To shew two things, 16. The Law and the Prophets, 19. Of Diuine and Laymen.

And he sayd also vnto his disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had a steward, and he was accused vnto him, that he wasted his goods.

And hee called him, and sayd vnto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? Giue an account of thy stewardship: for thou mayest be no longer steward.

Then the steward sayde within himselfe, What shall I doe? for my master taketh away from me the stewardship, I cannot digge, and to begge I am ashamed.

I know what I will doe, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receiue mee into their houses.

Then called hee vnto him euerie one of his masters debtors, & sayd vnto the first, How much owest thou vnto my master?

And he said, An hundred measures of oyle. And he sayd vnto him, Take thy writing, and sit downe quickly, and write fiftie.

Then said he to another, How much owest thou? And hee said, An hundred measures of wheate. Then he sayd vnto him, Take thy writing, and write fourescore.

And the Lord commended the unright steward, because he had done wisely. Wherefore the children of this world are in their generation wiser then the children of light.

And I say vnto you, Make you friends with the riches of iniquitie, that when ye shall want, they may receiue you into everlasting habitations.

For he that is faithfull in the least, he is faithfull in much, and he that is unfaithfull in the least, he is unfaithfull in much.

If then ye haue not bene faithfull in the few pence riches, who will trust you in the same treasure?

And if ye haue not bene faithfull in a few other mans goods, who shall giue you that which is yours?

Neither can ye serue two masters: for either hee that hateth me, and his father, and mother, and the world, shall be my friend, or else hee that loveth me, shall be my enemy. Ye cannot serue both.

All that therefore desire the Kingdom of Heauen, they must first hate their father, and mother, and the world, which is their love.

Who can beare his father, and mother, and the world, which is his love, and yet be a disciple of the Kingdom of Heauen?

Who can beare his father, and mother, and the world, which is his love, and yet be a disciple of the Kingdom of Heauen?

Who can beare his father, and mother, and the world, which is his love, and yet be a disciple of the Kingdom of Heauen?

Who can beare his father, and mother, and the world, which is his love, and yet be a disciple of the Kingdom of Heauen?

And hee that is not willing to do this, he cannot be my disciple.

The Law, and the Prophets, vntill Iohn: and since that time the Kingdome of God is preached, and every man presseth in to it.

Now it is more easie that heauen and earth should passe away, then that one tittle of the Law should fall.

Who soeuer putteth away his wife, and marieth another, committeth adultery: and who soeuer marieth her, that is put away from her husband, committeth adultery.

There was a certaine rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linnen, and fared well and delicately euerie day.

Also there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, which was layed at his gate full of sores.

And desired to bee refreshed with the crumbes that fell from the rich mans table: yea, and the dogs came and licked his sores.

And it was so, that the begger died, and was caried by the Angels into Abrahams bosom. The rich man also died, and was buried.

And being in hell in tormentes, he lift vp his eyes, and saw Abraham afarre off, and Lazarus in his bosom.

Then he cryed, and said, Father Abraham, haue mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and coole my tongue: for I am tormented in this flame.

But Abraham sayd, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuest thy pleasures, and likewise Lazarus paines: now therefore he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

Besides all this, betwene you and vs there is a great gulfe set, so that they which would goe from hence to you, cannot: neither can they come from thence to vs.

Then hee sayd, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest send him to my fathers house.

(For I haue fife brethren) that he may testify vnto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

Abraham sayd vnto him, They haue Moyses and the Prophets: let them heare them.

And he said, Nay father Abraham: but if one come vnto them from the dead, they will amend their liues.

Then hee sayd vnto him, If they heare not Moyses and the Prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rise from the dead againe.

13 And he called his ten servants, and delivered them tenne pieces of money, and said vnto them, Occupie till I come.

14 Now his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, Wee will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe, when he was come againe, and had receiued his kingdome, that hee commanded his seruants to be called to him, to whom he gaue his money, that hee might know what euery man had gained.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy piece hath increased ten pieces.

17 And he said vnto him, Well, good seruant: because thou hast bene faithfull in a very little thing, take thou authoritie ouer ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy piece hath increased fise pieces.

19 And to the same he said, Bethou also ruler ouer fise cities.

20 So the other came, and said, Lord, behold, thy piece, which I haue layd vp in a napkin:

21 For I feared thee, because thou art a straite man: thou takest vp that thou laydest not down, and reapest that thou diddest not sow.

22 Then hee sayd vnto him, Of thine owne mouth will I iudge thee, O euill seruant. Thou knowest that I am a straite man, taking vp that I layd not downe, and reaping that I did not sow.

23 Wherefore then gauest thou not my money into the banke, that at my comming I might haue required it with vantage?

24 And hee said to them that stood by, Take from him that piece, and giue it him that hath ten pieces.

25 (And they said vnto him, Lord, he hath ten pieces.)

26 ¶ For I say vnto you, that vnto all them that haue, it shall bee giuen: and from him that hath not, euen that he hath, shall bee taken from him.

27 Moreover, those mine enemies, which would not that I should reigne ouer them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, he went forth before, ascending vp to Hierusalem.

29 ¶ And it came to passe, when he was come neere to Bethphage, and Bethania, besides the mount which is called the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples,

30 Saying, Goe ye to the towne which is before you, wherein assoone as ye are come, ye shall finde a colt tied, whereon neuer man sate: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man aske you, why ye loose him, thus shall ye say vnto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 So they that were sent, went their way, and found it as he had said vnto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said vnto him, Why loose ye the colt?

34 And they said, The Lord hath neede of him.

35 ¶ So they brought him to Iesus, and they call their garments on the colt, & set Iesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spred their clothes in the way.

37 And when hee was now come neere to the going downe of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to reioyce, and to praise God with a loud voyce, for all the great works that they had seene.

38 Saying, Blessed be the King that commeth in the Name of the Lord: peace in heauen, and glory in the highest places.

39 ¶ Then some of the Pharises of the company said vnto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 But he answered, and said vnto them, I tell you, that if these should holde their peace, the stones would cry.

41 ¶ And when he was come neere, he beheld the Citie, and wept for it,

42 Saying, O if thou haddest euen knowne at the least in this thy day those things, which belong vnto thy peace! but now are they hid from thine eyes.

43 For the dayes shall come vpon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keepe thee in on euery side, 44 And shall make thee euen with the ground, and thy children which are in thee, and they shall not leaue in thee a stone vpon a stone, because thou knewest not that season of thy visitation.

45 ¶ Hee went also into the Temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought,

46 Saying vnto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer, & but ye haue made it a den of theues.

47 And hee taught dayly in the Temple. And the high Priests and the Scribes, and the chiefe of the people sought to destroy him.

¶ From whence Iohn Baptist was. ¶ The wickednesse of the Priests is noted by the parable of the vineyard and the ten band-men. 21 To giue tribute to Cesar. 27 He convinceth the Scribes denying the resurrection. 41 How Christ is the sonne of David.

And it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as he taught the people in the Temple, and preached the Gospel, the high Priests and the Scribes came vpon him, with the Elders,

2 And spake vnto him, saying, Tel vs by what authoritie thou dost these things, or who is hee that hath giuen thee this authoritie?

3 And he answered, and said vnto them, I also will aske you one thing, tell me therefore:

4 The baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men?

5 And they reasoned within themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say, Why then beleueed ye him not?

6 But if wee shall say, Of men, all the people will stone vs; for they be perswaded that Iohn was a Prophet.

7 Therefore they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 Then Iesus said vnto them, Neither tell I you, by what authoritie I doe these things.

9 ¶ Then began he to speake to the people this parable, A certaine man planted a vineyard,

8 When they liue which ought to be the chiefe preachers and setters forth of the kingdome of God, he will raise vp other extraordinary, in despite of them.

and let it forth vnto husbandmen, and went into a strange country for a great time.

10 And at the time convenient hee sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen did beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 Again hee sent yet another servant: and they did beat him, and soyle entreated him, and sent him away empty.

12 Moreover hee sent the third, and him they wounded, and cast out.

13 Then said the Lord of the vineyard, What shall I doe? I will send my beloued Sonne: it may bee that they will doe reuerence when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned with themselves, saying, This is the heire: come, let vs kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him: What shall the Lord of the vineyard therefore doe vnto them?

16 Hee will come and destroy these husbandmen, and will giue out his vineyard to others. But when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

17 And he beheld them, and said, What meaneth this then that is written, The stone that the builders refused, that is made the head of the corner.

18 Whosoever shall fall vpon that stone, shall be broken: and on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grinde him to powder.

19 Then the high Priests, and the Scribes, the same houre went about to lay hands on him (but they feared the people) for they perceived that hee had spoken this parable against them.

20 And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should faigne themselves iust men, to take him in his talke, and to deliuer him vnto the power and authoritie of the gouernour.

21 And they asked him, saying, Master, wee know that thou sayest and teachest right, neither dost thou accept of mans person, but teachest the way of God truly.

22 Is it lawfull for vs to giue Cesar tribute or no?

23 But he perceived their craftinesse, and said vnto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shewe mee a pemie. Whose image and inscription hath it? They answered, and sayd, Cessars.

25 Then he sayd vnto them, Giue then vnto Cesar the things which are Cessars, and to God those which are Gods.

26 And they could not reprove his saying before the people, but they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 Then came to him certaine of the Sadduces (which deny that there is any resurrection) and they asked him.

28 Saying, Master, Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die hauing a wife, and hee without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seed vnto his brother.

29 Now there were seven brethren, and the first tooke a wife, and hee died without children.

30 And the second tooke the wife, and hee died childlesse.

31 Then the third tooke her: and so like wise the fower died, and left no children.

32 And the fifth was also dead, and left no children.

33 Therefore at the resurrection, whose wife of them shall she be? for seven had her to wife.

34 Then Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, The children of this world marry wives, and are married.

35 But they which shall be counted worthy to enjoy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry wives, neither are married.

36 For they can die no more, forasmuch as they are equall vnto the Angels, & are the sonnes of God, since they are the children of the resurrection.

37 And that the dead shall rise againe, euen Moses shewed it besides the bush, when he said, The Lord is the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.

38 For he is not the God of the dead, but of them which liue: for all liue vnto him.

39 Then certaine of the Scribes answered, and said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 And after that, forst they not aske him any thing at all.

41 Then said hee vnto them, How say they that Christ is Dauides sonne?

42 And Dauid himselfe saith in the booke of the Psalmes, The Lord said vnto my Lord, Sit at my right hand.

43 Till I shall make thine enemies thy footstool.

44 Seeing Dauid calleth him Lord, how is he then his sonne?

45 Then in the audienes of all the people, he said vnto his disciples,

46 Beware of the Scribes, which willingly goe in long robes, & loue salutations in the market, and the highest seates in the assemblies, and the chiefe roomes at feasts:

47 Which deuoure widowes houses, and in shew make long prayers: These shall receiue greater damnation.

48 We must auoide the example of anotholus and couetous pastors, who are like to the figge tree, which is barren, and shall be cut downe.

49 The figge tree which is barren, shall be cut downe, and shall be cast into the fire.

50 The figge tree which is barren, shall be cut downe, and shall be cast into the fire.

51 And he beheld, hee saw the rich men, which cast their gifts into the treasure.

52 And hee saw also a certaine poore widowe, which cast in thither two mites.

53 And hee said, Of a truth I say vnto you, that this poore widowe hath cast in more than they all.

54 For they all haue of their superfluitie cast into the offerings of God: but shee of her penurie hath cast in all the liuing that she had.

55 Now as some spake of the Temple, how it was garnished with goodly stones, & with contriuate things, he said,

56 Are these the things that yee looke vpon? the dayes will come wherein a stone shall not bee left vpon a stone, that shall not bee thrown downe.

57 Then they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things bee? and what signe shall there be when these things shall come to passe?

58 And hee said, Take heed that yee be not deceived: for many will come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and the time draweth nere: follow ye not them therefore.

59 And hee said, Whosoever shall offend one of these little ones, which are of this world, he shall offend against his heauenly Father, which is in heauen.

60 And hee said, Whosoever shall offend one of these little ones, which are of this world, he shall offend against his heauenly Father, which is in heauen.

61 And hee said, Whosoever shall offend one of these little ones, which are of this world, he shall offend against his heauenly Father, which is in heauen.

62 And hee said, Whosoever shall offend one of these little ones, which are of this world, he shall offend against his heauenly Father, which is in heauen.

g They are called here in this place, the children of this world, which liue in the world: and not they that wholly are giuen to the world, as before Chap. 16. 8. which are contrary to the children of light.

h That is men, makers of their own religion: for as we say truly, that they shall liue in death, which shall enuy our lasting blisse, so do they rise dead, which rise in life, though if they would, reuerence, bee taken generally, is belongeth alwaies to the wicked, which shall rise to condemnation, which is not properly life, but death.

i That is, before him: a notable saying, The truly dead are dead, though they are here on earth.

And when ye heare of warres & seditions, be not afraid for these things must first come, but the end followeth not by and by.

Then said he vnto them, Nation shall rise against nation, & kingdome against kingdome,

And great earthquakes shalbe in diuers places, and hunger, and pestilence, and fearefull things, & great signes shal there be from heauen.

But before al these, they shal lay their hands on you, and persecute you, deliuering you vp to the assemblies, and into prisons, & bring you before kings and rulers for my Names sake.

And this shall turne to you, for a testimoniall.

Lay it vp therefore in your hearts, that ye maye remember before hand what ye shall answere.

For I will giue you a mouth and wisdom, where against all your aduersaries shall not be able to speake nor resist.

Yea, ye shalbe betrayed also of your parents, and of your brethren, and kinsmen, and friends, and some of you shall they put to death.

And yee shall be hated of all men for my Names sake.

Yet there shall not one haire of your heads perish.

By your patience possesse your soules.

And when ye see Hierusalem besieged with souldiers, then vnderstand that the desolation thereof is neere.

Then let them which are in Iudea, flee to the mountaines: and let them which are in the middes thereof, depart out: and let not them that are in the countrey, enter therein.

For these be the dayes of vengeance, to fulfill all things that are written.

But wo be to them that are with child, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes: for there shalbe great distresse in this land, and wrathouer this people.

And they shall fall on the edge of the sword, and shalbe led captiue into all nations, and Hierusalem shalbe troden vnder foot of the Gentiles, vntill the time of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

Then there shalbe signes in the sunne, and in the moone, and in the starres, & vpon the earth trouble among the nations with perplexitie: the sea and the waters shall roare.

And mens hearts shal faile them for feare, and for looking after those things which shall come on the world: for the powers of heauen shall be shaken.

And then shall they see the Sonne of man come in a cloud, with power and great glory.

And when these things begin to come to passe, then looke vp, and lift vp your heads: for your redemption draweth neere.

And he spake to them a parable, Behold, the fig tree, and all trees,

When they now shoot forth, yee seeing them, know of your owne selues, that summer is then neere.

So likewise yee, when yee see these things come to passe, know yee that the kingdome of God is neere.

Verely I say vnto you, This age shall not passe, till all these things be done:

Heauen and earth shall passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

Take heed to your selues, lest at any time your hearts be oppressed with surfeiting & drunkkennell, and cares of this life, and lest that day come on you at vnawares.

For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

Watch therefore, and pray continually, that yee may be counted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to passe, and that yee may stand before the Sonne of man.

Now in the day time hee taught in the Temple, and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Oliues.

All and the people came in the morning to him, to heare him in the Temple.

CHAP. XXII.

Iudas sclaue Christ. 7 The Apostles prepare the Passouer, 24 They strive who shall be chiefest. 31 Sathan desireth them, 35 Christ sheweth that they wanted washing. 42 He prayeth in the mount. 44 Hee sweateth blood. 50 Malchus eare cut off and healed. 57. 58. 60 Peter denieth Christ thrise. 63 Christ is mocked and strooken. 69 Hee crucifieth himselfe to be the Sonne of God.

Now the feast of vneleuened bread drewe neere, which is called the Passouer.

And the hie Priests and Scribes sought how they might kill him: for they feared the people.

Then entred Satan into Iudas who was called Iscariot, and was of the number of the twelue.

And he went his way, and communed with the hie Priests and captaines, how he might betray him to them.

So they were glad, and agreed to giue him money.

And he consented, and sought opportunity to betray him vnto them, when the people were away.

Then came the day of vneleuened bread, when the Passouer must be sacrificed.

And he sent Peter and Iohn, saying, Go and prepare vs the Passouer that we maye eat it.

And they sayd to him, Where wilt thou, that we prepare it?

Then he sayd vnto them, Behold, when ye be entred into the citie, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water: follow him into the house that he entred in,

And say vnto the good man of the house, The Master sayth vnto thee, Where is the lodging where I shal eat my Passouer with my disciples?

Then he shall shew you a great high chamber trimmed: there make it ready.

So they went, and found as he had said vnto them, and made ready the Passouer.

And when the houre was come, he fate downe, and the twelue Apostles with him.

Then he sayd vnto them, I haue earnestly desired to eate this Passouer with you, before I suffer.

For I say vnto you, Henceforth I will not eate of it any more, vntill it be fulfilled in the kingdome of God.

And hee tooke the cup, and gaue thanks, and said, Take this, and diuide it among you:

For I say vnto you, I will not drinke of the fruit of the vine, vntill the kingdome of God be come.

CHAP. XXIII.

¶ He is accused before Pilate. 7 He is sent to Herode. 11 He is mocked. 14 Pilate yieldeth him up to the lowest request. 17 The women bewaile him. 33 He is crucified. 39 One of the thieves reuileth him: 43 The other is saved by faith. 49 Hee dieth. 53 He is buried.

Then the whole multitude of them arose, and led him vnto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We haue found this man perverting the nation, and forbidding to pay tribute to Cesar, saying, That he is Christ a King.

3 And Pilate asked him saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? And he answered him, and said, Thou sayest it.

4 Then said Pilate to the hie Priests, and to the people, I finde no fault in this man.

5 But they were the more fierce, saying, Hee moueth the people, teaching throughout all Iudea, beginning at Galile, euen to this place.

6 Now when Pilate heard of Galile, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 And when he knewe that he was of Herods iurisdiction, hee sent him to Herod, which was also at Hierusalem in those dayes.

8 And when Herod saw Iesus, he was exceedingly glad: for hee was desirous to see him of a long season, because hee had heard many things of him, and trusted to haue seene some signe done by him.

9 Then questioned hee with him of many things: but he answered him nothing.

10 The high Priests also and Scribes stood forth and accused him vehemently.

11 And Herod with his men of warre, despised him, and mocked him, and arrayed him in white, and sent him againe to Pilate.

12 And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together: for before they were enemies one to another.

13 ¶ Then Pilate called together the high Priests, and the rulers, and the people,

14 And said vnto them, Yee haue brought this man vnto me, as one that peruerted the people: and beholde, I haue examined him before you, and haue found no fault in this man, of those things whereof ye accuse him:

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him: and loe, nothing worthy of death is done of him,

16 I will therefore chastise him, and let him loose.

17 (For of necessitie hee must haue let one loose vnto them at the feast.)

18 Then all the multitude cried at once, saying, Away with him, & deliuer vnto vs Barabbas:

19 Which for a certaine insurrection made in the citie, and murder, was cast in prison.

20 Then Pilate spake againe to them, willing to let Iesus loose.

21 But they cried, saying, Crucifie, crucifie him.

22 And he said vnto them the third time, But what euill hath hee done? I finde no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him loose.

23 But they were instant with loude voyces, and required that he might be crucified: and the voices of them and of the high Priests preuailed.

24 So Pilate gaue sentence, that it should bee as they required.

25 And hee let loose vnto them him that for insurrection and murder was cast into prison, whom they desired, and deliuered Iesus to doe with him what they would.

26 ¶ And as they ledde him away, they caught one Simon of Cyrene, coming out of the field, and on him they laid the crosse, to beare it after Iesus.

27 And there followed him a great multitude of people, and of women, which women bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Iesus turned backe vnto them, and said, Daughters of Hierusalem, weepe not for me, but weepe for your selues, and for your children.

29 For beholde, the dayes will come, when men shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombes that neuer bare, and the pappes which neuer gaue sucke.

30 Then shall they begin to say to the mountaynes, Fall on vs: and to the hils, Couer vs.

31 For if they doe these things to a greene tree, what shall be done to the drie?

32 And there were two others, which were euill doers, led with him to be flaine.

33 And when they were come to the place which is called Caluarie, there they crucified him, and the euill doers: one at the right hand, and the other at the left.

34 Then said Iesus, Father, forgive them: for they know not what they doe. And they parted his raiment and cast lots.

35 And the people stood, and beheld: and the rulers mocked him with them, saying, Hee saued others: let him saue himselfe, if hee bee that Christ, the Chosen of God.

36 The souldiers also mocked him, and came and offered him vineger, 37 And said, If thou be the King of the Iewes, saue thy selfe.

38 And a superscription was also written ouer him, in Greeke letters, and in Latin, and in Hebrew, THIS IS THAT KING OF THE IEWES.

39 And one of the euill doers, which were hanged, railed on him, saying, If thou bee that Christ, saue thy selfe and vs.

40 But the other answered, and rebuked him, saying, Fearest thou not God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

And hee said vnto Iesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdome.

Then Iesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, so day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

And it was about the sixth houre: and there was a darkenesse ouer all the land, vntil the ninth houre.

And the Sunne was darkened, and the vail of the Temple rent through the middles.

And Iesus cried with a loud voice, & said, Father, into thine hands I commend my spirit. And when hee thus had saide, hee gaue vp the ghost.

Now when the Centurion sawe what was done, he glorified God, saying, Of a suretie this man was iust.

And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things that were done, smote their breasts, and returned.

And all his acquaintance stood a far off, and the women that followed him from Galilee, beholding these things.

And beholde, there was a man named Ioseph, which was a counsellor, a good man and a iust.

Hee did not consent to the counsell and deede of them, which was of Arimathea, a citie of the Iewes: who also himselfe waited for the kingdome of God.

He went vnto Pilate, and asked the bodie of Iesus.

And tooke it downe, and wrapped it in a linnen cloth, and laid it in a tombe hewen out of a rocke, wherein was neuer man yet laid.

And that day was the preparation, and the Sabbath drew on.

And the women also that followed after, which came with him from Galilee, beheld the sepulchre, and how his bodie was laid.

And they returned and prepared odours, and ointments, and rested the Sabbath day according to the commandement.

CHAP. XXIII.

Now the first day of the weeke early in the morning, they came vnto the sepulchre, and brought the odours which they had prepared, and certaine women with them.

And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

And went in, but found not the body of the Lord Iesus.

And it came to passe, that as they were amazed therat, behold, two men suddenly stood by them in shining vailures.

And as they were afraid, and bowed downe their faces to the earth, they said to them, Why seek ye him that liueth, among the dead?

He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake vnto you, when he was yet in Galilee.

Saying, that the Sonne of man must be delivered into the hands of sinfull men, and be crucified, and the third day rise againe.

And they remembered his words.

And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things vnto the eleven, and to all the remnant.

Now it was Mary Magdalene, & Ioanna, & Mary the mother of Iames, & other women with them, which told these things vnto the Apostles.

But their words seemed vnto them as a fained thing, neither beleeted they them.

Then arose Peter and ran vnto the sepulchre, and looked in and saw the linnen clothes layd by themselves, and departed wondering in himselfe at that which was come to passe.

And behold, two of them went that same day to a towne which was from Hierusalem about threescore furlongs, called Emmaus.

And they talked together of all these things that were done.

And it came to passe, as they communed together, and reasoned, that Iesus himselfe drew neere, and went with them.

But their eyes were holden, that they could not know him.

And he said vnto them, What manner of communications are these that yee haue one to another as ye walke, and are ead?

And the one (named Cleopas) answered, and said vnto him, Art thou onely a stranger in Hierusalem, and hast not knowen the things which are come to passe therein in these dayes?

And he said vnto them, What things? And they sayd vnto him, Of Iesus of Nazareth, which was a Prophet mighty in deede and in word before God, and all the people.

And how the hie Priests, and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and haue crucified him.

But wee trusted that it had beene hee: that should haue delivered Israel, and as touching all these things, to day is the third day, that they were done.

Yea, and certaine women among vs made vs assured, which came early vnto the sepulchre.

And when they found not his bodie, they came, saying, that they had also seene a vision of Angels, which said, that he was aliué.

Therefore certaine of them which were with vs, went to the sepulchre, and found it euen so as the women had said, but him they saw not.

Then hee sayde vnto them, O fooles and slowe of heart to beleue all that the Prophets haue spoken!

Ought not Christ to haue suffered these things and to enter into his glory?

And hee beganne at Moses, and at all the Prophets, and interpreted vnto them in all the Scriptures the things which were written of him.

And they drew neere vnto the towne which they went to, but he made as though hee would haue gone further.

But they constrained him, saying, Abide with vs: for it is towards night, and the day is farre spent: So he went in to stay with them.

And it came to passe, as hee sat at table with them, he tooke the bread, and blessed, and brake

Chap. 9. 31. matth. 17. 23. mark. 9. 31.

The cowardly & dastardly mind of the disciples is vpraised by the stout courage of women, (so wrought by Gods great mercie) to shewe that the kingdome of God consisteth in an extraordinary power.

Ioh. 20. 6. Christ vouch the incredulitie of his disciples, to the fuller testing forth of the true hof of his resurrection, lest they should seeme to haue beleeted that too lightly, which they preached atterward to all the world.

As we haue hold downe his head, and bowing his necke, loosed diligently.

Matth. 16. 13. The resurrection is proved by two other witnesses, which saw it, & that it was no forged thing framed of purple in their owne braines, all the circumstances doe declare.

Wee bidden backe and stayed, God so appointing it, no doubt: and therefore his body was not invisible, but their eyes were dimmed.

Some of the old fathers thinke that the other disciple was the our Evangelist, but Epiphanius writing against the Samaritan, saith it was not.

It appeareth by the conferring of the forewarning of the Prophets, that all those things are true & certaine, which the Euangelists haue put downe in writing of Christ.

take it, and gave it to them.

31 Then their eyes were opened, & they knew him: and he was no more scene of them.

32 And they said betwene themselves, Did not our heartes burne within vs, while hee talked with vs by the way, & when he opened to vs the Scriptures?

33 And they rose vp the same houre, and returned to Ierusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and chem that were with them, 34 Which said, The Lord is risen in deede, and hath appeared to simon.

35 Then they tolde whatthings were done in the way, & how he was known of them in breaking of bread.

36 ¶ And as they spake these things, Iesus himselfe stood in the mids of them, and said vnto them, Peace be to you.

37 But they were abashed and afraid, supposing that they had seene a spirit.

38 Then he said vnto them, Why are yet troubled? & when fore do doubts arise in your heartes?

39 Behold mine hands and my feet: for it is I my selfe: handle me and see: for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me haue.

40 And when he had thus spoken, hee shewed them his hands and feete.

41 And while they yet beleueed not for ioy, and wondered, hee said vnto them, Haue ye here any meat?

42 And they gaue him a peece of a broyled fish, and of an hony combe, 43 And he tooke it, and did eate before them.

44 ¶ And hee saide vnto them, These are the wordes, which I spake vnto you while I was yet with you, that all must be fulfilled which are written of mee in the Lawe of Moser, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalmes.

45 Then opened hee their vnderstanding that they might vnderstand the Scriptures;

46 And said vnto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoueth Christ to suffer, and to rise againe from the dead the third day,

47 And that repentance, & remission of sinnes should be preached in his Name among all nations, beginning at Hierusalem.

48 Now ye are witnesses of these things:

49 And beholde, I doe send the promise of my Father vpon you: but tarrye yee in the citie of Hierusalem, vntill ye be endued with power from on high.

50 ¶ Afterward he led them out into Bethania, and lift vp his hands, and blessed them.

51 And it came to passe, that as hee blessed them, hee departed from them, and was caried vp into heauen.

52 And they worshipped him, and returned to Hierusalem with great ioy, 53 And were continually in the Temple, praising, and lauding God, Amen.

7 The preaching of the Gospel, which was preached to the Prophets and performed in his time, is committed vnto the Apostles: the summe whereof, is repentance, and remission of sinnes.

8 The Apostles, who are the preachers of the Gospel, beginning at Hierusalem.

9 That the holy Ghost come downe from heauen vpon you.

10 Christ ascendeth into heauen, and departing bodily from his disciples, filleth their hearts with the holy Ghost.

11 Acts 1.9.

THE HOLY GOSPEL OF IESVS CHRIST ACCORDING TO IOHN.

CHAP. I.

¶ That Word began of God before all worldes, and which manner with the Father, is made man. 6. 7. For that end was the Word made God: 18. His preaching of Christ's office. 19. 20. The manner how hee came into the world. 21. The calling of Andrew, 43. of Peter, 43. Philip, 45. and Nathanael.

IN the beginning was the Word, and that Word was with God, and that Word was God. 2 This same was in the beginning with God. 3 ¶ All things were made by it; and without it was made nothing that was made. 4 In it was life, and that life was that light of men.

¶ From this word, began was there to haue his being, when God began to make all that was made: for this word was then when all things that were made began to be made: and therefore hee is called the beginning of all things. 6. Had his being. 7. This word, which began to be made, is an appointed and choise thing above all other, and therefore hee is called the Word, which is the same of God, and the same of man. 18. The Word, which is the same of God, and the same of man, is called the Word of God. 19. This word (Word) is the first in order in the former, and is the same which the learned call (Subiectum): and this word (God) is the latter in order, and the same which the learned call (Prædicatum). 20. Col. 1. 16. 21. The Word of God, which is the same of God, and the same of man, is called the Word of God, both by the creating of all things, and also by the preaching of them, and especially by the excellent preaching of the Word, where with hee had beaurified man above all other creatures. 22. From this word, began was there to haue his being, when God began to make all that was made: for this word was then when all things that were made began to be made: and therefore hee is called the beginning of all things. 23. This word, which began to be made, is an appointed and choise thing above all other, and therefore hee is called the Word, which is the same of God, and the same of man. 24. The Word, which is the same of God, and the same of man, is called the Word of God, both by the creating of all things, and also by the preaching of them, and especially by the excellent preaching of the Word, where with hee had beaurified man above all other creatures. 25. From this word, began was there to haue his being, when God began to make all that was made: for this word was then when all things that were made began to be made: and therefore hee is called the beginning of all things. 26. This word, which began to be made, is an appointed and choise thing above all other, and therefore hee is called the Word, which is the same of God, and the same of man. 27. The Word, which is the same of God, and the same of man, is called the Word of God, both by the creating of all things, and also by the preaching of them, and especially by the excellent preaching of the Word, where with hee had beaurified man above all other creatures. 28. From this word, began was there to haue his being, when God began to make all that was made: for this word was then when all things that were made began to be made: and therefore hee is called the beginning of all things. 29. This word, which began to be made, is an appointed and choise thing above all other, and therefore hee is called the Word, which is the same of God, and the same of man. 30. The Word, which is the same of God, and the same of man, is called the Word of God, both by the creating of all things, and also by the preaching of them, and especially by the excellent preaching of the Word, where with hee had beaurified man above all other creatures. 31. From this word, began was there to haue his being, when God began to make all that was made: for this word was then when all things that were made began to be made: and therefore hee is called the beginning of all things. 32. This word, which began to be made, is an appointed and choise thing above all other, and therefore hee is called the Word, which is the same of God, and the same of man. 33. The Word, which is the same of God, and the same of man, is called the Word of God, both by the creating of all things, and also by the preaching of them, and especially by the excellent preaching of the Word, where with hee had beaurified man above all other creatures. 34. From this word, began was there to haue his being, when God began to make all that was made: for this word was then when all things that were made began to be made: and therefore hee is called the beginning of all things. 35. This word, which began to be made, is an appointed and choise thing above all other, and therefore hee is called the Word, which is the same of God, and the same of man. 36. 5 ¶ And that light shineth in the darkenesse, and the darkenesse comprehended it not.

6 ¶ There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn.

7 This same came for a witness, to beare witness of that light, that all men through him might beleue.

8 Hee was not that light, but was sent to beare witness of that light.

9 ¶ This was that true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 ¶ Hee was in the world, and the world was made by him: and the world knew him not.

11 He came vnto his owne, and his owne receiued him not.

12 But as many as receiued him, to them hee gave prerogative to be the sonnes of God, even to them that beleue in his Name.

13 Which are borne not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the wil of man, but of God.

3 The light of men is turned into darkenesse, but yet in that there is cleauesse enough to make them without neede.

4 Hee was not that light, but was sent to beare witness of that light.

5 This was that true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

6 Hee was in the world, and the world was made by him: and the world knew him not.

Mr. Williams is glad to have come down from his mountain retreat, but he says that he will not be able to stay in the city, and that he will return to his mountain retreat. He says that he will not be able to stay in the city, and that he will return to his mountain retreat. He says that he will not be able to stay in the city, and that he will return to his mountain retreat.

and his sonnes, and his cirell?

17 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water, shall thirst againe:

18 But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall giue him, shall neuer be more athirst: but the water that I shall giue him, shall be in him a well of water, springing vp into euerlasting life.

19 The woman sayd vnto him, Sir, giue me of that water: that I may not thirst, neither come hither to draw.

20 Iesus said vnto her, Go, call thine husband, and come hither.

21 The woman answered, and sayd, I haue no husband. Iesus sayd vnto her, Thou hast well said, I haue no husband.

22 For thou hast had five husbands, and hee whom thou now hast, is not thine husband: that saydest thou truly.

23 The woman sayd vnto him, Sir, I see that thou art a Prophet.

24 Our fathers worshipped in this mountaine, and ye say, that in Ierusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

25 Iesus sayd vnto her, Woman, beleue me, the houre commeth, when yee shall neither in this mountaine, nor at Hierusalem worship the Father:

26 Ye worship that which ye know not: we worship that which wee know: for saluation is of the Iewes.

27 But the houre commeth, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in Spirit and Truth: for the Father requireth euen such to worship him.

28 God is a Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in Spirit and Truth.

29 The woman sayd vnto him, I know well that Messias shall come, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell ys all things.

30 Iesus sayd vnto her, I am hee, that speake vnto thee.

31 And vpon that, came his disciples, and intreated that hee talked with a woman: yet no man said vnto him, What askest thou? or why talkest thou with her?

32 The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the citie, and sayd to the men,

33 Come, see a man which hath tolde mee all things that euer I did: is not he that Christ?

34 Then they went out of the citie, and came vnto him.

35 In the meane while, the disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.

36 But hee sayd vnto them, I haue meat to eat, that ye know not of.

37 Then sayd the disciples betwene themselves, Hath any man brought him meat?

38 Iesus sayd vnto them, My meate is that I may do the will of him that sent mee, and finish his worke.

39 Say not ye, There are yet foure months, and then commeth haruest? Beholde, I say vnto you, Lift vp your eyes, and looke on the regions: for they are white already vnto haruest.

40 And hee that reapeth, receiveth reward, and gathereth fruite vnto life eternal, that both he that soweth, and he that reapeth might reioyce together.

41 For herein is the saying true, that one soweth, and another reapeth.

42 I sent you to reap that, wherein yee bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and yee are entred into their labours.

43 Now many of the Samaritanes of that citie beleued in him, for the saying of the woman which testified, Hee hath tolde me all things that euer I did.

44 Then when the Samaritanes were come vnto him, they besought him, that hee would tarry with them: and he abode there two dayes.

45 And many more beleued because of his owne words.

46 And they sayd vnto the woman, Now wee beleue, not because of thy saying: for we haue heard him our selues, & know that this is in deed that Christ the Saviour of the world.

47 So two dayes after he departed thence, and went into Galile.

48 For Iesus himselfe had testified, that a Prophet hath none honour in his owne countrey.

49 Then when hee was come into Galilee, the Galileans receiued him, which had seene all the things that he did at Hierusalem at the feast: for they went also to the feast.

50 And Iesus came againe into Cana a towne of Galile, where hee had made of water wine. And there was a certaine ruler, whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum.

51 When he heard that Iesus was come out of Iudea into Galile, hee went vnto him, and besought him that hee would goe downe, and heale his sonne: for he was euen ready to die.

52 Then sayd Iesus vnto him, Except yee see signes and wonders, ye will not beleue.

53 The ruler sayd vnto him, Sir, go down before my sonne die.

54 Iesus sayd vnto him, Go thy way, thy sonne liueth: and the man beleued the word that Iesus had spoken vnto him, and went his way.

55 And as hee was now going downe, his seruants met him, saying, Thy sonne liueth.

56 Then enquired he of them the houre when he began to amend. And they sayd vnto him, Yesterday the seuenth houre the fever left him.

57 Then the father knew that it was the same houre in the which Iesus had sayd vnto him, Thy sonne liueth. And hee beleued, and all his household.

58 This second miracle did Iesus againe, after he was come out of Iudea into Galile.

After that there was a feast of the Iewes, and Iesus went to Hierusalem.

2 And there is at Hierusalem by the place of the sheepe, a poole called in Hebrew Bethesda, hauing five porches:

3 In the which lay a great multitude of sicke folke, of blind, halt, and withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an Angel went down at a certaine season into the poole: and troubled the water, whosoever then first, after the stirring of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoeuer disease he had.

5 And a certaine man was there, which had

7 The Samaritanes doe most ioyally embrace that which the Iewes most flabbarly reiect. 8 The despisers of Christ deprive themselves of his benefit: yet Christ prepareth a place for himselfe.

4 Iesus came to Cana and villages of Galilee: for he would not make shade in the country of the Samaritanes, which despised him, and others (as the other Evangelists write) the disciples of his brethren were hindered through their malicious spitefulness. 4 Math. 23. 57. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100.

Martha, thou art not listening to what I say.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father, which hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

45 It is the Father's will, that whosoever believeth in the Son, shall have eternal life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

46 Then saith she unto him, Lord, I believe: but who shall hear me, when I say, My Lord, and my Father, that he come into this house, and dwell with me?

47 Fully, surely I say unto you, He that believeth in me, shall have eternal life.

48 I am that bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

49 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

50 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

51 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

52 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

53 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

54 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

55 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

56 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

57 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

58 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

59 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

60 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

61 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

62 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

63 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

64 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

65 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

66 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

67 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

68 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

69 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

70 I am the bread of life. Whoso cometh to me, shall never hunger: and whoso believeth in me, shall never thirst.

62 But there are some of you that believe not: for Jesus knew from the beginning, which they were that believed not, and who should betray him.

63 And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except the Father draw him.

64 From that time, many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

65 Then said Judas to the twelve, Will ye also go away?

66 Then Simon Peter answered him, Master, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life.

67 And we believe and know that thou art that Christ the Son of the living God.

68 Jesus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?

69 Now he saith of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, though he was one of the twelve.

CHAP. VII.

1 Jesus went out, and said unto the Jews, which came to him, Behold, I have said unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

2 Then said they unto him, What sayest thou? thou sayest that thou art he, and thou sayest that we shall die in our sins.

3 Jesus answered them, I say unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

4 Then said they unto him, What sayest thou? thou sayest that thou art he, and thou sayest that we shall die in our sins.

5 Jesus answered them, I say unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

6 Then said they unto him, What sayest thou? thou sayest that thou art he, and thou sayest that we shall die in our sins.

7 Jesus answered them, I say unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

8 Then said they unto him, What sayest thou? thou sayest that thou art he, and thou sayest that we shall die in our sins.

9 Jesus answered them, I say unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

10 Then said they unto him, What sayest thou? thou sayest that thou art he, and thou sayest that we shall die in our sins.

11 Jesus answered them, I say unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

12 Then said they unto him, What sayest thou? thou sayest that thou art he, and thou sayest that we shall die in our sins.

13 Jesus answered them, I say unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

14 Then said they unto him, What sayest thou? thou sayest that thou art he, and thou sayest that we shall die in our sins.

15 Jesus answered them, I say unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

16 Then said they unto him, What sayest thou? thou sayest that thou art he, and thou sayest that we shall die in our sins.

17 Jesus answered them, I say unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

18 Then said they unto him, What sayest thou? thou sayest that thou art he, and thou sayest that we shall die in our sins.

19 Jesus answered them, I say unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

Such is the malice of men, that they take occasion of their own destruction, even of the very doctrine of salvation (which is a law, which becometh through the law, the gift of God.) The number of the professors of Christ is very small, and among them also there be some hypocrites, and worse than all other.

3 And

16 Iesus answered them, and said, * My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man wil doe his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my selfe.

18 He that speaketh of himselfe, seeketh his owne glory: but hee that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no vnrighteousnes is in him.

19 ¶ Did not Moses giue you a Law, and yet none of you keepeth the Lawe? ¶ Why goe yee about to kill mee?

20 The people answered, and said, Thou hast a deuil: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, I haue done one worke, and ye all marueile:

22 ¶ Moses therefore gaue vnto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers) and yee on the Sabbath day circumsise a man.

23 If a man on the Sabbath receiue circumcision, that the Law of Moses should not be broken, be ye angry with me, because I haue made a man euery whit whole on the Sabbath day?

24 ¶ Iudge not according to the appearance, but iudge righteous iudgement.

25 ¶ Then said some of them of Hierusalem, Is not this he whom they goe about to kill?

26 And behold, hee speaketh openly, and they say nothing to him: doe the rulers know in deed that this is in deed that Christ?

27 Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when that Christ cometh, no man shall know whence he is.

28 ¶ Then cryed Iesus in the Temple as hee taught, saying, Yee both knowe mee, and knowe whence I am: yet am I not come of my selfe, but he that sent me, is true, whom ye know not.

29 But I know him: for I am of him, and hee hath sent me.

30 ¶ Then they sought to take him, but no man layd hands on him, because his houre was not yet come.

31 Now many of the people beleueed in him, and said, When that Christ cometh, will he doe moe miracles then this man hath done?

32 ¶ The Pharises heard that the people murmured these things of him, and the Pharises and high Priests sent officers to take him.

33 ¶ Then sayde Iesus vnto them, Yet am I a little while with you, and then I goe vnto him that sent me.

34 ¶ Yeshall seeke me, and shall not finde me, and where I am can ye not come.

35 ¶ Then sayde the Iewes among themselves, Whither will he goe that we shall not finde him? Will he go vnto them that are dispersed among the Grecians, and teach the Grecians?

36 ¶ What saying is this that he sayd, Yee shall seeke mee, and shall not finde mee? and, Where I am, can ye not come?

¶ Iesus then that hee had said, and of his call of Galile, and a carpenters sonne, whom hee had knowne of his boyhood, and made him the master of hisse well, and iudge the tree by the fruite. ¶ Many doe marueile that the enemies of God haue so much grace, yet the meane reason they doe not acknowledge the vertue and power of God. ¶ Many very wise to procure stoffe and flayes to them, saying, ¶ The truth of Christ doeth not hang vpon the iudgement of man. ¶ The wicked cannot doe what they list, but what God hath appointed. ¶ As the sunne doth not rise, so increaseth the rage of his enemies, till at length hee in his wrath shall be manifest to all eyes, which they despised when they were present. ¶ Word for word (to the dispersion of the Gentiles or Grecians) and where the name of Grecians be vnderstandeth the manner which were dispersed among the Gentiles, &c. ¶

37 ¶ Now in the last and great day of the feast, Iesus stood and cryed, saying, If any man thirst, let him come vnto me, and drinke.

38 ¶ Hee that beleueth in mee, ¶ as sayth the Scripture, out of his belly shall flow riuers of water of life.

39 ¶ This spake he of the Spirit, which they that beleueed in him, should receiue: for the holy Ghost was not yet giuen, because that Iesus was not yet glorified.

40 ¶ So many of the people, when they heard this saying, said, ¶ Of a truth this is that Prophet.

41 ¶ Other sayd, This is that Christ: and some sayd, But shall that Christ come out of Galile?

42 ¶ Saith not the Scripture, that that Christ shall come of the seede of Dauid, and out of the towne of Beth-lehem, where Dauid was?

43 ¶ So was there dissension among the people for him.

44 ¶ And some of them would haue taken him, but no man layd hands on him.

45 ¶ Then came the officers to the high Priests and Pharises, and they sayd vnto them, Why haue ye not brought him?

46 ¶ The officers answered, Neuer man spake like this man.

47 ¶ Then answered them the Pharises, Are yee also deceiued?

48 ¶ Doeth any of the rulers, or of the Pharises beleue in him?

49 ¶ But this people, which know not the Law, are cursed.

50 ¶ Nicodemus sayde vnto them, ¶ (¶ hee that came to Iesus by night, and was one of them.)

51 ¶ Doth our Law iudge a man before it heare him, ¶ and know what he hath done?

52 ¶ They answered, and sayd vnto him, Art thou also of Galile? Search and looke: for out of Galile ariseth no Prophet.

53 ¶ And euery man went vnto his own house.

8 And againe hee stouped downe, and wrote on the ground.

9 And when they heard it, being accused by their owne conscience they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest euen to the last so Iesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the mids.

10 When Iesus had lift vp himselfe againe, and saw no man, but the woman, hee sayd vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Iesus said, Neither do I condemne thee: goe and sinne no more.

12 Then spake Iesus againe vnto them, saying, I am the light of the world: hee that followeth me, shall not walke in darkenesse, but shall haue that light of life.

13 The Pharisees therefore sayde vnto him, Thou bearest record of thy selfe: thy record is not true.

14 Iesus answered, & said vnto the, Though I beare record of my selfe, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go: but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I goe.

15 Ye iudge after the flesh: I iudge no man.

16 And it I also iudge, my iudgement is true, for I am not alone, but I and the Father, that sent me.

17 And it is also written in your Law, vthat the testimonie of two men is true.

18 I am one that beare witness of my selfe, & the Father that sent me beareth witness of me.

19 Then sayd they vnto him, Where is that Father of thine? Iesus answered, Ye neither know mee, nor that Father of mine. If ye had knowne me, yee should haue knowen that Father of mine also.

20 These words spake Iesus in the treasury, as he taught in the Temple, and no man layd hands on him: for his houre was not yet come.

21 Then sayd Iesus againe vnto them, I goe my way, and ye shall seek me, and shal die in your finnes. Whither I goe, can ye not come.

22 Then sayd the Iewes, Will he kill himselfe, because he saith, Whither I goe, can ye not come?

23 And he sayd vnto them, Yee are from beneath, I am from aboue: ye are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 I sayd therefore vnto you, That ye shal die in your finnes: for except ye believe that I am he, ye shal die in your finnes.

25 Then said they vnto him, Who art thou? And Iesus sayd vnto them, Euen the same thing that I sayd vnto you from the beginning.

26 I haue many things to say, and to iudge of you: but he that sent me, is true, and the things that I haue heard of him, those speake I to the world.

27 They vnderstood not that hee spake to them of the Father.

28 Then sayd Iesus vnto them, When ye haue lift vp the Sonne of man, then shall yee knowe that I am he, and that I doe nothing of my selfe,

6 No man can know God, but in Christ only. 7 This was some place appointed for the gathering of his offerings. 8 We see and are at the pleasure of God and not at men: therefore this one thing remaineth that wee goe forward constantly in our vocations. 9 Because that men shal naturally abhorre heavenly things, no man can be a disciple of Christ, vlesse the spirit of God frame him: in the meane season notwithstanding, the world must of necessity perishe, because it is without the life that is offered vnto it. 10 He that at length knowes who Christ is, which will diligently keepe him as hee saith. 11 That is, I am Christ, and the Sonne of man, for so I told you from the beginning, that I was. 12 To God is the remembrance of Christes doctrine deplorable. 13 Euen the contempe of Christ maketh his glory: which thing his enemies shall feele at length to their great shame.

but as my Father hath taught me, so I speake these things.

29 For he that sent me is with me: the Father hath not left me alone, because I doe alwayes those things that please him.

30 As he spake these things, many beleueed in him.

31 Then said Iesus to the Iewes which beleueed in him, If ye continue in my word, yee are verily my disciples,

32 And shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

33 They answered him, We be Abrahams feede, and were neuer bond to any man: why sayest thou then, Ye shal be made free?

34 Iesus answered them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, that whoeuer committeth sinne, is the seruant of sinne.

35 And the seruant abideth not in the house for euer: but the Sonne abideth for euer.

36 If that Sonne therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free in deed.

37 I know that ye are Abrahams feede, but yee seeke to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speake that which I haue seene with my Father: and ye doe that which ye haue seene with your Father.

39 They answered, and sayd vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus said vnto them, If ye were Abrahams children, ye would doe the workes of Abraham.

40 But now ye goe about to kill mee, a man that haue told you the truth, which I haue heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye doe the workes of your father. Then said they to him, We are not borne of fornication: we haue one Father, which is God.

42 Therefore Iesus sayd vnto them, If God were your father, then would yee loue me: for I proceede forth, and came from God, neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why doe yee not vnderstand my talke? because ye cannot heare my word.

44 Yee are of your father the deuill, and the lusts of your father ye will doe: he hath bene a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, then speaketh hee of his owne: for he is a liar, and the father thereof.

45 And because I tell you the truth, yee beleue me not.

46 Which of you can rebuke me of sinne? and if I say the truth, why do yee not beleue me?

47 He that is of God heareth Gods words: yee therefore heare them not; because yee are not of God.

48 Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a deuill?

49 Iesus answered, I haue not a deuill; but I honour my Father, and yee haue dishonoured me.

50 And I seeke not mine owne praise: but there is one that seeketh it, and iudgeth.

51 Verily, verily I say vnto you, If a man keepe my word, he shal neuer see death.

13 The true disciples of Christ continue in his doctrine, that pleasing more & more in the knowledge of the truth they may be delivered from the most grievous burden of sinne, into the true liberty of righteousness and life.

14 Christ did thoroughly execute the office, that his Father indoynted him. 15 The enemies of Christ make their haue for a while, but the Father will appeare his time to reuenge the reproch that is done vnto him in the person of his Sonne.

16 That is, that will reuenge both your despising of me, and of him. 17 The onely doctrine of the Gospel apprehended by faith, is a sure remedie against death.

18 That is, he shall not feele it: for euen in the midst of death, the faithfull see life.

17 Against them which abuse the glory of the Saints in darkness.

18 I know nothing further off from all ambition then Christ, but his Father hath set him above all things.

19 There is no right knowledge of God without Christ, neither any right knowledge of Christ without his word.

20 The virtue of Christ sheweth itself through all former ages in the Fathers, for they saw in the promises, that hee should come, and did very joyfully lay hold on him with a lively faith.

21 With the eyes of faith, Hebr. 11. 13. Christ as hee was God, was before Abraham: and he was the Lamb slain from the beginning of the world.

22 Zeale without knowledge, breaketh out at length into a most open madnesse: and yet the wicked cannot doe what they list.

23 Some is the beginning of all bodily diseases, and yet doth it not follow that God alway respecteth their finnes whom hee most sharply punisheth.

24 A Christiana woman bare in his disciples thought, which presupposeth that there comes no disease but for finnes only: whereas he answereth that there was another cause of this man's blindness, and that was, that God his worke might be seene.

25 The workes of Christ are as it were a light, which lighten the darkness of the world.

26 By day, it means, the light, that is the doctrine of the heavenly truth: and by night, it means the darkness, which cometh by the obscuritie of the same doctrine.

27 Christ healing the man borne blinde, by taking the signe of clay, and after worde the signe of the lounraime of Siloam (which signifies Sent) sheweth that as hee at the beginning made man, so doeth hee againe restore both his body and soule: and yet so, that hee himselfe cometh first of his owne accord to heale vs.

51 Then said the Iewes to him, Now know we that thou hast a deuil. Abraham is dead, and the Prophets: and thou sayest, If a man keepe my word, he shall neuer talke of death.

52 Art thou greater then our father Abraham which is dead? and the Prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy selfe?

53 Iesus answered, If I honour my selfe, mine honour is nothing worth: it is my Father that honoureth mee, whom ye say that he is your God.

54 Yet haue yee not knowen him: but I know him, and if I should say I know him not, I should bee a liar like vnto you: but I know him, and keepe his word.

55 Your father Abraham reioyced to see my day, and he saw it, and was glad.

56 Then sayd the Iewes vnto him, Thou art not yet fiftie yeere olde, and hast thou seene Abraham?

57 Iesus said vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, before Abraham was, I y am.

58 Then tooke they vp stones to cast at him, but Iesus hid himselfe, and went out of the Temple: And hee passed through the middes of them, and so went his way.

59 Then sayd they vnto him, Thou art not yet fiftie yeere olde, and hast thou seene Abraham? Iesus answered, I say vnto you, before Abraham was, I y am.

CHAP. IX.

1 Christ giveth sight on the Sabbath day, to him that was borne blinde: 23 Whom after he had long refused against the Pharisees, 31. 33 and was cast out of the Synagogue, 36 Christ endueth with the knowledge of everlasting life.

AND as Iesus passed by, he saw a man which was blinde from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man, or his parents, that hee was borne blinde?

3 Iesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents, but that the workes of God should be shewed on him.

4 I must worke the workes of him that sent me, while it is day, the night cometh when no man can worke.

5 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6 As soone as hee had thus spoken, hee spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and anointed the eyes of the blinde with the clay,

7 And said vnto him, Gee wash in the poole of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore and washed, and came againe seeing.

8 Nowe the neighbours and they that had seene him before, when he was blinde, said, Is not this he that fate and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: and other said, He is like him: but he himselfe said, I am he.

10 Therefore they sayd vnto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 Hee answered, and said, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said vnto mee, Goe to the poole of Siloam and wash. So I went and washed, and receiued sight.

12 Then they said vnto him, Where is he? He said, I cannot tell.

13 They brought to the Pharisees him that was once blinde.

14 And it was the Sabbath day, when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then againe the Pharisees also asked him, how he had receiued sight. And he said vnto them, He layd clay vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and doe see.

16 Then said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because hee keepeth not the Sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner, doe such miracles? and there was a disension among them.

17 Then spake they vnto the blinde againe, What sayest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes? And he said, He is a Prophet.

18 Then the Iewes did not beleue him (that he had bene blinde, and receiued his sight) vntill they had called the parents of him that had receiued sight.

19 And they asked him, saying, Is this your sonne, whom ye say was borne blinde? How doth he now see then?

20 His parents answered them, and said, Wee know that this is our sonne, & that he was borne blinde:

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we know not: or who hath opened his eyes, can we not tell: he is old enough: aske him: he shall answer for himselfe.

22 These wordes spake his parents, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had ordeined already, that if any man did confesse that he was Christ, hee should bee excommunicate out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore sayd his parents, Hee is olde enough: aske him.

24 Then againe called they the man that had bene blinde, and said vnto him, Give glory vnto God: wee knowe that this man is a sinner.

25 Then he answered, and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I cannot tell: one thing I know, that I was blinde, and now I seee.

26 Then said they to him againe, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?

27 Hee answered them, I haue told you already, and ye haue not heard it: wherefore would ye heare it againe? will ye be also his disciples?

28 Then reuiled they him, and said, Be thou his disciple: we be Moses disciples.

29 We know that God spake with Moses: but this man we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, and sayd vnto them, Doubtlesse, this is a marueilous thing, that yee know not whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now wee know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him heareth he.

32 Since the world began, was it not heard, that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde.

This is an Hebrew kinde of speech, for they call a mans eyes shew, when they cannot rectifie any light: And therefore they are sayd to haue their eyes opened, which of blinde men are made to see.

Religion is not alighted by any meanes more then by pretence of Religion: but the more it is pressed downe, the more it riseth vp.

A solemn order, whereby men were constrained in olde time to acknowledge their fault before God, as if they should say, Consider thou art before God, who knoweth the whole matter, and therefore see thou reuerence his maiestie, and doe him thus honour, rather to confesse the whole matter openly, then to lie before him, 1. sam. 6. 5. He is called a sinner in the Hebrew tongue, which is a wicked man, and maketh as it were an asse of sinning. Proud wickednesse must needs at length breake forth, which in vaine lieth hid vnder a zeale of godlinesse.

word of God was giuen, and the Scripture cannot be broken,

36 Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest because I sayd, I am the Sonne of God?

37 If I doe not the workes of my Father, beleeue me not.

38 But if I doe, then though yee beleeue not me, yet beleeue the works, that ye may know and beleeue, that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39 ¹¹ Again they went about to take him:
but he escaped out of their hands,

40 And went againe beyond Iordan into the place where Iohn first baptized, and there abode.

41 And many resorted vnto him, and said, Iohn did no miracle: but all things that Iohn spake of this man were true.

42 And many beleeued in him.

CHAP. XI.

¹ Christ, to shewe that hee is ²⁵ the life and the resurrection, ²⁴ commeth to Lazarus being dead, ¹⁷⁻³⁴ and buried, ⁴³ and raiseth him vp. ⁴⁷ As the Priests were consulting together, ⁴⁹ Lazarus ⁵⁰ prophesieth that one must die for the people.
⁵⁶⁻⁵⁷ They commaund to seeke Christ out, and to take him.

And ¹ a certaine man was sicke named Lazarus of Bethania, the ² towne of Marie, and her sister Martha.

2 (And it was that ⁴ Marie which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her haire, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)

3 Therefore his sisters sent vnto him, saying,
Lord, behold, he whom thou louest is sicke.

4 When Iesus heard it, he said, This sicknesse is not vnto ^b death, but for the glory of God, that the Sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

5 ¶ Now Iesus loued Martha and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 ² And after he had heard that he was sicke, yet abode hee two dayes still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that, sayd he to his disciples, Let vs goe into Iudea againe.

8 ³ The disciples sayd vnto him, Master, the Iewes lately fought to ⁴ stone thee, and doe st thou goe thither againe?

9 Iesus answered, Are there not ^c twelue houres in the day? If a man walke in the day, hee stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10 But if a man walke in the night, hee stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things spake he, and after, hee said vnto them, Our friend Lazarus ^d sleepeth: but I goe to wake him vp.

12 Then saide his disciples, Lord, if he sleepe, he shall be safe.

13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of the naturall sleepe.

14 Then said Iesus vnto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there, that ye may beleeue: but let vs goe vnto him.

16 Then sayd Thomas (which is called Didy-mus) vnto his fellow disciples, Let vs also go, that we may die with him.

17 ¶ Then came Iesus, and found that he had lien in the graue foure dayes already.

18 (Now Bethania was neere vnto Hierusalem, about fiftene furlongs off)

19 ⁴ And many of the Iewes were come to Martha and Mary to comfort them for ther brother.

20 Then Martha, when she heard that Iesus was comming, went to meete him: but Mary late still in the house.

21 Then said Martha vnto Iesus, Lord, if thou hadst bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

22 But now I know also, that whatsoeuer thou askest of God, God will giue it thee.

23 Iesus sayd vnto her, Thy brother shall ^e rise againe.

24 Martha sayd vnto him, I know that he shall rise againe ⁴ in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Iesus sayd vnto her, I am the resurrection and the life: ⁴ he that beleeueth in mee, though he were dead yet shall he liue.

26 And whoeuer liueth, and beleeueth in me, shall neuer die: Beleeuest thou this?

27 She sayd vnto him, Yea, Lord, I beleeue that thou art that Christ that Sonne of God, which should come into the world.

28 ¶ And when she had so sayd, shee went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying,
The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 And when she heard it, she arose quickly, and came vnto him.

30 For Iesus was not yet come into the town,
but was in the place where Martha met him.

31 The Iewes then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose vp hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, Shee goeth vnto the graue to weepe there.

32 Then when Marie was come where Iesus was, and saw him, she fell downe at his feete, saying vnto him, Lord if thou haddest bene here, my brother had not bene dead.

33 ⁵ Iesus therefore saw her weepe, and the Iewes also weepe which came with her, hee groned in the spirit, & was troubled in himselfe,

34 And sayd, Where haue ye layd him? They sayd vnto him, Lord, come and see.

35 And Iesus wept.

36 Then sayd the Iewes, Behold, how he loued
him.

37 And some of them sayd, ⁶ Could not hee which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue made also that this man should not haue died?

38 Iesus therefore againe groned in himselfe, and came to the graue. And it was a caue, and a stone was layd vpon it.

39 Iesus sayd, Take yee away the stone. Martha the sister of him that was dead, said vnto him, Lord he stinketh already: for he hath bene dead foure dayes.

40 Iesus sayd vnto her, Said I not vnto thee, that if thou diddest beleeue, thou shouldst see the glory of God?

41 Then they tooke away the stone from the place where the dead was layd. And Iesus lift vp his eyes, and sayd, Father, I thanke thee, because thou hast heard me.

42 I know that thou hearest me alwayes, but because of the people that stand by, I sayd it, that they may beleeue, that thou hast sent me.

43 As hee had spoken these things, hee cried with a loud voyce, Lazarus, come forth.

44 Then he that was dead, came forth bound hand and foot with bands, & his face was bound with a napkin. Iesus said vnto them, Loose him, and let him goe.

45 ¶ Then many of the Iewes, which came to Mary,

^e That is, shall ouer-come life againe.

⁶ Chap. 9. 6.

Mary, and had seene the things, which Iesus did, beleued in him.

46 But some of them went their way to the Pharises, and tolde them what things Iesus had done

47 Then gathered the hie Priests, and the Pharises a council, and sayd, What shall we doe? For this man doeth many miracles.

48 If wee let him thus alone, all men will beleue in him, and the Romanes will come and take away both our place, and the nation.

49 Then one of them named Caiaphas, which was the hie Priest that same yeere, said vnto them, Ye perceiue nothing at all,

50 Nor yet doe you consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 This spake he not of himselfe: but being hie Priest that same yeere, hee prophesied that Iesus should die for that nation:

52 And not for that nation onely, but that he should gather together in one the children of God, which were scattered.

53 Then from that day forth they consulted together, to put him to death.

54 Iesus therefore walked no more openly among the Iewes, but went thence vnto a countrey neere to the wilderness, into a citie called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 And the Iewes Pasche was at hand, and many went out of the countrey vnto Hierusalem before the Pasche, to purifie themselves.

56 Then sought they for Iesus, & spake among themselves, as they stood in the Temple, What thinke ye, that he commeth not to the feast?

57 Now both the high Priests and the Pharises had giuen a commaundement, that if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

But he ye shall not haue alwayes.

9 Then much people of the Iewes knew that he was there: and they came, not for Iesus sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead.

10 The high Priests therefore consulted, that they might put Lazarus to death also,

11 Because that for his sake many of the Iewes went away, and beleued in Iesus.

12 On the morrow a great multitude that were come to the feast, when they heard that Iesus should come to Hierusalem, 13 Tooke branches of palme trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna, Blessed is the king of Israel that commeth in the Name of the Lord.

14 And Iesus found a yong asse, and sate thereon, as it is written,

15 Feare not, daughter of Sion: behold, thy King commeth sitting on an asse colt.

16 But his disciples vnderstoode not these things at the first: but when Iesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things vnto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him, bare witness that he called Lazarus out of the graue, and raised him from the dead.

18 Therefore met him the people also, because they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 And the Pharises said among themselves, Perceiue ye how ye preuaile nothing? Behold, the world goeth after him.

20 Now there were certaine Greeks among them that came vp to worship at the feast.

21 And they came to Philip, which was of Bethsaida in Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see that Iesus.

22 Philip came and told Andrew: and againe Andrew and Philip told Iesus.

23 And Iesus answered them, saying, The houre is come, that the Sonne of man must be glorified.

24 Verily, verily I say vnto you. Except the wheat corne fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25 Hee that loueth his life shall lose it, and he that hateth his life in this world, shall keepe it vnto life eternall.

26 If any man serue me, let him follow me: for where I am, there shall also my seruant be: and if any man serue me, him will my Father honour.

27 Now is my soule troubled: and what shall I say? Father, saue me from this houre: but therefore came I vnto this houre.

28 Father, glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, saying, I haue both glorified it, and will glorifie it againe.

29 Then said the people that stood by, and heard, that it was a thunder: other said, An Angel spake to him.

30 Iesus answered and said, This voyce came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the iudgement of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

32 And hee that releaseth: yet notwithstanding hee preferreth the will and glory of his Father before all things, whose obedience the Father alloweth euen from heauen. So when the Fathers glory is Christ his son, Christ forreleth to the deafe, the manner of his death, the ouercoming of the deuill and the world, and in conclusion his triumph.

3 When the light of the Gospel sheweth it selfe, some are found to be curious, and others (which least ought to be open enemies: others in a rage honour him, whom they will straightway fall from: and very few doe soberly receive him as they ought. Notwithstanding Christ beginning his spiritual kingdom in the midst of his enemies, Mat. 11. 8, Luke 19. 35, Zech. 9. 9.

4 Euen they which goe about to oppress Christ, are made instruments of his glory. After the Iulian custom: the Grecians were first called by the name of the country of Greece, when they dwelt: but afterwards all that were not of the Iewes religion, were christened [al]so gods, and were called Heathens, were called by this name.

5 The death of Christ is as it were a sowing, which seemeth to be a dying: yet cometh not indestructible cause of a far greater harvest: and such as is the condition of the dead, so shall it be of the members.

6 A wheat corne which is changed by vertue of the ground, and becomes a fruitfull plant, is a figure of Christ, Mat. 10. 39, and Luke 9. 24, and 17. 33.

7 While Christ went about to suffer all the punishment which is due to our sinnes, and whilst his dominie did not yet shew his might and power so far as this creation might be thoroughly wrought, now when he is thenceforth with the great feare of the curse of God, he crieth out and prayeth, and desireth to be released: yet notwithstanding hee preferreth the will and glory of his Father before all things, whose obedience the Father alloweth euen from heauen.

8 So when the Fathers glory is Christ his son, Christ forreleth to the deafe, the manner of his death, the ouercoming of the deuill and the world, and in conclusion his triumph.

6 The last point of hard and yron like stubbornnesse is this, to proclaim open warre against God, and yet cease not to make a pretence, both of godlinesse and of the profit of the common wealch.

7 The Iewes called this counsel Sabotin: and the word that Iohannes useth is Seditio. b That is, take away from vs by force: for at that time, though the hie Priests authority was greatly lessened and decayed, yet there was some kind of government left among the Iewes.

8 The raging and mad company of the false Church, perswade themselves that they cannot bee in safety vntill he be taken away, who oonly vpholdeth the Church: And so likewise iudgeth the wisdom of the flesh in worldly affaires, which is gouerned by the spirit of giddinesse or madness.

9 Chap. 18. 14. Christ doeth sometimes turning the tongues, euen of the wicked, that euen in cursing, they blesse. b For they were not gathered together in our countrey, as the Iewes were, but were gathered from all quarters, from the East to the West. 9 Wee may giue place to the rage of the wicked, when it is expedient to doe, but yet in such sort, that wee shew not from Gods vocation.

CHAP. XII.

1 As Christ is at supper with Lazarus, 2 Marie anointeth his feete. 3 Iudas Iscariot fault with her. 4 Christ defendeth her. 5 The Priests would put Lazarus to death. 6 As Christ commeth to Hierusalem, 7 The people meete him. 8 The Grecians desire to see him. 9 The chief rulers that beleue in him, but for feare doe not confesse him, 10 hee exhorteth vs to faith.

1 Then came Iesus, sixe dayes before the Pasche, came to Bethania, where Lazarus was, who died, whom he had raised from the dead.

2 There they made him a supper, and Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of them that sate at the table with him.

3 Then tooke Marie a pound of ointment of Spikenard very costly, and anointed Iesus feete, and wiped his feete with her haire, and the house was filled with the sauour of the ointment.

4 Then said one of his disciples, euen Iudas Iscariot Simons sonne, which should betray him:

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and giuen to the poore?

6 Now he said this, not that he cared for the poore, but because he was a thiefe, and had the bagge, and bare that which was giuen.

7 Then said Iesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying she kept it.

8 For the poore alwayes ye haue with you,

1 An horrible example in Iudas of a wilde blinded wick conuersion, and yet pretending godlinesse.

2 Chap. 13. 29. This extraordinary anointing which was for a signe, is so allowed of God that hee witnesseth how he will not be worshipped with outward pompe, or costly seruice, but with almes.

29 For some of them thought, because Iudas had the bagge, that Iesus had laid vnto him, Buy those things that wee haue neede of against the feast, or that he should giue some thing to the poore.

33 + Little children, yet a litle while am I with you: yee shall seeke mee, but as I sayd vnto the Iewes, Whither I goe, can ye not come: also to you say I now.

36. Simon Peter sayd vnto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Iesus answered him, Whither I goe thou canst not follow me now, but thou shalt fol low me afterward.

38 Iesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verely, verely I say vnto thee, The cocke shall not crowe, till thou haue denied me thrise.

1 He comforteth his disciples, 27 declaring his dominion over the fruits of the death, 16 promising the comfort, 17 even the holy Spirit, 26 whose office he setteth out. 27. Hee promisseth his name.

but I would have told you plainly. b All this speech is wholly free from compunction, or guilt, declaring unto him that heareth it, that he is to reign eternally, but is yet before, and preparing. c Christ went not away from vs, to the end to forsake vs, but to fight at length, take vs up with him into heauen. d These words are the whole Church, and therefore the Angels had to be directed to vs, that we might come up into heauen. This Iesus shall become our Lord, and we shall all be his Saints, the chief number of it is to be his day, when God shall be glorified, when the Church shall be glorified. e Christ only is the way to true and everlasting life, for hee that hath renoued himselfe,

10 Belieuest thou not, that I am in the Father, and the Father is in me? The words that I speake vnto you, I speake not of my selfe: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

14 If ye shall aske any thing in my Name, I will doe it.

neither knoweth him: but ye know him: for he dwelleth with you, and shalbe in you.

6 He loueth Christ aright, which omandements: and because the same is accompanied with an infinite sort of miseries, although he be absent in body, yet doth he comfort his with the present vertue

 of the holy Ghost,
 whom the world despiseth, because it knoweth him not.

g The holy Ghost is called the Spirit of truth, of the truth which he keeps, because he dwells in the truth with us, where as other wise he dwells in himself,
b worldly men.
i The Sonne is the Father after such sort, that he is of one selfe same substance with the Father, but he is in his disciples beare my selfe to him, and of himselfe is not such not aske why the Goss

him, that is to say, that of the holy Ghost
that which Christ

1. All our felicity cometh so as by Christ alone.

2. So that we should be happy for the departing of Christ from us according to the flesh; that we should rather re-joyce for it seeing that of the blessing of the members
dependeth vpon
the glorifying of the blood.

3. The greater the plur, the less the dilection for the Father is greater therein as much
the person to whom request is made, is greater then he that maketh the request.

4. Christ goeth to death not unwillingly, but willingly, not as yielding to the death, but obeying his Fathers decree.

5. As who would say, Satan will be to best overcome with all the might he can; but he hath no power over me, neither shall he find my flesh thing to me as he thought he should.

6. We are of nature drie and fit for nothing but the fire: I therefore thrive any line
and be fruitful, without first being grafted into Christ and were into a vine by the Fathers hand; & then be daily filled with continuall meditation of the word and the cross: otherwise it shall not make any more at all to have been grafted;
rather hee can fall into the vine, and to draw liues
out of it.

7. As the vine in Christ, which resisteth in his doctrine, and therefore bringeth forth good fruit:
And the Father will deale such an one nothing.

8. As who would say, Heere shall my Father be glorified, and here shall I see my disciple, if you bring forth much fruit.

9. The love of the Father towards the Sonne, and of the Sonne towards vs, and ours towards God and our neighbour, are ioyned together with an unparable knot: and there is nothing more sweet and pleasant then it is. Now this lanthoweth it selfe by the effects: a most perfect example whereof, Christ himselfe exhibiteth vnto vs.

17. Peace I leave with you: my peace I give vnto you: not as the world giueth, giue I vnto
you. Let not your heart be troubled, nor feare.

18. Yee haue heard how I sayde vnto you,
I goe away, and will come vnto you. If ye loued me, yee would verely reioyce, because I sayd,
I goe vnto the Father: for the Father is greater then I.

19. And now haue I spoken vnto you, before it come, that when it is come to passe, yee might beleue.

20. Hereafter will I not speake many things vnto you: for the prince of this world commeth, and hath nought in me.

21. But it is that the world may know that I loue my Father: and as the Father hath commanded me, so I doe. Arise, let vs goe hence.

22. Christ goeth to death not unwillingly, but willingly, not as yielding to the death, but obeying his Fathers decree.

CHAP. XV.

1. By the parable of the vine, 2. and the branches, 3. he declareth how the disciples may beare fruit, 12, 17. He com-mendeth mutual loue, 18. He exhorteth them to beare afflictions patiently, 20. by his owne example.

1. Am that true vine, and my Father is that husbandman.

2. Every branch that beareth not fruite in mee, he taketh away: and euery one that beareth fruite, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruite.

3. Now are yee cleane through the worde which I haue spoken vnto you.

4. Abide in me, and I in you: as the branch cannot beare fruit of it selfe, except it abide in the vine, no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

5. I am that vine: ye are the branches: he that abideth in mee, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without mee can ye doe nothing.

6. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and withereth: and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burne.

7. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, aske what ye will, and it shall be done to you.

8. Herein is my Father glorified, that yee beare much fruit, and be made my disciples.

9. As the Father hath loued me, so haue I loued you: continue in that my loue.

10. If ye shall keepe my commandments, yee shall abide in my loue, as I haue kept my Fathers commandments, and abide in his loue.

11. These things haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioy might remaine in you, and that your ioy might be full.

12. This is my commandment, that ye loue one another, as I haue loued you.

13. Greater loue then this hath no man, when any man bestoweth his life for his friends.

14. Yee are my friends, if yee doe whatsoever I command you.

15. Henceforth call I you not seruants: for as the Father, and ours towards God and our neighbour, are ioyned together with an unparable knot: and there is nothing more sweet and pleasant then it is. Now this lanthoweth it selfe by the effects: a most perfect example whereof, Christ himselfe exhibiteth vnto vs. That is, in that loue, wherewith I loue you:
which loue is a bush burne. Chap. 15. 24. 1. thessal. 4. 9. 1. ioh. 3. 11. and 4. 21.

the seruant knoweth not what his master doeth:
but I haue called you friends: for all things that I haue heard of my Father, haue I made known to you.

16. Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordained you, that yee goe and bring forth fruite, and that your fruite remaine, that whatsoever ye shall aske of the Father in my Name, he may giue it you.

17. These things command I you, that ye loue one another.

18. If the world hate you, yee know that it hated me before you.

19. If ye were of the world, the world would loue his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I haue chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20. Remember the word that I said vnto you,
The seruant is not greater then his master. If they haue persecuted me, they will persecute you also: if they haue kept my worde, they will also keepe yours.

21. But all these things will they doe vnto you for my Names sake, because they haue not known him that sent me.

22. If I had not come and spoken vnto them, they should not haue had sinne: but now haue they no cloke for their sinne.

23. He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.

24. If I had not done workes among them which none other man did, they had not had sinne: but now haue they both seene, and haue hated both me, and my Father.

25. But it is that the worde might be fulfilled, that is written in their Law, They hated mee without a cause.

26. But when that Comforter shall come, whom I will send vnto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth of the Father, he shall testifie of me.

27. And ye shall witnesse also, because ye haue bene with mee from the beginning.

Indgements, that they are religious, and void of sinne: but seeing I came as I have said and they cleare themselves, they can haue no cloke for their wickednesse. 1. Some time by this word, Law, are meant the five books of Moses, but in this place, the whole Scripture: for the place alledged is in the Psalmes. Psal. 35. 19. 8. Against the rage of the wicked, we shall stand fast by the inward testimonie of the holy Ghost:
But the holy Ghost speaketh no otherwise, then he spake by the mouth of the Apostles. Chap. 14. 26. Iude 24. 49.

CHAP. XVI.

1. He foretelleth the disciples of persecution. 7. He promisseth the Comforter, and declareth his office. 21. He comparith the afflictions of his, to a woman that travaileth with child.

These things haue I sayd vnto you, that yee should not be offended.

2. They shall excommunicate you: yea the time shall come, that whosoever killeth you, will thinke that he doeth God seruice.

3. And these things will they do vnto you, because they haue not knowne the Father, nor me.

4. But these things haue I told you, that when the houre shall come yee might remember, that I told you them. And these things I said I not vnto you from the beginning, because I was with you.

5. But now I go my way to him that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6. But because I haue said these things vnto you, your hearts are full of sorrow.

7. Yet I tell you the truth, It is expedient for you that I goe away: for if I goe not away, that Comforter will not come vnto you: but if I depart, I will send him vnto you.

Christ is the anthour and preference of the minister of the Gospell, euen to the worlds end, but the ministers haue about all things neede of prayer and brotherly loue.

7. The place teameth vs plainly, that our saluation cometh from the onely fauour and gracious goodnesse of the everlasting God to man: & of nothing that we doe or can deserve.

8. It ought not onely not to feare, but rather to firme
the faithfull ministers of Christ when they shall be hated of the world as their Master was.

Chap. 13. 16.

Mat. 10. 24.

Mat. 24. 9.

7. The hatred that the world beareth against Christ proceedeth of the blockishnesse of the minde, which notwithstanding is voluntary blind, so that the world can pretend no excuse to conet their fault.

Chap. 14. 4.

As who would say, If I had come these men would haue flucted to haue seen me before God.

1. The ministers of the Gospell must looke for all maner of reproches, not onely of them
which are open enemies, but euen of them alflow which seeme to be of the same household, and the very pillars of the Church.
Chap. 15. 22.

2. The absence of Christ according to the flesh is profitable to the Church, that we may wholly depend vpon his spirituall goven.

The Spirit of God worketh so mightily by the preaching of the word, that he conqureth the world, will it, will it, to confesse in our vanities, and Christes righteousness and almightinesse.

He repelleth the times that followed his passion, when we all yet were sinners, and he putteth us out of the world, that we may be the very members of Christes body, and that they were conformed to his death, in that they be crucified with him, and therefore they say to Peter, Acts 2. 21. Men and brethren, what shall we do?

Of that authority and power, which I have both in heaven and earth, I shall, because they shall then understand and know, I shall, because I have overcome the devil, without governance the world, when all men shall see, that they yet themselves against you in vain, for I will move you with such bewails power, whereby you may desire every high thing which is of God, and of his knowledge.

The doctrine of the Apostles proceeded from the holy Ghost, and is most perfite. The holy Ghost bringeth us unto Christ, but teacheth that which was uttered by Christes owne mouth, and imprinteth it in our mindes. The grace of the holy Ghost is a most lively glasse, wherein Christ is truly beholde, with the most sharpe lighted eyes of faith, and with the blessed eyes of the flesh: Whereby we seele a continual ioy even in the midst of sorrow.

And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sinne, and of righteousness, and of iudgement.

Of sinne, because they beleue not in mee: Of righteousness, because I goe to my Father, and ye shall see me no more.

Of iudgement, because the prince of this world is iudged.

I have yet many things to say vnto you, but ye cannot heare them now.

Howbeit, when he is come which is the spirit of truth, he will leade you into all truth: for he shall not speake of himselfe, but whatsoever he shall heare, shall he speake, and he will shew you the things to come.

He shall glorifie me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it vnto you.

All things that the Father hath, are mine: therefore said I, that hee shall take of mine, and shew it vnto you.

A little while, and ye shall not see me: and againe a little while, and ye shall see me: & for I goe to the Father.

Then sayde some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that hee sayth vnto vs, A little while, and ye shall not see me, and againe a little while, and ye shall see me, and For I goe to the Father.

They sayd therefore, What is this that hee saith, A little while? we know not what he saith.

Now Iesus knewe that they would aske him, and said vnto them, Doe ye enquire among your selues, of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and againe, a little while, and ye shall see me?

Verely, verely I say vnto you, that ye shall weepe and lament, and the world shall reioyce, and ye shall sorow, but your sorow shall be turned to ioy.

A woman when she travaileth, hath sorow because her houre is come: but as soone as she is deliuered of the childe, she remembereth no more the anguish, for ioy that a man is borne into the world.

And ye now therefore are in sorow: but I will see you againe, and your hearts shall reioyce, and your ioy shall no man take from you.

And in that day shall ye aske me nothing. Verely, verely I say vnto you, whatsoever ye shall aske the Father in my Name, he will giue it you.

Hitherto haue ye asked nothing in my Name: aske, and ye shall receive, that your ioy may be full.

These things haue I spoken vnto you in parables: but the time will come, when I shall no more speake to you in parables: but I shall shewe you plainly of the Father.

At that day shall ye aske in my Name, and I say not vnto you, that I will pray vnto the Father for you:

For the Father himselfe loueth you, because ye haue loued me, and haue beleued that I came out from God.

I am come out from the Father, and came into the world: againe I leaue the world, and goe to the Father.

His disciples sayd vnto him, Loe, now speakest thou plainly, and thou speakest no parable.

Now know wee that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should aske thee. By this wee beleue, that thou art come out from God.

Iesus answered them, Do you beleue now?

Behold, the houre cometh, and is already come, that ye shall be scattered every man into his owne, and shall leaue me alone: But I am not alone: for the Father is with mee.

These things haue I spoken vnto you, that in me ye might haue peace: in the world ye shall haue affliction, but be of good comfort: I haue overcome the world.

CHAP. XVII.

Christes prayer that his glory together with his Fathers may be made manifest. He prayeth for his Apostles, and for all beleuers.

These things spake Iesus, and lift vp his eyes to heauen, and said, Father, that houre is come: glorifie thy Sonne, that thy Sonne also may glorifie thee.

As thou hast giuen him power over all flesh, that he should giue eternall life to all them that thou hast giuen him.

And this is life eternal, that they know thee to be the only very God, and whom thou hast sent, Iesus Christ.

I haue glorified thee on the earth: I haue finished the worke which thou gauest me to doe.

And now glorifie mee, thou Father, with thine owne selfe, with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.

I haue declared thy Name vnto the men which thou gauest mee out of the world: & thine they were, and thou gauest them mee, and they haue kept thy word.

Now they know that all things whatsoever thou hast giuen me, are of thee.

For I haue giuen vnto them the wordes which thou gauest mee, and they haue receiued them, & haue knowne surely that I came out from thee, and haue beleued that thou hast sent me.

I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast giuen me: for they are thine.

Mass, 28. 18. a. Over all men, b. He calleth the Father the only very God, for he is against all false gods, and was to shew out himselfe to the holy Ghost, for prayer was by the knowledge of the Father and the knowledge of himselfe together, and according to his accustomed manner, setteth forth the whole Godhead in the person of the Father: So the Father alone said to be King, immortal, wise, and lasting in light which no man can see: as a true, visible, Rom. 16. 17. 1. Tim. 1. 7. 3. First of all he prayeth for those his disciples, by whom he would haue the rest to be gathered together, and commendeth them vnto the Father, (haue once receiued the whole company of the reprobate) because he receiued them of him into his familie, and for that they embracing his doctrine, shall haue so many and so mightie enemies, that there is no way for them to bee in safetie, but by his helpe. c. He sheweth hereby that everlasting election and choice, which was hid in the good will and pleasure of God, which is the ground worke of our salvation. d. He sheweth how that everlasting and hidden purpose of God is declared in Christ, by whom we are iustified and sanctified, if we lay hold on him by faith, as at length we come to the glory of the election. Chap. 16. 27.

Mat. 27. 1. mar. 15. 1. Luke 23. 1.

10 The Sonne of God is brought before the iudgement seats of an earthly and prophane man, in whom there is found much lesse wickednesse, then in the princes of the people of God: A lively image of y^e wrath of God against sinne, and therefore withall of his great mercie, and last of all, of his moste severe iudgement against the stubborn contemners of his grace when it is offered vnto them.

For Christ had foretold that he should be crucified.

Mat. 27. 11. mar. 15. 2. Luke 23. 1.

Christ came into this world, but not to be crucified.

It was requisite that Christ should be pronounced innocent, but notwithstanding that hee tooke vpon him our person, say to be condemned as a most wicked man.

Hee suffered this dishonourably and cruellly, and yet

by way of asking a question.

Mat. 17. 17. mar. 15. 6. Luke 23. 17.

Mat. 27. 27. mar. 15. 16.

The wisdom of the flesh, chulseth of two euils the least, but God curseth that same wisdom.

Christ is againe quitted by that same mouth where with he is after condemned.

26 One of the seruantes of the high Priest, his cousin whose eare Peter smote off, sayd, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied againe, and immediatly the cocke crew.

28 ¶ Then led they Iesus from Caiaphas into the common hall. Now it was morning, and they themselues went not into the common hall, lest they should be defiled, but that they might eate the Pasche.

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and sayd, What accusation bring you against this man?

30 They answered & said vnto him, If he were not an euill doer, wee would not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then said Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, and iudge him after your owne Law. Then the Iewes said vnto him, It is not lawfull for vs to put any man to death.

32 It was that the word of Iesus might bee fulfilled which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

33 So Pilate entred into the common hall againe, and called Iesus, and sayd vnto him, Art thou the king of the Iewes?

34 Iesus answered him, Sayest thou that of thy selfe, or did other tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Iew? Thine owne nation, and the hie Priests haue deliuered thee vnto me. What hast thou done?

36 Iesus answered, My kingdome is not of this world: if my kingdome were of this world, my seruants would surely fight, that I should not bee deliuered to the Iewes: but now is my kingdome not from hence.

37 Pilate then said vnto him, Art thou a King then? Iesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a King: for this cause am I borne, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should beare witness vnto the truth: euery one that is of the truth, heareth my voyce.

38 Pilate said vnto him, What is truth? And when he had sayd that, he went our againe vnto the Iewes, and sayd vnto them, I find in him no cause at all.

39 But you haue a custome that I should deliuer you one looke at the Pasche: will yee then that I loose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

40 ¶ Then cryed they all againe, saying, Not him, but Barabbas: now this Barabbas was a murderer.

1 Pilate, when Christ was scourged, and crowned with thornes, 2. and desired to let him looke: 3. but being overcome with the cunning of the Iewes, 4. he deliuereth him to be crucified. 5. Iesus committeth his mother to the disciple. 6. He was fasted longer for death: 7. and being dead, his side was pierced with a spear. 8. He is buried.

¶ Then Pilate tooke Iesus, and scourged him. 2 And the souldiers platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple garment,

3 And said, Haile King of the Iewes. And they smote him with their rods.

4 ¶ Then Pilate went forth againe, and said vnto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that yee may know, that I find no fault in him at all.

5 ¶ Then came Iesus forth wearing a crowne of thornes, and a purple garment. And Pilate said vnto them, Behold the man.

6 ¶ Then when the hie Priests and officers saw him, they cried, saying, Crucifie, crucifie him. Pilate said vnto them, Take ye him, and crucifie him: for I finde no fault in him.

7 The Iewes answered him, We haue a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himselfe the Sonne of God.

8 ¶ When Pilate then heard that word, he was the more afraid,

9 And went againe into the common hall, and said vnto Iesus, Whence art thou? But Iesus gaue him none answer.

10 Then said Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto me? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?

11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at all against me, except it were giuen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the greater sinne.

12 From thenceforth Pilate sought to loose him, but the Iewes cryed, saying, If thou deliuer him, thou art not Cæsars friend: for whosoever maketh himselfe a King, speaketh against Cæsar.

13 ¶ When Pilate heard this worde, hee brought Iesus forth, and sate downe in the iudgement seate in a place called the pauement, and in Hebrew, Gabbatha.

14 And it was the Preparation of the Pasche, and about the sixth houre: and hee sayd vnto the Iewes, Behold your King.

15 But they cryed, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate sayd vnto them, Shall I crucifie your King? The hie Priests answered, We haue no King but Cæsar.

16 ¶ Then deliuered he him vnto them, to be crucified. ¶ And they tooke Iesus, and led him away.

17 And he bare his owne crosse, and came into a place named of dead mens skulles, which is called in Hebrew, Golgotha:

18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Iesus in the mids.

19 ¶ And Pilate wrote also a title, and put it on the crosse, and it was written, IESVS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE IEWES.

20 This title then read many of the Iewes: for the place where Iesus was crucified, was neere to the citie: and it was written in Hebrew, Greeke, and Latine.

21 Then sayd the hie Priests of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Iewes, but that he sayd, I am King of the Iewes.

22 Pilate answered, What I haue written, I haue written.

23 ¶ Then the souldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, tooke his garments (and made foure parts, to euery souldier a part) and his coat: and the coat was without seame women from the top thorowout.

24 ¶ Therefore they sayd one to another, Let vs not diuide it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be. This was that the Scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my garments among them, and on my coate did cast lots. So the souldiers did these things indeede.

25 ¶ Then stood by the crosse of Iesus, his mother,

4 They will haue him crucified, whom by an old custome of theirs, they should haue stoned and hanged up as a curser of blasphemie: but they desire to haue him crucified after the manner of the Romanes.

mother, and his mothers sister, Marie the wife of Cleophas, and Marie Magdalene.

16 And when Iesus sawe his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he said vnto his mother, Woman, behold thy sonne.

17 Then saide he to the disciple, Behold thy mother: and from that houre, the disciple tooke her home vnto him.

18 ¶ After, when Iesus knew that all things were performed, that the Scripture might bee fulfilled, he sayd, I thinke.

19 And there was set a vessell full of vinegar, and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it about an Hyssope stalk, and put it to his mouth.

20 Now when Iesus had receined of the vinegar, he sayd, It is finished, and bowed his head, and gaue vp the ghost.

21 ¶ The Iewes then (because it was the Preparation, that the bodies should not remaine vpon the crosse on the Sabbath day: for that Sabbath was an high day) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken downe.

22 Then came the souldiers and brake the legges of the first, and of the other, which was crucified with Iesus.

23 But when they came to Iesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legges.

24 But one of the souldiers with a speare pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water.

25 And he that saw it, bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that hee saith true, that yee might beleeue it.

26 For these things were done, that the Scripture should be fulfilled, ¶ Not a bone of him shal be broken.

27 And againe another Scripture saith, They shall see him whom they haue thrust thorow.

28 ¶ And after these things, Ioseph of Arimathea (who was a disciple of Iesus, but secretly for feare of the Iewes) besought Pilate that hee might take downe the body of Iesus. And Pilate gaue him licence. He came then and tooke Iesus body.

29 And there came also Nicodemus (which first came to Iesus by night) and brought of myrrhe and aloes mingled together about an hundred pound.

30 Then tooke they the body of Iesus, and wrapped it in linnen clothes with the odours, as the manner of the Iewes is to bury.

31 And in that place where Iesus was crucified, was a garden, and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet layd.

32 There then layd they Iesus, because of the Iewes Preparation day, for the sepulchre was nere.

Now the first day of the weeke came Mary Magdalene, early when it was yet darke, vnto the sepulchre, and saw the stone taken away from the tombe.

2 Then she ranne, and came to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple whom Iesus loved, and sayd vnto them, They haue taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and wee know not where they haue layd him.

3 Peter therefore went forth, and the other disciple, and they came vnto the sepulchre.

4 So they ranne both together, but the other disciple did outrunne Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And hee stouped downe, and saw the linnen clothes lying: yet went he not in.

6 Then came Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and saw the linnen clothes lie,

7 And the kercheife that was vpon his head, not lying with the linnen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it selfe.

8 Then went in also the other disciple, which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw it, and beleeued.

9 For as yet they knewe not the Scripture, That he must rise againe from the dead.

10 And the disciples went away againe vnto their owne home.

11 ¶ But Marie stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she bowed her selfe into the sepulchre,

12 And saw two Angels in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feete, where the body of Iesus had layen.

13 And they sayd vnto her, Woman, thy weepest thou? She said vnto them, They haue taken away my Lord, and I knowe not where they haue layd him.

14 ¶ When shee had thus said, she turned her selfe backe, and saw Iesus standing, and knew not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus sayeth vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? Shee supposing that hee had bene the gardener, sayd vnto him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

16 Iesus saith vnto her, Marie. She turned her selfe, and said vnto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Master.

17 ¶ Iesus saith vnto her, Touch me not: for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but goe to my brethren, and say vnto them, I ascend vnto my Father, and to your Father, and to my God, and your God.

18 Mary Magdalene came and told his disciples that shee had sente the Lord, and that hee had spoken these things vnto her.

19 ¶ The same day then at night, which was the first day of the weeke, and when the doores were shut where the disciples were assembled for feare of the Iewes, came Iesus and stood in the mids, and said to them, Peace be vnto you.

20 And when he had so said, he shewed vnto them his hands, and his side. Then were the disciples glad when they had sente the Lord.

28 ¶ Then led they Iesus from Caiaphas into the common hall. Now it was morning, and they themselves went not into the common hall, lest they should be defiled, but that they might eat the Pasche.

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and sayd, What accusation bring you against this man?

30 They answered & said vnto him, If he were not an euill doer, wee would not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then said Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, and iudge him after your owne Law. Then the Iewes said vnto him, It is not lawfull for vs to put any man to death.

32 ¶ It was that the word of Iesus might bee fulfilled which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

33 ¶ So Pilate entred into the common hall againe, and called Iesus, and sayd vnto him, Art thou the King of the Iewes?

34 Iesus answered him, Sayest thou that of thy selfe, or did other tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Iew? Thine owne nation, and the hie Priests haue deliuered thee vnto me. What hast thou done?

36 ¶ Iesus answered, My kingdome is not of this world: if my kingdome were of this world, my seruants would surely fight, that I should not be deliuered to the Iewes: but now is my kingdome not from hence.

37 Pilate then said vnto him, Art thou a King then? Iesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a King: for this cause am I borne, and for this cause come I into the world, that I should beare witness vnto the truth: euerie one that is of the truth, heareth my voyce.

38 ¶ Pilate said vnto him, What is truth? And when he had sayd that, he went out againe vnto the Iewes, and sayd vnto them, I find in him no cause at all.

39 ¶ But you haue a custome that I should deliuer you one looke at the Pasche: will yee then that I loose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

25 The other disciples therefore sayde vnto him, We haue seene the Lord: but hee sayde vnto them, Except I see in his handes the print of the nayles, and put my finger into the print of the nayles, and put mine hand into his side, I will not beleue it.

26 ¶ And eight dayes after, againe his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Then came Iesus, when the doores were shut, and stood in the mids, and sayd, Peace be vnto you.

27 After said hee to Thomas, Put thy finger here, and fee mine hands, & put forth thine hand, and put it into my side, and be not faithlesse, but faithfull.

28 Then Thomas answered and sayde vnto him, Thou art my Lord, and my God.

29 ¶ Iesus saide vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast seene mee, thou beleuest: blessed are they that haue not seene, and haue beleueed.

30 ¶ And many other signes also did Iesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this booke.

31 But these things are written that ye might beleue, that Iesus is that Christ that Sonne of God, and that in beleueing yee might haue life through his Name.

CHAP. XXI

¶ Iesus appeareth to his disciples as they were a fishing. And when they were gathered together, he said vnto them, Come follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

¶ Peter these things, Iesus shewed himselfe againe to his disciples at the sea of Tiberias: and thus shewed he himselfe:

1 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas, which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sonnes of Zebedeus, and two other of his disciples.

2 Simon Peter said vnto them, I goe a fishing. They sayd vnto him, We also will goe with thee. They went their way, and entred into a shippe straight way, & that night caught they nothing.

3 But when the morning was now come, Iesus stood on the shore: neuertheless the disciples knew not that it was Iesus.

4 Iesus then sayd vnto them, Syrs, haue ye any ment? They answered him, No.

5 Then he said vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shal find. So they cast out, and they were not able at all to draw it in, for the multitude of fishes.

6 Therefore said the disciple whom Iesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girded his coat to him (for he was naked) and cast himselfe into the sea.

7 But the other disciples came by shippe, (for they were not farre from lande, but about two hundred cubites) and they drew the net with fishes.

8 As soon then as they were come to land, they saw hote coales, and fish layed thereon, and bread.

9 Iesus sayd vnto them, Bring of the fishes, which ye haue now caught.

10 Simon Peter stepped forth and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, an hundred, fiftie and three: and albeit there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

11 Iesus sayde vnto them, Come, and dine. And none of the disciples durst aske him, Who art thou, seeing they knewe that hee was the Lord.

12 Iesus then came and tooke bread and gaue them, and fish likewise.

13 This is now the third time that Iesus shewed himselfe to his disciples, after that he was risen againe from the dead.

14 ¶ So when they had dined, Iesus sayd to Simon Peter, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou me more then these? He said vnto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Feede my lambes.

15 He said to him againe the second time, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou me? Hee sayd vnto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He said vnto him, Feede my sheepe.

16 He sayde vnto him the third time, Simon the sonne of Iona, louest thou me? Peter was sorie because he said to him the third time, Louest thou me? and said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest all things: thou knowest that I loue thee. Iesus said to him, Feede my sheepe.

17 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, When thou wast yong, thou girdedst thy selfe, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be olde, thou shalt stretch forth thine hands, and another shall gird thee, and leade thee whither thou wouldest.

18 And this spake hee signifying by what death he should glorifie God. And when he had said this, he said to him, Follow me.

19 ¶ Then Peter turned about, and sawe the disciple whom Iesus loued, following, which had also leaned on his breast at supper, and had sayde, Lorde, which is hee that betrayeth thee?

20 When Peter therefore saw him, he sayd to Iesus, Lord, what shall this man doe?

21 Iesus sayde vnto him, If I will that hee tarie till I come, what is it to thee? follow thou mee.

22 Then went this worde abroade among the brethren, that this Disciple should not die. Yet Iesus said not to him, Hee shall not die: but, If I will that hee tarie till I come, what is it to thee?

23 This is that disciple, which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, & we know that his testimonie is true.

24 ¶ Now there are also many other things which Iesus did, the which if they should be written euery one, I suppose the worlde could not containe the bookes that should be written, Amen.

¶ Iesus then sayd vnto them, Syrs, haue ye any ment? They answered him, No. Then he said vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shal find. So they cast out, and they were not able at all to draw it in, for the multitude of fishes. Therefore said the disciple whom Iesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girded his coat to him (for he was naked) and cast himselfe into the sea. But the other disciples came by shippe, (for they were not farre from lande, but about two hundred cubites) and they drew the net with fishes.

1 Peter by his triple confession is restored into his former degree from whence he fell by his triple denial: and therefore withall is aduertised, that he is indeed a Pallour which sheweth his loue to Christ in feeding his sheepe. It was more that he that had denied him thrise, should confesse him thrise, that Peter might neither doubt of the forgiveness of his sinnes, nor of his restoring to the office of the Apostleship. 3 The violent death of Peter is foretold. c They that toke farre tourneys, especially in the East countries, as in those places where the people used long garments, had need to be girded and strapped. d He meant that kinde of girding which was used inwardly, as when they are bound fast with cordes and chains, as who would say, Now thou girdst thy selfe as thou thinkest thou shalt, but the time will be, when thou shalt not gird thee with a corde, but another shall binde thee with chains, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not. e Not that Peter suffered ought for the truth, I God against his will, for we reade that he came with glad gladd heart when he returned from the Council where he was whipped: but because this will counsaile us from about, there is sheweth there should be a certaine striving, and conflict or repugnance, which cleaues vs in all our sufferances touching the flesh. f That is, that Peter should die a violent death. ¶ Wee must take heede, that whiles wee cast our eyes vpon other we neglect not that which is in our selues. ¶ Chap 13. 23. 5 The testimony of Christ is true and warily written: not for the curiositie of men, but for the instruction of the godly. ¶ Chap. 20. 30.

THE ACTES OF THE HOLY APOSTLES, WRITTEN BY LVKE THE EVANGELIST.

CHAP. I.

² Luke with this Historie to his Gospel. ³ Christ being taken into heauen, ¹⁰ the Apostles ¹¹ being warned by the Angels, ¹³ returne, ¹⁴ and give themselves to prayer. ¹⁵ By Peters motion, ¹⁸ this is Judas the traitors place, ²⁶ Matthias a chosen.

I Have made the former treatise, O Theophilus, of all that Iesus began to doe and teach, vntill the day that he was taken vp, after that he through the holy Ghost had giuen commandements vnto the Apostles, whom hee had chosen:

³ To whom also hee presented himselfe alijue after that he had suffered, by many infallible tokens, being seene of them by the space of fourtie dayes, and speaking of those things which appertaine to the kingdome of God.

⁴ And when he had gathered them together, hee commanded them that they should not depart from Hierusalem, but to waite for the promise of the Father, which he said he, ye haue heard of me.

⁵ For Iohn in deede baptized with water, but yee shall be baptized with the holy Ghost within these few dayes.

⁶ When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore the kingdome to Israel?

⁷ And he said vnto them, It is not for you to know the times, or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his owne power.

⁸ But yee shall receiue power of the holy Ghost, when he shall come on you: and yee shall be witnesses vnto me both in Hierusalem and in all Iudea, and in Samaria, and vnto the vttermoost part of the earth.

⁹ And when hee had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken vp: for a cloude tooke him vp out of their sight.

¹⁰ And while they looked stedfastly toward heauen, as hee went, behold, two men stood by them in white apparell,

¹¹ Which also sayd, Yee men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing into heauen? This Iesus which is taken vp from you into heauen, shal so come, as yee haue seene him goe into heauen.

¹³ And when they were come in, they went vp into an vpper chamber, where abode both Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartlemew, and Matthew, Iames the sonne of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes, and Iudas Iames brother.

¹⁴ These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication with the women, and Marie the mother of Iesus, and with his brethren.

¹⁵ And in those dayes Peter stood vp in the middes of the disciples, and sayd (now the number of names that were in one place, were about an hundred and twenty.)

¹⁷ For he was numbered with vs, and had obtained fellowship in this ministracion.

¹⁹ And it is knowne vnto all the inhabitants of Hierusalem, in so much that that field is called in their owne language, Aceldama, that is, The field of blood.

²⁰ For it is written in the booke of Psalmes, Let his habitation be voyd, & let no man dwell therein: also, Let another take his charge.

²¹ Wherefore, of these men which haue companied with vs, all the time that the Lord Iesus was conuersant among vs, ²² Beginning from the baptisme of Iohn vnto the day that hee was taken vp from vs, must one of them be made a witness with vs of his resurrection.

²³ And they presented two, Ioseph called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, & Matthias.

²⁴ And they prayed, saying, Thou Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen,

²⁵ That he may take the y^e roome of this ministracion and Apostleship, from which Iudas hath gone astray, to goe to his owne place.

²⁷ Iohn 3.27. Luke considered not Judas his purpose, but that that followed of it, and so we see to say, that a man hath procured himselfe harme, not that he will and purpose was so, but in respect of that which followed. Math. 27.5. The Grecke word: signifie shew much, that Judas fell downe flat, and was rent in sunder in the middes, with a marvellous huge noise. Psalm. 69.28. Psalm. 109.7.

²⁸ His office and ministrerie. Dauid wrote these wordes against Dorg the Kings beard: And these wordes, Sheppard, Sheepe, and Flocke, are put ouer to the Church of Christ and ministrerie, so that the Church and the officers thereof are called by these names.

³⁰ We see for instance, went in and out, which kinde of speech becometh as much in the Hebrew tongue, as the exercising of a publique and pasturall office, when they speake of such as are in any publique office, Deuter. 3.12. 1. Corinthes 27.12.

³² Openly, and by the voyces of all the whole company. That he may bee fellow and partaker of this ministrerie. Deposition, or falling from: And it is a Metaphore taken from the way: For callings are signified by the name of wayes, with the Hebrewes.

The Grecke word signifie an inuincible conflict, and standing off.

It is to good purpose, that this concord mentioned for those prayers are most acceptable to God, which are made with agreeable mindes and will.

The disciples prayed for the sending of the holy Ghost, and also to be delivered from present dangers where with they were beset.

For it was becomable to haue the wines confirmed, who were afterwards to be partakers of the dangers with their husbands.

With his kindest.

Peter is made the mouth and interpreter of the whole company of the Apostles, rather by secret reuelacion of the holy Ghost, or by express iudgement of the congregation.

Because men are commonly billed and envied by their names.

Peter preuenteth the offence that might be taken of the falling away of Iudas the betrayer, shewing that all things which came vnto him, were foretold by God.

in their hearts and sayd vnto Peter and the other Apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we doe?

8 8 Then Peter sayd vnto them, Amend your lives, and be baptized every one of you in the Name of Iesus Christ for the remission of finnes:
and ye shall receiue the gift of the holy Ghost.

39 For the promise is made vnto you, and to your children, and to all that are afarre off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40⁹ And with many other words he besought and exhorted them, saying, Saue your selues from this froward generation.

41¹⁰ Then they that gladly received his word, were baptized: and the same day there were added to the Church about three thousand soules.

42 ¹¹ And they continued in the Apostles doctrine, and ^b fellowship, and ^c breaking of bread, and prayers.

43 ¶ ¹² And feare came vpon euery soule: and many wonders and signes were done by the Apostles.

and had all things common.

45 And they sold their possessions, and goods, and parted them to all men, as every one had need.

16 And his Name hath made this man sound, who ye see & know, through faith in his Name: & the faith which is by him, hath given to him this perfect health of his whole body in the presence of you all.

17 ³ And now brethren, I know that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your governors.

18 But those things which God before had shewed ^e by the mouth of all his Prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath thus fulfilled.

19 Amend your lines therefore and turne, that your finnes may be put away, when the time of refreshing shall come from the presence of ^{the} Lord.

had spoken by the mouth of all his holy Prophets in all things whatsoener he shall say vnto you.

23 For it shall bee that euery person which shall not heare that Prophet, shall bee destroyed out of the people.

24 Also all the Prophets^b from Samuel, and thenceforth as many as haue spoken, haue likewise foretold of these dayes.

25 Ye are the ⁱ children of the Prophets, and of the covenant, which God hath made vnto our fathers, saying to Abraham, ⁊ Euen in thy seed shall all the kinreds of the earth be blessed.

CHAP. III.

9 To the people gathered together to see the miracle, 12 he expounds the mystery of our salvation through Christ, 14 accuses their iniquity, 16 and requiring their repentance.

Now Peter and Iohn went vp together into the Temple at the ninth houre of prayer.

2 And a certain man which was a creeple from his mothers womb was carried, whom they lay daily at the gate of the Temple called Beautiful, to ask almes of them that entered into the Temple.

3 Who seeing Peter and Iohn, that they would enter into ^{the} Temple, desired to receive an almes.

4 And Peter earnestly beholding him with John, sayd, Looke on vs.

5 And he gaue heede vnto them, trusting to receive something of them.

6 Then said Peter, Siluer & gold haue I none, but such as I haue, that giue I thee: In the Name of Iesus Chrift of Nazareth, rise vp and walke.

7 And he tooke him by the right hand, & lift him vp, and immediatly his feete and ankle bones receiued strength.

8 And he leaped vp, floode, and walked, and entred with them into the temple, walking & leaping, and praifing God.

9 And all the people saw him walke, and praising God.

10 And they knew him, that it was he which came for the almes at the Beautifull gate of the filled thine heart, that thou shouldst lie vnto the holy Ghost, and keepe away part of the price of this possession?

4 Whiles it remained, appertained it not vnto thee, and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? how is it that thou hast conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied vnto men, but vnto God.

5 Now when Ananias heard these words, hee fell downe, and gaue vp the ghost. Then great feare came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the yong men rose vp, and tooke him vp, and caried him out, and buried him.

7 And it came to passe about the space of three houres after, that his wife came in, ignorant of that which was done.

8 And Peter said vnto her, Tell mee, fold ye the land for so much? And shee said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter said vnto her, Why haue ye agreed together, to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which haue buried thine husband, are at the doore, and shall carie thee out.

10 Then she fel downe straightway at his feet, and yeldded vp the ghost, and the yong men came in, and found her dead, and caried her out, and buried her by her husband.

11 And great feare came on all the Church, and on as many as heard these things.

12 Thus by the handes of the Apostles were many signes & wonders shewed among the people (and they were all with one accord in Solomons porch.

13 And of the other durst no man ioyne himselfe to them: neuertheless the people magnified them.

14 Also the number of them that beleueed in the Lord, both of men and women, grew more and more.

15 Inasmuch that they brought the sicke into the streetes, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least way the shadow of Peter, when he came by, might shadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about vnto Hierusalem, bringing sicke folks, and them which were vexed with vncleane spirits, who were all healed.

17 ¶ Then the chiefe Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him (which was the sect of the Sadduces) and were full of indignation,

18 And layd hands on the Apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 ¶ But the Angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doores, and brought them forth, and said,

20 ¶ Goe your way, and stand in the Temple, and speake to the people all the wordes of this life.

21 ¶ So when they heard it, they entred into the Temple early in the morning, & taught. And the chiefe Priest came, and they that were with him, and called the Council together, and all the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison, to cause them to be brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned and told it,

23 Saying, Certainly we found the prison shut as sure as was possible, and the keepers standing without, before the doores: but when wee had opened, we found no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe Priest and the captaine of the Temple, & the hie Priests heard these things, they doubted of them, whereunto this would growe.

25 ¶ Then came one and shewed them, saying, Behold, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teach the people.

26 ¶ Then went the captaine with the officers, and brought them without violence (for they feared the people, lest they should haue bene stoned).

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Council, and the chiefe Priest asked them,

28 ¶ Saying, Did not we straightly command you, that you should not teach in this Name? and behold, yee haue filled Hierusalem with your doctrine, and ye would bring this mans blood vpon vs.

29 ¶ Then Peter and the Apostles answered, and said, We ought rather to obey God then men.

30 ¶ The God of our fathers hath raised vp Iesus, whom ye slew, and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God lift vp with his right hand, to be a Prince and a Saviour, to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of finnes.

32 ¶ And we are his witnesses concerning these things which wee say: yea, and the holy Ghost, whom God hath giuen to them that obey him.

33 Now when they heard it, they braut for anger, and consulted to slay them.

34 ¶ Then stood there vp in the Council a certaine Pharise named Gamaliel, a doctour of the Law, honoured of all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles forth a little space,

35 And said vnto them, Men of Israel, take heed to your selves, what yee intend to doe touching these men.

36 ¶ For before these times, rose vp Theudas boasting himselfe, to whom referred a number of men, about a foure hundreth, who was slaine: and they all which obeyed him were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man, arose vp Iudas of Galile, in the daies of the tribute, and drew away much people after him: hee also perished, and all that obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

38 And now I say vnto you, Refraine your selves from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsell, or this worke be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But if it be of God, ye cannot destroy it, lest ye be found euen fighters against God.

40 And to him they agreed, and called the Apostles: and when they had beaten them, they commanded that they should not speake in the Name of Iesus, and let them goe.

41 ¶ So they departed from the Council, reioicing, that they were counted worthy to suffer rebuke for his Name.

42 And daily in the Temple, and from house to house they ceased not to teach, and preach Iesus Christ.

¶ Hee dismayeth his followers from murdering the Apostles, neither doth hee thinke it good to referre the matter to the Roman Magistrate, for the Iewes could do nothing worse, then to haue the tyrannie of the Romanes confirmed. ¶ If it bee counterfeited and deuised. ¶ The Apostles accustomed to suffer and beare words, are at length inured to beare stripes, yet so, that by that means they become stronger. ¶ Both publicly and privately.

7 The more openly that Christes vertue sheweth it selfe, the more increaseth the madness of his enemies, which conspire against him.

8 Tyrants which feare not God, are constrained to feare his seruants.

9 It is the propriety of tyrants to let out their own commandments as right and reason, be they neuer so wicked.

10 Make us guilty of our deriding that man, whom yet they will not touch safe to name.

11 We ought to obey no man, but so farre forth as obeying him, we may obey God.

12 Christ is appointed and in deed declared Prince and preceptor of his Church in despite of his enemies.

13 Chap. 3. 13. It is not sufficient for vs that there is a right end, but we must also according to our vocation goe on forward till we come vnto it.

14 This becometh that they were in a most vehement rage, and murmur, lustily disquieted in minde, for it is a borrowed kinde of speech taken from them which are batifolly cut in slender with a sawe.

15 Christ findeth defenders of his cause, euen in the very rout of his enemies, so oft as he thinketh it needfull.

1 The Apostles 2 Against the office of Deacons 3 To seven chosen men: 4 Of whom Steven full of faith, is one: 5 And taken, 13 and stoned with unrighteousness of Moses Law.

1 Steven pleading his cause, sheweth that God chose the Tabernacle, 20 before Moses was borne, 47 and before the temple was built: 44 And that all outward ceremonies were ordained according to the beauty of Paterna. 54 The Jews gnawing their teeth, 59 slay him.

1 When Satan hath assailed the Church without, and that so small purpose and in vain, he assaulteth it within, with evil will diffension and strife between themselves: But the Apostles take occasion thereby to contend in the Church. 2 Of their parts which of Christians became religious Jews. 3 In the beginning of times according to their merits. 4 The office of preaching the word, and dispensing the goods of the Church, are different from another, and not rationally to be joined together, as the Apostles do here illustrate: And the Apostles do not choose so much as the Deacons with out the consent of the Church. 5 A particular care, as we may see with words of the Deacons, is to be taken by the Church, after others are appointed to it, in proportion to the care of the people. 6 In choosing of Deacons (as much more of ministers) there must be examination both of their learning and manners or life. 7 Chap. 21. 8 The ancient Church did with laying on of hands, as it were consecrate to the Lord, God as were lawfully elected.

And in those dayes, as the number of the disciples grew, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians towards the Hebrewes, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministring. 2 Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples together, and said, It is not meete that we should leave the word of God to serve the tables. 3 Wherefore brethren, looke you out among you seven men of honest report, and full of the holy Ghost, and of wisdom, which we may appoint to this businesse. 4 And we will give our selves continually to prayer, and to the ministring of the word. 5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude; and they chose Steven a man full of faith and of the holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a Proselyte of Antiochia. 6 Which they set before the Apostles: and they prayed, and layd their hands on them. 7 And the word of God increased, and the number of the disciples was multiplied in Hierusalem greatly, and a great company of the Priests were obedient to the faith. 8 Now Steven full of faith & power, did great miracles and wonders among the people. 9 Then there arose certaine of the Synagogue, which are called Libertines, and Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, & of them of Cilicia, and of Asia, and disputed with Steven. 10 But they were not able to resist the wisdom, and the spirit by the which he spake. 11 Then they suborned men, which sayd, We have heard him speake blasphemous wordes against Moses, and God. 12 Thus they moved the people and the Elders, and the Scribes: and running vpon him, caught him, and brought him to the Council. 13 And set forth false witnesses, which said, This man cealeth not to speake blasphemous words against this holy place, and the Law. 14 For we have heard him say, that this Iesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the ordinances which Moses gave vs. 15 And as all that sate in the Council looked stedfastly on him, they saw his face as he had been the face of an Angel.

Then saide the chiefe Priests, Are these things for? 2 And he said, Ye men, brethren, and fathers, hearken. 3 That God of glory appeared vnto our father Abraham, while he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran, 4 And said vnto him, Come out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee. 5 Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran. And after that his father was dead, God brought him from thence into this land, wherein ye now dwell. 6 And he gave him none inheritance in it, no not the breadth of a foot: yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, & to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child. 7 But God spake thus, that his seed should bee a sojourner in a strange land: and that they should keepe it in bondage, and entreate it euill foure hundred yeeres. 8 But the nation to whom they shalbe in bondage, will I iudge, saith God: and after that, they shall come forth and serue me in this place. 9 He gaue him also the covenant of circumcision: and so Abraham begate Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day: and Isaac begate Jacob, and Jacob the twelve Patriarkes. 10 And the Patriarkes moued with enuie, sold Joseph into Egypt: but God was with him, 11 And deliuered him out of all his afflictions, and gaue him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt, who made him gouernor ouer Egypt, and ouer his whole house. 12 Then came there a famine ouer all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction, that our fathers found no sustenance. 13 But when Jacob heard that there was come in Egypt, he sent our fathers first: 14 And at the second time Joseph was knowne of his brethren, and Josephs kindred was made knowne vnto Pharaoh. 15 Then sent Joseph and caused his father to be brought, & all his kindred, even threescore and fiftene soules. 16 So Jacob went downe into Egypt, and he died, and our fathers, 17 And were remooued into Sychem, and were put in the sepulchre, that Abraham had bought for money of the sonnes of Emor, sonne of Sychem.

1 Steven is admitted to plead his cause, but to this end and purpose, that vnder a cloke and colour of law, he might be condemned. 2 Steven witnesseth vnto the Iewes, that hee acknowledged the true fathers, and the only true God: and sheweth moreover, that they are more ancient then the Temple, with all that semicape, pointed by the Law, and therefore they ought to lay another foundation of true religion, that is to say, the free conscience that God made with the fathers. 3 Gene. 12. 4 That might God full of glory and wisdom. 5 When he said that Abraham came out of Chaldeea, it is evident that Mesopotamia contained Chaldeans which were vnto it, and bordering vpon it, and Josephus Plinius, booke 6 chap. 27. 6 Not so much ground as is set his foot vpon. 7 The promise of the possession was certaine, and belonged to Abraham, though his posterity enjoyed it a great while after his death: and this is the figure Synagogue. 8 Gene. 15. 13. 9 There are reckoned foure hundred yeeres, from the beginning of Abrahams progenie, which was at the birth of Isaac, and foure hundred and thirty yeeres which are spoken of by Paul, Galat. 3. 17. from the time that Abraham and his father dwelt together out of Ur of the Chaldeans. 10 Genesis 17. 9. 11 Gene. 21. 3. 12 Gene. 25. 24. 13 Gene. 29. 32. and 30. 5. and 35. 23. 14 Steven reckoneth vpon diligently the horrible mischances of some of the Fathers, to teach the Iewes, that they ought not rashly to rest in the authorities or examples of the Fathers. 15 Gene. 37. 28. 16 By this kinde of speech, it means the peculiar favour that God sheweth men: for hee seemeth to be away from them whom hee despiseth, and on the other side, hee is with them whom hee deliuereth out of whatsoeuer great trouble. 17 Gene. 41. 37. 18 Gave him favour in Pharaohs sight for his wisdom. 19 Gen. 41. 4. 20 Gene. 45. 5. 21 Gene. 49. 33. 22 The Patriarkes the fathers of Jacob, though there be mention made of no more then Joseph, Joseph. 23. 24. 25 Gene. 23. 16. 26 Gene. 1. 7.

18 Till another King arose, which knew not Ioseph.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kinred, and euill intreated our fathers, and made them to cast out their yong childre, that they should not remaine aliue.

20 ¶ The same time was Moises borne, & was acceptable vnto God, which was nourished vp in his fathers house thre moneths.

21 And when hee was cast out, Pharaohs daughter tooke him vp, and nourished him for her owne soane.

22 And Moises was learned in all the wisdome of the Egyptians, and was mightie in words and in deedes.

23 Now when he was full fortie yeere old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren, the children of Israel.

24 ¶ And when he saw one of the suffer wrong, he defended him, & auenged his quarrel that had the harme done to him, and smote the Egyptian.

25 For he supposed his brethren would haue vnderstoode, that God by his hand should giue them deliuerance: but they vnderstood it not.

26 ¶ And the next day, he shewed himselfe vnto them as they stroue, and would haue set them at one againe, saying, Sirs, yee are brethren: why doe ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a prince, and a iudge ouer vs?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29 Then fled Moises at that saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begate two sonnes.

30 And when fortie yeeres were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina, an Angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush.

31 And when Moises saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew neere to consider it, the voice of the Lord came vnto him, saying,

32 I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Iacob. Then Moises trembled, & durst not behold it.

33 Then the Lord sayd to him, Put off thy shooes from thy feete: for the place where thou standest, is holy ground.

34 I haue seene, I haue seene the affliction of my people, which is in Egypt, and I haue heard their groning, and am come downe to deliuer them: and now come, and I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moises whom they forsooke, saying, Who made thee a prince and a iudge? the same God sent for a prince, & a deliuerer by the hand of the Angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36 He brought them out, doing wonders and miracles in the land of Egypt, and in the red sea, and in the wilderness fortie yeeres.

37 ¶ This is that Moises, which sayd vnto the children of Israel, ¶ A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise vp vnto you, euen of your brethren, like vnto me: him shall ye heare.

38 ¶ This is he that was in the Congregation, in the wilderness with the Angel, which spake to him in mount Sina, and with our fathers, who received the liuely oracles to giue vnto vs.

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but refused, and in their hearts turned backe againe into Egypt,

40 Saying vnto Aaron, ¶ Make vs gods that may goe before vs: for we know not what is become of this Moises that brought vs out of the land of Egypt.

41 And they made a calfe in those dayes, and offered sacrifice vnto the idole, and reioyced in the workes of their owne hands.

42 Then God turned himselfe away, & gaue them vp to serue the phost of heauen, as it is written in the booke of the Prophets, ¶ O house of Israel, haue ye offered to me slaine beasts and sacrifices by the space of fortie yeeres in the wilderness?

43 And ye tooke vp the Tabernacle of Moloch, & the starre of your god Remphan, figures, which ye made to worship them: therefore I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

44 ¶ Our fathers had the Tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed speaking vnto Moises, that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seene.

45 ¶ Which tabernacle also our fathers receiued, & brought in with Iesus into the possession of the Gentiles, which God draue out before our fathers, vnto the dayes of Dauid:

46 ¶ Who found fauour before God, and desired that he might find a tabernacle for the God of Iacob.

47 ¶ But Salomon built him an house.

48 Howbeit the most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands, as saith the Prophet,

49 ¶ Heauen is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build for me, saith the Lord? or what place is it that I should rest in?

50 Hath not mine hand made all these things? 51 ¶ Ye stiffnecked and of vncombed hearts and eares, ye haue alwayes resisted the holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so doe you.

52 Which of the Prophets haue not your fathers persecuted? & they haue slaine them, which shewed before of the coming of that Iust, of whom ye are now the betrayers and murderers, 53 ¶ Which haue receiued the law by the ordinance of Angels, and haue not kept it.

54 ¶ But when they heard these things, their hearts brast for anger, and they gnashed at him with their teeth.

55 ¶ But he being full of the holy Ghost, looked stedfastly into heauen, and saw the glory of God, & Iesus standing at the right hand of God, 56 And said, Behold, I see the heauens open, and the Sonne of man standing at the right hand of God.

57 ¶ Then they gaue a shout with a loud voyce, and stopped their eares, and ranne vpon him violently all at once,

58 And cast him out of the citie, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid downe their clothes at a yong mans feete, named Saul.

59 And they stoned Steuen, who called on

CHAP. VIII.

2 The go ly make lamentation for Steuen. 3 Saul maketh hauocke of the Church. 4 Philip preacheth Christ as Samaria. 5 Simon Magus 18 his countenance reprobated. 26 Philip 27 cometh to the Ethiopian Eunuch. 38 and baptiseth him.

And Saul consented to his death. And at that time, there was a great persecution against the Church which was at Hierusalem, and they were all scattered abroad thorow the regions of Iudea and of Samaria, except the Apostles.

2 Then certaine men fearing God, caried Steuen among them, to be buried, and made great lamentation for him.

3 But Saul made hauocke of the Church, and entred into euery house, and drew out both men and women, and put them into prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad, went to and fro preaching the word.

5 ¶ Then came Philip into the city of Samaria, and preached Christ vnto them.

6 And the people gaue heed vnto those things which Philip spake, with one accord, hearing & seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For vncleane spirits crying with a loude voyce, came out of many that were possessed of them: and many taken with palsies, and that haltered, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that citie.

9 And there was before in the citie a certaine man called Simon, which vsed witchcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, saying that he himselfe was some great man.

10 To whom they gaue heed from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is that great power of God.

11 And they gaue heed vnto him, because that of long time hee had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But as soone as they beleueed Philip, which preached the things that concerned the kingdom of God, and the Name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized both men and women.

13 Then Simon himselfe beleueed also, and was baptized, and continued with Philip, & wondered, when he saw the signes and great miracles which were done.

14 ¶ Now when the Apostles, which were at Ierusalem, heard say, that Samaria had receiued the word of God, they sent vnto them Peter & Iohn.

15 Which when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receiue the holy Ghost.

16 (For as yet he was fallen downe on none of them, but they were baptized onely in the Name of the Lord Iesus.)

17 Then layd they their hands on them, and they receiued the holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw, that through laying on of the Apostles hands the holy Ghost was giuen, he offered them money,

19 Saying, Giue me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay the hands, he may receiue the holy Ghost.

20 Then sayd Peter vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou thinkest that the gift of God may be obtained with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor fellowship in this business: for thine heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickednes, and pray God, that if it be possible, the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I see that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquitie.

24 Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye haue spoken come vpon me.

25 ¶ So they, when they had testified & preached the word of the Lord, returned to Hierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many townes of the Samaritans.

26 Then the Angel of the Lord spake vnto Philip, saying, Arise, and goe toward the South vnto the way that goeth downe from Hierusalem vnto Gaza, which is waste.

27 And he arose and went on: and beholde, a certaine Eunuch of Ethiopia, Candaces the Queene of the Ethiopians chiefe Governour, who had the rule of all her treasure, and came to Hierusalem to worship:

28 And as he returned sitting in his charer, he read Esaias the Prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said vnto Philip, Goe neere and ioyne thy selfe to yonder charer.

30 And Philip ranne thither, and heard him reade the Prophet Esaias, and said, But vnderstandest thou what thou readeest?

31 And he sayd, How can I, except I had a guide? And he desired Philip, that he would come vp and sit with him.

32 Now the place of the Scripture which he read, was this, He was led as a sheepe to the slaughter: and like a lambe dumme before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth.

33 In his humilitie his iudgement hath bene exalted: but who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 Then the Eunuch answered Philip, & said, I pray thee, of whom speakest the Prophet this? of himselfe, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certaine water, and the Eunuch sayd, See, here is water: what doth let me to be baptized?

37 And Philip said vnto him, If thou beleuest with all thine heart, thou mayest. Then he answered, and said, I beleuee that that Iesus Christ is that Sonne of God.

38 Then he commaunded the charer to stand still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip & the Eunuch, and he baptized him:

39 And as soone as they were come vp out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the Eunuch saw him no more: so he went on his way reioycing.

30 He took upon him for euil sake, in hearing his Fathers wrath. 31 How long he shall last: for Christ having once risen from the dead, dieth no more. 32 Profession of faith is requisite in baptizing of them, which are of yeceres, and therefore it is euident that we are not then first ingrafted into Christ, when we are baptized, but being already ingrafted, are then confirmed. 33 The iustitie of the confession which is necessary for baptisme.

9 They are the succellours of Simon Magus, not of Simon Peter, which either buy or sell holy things.

a In this doctrine which I preach, it is not vpon sight in deed, and without assent of the heart.

10 A Eunuch, well euen of the vilest sinners, so long and so late for as we may.

11 He called the inward malice of the heart, and that venemous and enuious wickedness, whereby this Magician was wholly repleined, the gall of bitterness.

12 And he said to be in the gall, as though he were wholly overwhelmed with gall and tartar.

13 Intangled in the bonds of iniquitie.

14 Christ is called freely whom he lusteth, doth now vie Philip who thought on no such matter, to instruct and baptize the Eunuch at vauwates, and by this meanes extendeth the limits of his kingdom euen into Ethiopia.

15 A man of great malice and authority with Candaces: Now this word Candaces is a common name to all the Queenes of Ethiopia.

16 To see how he may bow to understand it.

17 Those things which seeme most to come by chance or fortune (as meaner men) are governed by the secret providence of God.

18 Esai. 53. 7. I The Hebrew text readeth is thus, Out of a narrow strait, and out of iudgements was he led: where by the narrow strait, he meaneth it a rare and the very bands of death, and by iudgements the punishment which was laid upon him, and the miserable state which Christ

1 Christ vseth the rage of his enemies to the spreading forth and enlarging of his kingdom.

2 The godlie mourning for Steuen after his death, & burying him, shewing therein an example of singular faith and charitie: but no man prayeth to him.

3 Amongst all the deeds of charitie which the godly vseshere is no mention made of stirring up of rebukes.

4 The dispersion of scattering abroad, of the faithfull, is the ioyning together of Churches.

5 Philip, who was before a Deacon in Hierusalem, is made of God extraordinarily an Euangelist.

6 Christ ouercometh Satan so oft as he lusteth, and carrieth him about as it were, in a triumph, in the sight of them, whom he deceived and bewitched.

7 The word which he vsed in this place was at the first taken in good part, and is borrowed out of the Persian language, who call their wife merely, that name, but afterward it was taken in euil part.

8 He had allowed the Samaritans with his witchcraft, that as blinde & mad beelzebubbers they were wholly addicted to him.

9 The wicked and the very reprobate are constrained to taste of the good gift of God, but they can it no longer forthwith.

10 Peter not chiefe, but as an ambassador sent from the whole company of the Apostles, and Iohn his companion, according to the authority which was committed vnto them, confirme and build vp the Churches of Samaria, which foundation had bene layd afore by Philip.

Chap. ix.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus, and hee walked to and fro preaching in all the cities, till he came to Cefarea.

CHAP. IX.

1 Saul going toward Damascus, 4 is broken downe to the ground of the Lord: 10 Ananias is sent to baptise him. 23 The laying awaite of the Iewes 25 hee of capesh, being let downe through the wall. 33 Peter cureth Aeneas of the palsey, 36 and by him Tabitha being dead, 40 is restored to life.

And Saul yet breathing out threatnings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went vnto the hie Priest,

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the Synagogues, that if hee found any that were of that way, (either men or women) hee might bring them bound vnto Hierusalem.

3 Now as he journeyed, it came to passe that as hee was come neere to Damascus, suddenly there shined round about him a light from heauen.

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying to him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou mee?

5 And he saide, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kicke against prickes.

6 He then both trembling and astonished, said, Lord, what wilt thou that I doe? And the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and go into the citie, and it shall be told thee what thou shalt doe.

7 The men also which journeyed with him, stood amafed, hearing his voyce, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the ground, and opened his eyes, but sawe no man. Then led they him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus,

9 Where he was three dayes without sight, and neither ate nor drinke.

10 And there was a certaine disciple at Damascus, named Ananias, & to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he saide, Behold, I am here Lord.

11 Then the Lord saide vnto him, Arise, and goe into the street which is called straight, and seeke in the house of Iudas after one called Saul of Tarsus: for behold, he prayeth.

12 (And he saw in a vision a man named Ananias comming in to him, & putting his handes on him, that he might receiue his sight.)

13 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I haue heard by many of this man, how much euill hee hath done to thy Saints at Hierusalem.

14 Moreover here hee hath authoritie of the high Priests, to bind all that call on thy Name.

15 Then the Lord saide vnto him, Goe thy way: for he is a chosen vessel vnto me, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, and Kings, and the children of Israel.

16 For I will shew him, how many things he must suffer for my Names sake.

17 Then Ananias went his way, and entred into that house, and put his handes on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord hath sent mee (euen Iesus) that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) that thou mightest receiue thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediatly there fel from his eyes as it had bene scales, and suddenly he receiued sight, and arose, and was baptized,

19 And receiued meat, and was strengthened.

So was Saul certaine dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway hee preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he was that Sonne of God,

21 So that all that heard him were amafed, and said, Is not this hee, that made hauocke of them which called on this Name in Hierusalem, & came hither for that intent, that he should bring them bound vnto the hie Priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Iewes which dwelt at Damascus, confirming that this was Christ.

23 And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Iewes tooke counsell together to kill him,

24 But their laying awaite was knowne of Saul: now they watched the gates day and night, that they might kill him.

25 Then the disciples tooke him by night, and put him through the wal, and let him downe by a rope in a basket.

26 And when Saul was come to Hierusalem, hee asayed to ioine himselfe with the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and beleueed not that hee was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, and brought him to the Apostles, and declared to them, how he had seene the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken vnto him, and how hee had spoken boldly at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

28 And hee was conuersant with them at Hierusalem,

29 And spake boldly in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and spake and disputed against the Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

30 But when the brethren knewe it, they brought him to Cefarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 Then had the Churches rest through all Iudea, and Galile, and Samaria, and were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lorde, and were multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghost.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout all quarters, he came also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there hee found a certaine man named Aeneas, which had kept his couch eight yeeres, and was sicke of the palsey.

34 Then saide Peter vnto him, Aeneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise and trusse thy couch together. And he arose immediatly.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron, sawe him, and turned to the Lord.

36 There was also at Ioppa a certaine woman, a disciple named Tabitha, (which by interpretation is called Dorcas) shee was full of good workes and almes which shee did.

37 And it came to passe in those dayes, that shee was sicke and died: and when they had washed her, they laid her in an vpper chamber.

38 Now forasmuch as Lydda was neere to Ioppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring that he would not delay to come vnto them.

10 Peters Apostleship is confirmed by healing the man that was sicke of the palsey. 0 Lydda was a cite of Palestine, and Saron a champion country, and a place of good pasture betweene Cefarea of Palestine and the mount of Tabor, and the lake of Genesareth, which extendeth it selfe in great length beyond Ioppa. 11 Peter declared clearly euidently by raising up a dead body through the Name of Christ, that hee preacheth the glad tidings of life.

39 Then

39 Then Peter arose and came with them: and when he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber, where all the widows stood by him weeping and shewing the coats and garments, which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forth and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turned him to the body, and said, Tabitha, Arise. And she opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, she vp.

41 Then hee gaue her the hand, and lift her vp, and called the Saints and widows, and restored her alius.

42 And it was known throughout all Ioppa, and many beleueed in the Lord.

43 And it came to passe, that he taried many dayes in Ioppa with one Simon a Tanner.

CHAP. X.

Cornelius, 4. as the Angels commandment, 5. sendeth for Peter: 11. Who also by a vision 15. 20. is taught not to despise the Gentiles: 34. Hee preacheth the Gospell to Cornelius and his household: 45. Who hauing received the holy Ghost, 47. are baptizd.

Furthermore there was a certaine man in Cesarea called Cornelius, a captaine of the band called the Italian band,

A deuout man, and one that feared God with all his household, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed God continually.

Hee saue in a vision evidently (about the ninth houre of the day) an Angel of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

But when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? and hee saide vnto him, Thy prayers and thine almes are come vp into remembrance before God.

Now therefore send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter.

He lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whose house is by the seafide: hee shall tell thee what thou oughtest to doe.

And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, hee called two of his seruants, and a souldier that feared God, one of them that waited on him,

And tolde them all things, and sent them to Ioppa.

On the morow as they went on their iourney, and drew neere vnto the citie, Peter went vp vpon the house to pray, about the sixth houre.

Then waxed hee an hungred, and would haue eaten: but while they made some thing ready, he fell into a trance.

And he saw heauen opened, and a certaine vessel come downe vnto him, as it had bene a great sheet, knit at the foure corners, and was let downe to the earth.

Wherein were all manner of foure footed beasts of the earth, and wilde beasts & creeping things, and fowles of the heauen.

And there came a voyce to him, Arise, Peter: kill and cate.

But Peter said, Not so, Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is polluted, or vncleane.

And the voyce spake vnto him againe the second time, The things that God hath purified, I pollute thou not.

This was so done thrise, and the vessel was drawn vp againe into heauen.

Now while Peter doubted in himselfe what this vision which he had seene, meant, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had inquired for Simons house, and stood at the gate,

And called, and asked, whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

And while Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit saide vnto him, Beholde, three men seeke thee.

Arise therefore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, and doubt nothing: for, I haue sent them.

¶ Then Peter went downe to the men, which were sent vnto him from Cornelius, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seeke: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

And they said, Cornelius the captaine, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nations of the Iews, was warned from heauen by an holy Angel to send for thee into his house, and to heare thy words.

Then called he them in, and lodged them: and the next day, Peter went forth with them, and certaine brethren from Ioppa accompanied him.

¶ And the day after, they entred into Cesarea. Nowe Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen, and speciall friends.

And it came to passe as Peter came in, that Cornelius met him, and fell downe at his feet, and worshipped him.

But Peter tooke him vp, saying, Stand vp: for euen I my selfe am a man.

And as he talked with him, he came in, and found many that were come together.

And he said vnto them, Ye know that it is an vlawfull thing for a man that is a Iewe, to company, or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath shewed mee that I should not call any man polluted, or vn-

¶ Therefore came I vnto you without saying nay, when I was sent for: I aske therefore, for what intent haue ye sent for me?

¶ Then Cornelius said, Foure daies agoe, about this houre, I fasted, and at the ninth houre I prayed in mine house, and behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing,

And said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

¶ Sende therefore to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter, (hee is lodged in the house of Simon a Tanner by the Seafide) who when he commeth, shall speake vnto thee.

¶ Then sent I for thee immediatly, and thou hast well doneto come. Now therefore are wee all here present before God to heare all things that are commanded thee of God.

¶ Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceiue, that God is no respecter of persons.

35 But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.

36 Ye p knowe the word which God hath sent to the children of Israel, preaching peace by Iesus Christ, which is Lord of all:

37 Even the word which came through all Iudea & beginning in Galilee, after the Baptisme which Iohn preached:

38 To wit, how God annointed Iesus of Nazareth with the holy Ghost, and with power, who went about doing good, & healing all that were oppressed of the deuill: for God was with him:

39 And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Iewes, and in Hierusalem, whom they slew, hanging him on a tree.

40 Him God raised vp the third day, and caused that he was shewed openly:

41 Not to all the people, but vnto the witnesses chosen before of God, even to vs which did eat & drinke with him, after he arose from the dead.

42 And he commanded vs to preach vnto the people, & to testify, that it is he that is ordained of God a iudge of quicke and dead.

43 To him also giue all the Prophets witness, that through his Name all that beleue in him, shall receiue remission of finnes.

44 While Peter yet spake these words, the holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45 So they of the circumcision, which beleued, were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the holy Ghost.

46 For they heard him speake with tongues, and magnifie God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can any man forbidde water, that these should not be baptized, which haue receiued the holy Ghost, as well as we?

48 So he commanded them to be baptized in the Name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarie certaine dayes.

CHAP. XI.

2 Peter being accused for going to the Gentiles, 5 defendeth him selfe. 22 Barnabas is sent to Antiochia, 26 where the disciples are called Christians: 28 and where Agabus foretelleth a famine to come.

Now the Apostles and the brethren that were in Iudea, heard, that the Gentiles had also receiued the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Hierusalem, they of the circumcision contended against him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men vncircumcised, and hast eaten with them.

4 Then Peter began, and expounded the thing in order to them, saying,

5 I was in the cite of Ioppa, praying, and in a trance I saw this vision. A certaine vessel comming downe as it had bene a great sheete, let downe from heauen by the foure corners, and it came to me.

6 Towarde the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, & saw foure footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and foules of the heauen.

7 Also I heard a voice, saying vnto me, Arise, Peter: slay and eate.

8 And I said, God forbid, Lord: for nothing polluted or vncleane hath at any time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voice answered me the second time from heauen, The things that God hath purified, pollute thou not.

10 And this was done three times, and al were taken vp againe into heauen.

11 Then beholde, immediately there were three men alreadie come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.

12 And the Spirit saide vnto me, that I should go with them, without doubting: moreover, these fixe brethren came with me, and were entred into the mans house.

13 And he shewed vs, how he had seene an Angell in his house, which stood & said to him, Send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter.

14 He shall speake wordes vnto thee, whereby both thou and thine house shall be saued.

15 And as I beganne to speake, the holy Ghost fell on them, & euen as vpon vs at the beginning.

16 Then I remembred the word of the Lord, how he said, & Iohn baptized with water, but ye shall be baptized with the holy Ghost.

17 For as much then as God gaue them a like gift, as he did vnto vs, when wee beleueed in the Lord Iesus Christ, who was I, that I could let God?

18 When they heard these things, they helde their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance vnto life.

19 And they which were scattered abroad because of the affliction that arose about Steuen, went throughout til they came vnto Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antiochia, preaching the word to no man, but vnto the Iewes onely.

20 Now some of them were men of Cyprus and of Cyrene, which when they were come into Antiochia, spake vnto the Grecians, and preached the Lord Iesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them, so that a great number beleueed and turned vnto the Lord.

22 Then tidings of those things came vnto the eares of the Church, which was in Hierusalem, and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should goe vnto Antiochia.

23 Who when hee was come and had seene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted all, that with purpose of heart they would continue in the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and full of the holy Ghost, and faith, & much people ioyned themselves vnto the Lord.

25 Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus to seeke Saul:

26 And when hee had found him, he brought him vnto Antiochia: and it came to passe that a whole yere they were cōuersant with the Church, and taught much people. in so much that the disciples were first called Christians in Antiochia.

CHAP. XII.

1 Herod killeth Iames with the sword, 4 and imprisoneth Peter, 8 whom the Angel deliuereth. 20 Herod being offended with them of Tyre, 21 is pacified: 22 And taking the banour due to God, to himselfe, 23 he is eaten with wormes, and so dieth.

Now about that time, Herod the King stretched forth his hand to vex certain of the Church,

2 And he killed Iames the brother of Iohn with the sword.

3 And when hee saw that it pleased the Iewes, hee proceeded further, to take Peter also (then were the dayes of vnleauened bread.)

4 And when he had caught him, he put him in prison, and deliuered him to foure quaternions of souldiers to be kept, intending after the Pasouer to bring him forth to the people.

5 So Peter was kept in prison, but earnest prayer was made of the Church vnto God for him.

6 And when Herod would haue brought him out vnto the people, the same night slept Peter betweene two souldiers, bound with two chaines, and the keepers before the doore, kept the prison.

7 And behold, the Angel of the Lord came vpon them, and a light shined in the house, and hee smote Peter on the side, and raised him vp, saying, Arise quickly. And his chaines fell off from his hands.

8 And the Angel sayde vnto him, Girde thy selfe, and binde on thy sandales. And so he did.
Then he saide vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee and follow me.

9 So Peter came out and followed him, and knew not that it was true, which was done by the Angel, but thought he had seene a vision.

10 Now when they were past the first and the second watch, they came vnto the yron gate that leadeth vnto the citie, which opened vnto them by it owne accord, and they went out, and passed through one streete, and by and by the Angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himselfe, he said, Now I knowe for a trueth, that the Lord hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the waiting for of the people of the Iewes.

12 And as he considered the thing, hee came to the house of Mary, the mother of Iohn, whose surname was Marke, where many were gathered together, and prayed.

13 And when Peter knocked at the entrie doore, a maide came forth to hearken named Rhode.

14 But when she knew Peters voyce, she opened not the entrie doore for gladnesse, but ranne in, and told how Peter stood before the entrie.

15 But they said vnto her, Thou art mad. Yet she affirmed it constantly, that it was so. Then said they, It is his Angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking, and when they had opened it, and saw him, they were astonied.

17 And he beckned vnto them with the hand, to hold their peace, and told them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go shew these things vnto Iames and to the brethren: and hee departed and went into another place.

18 Now as soone as it was day, there was no small trouble among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, & commanded them to bee led to be punished. And hee went downe from Iudea to Cesarea, and there abode.

20 Then Herod was angry with them of Tyrus and Sidon, but they came all with one accord vnto him, & perswaded Elafus the kings Cham-berlaine, and they desired peace, because their countrey was nourished by the Kings Land.

21 And vpon a day appoynted, Herod arrayed himselfe in royall apparell, and sat on the iudge-ment seate, and made an oration vnto them.

22 And the people gaue a shout, saying,
The voyce of God, and not of man.

23 But immediately the Angel of the Lord smote him because hee gaue not glory vnto God, so that he was eaten of wormes, and gaue vp the ghost.

24 And the word of God grewe and mul-tplied.

25 So Barnabas and Saul returned from Hierusalem, when they had fulfilled their office, and troke with them Iohn, whose surname was Marke.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The holy Ghost commandeth that Paul and Barnabas bee separated vnto him. 6 At Paphos, 8 Elymas the sorcerer is strooken blind: 14 From whence being come to Antiochia, 17 they preach the Gospel, 45 the Iewes vehemently withstanding them.

Here were also in the Church that was at Antiochia, certaine Prophets and teachers, as Barnabas, and Simeon called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manahen (which had bene brought vp with Herod the Tetrarch) & Saul.

2 Now as they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the holy Ghost said, Separate mee Barnabas and Saul, for the worke whereunto I haue called them.

3 Then fasted they and prayed, & laid their hands on them, and let them goe.

4 And they after they were sent forth of the holy Ghost, came downe vnto Seleucia, and from thence they failed to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the Synagogues of the Iewes: and they had also Iohn to their minister.

6 So when they had gone throughout the yle vnto Paphus, they found a certaine forcerer, a c The Lord said to call (whereof this word calling)

False prophet, being a Jew, named Barieus.

7 Which was with the Deputie Sergius Paulus a prudent man. He called vnto him Barnabas and Saul, and desired to heare the word of God.

8 But Elymas the forcerer, (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them and sought to turne away the Deputie from the faith.

9 Then Saul (which also is called Paul) being full of the holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And sayde, O full of all subtilty and all mischief, the childe of the deuill and enemye of all righteowines, wilt thou not cease to peruert the straight wayes of the Lord?

11 Now therefore beholde the hand of the Lord vpon thee, and thou shalt bee blind, and not see the sunne for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist & a darkenes, & he went about, seeking some to leade him by the hand.

12 Then the Deputie when hee saw what was done, beleueed, and was astonied at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when Paul and they that were with him were departed by shippe from Paphus, they came to Perga a citie of Pamphylia: then Iohn departed from them, and returned to Hierusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antiochia a citie of Pisidia, & went into the Synagogue on the Sabbath day, & fate down.

15 And after the lecture of the Law and Prophets, the rulers of the Synagogue sent vnto the saying, Ye men & brethren, if ye haue any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stood vp and bekened with the hand, and sayd, Men of Israel, and ye that feare God, hearken.

17 The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers: and exalted the people when they dwelt in the land of Egypt, & with an high arme brought them out thereof.

18 And about the time of forty yeares, suffered he their maners in the wilderness.

19 And he destroyed seuen nations in the land of Chanaan, & adiudged their land to the by lot.

20 Then afterward he gaue vnto them Iudges about foure hundredth and fiftie yeares, vnto the time of Samuel the Prophet.

21 So after that, they desired a King, and God gaue vnto them Saul, the sonne of Cis, a man of the tribe of Beniamin by the space of fourety yeares.

22 And after he had taken him away, he raised vnto Dauid to be their King, of whome he witnessed, saying, I haue found Dauid the sonne of Iesse, a man after mine owne heart, which will do all things that I will.

23 Of this mans seede hath God according to his promise, raised vp to Israel, I Sauour Iesus: before

24 When Iohn had first preached before his comming, the baptisme of repentance to al the people of Israel.

25 And when Iohn had fulfilled his course, he said, Whom ye thinke that I am, I am not he: but behold, there commeth one after mee, whose shooe of his feete I am not worthy to loofe.

26 Ye men and brethren, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this saluation sent.

27 For the inhabitants of Hierusalem, and their rulers, because they knewe him not, nor yet the wordes of the Prophets, which are read euery Sabbath day, they haue fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate to kill him.

29 And when they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, they tooke him downe from the tree, and put him in a sepulchre.

30 But God raised him vp from the dead.

31 And he was seene many daies of the, which came vp with him fro Galile to Hierusalem, which are his witness vnto the people.

32 And we declare vnto you, that touching the promise made vnto the fathers,

33 God hath fulfilled it vnto vs their children, in that he raised vp Iesus, euen as it is written in the second Plalme, Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

34 Now as concerning that hee raised him vp from the dead, no more to returne to corruption, hee hath saide thus, I will giue you the holy things of Dauid, which are faithfull.

35 Wherefore hee faith also in another place, Thou wilt not suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

36 Howbeit, Dauid after hee had serued his time by the counsell of God, hee slept, and was laid with his fathers, and saw corruption.

37 But he whom God raised vp, saw no corruption.

38 Be it knowen vnto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached vnto you the forgiveness of finnes.

39 And from all things, from which ye could not be iustified by the Law of Moses, by him euerie one that beleueeth, is iustified.

40 Beware therefore least that come vpon you, which is spoken of in the Prophets,

41 Beholde yee despisers, and woonder, and vanish away: for I worke a worke in your dayes, a worke which ye shall not beleue, if a man would declare it you.

42 And when they were come out of the Synagogue of the Iewes, the Gentiles besought, that they would preach these wordes to them the next Sabbath day.

43 Now when the congregation was dissolved, many of the Iewes and Profelytes that feared God, followed Paul & Barnabas, which spake vnto them, and exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And

45 The Lord was so in graue, that he felt no corruption, as Pilate 16. 11. chap. 31. 1. King. 2. 10. chap. 2. 9. 15. Christ was sent to give them free remission of finnes, which were condemned by the Law. 16. Whosoever the ceremonies of the Law could not absolve you from your finnes, this man doth absolve you, if you lay holde on him by faith. 17. 1. 7. Iohn 1. 20.

10. Christ was promised & sent properly to the Iewes.

11. All things came to passe to Christ, which the Prophets foretold of Messias: so that hereby also it appeareth that he is the true and onely Sauour: and yet notwithstanding they are not so be excused which did not truly not receive him, but also persecute him most cruelly although he was innocent.

Mat. 27. 22. mar.

15. 13. Iude 23. 23.

Iohn 19. 6.

12. We must see the glory of the resurrection against the shame of the crosse, & graue. And the resurrection is proved as well by witnesses which saw it as by the testimonies of the Prophets.

Mat. 8. 2. mar.

16. 6. Iude 24. 6.

Iohn 20. 19.

For then he appeared plainly and manifestly as the onely Sonne of God, when as he left off his weakness, and came out of the graue, having conquered death.

13. If Christ had tarried in death, he had not bene the true sonne of God, neither had the covenant, which was made with Dauid, bene sure.

Pal. 2. 7. heb.

1. 5. and 5. 9.

1. 1. 1. 5. 3.

The gentians call those holy things, which the Hebrewes call gracious bowties: and they are called Dauid's bowties in the passage signification, because God bestowed them vpon Dauid: Moreover they are termed faithfull, after the manner of speech which the Hebrews use, who terme those things faithfull, which are a standing and sure, such as neuer alter nor change.

18 The favour of the selfe same Gospel is vnto the reprobate and vndeleceuers, death,
and to the elect and such as beleeue, life.

19 The Gospel is published to the Gentiles by the expresse commandment of God.

20 By this your doing you doe as it were pronounce sentence against your felons, and iudge your felons.

21 E. 4. 9. 6.

22 Therefore either all were not appointed to everlasting life, or els all should have beene: but because that it was soit followeth that some seruice were ordained, & therefore God did not make any further ordains, but as neither saith nor the effects of faith should be the cause of his ordaining or appointing.

23 Such is the craft and subtiltie of the enemies of the Gospel, that they abuse the simplicitie of some which are not altogether evil men, to execute their cruelty.

24 Such as imbraced
Moses Law. 25
The wickednesse of the worlde cannot let God to gather his Church together, and to fether & cherish it, when it is gathered together. 26 Mat.
18. 14. Mar. 9. 11. Luke
9. 5. chap. 18. 6.

27 And when the Gentiles heard it,
they were glad, & glorified the word
of the Lord: and as many as were ordained vnto eternall
life, beleeued.

28 Thus the word
of the Lord was published thorowout
the whole countrey.

29 But the Iewes
stirred certaine
deuout and honourable women, and
the chieffemen of
the citie, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas,
and expelled them
out of their coasts.

30 But they 4. shooke
off the dust of their feete against them,
and came vnto
Iconium.

31 And the disciples were filled
with ioy, and with the holy Ghost.

44 And the next Sabbath day came almost the whole citie together, to heare the word of God.

45 But when the Iewes saw the people, they were full of enuie, and spake against those things, which were spoken of Paul, contrary-ing them, & railing on them.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas spake boldly, and sayd,
It was necessary that the word of God should first haue bene spoken vnto you: but seeing yee put it from you, and iudge your felues vnworthy of euermlasting life, loe, we turne
to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded vs, saying, I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be the saluation vnto the end of the world.

48 And when the Gentiles heard it,
they were glad, & glorified the word
of the Lord: and as many as were ordained vnto eternall
life, beleeued.

49 Thus the word
of the Lord was
published thorowout
the whole countrey.

50 But the Iewes
stirred certaine
deuout and honourable women, and
the chieffemen of
the citie, and raised

and came vnto
Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled
with ioy, and with the holy Ghost.

53 And when the Gentiles heard it,
they were glad, & glorified the word
of the Lord: and as many as were ordained vnto eternall
life, beleeued.

54 Thus the word
of the Lord was
published thorowout
the whole countrey.

55 But the Iewes

69 Thus the word

70 But the Iewes
stirred certaine
deuout and honourable women, and
the chieffemen of
the citie, and raised persecution against
Paul and Barnabas,
and expelled them
out of their coasts.

71 But they 4. shooke
off the dust of their
feete against them,
and came vnto
Iconium.

72 And the disciples were filled
with ioy, and with the holy Ghost.

73 And when the Gentiles heard it,
they were glad, & glorified the word
of the Lord: and as many as were ordained vnto eternall
life, beleeued.

10 Saide with a loud voice, Stand vp-right on thy feete.
And he leaped vp,
and walked.

11 Then when the people saw what Paul had done,
they lift vp their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, Gods are come downe to vs in the likenesse of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Iupiter:
& Paul Mercurius, because he was the chiefe speaker.

13 The Iupiters Priest, which was before their citie, brought buls with garlands vnto the gates, and would haue sacrificed with the people.

14 But when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard it, they rent their clothes, & ran in among the people, crying,

15 4 And saying,
O men, why doe
yee these things?
We are euen men subiect to the like passions that yee be, and preach vnto you, that yee should turne from these vaine things
vnto the liuing
God, which made heauen and earth, and the sea, and all things that in them are:

16 Who in times past 4. suffered all the Gentiles to walke in their owne wayes.

17 Neuertheless,
he left not himselfe without witness, in that he did good and gaue vs rain from heauen, & fruitfull seasons, filling our hearts with food, and gladnesse.

18 And speaking these things, scarce appeased they the multitude, that they had not sacrificed vnto them.

19 Then there came certaine Iewes from Antiochia and Iconium, which when they had perswaded
the people, stoned
Paul, and drewe him out of the citie, supposing he had bene dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him,
hee arose vp,
and came into the citie, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And after they had preached the glad tidings of the Gospel to that citie, and had taught many, they returned to Lystra, & to Iconium, and to Antiochia.

22 Confirming the disciples hearts, & exhorting them to continue in the faith, affirming that wee must through many afflictions enter into the kingdome
of God.

23 And when they had ordained them Elders by election in euerie Church, and prayed, and fasted, they commended them to the Lord in whom they beleeued.

24 Then they went throughout Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had preached the word in Perga, they came downe to Attalia.

26 And thence sailed to Antiochia, from whence they had bin commended vnto the grace of God, to the worke, which they had fulfilled.

27 And when they were come
and had gathered
the Church together, they rehearsed all the things that God
had done by them, and how hee had opened
the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

28 So there they abode a long time with the disciples.

29 And when they were come
and had gathered
the Church together, they rehearsed all the things that God
had done by them, and how hee had opened
the doore of
faith vnto the

36 So there they abode a long time with the disciples.

37 And when they were come
and had gathered
the Church together, they rehearsed all the things that God
had done by them, and how hee had opened
the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

38 So there they abode a long time with the disciples.

39 And when they were come
and had gathered
the Church together, they rehearsed all the things that God
had done by them, and how hee had opened
the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

40 So there they abode a long time with the disciples.

41 And when

The Apostles

Then came downe a certaine from Iudea, and taught the brethren saying, Except ye be circumcised after the maner of Moyses, yee cannot be saued.

And when there was great dissention, and disputation by Paul and Barnabas against them, they ordeined that Paul and Barnabas, & certaine oether of them, should goe vp to Hierusalem vnto the Apostles and Elders about this question.

Thus being brought forth by the Church, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conuersion of the Gentiles, and they brought great ioy vnto all the brethren.

And when they were come to Hierusalem, they were receiued of the Church, and of the Apostles and Elders, and they declared what things God had done by them.

But said they, certaine of the sect of the Pharisees, which did beleue, rose vp, saying that it was needefull to circumcise them, and to command them to keepe the Law of Moyses.

Then the Apostles and Elders came together to looke to this matter.

And when there had beene great disputation, Peter rose vp, and sayd vnto them, Ye men and brethren, ye know that a good while agoe, among vs God chose out me, that the Gentiles by my mouth should heare the word of the Gospel, and beleue.

And God which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, in giuing vnto them his holy Ghost, euen as he did vnto vs.

And he put no difference betweene vs, and them, after that by faith he had purified their hearts.

Now therefore, why tempt ye God, to lay a yoke on the disciples necks, which neither our fathers, nor we were able to beare?

But we beleue, through the grace of the Lord Iesus Christ to be saued, euen as they doe.

Then all the multitude kept silence, and heard Barnabas and Paul, which told what signes and wonders God had done among the Gentiles by them.

And when they held their peace, James answered, saying, Men, and brethren, hearken vnto me.

Simeon hath declared, how God first did visite the Gentiles, to take of them a people vnto his Name.

And to this agree the wordes of the Prophets, as it is written,

After this I will returne, and will build againe the Tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe, and the ruines thereof will I build againe, and I will set it vp.

That the residue of men might seeke after the Lorde, and all the Gentiles vpon whom my Name is called, sayeth the Lord which doeth all these things.

From the beginning of the worlde, God knoweth all his workes.

Peter, passing from the Ceremonies to the Law is false in generally, the which that none could be saued, if saluation were to be bought by the Law, and not by grace onely in Iesus Christ, because that no man could ener fulfill the Lawe, neither Patriarch, nor Apostle.

Why tempt ye God, although hee could not saue by faith? Maith 23.4. A true picture of a lawfull Councill, where God's truth onely reigneth.

The saying of Alphius, who is also called the Lords brother. James confirmeth the calling of the Gentiles, out of the word of God, therein agreeing to Peter.

And therefore nothing commeth to passe by fortune, but by Gods appointment.

Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them of the Gentiles that are turned to God,

But that we send vnto them, that they abstaine themselves from filthinesse of idoles, and fornication, and that that is strangled, and from blood.

For Moyses of olde time hath in euery citie them that preach him, seeing he is read in the Synagogues euery Sabbath day.

Then it seemed good to the Apostles and Elders with the whole Church to sende chosen men of their owne companie to Antiochia with Paul and Barnabas: to wit, Judas whose surname was Barsabas, and Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren,

And wrote letters by them after this manner, The Apostles, and the Elders, and the brethren, vnto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, and in Syria, and in Cilicia, send greeting.

Forasmuch as we haue heard, that certaine which went out from vs, haue troubled you with words, and combred your minds, saying, Ye must be circumcised & keepe the Law: to whom we gaue no such commandement.

It seemed therefore good to vs, when we were come together with one accord, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul,

Men that haue giuen vp their liues for the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ.

We haue therefore sent Judas and Silas, which shall also tel you the same things by mouth.

For it seemed good to the holy Ghost, and to vs, to lay no more burden vpon you, then these necessarie things,

That is, that ye abstaine from things offered to idols, and blood, and that that is strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep your selues, ye shall doe well, Fare ye well.

Now when they were departed, they came to Antiochia, & after that they had assembled the multitude, they deliuered the Epistle.

And when they had read it, they reioyced for the consolation.

And Iudas and Silas being Prophets, exhorted the brethren with many words, & strengthened them.

And after they had taried there a space, they were let goe in peace of the brethren vnto the Apostles.

Notwithstanding Silas thought good to abide there still.

Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antiochia, teaching and preaching with many oether the word of the Lord.

But after certaine dayes, Paul said vnto Barnabas, Let vs returne and visite our brethren in euery citie, where wee haue preached the word of the Lord, and see how they doe.

Not that men haue any authority of themselves, but to shew the fruits of faith, that shew vnto their ministerie and labour.

This was necessary, because in respect of the state of that time, that the Gentiles and the Iewes might more peaceably liue together with little occasion of quarrell.

Charitie is requisite euen in things indifferent. It is requisite for all people to know certainly what to holde in matters of faith and religion, and not that the Church by ignorance and knowing nothing, should depend vpon the pleasure of a few.

Thou an Hebrew kinde of speech which is as much as say, as the brethren wished them all profit and success, and so thou dost dismiss them with good leave.

Congregations or Churches doe easily degenerate, unless they be diligently seene vnto, and therefore went these Apostles to auerree such as they had planted, and for this cause also Synodes were instituted and appointed.

In matters indifferent we may so farre beare with the weaknesse of our brethren, as they may haue time to be instructed.

From sacrifices, or from ieiunes which were kept in Iudas Temple.

In a lawfull Synode, neither they which are appointed Iudges, appoint and determine by this tyrannously or vpon Lordlines, neither doth the common multitude set themselves tumultuously against them, which sit as Iudges by the word of God: as the like order also is holden in publishing and ratifying those things which haue bene so determined and agreed vpon.

The Councill of Hierusalem concluded, that they trouble mens consciences, which teach vs to take saluation in any other meane then in Christ onely, apprehended by faith, from whence focus they come, and whomever they pretend to be author of their vocation.

From our congregation.

A borrowed kind of speech taken of them which will daunce that that was built up: and it is a very vsuall metaphor in the Scriptures, to say the Church is built, for the Church is planted and stablished.

29. A laudable example of difference between excellent men, yet not for private affairs, neither yet for doctrine.

30. God vouchsafeth the faults of his servants to the profit and building of his Church, yet we have to take heed, even in the best matters, that we passe not measure in our hearts.

31. They were great debates, but because we consider the favour of Gods counsell, for by this means it came to passe, that the doctrine of the Gospel hath exercised in many places.

32. Paul himselfe doth not receive Timothy into the ministry without sufficient testimony, and allowance of the brethren.

33. Rom. 16. 1. Paul in this latter Epistle to Timothy, commends the godliness of Timothee, sheweth mother and grandmother.

34. Both for his godliness and honesty.

35. Timothee is circumcised, not simply for any necessity, but in respect of the time, onely to winne the Jewes.

36. Charity is to be tolerated in things indifferent, that regard be had both of the weak, and the quietness of the Church.

37. Gods decrees are the fountaine of the former chapters.

38. God appointeth certaine and determinate times to open and shew forth his truth, that both the election and the callow may proceed of grace.

39. His servants are they that were forbidden, but onely that they were forbidden, teaching us to obey, and not to inquire.

40. They are the ministers of the Gospel, by whom he helpeth such as were like to perish.

37. And Barnabas counselled to take with them John, called Marke.

38. But Paul thought it not meet to take him vnto their companie, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

39. Then werethey so stirred, that they departed asunder one from the other, so that Barnabas tooke Marke, and sailed vnto Cyprus.

40. And Paul chose Syllas and departed, being commended of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41. And hee went through Syria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

42. And hee went through Syria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

CHAP. XVI.

1. Paul having circumcised Timothy, 12 being at Philippi, 13 in Thracia Lydia in the faith, 14. The first of division 15 by him call out 20 and for this cause 22 they are baptized, 24 and imprisoned. 26 Through an earthquake 27 the prison doores are opened. 31, 32 he Gaoler receiveth the faith.

Then came he to Derbe and to Lystra: and behold, a certaine disciple was there, named Timothy, a womans son, which was a Jew, esse and beleueed, but his father was a Grecian.

Of whom the brethren which were at Lystra and Iconium, reported well.

Therefore Paul would that he should goe forth with him, and cooke and circumcise him, because of the Jewes, which were in those quarters: for they all knew his father was a Grecian.

And as they went through the cities, they deliuered them the decrees to keep, ordered of the Apostles and Elders which were at Hierusalem.

And so were the Churches stablished in the faith, and increased in number dayly.

Now when they had gone through-out Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, they were forbidden of the holy Ghost, to preach the word in Asia.

Then came they to Mysia and sought to go into Bythina: but the Spirit suffered them not.

Therefore they passed through Mysia, and came downe to Troas.

Where a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

And after hee had scene the vision, immediately we prepared to goe into Macedonia, being assured that the Lord had-called vs to preach the Gospel vnto them.

Then went we forth from Troas, and with a straight course came to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis.

And from thence to Philippi, which is the chiefe citie in the parts of Macedonia, and whose inhabitants came fro Rome to dwell there: and we were in that citie abiding certaine dayes.

And on the Sabbath day we went out of the citie, besides a riuer, where they were wont to pray: and we sat downe, and spake vnto the women, which were come together.

And a certaine woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, which worshipped God, heard vs: whose heart the Lord opened, that shee attended vnto the things, which Paul spake.

And when shee was baptized, and her household, the besought vs, saying, If ye haue iudged me to be faithfulfull to the Lorde, come into mine house, and abide there: and shee constrained vs.

And it came to passe that as we went to prayer, a certaine maid hauing a spirit of diuination, met vs, which gate her masters must vantage with diuining.

Shee followed Paul and vs, and cried, saying, These men are the seruants of the most high God, which shew vnto you the way of saluation.

And this did shee many dayes: but Paul being grieved, turned about, and said to the spirit, I commaund thee in the Name of Iesus Christ, that thou come out of her. And he came out the same houre.

Now when her masters saw that the hope of their gaine was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market place vnto the Magistrates,

And brought them to the gouernours, saying, These men which are Jewes trouble our citie,

And preach ordinances, which are not lawful for vs to receiue, neither to obserue, seeing we are Romanes.

The people also rose vp together against them, and the gouernours rent their clothes, and commanded them to be beaten with rods.

And when they had beaten them fore, they cast them into prison, commanding the Gaoler to keepe them surely.

Who hauing receiued such commandement, cast them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.

Now at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sung Psalmes vnto God: and the prisoners heard them.

And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundation of the prison was shaken: and by and by all the doores opened, and euery mans bands were loosed.

Then the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and when he saw the prison doores open, he drew out his sword and would haue killed himselfe, supposing the prisoners had bin fled.

But Paul cried with a loude voyce, saying, Doe thy selfe no harme: for we are all here.

Then he called for a light, and leaped in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paul and Silas,

And brought them out, & sayd, Syr, what must I doe to be saued?

And they sayde, Beleue in the Lord Iesus Christ, & thou shalt be saued, and thine household.

And they preached vnto him the worde of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

Afterward hee tooke them the same houre of the night, and washed their stripes, and was baptized with all that belonged vnto him straightway.

And when hee had brought them into his house, he set meate before them, and reioyced that he with all his household beleueed in God.

And when it was day, the gouernours sent the sergeants, saying, Let those men goe.

Then

9. An example of a godly hulkite.

10. Satan transformeth himselfe into an Angel of light, and cometh to enter by vndermining, but Paul openly letteth him out, and castrerth him out.

11. This is a proper note of Gods, which was wont to give answers to them that asked him.

12. Paul made no haste to this miracle: for he did all things as he was led by the spirit.

13. Couetousnesse of lucre and gain is an occasion of persecuting the truth, in the meane season God spurring Timothy, called Paul and Silas as the stronger to battaile.

14. Couetousnesse pretendeth a desire of common peace and godliness.

15. It is an argument of the devil, to urge the authority of ancients without any distinction.

16. An example of euill Magistrates to obey the fume and rage of the people.

17. Because he would be more sure of them before they fall in the stocks.

18. The prayers of the godly do shake both heauen and earth.

19. The mercifull Lorde, so oft as he listeth, draweth men to life, even through the midst of death, and whereas iustly they deserved great punishment, he sheweth them great mercy.

20. In meane which are especially extraordinary, we ought not to moue our foot forward, vallet that God goe before vs.

21. God with selfe same hand woundeth and healeth, when it pleaseth him.

22. Shame and confusion is in proceesse of time, the reward of wicked and euill Magistrates.

23. Then

36. Then

36 Then the keeper of the prison tolde these wordes vnto Paul, saying, The gouernours haue sent to loose you: now therefore get you hence, and goe in peace.

37 Then sayd Paul vnto them, After that they haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, which are Romanes, they haue cast vs into prison, and now would they put vs out priuily? nay verily: but let them come and bring vs out.

38 And the sergants tolde these wordes vnto the gouernours, who feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

39 Then came they and prayed them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the cite.

40 And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of Lydia: and when they had scene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

CHAP. XVII.

Paul at Thessalonica 3 preaching Christ, 6. 7 is entertained of Iason: 10 hee is sent to Berea: 15 from thence coming to Athens, 19 in Mars streete 23 hee preacheth the living God to them unknowne, 34 and so many are conuersted vnto Christ.

NOW as they passed through Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a Synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabbath dayes disputed with them by the Scriptures,

3 Opening and alledging that Christ must haue suffered, and risen againe from the dead, and this is Iesus Christ, whom I preach to you.

4 And some of them beleued, and ioyned in company with Paul and Silas: alio of the Grecians that feared God a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a few.

5 But the Iewes which beleued not, moued with ennie, tooke vnto them certaine vagabonds and wicked fellows, and when they had assembled the multitude, they made a tumult in the cite, and made assault against the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 But when they found them not, they drew Iason and certaine brethren vnto the heads of the cite, crying, These are they which haue subuerted the state of the world, and here they are,

7 Whom Iason hath receiued, and these all doe against the decrees of Cesar, saying, that there is another King, one Iesus.

8 Then they troubled the people, and the heads of the cite, when they heard these things.

9 Notwithstanding when they had receiued sufficient assurance of Iason and of the other, they let them goe.

10 And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea, which when they were come thither, entered into the Synagogue of the Iewes.

11 These were also more noble men then they which were at Thessalonica, which receiued the worde with all readinesse, and searched the Scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them beleued, and of honest women, which were Grecians, and men not a few.

honest women, which were Grecians, and men not a few.

13 But when the Iewes of Thessalonica knew, that the word of God was also preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and moued the people.

14 But by and by the brethren sent away Paul to goe as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

15 And they that did conduct Paul, brought him vnto Athens: and when they had receiued a commaundement vnto Silas and Timotheus, that they should come to him at once, they departed.

16 Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when hee saw the cite subiect to idolatry.

17 Therefore hee disputed in the Synagogue with the Iewes, and with them that were religious, and in the market dayly with whomsoever he met.

18 Then certaine Philosophers of the Epicures, and of the Stoicks, disputed with him, and some sayd, What will this babler say? Others said, Hee seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods (because hee preached vnto them Iesus, and the resurrection.)

19 And they tooke him, and brought him into Mars street, saying, May we not know, what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certaine strange things vnto our eares: we would know therefore what these things meane.

21 For all the Athenians & strangers which dwelt there, gaue themselves to nothing els, but either to tell, or to heare some newes.

22 Then Paul stood in the middles of Mars streete, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceiue that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your deuotions, I found an altar wherein was written, VNTO THE VNKNOWN GOD. Whom ye then ignorantly worship, him shew I vnto you.

24 God that made the world, and all things that are therein, seeing that he is Lord of heauen and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands,

25 Neither is worshipped with mens hands, as though hee needed any thing, seeing he giueth to all life and breath and all things,

26 And hath made of one blood all mankind, to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath assigned the seasons which were ordeined before, and the bounds of their habitation, upon matters of religion according to their owne braines. 1 Words for words, seeke gatherer a bird, and kinde of each taken of birds which flieth come, and is applied to them which wish to as bluster out such knowledge as they haue gotten by hearing the man and thus man. 2 This was a place called as you would say, Mars hill, where the iudges sat: which were called Areopagus, upon weighty affaires, which in old time assigned Socrates, and afterward condemned him of impiety. 3 The wife dome of man is vaine. 4 The idolaters themselves mighte moue strong and forcible arguments against their owne superstition. 5 To stand in soopish and stude a fene of your gods. 6 What fong men worship for religious sake, that we call deation. 7 Pauls in his Aition, make mention of the altar which the Athenians had dedicated to unknown god: and Laetius in his Epimenides maketh ment of an altar that had no name intitled. 8 It is a most foolish and vaine thing to compare the Creator with the creature: to limit him within a place, which can be comprehended in no place, and to thinke to assure him with gifts, of whom all men haue receiued all things whatsoever they haue: And these are the fountaine of all idolatrie. 9 Chap 7. 48. 10 Psal. 50. 8. 11 God is wonderfull in all his workes, but especially in the worke of man: not that wee should stand amazed at his workes, but that wee should lift vp our eyes to the worke of man. 12 Of one stocke and out beginning.

27 That they should seeke the Lord, if so bee they might haue groped after him, and found him, though doubtles he be not farre from euery one of vs.

28 For in him we liue, and mooue, and haue our being, as also certaine of your owne Poets haue said: For we are also his generation.

29 Forasmuch then, as we are the generation of God, we ought not to thinke that the Godhead is like vnto gold, or siluer, or stonie grauen by arte and the inuention of man.

30 And the time of this ignorance God regarded not: but now hee admonisheth all men euery where to repent,

31 Because hee hath appointed a day, in the which he will iudge the world in righteousnesse, by that man whom he hath appointed, wherof he hath giuen an assurance to all men, in that hee hath raised him from the dead.

32 Now when they heard of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked, and other said, We will heare thee againe of this thing.

33 And so Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit certaine men claue vnto Paul, and beleued: among whom was also Denys A-reopagita, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

35 Men, as theu forth their vantage, are diuersly affected and mooued with one selfe same Gospel, much notwithstanding each not to be effectual in his elect.

CHAP. XVIII.

As Paul at Corinth taught the Grecians, so the Lord comforted him. 13 He is accused before Gallio, 16 but in vaine. 18 From thence he passeth to Syria, 19 and so to Ephesus. 23 At Galatia and Phrygia he strengtheneth his disciples. 24 A pulpit being more perfectly instructed by Aquila, 26 preaches Christ with great effect.

After these things, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth,

2 And found a certaine Jew named Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italie, and his wife Priscilla (because that Claudius had commanded all Iewes to depart from Rome) and hee came vnto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, hee abode with them and wrought (for their craft was to make tents.)

4 And he disputed in the Synagogue euery Sabbath day, and exhorted the Iewes, and the Grecians.

5 Now when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul forced in Spirit, testified to the Iewes that Iesus was the Christ.

6 And when they resisted and blasphemed, hee shooke his raiment, and said vnto them, Your blood bee vpon your owne head: I am cleane: from henceforth will I goe vnto the Gentiles.

7 So hee departed thence, and entered into a certain mans house, named Iustus, a worshipper of God, whose house ioyned hard to the Synagogue.

8 And Crispus the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue beleued in the Lord with all his household: and many of the Corinthians hearing it, beleued and were baptized.

9 Then said the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Feare not, but speake, and holde not thy peace.

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall lay hands on thee to hurt thee: for I haue much people in this citie.

11 So he continued there a yere and fixe moneths, and taught the word of God among them.

12 Now when Gallio was depurie of Achaia, the Iewes arose with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seate, 13 Saying, This fellow perfwadeth men to worship God otherwise then the Law appointeth.

14 And as Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio sayd vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deede, O ye Iewes, I would according to reason maintaine you.

15 But if it bee a question of wordes and names, and of your Law, looke yee to it your selues: for I will be no iudge of those things.

16 And hee draue them from the iudgement seate.

17 Then tooke all the Grecians Sosthenes the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and beat him before the iudgement seate: but Gallio cared nothing for those things.

18 But when Paul had taried there yet a good while, he tooke leaue of the brethren, and sailed into Syria, (and with him Priscilla and Aquila) after that he had shorne his head in Cenchrea: for he had made a vow.

19 Then hee came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he entered into the Synagogue and disputed with the Iewes.

20 Who desired him to tarry a longer time with them: but he would not consent,

21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must needs keepe this feast that cometh, in Hierusalem: but I will returne againe vnto you, if God will. So he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And when he came downe to Cesarea, he went vp to Hierusalem: and when he had saluted the Church, he went downe vnto Antiochia.

23 Now when hee had taried there a while, he departed, and went thorow the countrey of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 And a certaine Jew named Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and mighty in the Scriptures.

25 The same was instructed in the way of the Lord, and hee spake feruently in the Spirit, and taught diligently the things of the Lord, & knew but the baptisme of Iohn onely.

26 And he began to speake boldly in the Synagogue. Whom when Aquila & Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and expounded vnto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when hee was minded to goe into Achaia, the brethren exhorting him, wrote to the disciples to receiue him: and after hee was come thither, he holpe them much which had beleued through his grace.

28 For mightily hee confuted publikely the Iewes, with great vehemencie, shewing by the Scriptures, that Iesus was that Christ.

1 Certaine disciples at Ephesus, 2 Having onely receiued Iohn baptisme, 3 And knew not the visible giftes of the holy Ghost, wherewith God had benedicted his Sonnes kingdome. 5 are baptized in the Name of Iesus. 13 The Jewish exorcists 16 are beaten of the deuil. 19 Continuing bookes are burnt. 24 Demetrius 29 raiseth sedition against Paul.

And it came to passe, while Apollos was at Corinthus, that Paul when he passed thorow the vpper coasts, came to Ephesus, and found certaine disciples,

2 And sayd vnto them, Haue ye receiued the holy Ghost since yee beleued? And they sayd vnto him, Wee haue not so much as heard whether there be an holy Ghost.

3 And he sayd vnto them, Vnto what were yee then baptized? And they sayd, Vnto Iohns baptisme.

4 Then sayde Paul, Iohn verily baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they should beleue in him, which should come after him, that is, in Christ Iesus:

5 And when they heard it, they were baptized in the Name of the Lord Iesus.

6 So Paul layde his hands vpon them, and the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake the tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelue.

8 Moreouer hee went into the Synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three moneths, disputing and exhorting to the things that appertaine to the kingdome of God.

9 But when certaine were hardened, and disobeyed, speaking euill of the way of God before the multitude, hee departed from them, and separated the disciples, and disputed dayly in the schoole of one Tyrannus.

10 And this was done by the space of two yeeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the word of Lord Iesus, both Iewes & Grecians.

11 And God wrought no small miracles by the hands of Paul,

12 So that from his body were brought vnto the sicke, kerchees, or handkerchees, and the diseases departed from them, and the euill spirits went out of them.

13 Then certain of the vagabond Iewes, exorcists, tooke in hand to name ouer them which hadooke spirits, the name of the Lord Iesus, saying We adiure you by Iesus, whom Paul preacheth.

14 (And there were certaine Sonnes of Sceua a lew, the Priest, about seven which did this)

15 And the euill spirit answered, and said, Iesus I acknowledge, & Paul I know: but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euill spirit was, ranne on them, and ouercame them, and preuailed against them, so that they fledde out of that house, naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowne to all the Iewes and Grecians also which dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, and the Name of the Lord Iesus was magnified.

18 And many that beleued came and confessed, and shewed their works.

19 Many also of them which vied curious arts, brought their bookes, and burned them before all men, and they counted the price of them, and found it fiftie thousand pieces of siluer.

20 So the word of God grewe mightily, and preuailed.

They that make the least value of it reckon it to be a right hundred pounds English.

21 Now when these things are accomplished, Paul purposed by the Spirit to passe through Macedonia and Achaia, and to goe to Hierusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent hee into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto him, Timotheus, and Erastus, but he remained in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no small trouble about that way.

24 For a certaine man named Demetrius a siluer smith, which made siluer temples of Diana, brought great gaines vnto the craftermen,

25 Whom he called together, with the workmen of like things, and sayde, Syrs, yee know that by this craft we haue our goods:

26 Moreouer yee see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia this Paul hath perswaded, and turned away much people, saying, That they be not Gods which are made with hands.

27 So that not onely this thing is dangerous vnto vs, that this our portion shall bee reprobued, but also that the temple of the great goddesse Diana should bee nothing esteemed, and that it would come to passe that her magnificence, which all Asia and the world worshippeth, should be destroyed.

28 Now when they heard it, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole citie was full of confusion, and they rushed into the common place with one assent, and caught Gaius, and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, and Pauls companions of his iourney.

30 And when Paul would haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 Certaine also of the chiefe of Asia, which were his friends, sent vnto him, desiring him that hee would not present himselfe in the Common place.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was out of order, and the more part knewe not wherefore they were come together.

33 And some of the company drew forth Alexander, the Iewes thrusting him forwards. Alexander then bekened with the hand, and would haue excused the matter to the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Iewe, there arose a shoute almost for the space of two houres, of all men crying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 Then the towne cleark when hee had stayed the people, sayd, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not how that the citie of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddesse Diana, & of the image, which came downe from Iupiter?

36 Seeing then that no man can speake against these things, ye ought to be appeased, and to doe nothing rashly.

37 For yee haue brought hither these men, which haue neither committed sacriledge, neither doe blaspheme your goddesse.

38 Wherefore, if Demetrius and the craftermen which are with him, haue a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are Deputies: let them accuse one another.

39 But if ye inquire any thing concerning other matters

6 Paul is neuer wearie.
7 By the motion of Gods Spirit: therefore we may not say that Paul ranched our hearts to death, but as the Spirit of God led him.

7 Gaine cloked with a shew of religion, is the very cause wherefore idolatry is stoutly and stubbornly defended.
8 These were certaine countrey temples with Dianas picture in them, which they bought that worshipped her.

8 As if be said, If Paul go on thus as he hath begunne to confute the opinion which men haue of Dianas image, all this our game will come to naught.

8 Rom. 16. 13. 1. cor. 1. 14. Coloss. 4. 10.

8 There ought to be in all Christians and especially in the Ministers, an inuincible coultasie, which may not by any formes or assaults bee ouercome, which notwithstanding must suffer it selfe modestly to be gouerned by wisdom.

9 In stead of reason, the idolaters are sufficiently contented with their owne madnesse and outcries, and those are the greatest defences that they haue.

10 An example of a politike man who rediecteth peace & quietnesse with lies, which Paul would neuer haue done.

11 The Ephesians beleeued superstitiously, that the image of Diana came downe from heauen to them.

12 Haue ought to accuse any man of p. For there are certaine dayes appointed for ciuill causes and matters of iudgements and the Deputies sit.

CHAP. XX.

1 Paul appointed to goe to Macedonia. 7 In Troas preaching vntill midnight. 9 Eutychus fell downe dead out of the window. 10 he raiseth him to life: 15 At Miletum, 17 hauing called the Elders of Ephesus together, 23 hee declareth what things shall come vpon himselfe, 28 and others.

1 Paul departed from Ephesus, by the content of the Church, not to be idle or at rest, but to take paines in another place. 2 For after so great trouble there was means of a long exhortation. 3 A forward zeale in the guider and instructor to murderers: and we are not debarred by the wisdom of God in preuent the euill consequences of wicked men. 4 Assemblies in the night time can not be fully condemned, neither ought, when the cause is good. 5 Word for word, the first day of the Sabbath, that is, vpon the Lords day: so that by the place, and by 1. Cor. 16.2. it is not amiss to shew that in those dayes the Christians were wont to assemble themselves solemnly together vpon that day. 6 The deuill minding to trouble the Church with a great offence, giueth Paul a singular occasion to confirme the Gospel. 7 Paul an earnest and diligent follower of Christ, making hast to his bonds without any ceasing or stopping in his race, doeth first of all as it were make his testament, wherein hee gieth an account of his former life, defendeth the doctrine which he taught, and exhorteth the Pastours of the Church to perseuerance and goe forward with continuance in their office. 8 According as the situation of the place is for Paul, hee hath distanced himselfe from Ephesus and Miletum not above 40. or 50. furlongs, which maketh almost fiftie Dutch miles.

Now after the tumult was appeased, Paul called the disciples vnto him, and embraced them, and departed to goe into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone through those parts, and had exhorted them with many words, hee came into Grecia.

3 And hauing taried there three moneths, because the Iewes layd waite for him, as he was about to saile into Syria, he purposed to returne through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia, Sopater of Berea, and of them of Thessalonica, Aristarchus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus, and of them of Asia, Tychicus, and Trophimus.

5 These went before, and taried vs at Troas. And we sayled forth from Philippi, after the dayes of vnleauened bread, and came vnto them to Troas in fivedayes, where wee abode seuen dayes.

7 And the first day of the weeke, the disciples being come together to breake bread, Paul preached vnto them, ready to depart on the morrow, & continued the preaching vnto midnight.

8 And there were many lights in an vpper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a window a certaine yong man, named Eutychus, fallen into a dead sleepe: and as Paul was long preaching, hee overcome with sleepe, fell downe from the third loft, and was taken vp dead.

10 But Paul went downe, and layd himselfe vpon him, & embraced him, saying, Trouble not your selues: for his life is in him.

11 Then when Paul was come vp againe, and had broken bread, and eaten: hauing spoken a long while till the dawning of the day, he so departed.

12 And they brought the boy aliue, and they were not a little comforted.

13 ¶ Then we went before to shippe, and sayled vnto the cite Assos, that wee might receiue Paul there: for so had he appointed, and would himselfe goe afoote.

14 Now when he was come vnto vs to Assos, and we had receiued him, we came to Mitylenes.

15 And wee sailed thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arrived at Samos, and taried at Trogyllium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 For Paul had determined to saile by Ephesus, because hee would not spend the time in Asia: for he had to be, if he could possible, at Hierusalem, at the day of Pentecost.

17 ¶ Wherefore from Miletum, he sent to Ephesus, and called the Elders of the Church.

18 ¶ Who when they were come to him, hee sayd vnto them, Ye know from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I haue bene with you at all seasons,

19 Seruing the Lord with all modestie, and with many teares, and tentations, which came vnto me by the layings await of the Iewes,

20 And how I kept backe nothing that was profitable, but haue shewed you, and taught you openly and throughout euery house,

21 Witnesing both to the Iewes, and to the Grecians the repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Iesus Christ.

22 And now behold, I goe bound in the Spirit, vnto Hierusalem, & know not what things shall come vnto me there,

23 Saue that the holy Ghost witnesseth in euery cite, saying, that bonds and afflictions abide me.

24 But I passe not at all, neither is my life deare vnto my selfe, so that I may fulfil my course with ioy, and the ministration which I haue receiued of the Lord Iesus, to testifie the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now behold, I know that henceforth ye all, through whom I haue gone preaching the kingdome of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men.

27 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you all the counsell of God.

28 Take heede therefore vnto your selues, and to all the flocke, whereof the holy Ghost hath made you Ouerscers, to feed the Church of God which he hath purchased with that his owne blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Moreover of your owne selues shall men rise speaking peruerse things, to drawe disciples after them.

31 Therefore warch, and remember that by the space of three yeeres I ceased not to warne euery one, both night and day with teares.

32 And now brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build further, and to giue you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

33 I haue coveted no mans siluer, nor gold, nor apparell.

34 Yea, ye know, that these handes haue ministered vnto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I haue shewed you all things, how that so labouring, ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the wordes of the Lord Iesus, how that he said, It is a blessed thing to giue, rather then to receiue.

36 And when he had thus spoken, hee kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.

37 Then they wept all abundantly, and fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him,

38 Being chiefly sorie for the wordes which he spake, That they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him vnto the shippe.

7 He testifieth, that hee goeth to his bonds, by the commandment of God. 8 He calleth that motion of the holy Ghost, which induced him to take his journey to Hierusalem, the motion of the Spirit, whom hee followed with all his heart.

9 If you do profit, yet there shall be no fault in me, I take the doctrine of the Apostles to be most perfect and absolute. 10 To keep it, is to keep it, and to keep it.

11 A notable sentence for Christ Godheads, which sheweth plainly in his person, how that by reason of the injury together of the two natures in his owne person, which is proper to one, is spoken of the other, being taken in the determinate, and not in the primitive: which in old time the good fathers termed a communicating or fellowship of properties: that is to say, a making common of that is truly which belongeth to one.

12 This word that, sheweth the excellency of this blood. 13 A prophetic of pastors that should straightway degenerate into wolues against such as boast and bragge onely of a succession of persons.

14 This is great misery, in want the presence of such a shepherd, who vnto to haue volutes enter in.

15 The power of God, and his free promises renued in his word are the props and upholders of the ministry of the Gospel.

16 As children, and therefore of free will and good will.

17 As it were by reaching out the hand to them, which otherwise are about to sleepe and fall away, and so to stay them.

18 The Gospel doth not take away naturall affections, but ruleth and bridleth them in good order.

Paul taken in the Temple.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Paul goeth toward Hierusalem: 8 As Cesarea he talketh with Philip the Eunuch: 10 Agabus foretelleth him of his bonds. 17 After he came to Hierusalem, 16 and into the Temple, 27 The Iewes layd hands on him: 32 Lysias the captaine taketh him from them.

And as we lanced forth, and were departed vnto Coos, and the day following vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.

3 And wee found a ship that went ouer vnto Phenice, and went aboard, and set forth.

3 And when we had discovered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, & sailed toward Syria, and arrived at Tyrus: for there the ship vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had found disciples, we taried there seuen dayes. And they told Paul through the Spirit, that hee should not goe vp to Hierusalem.

5 But when the dayes were ended, we departed & went our way, and they all accompanied vs with their wiues & children, euen out of the citie: and we kneeling downe on the shore, prayed.

6 Then when we had embraced one another, we tooke ship, and they returned home.

7 And when wee had ended the course from Tyrus, we arrived at Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day, Paul and wee that were with him, departed, and came vnto Cesarea: and wee entred into the house of Philip the Euan-gelists, which was one of the seuen Deacons, and abode with him.

9 Now he had foure daughters virgins, which did prophesie.

10 And as we taried there many dayes, there came a certaine Prophet from Iudea, named Agabus.

11 And when he was come vnto vs, he tooke Pauls girdle, and bound his owne hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the holy Ghost, So shall the Iewes at Hierusalem binde the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliuer him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we had heard these things, both we and other of the same place befought him that he would not goe vp to Hierusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, and said, What do ye weeping and breaking mine heart? For I am ready not to be bound onely, but also to die at Hierusalem for the Name of the Lord Iesus.

14 So when he would not be perswaded, wee ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those dayes we trusted vp our fardels, and went vp to Hierusalem.

16 There went with vs also certaine of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an olde disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when wee were come to Hierusalem, the brethren received vs gladly.

18 And the next day Paul went in with vs vnto James: and all the Elders were there assembled.

19 And when he had embraced them, he told by order all things, that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministration.

20 So when they heard it, they glorified God, and said vnto him, Thou see'st, brother, how many thousand Iewes there are which beleuee, and they are all zealous of the Law:

21 Now they are informed of thee, that thou teache'st all the Iewes, which are among the Gen-tiles, to forsake Moses, and sayest that they ought not to circumcise their sonnes, neither to liue after the customes.

22 What is then to be done? the multitude must needs come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.

23 Doe therefore this that we say to thee. We haue foure men, which haue made a vow,

24 Them take, & purifie thy selfe with them, and contribute with them, that they may & shoue their heads: and all shall know that those things, wherof they haue bin informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest and keepst the Law.

25 For as touching the Gentiles which beleuee, we haue written & determined, that they obserue no such thing, but that they keepe themselves from things offered to idoles, & from blood, and from that that is strangled, & from fornication.

26 Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day was purified with them, and entred into the Temple, declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offering should be offered for euery one of them.

27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia (when they saw him in the Temple) moued all the people, and layd hands on him,

28 Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the Law, and this place: moreouer, he hath brought Grecians into the Temple, & hath polluted this holy place.

29 For they had scene before Trophimus an Ephesian with him in the city, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the Temple.

30 Then all the cine was moued, and the people ran together: and they tooke Paul, and drewe him out of the Temple, and forthwith the doores were shut.

31 But as they went about to kill him, riding came vnto the chiefe captaine of the band, that all Hierusalem was on an vpror.

32 Who immediatly tooke souldiers and Centurions, and ran down vnto them: and when they sawe the chiefe captaine and the souldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chiefe Captaine came neere and tooke him, and commanded him to bee bound with two chaines, and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And one cried this, another that, among the people. So when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he communded him to be led into the castles.

35 And when he came vnto the grieeces, it was so that he was borne of the souldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And as Paul should haue bene led into the castles, hee said vnto the chiefe captaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who said, Canst thou speake Greeke?

38 Art not thou the Egyptian who before these dayes raised a sedition, and led out into the wilderness foure thousand men that were murderers?

citie of Cilicia, and I beseech thee, suffer mee to speake vnto the people.

40 And when he had given him licence, Paul stood on the grieces, and beckened with the hand vnto the people: and when there was made great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

CHAP. XXII.

1 Paul jealously a reason of his faith, 22 and the Iewes heare him a while: 23 But so soon as they cryed out, 24 he is commanded to be scourged and examined, 27 and so declareth that he is a citizen of Rome.

YE men, brethren, & fathers, heare my defence now towards you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrews tongue to them, they kept the more silence, and he said)

3 I am verely a man, which am a Iew, borne in Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought vp in this city at the feete of Gamaliel, and instructed according to the perfit manner of the Law of the Fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.

4 And I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and deliuering into prison both men and women,

5 As also the chiefe Priest doth beare me witness, and all the company of the Elders: of whom also I receiued letters vnto the brethren, & went to Damascus to bring them which were there, bound vnto Hierusalem, that they might be punished.

6 ¶ And so it was, as I journeyed, and was come neere vnto Damascus about noone, that suddenly there shone from heauen a great light round about me.

7 So I fell vnto the earth, & heard a voice saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 Then I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said to me, I am Iesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

9 Moreouer they that were with mee, saw indeed a light, and were afraid: but they heard not the voyce of him that spake vnto me.

10 Then I said, What shall I doe, Lord? And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and go into Damascus: and there it shall be told thee of all things, which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 So when I could not see for the glory of that light, I was led by the hand of them that were with me, and came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias a godly man, as pertaining to the Lawe, hauing good report of all the Iewes which dwelt there,

13 Came vnto mee, and stood, and sayd vnto me, Brother Saul receiue thy sight: and that same houre I looked vpon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee, that thou shouldest know his wil, and shouldest see that Iust one, & shouldest heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witness vnto all men, of the things which thou hast seene and heard.

16 Now therefore why tarigest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy finnes, in calling on the Name of the Lord.

17 ¶ And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Hierusalem, and prayed in the Temple, I was in a trance,

18 And saw him saying vnto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Hierusalem: for they will not receiue thy witness concerning me.

19 Then I said, Lord, they know that I prisoned, and beat in euery Synagogue them that beleeued in thee.

20 And when the blood of thy martyr Steuen was shed, I also stood by, and consented vnto his death, & kept the clothes of them that slew him.

21 Then he said vnto mee, Depart: for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 ¶ And they heard him vnto this word, but then they lift vp their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not meete that he should liue.

23 And as they cried & cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the aire,

24 ¶ The chiefe captaine commanded him to be led into the castle, and bade that he should be scourged, and examined, that hee might know wherefore they cried so on him.

25 ¶ And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Centurion that stood by, Is it lawfull for you to scourge one that is a Romane, and not condemned?

26 Nowe when the Centurion heard it, hee went and told the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe captaine came, and said to him, Tell mee, art thou a Romane? And he said, Yea.

28 And the chiefe captaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this freedome. Then Paul said, But I was so borne.

29 Then straightway they departed from him, which should haue examined him, and the chiefe captaine also was afraid, after hee knew that hee was a Romane, and that he had bound him.

30 On the next day, because hee would haue knownen the certaintie wherefore he was accused of the Iewes, he loosed him from his bonds, and commanded the hie Priests and all their Council to come together: and hee brought Paul, and set him before them.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 As Paul pleadeth his cause, 2 Ananias commendeth storm to smite him. 7 Diffusion among his accusers. 11 God encourageth him. 14 The Iewes laying waite for Paul, 20 is declared vnto the chiefe captaine: 27 Hee semeth him to Felix the Governour.

AND I beheld earnestly the Council, and said, Men and brethren, I haue in all good conscience serued God vntill this day.

2 ¶ Then the hie Priest Ananias commanded them that stood by, to smite him on the mouth.

3 ¶ Then said Paul to him, God will smite thee, thou whited wall: for thou sittest to iudge me according to the Law, and transgressing the Law, commandest thou me to be smitten?

4 And they that stood by, said, Reuilest thou Gods hie Priest?

5 ¶ Then said Paul, I knew not brethren, that he was the high Priest: for it is written, ¶ Thou shalt not speake euil of the ruler of thy people.

6 ¶ But when Paul perceived that the one part were of the Sadducees, and the other of the

with a quiet and peaceable minde. ¶ It appeareth plainly by the Greeke phrase, that Paul did not curse the hie Priest, but only promoued the punishment of God against him. ¶ This is a vehement and sharpe speech, but yet not reprochfull. For it is goodly to speake roundly, and yet be void of the bitter affliction of a sharpe and angry mind. ¶ For the Law commandeth the Iudge to heare the person that is accused patiently, and to pronounce the sentence aduisedly. ¶ We must willingly and from the heart giue honour to Magistrates, although they be tyrants. ¶ Exod. 22. 27. ¶ We may lawfully sometimes set the wicked together by the eares, that they may leaue off assault, so that it be with a hindrance of the truth.

Pharisees,

1 Paul making a short declaration of his former life, proueth both his vocation and do. Arise to bee of God. ¶ That is his duty heare: the reason of this speech is, that hee sheweth, which teach, sit continually in the highest place, looking to their school, but without sit upon benches beneath, and therefore he saith, at the feet of Gamaliel.

¶ This is properly spoken: for Steuen was murdered of a sort of craftie men, not by order of Iustice, but by open force: for as it is time the Iewes could not put any man to death by law.

4 There is no cause why we may not vse those lawfull means which God giueth vs, to repell, or put away an iniurie.

¶ Not by nation, but by the law of the citie.

1 Paul against the false accusations of his enemies, setteth a good conscience, for prooue whereof, he repeateth the whole course of his life.

2 Hypocrites are constrained at length to be true thelues by their intemperancie.

3 It is lawfull for vs to complaine of iniuries, & to summon the wicked to the iudgement seat of God, so that wee doe it without hatred, and Pharise, he cried in the Council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharise, the sonne of a Pharise: I am accused of the hope and resurrection of the dead.

7 And when hee had said this, there was a diffension betwene the Pharises and Sadduces, so that the multitude was diuided.

8 For the Sadduces say that there is no resurrection, neither Angel, nor spirit: but the Pharises confesse both.

9 Then there was a great crie: and the Scribes of the Pharises put role vp, and stroue, saying, Wee finde none euill in this man: but if a spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.

10 And when there was a great diffension, the chiefe captaine, fearing least Paul should haue bene pulled in pieces of them, commaunded the souldiers to go down, & to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castell.

11 Now the night following, the Lord stoode by him, and said, Be of good courage, Paul: for as thou hast testified of mee in Hierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 And when the day was come, certaine of the Iewes made an assembly, and bound themselves with a curse, saying, that they would neither eate nor drinke till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more then fourty, which had made this conspiracy.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priestes and Elders, and said, We haue bound our selues with a solemne curse, that we will eat nothing, vntill we haue slaine Paul.

15 Now therefore, ye and the Council, signify vnto the chiefe captaine, that hee bring him forth vnto you to morrow, as though you would know something more perfectly of him, and wee, or euer he come nere, will be ready to kill him.

16 But when Pauls sisters soulders heard of this laying await, he went, and entred into the castell, and told Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, & said, Take this yong man hence vnto the chiefe captaine: for he hath a certaine thing to shew him.

18 So he tooke him, and brought him to the chiefe captaine, and said, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath something to say vnto thee.

19 Then the chiefe captaine tooke him by the hand, and went apart with him alone, and asked him, What hast thou to shew me?

20 And he said, The Iewes haue conspired to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring forth Paul to morrow into the Council, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly:

21 But let them not perswade thee: for there lie in waite for him of them, more then forty men, which haue bound themselves with a curse, that they will neither eate nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and now are they ready, & wait for thy promise.

22 The chiefe captaine then let the yong man depart, after hee had charged him to vter it to no man, that hee had shewed him these things.

23 And he called vnto him two certaine Centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers, that they may go to Cefarea, and horsemen three score and ten, and two hundred with darts, at the third houre of the night:

24 And let them make ready a horse, that Paul being set on, may be brought safe vnto Felix the gouernour.

25 And he wrote an Epistle in this maner.

26 Claudius Lysias vnto the most noble gouernour Felix sendeth greeting.

27 As this man was taken of the Iewes, and should haue bene killed of them, I came vpon them with the garison, & rescued him, perceiuing that he was a Romane.

28 And when I would haue knowen the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their Council.

29 There I perceiued that hee was accused of questions of their Law, but had no crime worthy of death, or of bonds.

30 And when it was shewed me, how that the Iewes laid waite for the man, I sent him straightway to thee; and commaunded his accusers to speake before thee the things that they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the souldiers as it was commaunded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 And the next day, they left the horsemen to goe with him, and returned into the Castell.

33 Now when they came to Cefarea, they deliuered the Epistle to the gouernour, and presented Paul also vnto him.

34 So when the Gouernour had read it, he asked of what prouince he was: and when he vnderstood that he was of Cilicia,

35 I will heare thee, said he, when thine accusers also are come, and commaunded him to bee kept in Herods iudgement hall.

CHAP. XXIIII.

2 Tertullus accuseth Paul: 10 Hee answereth for himselfe: 22 Hee preacheth Christ to the gouernour and his wife: 27 Felix heareth, but in vaine, so receiues a bribe, 28 who going from his office, leaues Paul in prison.

Now after five dayes, Ananias the hie Priest came downe with the Elders, and with Tertullus a certaine oratour, which appeared before the gouernour against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that we haue obtained great quietnesse through thee, and that many worthy things are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

3 We acknowledge it wholly, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thanks.

4 But that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy curtesie a few words.

5 Certainly we haue found this man a pestilent fellow, and a moouer of sedition among all the Iewes throughout the world, and a chiefe maintainer of the sect of the Nazarites:

6 And hath gone about to pollute the Temple: therefore wee tooke him, and would haue iudged him according to our Law:

7 But the chiefe captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come to thee: of whom thou mayest (if thou wilt inquire) know all these things whereof we accuse him.

40 And when he had giuen him licence, Paul stood on the grieces, and beckened with the hand vnto the people: and when there was made great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

CHAP. XXII.

1 Paul pleadeth a reason of his faith, 22 and the tenses leave him a while: 23 thus he saith as they cryed out, 24 he is commended to be scourged and examined, 27 and so declareth that he is a citizen of Rome.

YE men, brethren, & fathers, heare my defence now towards you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrews tongue to them, they kept the more silence, and he said)

3 I am verely a man, which am a Jew, borne in Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought vp in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, and instructed according to the perfit manner of the Law of the Fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.

4 And I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and deliuering into prison both men and women,

5 As also the chiefe Priests doth beare me witnesse, and all the company of the Elders: of whom also I receiued letters vnto the brethren, & went to Damascus to bring them which were there, bound vnto Hierusalem, that they might be punished.

6 ¶ And so it was, as Iourneyed, and was come neere vnto Damascus about noone, that suddenly there shone from heauen a great light round about me.

7 So I fell vnto the earth, & heard a voice saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 Then I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said to me, I am Iesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

9 Moreover they that were with mee, saw indeed a light, and were afraid: but they heard not the voyce of him that spake vnto me.

10 Then I said, What shall I doe, Lord? And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and go into Damascus: and there it shall bee told thee of all things, which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 So when I could not see for the glory of that light, I was led by the hand of them that were with me, and came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias a godly man, as pertaining to the Lawe, hauing good report of all the Jewes which dwelt there,

13 Came vnto mee, and stood, and sayd vnto me, Brother Saul receiue thy sight: and that same houre I looked vpon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath appointed thee, that thou shouldest know his wil, and shouldest see that Iust one, & shouldest heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnesse vnto all men, of the things which thou hast seene and heard.

16 Now therefore why tarigest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sinnes, in calling on the Name of the Lord.

17 ¶ And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Hierusalem, and prayed in the Temple, I was in a trance,

18 And saw him saying vnto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Hierusalem: for they will not receiue thy witnesse concerning me.

19 Then I said, Lord, they know that I prisoned, and beat in euery Synagogue them that beleeued in thee.

20 And when the blood of thy martyr Steuen was shed, I also stood by, and consented vnto his death, & kept the clothes of them that slew him.

21 Then he said vnto mee, Depart: for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 ¶ And they heard him vnto this word, but then they lift vp their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not meete that he should liue.

23 And as they cried & cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the aire,

24 The chiefe captaine commanded him to be led into the castle, and bade that he should be scourged, and examined, that hee might know wherefore they cried so on him.

25 ¶ And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Centurion that stood by, Is it lawfull for you to scourge one that is a Romane, and not condemned?

26 Nowe when the Centurion heard it, hee went and told the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe captaine came, and said to him, Tell mee, art thou a Romane? And he said, Yea.

28 And the chiefe captaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this freedome. Then Paul said, But I was so borne.

29 Then straightway they departed from him, which should haue examined him: and the chiefe captaine also was afraid, after hee knew that hee was a Romane, and that he had bound him.

30 On the next day, because hee would haue knowen the certaintie wherefore he was accused of the Jewes, he loosed him from his bonds, and commanded the hie Priests and all their Council to come together: and hee brought Paul, and set him before them.

2 ¶ Then the hie Priest Ananias commanded them that stood by, to smite him on the mouth.

3 ¶ Then said Paul to him, God will smite thee, thou whored wall: for thou sittest to iudge me according to the Law, and transgressing the Law, commandest thou me to be smitten?

4 And they that stood by, said, Reuilest thou Gods hie Priest?

5 ¶ Then said Paul, I knew not brethren, that he was the high Priest: for it is written, ¶ Thou shalt not speake euil of the ruler of thy people.

¶ This is properly spoken: for Steuen was murdered of a sort of enuieous, not by order of Iustice, but by open force: for as it is at times the Jewes could not put any man to death by law.

The concord of the wicked is weak, although they conspire together to oppress the truth.
7 It was old heretic of the Sadducees, to denie the substance of Angels & soules, and therefore shall the resurrection of the dead.
8 Mar. 22. 13. Measures that was bodier.
8 The Lord when it pleaseth him, smiteth defenders of his cause, even among his enemies.
9 The Scribes office was a public officers, and the name of Pharise was the name of a Jew.
9 God will not forsake his to the end.

11 They conspire and borrow themselves from the 12 The Lord the Son, not regarding the same in his death, lest that the Tribunes should think that it was demanded of him as some private men's justice.
11 The wisdom of the Spirit must be ioynd with simplicity.

Pharise, he cried in the Council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharise, the sonne of a Pharise: I am accused of the hope and resurrection of the dead.
7 And when hee had said this, there was a dissension betwene the Pharises and Sadduces, so that the multitude was diuided.
8 For the Sadduces say that there is no resurrection, neither Angel, nor spirit: but the Pharises confesse both.
9 Then there was a great crie: and the Scribes of the Pharises part rote vp, and stroue, saying, Wee finde none euill in this man: but if a spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not fight against God.
10 And when there was a great dissension, the chiefe captaine, fearing lest Paul should haue bene pulled in pieces of them, commaunded the souldiers to go down, & to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castell.
11 Now the night following, the Lord stoode by him, and said, Be of good courage, Paul: for as thou hast testified of mee in Hierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.
12 And when the day was come, certaine of the Iewes made an assembly, and bound themselves with a curse, saying, that they would neither eate nor drinke till they had killed Paul.
13 And they were moe then fourty, which had made this conspiracie.
14 And they came to the chiefe Priestes and Elders, and said, We haue bound our selues with a solemne curse, that we will eat nothing, vntill we haue slaine Paul.
15 Now therefore, ye and the Council, signifie vnto the chiefe captaine, that hee bring him forth vnto you to morrow, as though you would know something more perfectly of him, and wee, or euer he come nere, will be ready to kill him.
16 But when Pauls sisters sorne heard of their laying await, he went, and entred into the castell, and told Paul.
17 And Paul called one of the Centurions vnto him, & said, Take this yong man hence vnto the chiefe captaine, for he hath a certaine thing to shew him.
18 So he tooke him, and brought him to the chiefe captaine, and said, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath something to say vnto thee.
19 Then the chiefe captaine tooke him by the hand, and went apart with him alone, and asked him, What hast thou to shew me?
20 And he said, The Iewes haue conspired to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring forth Paul to morrow into the Council, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly:
21 But let them not perswade thee: for there lie in waite for him of them, more then fourty men, which haue bound themselves with a curse, that they will neither eate nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and now are they ready, & wait for thy promise.
22 The chiefe captaine then let the yong man depart, after hee had charged him to vtter it to no man, that hee had shewed him these things.
23 And he called vnto him two certaine Centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers, that they may go to Cesarea, and horsemen three score and ten, and two hundred with darts, at the third houre of the night:

24 And let them make ready a horse, that Paul being set on, may be brought safe vnto Felix the gouernour.
25 And he wrote an Epistle in this maner.
26 Claudius Lyfias vnto the most noble gouernour Felix sendeth greeting.
27 As this man was taken of the Iewes, and should haue bene killed of them, I came vpon them with the garison, & rescued him, perceiuing that he was a Romane.
28 And when I would haue knowen the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their Council.
29 There I perceiued that hee was accused of questions of their Law, but had no crime worthy of death, or of bonds.
30 And when it was shewed me, how that the Iewes laid wait for the man, I sent him straightway to thee; and commaunded his accusers to speake before thee the things that they had against him. Farewell.
31 Then the souldiers as it was commaunded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.
32 And the next day, they left the horsemen to goe with him, and returned into the Castell.
33 Now when they came to Cesarea, they deliuered the Epistle to the gouernour, and presented Paul also vnto him.
34 So when the Gouernour had read it, he asked of what prouince he was: and when he vnderstood that he was of Cilicia,
35 I will heare thee, said he, when thine accusers also are come, and commaunded him to bee kept in Herods iudgement hall.

13 Lyfias is suddenly made by the Lord Pauls patron.

CHAP. XXIIII.

2 Tertullus accuseth Paul: 10 Hee answereth for himselfe: 21 Hee preacheth Christ to the gouernour and his wife: 27 Felix hegeth, but in vaine, to receive a bribe, 28 who going from his office, leaueth Paul in prison.

Now after five dayes, Ananias the hie Priest came downe with the Elders, and with Tertullus a certaine oratour, which appeared before the gouernour against Paul.
2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that we haue obtained great quietnesse through thee, and that many worthy things are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,
3 We acknowledge it wholly, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thanks.
4 But that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy curtesie a few words.
5 Certainly we haue found this man a pestilent fellow, and a moouer of sedition among all the Iewes throughout the world, and a chiefe maintainer of the sect of the Nazarites:
6 And hath gone about to pollute the Temple: therefore wee tooke him, and would haue iudged him according to our Law:
7 But the chiefe captaine Lyfias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him out of our hands,
8 Commanding his accusers to come to thee: of whom thou mayest (if thou wilt inquire) know all these things whereof we accuse him.

1 Hypocrites what they cannot doe, what they would doe by force and deceit, at length they goe about to compass it by a shew of Law.
a Felix ruled that prouidence with great cruelty and consciousness, and yet Iosephus recordeth that he did many worthy things, as that he tooke Alexander the captaine of certaine castles, and put that deceiuing wretch the Agrippa to flight, which caused great troubles in India.
b He wish a word which the souldiers desired to be a perspicacie and beneuolence.
c Word for word, a plague.
d As you would see a single order or engine bearer.
e So they called the Christians fasting, whereupon it came that of the tommes name where it is thought that Christ was borne, whereupon it came that Tertullus the Apostles called him Galilean.

they brought no crime of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certaine questions against him of their owne superstition, and of one Iesus which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be aliuē.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of question, I asked him whether he would goe to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these things.

21 But because he appealed to bee referred to the examination of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa said vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morrow, said he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morrow when Agrippa was come, and Bernice with great pompe, and were entred into the Common hall with the chiefe capitaines and chiefe men of the citie, at Festus commandement Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are present with vs, yee see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Iewes haue called vpon me, both at Hierusalem, & here, crying, that he ought not to liue any longer.

25 Yet haue I found nothing worthy of death that he hath committed: neuertheles, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to send him.

26 Of whom I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my Lord: wherefore I haue brought him forth vnto you, and especially vnto thee, King Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.

27 For me thinketh it vnreasonable to send a prisoner, & not to shew the causes which are laid against him.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Paul in the presence of Agrippa, 4 delivereth his life from his child hood, 16 and his calling, 22 with such efficacy of words, 28 that almost he perswaded him to Christianity: 30 But he and his companie depart, doing nothing in Pauls matter.

Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. So Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himselfe.

2 I think my selfe happy, King Agrippa, because I shall answer this day before thee of all the things whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

3 Chiefly, because thou hast knowledge of all customes, and questions which are among the Iewes: wherefore I beseech thee to heare mee patiently.

4 As touching my life from my childhood, & what it was from the beginning among mine owne nation at Hierusalem, knowe all the Iewes,

5 Which knewe me heretofore, euen from my Elders (if they would testifie) that after the most strait sect of our religion I liued a Pharise.

6 And now I stand and am accused for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers.

7 Whereunto our twelue tribes instantly seruing God day and night, hope to come: for the which hopes sake, O King Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God should raise againe the dead?

9 I also verely thought in my selfe, that I ought to doe many contrary things against the Name of Iesus of Nazareth.

10 Which thing I also did in Hierusalem: for many of the Saints I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued authoritie of the high Priests, and when they were put to death, I gaue my sentence.

11 And I punished them thorowout all the Synagogues, & compelled them to blasphemie, and being more madde against them, I persecuted them, euen vnto strange cities.

12 At which time, euen as I went to Damascus, with authoritie, and commission from the high Priests,

13 At midday, O King, I saw in the way a light from heauen, passing the brightnesse of the sun, shine round about mee, and them which went with me.

14 So when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voyce speaking vnto mee, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou mee? It is hard for thee to kicke against pricks.

15 Then I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise and stand vp on thy feet: for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to appoint thee a minister and a witness, both of the things which thou hast seene, and of the things in the which I will appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from this people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom now I send thee,

18 To open their eyes, that they may turne from darkenesse to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God; that they may receiue forgiveness of finnes, & inheritance among them, which are sanctified by faith in me.

19 Wherefore, king Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heavenly vision, 20 But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Hierusalem, and thorowout all the coasts of Iudea, & then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turne to God, and doe workes worthy amendment of life.

21 For this cause the Iewes caught me in the Temple, and went about to kill mee.

22 Neuertheles, I obtained helpe of God, and continue vnto this day, witnessing both to small and to great, saying none other things, then those which the Prophets and Moses did lay should come;

23 To wit, that Christ should suffer, and that he should bee the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light vnto this people, & to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus answered for himselfe, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art beset with selfe, much learning doeth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, O noble Festus, but I speake the words of truth and sobernesse.

26 For the King knoweth of these things, before whom also I speake boldly: for I am perswaded that none of these things are hidden from him: for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 O King Agrippa, beleueest thou the Prophets? I know that thou beleuest.

28 Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Almost thou perswadest me to become a Christian.

29 Then Paul said, I would to God that not onely thou, but also all that heare me to day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the King

42 ¹ Then the souldiers counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them, when he had swomme out, should flee away.
43 ² But the Centurion willing to save Paul, stayed them from this counsell, and commanded that they that could swimme, should cast themselues first into the sea, and goe out to land:

some on certaine pieces of the shippe: and so it came to passe, that they came all safe to land.

And when they were come safe, then they knew that the Isle was called ^a Melita.

2 And the Barbarians shewed vs no little kindeesse, for they kindled a fire, and receiued vs every one, because of the present showre, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a number of stickes, and layed them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heate, and leapt on his hand.

4 Now when the Barbarians saw the worme hang on his hand, they sayd among themselves, This man surely is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet ^b Vengeance hath not suffered to liue.

5 But he shooke off the worme into the fire, and felt no harme.

6 Howbeit they waited when he should haue swolne, or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no in-conuenience come to him, they changed their minde, and said, That he was a God.

7 In the same quarters, the chiefe man of the Isle (whose name was Publius) had possessions:
the same receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes courteously.

8 And so it was, that the father of Publius lay sicke of the feuer, and of a bloody fluxe: to whom Paul entred in, and when he prayed, he layed his hands on him, and healed him.

9 When this then was done, other also in the Isle, which had diseases, came to him, and were healed.

10 Which also did vs great honour: and when we departed, they laden vs with things necessarie.

11 Now after three moneths we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the Isle, whose badge was Castor and Pollux.

12 And when we arrived at Syracuse, we tarried there three dayes.

13 And from thence wee set a compassse, and came to Rhegium: and after one day, the South wind blew, and we came the second day to Putoli:

14 Where wee found brethren, and were defired to tarry with them seuen dayes, and so wee went toward Rome.

15 And from thence when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meet vs at the Market of Appius, and at the three tauernes, whom when Paul sawe, hee thanked God, and waxed bolde.

16 So when we came to Rome, the Centurion deliuered the prisoners to the generall Capaine:
but Paul was suffered to dwell by himselfe with a souldier that kept him.

17 And the third day after, Paul called the chiefe of the Iewes together, and when they were come, he saide vnto them, Men and brethren, though I haue committed nothing against the people, or Lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner from Hierusalem into the hautes of the Romanes.

18 Who when they had examined me, would haue let mee goe, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Iewes spake contrary, I was constrained to appeale to Cesar, not because I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore haue I called for you to see you, and to speake with you: for that hope of Israels sake, I am bound with this chaine.

21 Then they said vnto him, We neither recei-ued letters out of Iudea concerning thee, neither came any of the brethren that shewed or spake any euill of thee.

22 But wee will heare of thee what thou thinkest: for a concerning this sect, we knowe that every where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many vnto him into his lodging, to whom he expounded, & testified the kingdome of God, and perswading them those things that concerne Iesus, both out of the Lawe of Moses, and out of the Prophets, from morning to night.

24 And some were perswaded w the things which were spoken, and some beleened not.

25 Therefore when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one worde, ^{to wit}, Well spake the holy Ghost by Esaias the Prophet vnto our fathers,

26 Saying, Goe vnto this people, and say,
By hearing yee shall heare, and shall not vnder-stand, and seeing ye shall see, and not perceiue.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed fat, and their eares are dull of hearing, & with their eyes haue they winked, lest they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnder-stand with their hearts, and should returne that I might heale them.

28 Bee it knowne therefore vnto you, that this saluation of God is sent to the Gentiles, and they shall heare it.

29 And when he had said these things, the Iewes departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.

30 And Paul remained two yeeres full in a house hired for himselfe, and receiued all that came in vnto him.

31 Preaching the kingdom of God, & teaching those things which concerne the Lord Iesus Christ with all boldesse of speech, without let-

He pronounceth that which he said before of faith, by the example of Abraham, 3. 6. and the testimony of the Scripture; and then comes in the Chapter he teacheth upon this word, Imputation.

What shall we say then, that Abraham our father hath found concerning the flesh?

For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath wherein to reioyce, but not with God.

For what sayth the Scripture? Abraham beleued God, & it was counted to him for righteousness.

Now to him that worketh, the wages is not counted by fauour, but by debt.

But to him that worketh not, but beleueeth in him that iustificieth the vngodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

Enen as David declareth the blessednesse of the man, vnto whom God imputeth righteousness without works, saying,

Blessed are they whole iniquities are forgiven, and whose finnes are couered.

Blessed is the man to whom the Lord imputeth not sinne.

Came this blessednesse then vpon the circumcision onely, or vpon the vncircumcision also? For wee say, that faith was imputed vnto Abraham for righteousness.

How was it then imputed? when he was circumcised, or vncircumcised? not when he was circumcised, but when he was vncircumcised.

After, hee receiued the signe of circumcision, as the seale of the righteousness of the faith which he had, when he was vncircumcised, so that he should be the father of all them that beleue, not being circumcised, that righteousness might be imputed to them also.

And the father of circumcision, not vnto them only which are of the circumcision, but vnto them also that walke in the steps of faith of our father Abraham which hee had when hee was vncircumcised.

For the promise that he should bee the heire of the world, was not given to Abraham, or to his seede, through the Law, but through the righteousness of faith.

For if they which are of the Law, bee heires, faith is made voide, and the promise is made of none effect.

Hee pronounceth in free pardon of finnes, therefore iustification also. A new promise, that this manner of iustification belongeth both to the vncircumcised and to the circumcised: as is declared in the person of Abraham. This saying of David, wherein he pronounceth him blessed. Hee pronounceth that it belongeth to the vncircumcised (for there was no doubt of the circumcised) in this force: Abraham was iustified in vncircumcision, therefore this iustification belongeth also to the vncircumcised. May, it doeth not appertaine to the circumcised in respect of their circumcision, much lesse are the vncircumcised that out for their vncircumcision. A pronouncing of an obedienc: Why then was Abraham circumcised, if hee were already iustified? That the gift of righteousness (faith hee) might be confirmed in him. Circumcision, which is a signe: as we say, the Sacrament of Baptisme, which is a Sacrament. Circumcision was called before a signe in respect of the outward ceremonie: now Paul sheweth the force and substance of the same, in what end it is used, to wit, not onely to signify, but also to seale vpon the soules of faith, whereby we come to possesse Christ himselfe for the holy Ghost. An applying of the example of Abraham to the vncircumcised beleue, whose father also he calleth Abraham. An applying of the same example to the circumcised, whose father Abraham is, but yet by faith. A reason why the father of Abraham is to be esteemed by faith, because that Abraham himselfe through faith was made partaker of that promise, whereby hee made the father of all nations. That all the nations of the world should be heires of the promise, as hee was the father of the land of Canaan. For works it is not that we should be heires of the promise, but by faith. A double confirmation of this reason: the one is that the promise cannot be apprehended by the Law, and therefore it should bee frustrate; the other, that the condition of faith should be iustified in that promise which should bee apprehended by works. If there be heires which beare faith, & Law.

For the Law causeth wrath: for where no Law is, there is no transgression.

Therefore it is by faith, that it might come by grace, and the promise might be sure to all the seede, not to that onely which is of the Law: but also to that which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of vs all.

(As it is written,) I haue made thee a father of many nations, before God whom he beleued, who quickneth the dead, & calleth those things which be not, as though they were.

Which Abraham beleeued hope, beleued vnder hope, that he should be the father of many nations: according to that which was spoken to him, So shall thy seed be.

And hee is not weak in the faith, considering not his owne body, which was now dead, being almost an hundred yeere old, neither the deadnesse of Saras wombe,

Neither did he doubt of the promise of God through vnbeliefe, but was strengthened in the faith, and gaue glory to God,

Being fully assured that hee which had promised, was also able to doe it.

And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

Now is it not written for him only, that it was imputed to him for righteousness.

But also for vs, to whom it shall be imputed for righteousness, which beleue in him that raised vp Iesus our Lord from the dead;

Who was deliuered to death for our finnes, and is risen againe for our iustification.

And in respect of faith onely, are counted amongst the children of Abraham. This fatherhood is spirituall, depending onely vpon the vertue of God, who made the promise. Before God, that is, by a spiritual kinred, which hath place before God, and maketh vs acceptable to God, & whose things are already, which as yet are not in deed, as be that can with a word make what he will of nothing. A description of true faith, wholly resting in the power of God, & his good will, set forth in the example of Abraham. Very strong and constant. Pointe of strength, and earnest to get children. Acknowledged and praised God, as most gracious and true. A description of true faith. The rule of iustification is alwayes one, both in Abraham and in all the faithfull: that is to say, faith in God, who after that there was made a full satisfaction for our finnes in Christ our mediator, raised him from the dead, that we also being iustified, might be saved in him. To pay the ransom for our finnes.

CHAP. V.

Hee amplifieth: Christ's righteousness which is layd holden by faith, 5. who was given for the weaker, 8. and fulfill. 14. Hee compareth Christ with Adam, 17. Death with Life, 20. and the Law with Grace.

Then being iustified by faith, we haue peace toward God through our Lord Iesus Christ.

Neither that onely, but also we reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation bringeth forth patience, for by faith we are iustified, and not by the Law. Ephe. 2. 8. A 1st must here know, that we haue yettill the same effect of faith. By which grace, that is, which gracious love and good will, or that state wherein we are graciously taken. 1st Paul Resist. A preventing of an other sin against them which beholding the daily quiering & calamities of the Church, think that the Christians dream, when they bragge of their felicity: to whom the Apostle answereth, that their felicity is layd vnder hope in another place: which hope is to certaine and sure, that they doe no lesse reioyce for that happiness, then if they did presently ioyce in it. Our iustification is not onely given and sealed, but also we are maruailously glad, and cometh greater joy for that heavenly inheritance which waiteth for vs. A tribulation it selfe giueth vs diet and sandy wayes, occasion to reioyce, much lesse doeth it make vs miserable. 2nd Cor. 1. 3. Affliction is come vnto patience, and patience is the fruit of the goodnesse of God, and this experience confirmeth and strengtheneth our hope, which neuer deceiveth vs.

A reason of the first confirmation, why the promise cannot be apprehended by the Law: because that the Law doth not reconcile God and vs, but rather denounceth his anger against vs, for so much as we manerobserue it. The conclusion of this argument, The satisfaction of all the posterity of Abraham (that is, of the Church, which is gathered together of all people) proceeded of faith, which layeth hold on the promise made vnto Abraham, and which promise Abraham himselfe first of all layd hold on. To all the beleueers. There is to say, not onely of them which beleue and are also circumcised according to the Law, but of them also which without circumcision, and in respect of faith onely, are counted amongst the children of Abraham. This fatherhood is spirituall, depending onely vpon the vertue of God, who made the promise. Before God, that is, by a spiritual kinred, which hath place before God, and maketh vs acceptable to God, & whose things are already, which as yet are not in deed, as be that can with a word make what he will of nothing. A description of true faith, wholly resting in the power of God, & his good will, set forth in the example of Abraham. Very strong and constant. Pointe of strength, and earnest to get children. Acknowledged and praised God, as most gracious and true. A description of true faith. The rule of iustification is alwayes one, both in Abraham and in all the faithfull: that is to say, faith in God, who after that there was made a full satisfaction for our finnes in Christ our mediator, raised him from the dead, that we also being iustified, might be saved in him. To pay the ransom for our finnes.

Another argument taken of the effects: we are iustified with that, which truly appeareth our confidence before God: that faith in Christ doeth appeale our confidence and not the Law, as it was before sayd, therefore by faith we are iustified, and not by the Law. Ephe. 2. 8. Whereas quietnesse of conscience is attributed to faith, it is to be referred to Christ, who is the giuer of faith in selfe, and in whom faith it selfe is satisfiull. A 1st must here know, that we haue yettill the same effect of faith. By which grace, that is, which gracious love and good will, or that state wherein we are graciously taken. 1st Paul Resist. A preventing of an other sin against them which beholding the daily quiering & calamities of the Church, think that the Christians dream, when they bragge of their felicity: to whom the Apostle answereth, that their felicity is layd vnder hope in another place: which hope is to certaine and sure, that they doe no lesse reioyce for that happiness, then if they did presently ioyce in it. CHAP. VIII.

1 He considereth their sin as a condemnation to show, who are justified in Christ, through the Spirit, a transgressor they be as yet hardened with sinners: 2 for they live through that Spirit, 14 who confirm us 15 drive away all fears, 28 and deliver us from present miseries.

NOW then there is no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus, which walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For the Law of the Spirit of life which is in Christ Jesus, hath freed man from the law of sinne and of death.

3 For that that was impossible to the Law, in as much as it was weake, because of the flesh, God sending his owne Son in similitude of a sinful flesh, & for sinne, condemned sin in the flesh.

4 That that righteousness of the Law might be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For they that are after the flesh, favour the things of the flesh: but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

6 For the wisdom of the flesh is death: but the wisdom of the Spirit is life and peace.

7 Because the wisdom of the flesh is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the Law of God, neither in deale can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh, cannot please God.

9 Now yee are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, because the Spirit of God dwelleth in you: but if any man hath not the Spirit of Christ, the same is not his.

10 We gather thereby, that there is no condemnation to them that are in Christ, that vertue of the quickning Spirit which is so perfect & most mighty in Christ, and being imputed unto us, was not to be accounted of, as though there were no remission of conscience. Therefore hitherto Paul disposed of remission of sins, and filling the Law, and also of justification which is begun in vs, by the imputation of Christes manhood, which part was not the full appealing of our consciences: for our sinnes are defined by Christ, & the guiltiness of our corruption in coming with the inobedience: and the corruption it self (which the Apostle calleth in vs by sinne & flesh, by reason of incontinence): but yet it is altogether remedied, by the perfect satisfaction of Christes owne merits imputed. 11 The purchased authority of Gods Spirit against the works of sinne, & which mortifies the old man, and quickeneth the new, abundantly and perfectly. 12 For Christes justification being imputed unto us, the same which is wrought in us. 13 He velteth no argumenteth the bondage of Conscience, which is imputed unto vs, though that the vertue of the Law cannot touch (and that by reason of our nature) that it could make man pure & perfect, and for that it is impossible for us to do it, and yet to bring him in, therefore God hath left us our sinfull flesh, wherein he virtuously abolished all sinne, according to the word of God, and without fault in him appeared on earth, we might be loath to have fully that singular part we require, and therefore that there might be no condemnation proper to the Law, but consist in our faults. 13 In man now justified by the Law could point out, but it could not take it. 14 Of mans sinne through sinne, until he justify it. 15 To abolish sinne in us, and thus leave him free in us. 16 The very substance of the Law is not in that in which the Law requireth, that we may be found in it, but in the justification being required that justification which is imputed unto us, according to that which the Law requires. 17 For he is not free, that is not justified, which is begun in vs, is not in us, until he be in Christ: which is a most plentifull fruit of the Spirit. 18 A real way to walke after the flesh, agreeeth not to the Spirit, which is to walke after the Spirit, and is meete for them that are after the flesh, favour the things of the flesh, favour the things of the Spirit. 19 Therefore live not in the flesh, lest ye be condemned, because that we sinners are in the flesh, and what loever the Spirit teacheth that we sinners are. 20 A reason & proove, why the wisdom of the flesh is enmity of God. 21 A reason why the wisdom of the flesh is not subject to the Law of God, because it neither can be subject to his beareth a mans not regenerate. 22 The conclusion therefore, that the flesh cannot please God: whereby it followeth, that they are in Christ. 23 He cometh to the exhortation, to wit, to them which of whom we began to understand contrary things to the flesh, the flesh what it is to be in the flesh, or to be justified: by the gift of God dwelling in us, the new obedience, justification

3 A conclusion of all the former disputation, from vs. 1 & of chap. 7. now to this place: Seeing that we being justified by faith in Christ, do obtain remission of sins, & imputation of righteousness, and are also sanctified, it followeth thereof, that they that are grafted into Christ by faith, are out of all fear of condemnation.

2 The fruits of the Spirit, or effects of an Adification, which is begun in vs, doe not ingraft vs into Christ, but doe declare that we are grafted into him.

3 Fo do we use the flesh for their guide for he is not grafted into us, but hath the body of Christ for his guide, though sometimes he sleep away.

4 A precluding of an objection: Seeing that the virtue of the Spirit which is in vs, is so weak, how may we make that virtue become in vs, is most beleue, carnal temptation, and death imputation of sin. Now he speaketh easilily required by the blood of purification of Christ (in of sinne) is he speaketh besides that flesh, which also is such is met the sym-

Paul ascendeth to the higher apostle of faith and first of all, because he proposed to speak much of the calling out of the Jewes, he declares by a double or triple way, and by witnessing of his great desire towards their salvation, his singular love towards them, and therewithall granting to them all their prepositions.

2 The Apostle declares by a double
way of the Jewes,
first by the loss
of the covenant
for ever, for this way of the Jewes
is now in the place
of the Gentiles,
as by the loss
of the covenant
and conviction.

4 The Apostle declares by a double
way of the Jewes,
first by the loss
of the covenant
for ever, for this
way of the Jewes
is now in the place
of the Gentiles,
as by the loss

and conviction.

I say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing me witness in the holy Ghost, That I have great heaviness, and continuall sorrow in mine heart.

For I would wish my selfe to be separated from Christ, for my brethren that are my kinfemen according to the flesh,

Which are the Israelites, to whom pertaineth
the adoption, and the glory, & the covenants, and the giving of the Lawe, and the service of God,
and the promises.

Of whom are the fathers, and of whose concerning the flesh, Christ came, who is God over all, blessed for ever, Amen.

Notwithstanding it cannot be that the word of God should take none effect: for all they are not Israel which are of Israel:

Neither are they all children, because they are the seede of Abraham: but in Isaac shall thy seed be called:

That is, they which are the children of the flesh, are not the children of God: but the children of the promise, are counted for the seed.

For this is a word of promise, In this same time will I come, and Sara shall have a sonne.

Neither he only felt this, but also Rebecca, when shee had conceived by one, even by our father Isaac.

For yet the children were borne, and when they had neither done good, nor euill (that the purpose of God might remaine according to election, not by works, but by him that calleth)

It was sayd vnto her, The Elder shall serue the younger.

As it is written, I have loved Jacob, and have hated Esau.

What shall we say then? Is there vnrighteousnesse with God? God forbid.

For he saith to Moses, I will have mercy on him, to whom I will shew mercy: and will have compassion on him, on whom I will have compassion.

So then it is not in him that willeth, nor in him that runneth, but in God, sheweth mercy

For the Scripture saith vnto Pharaoh, For this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my Name might be declared throughout all the earth

Therefore hee hath mercy on whom hee will, and whom he will he hath hardened.

Thou wilt say then vnto me, Why doeth he yet complaine for who hath resisted his will?

But, O man, who art thou which pledest against God? shall the thing formed say to Hee answereth first touching them which are chosen to saluation: in chusing of whom, he denieth that God may seeme vnjust although he chuse & predestinate to saluation, them that are not yet borne, without any respect of worthinesse, because hee bringeth not the chosen to the appointed ende, but by the means of his mercy, which is a cause next vnder predestination. Now mercy presupposeth misery, and againe misery presupposeth sinne or voluntarie corruption of mankind, and corruption presupposeth apure and perfect creation. Moreover mercy is shewed by her degrees: to wit, by calling, by faith, by iustification, and sanctification, so that length we come to glorification, as the Apostle will shewe afterward. Now all these things orderly following the purpose of God, doe clearly proue that he can by no means seeme vnjust in louing and sauing his. Rom. 9. 19. O I will reuerent and favourable to whom I list to be favourable. I will have compassion on whom I list to have compassion. 20 The conclusion of the answer: Therefore God is not vnjust in chusing and sauing of his free goodnes, such as it pleaseth him, as he answered Moses, when he prayed for all the people. By will, I mean with the thoughts and intentions of heart, and by running, good works: to neither which he giueth the promise, but only to the mercy of God. 21 Now he answereth concerning the reprobate, or them whom God hateth being not yet borne, and hath appointed to destruction, without any respect of worthinesse. And first of all hee prooueth this to be true, by alleging the testimonie of God himselfe touching Pharaoh, whom he stirred vp to this purpose, that he might be glorified in his hardning and iust punishing. God so speaketh vnto Pharaoh in the Scripture, or Scripture bringeth in God speaking to Pharaoh: Exod. 9. 16. I brought thee into this world. 14 Secondly hee bringeth the end of Gods counsel, so that there is no vnrighteousnesse in him. Now this chiefest ende, is not properly and simply the destruction of the wicked, but Gods glory which appeareth in their rightfull punishment. 15 A conclusion of the full answer to the first obiection: therefore seeing God doth not cause them whom he freely chooseth according to his good will and pleasure, but by iustifying and sanctifying them by his grace, his counsell in sauing them cannot seeme vnjust. And againe, there is no iniustice in the everlasting counsell of God touching the destruction of them whom he listeth to destroy, for that hee hardneth before hee destroyeth: Therefore the third answer for the maintenance of Gods iustice in the everlasting counsell of reprobation, consisteth in this word, Hard-ning: which notwithstanding hee concealed in the former verse, because the History of Pharaoh was well known. But the force of the word is greater for Hardning which is set against Mercy, presupposeth the same things that mercy did to wit, a voluntary corruption, wherein the reprobate are hardened: and againe corruption presupposeth a perfect state of creation. Moreover, this hardning also is voluntary, for God so hardneth being offended with corruption, that hee vetcheth their owne will whom hee hardneth to the executing of that iudgement. Then follow the fruits of Hardning to wit, vnbeliefe and faine, which are the true and proper causes of the condemnation of the reprobate. Why doeth hee then appoint to destruction because hee wills why doeth hee harden because they are corrupt? why doeth hee condemne because they are sinners. Where is then righteousnesse? Nay, it belongeth to destroy all after this same sort, to whom should hee doe iniurie? When it pleased him to appoint, so shew his sinners open. 16 An other obiection, but only for the reprobate, rising vpon the former answer. If God doe appoint to everlasting destruction, such as hee listeth, and if that cannot be hindered nor withstanded that hee hath once decreed, how doeth hee iustly condemne them, which perish by his will? 17 The Apostle doeth not answer that it is not Gods will, or that God doeth not either reiect or elect according to his pleasure, which thing the wicked call blasphemie, but he rather grameth his aduersary both the antecedent to wit, that it is Gods will, and that it must of necessity fall out, yet he denieth that God is thereby to be thought an vnjust reueger of the wicked: for seeing it appeareth by manifest proofe that this is the will of God, and his doing, what impedience is it for man, which is but dust and ashes, to dispute with God, and as it were to call him into iudgement? Now if any man say that the doubt is not so dissolved and answered, I answer, that there is no surer demonstration in any matter, because it is grounded vpon this principle, That the will of God is the rule of righteousnesse. 18 An amplification of the former answer taken from anomposition: whereby also it appeareth that Gods determinate counsell is fit of Paul the highest of all causes, so that it dependeth not vpon any respect of second causes, but doth rather frame and direct them. 19 Rom. 9. 20. Thou foolish man, what sayest thou to these things?

10 The first obiection: if God doth loue or hate vpon no consideration of worthinesse or vaworthinesse, then is he vnjust, because he may loue them which are vnwor-thy, and hate them which are worthy. I believe the Apostle declareth this blasphemie, afterward answereth severely, point
by point.

11 Mans sinne is not the cause of loue or hatred,
but these are the
effectes in the persons, and thereupon the obiection riseth.

12 The conclusion of the answer: Therefore God is not vnjust in chusing and sauing of his free goodnes, such as it pleaseth him, as he answered
Moses, when he prayed for all the people.

13 Now he answereth concerning the reprobate, or them whom God
hateth being not yet borne, and hath appointed to destruction, without any respect of worthinesse.

14 Secondly hee
bringeth the end of Gods counsel, so that there is no vnrighte-ousnesse in him. Now this chiefest ende, is not properly and simply the destruction of the wicked, but Gods glory which appeareth in their rightfull punishment.

15 A conclusion of the full answer to the first obiection: therefore seeing God doth not cause them whom he freely chooseth according to his good will and pleasure, but by iustifying and sanctify-ing them by his grace, his counsell in sauing them cannot seeme vn-just.

16 An other obiection, but only for the reprobate, rising vpon the former answer. If God doe appoint to everlasting destruction, such as hee listeth, and if that cannot be hindered nor withstanded that hee hath once decreed, how doeth hee iustly condemne them, which perish by his will?

17 The Apostle doeth not answer that it is not Gods will, or that God doeth not either reiect or elect according to his pleasure, which thing the wicked call blasphemie, but he rather grameth his aduersary both the antecedent to wit, that it is Gods will, and that it must of necessity fall out, yet he denieth that God is thereby to be thought an vnjust reueger of the wicked: for seeing it appeareth by manifest proofe that this is the will of God, and his doing, what impedience is it for man, which is but dust and ashes, to dispute with God, and as it were to call him into iudgement? Now if any man say that the doubt is not so dissolved and answered, I answer, that there is no surer demonstration in any matter, because it is grounded vpon this principle, That the will of God is the rule of righteousnesse. 18 An amplification of the former answer taken from an composition: whereby also it appeareth that Gods determinate counsell is fit of Paul the highest of all causes, so that it dependeth not vpon any respect of second causes, but doth rather frame and direct them. 19 Rom. 9. 20. The defender and maintainer of the Jewes cause goeth on still to aske, whether the Jewes also knew not God which called them. Elsay (saith the Apostle) denieth it, and witnesseth that the Gospel was translated from them to the Gentiles, because the Jewes neglected it. And therewithall the Apostle teacheth, that that outward and vniuersall calling, which is set forth by the creation of the world, sufficeth not to the knowledge of God: yea, and that the particular also which is by the word of God, is of it selfe of small or no efficacy, vntill it bee apprehended or layd holde on by faith, by the gift of God: otherwise by vaineleefe it is made vnprofitable, and that by the onely fault of man, who can pretend no ignorance. 14. 1st. 92-7. CHAP. XI.

1. Lett the casting off of the Jewes should bee limited according to the outward appearance, 4. bee sheweth that Elias was in times past decreed: 16. addeth, seeing they have an holy roote, 23. many of them likewise shall be holy. 18. 24. Hee exhorteth the Gentiles to bee humble, 33. and crieth out, that Gods iudgements are不可逆轉.

1. Now the Apostle sheweth how this doctrine is to be applied to others, abiding still in his propounded case. Therefore hee teacheth vs that all the Jewes in particular are not cast away, and therefore we ought not to pronounce rashly of private persons, whether they be of the number of the elect or not.

2. The first prooofe: I am a Jew, and yet elected, therefore we may and ought fully resolve vpon our election, as hath bene before said: but of another man we cannot bee so certainly resolved, and yet ours may cause vs to hope well of others. 3. The second prooofe: Because that God is faithful in his promise or Covenant, although men be vniuersall: So then seeing that God hath said, that hee will be the God of his vnto a thousand generations, wee must take heed, that wee thinke not that the whole race and offspring is cast off, by reason of the vniuersality of a few, but rather that wee hope well of every member of the Church, because of Gods league and Covenant. 4. The third prooofe, taken from the answer that was made to Elias: euen then also, when hee appeared openly to the face of the world no elect, yet God knew his elect and choise, and of them also good store and number. Whereupon this also is concluded, that wee ought not rashly to pronounce of any man, or of any nation, seeing that the Church is oftentimes brought to that state, that euen the most euill and desperate sinners thinke it to bee a shame to be cast out.

17 And though some of the branches be broken off, and thou being a wilde Olive tree, wast grafted in for them, and made partaker of the roote and fatnesse of the Olive tree:

18 Boast not thy selfe against the branches: and if thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, the branches are broken off that I might be grafted in.

20 Well: through vnbeliefe they are broken off, and thou standest by faith: be not high minded, but feare.

21 For if God spared not the naturall branches, hee will also spare not thee.

22 Beholde therefore the bountifullnesse, and severitie of God: toward them which have fallen, severitie: but toward thee, bountifullnesse, if thou continue in his bountifullnesse: or elsethou shalt also be cut off.

23 And they also if they abide not still in vnbeliefe, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graffe them in againe.

24 For if thou wast cut out of the Olive tree, which was wilde by nature, and wast grafted contrary to nature in a right Olive tree, how much more shall they that are by nature, be grafted in their owne Olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this secret (lest ye should be arrogant in your selues) that partly obstinacie is come to Israel, vntill the fulnesse of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so all Israel shall be saved, as it is written, The deliuerer shall come out of Sion, and shall turne away the vngodlinesse from Iacob.

27 And this is my covenant to them, When I shall take away their sinnes.

28 As concerning the Gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers sakes.

29 For the giftes and calling of God are without repentance.

For even as ye in times past haue beene beleened God, yet haue now obtained mercy through their vnbeliefe:

31 Euen so now haue they not beleened by the mercie shewed vnto you, that they also may obtaine mercie.

32 For God hath thus vp' fall in vnbeliefe, that he might haue mercie on all.

33 Of the deepnesse of the riches, both of the wiselome, and knowledge of God: how vnsearcheable are his iudgements, and his wayes past finding out!

34 For who hath knowen the minde of the Lord? or who was his counsellor?

35 Or who hath giuen vnto him? first, and he shall be recompensed?

36 For of him, and through him, and for him are all things: to him be glorie for euer, Amen.

5 For that un-christ was merited which he seeth to be vnderstand of what I say ned, yet I must pursue, yet I not this stubbor-nesse of the Iewes
so come to passe properly for an hated to that nation, but that an entire might as it were be opened to bring in the Gentiles, and afterward the Iewes being inflamed with Emulation of that mercie which is shewed
to the Gentiles,
might themselves
also be partakers of the same benefit, and so it might appeare that both Iewes and Gentiles are fauored onely by the free mercy and grace of God, which could not haue bene so manifest, if at the beginning God had brought altogether into the Church, or if hee had sinned the nation of the Iewes without this interruption. 1. Both Iewes & Gentiles. 17 The Apostle cryeth out as afflonished with this wonderfull wiselome of God, which he teacheth vs ought to be religiously reuerenced, and not curiously and prophesie to be searched beyond the compasse of that that God hath reuea-

CHAP. XII.

1 He exhorteth vs to that worship which is acceptable to God: to loue continued, 14, 20, euen toward our enemies.

I beseech you therefore brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye give vp your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable vnto God, which is your reasonable seruing of God.

2 And fashion not your selues like vnto this world, but bee ye changed by the renewing of your minde, that ye may approve what that good, and acceptable and perfect will of God is.

3 For I say through the grace that is giuen vnto mee, to eury one that is among you, that no man presume to vnderstand aboue that which is meet to vnderstand, but that hee vnderstand according to sobrietie, as God hath dealt to eury man the measure of faith.

1 The fourth part of this Epistle, which after the finishing of the chiefe points of Christian doctrine, consisteth in declaring of precepts of Christian life.
And first of all he giveth general precepts and grounds, the chiefest whereof is this, that eury man consecrate himself wholly to the spiri-
tuelle service of God, and do as it were sacrifice himself.

trusting to the graces of God. a By this preface he sheweth that God glory in the utmost ends of all our doings. b In times past the sacrifices were presented for the altar, but now the altar is eury where. c Your flesh in times past, other bodies than our owne, were our sacrifices offered. d In times past, good sacrifices were offered, but now we must offer such as be the spirit of life in whom a spirit is. e The second precept is this, That we should not other mens opinions and manners for a rule of life, but that we wholly remouing this world, see before vs, as our mark, the wil of God: as it is manifested & opened vnto vs in his word. f Why therfore is no place left for reason, which the heathen Philosophers placed as a guide in a Calit, not for man's free will, which the Popish schoolmen dream of, for the world must be reuolued like a globe. 18. and 23. and 4. 17. and Colossians 2. 8. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. CHAP. XIII.

15 *That we be not to be dealt with as flesh, 16 This should be our fault they be not offended, 17 And in the other side hee commends them not easily to iudges of the stranger:
18 That which is the bound of satisfaction, 19 And charitie, 20 Christ Iesus in this confesse.*

Him that is weake in the faith, receive vnto
you, but not for controuersies of disputations.

2 One beleueth that hee may eate of all things: & another, which is weake, eateth herbes.
3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, condemne him that eateth: for God hath recei-ued him.

4 Who art thou that condemnest another mans seruant? hee standeth or falleth to his owne master: yea he shall be established: for God is able to make him stand.

5 This man esteemeth one day aboue another day: and another man counteth euery day alike: let euery man bee fully perswaded in his minde.

6 Hee that obserueth the day, obserueth it to the Lord: and hee that obserueth not the day, obserueth it not to the Lord. Hee that eateth eateth to the Lord: for he giueth God thanks:

and he that eateth not, eateth not to the Lord,
and giueth God thanks.

7 For some of vs liueth co himselfe, neither doeth any die to himselfe.

8 For whether wee liue, wee liue vnto the Lord: or whether we die, wee die vnto the Lord:
whether wee liue therefore, or die, wee are the Lords.

9 For Christ therefore died and rose againe, and reuiued, that he might be Lord both of the dead and the quicke.

10 But why doest thou condemne thy brother? or why doest thou despise thy brother? for we shall all appeare before the iudgement seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, & I liue, saith the Lord, and euery knee shall bow to me, and all tongues shall confesse vnto God.

12 So then euery one of vs shall giue account of himselfe vnto God.

13 Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but iudge yee iudgement rather in this, that no man put an occasion to fall, or a stumbling blocke before his brother.

14 I know, and am perswaded through the Lord Iesus, that there is nothing vncleane of it selfe: but vnto him that iudgeth any thing to bee vn-cleane, to him it is vncleane.

15 But if thy brother be grieved for the meat, now walkest thou not charitably: destroy not him with thy meate, for whom Christ died.

16 Cause not your commoditie to bee enuill spoken of.

17 For the kingdome of God is not meate nor drinke, but righteousness, and peace, and loy in the holy Ghost.

18 For whosoever in these things serueth Christ, is acceptable vnto God, and is approved of men.

19 Let vs then follow thole things which concerne peace, and wherewith one may edifie another.

10 Wee must not sicke, staile
be, in the meate it selfe, but in the vie of the meate, so that he is iustly to be reprehended that liueth so, that he casteth not his eyes vpon God.

11 For both our life and our death is dedicated to him,
and for this cause Christ hath properly died, and not simply, that we might eate this meate or that.

After that he hath concluded what is not to be done, see that you are not to be done, to wit, we must take heed that we do not utterly call downe with bubling our libertie, our brother which is nor yet free.

16 Another argument for this by this means the libertie of the Gospel is full of grace, as though it were the way to accept any thing whateuer, and boldness, as to all things.

17 A general reason, and the ground of all the other arguments. The law of heaven consisteth not in their outward things, but in the inward conscience, and peace, and comfort of the holy Ghost.

18 A general conclusion: The vie of this libertie is not our whole life, but to be referred to the edifying of one another in such that we cherish that thing which is the substance of the life of our brethren, which is of a selfe pure and lawfull.

come to you with abundance of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.

30 Also brethren, I beseech you for our Lord Jesus Christs sake, and for the love of the spirit, that yee would strive with me by prayers to God for me.

31 That I may be delivered from them which are disobedient in Iudea, and that my service which I have to do at Hierusalem, may be accepted of the Saints.

32 That I may come vnto you with ioy by the will of God, and may wish you be refreshed.

33 Thus the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

CHAP. XVI.

1 His commendeth Phoebe. 2 Her friendly greeting to manie, 3 and warneth to beware of them which are the cause of division.

1 Commend vnto you Phoebe our sister, which is a servant of the Church of Cenchrea:

2 That yee receive her in the Lord, as it becometh Saints, and that yee assist her in whatsoever business she needeth of your ayd: for she hath given hospitalitie vnto many, and to me also.

3 Greet Priscilla, and Aquila, my fellow helpers in Christ Jesus,

4 (Which have for my life layed downe their owne necke. Vnto whom not I onely giue thanks, but also all the Churches of the Gentiles.)

5 Likewise greet the Church that is in their house. Salute my beloued Epenetus, which is the first fruits of Achaia in Christ.

6 Greet Mary which bestowed much labour on vs,

7 Salute Andronicus and Iunia my cousins and fellow prisoners, which are notable among the Apostles, and were in Christ before me.

8 Greet Amplias my beloued in the Lord.

9 Salute Vibanus our fellow helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloued.

10 Salute Apelles approoued in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobulus friends.

11 Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greet them which are of the friends of Narcissus which are in the Lord.

12 Salute Tryphena and Tryphasa, which labour in the Lord. Salute the beloued Persis, which woman hath laboured much in the Lord.

13 Salute Rufus chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.

14 Greete Afyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Mercurius, and the brethren which are with them.

15 Salute Philologus and Inlias, Nereas, and his sister, and Olympas, and all the Saints which are with them.

16 Salute one another with an holy Kisse. The Churches of Christ salute you.

17 Now I beseech you brethren, mark them diligently which cause diuision and offences, contrary to the doctrine which ye haue learned, and auoide them.

18 For they that are such, serue not the Lord Jesus Christ but their owne bellies, & with a faire speech and flattering deceive the hearts of the simple.

19 For your obedience is come abroad among all: I am glad therefore of you: but yet I would haue you wise vnto that which is good, and simple concerning euill.

24 The God of peace shall tread Satan vnder your feete shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

21 Timothy my helper, and Lucius and Iason, and Sosipater my kinsmen, salute you.

22 Tertius, which wrote out this Epistle, salute you in the Lord.

23 Gaius mine hoste, and of the whole Church saluteth you. Erastus the steward of the city saluteth you, and Quartus a brother.

24 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

25 To him now that is of power to establish you according to my Gospel, and preaching of Jesus Christ, & by the reuelation of the misterie, which was kept secret since the world began:

26 (But now is opened, and published among all nations by the Scriptures of the Prophets, at the commandement of the everlasting God for the obedience of faith)

27 To God, I say, only wise, be praise through Jesus Christ for ever. Amen.

Written to the Romanes from Corinthus, and sent by Phoebe, seruante of the Church which is at Cenchrea.

wisdom, that you may knowe good things, and observe them, beware of the doctrine and floures of false prophets, and resist them openly: and this place is plainly declared by the Popes faith of euill, when they maintain it to be sufficient for our men to be leuer as number men belongeth, without further knowledge, or examination what the matter is, or what ground is hath: using these daily speeches, wee helme as our fathers helmed, and so helme in the Church belongeth. A man that knoweth the way to deuce, much light as direction in deed. We must fight, with a constant hope of victory. 1. hours in Christ, yet haue ye not many fathers: for in Christ Iesus I haue begotten you through the Gospell.

16 Wherefore, I pray you, be ye followers of me.

17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, which is my beloued sonne, and faithfull in the Lord, which shall put you in remembrance of my wayes in Christ, as I teach every where in euery Church.

18 Some are puffed vp as though I would not come vnto you.

19 But I will come to you shortly, & if the Lord wil, and will know, not the words of them which are puffed vp, but the power.

20 For the kingdome of God is not in word, but in power.

21 What wil ye that I come vnto you with a rod, or in loue, and in the spirit of meekenesse?

What way and rule I follow every where in teaching the Churches. 18 Left of all hee descendeth also to Apollonike threatenings, but yet chiding them as a father, left by their disorder hee bee constrained to come to punish some among them. 19 As 2p. 11. 20 4. 15. 21 By words, hee smother their paines and coloured kind of eloquence, against which he setteth the verities of the spirit. 22 A passing ouer to another part of this Epistle, wherein he reprehendeth most sharply a very hainous offence, shewing the vie of ecclesiasticall correction. 1 Meekely afflicted toward you.

CHAP. V.

1 That they haue misused him who committed incest with his mother in law, 2. 6 hee sheweth should cause them rather to be ashamed, then to reioyce: 10 such kinde of wickednesse is to be punished with excommunication, 12 left other bee infected with it.

It is heard certainly that there is fornication among you: and such fornication as is not once named among the Gentiles, that one should haue his fathers wife.

2 And ye are puffed vp and haue not rather sorrowed, that hee which hath done this deepe, might be put from among you.

3 For I verely, as absent in body, but present in spirit, haue determined already, as though I were present, that hee that hath thus done this thing,

4 When yee are gathered together, and my spirit, in the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that such one, I say, & by the power of our Lord Iesus Christ,

5 Bee deliuered vnto Satan, for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Iesus.

6 Your reioycing is not good: know yee not that a little leauen leaueneth the whole lump?

7 Purge out therefore the old leauen, that ye may be a new lump, as yee are vnleavened: for Christ our Pasche is sacrificed for vs.

8 Therefore let vs keepe the feast, not with old leauen, neither in the leauen of malicioufnesse

2 They are greatly to be reprehended which by suffering of wickednesse, set forth the Church of God to be mocked and scorned of the infidels. 3 There are none more proud then they that least know themselves. 4 Excommunication ought not to be committed to one mans power, but must be done by the authority of the whole Congregation, after that the matter is diligently examined. 5 In mind, though and will. 6 Calling upon Christ his Name. 7 There is no doubt but that iudgement is rewarded in heauen, wherein Christ himselfe iudgeth as Iudge. 8 The excommunicate is deliuered to the power of Satan, in that that he is cast out of the house of God. 9 Who is to be deliuered to Satan, the Lord himselfe doth teach when he saith, Let him be vnto thee as an Heathen and Pagan. 10 18. 19. that is so say, to be disfranchised, and put out of the right and libertie of the citie of Christ, which is the Church, without which Satans lord and master. 11 The end of excommunication is not to cast away the excommunicate, that he should utterly perish, but that hee may be saved, to wit, that by this meane his flesh may be tamed, that hee may learne to liue to the Spirit. 12 Another end of excommunication is, that other be not infected, and therefore it must of necessity be retained in the Church, that the one be not infected by the other. 13 Is taught, and not grounded upon good reason, as though you were excellent, and yet there is such wickednesse found amongst you. 14 By alluding to the ceremony of the Pasche, he exhorteth them to cast out that vnleane person from amongst them. In times past sayth he, it was not lawfull for them which did celebrate the Pasche, to cate brauened bread: In such that hee was holden at vnleane and unworthy to cate the Pasche, who neuer had but tasted of leauen. Now our whole life must bee as were the feast of vnleavened bread, wherein all they that are partakers of that immaculate Lambe which is slain, must cast out both of themselves, and also out of their houses and Congregations, all impurities. 15 By lamps hee meaneth the whole body of the Church, every member whereof must be vnleavened bread, that is, be preserved in spirit by plucking away the old corruption. 16 The Leuen of our Pasche. 17 Let vs keepe our whole life, as it were a continual feast, haue it in us, and in our life.

and wickednesse: but with the vnleavened bread of sinceritie and truth.

9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, that yee should not company together with fornicators,

10 And not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the couetous, or with extortioners, or with idolaters: for then ye must go out of the world.

11 But now I haue written vnto you, that yee company not together: if any that is called a brother, be a fornicator, or couetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner, with such one eate not.

12 For what haue I to doe to iudge them also which are without? doe ye not iudge them that are within?

13 But God iudgeth them that are without. Put away therefore from among your felues that wicked man.

ther he meane the those feasts of lone whereat the Supper of the Lord was received, or els their common viage and maner of life which is rightly to be taken, lett any man should thinke that either matrimony were broken by excommunication, or such duties kindred and cut off thereby, as we owe one to another: children to their parents, subjects to their rulers, seruants to their masters, and neighbour to neighbour, to win one another to God. 14 If you should utterly assever from such mens company, you should goe out of the world: therefore I speake of them which are in the very bosome of the Church, which must be called home by discipline, and not of them which are without, with whom you must labour by all meanes possible, to bring them to Christ. 15 Such as are false brethren, ought to be cast out of the Congregation: as for them which are without, they must be left to the iudgement of God.

CHAP. VI.

1 He inuiceth against their contentions in law matters, & wherewith they vexed one another vnder iudges that were infidels, so the reproch of the Gospell, y and then sharply streameth fornication out.

Are any of you, hauing businesse against another, be iudged vnder the vniust, and not vnder the Saints?

2 Doe yee not know that the Saints shall iudge the world? If the world then shalbe iudged by you, are yee vnworthy to iudge the smallest matters?

3 Know yee not that wee shall iudge the Angels? how much more things that pertaine to this life?

4 If then yee haue iudgements of things pertaining to this life, set vp them which are least esteemed in the Church.

5 I speake it to your shame. It is so that there is not a wise man among you? no, not one, that can iudge betwene his brethren?

6 But a brother goeth to law with a brother and that vnder the infidels.

7 Nowe therefore there is altogether

9 Now he speaketh more generally: and that which hee speake before of the infectious persons, he sheweth that it pertaineth to others, which are known to be wicked, and such as through their naughty life are a scandal to the Church, which ought also by lawfull order be cast out of the community of the Church. And making mention of eating of meat, either he meane the those feasts of lone whereat the Supper of the Lord was received, or els their common viage and maner of life which is rightly to be taken, lett any man should thinke that either matrimony were broken by excommunication, or such duties kindred and cut off thereby, as we owe one to another: children to their parents, subjects to their rulers, seruants to their masters, and neighbour to neighbour, to win one another to God. 14 If you should utterly assever from such mens company, you should goe out of the world: therefore I speake of them which are in the very bosome of the Church, which must be called home by discipline, and not of them which are without, with whom you must labour by all meanes possible, to bring them to Christ. 15 Such as are false brethren, ought to be cast out of the Congregation: as for them which are without, they must be left to the iudgement of God.

hee doeth not forbid that one neighbour may goe to law with another, if need require, but yet vnder holy iudges. 3 Hee gathereth by a comparison that the faithfull cannot seeke to infidels to be iudged, without great iniurie done to the Saints, seeing that God himselfe will make the Saints iudges of the world, and of the deuils, with his Sonne Christ: much more ought they to iudge these light and small causes, which may be by equitie and good conscience, determined. 4 The conclusion, wherein hee prescribeth a remedie for this mischief: to wit, if they had their priuate affaires betwene themselves by the same arbiters out of the Church, for which matter and purpose, the least of you, sayeth he, is sufficient. Therefore hee condemneth not iudgement seats, but sheweth what is expedient for the circumstance of the time, and that without any diminishing of the right of the magistrats: for hee speaketh not of iudgements which are practised betwene the faithfull and the infidels, neither of publike iudgements, but of controuersies which may be ended by priuate arbiters. 5 Courts and places of iudgement. 6 Lett it not be absent among you. 7 Hee applieth the general proposition to a particular, always calling them backe to this, to take away from them that false opinion of their own excellencie, from whence all these mischiefs spring. 8 Now hee goeth further also, and although by granting them priuate arbiters out of the Congregation of the faithfull, he doth not simply condemn, but rather establish priuate iudgements, so that they be exercised without offence, yet hee sheweth that if they were such as they ought to be, and as it were to be wished, they should not neede to vnto remedie neither.

infirmities in you, that yee goe to law one with another: why rather suffer ye not wrong? why rather sustaine ye not harme?

8 Nay, yee your selues doe wrong, and doe harme, and that to your brethren.

9 Know ye not that the vnrighteous shall not inherite the kingdome of God? Bee not deceived: neither fornicatours, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor wantons, nor buggerers,

10 Nor theeuers, nor couetous, nor drunkards, nor railers, nor extortioners shall inherite the Kingdome of God.

11 And such were some of you: but yee are washed, but ye are sanctified, but yee are iustified, in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 ¶ All things are lawfull vnto me, but all things are not profitable. I may do all things, but I will not be brought vnder the power of any thing.

13 Meates are ordeined for the bellie, and the bellie for the meates: but God shall destroy both it, and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body.

14 And God hath also raised vp the Lord, and shall raise vs vp by his power.

15 Know ye not, that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 Doe yee not know, that hee which coupleth himselfe with an harlot, is one body? for two, saith he, shall be one flesh.

17 But he that is ioyned vnto the Lord, is one spirit.

18 ¶ Flee fornication: every sinne that a man doeth, is without the body: but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his owne body.

19 Know ye not, that your body is the temple of the holy Ghost, which is in you, whom ye haue of God? and ye are not your owne.

20 For ye are bought for a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your spirit: for they are Gods.

that our bodies are consecrated to God. ¶ Chap. 3. 17. 2. Cor. 6. 16. 15 The third argument: Because we are not our owne men, to giue our selues to any other, much lesse to Satan and the flesh, seeing that God himselfe hath bought vs, and that with a great price, to the end that both in body and soule, wee should serue to his glory. ¶ Chap. 7. 23. 1. pet. 1. 18.

CHAP. VII.

1 Increasing here of marriage, 4 which is a remede against fornication, 10 and may not be broken, 18. 20 hee which euery man is lawe consented with his los. 25 He sheweth what the end of virginity should be. 35 and who ought to marry.

Now concerning the things whereof yee wrote vnto me, it were good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Neuertheless, to auoyd fornication, let euery man haue his wife, and let euery woman haue her owne husband.

3 Let the husband giue vnto the wife due beneuolence, and likewise also the wife vnto the husband.

4 The wife hath not the power of her owne body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not the power of his owne body, but the wife.

5 Defraud not one another, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give your selues to fasting and prayer, and againe come together, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

6 But I speake this by permission, not by commandment.

7 For I would that all men were euē as I myselfe am: but euery man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 Therefore I say vnto the vnmarried, and vnto the widowes, It is good for them if they abide euē as I doe.

9 But if they cannot abstaine, let them marry: for it is better to marry then to burne.

10 And to married I command, not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife depart fro her husband.

11 But and if shee depart, let her remaine vnmarried, or be reconciled vnto her husband, and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the remnant I speake, and not the Lord, If any brother haue a wife that beleueeth not, if she be content to dwell with him, let him not forsake her.

13 And the woman which hath an husband that beleueeth not, if he be content to dwell with her, let her not forsake him.

another. 4 Hee addeth an exception, vnto the one abstaine from the other by mutuall consent, that they may the better giue themselves to prayer, when in notwithstanding, he warneth them to consider what is expedient, lest by this long breaking off as it were from marriage, they be stirred vp to incontinencie. 5 Doe nothing. 6 Finally, he teacheth that marriage is not simply necessary for all men, but for them which haue not the gift of continencie, and this gift is by a peculiar grace of God. 7 I will. 8 Lastly, he giueth the selfe same admonition touching the second marriage, to wit, that a single life is to be allowed, but for such as haue the gift of continencie: otherwise they ought to marry againe, that their conscience may be at peace. 9 Thou whole place is flat against them which conceiue second marriages. 10 So to burne with lust, that either she will yeeldeth to the temptation, or else we cannot call upon God with a quiet conscience. 11 Mat. 5. 32 and 19. 9. Mar. 10. 11, 12, Luke 16. 18. 12 Seventiethly, he forbiddeth contentions, and publishing of diuorces (for he speaketh not here of the fault of whoredom, which was then death euē by the lawe of the Romanes also) whereby he affirmeth that the band of marriage is not dissolved, and that from Christ his mouth. 13 Eightiethly, he affirmeth, that those marriages which are already contracted betwene a faithfull, and an vnfaithfull or infidel, are firme, so that the faithfull may not forsake the vnfaithfull.

13 Another argument why fornication is to be eichewed, because it defileth the body with a peculiar kind of filthinesse.

14 The third argument: Because a fornicatour is sacrilegious, for that our bodies are consecrated to God.

15 The fourth argument: Because we are not our owne men, to giue our selues to any other, much lesse to Satan and the flesh, seeing that God himselfe hath bought vs, and that with a great price, to the end that both in body and soule, wee should serue to his glory.

1 Hee teacheth concerning marriage, that although a single life hath his commodities, which he will declare afterwards, yet that marriage is necessary for the auoyding of fornication, but so that neither one man may haue many wiues, nor any wife many husbands.

2 Touching those matters whereof you wrote vnto me.

3 Commendous, and (as he saith) expedient. For marriage bringeth many grieues with it, and that by reason of the corruption of our first estate.

4 Secondly, he sheweth that the parties married, must with singular affection entirely loue one the other.

5 This word (dure) consisteth of all kind of beneuolence, though he speake more of one sort then of the other, in that that followeth.

6 Thirdly, he warneth them that they are each in others power, as touching the body, so that they may not defraud one another.

7 Hee addeth an exception, vnto the one abstaine from the other by mutuall consent, that they may the better giue themselves to prayer, when in notwithstanding, he warneth them to consider what is expedient, lest by this long breaking off as it were from marriage, they be stirred vp to incontinencie. 8 Doe nothing. 9 Finally, he teacheth that marriage is not simply necessary for all men, but for them which haue not the gift of continencie, and this gift is by a peculiar grace of God. 10 I will. 11 Lastly, he giueth the selfe same admonition touching the second marriage, to wit, that a single life is to be allowed, but for such as haue the gift of continencie: otherwise they ought to marry againe, that their conscience may be at peace. 12 Thou whole place is flat against them which conceiue second marriages. 13 So to burne with lust, that either she will yeeldeth to the temptation, or else we cannot call upon God with a quiet conscience. 14 Mat. 5. 32 and 19. 9. Mar. 10. 11, 12, Luke 16. 18. 15 Seventiethly, he forbiddeth contentions, and publishing of diuorces (for he speaketh not here of the fault of whoredom, which was then death euē by the lawe of the Romanes also) whereby he affirmeth that the band of marriage is not dissolved, and that from Christ his mouth. 16 Eightiethly, he affirmeth, that those marriages which are already contracted betwene a faithfull, and an vnfaithfull or infidel, are firme, so that the faithfull may not forsake the vnfaithfull.

He answered an objection that the faithfull is described by the society of the vnfaithfull. The Apostle denieth that, and prooueth that the faithfull man with good conscience
may vse the vessel of his vnfaithfull wife, by this that their children which are borne of them, are accounted holy (that is, contained within the promise) for it is said
to all the faithfull,
I will be thy God,
and the God of thy seed.

The godliness of the wife is of more force, to cause their children to be accounted holy,
then their fidelity, to cause the children to be faithfull. The children are not sanctified or made holy by the holiness of their parents, but by the holiness of the faithfull. To the faithfull husband.
This place destroyeth the opinion of them that would not have children to be baptised, and their opinion also,
that make baptisme the very cause of holiness.

For the children of the faithfull are holy, by the virtue of the covenant, even before baptism, and baptism is added to the state of that holiness. 10 He answereth to a question: what if the vnfaithfull forsake the faithfull? then is the faithfull free, both he, because he is forsaken of the vnfaithfull. 11 When any such thing shall befall, 12 Let any man upon pretence of this libertie should giue occasion to the vnfaithfull to depart, hee giueth to vnderstand, that marriage contracted with an infidel ought peaceably to be kept, that if it be possible the infidel may be wonne to the faith. 13 Taking occasion by that which hee sayd of the bondage and libertie of matrimony, hee digresseth to a generall doctrine concerning the outward state and condition of mans life, as Circumcision and vncircumcision, seruitude and libertie: warning every man generally to liue with a contented minde in the Lord what state or condition hee be in, because that those outward things, as to be circumcised or vncircumcised, to be bond or free, are not of the substance (as they seeme to be) of the Kingdom of heauen. 14 Each bound him to a certaine kinde of life. 15 Notwithstanding hee giueth vs to vnderstand, that in these examples all are not of like sort: because that circumcision is not simply of it selfe to be desired, but such as are bound may desire to be free. Therefore herein onely they are equal, that the kingdom of God consisteth not in them, and therefore there are no hindrance to obey God. 16 Hee sayd to gather his vncircumcised, who by the helpe of a Christian, receiueth an upper kinde: which is done by the drawing the circumcised with an instrument, to make it to vnder the new. Cessus in hury booke, and 25. chapter. 17 1. Tim. 5. 1. p. As though thou calling woe to you women a calling for Christ. 18 Hee that is in state of a seruant, and is called to be a Christian. Chap. 6. 20. 1. pet. 1. 18. 19. 14. He sheweth the reason of the vnlikenesse, because that he that desireth to be circumcised, maketh himselfe subiect to mans tradition, and not to God. And this may bee much more vnderstood of superstitions, which some doe foolishly account for things indifferent. 15 A repetition of the generall doctrine. 16 So purify and from the heere that your desires may be approved before God. 17 He enjoineth virginities to no man, yet hee perswadeeth and prayeth it for another respect, to wit, both for the necessity of the present time, because y^e faithfull could scarce abide in any one place, and vie the commodities of this present life, and therefore such as were not troubled with families, might bee the readier: and also for the cares of this life, which marriage draweth with it of necessity, so that they cannot but haue their minde distracted, and this hath place in women especially. 18 The circumstances considered, that I haue set down. 19 It is I that speake that which I am considered to speake, and so I say, I am a man, but yet worthy credit for I haue shewed of the Lord to bee such an one. 20 To remaine a virgin. 21 For hee that is in the state of a seruant, and is called to be a Christian, hee is continually tempted and draweth to the state of a seruant, and so hee must be contented to be such as hee is, and so hee must be contented to be such as hee is.

14 For the vnbeleeuing husband is sanctified to the wife, and the vnbeleeuing wife is sanctified to the husband, else were your children vnleane: but now are they holy.

15 But if the vnbeleeuing depart, let him depart: a brother or a sister is not in subiection in such things: but God hath called vs in peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt saue thine husband? Or what knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called euery one, so let him walke, and so ordeine I in all Churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not gather his vncircumcision: is any called vncircumcised? let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God.

20 Let euery man abide in the same vocation wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a seruant? care not for it: but if yet thou mayest be free, vse it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a seruant, is the Lords freeman: likewise also hee that is called being free, is Christes seruant.

23 Yee are bought with a price: bee not the seruants of men.

24 Brethren, let euery man wherein he was called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins, I haue no commandment of the Lord: but I giue mine aduise, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithfull.

26 I suppose then this to bee good for the present necessitie: I mean, that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound vnto a wife? seeke not to be loosed: art thou loosed from a wife? seeke not a wife.

28 But if thou takest a wife, thou sinnest not: and if a virgin marrie, she sinnet not: neuerthelesse, such shall haue trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

29 And this I say, brethren, because the time is short, hereafter that both they which haue wiues, be as though they had none:

30 And they that weepe, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that buy, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vse this world, as though they vsed it not: for the fashion of this world goeth away.

32 And I would haue you without care. The vnmarried careth for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord.

33 But hee that is married, careth for the things of the worlde, how hee may please his wife.

34 There is difference also betweene a virgin and a wife: the vnmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy, both in body and in spirit: but shee that is married, careth for the things of the worlde, how shee may please her husband.

35 And this I speake for your owne commodity, not to tangle you in a snare, but that yee follow that which is honest, and that ye may cleaue fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36 But if any man thinke that it is vncomely for his virgin, if she passe the floure of her age, and neede so require, let him doe what he will, he sinneth not: let them be married.

37 Neuerthelesse, hee that standeth firme in his heart, that he hath no need, but hath power ouer his owne will, and hath so decreed in his heart, that he will keepe his virgin, hee doeth well.

38 So then hee that giueth her to marriage, doeth well, but hee that giueth her not to marriage, doeth better.

39 The wife is bound by the law, as long as her husband is liueth: but if her husband bee dead, shee is at libertie to marrie with whom shee will, onely in the Lord.

40 But shee is more blessed, if shee so abide, in my iudgement: and I thinke that I haue also the Spirit of God.

For hee that is in the state of a seruant, and is called to be a Christian, hee is continually tempted and draweth to the state of a seruant, and so hee must be contented to be such as hee is, and so hee must be contented to be such as hee is. 17 Now hee turneth himselfe to the Parents, in whose power and authoritie their children are, warning them, that according to the former doctrine they consider what is meete and conuenient for their children, that they neither deplete them of the necessary remedie against incontinencie, nor constrain them to marriage, whereas neither their will doeth lead them, nor any necessity vergeth them. And againe he prayeth virginities, but of it selle, and not in all. 18 Hee saith well for so hee expoundeth it ver. 38. 1 Reposed with himselfe. 2 That the restraint of his daughter in force him not, or any other matter, but that he may (as hee keepeth a virgin). 3 Provideth more commodiously for his children, and that hee keepeth a widow, hee speaketh now of a widow, to wit, that shee may marrie againe, so that shee doe not in the feare of God: and yet hee dissembleth not, but saith, that if she remaine still a widow, she shall be void of many cares. 4 By the law of marriage. 5 Rom. 7. 1. 6 Religiously, and in the feare of God. 7 1. Cor. 7. 48.

CHAP. VIII.

1 From this place vnto the end of the tenth Chapter, he willeth them not to be as the Gentiles prophane banquets. 2 Hee restraineth the abuse of Christian libertie, 3 and sheweth that knowledge must be tempered with charitie.

27 Hee (h) he vnfaithfull wife things belong to the present life, for marriage brought with it many discomforts: for that hee doeth more to a sole life in the world, as it is a more agreeable God them marriage, and for these discomforts, which (if it were possible) he would wish men to be void of, that they might giue themselves to God onely.

28 I would your weakness were provided for. 29 For we are now in the latter end of the worlde. 30 By warning the Hebrewes vnderstand all aduersity, and by 107, as prophesie.

31 These things which God teach vs here. 32 The wife, the shape and figure, whereby hee flourisheth, as shee doeth in the world, that counteth.

33 They that are married, haue their wills drawn together and thence, and therefore if any man haue the gift of continencie, it is more commendable for him to abide alone: but they that are married, must care for the things of the world, as Clem. Strom. 3. f. Almo.

34 Hee saith well that he will instruct no man either to marrie or not to marrie, but to shew them largely what kinde of life is most commendable. 35 Now hee turneth himselfe to the Parents, in whose power and authoritie their children are, warning them, that according to the former doctrine they consider what is meete and conuenient for their children, that they neither deplete them of the necessary remedie against incontinencie, nor constrain them to marriage, whereas neither their will doeth lead them, nor any necessity vergeth them. And againe he prayeth virginities, but of it selle, and not in all. 36 Hee saith well for so hee expoundeth it ver. 38. 1 Reposed with himselfe. 2 That the restraint of his daughter in force him not, or any other matter, but that he may (as hee keepeth a virgin). 3 Provideth more commodiously for his children, and that hee keepeth a widow, hee speaketh now of a widow, to wit, that shee may marrie againe, so that shee doe not in the feare of God: and yet hee dissembleth not, but saith, that if she remaine still a widow, she shall be void of many cares. 4 By the law of marriage. 5 Rom. 7. 1. 6 Religiously, and in the feare of God. 7 1. For the unblessing husband is sanctified to the wife, and the unblessing wife is sanctified to the husband, else were your children vnclean: but now are they holy.

15 But if the unblessing depart, let him depart: a brother or a sister is not in subiection in such things: but God hath called vs in peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt saue thine husband? Or what knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called euery one, so let him walke, and so ordeine I in all Churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not gather the vncircumcision: is any called vncircumcised? let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God.

20 Let euery man abide in the same vocation wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a seruant? care not for it: but if yet thou mayest be free, use it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a seruant, is the Lords freeman: likewise also hee that is called being free, is Christs seruant.

23 Yee are bought with a price: bee not the seruants of men.

24 Brethren, let euery man wherin he was called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins, I have no commandement of the Lord: but I giue mine iudgement, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithfull.

26 I suppose then this to be good for the present necessity: I mean, that it is good for a man to be

For the unblessing husband is sanctified to the wife, and the unblessing wife is sanctified to the husband, else were your children vnclean: but now are they holy.

26 I suppose then this to be good for the present necessity: I mean, that it is good for a man to be

Art thou called being a wife? seeke not to be loosed: art thou loosed from a wife? seeke not a wife.

28 But if thou takest a wife, thou sinnest not: and if a virgin marrie, the sinneeth not: neuertheless, such shall haue trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

29 And this I say, brethren, because the time is short, hereafter that both they which haue wiues, be as though they had none:

30 And they that weepe, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that buy, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vie this world, as though they vied it not: for the fashion of this world goeth away.

32 And I would haue you without care. The vnmarrried careth for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord.

33 But hee that is married, careth for the things of the worlde, how hee may please his wife.

34 There is difference also betwene a virgin and a wife: the vnmarrried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy, both in body and in spirit: but shee that is married, careth for the things of the worlde, how shee may please her husband.

35 And this I speake for your owne commodity, not to tangle you in a snare, but that ye follow that which is honest, and that ye may cleaue fast vnto the Lord, without separation.

36 But if any man thinke that it is vncome-ly for his virgine, if she passe the floure of her age, and neede to require, let him doe what he will, he sinneeth not: let them be married.

37 Neuertheless, hee that standeth firme in his heart, that he hath no need, but hath power over his owne will, and hath so decreed in his heart, that he will keepe his virgine, hee doeth well.

38 So then hee that giueth her to marriage, doeth well, but hee that giueth her not to marriage, doeth better.

39 The wife is bound by the Law, as long as her husband liueth: but if her husband bee dead, shee is at liberty to marrie with whom shee will, onely in the Lord.

40 But shee is more blessed, if shee so abide, in my iudgement: and I thinke that I haue also the Spirit of God.

By the (h) be understood what things were belonging to the present life, for marriage brings with it many calamities: so that he leaues more to a sole life, and because it is a service more agreeable to God then marriage, and for those calamities, which if it were possible he would wish men to be void of, that they might give themselves to God only.

2 I would your weakness were provided for.

4 For we are now in the latter end of the world.

6 By weeping the Hebrews understand all adversities, and by joy, all prosperities.

7 These things which God giueth vs here.

8 The guise, the shape and fashion whereby he flourisheth on, as there is nothing in the world that continueth.

9 They that are married, least their wits do come to other and thither, and therefore if any man haue the gift of continence, let it more commendation for him to be alone: but they that are married, must care for the things of the world also.

10 Clem. Strom. 3. f. 41nde.

11 He meaueth that he will enforce no man either to marry or not to marry, but to show them largely what kinde of life is most commendable.

12 Now he turneth himselfe to the Parents, in whose power and authoritie their children are, warning them that according as the former doctrine they could see what is meete and commendable for their children, that they neither depriue them of the necessary remedie against incontinencie, nor constrain them to marriage, whereas neither their will doeth leade them, nor any necessity vergeth them.

And againe he prayeth virginities, but of it selfe, and not in all.

13 He doth well for so he expoundeth vs 1. 1. Rejoiced with himselfe.

2 That the weakness of his body should be his strength, or any other matter, but that he may (saith) keepe a virginity.

3 Proudly more commendably for his children, and that not simply, but by reason of such conditions as are before mentioned.

12 That which hee saith of a widower, hee speaketh more of a widowe, to wit, that shee may marrie againe, if shee doe it in the feare of God: and yet hee dissembleth not, but saith, that if she remaineth a widow, she shall be void of many cares.

VI. II. Neuer-

12. If others will use the power of this power, we will not use it, but suffer all things, that we should not hinder the Gospel of Christ.

13. Do ye also know that they which minister about the holy things, are of the things of the Temple, and they which were in the altar, are partakers with the altar?

14. So also hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the Gospel, should live of the Gospel.

15. But I have used none of these things: neither wrote I these things, that it should be so done unto me; for it were better for me to die, than that any man should make my rejoicing vain.

16. For though I preach the Gospel, I have nothing to rejoice of; for necessity is laid upon me; and woe is unto me, if I preach not the Gospel.

17. For if I do it willingly, I have a reward; but if I do it against my will, notwithstanding the dispensation is committed unto me.

18. What is my reward then? verily that when I preach the Gospel, I make the Gospel of Christ free, that I abide not mine authority in the Gospel.

19. For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all men, that I might winne the more.

20. And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I may winne the Jews; to them that are under the Law, as under the Law, that I may winne them; that are without the Law, as without the Law, (when I am not without Law, as pertaining to God, but as in the Law of Christ, that I may winne them; that are weak, as weak, that I may winne the weak; I am made all things unto all men, that I might by all means save some.)

21. And this I do for the Gospel's sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.

22. Know ye not, that they which minister in a race, runne all yet according to the rule, so that they may obtaine the crown?

23. And every man that competeth in the games, abstaineth from all things, that they may obtaine a crown which shall not corrupt.

24. I therefore so runne, as not as uncertainly: so fight I, as not as one that beareth the sword.

25. But I beat downe my body, & bring it into subjection, lest by any means after that I have preached to other, I myself should be reprov'd.

26. I therefore so runne, as not as uncertainly: so fight I, as not as one that beareth the sword.

27. But I beat downe my body, & bring it into subjection, lest by any means after that I have preached to other, I myself should be reprov'd.

28. I therefore so runne, as not as uncertainly: so fight I, as not as one that beareth the sword.

The side man which first a gainst the Spirit. A You word (re. promised in 1991)

He fettereth out that which he said laying before them an example of the horrible judgement of God against the which had in effect the selfe same pledges of the same adoption and situation that we have: and yet notwithstanding when they gave themselves to idols, perished in the wilderness, being horribly and manifestly punished.

Now, moreover and besides that these things are fitly spoken against them that frequent idols, the same also seeme to be allegued to this ende and purpose, because many men are thus minded, that these things are not of such great weight that God will be angry with them if they vile them, so that they frequent Christian assemblies and be baptized, and receive the Communion.

which will not suffer you to be tempted above that you be able, but will even give the issue with the temptation, that ye may be able to bear it.

14 Wherefore my beloved, flee from idolatry.

15 I speak as unto them which have understanding: judge ye what I say.

16 The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

17 For we that are many, are one bread and one body, because we are all partakers of one bread.

18 Behold Israel, which is after the flesh: are not they which eat of the sacrifices partakers of the Altar?

19 What say I then? that the idol is any thing? or that that which is sacrificed to idols, is any thing?

20 Nay, but that these things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not unto God: and I would not that ye should have fellowship with the devils.

21 Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils. Ye cannot be partakers of the Lords table, and of the table of devils.

22 Doe wee provoke the Lord to anger? are we stronger then he?

23 All things are lawfull for mee, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things edifie not.

24 Let no man seek his owne, but every man anothers wealth.

25 Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, eat ye, and aske no question for conscience sake.

26 For the earth is the Lords, and all that therein is.

27 If any of them which beleene not, call you to eat, and if ye will goe, whatsoever is set before you, eat, aske no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say unto you, This is sacrificed unto idols, eat it not, because of him that showed it, and for the conscience (for the earth is the Lords and all that therein is)

29 And the conscience, I say, not thine, but of that other: for why should my libertie bee condemned of another mans conscience?

30 For if I through Gods benedict bee partaker, why am I euill spoken of for that wherefore I giue thanks?

31 Whether therefore ye eat, or drinke, or whatsoever ye doe, doe all to the glory of God.

32 Giue none offence, neither to the Iewes, nor to the Grecians, nor to the Church of God:

33 Euen as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine owne profite, but the profite of many, that they might be saved.

Forke not our felicity, but Gods glory, and so the salvation of as many as were may: whereas the Apostle liketh not to propound himselfe to the Corinthians (such his owne flocke) as an example, but so that hee calleth them backe to Christ, vnto whom he himselfe hath repaied.

CHAP. XI.

1 Not blame the Corinthians, for that in their holy assemblies, a man doe pray having his head covered, & all women short headed, and because their meetings seemed to him, as if they mingled prophane bawlers with the holy Supper of the Lords, & which hee requirerh to bee altered according to Christs institution.

BE ye followers of mee, euen as I am of Christ.

2 Now brethren, I commend you, that ye remember all my things, and keepe the ordinance, as I delivered them to you.

3 But I will that ye know, that Christ is the head of every man: and the man is the womans head: and God is Christs head.

4 Euery man praying or prophesying, having any thing on his head, dishonoureth his head.

5 But every woman that prayeth or prophesieth bareheaded, dishonoureth her head: for it is: euen one very thing, as though shee were shauen.

6 Therefore if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorne: and if it be shame for a woman to be shorne or shauen, let her be covered.

7 For a man ought not to cower his head: forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.

9 For the man was not created for the womans sake: but the woman for the mans sake.

10 Therefore ought the woman to have power on her head, because of the Angels.

11 Of thanksgiving, that the man is created in the image of God, and that the woman is created for the mans sake, and that the man is the head of the church, as Christ is the head of the body, and that the woman is to be covered, as the church is to be sanctified by the word, and that the man is to love the woman, as himselfe.

12 Hereof hee gathereth that if men doe either pray or preach in publicke assemblies having their heads covered (which was then a signe of subiection) they did as if they spoiled themselves of their dignitie, against Gods ordinance.

13 It appeareth that this was a publicke law, forasmuch as Paul liued in Ithysa, because in these men were found to be short headed in an assembly, as a signe of subiection.

14 And likewise Paul liued in Ithysa, because in these men were found to be short headed in an assembly, as a signe of subiection.

15 And likewise Paul liued in Ithysa, because in these men were found to be short headed in an assembly, as a signe of subiection.

16 And likewise Paul liued in Ithysa, because in these men were found to be short headed in an assembly, as a signe of subiection.

17 And likewise Paul liued in Ithysa, because in these men were found to be short headed in an assembly, as a signe of subiection.

18 And likewise Paul liued in Ithysa, because in these men were found to be short headed in an assembly, as a signe of subiection.

19 And likewise Paul liued in Ithysa, because in these men were found to be short headed in an assembly, as a signe of subiection.

20 And likewise Paul liued in Ithysa, because in these men were found to be short headed in an assembly, as a signe of subiection.

21 And likewise Paul liued in Ithysa, because in these men were found to be short headed in an assembly, as a signe of subiection.

seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verely giuest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake languages more then ye all.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speake fūe wordes with mine vnderstanding, than I might also instruct others, then ten thousand wordes in a strange tongue.

20 Brethren, bee not children in vnderstanding, but as concerning maliciousnesse bee children, but in vnderstanding be of a ripe age.

21 In the Law it is written, By men of other tongues, & by other languages will I speake vnto this people: yet so shall they not heare mee, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore strange tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleue, but to them that beleue not: but prophesying serueth not for them that beleue not, but for them which beleue.

23 If therefore, when the whole Church is come together in one, and all speake strange tongues, there come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleue not, will they not say, that ye are out of your wits?

24 But if all prophesie, and there come in one that beleueeth not, or one vnlearned, he is rebuked of all men, and is iudged of all.

25 And so are the secrets of his heart made manifest, and so he will fall downe on his face, and worship God, and say plainly that God is in you in deed.

26 What is to be done then, brethren? when ye come together, according as euery one of you hath a Psalm, or hath doctrine, or hath a tongue, or hath reuelation, or hath interpretation, let all things be done vnto edifying.

27 If any man speake a strange tongue, let it be by two, or at the most, by three, and that by course, and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keepe silence in the Church, which speaketh languages, and let him speake to himselfe, and to God.

29 Let the Prophets speake, two or three, and let the other iudge.

30 And if anything bee reueiled to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.

31 For ye may all prophesie one by one, that all may learne, and all may haue comfort.

32 And the spirits of the Prophets, are subiect to the Prophets.

33 For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as we see in all the Churches of the Saints.

34 Let your women keepe silence in the Churches: for it is not meete vnto them to speake: but they ought to be as the Church, which the Law saith.

35 And if they will learne anything, let them aske their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speake in the Church.

36 Came the word of God out from you? either came it vnto you onely?

37 If any man thinke himselfe to be a Prophet, or a spirituall, let him acknowledge, that the things that I write vnto you, are the commandements of the Lord.

38 And if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore, brethren, couet to prophesie, and forbid not to speake languages.

40 Let all things bee done honestly, and by order.

ought not to care for such as be stubbornly ignorant, & will not abide to be taught, but to goe forward notwithstanding in those things which are right. prophesie might simply to be retained and kept in Congregations, the gift of tongues is not to be forbidden, but all things must be done orderly.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Gospel that Paul preached. 2 The death and resurrection of Christ. 3 Paul sawe Christ. 4 Hee had persecuted the Church, wherof afterward he was made a minister. 5 Christ first rose againe, and we all shall rise by him. 6 The last enemy, death. 7 To be baptised for dead. 8 At Ephesus Paul fought with beasts. 9 How the dead are raised. 10 The first Adam. The last Adam. 11 The first and second man. 12 We shall all be changed, we shall not all sleepe. 13 Deaths sting. 14 Victory. 15 Constance and steadfastnesse.

Moreouer, brethren, I declare vnto you the Gospel, which I preached vnto you, which yee haue also receiued, and wherein yee continue.

2 And whereby ye are saued, if yee keepe in memory, after what maner I preached it vnto you, excepte ye haue beleueed in vaine.

3 For first of all, I deliuered vnto you that which I receiued, how that Christ died for our sinnes, according to the Scriptures.

4 And that he was buried, and that hee arose the third day according to the Scriptures.

5 And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the twelue.

6 After that, he was seene of more then fūe hundred brethren at once: wherof many remaine vnto this present, and some also are asleepe.

7 After that, he was seene of Iames: then of all the Apostles.

8 And last of all he was seene also of me, as of one borne out of due time.

9 For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not meete to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.

10 But by the grace of God I am that I am, and his grace which is in mee, was not in vaine: but I laboured more abundantly then they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me.

11 Wherefore, whether it were I, or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleueed.

12 Now if it be preached, Christ is risen from the dead, and last of all by his own. 13 In the possession of our course yet. 14 Which is very hard, and cannot be, but that they that beleue, will reape the fruit of faith. 15 Of those twelue picked and chosen Apostles, which were commonly called in law, though Iudas had put out of the number. 16 At Iesus all times, hee together and as one indwelt. 17 Acts 9. 18 A Remembrance by the way, the authoritie of his Apostleship, which was requisite to be in good credit among the Churches, that this Epistle might be of force and weight amongst them. 17 The Church

1 The first traitie of this Epistle, concerning the resurrection, and he vieth a transition, or passing ouer from one matter to another, shewing first, that hee bringeth no new thing, to the end that the Corinthians might vnderstand that they had begun to swaue from the right course: and next that he goeth not about to entreate of a trifling matter, but of another chiefe point of the Gospel which it is to be taken away, these faith must needs come to be taught. And so at the length he begetheth this treatise in Christ's resurrection, which is the ground and foundation of ours, and confirmeth it first by the testimonie of the Scriptures, and by the witnesse of the Apostles and of more then fūe hundred brethren.

The sound by abundant. If there be no resurrection of the dead, then Christ is a vain.

The power of the abundant
other abundant.
If Christ be not risen, the preaching of the Gospel is in vain,
and the credit
that you give us to it is vain, and we are deceived.
He repeats
the same argument taken of an abundance, purposing to show how faith is in vain
if the resurrection of Christ be taken away.

Perceiving death is the penitment of sinne, in vain should we believe that one sinne were forgiven vs, if they remaine
then they doe renewall, if Christ were not risen
from the dead.

There are four arguments which are used to prove that Christ is risen from the dead.

from the dead, how say these among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 For if there be no resurrection of the dead,
then is Christ not risen.

14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

15 And we are found also false witnesses of God: for we have testified of God, that he hath raised up Christ: whom he hath not raised up, if so be the dead be not raised.

16 For if the dead be not raised, then is Christ not raised.

17 And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain: ye are yet in your sinnes.

18 And so they which are asleep in Christ, are perished.

19 If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men the most miserable.

20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, and was made the first fruits of them that sleep.

21 For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

23 But every man in his own order:
the first fruits CHRIST; afterward, they that are of Christ, at his coming shall rise again.

24 Then shall be the end, when he hath delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father, when he hath put downe all rule, and all authoritie and power.

25 For hee must reigne till hee hath put all his enemies vnder his feet.

26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed, is death.

27 For hee hath put downe all things vnder his feet. (And when he saith that all things are subdued to him, it is manifest that hee is excepted, which did put downe all things vnder him)

28 And when all things shall be subdued vnto him, = then shall the sonne also himselfe bee subiect vnto him, that did subdue all things vnder him, that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they doe which are baptized for dead? if the dead rise not at all, why are they then baptized for dead?

30 Why are we also in jeopardy every houre?

31 By our reioicing which I have in Christ
Iesus our Lord, I die daily.

32 If I have fought with beasts at Ephesus after the manner of men, what advantage it mee, if the dead be not raised up? let vs eate and drinke: for to morrow we shall die.

33 Be not deceived: euill speakings corrupt good manners.

34 Awake to slee righteously, and sinne not:
for some haue not the knowledge of God, I speak this to your shame.

35 But some men will say, Howe are the dead raised up? and with what body come they forth?

36 Of soyle, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it die.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare corne as it falleth, of what, or of some other.

38 But God giueth it a body at his pleasure,

Christ is enuiedered here, as he appeared in the forme of a seruant, in which respect he is the Church, as head, and that because this power was given him of his Father.

The shutting up of the arguments which is taken from the whole to the parts, for all his enemies shall be put vnder his feet, then must needs be that death also shall be subdued vnder
him.

Psalm 8.6.
Hebr. 2.8.
It is because the Sonne was not subiect to his Father before, but because his body was in soyle, the Church which is here in distress, and not yet fully partaker of his glory, is not yet fully perfect, and also because the bodies of the Saints which be in the graue, shall not be glorified till the resurrection: but Christ as he is God, hath no subiect to him as his Father hath, but as he is Priest, he is subiect to his Father.

ther together with us, as Paul saith 1. Cor. 15. of the Trinitie.

By this high kind of speech, is set forth an incomprehensible glory which floweth from God, and shall fill all of vs, as we are ioynt together with our head, but yet so, that our head shall alwaye re-maine his preeminence.

The fifth argument to hee of the end of Baptisme, to wit, because that they which are baptized, are baptized for dead: that is to say, that they may haue a remedie against death, because that Baptisme is a token of regeneration.

They that are baptized, to life and end purpose, that death may be put out of them, or to rise againe from the dead, whereof Baptisme is a seale.

The last argument: Vnder there be a resurrection of the dead, why should the Apostles daily call themselves into danger of so many deaths?

As though he said, I die daily, as all the martyrs I suffer as well as myselfe, which I may truly boast of, that I haue suffered enough for you.

The taking away of an obedienc, but that Paul did ambitiously as commonly men are wont to doe, when thou dost fight with beasts at Epheesus: This is very like, with Paul for what could that aduantage me, were it not for the glory of eternall life which I hope for?

As upon any godly man, our calling mine eyes open God, but carried away with vaine glory, or a certain bravado.

1. Cor. 15. 12. The seventh argument, which dependeth vpon the last: If there be no resurrection of the dead, why doe we give our selues to any thing else, as to eating and drinking?

These are questions that Epicurus vs.

The conclusion with a sharpe exhortation, that they take heede of the naughty company of carnall men from whence he sheweth that this mischief sprang: warning them to be with libertie vnto righteousness.

Now that hee hath proved the resurrection, he doth correct their doubtfulness, in that they scoffingly demanded, how it could be that the dead should rise againe, and if they did rise againe, they asked mockingly, what manner of bodies they should haue. Therefore he sendeth these fellows which seemed to themselves to be marvellous wise and witty, to bee instructed of poore rude husbandmen.

They might haue learned riches of these, faith Paul, by daily experience: for feeders are lowen, and rotten and yet stand fast to farre it is off, that they perish, that contrariwise they grow up faire more beautifull: and whereas they are sowne naked and dirt, they being vp Greene from death by the vertue of God: and doeth it seeme incredible to thee that our bodies should rise from corruption, and that indured with a faire more excellent qualitie?

We see a diuersitie both in one and the selfe same thing which hath now one forme and then another, and yet keepeth it some kinde: as it is evident in a graine which is sowne bare, but springeth vp faire altho another sort: and also in diuers kinde of one selfe same sort, as among beastes:
also among things of diuers sorts, as the heavenly bodies and the earthly bodies:
which all differ very much one from another. Therefore there is no cause why we should suspect either the resurrection of the bodies, or the changing of them into a better state, as a thing impossible or strange.

men to every seede his owne body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also heavenly bodies, and earthly bodies: but the glorie of the heavenly is one, and the glory of the earthly is another.

41 There is another glory of the sunne, and another glorie of the moone, and another glorie of the starres: for one starre differeth from another starre in glory.

42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. The body is sown in corruption, and is raised in incorruption.

43 It is sown in dishonour, and is raised in glory: it is sown in weakenesse, and is raised in power.

44 It is sown a naturall body, and is raised a spirituall body: there is a naturall body, and there is a spirituall body.

45 As it is also written, The first man Adam was made a living soule: and the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.

46 Howbeit, that was not first which is spirituall: but that which is naturall, and afterward that which is spirituall.

47 The first man is of the earth, earthly: the second man is the Lord from heaven.

48 As is the earthly, such are they that are earthly: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.

49 And as wee have borne the image of the earthly, so shall wee beare the image of the heavenly.

50 This say I, brethren, that flesh & blood cannot inherite the kingdome of God, neither doeth corruption inherite incorruption.

51 Behold, I shew you a secret thing, We shall not all sleepe, but we shall all be changed, 52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall blow, and the dead shall be raised vp incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption: and this mortal must put on immortality.

54 That is called a naturall body, which is quickened by a living soule only, such as Adam was, of whom all wee are descended: but that is to be a spirituall, which together with the soule is quickened by a higher more excellent vertue: to wit, with the Spirit of God, which descended from Christ the second Adam into vs.

Adam is called the first man, because he is the root from whence wee spring: and Christ is the second man, because he is the beginning of all them that are spirituall, and in him wee are all descended.

Christ is called a Spirit, by reason of that most excellent nature, that life, God who dwelleth in him bodily, as Adam is called a man, because he is the first man in him.

Secondly, he will be quickened by the double state or qualitie to be observed, that the naturall was first created of the clay of the earth: and the spirituall followed and was created of the word, when as the Lord being sent from heaven, endued our flesh with the Spirit of God, and made it fit for him, with the fulnes of the Godhead.

As the Lord is said to come from heaven, and to be made of a virgins side, whereby that which is proper to one is common to both: so Adam is said to be made of the earth, whereby that which is proper to one is common to both.

As the Lord is said to be made of a virgins side, whereby that which is proper to one is common to both: so Adam is said to be made of the earth, whereby that which is proper to one is common to both.

As the Lord is said to be made of a virgins side, whereby that which is proper to one is common to both: so Adam is said to be made of the earth, whereby that which is proper to one is common to both.

As the Lord is said to be made of a virgins side, whereby that which is proper to one is common to both: so Adam is said to be made of the earth, whereby that which is proper to one is common to both.

As the Lord is said to be made of a virgins side, whereby that which is proper to one is common to both: so Adam is said to be made of the earth, whereby that which is proper to one is common to both.

54 So when this corruptible hath put on incorruption, and this mortall hath put on immortality, then shall bee brought to passe the saying that is written, Death is swallowed vp into victory.

55 O death, where is thy sting? O graue, where is thy victory?

56 The sting of death is sinne: and the strength of sinne is the Law.

57 But thanks be vnto God, which hath giuen vs victory through our Lord Iesus Christ.

58 Therefore my beloved brethren, bee ye steadfast, vnmoueable, abundant in wayes in the worke of the Lord, forasmuch as ye knowe that your labour is not in vaine in the Lord.

CHAP. XVI.

He exhorted them to helpe the poore brethren of Ierusalem. Then he commendeth Timotheus, 13 and so with a friendly exhortation, 19 and commendations, endeth this Epistle.

Concerning the gathering for the Saints, as I have ordained in the Churches of Galatia, so doe ye also.

1 Every first day of the weeke, let every one of you put aside by himselfe, and lay vp as God hath prospered him, that then there be no gatherings when I come.

2 And when I am come, whomsoever ye shall allow by letters, them will I send to bring your liberalitie vnto Ierusalem.

3 And if it be meet that I goe also, they shall goe with me.

4 Now I will come vnto you, after I have gone through Macedonia (for I will passe through Macedonia.)

5 And it may be that I will abide, yea, or winter with you, that ye may bring me on my way, whithersoever I goe.

6 For I will not see you now in my passage, but I trust to abide a while with you, if the Lord permit.

7 And I will tarry at Ephesus vntill Pentecost.

8 For a great doore and effectually is opened vnto me, and there are many aduersaries.

9 Now if Timotheus come, see that he bee without feare with you: for hee worketh the worke of the Lord, euen as I doe.

10 Let no man therefore despise him: but conuey him forth in peace that hee may come vnto me: for I looke for him with the brethren.

11 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desired him to come vnto you with the brethren: but his minde was not at all to come at this time: howbeit he will come when he shall haue convenient time.

12 Watch ye: stand fast in the faith: quite you like men, and be strong.

13 Let all your things be done in loue.

14 Now brethren, I beseech you (ye know the howse of Stephanas, that it is the first fruite of Achaia, and that they haue giuen themselves to minister vnto the Saints.)

15 That ye bee obedient euen vnto such, and to all that helpe with vs and labour.

16 I am glad of the comming of Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, for they haue supplied the want of you.

17 For they haue comforted my spirit and yours: I acknowledge therefore such men.

18 The Churches of Asia salute you: Aquila and

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE CORINTHIANS.

CHAP. I.

[illegible]

plainness of words, as God himselfe can witness. & Trusting to which God of his free goodness hath given me from heaven. &

[illegible]

11 And it is God which stablished vs with you in Christ, and hath anointed vs.
12 Who hath also sealed vs, and hath giuen the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.
13 Now, I call God for a record vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

14 Not that wee haue dominion ouer your faith, but wee are helpers of your ioy: for by faith ye stand.

15 Not that wee haue dominion ouer your faith, but wee are helpers of your ioy: for by faith ye stand.

CHAP. II.

1 Hee reuersed his not coming vnto them, 2 and pryncipally reprehendeth them. 3 Hee stablisheth that such is his affection towards them, 4 that hee neuer reuersed them when they were merrie, 5 Perceiving the adulterers (whom hee commended to be delivered up to Satan) to repent, hee requirerth that they forgive him, 6 Hee mentioneth his going into Macedonia.

But I determined thus in my selfe, that I would not come againe to you in heauinesse.

For if I make you sorie, who is he then that should make me glad, but the same which is made sorie by me?

And I wrote this same thing vnto you, lest when I came, I should take heauinesse of them of whom I ought to reioyce: this confidence haue I in you all, that my ioy is the ioy of you all.

For in great affliction, and anguish of heart I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that yee should be made sorie, but that ye might perceiue the loue which I haue specially vnto you.

And if any hath caused sorowe, the same hath not made me sorie, but partly (lest I should more charge him) you all.

It is sufficient vnto the same man, that hee was rebuked of many.

So that nowe contrariwise yee ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest the same should bee swallowed vp with ouermuch heauinesse.

Wherefore, I pray you, that you would confirm your loue towards him.

For this cause also did I write, that I might knowe the proofe of you, whether yee would bee obedient in all things.

To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for verely if I forgive any thing, to whom I forgive it, for your sakes forgive I it in the sight of Christ.

Lest Satan should circumuent vs: for we are not ignorant of his enterprises.

Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christes Gospel, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lord,

I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother, but tooke my leaue of them, and went away into Macedonia.

Now thanks be vnto God, which alwayes maketh vs to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the fauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

For we are vnto God the sweet fauour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them which perish.

To the one we are the fauour of death, vnto death, and to the other the fauour of life, vnto life, and who is sufficient for these things?

For wee are not as many, which make merchandise of the word of God: but as of sinceritie, but as of God in the sight of God speake we in Christ.

many reiected and detested him, seeing that he preacheth Christ, not only as a Sauiour of them that beleue, but also as a Iudge of them that contemne him. Againe, hee purteth away all suspicion of arrogancie, attributing all things that hee did, to the vertue of God, whom he serueth sincerely, and without all dishonest affection: whereof he maketh them witnesses even to the first verse of the next chapter.

CHAP. III.

Hee desireth no other commendation, 3 then their continuing in the faith. 6 Hee is a minister of the letter, but of the spirit. 8 Hee stablisheth the difference of the Law, and the Gospel: 13 sheweth the brightness of the Law, and rather dimme the light thereof: 18 But the Gospel doth make manifest Gods countenance vnto vs.

Do we begin to prayse our selues againe? or neede wee as some other, Epistles of recommendation vnto you, or letters of recommendation from you?

Yee are our Epistle, written in our hearts, which is vnderstood and read of all men.

In that ye are manifest, to be the Epistle of Christ, ministered by vs, and written, not with incke, but with the Spirit of the liuing God, not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart.

And such trust haue we through Christ to God:

Northat wee are sufficient of our selues, to thinke any thing as of our selues: but our sufficiency is of God,

Who also hath made vs able ministers of the Newe Testament, not of the letter, but of the Spirit: for the letter killeth, but the Spirit giueth life.

If then the ministrat[i]on of death written with letters, and ingrauen in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not beholde the face of Moses, for the glorie of his hood of Levi, with the ministrat[i]on of the Gospel, and the Apostolical ministrat[i]on, which hee handleth afterward more fully. Hee holdeth us forth, and sheweth gloriously may we trust of the worthinesse and fruit of our ministrat[i]on. Hee amplifieth his ministrat[i]on and his fellowes: that is to say, the ministrat[i]on of the Gospel, comparing it with the ministrat[i]on of the Law, which hee considereth in the person of Moses, by whom the Law was giuen: against whom he setteth Christ the author of the Gospel. Now this comparat[i]on is taken from the very substance of the ministrat[i]on. The Law is as it were a writing of hisse dead, and without efficacy: but the Gospel or new containment, is as it were the very vertue of God it selfe, in renewing, iustifying, and sauing of men. The Law propounded death, accusing all men of vniuersall guilt: The Gospel offereth and giveth righteousness and life. The countenance of the Law shined for a time to the promise: The Gospel remaineth to the end of the world. Therefore what is the glory of this in comparat[i]on of the ministration of the Law? Not of the Law, but of the Gospel. Not of the ministration of the Law, but of the ministration of the Gospel. Not of the ministration of the Law, but of the ministration of the Gospel. Not of the ministration of the Law, but of the ministration of the Gospel.

CORINTH.

of Macedonia.

Because in great trial of affliction their joy abounded, and their most extreme povertrie abounded vnto their rich liberalitie.

For to their power (I beare record) yea, and beyond their power they were willing,

And prayed vs with great instance, that we would receive the grace, and fellowship of the ministring which is toward the Saints.

And this they did, not as we looked for: but gave their owne selues, first to the Lord, and after vnto vs by the will of God.

That wee should exhort Titus, that as hee had begun, so he would also accomplish the same grace among you also.

Therefore, as ye abound in every thing, in faith and word, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your loue towardes vs, enough that ye abound in this grace also.

This I say not by commaundement, but because of the diligence of others: therefore prouoe I the naturalnesse of your loue.

For yee know the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, that he being rich, for your sakes became poore, that ye through his povertrie might be made rich.

And I shew my minde herein: for this is expedient for you, which haue begun not to doe onely, but also to will, a yere agoe.

Now therefore performe to doe it also, that as there was a readinesse to will, euen so yee may performe it of that which ye haue.

For if there be first a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

Neither is it that other men should be eased and you grieved: But vpon like condition, at this time your abundance supplieth their lacke.

That also their abundance may be for your lacke, that there may be equalitie.

As it is written, He that gathered much, had nothing ouer, and he that gathered little, had not the lesse.

And thanks be vnto God, which hath put in the heart of Titus the same care for you.

Because hee accepted the exhortation, yea, hee was so carefull, that of his owne accord hee went vnto you.

And wee haue sent also with him the brother, whose prayse is in the Gospel throughout all the Churches.

(And not so onely, but is also chosen of the Churches to bee a fellow in our iourney concerning this grace that is ministred by vs vnto the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your prompt minde.)

Auoyding this, that no man should blame vs in this abundance that is ministred by vs,

Providing for honest things, not onely before the Lord, but also before men.

And we haue sent with them our brother, whom we haue oftentimes prouoed to bee diligent in many things, but now much more diligent for the great confidence which I haue in you.

Whether any enquire of Titus, he is my fellow and helper to yourward: or of our brethren, they are messengers of the Churches, and the glory of Christ.

Wherefore shew toward them, and before the Churches the proofe of your loue, and of the reioycing that we haue of you.

And thus I beseech you, for almost as you see the messengers about they haue chosen to all their conuention, and thus I beseech you.

CHAP. IX.

20th, all hee be thought of their ready will, 21st, diligently exhort them, 22nd, hee holdeth occasion, 23rd, hee sheweth abun- dantly in freede giving, 24th, which God doth repay with great gaines.

For as touching the ministring to the Saints, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you.

For I know your readinesse of mind, whereof I boast my selfe of you vnto them of Macedonia, and say, that Achaia was prepared a yere agoe, and your zeale hath prouoked many.

Now haue I sent the brethren, lest exhorting ouer you should be in vaine in this halfe, that ye (as I haue sayd) be ready.

Left if they of Macedonia come with mee, and finde you vnprepared, wee (that we may not say you) should be ashamed in this my constant boasting.

Wherefore, I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren to come before vnto you, and to finish your beneuolence appointed afore, that it might bee ready, and come as of beneuolence, and not as of niggardinesse.

This yet remember, that hee which soweth sparingly, shall reape also sparingly, and hee that soweth liberally, shall reape also liberally.

As every man witheth in his heart, so let him giue, not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loweth a cheerefull giuer.

And God is able to make all grace to abound toward you, that yee alwayes hauing all sufficiency in all things, may abound in every good worke.

As it is written, He hath sparfed abroad and hath giuen to the poore: his beneuolence remaineth for euer.

Also he that findeth seed to the sower, will minister likewise bread for foode, and multiply your seede, and increase the fruits of your beneuolence.)

That on all parts ye may be made rich vnto all liberality, which causeth through vs thanksgiving vnto God.

For the ministring of this seruice not onely supplieth the necessities of the Saints, but also abundantly causeth many to giue thanks to God,

(Which by the experiment of this ministring prayse God for your voluntary sub-in Titus by the confidence, 21st, hee sheweth the glory of Christ as for.

22nd, All Churches shall be witnesses of this your good.

And thus I beseech you, for almost as you see the messengers about they haue chosen to all their conuention, and thus I beseech you.

He wisely meeteth with the stip- pation which the Corinthians might obiect, as though the Apostles in vrging them to care- fully should doubt of their good will. Therefore hee wis- nesseth that hee doeth it not to reach them, but they ought to helpe the Saints, seeing that hee had become lassy for them to the Mac- edonians, but on- ly to stirre them vp which were running of their selues to the end that all things might both be in a better readi- ness, and also bee more plentifull. a The word which hee speaketh, such a liberality and freede of minde, as cannot be moued with any manner of fear.

23rd, Almes shall be giuen, neither niggardly, nor with a froward mind, or hardly: But a freer and free almes is compo- sed to a loving which hath a most plentifull haruest of much abundance. b Thus followe up it.

supplied,

supplied, and in all things I kept, and will keepe my selfe, that I should not be grieuous vnto you.

10 The truth of Christ is in me, that this reioicing shal not be shut vp against me in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? because I loue you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I doe, that will I doe, that I may cut away occasion from them which desire occasion: that they might be found like vnto vs in that wherein they reioyce.

13 For such false apostles are deceitful workers, & transforme themselves into the Apostles of Christ.

14 And no maruile: for Satan himselfe is transformed into an Angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing, though his ministers transforme themselves, as though they were the ministers of righteousness, whose ende shall be according to their workes.

16 I say againe, Let no man think that I am foolish, or else take me euen as a foole, that I also may boast my selfe a little.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the Lord: but as it were foolishly in this my great boasting.

18 Seeing that many reioyce after the flesh, I will reioyce also.

19 For ye suffer fooles gladly, because that ye are wise.

20 For ye suffer, euen if a man bring you into bondage, if a man deuoure you, if a man take your goods, if a man exalt himselfe, if a man smite you on the face.

21 I speake as concerning the reproach: as though that we had bin weak: but wherein any man is bold (I speake foolishly) I am bold also.

22 They are Hebrewes, & so am I: they are Israelites, so am I: they are the seede of Abraham, so am I.

23 They are the ministers of Christ (I speake as a foole) I am more: in labours more abundant: in stripes about measure: in prison more plentifully: in death oft.

24 Of the lewes 5 fiftie times receiued I fourtie stripes saue one.

25 I was 3 thrice & beaten with rodde: I was once stoned: I suffred thrise shipwracke: night and day haue I beene in the deepe sea.

26 In journeying I was often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils of mine owne nation, in perils among the Gentiles, in perils in the city, in perils in wildernes, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren,

27 In wearinesse and painefulnesse, in watchings, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in colde and in nakednesse.

28 Beside the things which are outward, I am combed dayly, and haue the care of all the Churches.

29 Who is weake, and I am not weake? Who is offended, and I burne not?

30 If I must needs reioyce, I will reioyce of mine infirmities.

31 The God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which is blessed for euermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32 In Damascus the gouernour of the people vnder King Aretas, layde watch in the citie of the Damascens, and would haue caught me.

33 But at a window was I let downe in a basket through the wall, and escaped his hands.

34 But at a window was I let downe in a basket through the wall, and escaped his hands. I would boast my selfe, I would take no better argument: and witnesse that I denie and forge nothing. Alis 9.24.

CHAP. XII.

1 He doth euen willingly make reuerfalt 3 of the heauenly vision, 4 that were revealed vnto him. 6 For which though he might in deed glory, yet he will not, 10 being pricke of his owne infirmities: 11 but they drine him to the end of faith, 20. m that they give care to certain vaine glorious persons, who drine them from Christ.

IT is not expedient for mee no doubt to reioyce: for I will come to visions and reuelations of the Lord.

2 I know a man in Christ about fourteene yeares ago, (whether he were in the body, I can not tell, or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth) which was taken vp into the third heauen.

3 And I knowe such a man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth)

4 How that he was taken vp into Paradise, and heard wordes which cannot be spoken, which are not possible for man to vter.

5 Of such a man will I reioyce: of my selfe will I not reioyce, except it be of mine infirmities.

6 For though I would reioyce, I should not be a foole, for I wil say the truth: but I refraine, lest any man should thinke of me about that hee seeth in me, or that he heareth of me.

7 And least I should be exalted out of measure through the abundance of reuelations, there was giuen vnto me a pricke in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet mee, because I should not be exalted out of measure.

8 For this thing I befought the Lord thrise that it might depart from me.

9 And he said vnto me, My graes is sufficient

9 He addeth this in conclusion further, that the Corinthians might be ashamed to despise him, upon whole care almost all Churches depended, as it was plainly seene by experience.

10 He turneth that against the aduersaries which they objected against him, as if he should say, They alleage my calamities, to take away my authoritie from me: but if I God himselfe is my

1 He geeth forward in his purpose, and because those bragging mates boasted of reuelations, hee reckoneth vp those things which lift him vp above the common capacite of men: but he recteth a preface, and excuseth himselfe aduently.

2 I speake then in Christ, as in his spoken without vaine glory, for I speake nothing but Christ Iesus my selfe.

3 Into the highest heauen: for we neede not to dispute subtilly upon the word (third) but yet this place is in the marked against them, which would make heauen to be very where.

4 So the Grecians name that which we call a pricke, stigma, a place where steel are planted and wilde beastes kept, by which name they that translated the old Testament out of Hebrew into Greeke, called the garden Eden, wherein Adam was put straight after his creation, in a most delicate and pleasant place. And hereupon grew it, that it as blessed state of the glory of God is called by that name. 5 Which no man is able to vter. 6 Which the Saints themselves are not by any means able to expresse, because it is a God himselfe. Thus doeth Clement Alexandrinus expound this place, Strom. 5. 2. To remove all suspicion of ambition, hee witnesseth that hee braggeth not of those things as of his owne, but as out of himselfe, and yet notwithstanding saith nothing, lest by this occasion other men should attribute more yron him than indeede hee is: and therefore hee had rather glory in his miseries. 3 An excellent doctrine: why God will haue euen his best seruants to be vexed of Satan and by all kinde of temptations, to wit, lest they should be too much pulled vp, and also that they may be made perfit by that continual exercise. 4 He meaneth conscience, that hee keth fast in us, as it were a pricke, in so much that it constraineth Paul himselfe being regenerate, to cry out, I doe not that good that I would. And hee calleth it a pricke, by a borrowed kinde of speech: as if he should say, I am thornes, or flumps, which are very dangerous and hurtfull for the feete, if a man walke through woods that are thus dotted. 5 Which justly shal lust on fire. 6 Of.

THE EPISTLE OF THE APOSTLE PAUL TO THE GALATIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 Straight after the salutation, 6 He reprehendeth the Galatians for receiving 9 from his Gospel, 15 which he received from God, 17 before he had communicated with any of the apostles.

PAUL an Apostle (not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father which hath raised him from the dead)

2 And all the brethren which are with me, vnto the Churches of Galatia:

3 Grace be with you, and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Iesus Christ,

4 Which gaue himselfe for our sinnes, that he might deliuer vs from the present euill world according to the will of God euen our Father,

5 To whom be glory for euer & euer, Amen.

6 I marueile that ye are so soone removed away vnto another Gospel, from him that had called you in the grace of Christ,

7 Which is not another Gospel, saue that there be some which trouble you, and intend to peruert the Gospel of Christ.

8 But though that we, or an Angel from heauen preach vnto you otherwise, then that which we haue preached vnto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now againe, If any man preach vnto you otherwise, then that yee haue receiued, let him be accursed.

10 For now preach I mens doctrine, or Gods? or goe I about to please men? for if I should yet please men, I were not the seruant of Christ.

11 Nowe I certifie you, brethren, that the Gospel which was preached of me, was not after man.

12 For neither receiued I it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the reuelation of Iesus Christ.

13 For ye haue heard of my conuersation in time past, in the Iewish religion, howe that I persecuted the Church of God extremely, and wasted it, 14 And profited in the Iewish religion about many of my companions of mine owne nation, and was much more zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God (which had separated me from my mothers wombe, and called me by his grace)

16 To reueale his Sonne in me, that I should preach him among the Gentiles, immediately I communicated not with flesh and blood:

17 Neither came I againe to Hierusalem to them which were Apostles before me, but I went into Arabia, and turned againe vnto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeeres I came againe to Hierusalem, to visite Peter, and abode with him fiftene dayes.

19 And none other of the Apostles saw I, saue James the Lords brother.

20 Nowe the things which I write vnto you, behold, I witnesse before God, that I lie not.

21 After that, I went into the coastes of Syria and Cilicia: for I was vnknown by face vnto the Churches of Iudea which were in Christ.

22 But they had heard only some say, He which persecuted vs in time past, nowe preacheth the faith which before he destroyed.

23 And they glorified God for me.

apostles and others, whose names (as I haide before) the false apostles abused to destroy his Apostleship, as though he deliuered another Gospel then the true Apostles did, and as though hee were not of their number, which are to be credited without exception: therefore Paul answereth, that he began straight way after his calling, to preach the Gospel at Damascus and in Arabia, and was not from that time in Hierusalem but only fiftene dayes, where hee sawe only Peter and James, and afterwards hee began to teach in Syria and Cilicia, with the content and approbation of the Churches of the Iewes, which knewe him only by name. so farre off was it, that he was there intruded of men. With any man in the world. This is a kind of false. The doctrine of faith.

CHAP. II.

1 That the Apostles did nothing disagree from his Gospel, 3 hee declareth by the example of Titus being uncircumcised, 11 and also by his aduocating the same against Peters dissimulation: 17 And so hee pisseth in the handling of our free iustificacion by Christ.

Then fourteen yeeres after, I went vp againe to Hierusalem with Barnabas, & tooke with me Titus also.

2 And I went vp by reuelation, and declared vnto them that Gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but particularly to them that were the chiefe, lest by any meanes I should runne, or had runne in vaine:

3 But neither yet Titus which was with mee, though hee were a Grecian, was compelled to be circumcised,

4 To wit, for the false brethren which were craftily sent in, and crept in priuily to spie out our libertie which we haue in Christ Iesus, that they tormented the selues therein which traiterously laid wait against him. But in vaine: neither did they adiothe least iore that might decto the doctrine which hee had preached, but contrariwise they came to him & Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, and acknowledged them as Apostles appointed of the Lord to the Gentiles.

Unfalsely, for as touching his doctrine, Paul doubted not of it, but because there were certaine reports call abroad of him, that hee was of another opinion then the rest of the Apostles were, which thing might haue hindered the course of the Gospel, therefore he laboured to remedie the same. Which by dectin and conserfion holynesse, crept in among the faithfull.

Alles 9.1. He calleth them the traditions of his fathers because he was not only a Pharise himselfe, but also had a Pharise to his father. He speaketh of Gods euertlasting predetermination, whereby he appointed him to be an Apostle, whereof hee maketh three degrees, the euertlasting cause of Gods his appointing from his mothers wombe, and his calling: here is no mention at all, we see, of works foreseen. To me, and thus a kind of speech which the Hebrews use, whereby shew is giuen vs to understand, that this gift cometh from God. Ephes. 3.2. Because it might be objected, that in deed hee was called of Christ in the way, but afterwards was intrusted of the Apostles, whose names (as I haide before) the false apostles abused to destroy his Apostleship, as though he deliuered another Gospel then the true Apostles did, and as though hee were not of their number, which are to be credited without exception: therefore Paul answereth, that he began straight way after his calling, to preach the Gospel at Damascus and in Arabia, and was not from that time in Hierusalem but only fiftene dayes, where hee sawe only Peter and James, and afterwards hee began to teach in Syria and Cilicia, with the content and approbation of the Churches of the Iewes, which knewe him only by name. so farre off was it, that he was there intruded of men. With any man in the world. This is a kind of false. The doctrine of faith.

Now he sheweth how hee agreed with the Apostles, with whom hee gathered that hee consorted touching his Gospel which he taught among the Gentiles fourteen yeeres after his conversion, and they allowed it in such fort, that they constrained not his fellow Titus to be circumcised, although some might bring us into bondage.

5 To whom we gave no place by subiection for an hour, that the truth of the Gospel might continue with you.

6 But by them which seemed to be great, I was not taught (whatsoever they were in time past, I am nothing the better) & God accepteth no mans person for they that are the chief, did add nothing to me above that I had.

7 But contrariwise, when they saw that the Gospel over the¹ vncircumcision was committed vnto mee, as the Gospel over the circumcision was vnto Peter.

8 (For he that was mighty by Peter in the Apostleship over the circumcision, was also mighty by me toward the Gentiles)

9 And when James, and Cephas, and Iohn, knew of the grace that was given vnto me, which are counted to be pillars, they came to me and to Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we should preach vnto the Gentiles, and they vnto the circumcision.

10 Warning onely that wee should remember the poore which thing also I was diligent to doe.

11 And when Peter was come to Antiochia, I withstood him to his face: for hee was to be condemned.

12 For before that certaine came from Iames, hee was with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew & separated himselfe, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Iewes played the hypocrites likewise with him, insomuch that Barnabas was led away with them by that their hypocrisie.

14 But when I saw, that they went not the right way to the truth of the Gospel, I said vnto Peter before all men, If thou being a Iew, liuest as the Gentiles, and not like the Iewes, why^a constrainest thou the Gentiles to doe like the Iewes?

15 We which are Iewes by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles,

16 Knowe that a man is not iustified by the works of the Law, but by faith of Iesus Christ, even we I say, haue beleued in Iesus Christ, that we might be iustified by the faith of Christ & not by the workes of the Law, because that by the workes of the Law, no flesh shall be iustified.

17 If then while wee seeke to be made righteous by Christ, we our selues are found sinners, is Christ therefore the minister of sinne? God forbid.

18 For if I build again the things that I haue destroyed, I make my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I through the Law am dead to the Law, that I might liue vnto God.

20 I am crucified with Christ, but I liue, yet not I any more, but Christ liueth in me: and in that that I now liue in the flesh, I liue by the faith in the Sonne of God, who hath loued me, and giuen himselfe for me.

21 I doe not abrogate the grace of God: for if righteousness be by the Law, then Christ died without a cause.

18 The Law that serueth the conscience, is not such as the Law of Christ, and he only can be in the Law in deed, because that making us righteous, hee is also a way from the power of conscience, and by faith.

19 He reuoketh them, for suffering themselves to be drawn from the grace of free iustification in Christ, which is set out vnto them, & thus bringeth in Abraham again, & so declaring the effect, & the cause of the giving of the Law.

20 Foolish Galatians, who haue bewitched you, that yee should not obey the truth, to whom Iesus Christ before was described in your fight, and among you crucified?

21 This onely would I learne of you, Received ye the Spirit by the workes of the Law, or by the hearing of faith preached?

22 Are so foolish, that after ye haue begun in the Spirit, ye would now bee made perfect by the flesh?

23 Haue ye suffered so many things in vaine, if so be it be in vaine.

24 Hee therefore that ministrereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth hee it through the workes of the Law, or by the hearing of faith preached?

25 Ye gather as Abraham beleued God, and it was imputed to him for righteousness.

26 Know yee therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

27 For the Scripture foreseeing, that God would iustifie the Gentiles through faith, preached before the Gospel vnto Abraham, saying, 28 In thee shall all the Gentiles be blessed.

29 So then they which be of faith, are blessed with faithfull Abraham.

28 The third reason or argument taken of those gifts of the holy Ghost wherewith they were endued from heaven after they had heard and beleued the Gospel by Pauls ministry: which seeing they were so euident to all mens eyes, that they were as it were liuely images, wherein they might behold the truth of the doctrine of the Gospel, no less then if they had beheld with their eyes Christ himselfe crucified, in whose onely death they ought to haue their trust, he maneth how it could be so bewitched by the false apostles.

29 A Christ was laid before you so manifestly and so plainly, that you had his liuely image as it were represented before your eyes, as if he had bene crucified before you. 30 Those spiritual graces and gifts, which were a seal as it were to the Galatians, that the Gospel which was preached to them, was true. 31 Of the doctrine of faith. 32 The fourth argument mixed with the former, and it is double. 1. The Law to be ioyned with faith, this were not to goe forward, but backward, seeing that those spiritual gifts which were bestowed vpon you, are more excellent then any that could proceed from your selues. And moreover, it should follow, that the Law is better then Christ, because it should perse and bring to end that which Christ began onely. 2. By the (flesh) he meaneth the ceremonies of the Law, against which hee teacheth the Spirit, that is the spiritual working of the Gospel. 3. An exhortation by manner of vproiuring, that they doe not in vaine suffer so many conflicts. 4. He repeateth the third argument which was taken of the effects, because hee had interlarded certaine other arguments by the way. 5. The fifth argument which is of great force, and hath three grounds. The first, That Abraham was iustified by faith, to wit, by free imputation of righteousness according to the promise apprehended by faith, as Moyses doeth most plainly witness. 6. Lookes Rom 4. & Gen. 15. & Rom 4.3. & Rom 2.23. 7. The second, that the sonnes of Abraham must be accounted of and esteemed of by faith. 7. The third, that all people that beleeue, are without exception comprehended in the promise of the blessing. 8. Gen. 12.3. & 22.18. 9. A prooofe of the first and second grounds, out of the words of Moses. 10. Blessing in this place, figuratiue is set for promise by Law. 11. The conclusion of the fifth argument: Therefore as Abraham is blessed by faith, so are all his children (that is to say, all the Gentiles that beleeue) blessed, that is to say, freely iustified. 12. With faithfull Abraham, and not by faithfull Abraham: to give us to understand, that the blessing cometh not from Abraham, but from him, by whom Abraham and all his posterity are blessed.

10. 10 For

18 By suffering our selues to be drawn from the grace of free iustification in Christ, which is set out vnto them, & thus bringeth in Abraham again, & so declaring the effect, & the cause of the giving of the Law.

19 He reuoketh them, for suffering themselves to be drawn from the grace of free iustification in Christ, which is set out vnto them, & thus bringeth in Abraham again, & so declaring the effect, & the cause of the giving of the Law.

10. ¹⁰ For as many as are of the works of the Law, are under the curse: ¹¹ For it is written, Cursed is every man that continueth not in all things, which are written in the book of the Law, to do them.

11. ¹² And that no man is justified by the Law in the sight of God, it is evident: ¹³ for the just shall live by faith.

12. ¹⁴ And the law is not of faith: but the man that shall do those things, shall live in them.

13. ¹⁵ Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the Law, made a curse for us, ¹⁶ for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree.

14. ¹⁷ That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Christ Jesus that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15. ¹⁸ Brethren, I speak as men do: though it be but a mans covenant, where it is confirmed, y^e know doth abrogate it, or addech any thing thereto.

16. ¹⁹ Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to the seedes, as speaking of many: but, And to thy seed, as of one, ²⁰ which is Christ.

17. ²¹ And this I say, that the covenant that was confirmed afore of God in respect of Christ, the Lawe which was foure hundredth and thirtie yeres after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect.

18. ²² For if the inheritance be of the Lawe, it is no more by the promise, but God gaue it freely vnto Abraham by promise.

19. ²³ Wherefore then serueth the Law? It was added because of the transgressions, till the seed came, vnto the which the promise was made: ²⁴ & it was ordained by Angels in the hand of a Mediatour.

20. Now a Mediatour is not a Mediatour of one: ²⁵ but God is one.

21. ²⁶ If the Law then against the promises of God? God forbid: For if there had bene a Lawe giuen which could haue giuen life, surely righteousness should haue bene by the Lawe.

22. But the Scripture hath concluded all vnder sinne, that the promise by the faith of Iesus Christ should be giuen to them that beleue.

23. ²⁷ But before faith came, we were kept vnder the Lawe, as vnder a garison, and that vp vnto that faith, which should afterward be revealed.

24. Wherefore the Lawe was our scholemaster to bring vs to Christ, that we might be made righteous by faith.

25. But after that faith is come, we are no longer vnder a scholemaster.

26. ²⁸ For ye are all the sonnes of God by faith, in Christ Iesus.

27. ²⁹ For all ye that are baptized into Christ, haue put on Christ.

28. There is neither Iewe nor Grecian: there is neither bond nor free: there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Iesus.

29. And if ye be Christes, then are ye Abrahams seede, and heires by promise.

22. An objection which respecteth of the former answeres. If the inheritance be not by the Law (as the least in part) then why was the Law giuen, after that the promise was made? Therefore saith the Apostle, to improve men of sinne, and so teach them to looke vnto Christ, in whom at length that promise of giuing all people together, should be fulfilled, and not that the Law was giuen to iustifie men.

23. That men might vnderstand, by discouraging of their sinnes, that they are saved by the only grace of God, which becometh in Abrahams seed, and that in Christ. p. Vnto the partition wall was broken downe, and that full freede sprang up, framed of two people, both of Iewes and Gentiles: for by this was a hedge, and may not vnderstand, Christ saith by himselfe, but coupled and ioyned together with his body. 23. A confirmation of the former answer taken from the manner and forme of giuing the Lawe: for it was giuen by Angels, striking a great terror into all, and by Moses a Mediatour coming betwene. Nowe they that are one, neede no Mediatour, but they that are twaine at the least, and that are at variance one with another. Therefore the Lawe it selfe and the Mediatour, were witnesses of the wrath of God, and not that God would by this meanes reconcile men to himselfe, and abolish the promise, or adde the Lawe vnto the promise. 24. Commanded and giuen, or proclaimed. For the sinnes and miseries.

25. A taking away of an objection, lest any man might say, that (sometimes by consent of the parties which haue made a covenant, some thing is added to the covenant, or the former covenants are broken. This, sayeth the Apostle, cometh to passe in God, who is alwayes one, and the selfe same, and like himselfe. 26. The conclusion vnto the manner of asking a question, and it is the same that was uttered before, verse 17, but proceeding of another rule: so that the argument is newe, and in this: God is alwayes like vnto himselfe. Therefore the Lawe was not giuen to abolish the promises. But it should abolish them if it gaue life, for by that meanes it should iustifie, and therefore it should abolish that iustification which was promised to Abraham and to his seede by faith. Nay it was rather giuen to bring to light the guiltinesse of all men, to the ende that all beleeuers seeing to Christ promised, might bee freely iustified in him.

27. By this word, Scripture, bee meant the Lawe. 28. All men, and whatsoever cometh from men. 29. In every one of those wordes, there is an argument against the writers of workes: for all these wordes, promise, faith, Christ, might be giuen, to beleeuers, are against merit, and not one of them can stand with deserving workes. 30. Nowe there followeth an other handling of the second part of this Epistle: the state whereof is this: Although the Lawe (that is, the whole gouernment of Gods house, according to the Lawe) doe not iustifie, is it therefore to be abolished, seeing that Abraham himselfe was circumcised, and his posteritie helde still the rite of Moses Lawe? Paul affirmeth that it ought to bee abolished, because it was instituted for that ende and purpose, that it should bee as it were a scholemaster and keeper to the people of God, vntill the promise appeared in deede, that is to say, Christ, and the Gospel manifestly published with great efficacy of the Spirit.

31. The cause why we were kept vnder the Lawe, is set downe here. 32. Because age changeth not the condition of seruants, hee addeeth that we are free by condition, and therefore, seeing we are out of our childehoode, we haue no more neede of a keeper and Scholemaster. 33. Vnto a generall particle, lest the Iewes at the least should not thinke themselves bound with the band of the Law, he pronounceth that Baptisme is common to all beleeuers, because it is a pledge of our deliuerie in Christ, as well to the Iewes as to the Grecians, that by this meanes all may bee truly one in Christ, that is to say, that promised seede to Abraham, and inheritors of euertlasting life. 34. Hee stirreth Baptisme, secretly against circumcision, which the Iews applyed to their bragge of. 35. The Church must put on Christ, as it were a garment, and be covered with him, that it may be thoroughly holy, and without blame. 36. You are all as one: and so in this great knot and confusion signified.

Being delivered from the bondage of the Law, & by Christ coming, who is the end thereof, & is it very absurd to slide back to, & to call it a bondage: 13 This calleth them again therefore to the promise of the doctrine of the Gospel, at the same time as he saith in the first verse.

Then I say, that the heire as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be Lord of all.

But is vnder tutors and gouernours, vntill
 the time appointed of the Father.

Even so, when we were children, were in bondage vnder the rudiments of the world.

But when the fullness of time was come,
 God sent forth his Sonne made of a woman, and made vnder the Law.

That hee might redeeme them which were vnder the Law, that we might receive the adoption of the sonnes.

And because ye are sonnes, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Sonne into your hearts, which crieth, Abba Father.

Wherefore, thou art no more a seruant, but a sonne now if thou be a sonne, then art also the heire of God through Christ.

But even then, when ye knewe not God, ye did seruite vnto them, which by nature are not gods.

But now seeing ye know God, yea rather are known of God, howe turne ye againe vnto impotent and beggerly rudiments, wherunto ye were from the beginning ye wil be in bondage againe?

Ye obserue dayes, and months, and times, and yeeres.

I am in feare of you, lest I haue bestowed on you labour in vaine.

Be ye as I (for I am euen as you) brethren,
 I beseech you, ye haue not hurt me at all.

And ye know how through infirmity of the flesh, I preached the Gospel vnto you at first.

And the trial of me which was in my flesh, ye despised not, neither abhorred: but ye received me as an Angel of God, yea, as Christ Iesus.

What was then your felicitie? for I beare you record, that if it had bene possible, ye would haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue giuen them vnto me.

Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?

They are ielous ouer you & amisse: yea, they would exclude you, that yee should altogether loue them.

But it is a good thing to loue earnestly alwayes in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you.

My little children, of whome I traueile in birth againe, vntill Christ be formed in you.

And I would I were with you now, that I might change my voice for Lam in doubt of you.

Tell me, ye that are vnder the Law,
 doe ye not heare the Law?

For it is written, that Abraham had two sonnes, one by a seruant, and one by a free woman.

But he which was of the seruant, was borne after the flesh, and he which was of the free woman, was borne by promise.

By the which thing another thing is meant for these mothers are the two testaments, the one which is Agar of Mount Sina, which gen-deth vnto bondage.

For Agar & Sina is a mountaine in Arabia, and it is called Hierusalem which now is, and she is in bondage with her children.

But Hierusalem, which is above, is free:
 which is the mother of vs all.

For it is written, Reioyce then barren that bearest no children: breake forth, and cry, thou that trauestest not: for the desolate hath many moe children, then she which hath an hundred.

Therefore, brethren, we are after the manner of Isaac, children of the promise.

But as then hee that was borne after the flesh, persecuted him that was borne after the Spirit, euen so it is now.

As then hee that was borne after the 30 But what saith the Scripture? Put out the servant and her sonnes for the sonne of the servant shall not be heire with the sonne of the free woman.

31 Then brethren, wee are not children of the servant, but of the free woman.

That the children of the bondmaid shall not be heires.

CHAP. V.

Having declared that none came of the free woman, but sheweth the price of that freedom, 13 and howe we should use the same, 16 that we may obey the Spirit, 19 and resist the flesh.

Stand fast therefore in the liberie wherewith Christ hath made vs free, and be not intangled againe with the yoke of bondage.

2 Beholde, I Paul say vnto you, that if ye bee circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

3 For I testifie againe to every man, which is circumcised, that he is bound to keepe the whole Lawe.

4 Yee are abolished from Christ: whosoever are iustified by the Lawe, ye are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the Spirit waite for the hope of righteousness through faith.

6 For in Iesus Christ neither circumcision auaileth any thing, neither vncircumcision, but faith which worketh by loue.

7 Yee did runne well: who did let you, that ye did not obey the truth?

8 It is not the perswasion of him that calteth you.

9 A little leauen doeth leaven the whole lump.

10 I haue trust in you through the Lord, that ye will bee none other wise minded: but hee that troubleth you, shall beare his condemnation, who soeuer he be.

11 And brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why doe I yet suffer persecution? Then is the slander of the crosse abolished.

12 Would to God they were euen cut off, which doe this disquiet you.

13 For brethren, yee haue bene called vnto libertie: only use not your libertie as an occasion vnto the flesh, but by loue serue one another.

14 For all the Law is fulfilled in one word, which is this, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

15 If yee bite and deuoure one another, take heed lest ye be consumed one of another.

16 Then I say, Walke in the Spirit, and yee shall not fulfill the lusts of the flesh.

17 For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary one to the other, so that ye cannot doe the same things that ye would.

18 And if ye be led by the Spirit, ye are not vnder the Lawe.

19 Moreouer the works of the flesh are manifest, which are adulterie, fornication, vncleanes, wantonnesse,

20 Idolatrie, witchcraft, hatred, debate, emulations, wrath, contentions, seditions, heresies,

21 Enuie, murders, drunkennesse, gluttonie, and such like, whereof I tell you before, as I also haue tolde you before, that they which doe such things, shall not inherite the kingdome of God.

22 But the fruite of the Spirit, is loue, ioy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodnesse, faith,

23 Meekenes, temperancie: against such there is no lawe.

24 For they that are Christs, haue crucified the flesh with the affections and the lusts.

25 If we liue in the Spirit, let vs also walke in the Spirit.

26 Let vs not bee desirous of vaine glorie, prouoking one another, enuying one another.

weaknesse of the godly, for that they are but in part regenerate: but he willeth them to remember that they are indured with the Spirit of God, which hath deliuered them from the seruitude of sinne, and so of the Law, so farre forth as it is the verine of sinne, that they should not giue themselves to lusts. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. CHAP. VI.

1 Nowe hee setteth particularly of charitie towards such as offend, & towards the Ministers of the worlde, 10 and sheweth that are of the household of faith: 12 Not like vnto such who haue a double face, 13 glorying in the blame of the flesh, 14 and yet in the crosse of Christ.

Brethren, if a man be suddenly taken in any offence, whereof ye are spirituall, restore such one with the spirit of meeknesse, considering thy selfe, lest thou also be tempted.

be moderated and tempered by the spirit of meeknesse. 7 through the meeknesse of the flesh and the word. 8 Which are reproblers by the word of God. 9 Labour to be without spot in the world. 10 Thou art a kinde of flesh and bone. 11 Hee remembereth vs, giuing vs to vnderstande liberty, that all good gifts come from God. 12 Hee toucheth the sore: for they commonly are most seuerer iudges, which forget their owne infirmities.

12 The third part of this Epistle, shewing that the right use of Christian libertie consisteth in this, that being deliuered and set at libertie from the seruitude of sinne and the flesh, and being obedient to the Spirit, we should serue vnto one another, and for others saluation through loue. 13 He proponeth the love of our neighbour as a mark whereunto to all Christians ought to referre all their actions, and thereunto he citeth the testimonie of the Law. 14 An exhortation to the duties of charitie, by the profit that enioyeth thereof, because that no man can provide worke for himselfe, then they that haue one another. 15 He acknowledgeth the great

of the flesh reape corruption: but hee that soweth to the spirit, shall of the spirit reape life everlasting.

good vnto all men, but especially vnto them, which are of the household of faith.

1 To see how large a letter I have written vnto you with mine owne hand.

2 As many as desire to make a faire shew in the flesh, they constrain you to be circumcised, onely because they would not suffer persecution for the crosse of Christ.

3 For they themselves which are circumcised keepe not the Law, but desire to have you circumcised, that they might reioyce in your flesh.

4 But God forbid that I should reioyce, but in the crosse of our Lord Iesus Christ, whereby the world is crucified vnto me, & I vnto the world.

5 For in Christ Iesus neither circumcision auaileth any thing, nor vncircumcision, but a new creature.

6 And as many as walke according to this rule, peace shall be vpon them, and mercie, and vp-on the Israel of God.

7 From henceforth let no man put me to business: for I beare in my body the marks of the Lord Iesus.

8 Brethren, the grace of our Lorde Iesus Christ be with you & spirit, Amen.

9 The fourth and last part of the Epistle, wherein he returneth to his principall end and purpose: to wit, that the Galatians should not suffer themselves to be led out of the way
by the false apostles: and he painteth out their false apostles in their colours, reproving them of ambition, as men that do not care that which they do, for any affection and scale they haue to the Law, but onely for this purpose, that they may purchase themselves fauor amongst their owne sort by the circumcision of the Galatians.

10 He setteth a faire shew against their wish. 1 In keeping of ceremonies. 2 For the preaching of him that was crucified. 1 That they have entangled you in traditions, and yet be swayed on the forms of circumcision. 10 He desireth not to compare himselfe with them, showing that on the contrary part he reioyceth in those afflictions which he suffereth for Christ sake, & as he is despised of the world, so doch he in like sort esteem the world as nought, which is the true circumcision of a true Israelite. 10 When Paul saith this, wherein good saye or part, is signified as well a mans selfe wholly in a thing, and to content himselfe therewith. 11 Upon the true Christ, whose praise is of God, and not of man, Rom. 1. 9.

11 Continuing still in the same Metaphore, he opposeth his miseries and y marks of those stripes which he bare for Christ sake, against the sharpe of the outward circumcision, as a true marke of his Apostleship.

12 Markes which are borne into a mans flesh, as they rested in old time, so marke their servants that had runne away from them. 13 For as importeth much, so is the marke we beare: for the cause maketh the Master, and not the punishment. 13 Taking his farewell of them, he wisheth them grace, and the Spirit against the decoits of the false apostles, which laboured to beate shote outward things into their brains.

14 With your minde and labours.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE EPHESIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 After the salutation, 4 hee increaseth of the free election of God, 5 and adoption. 13 from whence mans salvation floweth, as from the true and naturall fountains: and because it hath a mysterious can be understood, 16 hee prayeth that the full knowledge of Christ may by God be revealed unto the Ephesians.

1 Paul an Apostle of Iesus Christ by the will of God, to the Saints, which are at Ephesus, & to the faithful in Christ Iesus

2 Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

cause, which he maketh double, to his blood, even the forgiveness of sinnes according to his rich grace:

10 ¹ Whereby he hath bin abundant toward vs in all wisdom and vnderstanding,

11 And hath opened vnto vs the ² myſtery of his will: according to his good pleaſure, which he had purpoſed in him,

12 That in the diſpenſation of the fulneſſe of the times, he might gather together in one all things, both which are in heauen, and which are in earth, even in Chriſt:

13 In whom alſo wee are choſen when we were predeſtinate according to the purpoſe of him, which worketh all things after the counſell of his owne will,

14 That we, which firſt truſted in Chriſt ſhould be vnto the praiſe of his glory:

15 In whom alſo ye haue truſted, after that ye heard the word of trueth, even the Goſpel of your ſaluation, wherein alſo after that ye beleue, ye were ſealed with the holy Spirit of promiſe,

16 Which is the earneſt of our inheritance, for the redemption of that libertie purchaſed vnto the praiſe of his glory.

17 Therefore alſo after that I heard of the faith, which ye haue in the Lord Ieſus, & loue toward all the Saints,

18 I ceaſe not to giue thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers,

19 That the God of our Lord Ieſus Chriſt, that Father of glory, might giue vnto you the Spirit of wiſdome, & reuelation through the acknowledging of him,

20 That the eyes of your vnderſtanding may be lightened, that ye may know what the hope is of his calling, & what the riches of his glorious inheritance are in the Saints,

21 And what is the exceeding greaſer of his power toward vs, which beleue, according to the working of his mightie power,

22 Which he wrought in Chriſt, when he raiſed him from the dead, & ſet him at his right hand in the heauenly places,

23 Farre aboue all principallitie, and power, and might, and domination, and euery Name, that is named, not in this world only, but alſo in that that is to come,

24 And hath made all things ſubiekt vnder his feete, and hath giuen him ouer all things to bee the head to the Church,

25 Which is his body, even the fulneſſe of him that filleth all in all things.

weakenesſe of the fleſh. 1 To be ſet on Gods right hand, is to be partaker of ſuch ſingularitie which he hath ouer all creatures. 2 Euery thing which he is, & doeth, all things he doeth of neuer ſuch power or excellencie. 3 That we ſhould not think that that excellent glorie of Chriſt is a thing wherewith we haue ought to do, he witneſſeth, that he was appointed of God the Father head of all the Church, & therefore the body muſt be ioyned to this head which otherwiſe ſhould bee a mynning threat without the members: which notwithstanding is not of neceſſitie (ſeeing that the Church is rather quickened & ſuſtained by the onely vertue of Chriſt, ſo farre off is it, that he needeth the fulneſſe thereof) but of the infinite good will and pleaſure of God, who vouchſafeth to ioine vs to his Sonne. 4 In ſomuch that there is nothing but is ſubiekt to him. 5 For the love of Chriſt is ſo great towards the Church that though he duefully ſaith all with all things, yet he ſuffereth himſelfe to be a maimed and imperfekt head, vntill he haue the Church ioyned to him as his body.

CHAP. II.

1 The better to ſet out the grace of Chriſt, he ſet a compariſon, calling them to minde, 2 that they were altogether caſt away, and alwaies, 3 that they are ſaued by grace, 13 and brought nere, 16 by reconciliation through Chriſt, 17 publiſhed by the Goſpel.

And ¹ you haue been quickened, that were dead in ² trespases and finnes,

3 Wherein, in times paſt ye walked, according to the courſe of this world, and after the ſinſe that ruleth in the aire, even the ſpirit, that now worketh in the children of diſobedience,

4 Among whom we alſo had our conuerſation in time paſt in the luſtes of our fleſh, in fulfilling the will of the fleſh, and of the mind, and were by nature the children of wrath, as well as others.

5 But God which is rich in mercie, through his great loue wherewith he loued vs,

6 Even when we were dead by finnes, hath quickened vs together in Chriſt, by whoſe grace ye are ſaued,

7 And hath raiſed vs vp together, and made vs ſit together in the heauenly places in Chriſt Ieſus, them dead, which are not regenerate: for as the immortalitye of them which are damned, is no liſe, ſo the kiſſing together of body and ſoule, is properly no liſe, but death in them which are not ruled by the Spirit of God. 2 He ſpeaketh the cauſe of death, to wit, finnes. 3 He prometh by the effects that all were ſpiritually dead. 4 He prometh this ſhall be vniuſerſall, in ſomuch as all are ſlaves of Satan. 5 At the pleaſure of the prince. 6 Men are therefore ſlaves to Satan, becauſe they are willingly rebellious againſt God. 7 They are called the children of diſobedience, which are giuen to diſobedience. 8 After that hee hath ſeuerally condemned the Gentiles, he conſeſſeth that the Iewes amongſt whom he numbereth himſelfe, are not a whit better. 9 By the name of Jeſus in the firſt place, hee meaneth the whole ſanctiſication, which he diuideth into two parts: a into the fleſh, which is a ſanctiſication that the Philoſophers ſeek without reaſon, and into the ſoule, which they call reaſonable: ſo that he leaueſt nothing in man halfe dead, but concludeth that the whole man is of nature the ſon of wrath. 10 The conſolation: All men are borne ſubiekt to the wrath and curſe of God. 11 Men are ſaid to be the children of wrath paſſively, that is to ſay, ſubiekt to conſeſſing death by the iniquities of God, who is angry with them. 12 Prophane people which know not God. 13 Nowe herofolloweth another member of the compoſition, declaring our reconciliation, to wit, that by the vertue of Chriſt we are deliuered from that death, and made partakers of eternall liſe, to the end that at length we may reſigne ſuch him. And by diuers and ſundry meanes he beareth this into their heads, that the efficacie cauſe of this benefite is the free mercie of God: and Chriſt himſelfe is the materiall cauſe: and faith is the inſtrument, which alſo is the free gift of God: and the end is Gods glory. 14 To wit, as he aduertiſeth afterwards in Chriſt, for as yet this is not fulfilled in vs, but only in our head, by whoſe ſpirit we haue begun to be reconciled, and liue to God, that we be heere ſaid brought to an end that yet the hope is a ſanctiſication, for we are in ſure of that we looke for, as we are of that we haue receiued already.

in the grace of God, which is the gift of God, and not of works, lest any man should boast himself. For we are his workmanship created in Christ Jesus vnto good workes, which God hath ordeined, that we should walke in them. Wherefore remember that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, and called vncircumcision of them, which are called circumcision in the flesh made with handes, that ye were without Christ, & were aliens from the common wealth of Israel, & were strangers from the covenants of promise, and had no hope, and were without God in the world. But now in Christ Jesus, ye which once were farre off, are made neere by the blood of Christ. For his our peace, which hath made of both one, and hath broken the stoppe of the partition wall, in abrogating through his flesh the hatred, that is, the Law of commandments, which standeth in ordinances, for to make of twaine one new man in himselfe, making peace. And that he might reconcile both vnto God in one body by his crosse, and slay hatred thereby. And came, and preached peace to you which were at variance, & to them that were neere. For through him wee both have an entrance vnto the Father by one Spirit. Now therefore, ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but citizens with the Saints, and of the household of God. And are built vpon the foundation of the Apostles & Prophets, Iesus Christ himselfe being the chief corner stone. In whom all the building is coupled together, groweth vnto an holy Temple in the Lord. In whom ye also are built together to be the habitation of God by the Spirit.

7 That he might shewe in the ages to come the exceeding riches of his grace through his kindeste toward vs in Christ Iesus.
8 For by grace are ye saved through faith, and that not of your felues: it is the gift of God.
9 Not of workes, lest any man should boast himselfe.
10 For we are his workmanship created in Christ Iesus vnto good workes, which God hath ordeined, that we should walke in them.
11 Wherefore remember that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, and called vncircumcision of them, which are called circumcision in the flesh made with handes,
12 That ye were without Christ, & were aliens from the common wealth of Israel, & were strangers from the covenants of promise, and had no hope, and were without God in the world.
13 But now in Christ Iesus, ye which once were farre off, are made neere by the blood of Christ.
14 For his our peace, which hath made of both one, and hath broken the stoppe of the partition wall, 15 In abrogating through his flesh the hatred, that is, the Law of commandments which standeth in ordinances, for to make of twaine one new man in himselfe, making peace.
16 And that he might reconcile both vnto God in one body by his crosse, and slay hatred thereby,
17 And came, and preached peace to you which were at variance, & to them that were neere, 18 For through him wee both have an entrance vnto the Father by one Spirit.
19 Now therefore, ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but citizens with the Saints, and of the household of God, 20 And are built vpon the foundation of the Apostles & Prophets, Iesus Christ himselfe being the chief corner stone.
21 In whom all the building is coupled together, groweth vnto an holy Temple in the Lord.
22 In whom ye also are built together to be the habitation of God by the Spirit.

CHAP. II.

Redeclaration that therefore and justified many things of the lawe. 2. Because he preached the mysterie touching the fellowship of the Gentiles. 3. As Gods commandment. 4. After he had shewed the difference betwixt Jewes and Gentiles. 5. And for that cause he preached unto them. 6. That they may understand the grace of God.

For this cause I am the prisoner of Iesus Christ for you Gentiles.
If ye have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is given me to youwarde,
That is, that God by revelation hath shewed this myserie vnto mee. (As I wrote about in fewe wordes, Whereby when ye reade, ye may knowe mine vnderstanding in the myserie of Christ)
Which in other ages was not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is now reueiled vnto his holy Apostles and Prophets by the Spirit.
That the Gentiles should be inherites also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel, Whereof I am made a minister by the gift of the grace of God giuen vnto mee through the effectfull working of his power.
Euen vnto mee the least of all Saints is this grace giuen, that I should preach among the Gentiles the vnsearchable riches of Christ,
And to make cleare vnto all men what the fellowship of the myserie is, which from the beginning of the world hath bene hid in God, who hath created all things by Iesus Christ.
To the intent, that now vnto principalities and powers in heavenly places, might be knowne by the Church the manifolde wisdom of God.
According to the eternal purpose, which he wrought in Christ Iesus our Lord,
By whom we haue boldnesse and entrance with confidence by faith in him.
Wherefore I desire that ye faint not, at my tribulation for your sakes, which is your glory.
For this cause I bowe my knees vnto the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ,
Of whome is named the whole familie in heaven and in earth)
That he might grant you according to the riches of his glory, that ye may be strengthened by his Spirit in the inner man,
That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith.
That ye, being rooted and grounded in loue, may be able to comprehend with all Saints, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height,
And to know the loue of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye may be filled with all fulnesse of God.
Vnto him therefore that is able to do exceeding abundantly about all that wee aske or thinke, according to the power & worketh in vs, See praye in the Church by Christ Iesus, throughout all generations for euer, Amen.

preaching and hearing of the wordes, which are needfull not only to them which are younglings in religion, but euen to the eldest also, that they growing up more and more by faith in Christ, being confirmed with all spiritual gifts, may be grounded and rooted in the knowledge of that immeasurable loue, wherewith God the Father hath loved vs in Christ, seeing that the whole familie wherof part is already received in heauen, and part is yet here on earth, dependeth vpon the adoption of the heavenly Father, in his onely Sonne. All that whole people, which hath but one heavenly Father, and that is the Church which is adopted in Christ. According to the greatness of his mercie. Look Rom. 7.22. When with God I dwell vs, which is the roote of our election. I knowe that I am a creature of God, which I have shewed vs in Christ. Which possesseth all the capacities of men, yet to comprehend it fully in our minds, for wherewith we haue the Spirit of God, perceiving in much according to the measure that God hath giuen him, as is sufficient to salvation. So that we haue almost in vs, what lesser things are requisite to make vs perfect with God. A Rect breaketh forth into such exclamation, whereby the Ephesians also may be confirmed to hope for any thing of God.

CHAP.

He maintaineth his Apostleship against the offence of the crosse, wherof also he taketh an argument to confirme himselfe, affirming that he was not onely appointed an Apostle by the mercy of God, but was also particularly appointed to the Gentiles, to call them on every side to saluation: because God had determined it from the beginning, although he deferred a great while the manifestation of that his council. These wordes, the prisoner of Iesus Christ, are taken passively, that is to say, I Paul am called into prison, for maintaining the glory of Christ. He meaneth that that were knowne the calling of the Gentiles before, but because very few knew of it, and they that did knowe it, as the Prophets, had reueiled vnto them very darkly, and vnder figures. The vnto looking for calling of the Gentiles, was as it were a glasse to the heavenly Angels, wherein they might behold the marvellous wisdom of God. God neuer had but one, as only, to save men by: but he had diuers fashions and formes. Which maketh for all beginning. He teacheth by his owne example, that the efficacy of the doctrine dependeth vpon the grace of God, and therefore wee ought to ioyne prayers with the

CHAP. V.

Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children,
...and walke in love, even as Christ hath loved us, and hath given himselfe for us, to be an offering and a sacrifice of a sweete smelling savour to God.
...But fornication, and all uncleanness, or you, as it becometh Saints.

neither violent person, nor covetous person, which is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdome of Christ and of God.
...Let no man deceive you with vaine words:
for, for such things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience.
...Be not therefore companions with them.
...For ye were once darkness, but are now light in the Lord: walke as children of light.
...For the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodnesse, and righteousness, and truth.

which are done in secret.

the light, are manifest: for it is light that maketh all things manifest.

CHAP. V.

Let, in those things which are reproved, they should see light by his admonitions, & be converted from sinning, & be judged, & be purified from sin. & be purified from sin.

...Redeeming the season: for the dayes are evil.
...Wherefore, bee ye not wise, but understand what the will of the Lord is.
...And be not drunke with wine, wherein is

...excess: but be fulfilled with the Spirit,
...speaking unto your selves in psalms, and hymnes, and spiritual songs, singing, and making melodie to the Lord in your hearts,
...giving thanks always for all things unto God even the Father, in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ,
...submitting yourselves one to another in the feare of God.
...Wives, submit your selves unto your husbands, as unto the Lord.
...For the husband is the head of the Church, as Christ is the head of the Church, and the saviour of his body.
...Therefore as the Church is in subjection to Christ, even so let wives be to their husbands in every thing.
...Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ loved the Church, and gave himselfe for it,
...that he might sanctifie it, and cleanse it by the washing of water through the word,
...that he might make it unto himselfe a glorious Church, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing: but that it should be holy & without blame.
...As he ought men to love their wives as their owne bodies: he that loveth his wife, loveth himselfe.
...For no man ever yet hated his owne flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord doth the Church.
...For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.
...For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and they twaine shall be one flesh.
...This is a great secret, but I speake concerning Christ and concerning the Church.
...Therefore every one of you, as he seeth: let every one love his wife, even as himselfe, and let the wife feare her husband.
...This is not only a duty, but also very profitable: as also the salvation of the Church is of Christ, although otherwise. The conclusion of the wines doeth towards their husbands. Coloss. 2.19. The husbands doeth towards their wives, as to themselves, as themselves, of which love, the love of Christ toward his Church is a lively pattern. 4. Because many men pretend the infirmities of their wives, to excuse their owne hardness and cruelty: these people willet vs to mark what master of Church Christ gave, when hee sayeth it to himselfe, and how hee doeth not only not loathe all her filth and uncleanesse, but careth not to wipe the same away with his cleanness, untill hee have firmed in life, shall not be without wrinkles, before it come to the mark: it flourisheth even of nature: therefore hee loveth againe nature that longeth not his wife: he prooveth the consequence, first by the mysticall knitting of Christ and the Church together, and then by the ordinance of God, who sayeth, that man and wife are as one: that is, not to be divided. 13. His one body. 14. He loveth to the love of the husbands doeth toward his

He declareth his good will towards them, though they will shew by what means chiefly they may be comforted, to wit, by continual prayer.

He sheweth what things we ought chiefly to desire, to wit, first of all that we may increase in the love of God, so that we may be able to discern things that differ one from another, and also in charity, that even to the end we may give our selves to good works, indeed to the glory of God by Iesus Christ.

If righteousness be the tree, for good works the fruit, then must the righteousness be destroyed, then the fruit for what purpose are the seeds of righteousness?

He presenteth the offence that might come by his persecution, whereby diuine voice occasion to disgrace his apostleship. To whom he answereth, that God hath blessed his imprisonment in such wise, that hee is by that means become more famous, and the apostleship of the Gospel by this means is greatly enlarged, although not with his affection in himself, yet in others.

Sanctus Iesus.

In the Emperours court.

The Gospel is called the Word, to let forth the excellency of it.

Not with a pure mind: for either will their doctrine be pure.

He sheweth by setting forth his owne example, that he made of our afflictions in true joy, and that through the vertue of the Spirit of Christ, which he giueth to them that ascribe to Father a good will, and follow for they made first a cloak for their ambition and enuie. We must continue on to the end, with great confidence, having nothing before our eyes but Christs glory onely, whether we live or die. An example of a true heart: also maketh more account how he may profit his sheepe, then he doeth of any commodity of his owne whatsoever. To live in this mortal body. Making set downe those things before the manner of a Preface, he descendeth into exhortations, warning them first of all, to consent both in doctrine and mind, and afterwards, that being thus knit together with those common bands, they continue through the strength of faith to deare all aduersities in such sort, that they admit nothing worthy the profession of the Gospel. The word of God, in hand with it, is proper to us, as it is to the world, and it is not a word.

For God is my record, how I long after you all from the very heart roote in Iesus Christ.

And this I pray that your loue may abound yet more and more in knowledge, and in all iudgement,

That ye may allow those things which are best, that ye may be pure, and without offence, vntill the day of Christ,

Filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Iesus Christ vnto the glorie and prayse of God.

I would ye vnderstood, brethren, that the things which have come vnto me, are turned rather to the furthering of the Gospel,

So that my bands in Christ are famous thorowout all the iudgement hall, and in all other places,

In such that many of the brethren in the Lord are boldened through my bandes, and dare more frankly speake the Word.

Some preach Christ euen through enuy and strife, and some also of good will.

The one part preacheth Christ of contention, and not purely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bandes.

But the others of loue, knowing that I am set for the defence of the Gospel.

Wherthen? yet Christ is preached all manner wayes, whether it be vnder a pretence, or sincerely: and I therein ioy: yea, and will ioy.

For I know that this shall turne to my saluation through your prayer, and by the helpe of the Spirit of Iesus Christ.

As I feruently looke for, and hope, that smooching I shall be ashamed, but that with all confidence, as alwayes, so now Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death.

For Christ is to mee both in life and in death advantage.

And whether to live in the flesh were profitable for mee, and what to chuse, I know not.

For I am distressed betwene both, desiring to be loosed, and to be with Christ, which is best of all.

Neuerthelesse, to abide in the flesh, is more needfull for you.

And this am I sure of, that I shall abide and wish you all continue, for your furtherance and ioy of your faith,

That ye may more abundantly reioyce in Iesus Christ for mee, by my coming to you againe.

Onely let your conversation be as it becometh the Gospel of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or els be absent, I may heare of your matters, that ye continue in one spirit, and in one minde, fighting together through the faith of the Gospel.

And that through the vertue of the Spirit of Christ, which he giueth to them that ascribe to Father a good will, and follow for they made first a cloak for their ambition and enuie. We must continue on to the end, with great confidence, having nothing before our eyes but Christs glory onely, whether we live or die. An example of a true heart: also maketh more account how he may profit his sheepe, then he doeth of any commodity of his owne whatsoever. To live in this mortal body. Making set downe those things before the manner of a Preface, he descendeth into exhortations, warning them first of all, to consent both in doctrine and mind, and afterwards, that being thus knit together with those common bands, they continue through the strength of faith to deare all aduersities in such sort, that they admit nothing worthy the profession of the Gospel. The word of God, in hand with it, is proper to us, as it is to the world, and it is not a word.

And in nothing feare your aduersaries, which is to them a token of perdition, and to you of saluation, and that of God.

For vnto you it is giuen for Christ, that not onely ye should beleue in him, but also suffer for his sake.

Having the same fight, which yee saw in me, and now heare to be in me.

himselfe both of our saluation, & of the destruction of the wicked. He proueth that his saying, that persecution is a token of our saluation, because it is a gift of God to suffer for Christ, which gift he bestoweth vpon his owne, as he doth the gift of faith. Now he sheweth for what purpose he made mention of his afflictions.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth to them about all things, 3 in humilitie, & and shall be the example of Christ. 19 He proueth to find 1 Timothy shortly into them, 26 and extendeth the long saying of Ephesians.

If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of loue, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any compassion and mercy,

Fulfill my ioy, that ye be like minded, hauing the same loue, being of one accord, and of one iudgement,

That nothing be done through contention or vaine glory, but that in meeknesse of mind euery man esteeme other better then himselfe.

Looke not euery man on his owne things, but euery man also on the things of other men.

Let the same mind be in you that was euen in Christ Iesus,

Who being in the forme of God, thought it no robbery to be equall with God:

But he made himselfe of no reputation, and tooke on him the forme of a seruant, and was made like vnto men, and was found in shewe as a man.

He humbled himselfe, and became obedient vnto the death, euen the death of the crosse.

Wherfore God hath also highly exalted him, and giuen him a Name above euery name,

That at the Name of Iesus should euery knee bow, both of things in heauen, and things in earth, and things vnder the earth,

And that euery tongue should confesse that Iesus Christ is the Lord, vnto the glory of God the Father.

Wherfore my beloved, as ye haue alwayes obeyed me, not as in my presence onely, but now much more in mine absence: so make an end of your owne saluation with feare and trembling.

For it is God which worketh in you both the will and the deed, euen of his good pleasure.

Do all things without murmuring and reasonings,

Christ, that glorious and euerglasting God, knew that he might rightfully and lawfully use a yeare in the last of his life, and remaine with manerly sweet for God: yet let choise rather to debate himselfe. If the Sonne be equal to the father, then there needeth no equalitie which Arise, than heretike, acerb: and as if the Sonne be compared with the Father, then there is a distinction of persons, which Sabellius that heretike, denieth. He brought himselfe from all things, as it were to nothing by taking on manhood vpon him. He sheweth the most glorious euent of Christs submission, to teach vs, that modestie is the true way to true prayse and glorie. Digress and renewe, with matter with it. Altruism is found as long as it is subject to Christ. 1. Every nation. 4. The conclusion: Wee must goe on to saluation with humilitie and submission, by the way of our vocation. He is found to make an end of his saluation, which cometh in the race of righteousness. A most iust and grounded argument against pride, for that wee haue nothing in us prayse worthy, but it cometh of the free gift of God, and is without vs: for wee haue no ability or power, so much as to will well (much lesse to do well) but only of the free mercy of God. Why then, we are not flocke, but yet we do not will well of nature, but onely because God hath made of our naughtie will a good will. He describeth modestie by the contrary effects of pride, teaching vs, that it is lust both from all malicious, and close, or inward hatred, and also from open contentions and brawlings. 4. Pet. 4.9.

We ought not to be discouraged, but rather encouraged by the persecutions: which the enemies of the Gospel imagine, & practise against vs, seeing that they are certayne necessities from God.

He proueth that his saying, that persecution is a token of our saluation, because it is a gift of God to suffer for Christ, which gift he bestoweth vpon his owne, as he doth the gift of faith. Now he sheweth for what purpose he made mention of his afflictions.

He sheweth to them about all things, 3 in humilitie, & and shall be the example of Christ. 19 He proueth to find 1 Timothy shortly into them, 26 and extendeth the long saying of Ephesians.

A most earnest request to remove all those things, whereby that great and special consent and agreement is commonly broken, to wit, contention and pride, whereby it cometh to passe, that they separate themselves one from another.

Any Christian comfort.

If any feeling of inward loue.

Like loue.

He teacheth before them a most perfect example of all modestie and sweet conversation, Christ Iesus, whom we ought to follow with all our might: who abased himselfe farre for our sakes, although he be above all, that he tooke vpon him the forme of a seruant, to wit, our flesh willingly, subject to all infirmities, euen to the death of the crosse.

Such as God himselfe is, and therefore God, for there is none in all parts like to God, but God himselfe.

Christ, that glorious and euerglasting God, knew that he might rightfully and lawfully use a yeare in the last of his life, and remaine with manerly sweet for God: yet let choise rather to debate himselfe. 19. Whole ends & damnation, whose God is their bellie, and whose glory is to their shame, which minde earthly things.
 20. But our conuersation is in heauen, from whence also we looke for the Saviour, even the Lord Iesus Christ.
 21. Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like vnto his glorious body, according to the working, whereby hee is able quen to subdue all things vnto himselfe.
 22. And they shall bee clothed with that eternall glory, by the vertue of God. 1. Cor. 15. 42.

CHAP. III

1. From particular exhortations, 4. bee commeth to generall.
 2. He saith that he wrote such say in their readinesse to libertie, 13. that he will patiently beare the want.
 3. Herefore, my brethren, beloved and longed for, my ioy and my crowne, so continue in the Lord, ye beloved.
 4. I pray euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of one accord in the Lord.
 5. Yes, and I beseech thee, faithfull yokefellow, helpe those women, which laboured with me in the Gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellow labourers, whose names are in the booke of life.
 6. Reioyce in the Lord alway, againe I say, reioyce.
 7. Let your patient mind be knowne vnto all men. The Lord is at hand.
 8. Be nothing carefull, but in all things let your requests be shewed vnto God in prayer and supplication with giuing of thanks.
 9. And the peace of God which passeth all vnderstanding, shall presterue your hearts and mindes in Christ Iesus.
 10. Furthermore, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoe-uer things are iust, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are worthie loue, whatsoever things are of good report, if there bee any vertue, or if there bee any praise, thinke on these things, Which ye haue both learned and received, and heard, and seene in me: those things doe, and the God of peace shall be with you.

 10. Now I reioyce also in the Lord greatly, that now at the last your care for me springeth afresh, wherein notwithstanding ye were carefull, but ye lacked opportunicie.
 11. I speake not because of want: for I haue learned in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.
 12. And I can be labased, and I can abound: every where in all things I am instructed, both to be full, and to be hungry, and to abound, and to haue want.
 13. I am able to doe all things through the helpe of Christ, which strengtheneth me.
 14. Notwithstanding yee haue well done, that ye did communicate to mine affliction.
 15. And yee Philippians know also, that in the beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church communicated with mee, concerning the matter of giuing and receiuing, but ye onely.
 16. For euen when I was in Thessalonica, yee sent once, and afterward againe for my needfullie.
 17. Not that I desire a gift: but I desire the fruit which may further your reckoning.
 18. Now I haue receiued all, and haue plentie: I was euen filled, after that I had receiued of Epaphroditus that which came from you, an odour that smelleth sweete, a sacrifice acceptable and pleasant to God.
 19. And my God shall fulfill all your necessities through his riches with glory in Iesus Christ.
 20. Vnto God euen our Father bee prayse for euermore. Amen.
 21. Salute all the Saints in Christ Iesus. The brethren, which are with me, greet you.
 22. All the Saints salute you, and most of all they which are of Cæsars household.
 23. The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

CHAP. IIII

¶ Written to the Philippians from Rome, and sent by Epaphroditus.
 1. We giue thanks to God euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, alway praying for you:
 2. Since we heard of your faith in Christ Iesus, and of your loue towards all Saints,
 3. Forthe hopes sake, which is layed vp for you in heauen, whereof ye haue heard before by the word of truth, which is the Gospel,
 4. Which is come vnto you euen as it is vnto all the world, and is fruitfull, as it is also among you, from the day that ye heard and truly knew the grace of God,
 5. As yee also learned of Epaphras our deare fellow servant, which is for you a faithfull minister of Christ:

8. He witnesseth that their liberallie was acceptable to him, where with they did helpe him in his extreme poverie: but yet so moderating his words, that he might declare himselfe voyd of all suspicion of disbaule, and that he hath a minde contented both with prosperitie and aduersitie, and to be honest, that he repositeth himselfe in the only will of God. As though I begged for my want.
 9. He useth a general word, and sayeth he receiued but of one kinde of gifts, which is power, for commonly power is brought in all kinde of discommodities with it. This is a metaphor taken from body things, or sacrifices, for our life is like a sacrifice.
 10. He witnesseth that he remembreth also their former benefites, and againe putteth a way finisstrous suspicion of immoderate desire, in that that he receiued nought of any else. At the beginning when I preached the Gospel among you.
 11. He witnesseth againe, that he alloweth well of their breack, not so much for his owne sake as for theirs, because they gave it not so much to him, as they offered it to God as a sacrifice, whereof he the Lord himselfe will not bee forgetfull. He alludeth to the sweete smelling saunders that were offered in the olde Law.
 12. Such as belongeth to the Emperor Nero.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE COLOSSIANS.

CHAP. I

1. After the salutation, 4. he prayeth them the more, to make them assent to his word.
 2. He prayeth the brethren, that they should be diligent, which they heard of Epaphras, 12. He magnifieth Gods grace towards them, 13. and sheweth that all the parts of our salvation consist in Christ alone.
 3. And we ascribe all of Iesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timotheus
 4. To them which are at Colosse, and faithful brethren
 5. In Christ. Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

1. He commendeth the doctrine that was delivered them by Epaphras, and their readinesse in receiving it.
 2. We cannot shew you the consoling of God in our salvation, but as Christ Iesus Father in whom we are adopted.
 3. For the glory that is his.

1. Who hath also declared unto vs your love in this space.

2. For these cause we also since the day that we heard of, cease not to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be fulfilled with knowledge of his will in all wisdom, and spiritual understanding.

3. That ye might walke worthy of the Lord, and please him in all things, being fruitful in all good works, and increasing in the knowledge of God.

4. Strengthened with all might through his glorious power, unto all patience, and long suffering with joyfulness.

5. Giving thanks vnto the Father which hath made vs meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saints in light.

6. Who hath delivered vs from the power of darkness, and hath translated vs into the kingdom of his deere sonne.

7. In whom wee haue redemption through his blood, that is the forgiveness of sinnes.

8. Who is the image of the inuisible God, the first begotten of euery creature.

9. For by him were all things created which are in heauen, and which are in earth, things visible and inuisible: whether they be Thrones, or Dominions, or Principalities, or Powers, all things were created by him, and for him.

10. And he is before all things, and in him all things consist.

11. And he is the head of the body of the Church: he is the beginning, and the first begotten of the dead, that in all things he might haue the preminence.

12. For it pleased the Father, that in him should all fulnesse dwell.

13. And through peace made by that blood of his, through him, I say, all things, both which are in earth, and which are in heauen.

14. And you which were intimes past strangers and enemies, because your mindes were set in enill works, hath he now also reconciled.

15. In that body of his flesh through death, to make you holy and vnblesseable, and without fault in his sight.

16. If ye continue grounded and stablished in the faith, and bee not moued away from the hope of the Gospel, whereof ye haue heard, and which hath been preached to euery creature, which is vnder heauen, whereof I Paul am a minister.

17. Now reioice I in my sufferings for you, and fulfill the rest of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh, for his bodies sake, which is the Church.

18. Whereof I am a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given me vnto youward, to fulfill the word of God.

19. Which is the mystery hid since the world began, and from all ages, but now is made manifest to his Saints.

20. To whom God would make known what is the riches of his glorious mystery among the Gentiles, which riches is Christ in you, the hope of glory.

21. Whom wee preach, admonishing every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom, that wee may present euery man perfect in Christ Iesus.

22. Whertunto I also labor & strue, according to his working which worketh in me mightily.

23. The Churches with these examples of patience.

24. For your profits and commendation.

25. The afflictions of the Church are sayde to be Christs afflictions, by reason of that fellowship and knitting together that the body and the head haue the one with the other, so that there is any more neede to haue the Church patient, but that Christ himselfe be patient in the death menkesse of his, and that for the comfort of the whole body.

26. He bringeth another prooffe of his Apostleship, to wit, that God is the author of it, by whom also hee was appointed peculiarly Apostle of the Gentiles: to the end that by this meane that same might be fulfilled by him, which the Prophet foretold of the calling of the Gentiles. CHAP. II.

1. We commend you, whatsoeuer is without Christ, 11. In bringing forth of circumcision, 16. of abstinence from meats, 18. and of worshipping of Angels, 20. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100. 101. 102. 103. 104. 105. 106. 107. 108. 109. 110. 111. 112. 113. 114. 115. 116. 117. 118. 119. 120. 121. 122. 123. 124. 125. 126. 127. 128. 129. 130. 131. 132. 133. 134. 135. 136. 137. 138. 139. 140. 141. 142. 143. 144. 145. 146. 147. 148. 149. 150. 151. 152. 153. 154. 155. 156. 157. 158. 159. 160. 161. 162. 163. 164. 165. 166. 167. 168. 169. 170. 171. 172. 173. 174. 175. 176. 177. 178. 179. 180. 181. 182. 183. 184. 185. 186. 187. 188. 189. 190. 191. 192. 193. 194. 195. 196. 197. 198. 199. 200. 201. 202. 203. 204. 205. 206. 207. 208. 209. 210. 211. 212. 213. 214. 215. 216. 217. 218. 219. 220. 221. 222. 223. 224. 225. 226. 227. 228. 229. 230. 231. 232. 233. 234. 235. 236. 237. 238. 239. 240. 241. 242. 243. 244. 245. 246. 247. 248. 249. 250. 251. 252. 253. 254. 255. 256. 257. 258. 259. 260. 261. 262. 263. 264. 265. 266. 267. 268. 269. 270. 271. 272. 273. 274. 275. 276. 277. 278. 279. 280. 281. 282. 283. 284. 285. 286. 287. 288. 289. 290. 291. 292. 293.

Colos.

1. But your affections on things which are above, and not on things which are on the earth.
2. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

3. When Christ which is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory.

4. Mortifie therefore your members which are on the earth; fornication, uncleanness, the inordinate affection, enuill concupiscence, and covetousness which is idolatrie.

5. For the which things take the wrath of God against the children of disobedience.

6. Wherein ye also walked once, when ye lived in them.

7. But now put ye away even all these things, wrath, anger, malice, enuill, cursed speaking, false speaking, out of your mouth.

8. Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his works,

9. And have put on the new, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him,

10. Where is neither Grecian nor Iewe, circumcision, nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond, free: But Christ is all, and in all things.

11. Now therefore as the elect of God, holy and beloved, put on the bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of minde, meekenesse, long suffering,

12. Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrell to another: even as Christ forgave us, when so we were in our sins,

13. And above all these things, put on loue, which is the bond of perfectnesse.

14. And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which ye are called in one body, and be ye thankful.

15. Let the word of Christ dwell in you plentifully in all wisdom: teaching and admonishing your owne selves in Psalms, and hymnes, and spiritual songs, singing with a grace in your hearts to the Lord,

16. And whatsoever ye shall doe, in word or deed, do all in the Name of the Lord Iesus, giving thanks to God even the Father by him.

17. Wives, submit your selves unto your husbands, as the church is in the Lord.

18. Husbands, loue your wives, and be not bitter vnto them.

19. Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for that is well pleasing vnto the Lord.

20. Fathers, prouoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

21. Servants, be obedient vnto them that are your masters according to the flesh, in all things, nor with eyefervice as men please, but in singleness of heart, fearing God.

22. And whatsoever ye doe, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not to men,

23. Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: for ye serue the Lord Christ.

24. But he that doeth wrong, shall receive for the wrong that he hath done, and there is no respect of persons.

25. Of servants, that fearing God himselfe to whom their obedience is acceptable, they reuerently, faithfully, and from the heart, obey their masters. Ephes. 6. 5, 6. 1. pet. 2. 18. 26. That as you have duly obeyed your masters, the Lord shall come, that you may receive the reward of servants, and that you may be able to stand in the day of the Lord, which shall be when you are made partakers of the heavenly inheritance. 27. Hee requireth of masters, that being in mindfull how that they themselves also shall render an account before that heavenly Lord and Master, which will requite wrongfull things with his own respect of masters or servants, they shew themselves iust and vpright with equall vnto their servants.

CHAP. III.

1. Hee requireth of masters, that being in mindfull how that they themselves also shall render an account before that heavenly Lord and Master, which will requite wrongfull things with his own respect of masters or servants, they shew themselves iust and vpright with equall vnto their servants.

2. Ye masters doe vnto your seruants, that which is iust and equall, knowing that ye also have a master in heaven.

3. Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving.

4. Praying also for vs, that God may open vnto vs the doore of vnterance, to speak the mystery of Christ: wherefore I am also in bonds,

5. That I may utter it, as it becometh me to speake.

6. Walke wisely toward them that are without, and redeeme the season.

7. Let your speech be gracious alwayes, and powdered with salt, that ye may know how to answer euery man.

8. Tychicus our beloued brother and faithfull minister, and fellow servant in the Lord, shall declare vnto you my whole state.

9. Whom I haue sent vnto you for the same purpose, that he might know your state, & might comfort your hearts.

10. With Onesimus a faithfull and a beloued brother, who is one of you. They shall shew you of all things here.

11. Aristarchus my prisonfellow salueth you, and Marcus Bar nabas cousin (touching whom ye receiued commandements: If he come vnto you, receiue him)

12. And Iesus which is called Iustus, which are of the circumcision. These onely are my workfellowes vnto the kingdom of God, which haue bene vnto my consolation.

13. Epaphras the seruant of Christ, which is one of you, salueth you, and alway strueth for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect, and full in all the will of God.

14. For I beate him in record that he hath a great zeale for you, and for them of Laodicea, & them of Hierapolis.

1. Hee requireth of masters, that being in mindfull how that they themselves also shall render an account before that heavenly Lord and Master, which will requite wrongfull things with his own respect of masters or servants, they shew themselves iust and vpright with equall vnto their servants.
2. Ye masters doe vnto your seruants, that which is iust and equall, knowing that ye also have a master in heaven.
3. Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving.
4. Praying also for vs, that God may open vnto vs the doore of vnterance, to speak the mystery of Christ: wherefore I am also in bonds,
5. That I may utter it, as it becometh me to speake.
6. Walke wisely toward them that are without, and redeeme the season.
7. Let your speech be gracious alwayes, and powdered with salt, that ye may know how to answer euery man.
8. Tychicus our beloued brother and faithfull minister, and fellow servant in the Lord, shall declare vnto you my whole state.
9. Whom I haue sent vnto you for the same purpose, that he might know your state, & might comfort your hearts.
10. With Onesimus a faithfull and a beloued brother, who is one of you. They shall shew you of all things here.
11. Aristarchus my prisonfellow salueth you, and Marcus Bar nabas cousin (touching whom ye receiued commandements: If he come vnto you, receiue him)
12. And Iesus which is called Iustus, which are of the circumcision. These onely are my workfellowes vnto the kingdom of God, which haue bene vnto my consolation.
13. Epaphras the seruant of Christ, which is one of you, salueth you, and alway strueth for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect, and full in all the will of God.
14. For I beate him in record that he hath a great zeale for you, and for them of Laodicea, & them of Hierapolis.

1. 1. Salutation which is of Paul, and Timothy, and the Church which is in his house.
2. And when this Epistle is read of you, cause that it be read in the Church of the Laodiceans also, and that ye likewise write the Epistle written from Laodicea.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

1. That ye who diligently with thanksgiving, 2. as ye also have heard of what manner was Paul's service in the Lord, 3. and that he is in the midst of the Church.

1. And Sileas, and Timothy, 2. and the Church which is in the Lord Jesus Christ, 3. Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

1. We give God thanks always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers, 2. Without ceasing, remembering your affectionate faith, and diligent love, and the patience of your hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God our Father, 3. Knowing, beloved brethren, that ye are elected of God.

1. For our Gospel was not unto you in word only, but also in power, & in the holy Ghost, and in much assurance, as ye know after what manner we were among you for your sakes.

1. And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, and received the word in much affliction, with joy of the holy Ghost.

1. So that ye were an example to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.

1. For from you sounded out the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and in Achaia, but your faith also which is toward God, spread abroad in all quarters, that we need not to speak anything.

1. For they themselves shew of us what manner of serving in us had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols, to the living and true God.

1. And he raised for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from that wrath to come.

CHAP. II.

1. Now we beseech you, brethren, by the mercies of God, 2. that ye walk unworthily in the world, 3. as ye also have heard of what manner was Paul's service in the Lord, 4. and that he is in the midst of the Church.

1. The salutation by the hands of Paul. Remember my hands, Grace be with you, Amen.

1. Written from Rome to the Colossians, and for by Tychem and Onesimus.

1. For ye your faith have been such that our entrance in unto you was not in vain, 2. But with that which we had suffered before, and were steadfastly entreated in our God, to speak unto you the Gospel of God, with much striving.

1. For our exhortation was not by deceit, nor by guile, 2. But as we were allowed of God, that the Gospel should be committed unto us, so we speak, hoping that it shall please you, but God, which is our witness.

1. Neither did we use any flattering words, as ye know, nor coloured countenance, 2. Neither sought we praise of men, neither of you, nor of others, who were might have been chargeable, as the Apostles of Christ.

1. But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children.

1. Thus being affectionate toward you, our good will was to have dealt with you, not the Gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.

1. For yet remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for we laboured day and night, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, and preached unto you the Gospel of God.

1. Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and justly, & blamelessly we behaved our selves among you that believe.

1. As ye know how that we exhorted you, and comforted, and besought every one of you, as a father his children.

1. That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

1. For this cause also thanks we God without ceasing, that when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is indeed the word of God, which also worketh in you that believe.

1. For which cause also thanks we God without ceasing, that when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is indeed the word of God, which also worketh in you that believe.

1. For which cause also thanks we God without ceasing, that when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is indeed the word of God, which also worketh in you that believe.

1. For which cause also thanks we God without ceasing, that when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is indeed the word of God, which also worketh in you that believe.

1. For which cause also thanks we God without ceasing, that when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is indeed the word of God, which also worketh in you that believe.

1. That which he touched before shortly concerning his Apostleship, he handleth now more at large, and to that end and purpose which we looked for.

1. The virtues of a true pastor are freely, & without fear to preach the Gospel, even in the midst of dangers.

1. Acts 18. 17. 2. Through Gods gracious help, 3. To watch pure doctrine faithfully and with a pure heart.

1. By any wicked and naughty kind of dealing, 2. To approve his conscience to God, being free from all flattery and craftiness.

1. Seeing there is this difference between the indignity of God and the indignity of men, that when men are angry, they reflect the quality of their anger upon themselves, but God reflects the reason of his wrath only on the wicked.

1. As ye know how that we exhorted you, and comforted, and besought every one of you, as a father his children.

1. That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

1. For this cause also thanks we God without ceasing, that when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is indeed the word of God, which also worketh in you that believe.

1. For which cause also thanks we God without ceasing, that when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is indeed the word of God, which also worketh in you that believe.

1. For which cause also thanks we God without ceasing, that when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is indeed the word of God, which also worketh in you that believe.

For brethren, ye are become followers of the Churches of God, which in Iudea are in Christ Iesus, because ye have also suffered the same things of your owne countrey men, euen as they haue of the Iewes.

Who both killed the Lord Iesus & their own Prophets, & haue persecuted vs away, and God they please not, & are contrary to all men, And forbid vs to preach vnto the Gentiles, that they might be saved, to fulfill their finnes alwayes: for the wrath of God is come on them to the vtmost.

Forasmuch, brethren, as we were kept from you for a season, concerning fight, but not in the heart, we enforced the more to see your face with great desire.

Therefore we were haue come vnto you (I Paul) at least once or twice, but Satan hindered vs.

For what is our hope or ioy, or crowne of reioycing? are not euen you it in the presence of our Lord Iesus Christ at his coming?

Yes, ye are our glory and ioy.

Forasmuch as the Gospel. That is a new thing, saith he, seeing they slewe Christ, his followers and haue banished me also. He foretelleth the destruction of the Iewes, lest any man should be moved by their rebellion. For the Iewes were the first to be kingdome of God themselves, we suffer after in our sin. And vntill the wickedness of their, which they haue by inheritance of their fathers, be gotten to great dole, the measure of their iniquitie being full, God may comfort us in wrath. The judgement of God being angry, which in Iudea is shewed shortly after in the destruction of the citie of Hierusalem, whither many of our brethren were driven, when it was besieged. He meeteth with an apostle, who came not to the straight wayes being in so great miserie, I desired to see him, and I was not in my, but Satan hindered my endeours, and therefore I am come to see you, because you are most deare to me. For ye are of such a nature, and as it were orphans.

CHAP. III.

To shew his affection toward them, hee sendeth Timothy vnto them: & hee is so moved by the reports of their prospering state, that hee cannot give sufficient thanks, & therefore hee breaketh out into prayer.

Wherefore since we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to remaine at Athens alwayes.

And haue sent Timothy our brother and minister of God, & our labourer follow in the Gospel of Christ to stablish you, and to comfort you touching your faith.

That no man should be moued with these afflictions: for ye your selues know that we are appointed thereunto.

For verily when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulations, euen as it came to passe, and ye know it.

Euen for this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent him that I might know of your faith, lest the temple had tempted you in any sort, and that our labour had bene in vaine.

But now lately when Timothy came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidings of your faith and love, and that ye haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, desiring to see vs, as we also doe you.

Therefore brethren, we had consolation in you, in all our affliction, and needlesse through your faith.

For now are we alive, if ye stand fast in the Lord.

For what thanks can we recompense to God againe for you for all the ioy wherewith we reioyce for your sakes before our God.

Night and day, & praying exceedingly, that we might see your face, and might accomplish that which is lacking in your faith?

Now God himselfe, euen our father, and our Lord Iesus Christ, guide our journey vnto you.

And the Lord increase you, and make you abound in loue one toward another, and toward all men, euen as we doe toward you:

To make your hearts stable & vnblameable in holinesse before God, euen our Father, at the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ with all his Saints.

charitie toward all men, & inward puritie of the heart, and notwithstanding is deferred to the next coming of Christ, his worke by the same grace, wherewith he began it in vs.

CHAP. IIIII.

Hee exhortheth them 3 to holmes, 9 and brotherly loue, 15. Hee forbiddeh them 10 for to after the manner of infidelity. 15. Hee testifieth the historic of our resurrection.

And furthermore we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you in the Lord Iesus, that ye increase more and more, as ye haue receiued of vs, how ye ought to walke and to please God.

For ye know what commandements wee gaue you by the Lord Iesus.

For this is the will of God, euen your sanctification, and that ye should abstaine from fornication,

That euery one of you should knowe how to possesse his vessell in holinesse and honour,

And not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles which know not God:

That no man oppresse or defraud his brother in any matter: for the Lord is auenger of all such things, as wee also haue told you before-time, and testified.

For God hath not called vs vnto vncleanesse, but vnto holinesse.

He therefore that despiseth these things, despiseth not man, but God who hath euen given you his holy Spirit.

But as touching brotherly loue, ye neede not that I write vnto you: for ye are taught of God to loue one another.

Yea, and that thing verily ye doe vnto all the brethren, which are thorowout all Macedonia: but we beseech you brethren, that ye increase more and more,

And that ye studie to be quiet, & to meddle with your owne businesse, and to worke with your owne hands, as we command you,

That ye may behaue your selues honestly toward them that are without, and that nothing be lacking vnto you.

I would not brethren, haue you ignorant concerning them, which are asleepe, that ye forgoe not euen as other which haue no hope.

For if we beleue that Iesus is dead, and is risen euen to them which sleepe in Iesus, will God bring with him.

Thirdly, he requirith a ready minde to all manner of loving kinnesse, and exhorteth them to profite more and more in that vertue. 1 John 3. 2. and 15. 12. 1 John 3. 2. and 15. 12. 7. Hee commendeth vaquitt braynes, and such as are curious in matters which appertaine not vnto them. 8. He rebuketh idlenesse and slothfulness, which vices whosoever are iung vnto, fall into other wickednesse, so the great offence of the Church. 9. The third part of the Epistle, which is entailed among the former exhortations (which he returneth vnto afterward) wherein he speaketh of mourning for the dead, and the manner of the resurrection, and of the last day.

10. We must take heed that we do not immoderately bewaile the dead, that is, as they vie to doe which thinke that they are utterly perished. 11. Reconfirmation: for death is but a sleepe of the body (for hee speaketh of the finally vntill the Lord cometh). 12. A reason of the confirmation, for seeing that the head is risen the members also shall rise, and that by the vertue of God. 13. They are in Christ, which continue in faith, wherewith they are grafted into Christ, euen as the last vnto. 14. Will call their sinnes out of their granes, and by the same Iesus to rise againe.

Another part of the Epistle, where in he speaketh of the duties of a Christian life. And he sheweth that the perfection of a Christian consisteth in this: 1. That ye labour to exceed more and more, and daily passe your iours. 2. Rom. 12. 1. 17. 3. This is the summe of those things, which he delivered them, to dedicate themselves wholly to God. And he condemneth plainly all filthinesse, through Iust, because it is altogether contrary to the will of God. 17. 17. 3. Another reason, because it defileth the body. 4. The iours, because the Saints are separated from them which know not God, by holinesse and puritie. 5. Secondly, he reprehendeth all violent oppression, and immoderate desire, and sheweth that hee cleary in the Prophet. 6. That the God will requite such wickednesse. 7. That from many sinners which I requite.

1. Diners exhortations, the ground wherof is this, to be mindfull of those things which they haue heard of the Apostle.

a That ye labour to exceed more and more, and daily passe your iours. 2. Rom. 12. 1. 17. 3. This is the summe of those things, which he delivered them, to dedicate themselves wholly to God. 27 The manner of the resurrection shall be thus : The bones of the dead shall be as it were calamine of sleep,
at the sound of the trumpet of God, Christ himselfe shall descend from heaven in a white cloud, and shall take up the dead
in his arms, and shall be with them
in the clouds, to meet the Lord in
the aire : and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

28 And thus shall we be ever with the Lord, taken up in the clouds
to meet the Lord,
and shall be with him in the clouds for ever. For the Lord himselfe shall descend from heaven, and shall take up the dead
in his arms, and
shall be with them
in the clouds, to meet the Lord in
the aire : and so
shall we ever be
with the Lord.

29 The day of the Lord shall come as a thief in the night, and shall take us all away, as it were, in a moment, and we shall be ever with the Lord, taken up in the clouds
to meet the Lord,
and shall be with him in the clouds
for ever. For the Lord himselfe shall descend from heaven, and shall take up the dead
in his arms, and
shall be with them
in the clouds, to meet the Lord in
the aire : and so
shall we ever be
with the Lord.

30 We must watch and be sober, for the day of the Lord shall come as a thief in the night, and shall take us all away, as it were,
in a moment, and we shall be ever with the Lord, taken up in the clouds
to meet the Lord,
and shall be with him in the clouds
for ever.

15 For thus say we unto you by the word of the Lord, that s we which live, and are remaining in the coming of the Lord, shall not pre-scent them which sleepe.

16 For the Lord himselfe shall descend from heaven with a shout, and with the voice of the Archangel, and with the trumpet of God : and the dead in Christ shall rise first :

17 Then shall we which live and remaine, be caught up with them also in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the aire : and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

18 Wherefore, comfort your selves one another with these words :

19 For the Lord himselfe shall descend from heaven, and shall take up the dead in his arms, and shall be with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the aire : and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

CHAP. V.

1 Comforting the curious searching for the persons of Christ coming, and be earnest them to be ready daily to receive him : 2. And to guard them from sleep, and sloth.

1 But of the times, and seasons, brethren, ye have not need that I write unto you :

2 For ye your selves know perfectly, that the day of the Lord shall come, even as a thief in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace and safetie, even shall come vpon them sudden destruction, as the travail vpon a woman with child, and they shall not escape.

4 But ye, brethren, are not in darknesse, that that day should come on you, as it were a thief.

5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day : we are not of the night, neither of darknesse.

6 Therefore let vs not sleepe as doe other, but let vs watch and beseech.

7 For they that sleepe sleepe in the night, and they that be drunken are drunken in the night.

8 But let vs which are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and the hope of salvation for an helmet.

9 For God hath not appointed vs vnto wrath, but to obtaine salvation by the means of our Lord Iesus Christ,

10 Which died for vs, that whether we wake or sleepe, we should live together with him.

11 Wherefore exhort one another, and edificate one another, as you doe.

12 Now we beseech you brethren, that ye acknowledge them which labour among you and are over you in the Lord, & admonish you,

13 That ye have them in singular love for their workes sake. 14 But in peace among your selves.

15 We desire you, brethren, admonish them that are out of order : comfort the feeble minded :
beare with the weak : be patient toward all men.

16 See that none recompense euil for euil vnto any man : but ever follow that which is good, both toward your selves, & toward all men.

17 Reioyce evermore.

18 Pray continually.

19 In all things give thanks : for this is the will of God in Christ Iesus toward you.

20 Quench not the Spirit.

21 Despise not prophesying.

22 Try all things, & keep that which is good.

23 Abstaine from all appearance of euil.

24 Now the very God of peace sanctifie you thoroughout : and I pray God that your whole spirit and soule and body may be kept blamelesse vnto the coming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

25 Faithfull is he which calleth you, which will also doe it.

26 Brethren, pray for vs.

27 Greete all the brethren with an holy kisse.

28 I charge you in the Lord, that this Epistle be read vnto all the brethren the Saints.

29 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you, Amen.

¶ The first Epistle vnto the Thessalonians written from Athens.

10 Charitie ought not to be suppressed with any iniurie.

11 A quiet and appeased mind, is nourished with continual prayer, respecting the will of God.

12 The sparkes of the Spirit of God that are kindled in vs, are nourished with desire hearing the word of God :

13 The expounding of the word of God, is a general conclusion, that we waiting for the coming of Christ do give our hearts to persecute back in mind, will, and body through the grace and strength of the Spirit of God.

14 The good will and power of God, is a sure confirmation against all difficulties, whereof we have a foretelling in our vocation.

15 The last part of the Epistle, wherein with most weighty charge, he commends both himselfe and the Epistle vnto them.

¶ We must not anxiously watch our selves, but we are also bound to confirm one another.

¶ We must have great consideration of them which are appointed to the ministry of the word, and government of the Church by God, and doe their duties.

¶ They who acknowledge euil, and shew for such as they are, that is to say, unworthy, is not greatly accomplished of among you.

¶ In those things which pertaine to Gods service, as in the ecclesiastical function, distingished from ciuill authorities, and true shepherds from wolves.

¶ So then, where the cause of righteousness is, there must be the house of peace.

¶ The maine purpose of mutual concord, is especially to be looked vnto.

¶ We must have consideration of every man, and as the dislike is, so must the remedie be viod.

¶ That keepeth
the commandment of the Lord, shall be rewarded.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 Rememering the mercies of God, and the promises of the Gospel, and the consolation of the Holy Spirit, which is given to the elect, to wit, the elect of God.

2 And Silvanus, and Timothy, vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, which are God our Father, and in the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 Grace be with you, & peace from the Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

4 We ought to thank God alwayes for you brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of every one of you toward another aboundeth.

5 So that we our selves reioyce of you in the Churches of God, because of your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye suffer.

6 These things shewing with what gifts they most childly fight, and charitie, which most dayly increaseth.

7 That whereas it grew up before us, we were not able to write more and more.

¶ Which is a manifest token of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye may bee counted worthy of the kingdome of God, for which ye also suffer.

6 For it is a righteous thing with God, to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you.

7 And to you which are troubled, rest & with vs. 4 1 when the Lord Iesus shall shewe himselfe from heauen with his mightie Angels,

3 In flaming fire, rendering vengeance vnto them, "that doe not know God, and which obey not vnto the Gospel of our Lord Iesus Christ, —

9 Which shall be punished with everlasting perdition from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power.

10 When he shall come to bee glorified in his Saints, & to be made marueilous in all them that beloeue (because our testimonie toward you was beleeued) in that day.

11 ⁸ Wherefore, we also pray alwayes for you that our God may make you worthy of ^b this calling, & fulfill ^c all the good pleasure of ^{bis} goodnesse, and the ^d worke of faith with power,

That the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ may bee glorified in you, and yee in him, according to the grace of our God, and of the Lord Ie-sus Christ.

3. A more glorious description of the second coming of Christ, to be set against the miseries of the godly, and the triumphs of the wicked. 6 There is no blessing of God unto salvation, without the Gospel of Christ. 7 The children of God shall be caused by the faith which they have in the Gospel, which is preached unto them by the Apostles. 8 See us that we have the marks here before us, it remaineth that we goe unto it. And we goe to it, by certaine degrees of calling: first by the free loue and good pleasure of God, by vertue whereof al-
 1. The former causes worke: from thence proceedeth the free calling to Christ, and from calling, faith, whereupon followeth both the glorifying of Christ in vs, and vs in Christ. 2. By (saying) his name is not the veruall of calling, but that first some shall be thus inwardly decreed, which is the first of these beauly longings. 3. That he then inwardly thus loue, sweetly upon his grace and mercifull goodnesse towards vs. 4. In this, faith is an excellent worke of God in vs: and we are here plainly that the simple first reaching of his will, is made is cleere made with Gods inward loue, in the hearts of some.

CHAP. II.

He saith that the day of the Lord shall not come, & if there be a departure from the faith, 3 and that Antichrist be revealed, 8 & safe destruction be jealousous. 15 and thereupon exhorteth to constancie.

NOW we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ; and by our assembling unto him,

2^a That yee be not suddenly moued from your mind, nor troubled neither by ^b spirit, nor by ^c word, nor by ^d letter, as ~~is~~ ^{is} ~~written~~ ^{written} from vs, as though the day of Christ were at hand.

Let no man deceive you by any means:
For that day shall not come, except there come a departing first, and that that man of sinne bee discovered, even the sonne of perdition,

Which is an aduerſarie, and exalteth himſelfe againſt all that is called God, or that is worshipped: & so that hee doeth sit as God in the Temple of God, shewing himselfe that hee is God.

5 Remember yee not, that when I was yet with you, I tolde you these things?
6 And now yee know what withholdeth, that he might be reueiled in his time.

7. ⁶ For the myfterie of iniquitie doeth already worke: 7 onely he which now ^h withholdeth, shall let till he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall that wicked man be reueiled, & whom the Lord shall consume with the Spirit of his mouth, and shall abolish with the brightnesse of his coming.

9 ² Even him whose coming is by the effectuall working of Satan, with all power, and signes, and ^mlying wonders,

10 And in all dectiueableneffe of vnright-ouſneſſe, among them that periſh, becauſe they re-ceiued not the loue of che truth, that they might be ſaued.

11 And therefore God shall send them^a strong delusion, that they should beleue lies.

12 That all they might be damned which be-lieued not the truth, but ^o had pleasure in vnrighteousnesse.

13 ¹⁰ But we ought to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because that God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation, through ¹¹ Sanctification of the Spirit, and the ¹² faith of truth.

14 Whereunto hee called you by our Gospel, to obtaine the glorie of our Lord Iesus Christ.

15 ¹¹ Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and keepe the instructions, which yee haue bene taught, either by word, or by our Epistle.

16 Now the same Iesus Christ our Lord, and our God, euen the Father, which hath loued vs, and hath given vs euermlasting consolation and good hope through grace.

17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every word and good worke.

3 Word for word, that can lesse follow: that is to say, that shall stand Gods Law, and not under loose. h I say, 11. 4. i And bring to naughts. 1 With his words for the true.
Ministers of the world are as the mouth, whereby the Lord breatheth out the true and everlasting word, which shall breed a new man in sunder, as it were with a sawle. g The foretelleth that Satan will bewile all his might and power, with all false miracles that he can to establish that feare, and that with great force cause the wickednes of the world doeth to disuine it: yet fo, that only that which full shall perish through his deceit. m Which are partly false, and partly wrought to establish a falsehood. n A new mighte working to dectrine steele. o The lies in well, whereby bad practise is shewn, which is the greatest manner that may be so. The elect shall stand fast and safe from all these mischiefes. None elowise is knowen by these testimonies: Faich is gathered by sanctification: Faich, by that we ascend unto the truth: truth, by calling, through the preaching of the Gospel:
from whence we come as length to a certaine hope of glorification. p To yea. q Faich which layeth hold not upon lies, but upon the words of Gods Law, the Gospel. r By our preaching. s The conclusion: It remaineth then, that we continue in the doctrine which was delivered unto us by the mouth and writings of the Apostles, through the free good will of God, which comforteth vs with an invincible hope and also in all godlinesse our whole life long.

CHAP. III.

1 Hee desireth it, as to further the preaching of the Gospel, with their papers, & as to withdraw themselves from shops, & business idleness, & to cause the poorer good order: & to whom he excludeth from the communion of the faithful.

Furthermore, brethren, I pray for us that the sword of the Lord may have free passage and be glorified even as it is with you.

And that we may be delivered from a vintage they make prayers for the increase and free passage of the Galleies of the faithful ministers of the same. Ap. 16. 17. col. 4.
measure of their desire.

4. He saithelle that Antichrist, that is, who soeuer
he be that shal occupie that seate that falleth away from God, shal nereigne without the Church, but in the very besome of the Church.

This prophetic was continually declared in the Ancient Church, but it was not of this that followed.

g. What benefits and results.

6 Even in the Apostles time the first foundations of the Apostaticall sect were layed, but yet so, that they deceived men.

7 He foretelleth that when the empire of Rome is taken away, the seat that falleth away from God shall succede and shall holde his place, as the old writers, Tertullian, Chry-ostome and Hierome doe expound it.

He which maketh in authority and ruleth all, to wit,
the Roman Empire.

8 That wickedness that at length was detected by the word of the Lord and utterly be abolished by Christ's com-ming.

It is no small thing that the Gospel is preached in this way, that the faith is a gift of God. For the Church that receives the Gospel is not destroyed by the multitude of the wicked, because it is grounded on the faith of the Gospel.

The second admonition is, that they follow the doctrine of the Apostles as a rule of their life.
Thou shalt diligently and carefully admonish them of two things which are given by the only grace of God, to wit, of charity, and a watchful heed to the coming of Christ.

Thou shalt be faithful, that idle and lax persons ought not to be relieved of the Church, nay, that they are not to be suffered. Let him that might seeme to deale hardly with them, he searcheth himselfe for an sides his ministery, laboureth with his hands, which he faith he was not simply sonable and euill men: for all men haue not faith.

But the Lord is faithfull, which will stablish you, and keepe you from euill.

And wee are perswaded of you through the Lord, that ye both doe, and wil do the things which we warne you of.

And the Lord guide your hearts to the loue of God, and the waiting for of Christ.

We warne you, brethren, in the Name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that yee withdrawe your selues from euery brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the instruction, which he recieted of vs.

For ye your selues know, how ye ought to follow vs: for we behaued not our selues in-ordinately among you.

Neither tooke wee bread of any mans for ought: but wee wrought with labour and trauaile night and day, because wee would not be chargeable vnto any of you.

Not because wee haue not authoritie, but that we might make our selues an ensample vnto you to follow vs.

For euen when we were with you, this we warned you of, that if there were any, which would not worke, that he should not eate.

For wee heare, that there are some which thee idle and lax persons ought not to be relieved of the Church, nay, that they are not to be suffered. Let him that might seeme to deale hardly with them, he searcheth himselfe for an walke among you inordinately, and worke not at all, but are busie bodies.

Therefore them that are such, we warne & exhort by our Lord Iesus Christ, that they worke with quietnesse, and eare their owne bread.

And ye, brethren, be not wearie in well doing.

If any man obey not this our saying in this letter, note him, and haue no companie with him, that he may be ashamed.

Yet count him not as anemie, but admonish him as a brother.

Now the Lord himselfe of peace giue you peace alwayes by all meanes. The Lord be with you all.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAVL TO TIMOTHEVS.

CHAP. I.

Setting forth a perfect pattern of a true Pastor, whose office specially consisteth in teaching. 4. He warneth him that he vaine questions as avar, hee teach shalbe in vs. 5. which further character and faith: so as that his authoritie be not condemned, as he faith, when an oracle is made through the grace of God.

Aul an Apostle of Iesus Christ
by the commandment of God our Saviour, and of our Lord Ie-sus Christ our hope,

Vnto Timotheus my natu-
rall sonne in the faith: Grace, mercie, and peace from God our Father, & from Christ Iesus our Lord.

As I besought thee to abide still in Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, so doe, that thou mayest warne some, that they teach none other doctrine,

Neither that they giue heede to fables and genealogies which are endless, which breede questions rather than godly edifying, which is by faith.

For the ende of the commandment is love, which is the fruit of good will to God, whereby he shall be in Christ and mercie, that free in glorification which followeth it. 2. This whole Epistle con-sisteth in admonition, whereby all the series of a faithful pastor are liuely set out.

And the first admonition is this, that no man should be made cleare in the Apostles doctrine, if he be in the manner of teaching. 3. The doctrine is corrupted not only by false questions, but also by vaine and curious speculations: the declaration of the doctrine is not to be made by a man who is not himselfe a true Christian.
The second admonition is, that the right use and practice of the doctrine be ioyed with the doctrine. And that consisteth in pure charitie, and a good conscience, and true faith.

is loue out of a pure heart and of a good conscience, and of faith vnfained.

From the which things some haue erred, and haue turned vnto vaine jangling.

They would be doctours of the Law, and yet vnderstande not what they speake, neither whereof they affirme.

And we know, that the Law is good, if a man vse it lawfully,

Knowing this, that the Law is not given vnto a righteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly, and to sinners, to the vnholy, and to the prophane, to murderers of fathers and mothers, to manslayers,

To whomongers, to buggerers, to men-stealers, to liars, to the periured, and if there bee any other thing that is contrary to wholesome
doctrine,

Which is according to the glorious Gospel of the blessed God, which is committed vnto me.

The taking away of an objection: He condemneth not the Law, but requirith the right vse and practice of it. He in deed cleareth the curse of the Law and therefore doeth not abhorre it, who seeing and eschewing those things which the Law condemneth, giueth himselfe with all his heart to oblerue it: and not heret maketh a vaine babbling of outward and curious matters. And such an one be, whom the Lord hath indued with true doctrine, and with the holy Ghost. It doeth make an art in it more of flouing. He setteth against false and vaine babblings not onely the Law, but the Gospel also, which condemneth not but greatly com-mendeth the wholesome doctrine contained in the commandments of God, and therefore he calleth it a glorious Gospel, & the Gospel of the blessed God, the ver-tue whereof the badlers knowen. A reason why neither any other Gospel is to be taught then he hath taught in the Church, neither after any other sort, cause there is no other Gospel beside that, which God committed to him.

There is neither loue without a good conscience, nor a good conscience
without faith, nor faith without the word of God.

That which he spake before gen-rally of vaine
and curious controuersies he applyeth to them,
which preceeding
a zeale of the Law, dwelled vpon outward things, and neuer made an end of babbling of foolish trifles.

There are more
vaine vnlearned, & more impudent in vsurping the name of holinesse, then foolish sophis-
tical babblers.

The taking away of an objection: He condemneth not the Law, but requirith the right vse and practice of it. He in deed cleareth the curse of the Law and therefore doeth not abhorre it, who seeing and eschewing those things which the Law condemneth, giueth himselfe with all his heart to oblerue it: and not heret maketh a vaine babbling of outward and curious matters. And such an one be, whom the Lord hath indued with true doctrine, and with the holy Ghost. It doeth make an art in it more of flouing. He setteth against false and vaine babblings not onely the Law, but the Gospel also, which condemneth not but greatly com-mendeth the wholesome doctrine contained in the commandments of God, and therefore he calleth it a glorious Gospel, & the Gospel of the blessed God, the ver-
tue whereof the badlers knowen. A reason why neither any other Gospel is to be taught then he hath taught in the Church, neither after any other sort, cause there is no other Gospel beside that, which God committed to him.

Therefore

12 Therefore I thanke him which hath made mee strong in this, Christ Iesus our Lord, for hee counted mee faithfull, and put me in his seruice.

13 When before I was a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and an oppressor: but I was receiued to mercie: for I did it ignorantly through vnbeleife.

14 But the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and loue, which is in Christ Iesus.

15 This is a true saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued, that Christ Iesus came into the worlde to saue sinners, of whome I am chiefe.

16 Notwithstanding for this cause was I receiued to mercie, that Iesus Christ should first shew an example all along, suffering vnto the example of them, which shall in time to come beleeue in him vnto eternal life.

17 Now vnto the King euerlasting immortal, inuisible, vnto God & onely wise, be honour and glory for euer and euer, Amen.

18 This commandement commit I vnto thee, sonne Timothee, according to the prophecies, which went before vpon thee, that thou by them shouldest fight a good fight,

19 Having faith and a good conscience, which some haue put away, and as concerning faith, haue made shipwracke.

20 Of whome is Hymeneus, and Alexander, whom I haue deliuered vnto Satan, that they might learne not to blaspheme.

CHAP. II.

1 He exhorteth them to make publike prayers for all men, 4. 5. and that for two causes: 8. and therefore he wisheth all men in all places to pray, 9. and declareth in what appaile, 12. and with what modestie women ought to behaue themselves in holy assembles.

1 Exhorte therefore, that first of all supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giuing of thanks be made for all men,

2 For kings, and for all that are in authority, that wee may leade a quiet and a peaceable life, in all godlinesse and honesty.

3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour,

4 Who will that all men shall be saved, and come vnto the acknowledging of the truth,

He teacheth that we must pray for all men, and especially for all manner of magistrates, which thing was at that time somewhat doubted of, seeing that kings, yea, and the most part of magistrates were at that time enemies of the Church. 2. An argument taken of the end, to wit, because that magistrates are appointed to this end, that men might peaceably and quietly liue in all godlinesse and honestie, and therefore must we commend them especially to God, that they may faithfully execute to necessitate an office. 4. To whom cometh all kind of duties, which is to be done by men in all their affairs. 3. Another argument, why Churches or Congregations ought to pray for all men, without any difference of nation, kinde, or colour, to wit, because the Lord by calling of all men, yea, sometimes those that are enemies to the Gospel, will haue his Church gathered together, and therefore prayers to be made for all.

5 For there is one God, and one Mediatour betweene God and man, which is the man Christ Iesus,

6 Who gaue himselfe a ranfome for all men, to be that testimony in due time.

7 Wherunto I am ordered a preacher and an Apostle (I speake the truth in Christ, and lye not) such a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.

8 I will therefore that the men pray, every where lifting vp pure hands without wrath or doubting.

9 Likewise also the women, that they array themselves in comely appaile, with shamesfastnes and modesty, not with broided haire, or gold, or pearles, or costly appaile,

10 But (as becommeth women that professe the feare of God) with good works.

11 Let the woman learne in silence with all subiection.

12 I permit not a woman to teach, neither to usurpe authority ouer the man, but to be in silence.

13 For as Adam was first formed, then Eue,

14 And Adam was not deceived, but the woman was deceived, and was in the transgression.

15 Notwithstanding, through bearing of children shee shall be saved, if they continue in faith, and loue, and holinesse with modesty.

1. Faithfull, and sincerely (and by) faith be meane, wholefome and sound doctrine, and by is meant, an upright and sincere handling of it. 6. He hath spoken of the persons for whom we must pray: and now he teacheth that the difference of places is taken away: for in times past, one onely nation, and in one certaine place came together to publike seruice: but now Churches, or Congregations are gathered together euery where (orderly and decently) and men come together to seue God publike with Common prayer, neither must we strive for the nation or for the purification of the body, or of the place, but for the minde to haue it cleane from all offence, and full of sure trust and confidence. 8. He putteth the same for the thing is selfe, the lifting up of hands, for the calling vpon God. 9. Without these griefes and offences of the minde, which hinder vs from calling vpon God with a good conscience. 10. Disabling which is against faith, Lam. 1. 6. 11. 1. Pet. 3. 3. 12. Thidly he appointeth women to learne in the publike assemblies with silence and modesty, being comely appaile without any ruse or excellen in their appaile, 1. Cor. 14. 34. 8. The first Argument, why it is not lawfull for women to teach in the Congregation, because by this meane they should be placed above men, for they should be their masters: which is against Gods ordinance. 9. Hee prooueth this ordinance of God, whereby the woman is subiect to the man, first for that God made the woman after man, for mans sake. 10. Gen. 1. 26. 27. 21. 11. Gen. 2. 6. 10. Then because that after sinne God enioyned the woman this punishment, for that the man was deceived by her. 12. Adam was deceived, but through his better meane, and therefore shee is worthy for the same subject to her husband, and ought to be. 13. He addeth a comfort by the way that this their subiection hindereth not but that women may be saved as well as men, if they behaue themselves in those duties of marriage holily and modestly, with faith and charitie.

CHAP. III.

1 He setteth out Bishops, 8. And Christian deacons with their duties, 12. children and family. 13. He calleth the Church the house of God.

This is a true saying, 2. If any man desire the office of a Bishop, hee desireth a worthy worke.

3 A Bishop therefore must be vnrapproachable, the husband of one wife, watching temperate, the third place cometh to the persons themselves, speaking first of Bishops, and afterward of Deacons, and becometh a preface, that the Church may know that these be certaine and sure rules. 4. A Bishop ought to be the minister of the worde in an idle dignitie but a worke, and that an excellent worke: and therefore a Bishop must be iudiciously with many yeeres both at home and abroad. Wherefore it is requisite before he be chosen, to examine well his learning, his gifts and ableness, and his life. 5. Hee shal be free of ambitious seeking, then the which he cannot be a worke in the Church, but generally of the mind, and disposition of mind, framed and disposed to helpe and edifie the Church of God, when and where soeuer it shal please the Lord. 6. Tim. 3. 6. 7. Therefore hee that shal be chosen must be free from the office of Bishop, and because they are married, in a church.

4 God should not be manifested to be the onely God of all men, vnlesse hee should shew his goodness in savinge all sorts of men: neither should Christ be seene to be the onely Mediatour betweene God & all sorts of men, by having taken vpon him the nature of man, which is common to all men, vnlesse hee had satisfied all sorts of men, and made intercession for all.

5 A confirmation because that men to the Gemile is the secret of saluation now perordained and manifest, the Apostle himselfe being appointed properly to this office which he doth faithfully and sincerely execute.

6 Tim. 1. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100.

1 Having disordered these things which pertaine to doctrine, hee calleth now to the second part of the ministerie of the word, to wit, of publike prayer, and first of all declaring this question, for whom we ought to pray: he teacheth that we must pray for all men, and especially for all manner of magistrates, which thing was at that time somewhat doubted of, seeing that kings, yea, and the most part of magistrates were at that time enemies of the Church. 2. An argument taken of the end, to wit, because that magistrates are appointed to this end, that men might peaceably and quietly liue in all godlinesse and honestie, and therefore must we commend them especially to God, that they may faithfully execute to necessitate an office. 4. CHAP. V.

1. Having let down a manner how to relieve all degrees, 2. the increase of widows, who then were chosen for the service of the Church: 3. Then her commission to Elders, 4. and finally her words touching the death of the body.

Re buke not an Elder, but exhort him as a father, and the younger men are brethren.

2 The elder women as mothers, the younger as sisters, with all pureness.

3 Honour widows, which are widows in deed.

4 But if any widows have children or nephews, let them learne first to shewe godliness toward their owne house, and to recompense their kindred: for that is an honest thing, and acceptable before God.

5 And she that is a widow in deede, and left alone, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.

6 But shee that liueth in pleasure, is dead, while she liueth.

7 These things therefore warne them of, that they may be blamelesse.

8 If there bee any that prouideth not for his owne, and namely for them of his householde, hee denieth the faith, and is worse then an infidel.

9 Let not a widow bee taken into the number vnder threescore yeere old, that hath bene the wife of one husband.

10 And well reported of for good workes: if shee haue nourished her children, if shee haue lodged the strangers, if shee haue washed the Saints feet, if shee haue ministered vnto them which were in aduersitie, if shee were continually giuen vnto every good worke.

11 But refuse the younger widows: for when they haue begun to waxe wanton against Christ they will marrie,

12 Having damnation, because they haue broken the first faith.

13 And likewise also being idle, they learne to goe about from house to house: yea, they are not onely idle, but also praters and busibodies, speaking things which are not comely.

14 I will therefore that the younger women marrie, and beare children, and governe the house, and giue none occasion to the aduersary to speake euill.

15 For certaine are already turned backe after Satan.

16 If any faithfull man or faithfull woman haue widows, let them minister vnto them, and let not the Church bee charged, that there may bee sufficient for them that are widows in deede.

the Congregations or Churches, and such as are free from all reproch of vnchastity, and are well reported of for their diligence, chastity, and integrity. b. That they haue no more husband, but are at this time. c. This is spoken in respect of the time of their continuance. 10. The first reason why younger widows are not to be admitted to this ministry, to wit, because for the lightness of their age, they will be light flake off that burden that Christ hath layed vpon them, and chuse rather to marry againe, and so will forsake the ministry wherunto they had bound themselves. d. Take them into the college of widows. 11. Another reason: because they are for the most part, praters and busie bodies, and gadders vp and down, neglecting their charge and duty. 12. The fifth rule: Let younger widows marrie and beare their burden godly. 13. The sixth rule, Let the faithfull helpe other widows at their owne charges as much as they can, and let not the Congregation be burdened with their expenses.

17. ¶ 14 The Elders that rule well, let them be had in double honour, specially they which labour in the word and doctrine.

18 For the Scripture sayth, ¶ Thou shalt not mouell the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corne: and, ¶ The labourer is worthy of his wages.

19 Against an Elder receiue none accusation, but vnder two or three witnessess.

20 Them that sinne, rebuke openly, that the rest also may feare.

21 I charge thee before God and the Lord Iesus Christ, and the elect Angels, that thou obserue these things, without preferring one to another, and doe nothing partially.

22 Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other mens sinnes: keepe thy selfe pure;

23 Drinke no longer water, but vse a little wine for thy stomackes sake, and thine often infirmities.

24 Some mens sinnes are open beforehand, and goe before vnto iudgement: but some mens follow after.

25 Likewise also the good workes are manifest beforehand, and they that are otherwise, can not be hid.

the manner of the Congregation, the other did beside that, attend vpon preaching and prayers, so and for the Congregation. ¶ Deuteronomie 19. 4. 1. Corinthe 9. 9. ¶ Maithew 10. 10. Luke 10. 7. 15 The second rule: Let no accusation bee admitted against an Elder; but vnder two or three witnessess. 16 The third rule: Let the Elders be considered bee rebuked openly, that they may bee an example to others. Chapter 6. 13. 17 The fourth rule: Let sinners bee vied without any prejudice or respect of person in the Ecclesiasticall proceedings (specially against the Elders) because God himselfe is there present; and the Lord Iesus Christ with a multitude of Angels. 18 The fifth rule: Let the Minister lay hands suddenly on no man: Let him not bee slacke herein, either by fauouring any mans folly, or peruerse affections: If ought bee done otherwise then well of his fellowes, let him keepe his conscience pure: 19 As much as in thee lyeth, do not rashly admit any man, to any Ecclesiasticall function. 20 The sixth rule: Let the Elders haue indifferent consideration of their health, in the manner of their diet. 21 Because hypocrites sometimes creepe into the ministry, although there be weter so great diligence vied, the Apostle willett the Pastours not to be troubled therefore, or slacke any whit of their diligence in trying and examining, because the Lord hath appointed a time to discover the faulces of such men, and it is our parts to take heede that wee offend not therein. 22 Another comfort belonging to them, which sometimes are slandered and misreported of.

CHAP. VI.

1 He sheweth the duties of seruants: 2. and what a mischief euill countenances is: 3. and hauing spoken somewhat of rich men, hee cometh againe forbiddeth Timothee, 4. to be comminglesse with vaine babblings.

Let as many seruants as are vnder the yoke, count their masters wortheie of all honour, that the Name of God, and his doctrine be not euill spoken of.

2 And they which haue beleeuing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren, but rather do seruice, because they are faithfull, and beloued, and partakers of the benefice.

3 These things teach and exhort.

three common siter. And this is the first rule: Let seruants that are come to the faith, and haue indels to their masters, serue them notwithstanding with great delicie. 1 The reason: Let God should seeme by the doctrine of the Gospel to stirre vp men to rebellion against all wickednesse. 2 The second rule: Let not seruants that are come to the faith, and haue also masters of the same profession and religion, abuse the name of brotherhood, but let them so much the rather obey them. 3 Let this be sufficient, that seruing these things which pertaine to euill liuing, they are partakers of the same good will and love of God, as their masters. 4 A generall conclusion, that these things ought not onely to be taught, but must with exhortations be diligently beate in vnto their hearts.

14 Now hee sheweth how he ought to beare himselfe with the Elders, that is to say, with the Pastours and such as haue the gouernance in the discipline of the Church, which is president of their common life. The first rule: ¶ The Church is a congregation of vnto this specially as God himselfe hath commanded; that the Elders that do their dutie well, bee honestly maintained.

¶ Wee must be more careful for them, then for the rest. f. There were two kinde of Elders, the one attended vpon the gouernment onely, and looked to fourth admonition: we ought not to contend upon words, and are not so easily vincible, but also for the most part full of this, how we may frame our selves to all manner of patience, and bear that way, for Christ's Name, because that is the present glorious life, as a contrivance, the falling away of men of the truth of God, although by such means they proceed

12 Yes, and all that will live godly in Christ
Jesus, shall suffer persecution.
13 But the evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived.
14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned, and which are committed unto thee, knowing of whom thou hast learned them.
15 And that thou hast known the holy Scriptures of a child, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation, through the faith which is in Christ Jesus.
16 For the whole Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable to teach, to correct, to reprove, and to instruct in righteousness, that the man of God may be able to bring forth the fruit of good works.

CHAP. IIIL

1. His charge him to preach the Gospel to all men.
2. That he should be ready to suffer for the Gospel.
3. That he should be ready to suffer for the Gospel.

1 Charge thee therefore before God, and before the Lord Jesus Christ, which shall judge the quick and the dead at that his appearing, and in his kingdom,
2 Preach the word: be instant, in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctrine.
3 For the time will come when they will not suffer wholesome doctrine, but having their ears itching, shall after their own lusts get them an heap of teachers,
4 And shall turn their ears from the truth, and shall be given unto fables.
5 But watch thou in all things; suffer adversity, do the works of an Evangelist: cause thy manliness to be thoroughly liked of.
6 For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departing is at hand.
7 I have fought a good fight, and have finished my course: I have kept the faith.
8 Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which shall be given to me at that time: but now I must suffer a little, and then shall come the glory, but when all them else that love this life shall be perished.
9 Make haste to come unto me at once:
10 For Daniel hath forsaken me, and hath embraced this present world, and is departed unto Thelamonias, Cretens, & Galatia, Titus, and Dalmatia.
11 Only labour with me, Take Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is profitable unto me to minister.
12 And thou can have I, as thou desirest.
13 The cloke that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou wast bringing with thee, and the books, but specially the parchments, bring with thee.
14 Alexander the copper smith hath done me much evil: the Lord reward him according to his works.

4 Their wickedness shall daily increase.
5 The eight admonition, which is most precious:
A flour must be wile by the word of God only:
wherein we have perfectly deluded, red unto vs, what soever peritents either to discern, know and establish true opinions, and to confute false, & furthermore, to correct evil manners, and to frame good.
6 The Prophets & expounders of Gods will, are properly and peculiarly called, Men of God.

1 The principall and chief of all admonitions, being therefore proposed with a most earnest charge, is this: That the word of God be propounded with a certaine holy importance, as necessitie requireth: but so, that a good and true ground of the doctrine be layd, and the vehemencie be tempered with all holy meeknesse.
2 Faithfull Pastors in times past tooke all occasions they could, because men were very prompt and ready to receive their fables.
3 To false and unprofitable doctrine, which the world
now is bewitched withall, that it had rather the open sight of the truth were utterly put out, then it would come out of darkenesse.
4 The wickedness and falling away
of the world, ought to cause
faithfull ministers to bee so much the more careful.
5 Prone and swily good & salu-tiall proofs, that thou art the true minister of Gods word.
6 He foretelleth
his will to be at hand, & desired by all them that are desirous of the crown of righteousness, which shall be given to them at that time: but now I must suffer a little, and then shall come the glory, but when all them else that love this life shall be perished.

16. Of whom heauen was also for he withstood our preaching fore.
 17. As my self suffering: no man assisted me, all forsooke me: I pray God, that it may not be made to them charge.
 18. Notwithstanding the Lord assisted me, and strengthened me, that by me the preaching might be fully blessed, and that all the Gentiles should heare: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the Lion.
 19. And the Lord will deliver me from every euill worke, and will preserve me vnto his hea-uenly Kingdome: to whom be praise for euer and euer, Amen.

19. Salute Prisca and Aquila, and the household of Onesiphorus.
 20. Erastus abode at Corinthus: Trophimus I left at Miletiun sicke.
 21. Make speede to come before winter. Eu-bulus greeteth thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren.
 22. The Lord Iesus Christ be with thy spirit.
 Grace be with you, Amen.
 The second Epistle written from Rome vnto Timotheus, the first Bishop elected of the Church of Ephesus, when Paul was presented the second time before the Emperour Nero.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL

TO TIMOTIVS.

1. Paul an Apostle of Iesus Christ by the will of God, and Titus, his fellow labourer, to the young man Timotheus, Greeting.
 2. As thou hast followed the doctrine which was preached in thy presence, which is according to the grace which is brought forth by the resurrection of Iesus Christ our Saviour,
 3. Who hath made his word manifest in due season through the preaching, which is according to the commandment of God our Father:
 4. That Titus my naturall sonne according to the common faith, Grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ our Saviour,
 5. For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldst continue to redresse the things that remain, and shouldst ordaine Elders in every citie
 as I appointed thee.

6. For there are many disobedient and vain talkers and deceiuers of minds, chiefly they of the Circumcision,
 7. Whose mouth must bee stopp'd, which subuert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not for filthy lucre sake.
 8. One of themselves, one of their own propheth said, The Cretians are alwayes liars, euil beasts, slow bellies.
 9. This witness is true: wherefore conuince them sharply, that they may be found in faith,
 10. And not taking heed to Iewish fables, and commandments of men, that turne away
 from the truth.
 11. Vnto the pure were all things pure, but vnto them that are defiled, and vnbelieuing, is nothing pure, but euene their mindes and conscien-
 ces are defiled.
 12. They profess that they know God, but by works they denie him, and are abominable & disobedient, and to such good worke reprobate.

6. If any bee vnreprouable, the husband of one wife, hauing faithfull children, which are not slandered of riot, neither are disobedient.
 7. For a Bishop must bee vnreprouable, as Gods steward, not froward, not angry, not gi-uen to wine, no striker, not giuen to filthy lucre.
 8. But harbours, one that loueth goodnesse, a wife righteous body temperate.
 9. Holding fast that faithfull worde according to doctrine, that hee also may bee able to exhort with wholesome doctrine, and conuince

the froward, that they may be found in faith,
 10. And not taking heed to Iewish fables,
 and commandments of men, that turne away
 from the truth.
 11. Vnto the pure were all things pure, but vnto them that are defiled, and vnbelieuing, is nothing pure, but euene their mindes and conscien-
 ces are defiled.
 12. They profess that they know God, but by works they denie him, and are abominable & disobedient, and to such good worke reprobate.

CHAP. II.

He setteth out the duties of sundry persons and states, 6 and setteth him to instruct the Church in matters. 11 He sheweth arguments from the end of our redemption, 22 which is, that we live godly and uprightly.

1. As thou shalt speake thou the things which become wholesome doctrine,
 2. That the elder men be watchful, grave, temperate, sound in the faith, in loue, and in patience.
 3. The elder women likewise, that they be in such behaviour as becommeth holinesse, not false accusers, not libeled to much wine, teachers of honest things,
 4. That they may instruct the young women to bee sober minded, that they loue their husbands, that they loue their children,
 5. That they be temperate chaste, keeping at home, good and obedient vnto their husbands, that the word of God be not euill spoken of.
 6. Exhort young men likewise, that they be sober minded.

THE EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWES.

The drift and ende of this Epistle, is to shew that Iesus Christ the Sonne of God both God and man, is that true eternall and onely Prophet, King, and high Priest, that was shadowed by the figures of the old Lawe, and is now in dede exhibited: of whom the whole Church ought to be taught, governed and sanctified.

CHAP. I.

To shew that the doctrine which Christ brought, is most excellent in that it is the knitting up of all propheties, & he admonisheth him about the Angels. 10 And proueth by diuers testimonies of the Scripture, that he is farre passeth all other.

A fundry times and in diuers manners God spake in the olde time to our fathers by the Prophets: in these last dayes hee hath spoken vnto vs by his Sonne,

2 Whom he hath made heire of all things, by whom also he made the worlds,

3 Who being the brightnesse of the glory and the ingraued forme of his person, and bearing vp all things by his mightie word, hath by himselfe purged our finnes, and sitteth at the right hand of the Maiestie in the highest places,

4 And is made so much more excellent then the Angels, in as much as hee hath obtained a more excellent Name then they.

5 For vnto which of the Angels sayd he at any time, Thou art my Sonne, this day begate I thee? and againe, I will be his Father, and he shall be my Sonne:

6 And againe, when he bringeth in his first begotten Sonne into the world, he sayeth, And let all the Angels of God worship him.

7 And of the Angels he saith, He maketh the spirits his messengers, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But vnto the Sonne he saith, O God, thy throne is for ever and ever: the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousness.

9 Thou hast loued righteousness & hated iniquitie. Wherefore God euen thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladnes, about thy fellows.

10 And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast established the earth, and the heauens are the workes of thine hands.

11 They shall perish, but thou doest remaine, and they all shall waxe olde as doeth a garment.

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them vp, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same and thy yeeres shall not faile.

13 Vnto which also of the Angels said he at any time, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister, for their sakes which shall be heires of saluation?

¶ Made the earth firme and sure. ¶ Psal. 110. 1. 1. cor. 15. 25. chap. 10. 12. 13. ¶ By that name by which we commonly call Princes messengers, he here calleth the spirits.

CHAP. II.

1 Thereof he suffereth, that good heed must be giuen to Christes doctrine. 9 And hee testifieth him out vnto vs euen as our brother in our flesh, that we may with a good will receiue our finnes wholly vnto him.

¶ Wherefore we ought diligently to giue heed to the things which we haue heard, lest at any time we runne out.

2 For if the word spoken by Angels was stedfast and euery transgression, and disobedience received a iust recompence of reward,

3 How shall we escape if we neglect so great saluation, which at the first began to be preached doctrine, maiesty and Priesthood is most perfect, he vseth an exhortation take for a comparison. a He maketh himselfe a beaver. b They are sayd to see the word runne out, which hold it not fast when they haue heard it. c The Lawe which appointed punishment for the offenders was giuen by Angels, Gal. 3. 19. and Sienew. Acts 7. 53. 3 If the breach and transgression of the word spoken by Angels was not iudged unpunished, much lesse shall it be lawful for vs to neglect the Gospel which the Lord of Angels preached, & was confirmed by the voice of the Apostles, and with so many signes and wonders from heauen, and especially with so great and mightie working of the holy Ghost.

¶ Psal. 104. 4. m Cherub Psal. 18. 12 n Seraph. Isa. 6. 2. ¶ Psal. 45. 7. o The one is proper to the prince, & not to the seruants. p For euertlasting, for this doubling of the word increaseth the signification of it beyond all measure. q The government of thy kingdome is righteous. r This kinde of reuerencing which the lawe vseth by contraries, hath great force in it. s In that, that the more became flesh, by pouring the holy Ghost upon him without measure. t For he is the head and we are his members. ¶ Psal. 102. 25.

giftes of the holy Ghost, according to his owne will?

5 For hee hath not put in subiection vnto the Angels: the world to come, whereof wee speake.

6 But one in a certaine place witnessed, saying, 7 What is man, that thou shouldst bee mindfull of him? or the sonne of man that thou wouldest consider him?

7 Thou hast made him a little inferior to the Angels: thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and hast set him above the workes of the hands.

8 Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete. And in that he hath put all things in subiection vnder him, he left nothing that should not be subiect vnto him. 9 But wee yet see not all things subiect vnto him,

9 But we see Iesus crowned with glory and honour, which was made little inferior to the Angels, through the suffering of death, that by Gods grace he might taste death for all men.

10 For it became him, for whom are all these things, and by whom are all these things, seeing that hee brought many children vnto glory, that he should consecrate they Prince of their saluation through afflictions.

11 For he that sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified, are all of one: wherefore he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

CHAP. III.

Now we haue shewed how farre inferior Moses is to Christ, & how much as the servant to the master: and so he bringeth in certaine exhortations and exhortations taken out of David, 8 against such as either stubbornly resist, 12 or else are very slow to obey.

Therefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heauenly vocation, consider the Apostle and high Priest of our profession Christ Iesus:

2 Who was faithfull to him that hath appointed him, euen as Moses was in all his house.

3 For this man is counted worthy of more glory then Moses, inasmuch as hee which hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For every house is builded of some man, and he that hath builded all things, is God.

5 Now Moses verily was faithfull in all his house, as a seruant, for a witness of the things

Hebr

6 But Christ is as the Sonne, ouer his owne house, whose house we are, if we hold fast that confidence and that reioicing of that hope vnto the end.

7 Wherefore, as the holy Ghost saith, To day if ye shall heare his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation, according to the day of the tentation in the wilderness,

9 Where your fathers tempted mee, prouoed me, and saw my works fourtie yeeres long.

10 Wherefore I was grieued with that generation, and said, They erre euer in their heart, neither haue they knowen my wayes.

11 Therefore I sware in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest.

12 Take heed, brethren, lest at any time there be in any of you an euill heart, and vnfaithfull, to depart away from the liuing God.

13 But exhort one another dayly, while it is called To day, lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sinne.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we keepe sure vnto the end that beginning, where-with we are vpholden, 15 So long as it is sayd, To day if ye heare his voyce, harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation.

16 For some when they heard, prouoked him to anger howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was hee displeased fourtie yeeres? Was he not displeased with them that sinned, whose carkeises fell in the wilderness?

18 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto che that obeyed not?

19 So wee that they could not enter in, because of vnbeliefe.

20 Now hee considereth these words, If you harden your heart, heuening that they are spoken and meant of the hearing of faith, which he seeth hardening through vnbeliefe. k Thus beginning of trust in the promise: and after the manner of the Hebrewes, he calleth that beginning, which is faith. l As long as his voice soundeth out. k Rom. 14 37.

CHAP. III.

Hee doth exhortation with threatening, lest they, men as their fathers were, be deprived of the rest offered vnto them. 11 but that they understand to enter into it: 24 And so hee becometh to increase of Christes Priesthood.

Let vs feare therefore, lest at any time by forsaking the promise of entering into his rest, any of you should seeme to be deprived.

1 For vnto vs was the Gospel preached as also vnto them, but the word that they heard, profited not them, because it was not mixed with faith in those that heard it.

2 For wee which haue beleueed, doe enter into the Gospel to drinke, which being drunke, that is to say, heard, professeth into rest, as he said to the other, 4 As I haue sware in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest: although the workes were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For hee spake in a certaine place of the seuenth day on this wise, 4 And God did rest the seuenth day from all his works,

5 And in this place againe, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter thereinto, & they to whom it was first preached, entered not therein for vnbeliefs sake:

7 Againe hee appointed in Dauid a certaine day, by To day, after so long a time, saying as it is said, This day if ye heare his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if Iesus had giuen them rest, then would he not after this haue spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entred into his rest, hath also ceased from his owne workes, as God did from his.

11 Let vs studie therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same ensample of disobedience.

12 For the word of God is liuely, and mightie in operation, and sharper then any two edged sword, and entreth thorow, euen vnto the diuiding asunder of the soule and the spirit, and of the ioynts, and the marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts, and the intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature, which is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and open vnto his eyes, with whom wee haue to doe.

14 Seeing then that we haue a great hie Priest, which is entred into heauen, euen Iesus the Sonne of God, let vs hold fast our profession.

15 For we haue not an hie Priest, which can not bee touched with the feeling of our infirmities, but was in all things tempted in like sort, yet without sinne.

16 Let vs therefore go boldly vnto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercie, and finde grace to helpe in time of need.

5 Now hee entreth into the comparison of Christes Priesthood with Aarons, and declarerth euen in the very beginning the marvellous excellency of this Priesthood, calling him the Sonne of God, and placing him in the seat of God in heauen, plainly and evidently setting him against Aarons Priests, and the transitorie tabernacle, which comparisons hee setteth forth afterward more at large. 6 And let it not goe out of our hearts.

6 Lett he might seeme by this great glory of our hie Priest, to stay and stop vs from going vnto him, he addeth straightwaies after, that he is notwithstanding our brother indeed, (as hee proved it also before) and that he accompanieth all our miseries his owne, to call vs boldly to him.

CHAP. V.

1 I will sheweth the duties of the hie Priest: 5 Secondly, that Christ is appointed of God to be our hie Priest, 7 and that hee hath fulfilled all things belonging thereto.

For every hie Priest is taken from among men, and is ordained for men, in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sinnes.

2 Which is able sufficiently to haue compassion on them that are ignorant, and that are called after the order of men. 3 The first part of the second comparison: Others as wee are made hie Priests, to the end that feeling the same infirmities in themselves which is in all the rest of the people, they should in their owne and the peoples name offer gifts and sacrifices, which are witnesses of common faith and repentance. a Offering of things without life. b Beasts which were killed, but especially in the sacrifices for sinnes and offences. c Extremum meritis. d On them that are sinfull: for in the Hebrew tongue, under ignorant and to fear in every sinne, even at that time that is to be said.

And haue tasted of the good word of God,
and of the powers of the world to come,

6 If they fall away, should be renewed againe by repentance: seeing they crucifie againe to themselves the Sonne of God, and make a mocke of him.

7 For the earth which drinketh in the raine that commeth off vpon it, and bringeth forth herbes meet for them by whom it is dressed, recei-ueth blessing of God.

8 But that which beareth thornes and briars, is reprobued, and is neere vnto cursing, whose end is to be burned.

9 But beloued, we haue perswaded our selues better things of you, and such as accompanie sal-uation, though we thus speake.

10 For God is not vnrighteous, that he should forget your worke, and labour of loue, which ye shewed toward his Name, in that yee haue ministred vnto the Saints, and yet minister.

11 And wee desire that every one of you shew the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope vnto the end.

12 That yee be not slothfull, but followers of them, which through faith and patience, inherite the promises.

13 For when God made the promise to Abraham, because he had no greater to sweare by,
he swore by himselfe.

14 Saying, Surely I will abundantly blesse thee, and multiply thee maruellously.

15 And so after that hee had tried patiently, he enioyed the promise.

16 For men verely swear by him that is grater then themselves, and an othe for confirmation is among them an end of all strife.

17 So God, willing more abundantly to shew vnto the heires of promise the stablenesse of his counsell, bound himselfe by an othe.

18 That by two immutable things, wherein it is vnpossible that God should lye, we might haue strong consolation, which haue our refuge to lay hold vpon that hope that is set before vs.

19 Which hope wee haue, as an ancre of the soule, both sure & stedfast, and it entrencheth into that which is within the vail.

Without father, without mother, without kinred, and hath neither beginning of his dayes;
neither end of life: but is likened vnto the Sonne of God, and continueth a Priest for euer.

Nowe consider how great this man was, vnto whom euen the Patriarch Abraham gaue
the tithes of the spoyle.

For verily they which are the children of Leui, which receiue the office of the Priesthood, haue a commandement to take, according to the Law, tithes of the people (that is, of their brethren): though they came out of the loynes of Abraham.

But he whose kinred is not counted among them, receiued tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

And without all contradiction the lesse is blessed of the greater.

And here men that die receiue tithes: but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed, that he liueth.

And to say as the thing is, Leui also which receiveth tithes, paid tithes in Abraham.

For he was yet in the loines of his father
Abraham, when Melchi-sedec met him.

If therefore perfection had bene by the Priesthood of the Leuites (for vnder it the Lawe was established to the people) what needed it furthermore, that another Priest should rise after the order of Melchi-sedec, and not to be called after the order of Aaroh?

For if the Priesthood be changed, then of necessitie must there be a change of the Law.

For hee of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth vnto another tribe, whereof no man is named at the altar.

For it is euident, that our Lord sprung out of Iuda, concerning the which tribe Moses spake nothing touching the Priesthood.

And it is yet a more euident thing, because that after the similitude of Melchi-sedec there is risen vp another Priest.

Which is not made Priest after the Law of the carnal commandement, but after the power of the enliuening life.

For he testifieth thus, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec.

For the commandement that went afore, is disannulled, because of the weaknesse ther-of, and vnprofitablenesse.

For the Law made nothing perfite, but the bringing in of a better hope made perfite, whereby we draw neere vnto God.

And forasmuch as it is not without an oath (for these are made Priests without an oath:

But this man with an oath by him that sayd vnto him, The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchi-sedec.)

By so much is Iesus made a surety of a better Testament.

And among them many were made Priests, because they were not suffered to endure, by the reason of death.

But this man, because he endureth eternally, hath a Priesthood, which cannot passe from one to another.

Wherefore, hee is able also perfectly to saue them that come vnto God by him, seeing he euer liueth to make intercession for them.

For such an hie Priest it became vs to haue, which is holy, harmlesse, vndefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher then the hea-uens:

Which needeth not dayly as those hie Priests, to offer vp sacrifice, first for his owne sinnnes, and then for the peoples: for that did he once, when he offered vp himselfe.

For the Law maketh men hie Priests, which haue infirmitie: but the word of the oath, that was since the Lawe, maketh the Sonne, who is consecrated for euermore.

eternall Priesthood, making most effectuall intercession for them which by him come vnto God. Which cannot passe away. He is a similitude. There are required in an hie Priest innocencie, and perfect pure-nesse, which may separate him from sinners for whom hee offereth. But the Leuiticall hie Priests shall not bee found to bee such, for they offer first for their owne sinnnes: but Christ onely is such a one, and therefore the true and onely hie Priest.
Lewis, 16. 11. 13. Another argument which notwithstanding hee haudeth afterward. The Leuiticall Priests offered sacrifice after sacrifice, first for themselves, and then for the people. But Christ offered not for himselfe, but for other: not sacrifices, but himselfe, not oftentimes, but once. And this ought not to seeme strange, sayeth hee, forasmuch as they are weak, but this man is consecrated an eternall Priest: and that by an oath. That sacrifice which he offered on Iesus Iudas, that is needeth not to be repeated or offered against any more. The common deuotion of God which was bound with an oath. 14. Another argument taken of the times former things are taken away by the latter. Exhibited.

CHAP. VIII.

To proue more certainly that the ceremonies of the Lawe are abrogated, 5 hee sheweth that they were appointed to serue the heavenly pattern. 8 Hee bringeth in the place of Ierusalem, 15 To proue the amendment of the old covenants.

Nowe of the things which we haue spoken,
this is the summe, That we haue such an high Priest, that sitteth at the right hand of the throne of the Maiestie in heauens.

And is a minister of the Sanctuary, and of that true Tabernacle which the Lord pight, and not man.

For euery high Priest is ordeined to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it was of ne-cessitie, that this man should haue somewhat also to offer.

They of Leui were high Priests in an earthly Sanctuary, but Christ is in the hea-uens. 2. Of Ierusalem. 3. They of Leui exercised their Priesthood in a fraile tabernacle, but Christ beareth about with him a farre other tabernacle, to wit, his body which God himselfe made to bee dwelling, as it shall afterward be declared, cha. 9. 1. 2. 4. He bringeth a reason why it must needs be that Christ should haue a bodie (which he calleth a tabernacle which the Lord pight and not man) to wit, that he might haue what to offer: for otherwise he could not bee an hie Priest. And the selfe same body is both the tabernacle and the sacrifice.

Nnn 3 4 5 For

1 The flesh is carnal why he said that he was Priest in the heavenly sanctuary, and not in the earthly: because, faith he, he was now on the earth, he could not minister in the earthly sanctuary, seeing there was yet Levitical Priests, which are appointed for him that is holy,
which pasture of that pasture example. And what purpose should the pictures serve when the true and original example is present?
2 He speaks by the testimony of Leviticus, where
the Levitical Priests
were mediators, with the new, the enterprising Mediator
whereof is Christ,
to show that this is not only better than that in all respects, because that was abolished by this.
3 He speaks by
the testimony of Leviticus, where
the Levitical Priests
were mediators, with the new, the enterprising Mediator
whereof is Christ,
to show that this is not only better than that in all respects, because that was abolished by this.

4 For he were not a Priest, if he were on the earth, seeing there are Priests that according to the Law offer gifts,

5 Who serve vnto the paterne and shadowe of heavenly things, as Moses was warned by God when he was about to finish the Tabernacle, 6 See, faith he, that thou make all things according to the paterne shewed to thee in the mount.

6 But now our Priest hath obtained a more excellent office, in as much as he is the Mediator of a better Testament, which is established vpon better promises.

7 For if that first Testament had bene vnblamable, no place should haue bene sought for the second.

8 For in rebuking them hee saith, Behold, the dayes will come, saith the Lord, when I shall make with the house of Israel, and with the house of Iuda a new Testament.

9 Not like the Testament that I made with their fathers, in the day that Iooke them by the hand, to lead them out of the land of Egypt: for they continued not in my Testament, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the Testament that I will make with the house of Israel. After those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my Lawes in their minde, and in their heart I will write them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

11 And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least of them to the greatest of them.

12 For I will be mercifull to their vnrighte-ousnes, and I will remember their finnes and their iniquities no more.

13 In that he saith a new Testament, he hath abrogated the olde: nowe that which is disannulled and waxed old, is ready to vanish away.

CHAP. IX.

Comparing the forme of the Tabernacle, 10 and the ceremonies of the Law, 11 vnto the truth as our in Christ, 12 hee concludeth that there is no more neede of another Priest, 13 hee saith Christ himselfe hath fulfilled the duties under the old Testament.

Then the first Testament had also ordinances of religion, and a worldly Sanctuary.

2 For the first Tabernacle was made, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread, which Tabernacle is called the Holy places.

3 And after the second vail was the Tabernacle, which is called the Holiest of all.

4 Which had the golden censer, and the Arke of the Testament overlaid round about with gold, wherein the golden pot, which had Manna was, and Aarons rod that had budded, and the tables of the Testament.

5 And over the Arke were the glorious Cherubims, shadowing the mercy seat: of which things we will not now speake particularly.

6 Now when these things were thus orde-ned, the Priests went alwayes into the first Tabernacle, and accomplished the seruice.

7 But into the second went the high Priest alone, once every yeere, not without blood which hee offered for himselfe, and for the ignorances of the people.

8 Whereby the holy Ghost this signified, that the way into the holiest of all was not yet opened, while as yet the first tabernacle was standing,

9 Which was a figure for that present time, wherein were offered gifts and sacrifices that could not make holy, concerning the conscience, him that did the seruice,

10 Which only stood in meats and drinkes, and diuers washings, and carnall rites, which were inioyned, vntill the time of reformation.

11 But Christ being come an high Priest of good things to come, by a greater and a more perfect Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is, not of this building,

12 Neither by the blood of goates and calues: but by his owne blood entred hee once vnto the holy place, and obtained eternall redemption for vs.

13 For if the blood of bulles and of goates, and the ashes of an heifer, sprinkling them that are vncleane, sanctifieth as touching the purifying of the flesh,

14 How much more shall the blood of Christ which through the eternall Spirit offered himselfe without fault to God, purge your conscience from dead workes, to serue the liuing
God?

15 And for this cause he is the Mediator of 10 say, if the worshippers were not purged by themselves, why shew we those ceremonies vnto? to wit, that men might be called backe to that spiritual example, that is, to Christ, who should correct all those things at his coming. For certainly, that his figure had to life. Another reason why they could not make clean the consciences of the worshippers, to wit, because they were outward and can-nall or corporall things.

6 For they were as you would say, a law, from which Christ delivered vs. 7 Now hee entred into the declaration of the figures, and first of all comparing the Levitical high Priest with Christ, (that is to say, the figure with the thing it selfe), the tribune to Christ, the administration of good things to come, that is, eternal, which those carnall things had respect vnto.

8 An other comparison of the first corruptible Tabernacle with the latter (that is to say, with the humane nature of Christ), which is the true incorruptible Temple of God, wherein the forme of GOD entred at the Levitical high Priests into the other which was frail and transitorie. 9 By a more excellent and better.

10 An other comparison of the blood of the sacrifices with Christ.
The Levitical high Priests entring by those their holy places into their Sanctuary, offered corruptible blood for one yeere onely: but Christ entring into that holy body of his, entred by it into heauen it selfe, offering his owne most pure blood for an eternall redemption. For one selfe same Christ answereth both to the high Priest and the Tabernacle, and the sacrifices and the offerings themselves, as to the figures, in that Christ is both high Priest and tabernacle, and sacrifice, yes, all these both truly and for euer.

11 For in the yearly sacrifice of reconciliation
there were two kinds of sacrifice, the one a goat, the other a bullock, or calf. 12
13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100.

12 The conclusion of the former argument, therefore seeing the blood of beastes did not purge sinners, the new Testament which was before time promised, whereunto those outward things had respect, is nowe indee established, by the virtue whereof all transgressions might be taken away, and heauen indee opened vnto vs: whereof it followeth that Christ shed his blood also for the fathers: For hee was shadowed by those old ceremonies, otherwise, while they had seemed to represent him, they had bene nothing at all profitable. Therefore this Testament is called the latter, not as concerning the verity of it, (that is to say, remission of finnes) but in respect of that time, wherein the thing it selfe was fulfilled, that is to say, wherein Christ was indee exhibited to the world, and fulfilled all things, which were necessary to our salvation.

170

the new Testament, that through death which was for the redemption of the transgressions that were in the former Testament, they which were called, might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

16 For where a Testament is, there must be the death of him that made the Testament.

17 For the Testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no force as long as he that made it, is alive.

18 Wherefore, neither was the first ordained without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken every precept to the people, according to the Law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water and purple wooll and hyssope, and sprinkled both the booke, and all the people,

20 Saying, This is the blood of the Testament which God hath appointed vnto you.

21 Moreover, hee sprinkled likewise the Tabernacle with blood also, and all the ministering vessels.

22 And almost all things are by the Law purged with blood, and without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was then necessary, that the similitudes of heavenly things should be purified with such things: but the heavenly things themselves are purified with better sacrifices then are these.

24 For Christ is not entred into the holy places that are made with hands, which are figures of the true Sanctuary: but is entred into very heauen, to appeare now in the sight of God for vs.

25 Not that he should offer himselfe often, as the high Priest entred into the holy place, euerie yeere with other blood,

26 For then must hee haue often suffered since the foundation of the world: but now in the end of the world hath hee beene made manifest, once to put away sin by the sacrifice of himselfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men that they shall once die, and after that cometh the iudgement:

28 So Christ was once offered to take away the finnes of many, and vnto them that looke for him, shall hee appeare the second time without sinne vnto saluation.

CHAP. 2

1 The promise that the sacrifices of the Law were imperfect, 2. That they were yearly renewed. 3. But that the sacrifice of Christ is one and perpetual, 4. He preaches by David testimonies: 19. Then he addeth an exhortation, 29. and severely threatneth them that reject the grace of Christ. 36. In the end he praileth patience, 38. that cometh of faith.

For the Law hauing the shadowe of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can neuer with those sacrifices, which they offer yeere by yeere continually, sanctifie the commers therunto.

2 For would they not then haue ceased to haue bin offered, because that offerers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of sins?

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance againe of finnes euery yeere.

4 For it is vnpossible that the blood of bulles and goates should take away finnes.

5 Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, A sacrifice & offering thou wouldest not: but a body hast thou ordained mee.

6 In burnt offerings, and sinne offerings thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then I sayd, Loe, I come (in the beginning of the booke it is written of me) that I should do thy will, O God.

8 Aboute, when he sayd, Sacrifice and offering, and burnt offerings, & sinne offerings, thou wouldest not haue, neither hadst pleasure therein (which are offered by the Law)

9 Then sayd hee, Loe, I come to doe thy will, O God, hee taketh away the first, that he may stablish the second.

10 By the which will we are sanctified, euen by the offering of the body of Iesus Christ once made.

11 And euery Priest standeth dayly ministering, and oft times offereth one manner of offering, which can neuer take away finnes:

12 But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for finnes, sitteth for euer at the right hand of God,

13 And from henceforth tarieth: till his enemies be made his footstool.

14 For with one offering hath he consecrated for euer them that are sanctified.

15 For the holy Ghost also beareth vs record: for after that he had said before,

16 This is the Testament that I will make with his Priest, in which obedience he offered vp himselfe once to the Father for vs.

17 The Spirit of God is said to come into the world, when he was made man.

18 As words for words in the Hebrew text, Thou hast pleased mine eyes, thou sawest I shall I shall make me obedient, and willing to heare.

19 That is, the secretaries, to establish the second, that is, the will of God.

20 A conclusion, with the other part of the comparison: The Levitical Priest repeateth the same sacrifices dayly in his sanctuary: whereupon it followeth that neither those sacrifices, neither those offerings, neither these his Priests could take away finnes.

21 But Christ, having offered one sacrifice once for the finnes of all men, is hauing sanctified his owne for euer, sitteth at the right hand of the Father, hauing all power in his hands.

22 As he saith, Chap. 1. 13. Psal. 110. 1. 1. Cor. 15. 25.

23 Hee preventeth a pious objection, to wit, that yet notwithstanding we are subiect to sinne and death, whereas the Apostle answereth, that the full efficacy of Christs vertue hath not yet shewed it selfe, but shall at length appeare when hee will at once put to flight all his enemies, with whom as yet we strive.

24 Chap. 1. 13.

25 Although there do yet remaine in vs reliques of sinne, yet the worke of our sanctification which is to be perfected, hangeth vpon the same time lastime which shall be repeated:

and that the Apostle psoneth by alledging againe the testimonie of Ieremie, thus, Sinne is taken away by the new Testament, seeing the Lord hath said that it shall come to passe, that according to the forme of it, hee will no more remember our sinnes.

26 Therefore we need not now purging sacrifices to take away that which is already taken away, but we must rather thank him, that we may now through faith be partakers of that sacrifice.

27 Ier. 31. 34. Rom. 11. 27. Chap. 8. 1.

1 He preventeth a pious objection, Why then were these sacrifices offered? The Apostle answereth, first touching that yearly sacrifice which was the solemnest of all, wherein (saith he) there was made euery yeere a remembrance againe of all former finnes.

2 Therefore that sacrifice had no power to sanctifie: for to what purpose should those finnes which are purged be repeated againe, and wherefore should new finnes come to be repeated euery yeere, if those sacrifices did abolish sinne?

3 A thing which are everlasting, which were promised to the Fathers, and exhibited in Christ.

4 A conclusion following of those things that went before, and comprehending also the other sacrifices.

5 Seeing that the sacrifices of the Law could not doe it, therefore Christ speaking of himselfe as of our high Priest manifested in the flesh, witnesseth evidently that God remaineth not in the sacrifices but in the obedience of his Sonne.

6 The Father for vs.

7 As words for words in the Hebrew text, Thou hast pleased mine eyes, thou sawest I shall I shall make me obedient, and willing to heare.

8 That is, the secretaries, to establish the second, that is, the will of God.

9 A conclusion, with the other part of the comparison: The Levitical Priest repeateth the same sacrifices dayly in his sanctuary: whereupon it followeth that neither those sacrifices, neither those offerings, neither these his Priests could take away finnes.

10 But Christ, having offered one sacrifice once for the finnes of all men, is hauing sanctified his owne for euer, sitteth at the right hand of the Father, hauing all power in his hands.

11 As he saith, Chap. 1. 13. Psal. 110. 1. 1. Cor. 15. 25.

12 Hee preventeth a pious objection, to wit, that yet notwithstanding we are subiect to sinne and death, whereas the Apostle answereth, that the full efficacy of Christs vertue hath not yet shewed it selfe, but shall at length appeare when hee will at once put to flight all his enemies, with whom as yet we strive.

13 Chap. 1. 13.

14 Although there do yet remaine in vs reliques of sinne, yet the worke of our sanctification which is to be perfected, hangeth vpon the same time lastime which shall be repeated:

and that the Apostle psoneth by alledging againe the testimonie of Ieremie, thus, Sinne is taken away by the new Testament, seeing the Lord hath said that it shall come to passe, that according to the forme of it, hee will no more remember our sinnes.

15 Therefore we need not now purging sacrifices to take away that which is already taken away, but we must rather thank him, that we may now through faith be partakers of that sacrifice.

16 Ier. 31. 34. Rom. 11. 27. Chap. 8. 1.

unto them: after those dayes, saith the Lord, I will put my Lawes in their heart, and in their mindes I will wrie e them.

17 And their finnes and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these things is, there is no more offering for sinne.

19 Seeing therefore, brethren, that by the blood of Iesus we may be bolde to enter into the Holy place,

20 By the new and living way, which he hath prepared for vs, through the vail, that is, his flesh:

21 And seeing we haue an high Priest, which is ouer the house of God,

22 Let vs draw neere with a true heart in assurance of faith, our hearts being pure from an euill conscience,

23 And washed in our bodies with pure water, let vs keepe the profession of our hope, without waivering, (for he is faithfull that promised)

24 And let vs consider one another, to provoke vnto loue and to good workes,

25 Not for liking the fellowship that we haue among our selues, as the manner of some is: but let vs exhort one another, and that so much the more, because yee see that the day draweth neere.

26 For if we sinne willingly after that we haue receiued & acknowledged that truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for finnes, 27 But a fearefull looking for of iudgement, and violent fire, which shall deuoure the offenders.

28 He that despiseth Moyses Law, dieth without mercy, a vnder two, or three witnes.

29 Of how much sorer punishment suppose yee shall bee worthy, which treadeth vnder foot the Sonne of God, and counteth the blood of the Testament as an vnholy thing, wherewith he was sanctified, and doeth despite the Spirit of grace?

30 For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth vnto mee: I will recompence, saith the Lord. And againe, The Lord shall iudge his people.

31 It is a fearefull thing to fall into the hands of the liuing God.

32 Now call to remembrance the dayes that are passed, in the which, after yee had receiued light, ye indured a great fight in afflictions.

33 Partly while ye were made a galling stocke both by reproches and afflictions, & partly while ye became a compassion of them which were so tormented and so.

34 For both yee loved with mee for my banes, and suffered with mee the spoiling of your goods, knowing in your selues how that ye haue in heauen a better, and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompence of reward.

36 For ye haue need of patience, that after ye haue done the will of God, ye might receiue the promise.

37 For yet a very litle while, and he that shal come, will come, and will not tarry.

38 Now the iust shall liue by faith: but if any withdraw himselfe, my soule shall haue no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not they which withdrawe our selues vnto perdition, but followe faith vnto the consummation of the soule.

CHAP. XI

He declareth in the whole Chapter, that the Fathers, which from the beginning of the world were approved of God, attained salvation by faith, as the apostle saith, that the Fathers may know that by the same faith, they are saved, which the Fathers in an holy season.

Now faith is the ground of things which are hoped for, and the euidence of things which are not seene.

2 For by it our Elders were well reported of.

3 Through faith we vnderstand that the world was ordered by the word of God, so that the things which we see are not made of things which did appeare.

4 By faith Abel offered vnto God a greater sacrifice then Cain, by the which he obtained witness that he was righteous. God testifying of his gifts: by the which also hee being dead yet speaketh.

5 By faith was Enoch translated, that he should not see death: neither was he found: for God had translated him: for before he was translated he was reported of, that he had pleased God.

6 But without faith it is vnpossible to please him: for he that cometh to God, must beleue that God is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seeke him.

7 By faith Noe being warned of God of the things which were as yet not seene, moued with reuerence, prepared the Arke to the saluing of his household through the which he condemned the world, and was made heire of the righteousness, which is by faith.

8 By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed, to goe out into a place, which he should after ward receiue for inheritance, and he went out not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he abode in the land of promise, as in a strange country, as one that dwelt in tents with Isaac & Iacob heires with him of the same promise.

10 For he looked for a better habitation, a foundation, whose builder and maker is God.

11 Through faith Sara also receiued strength to conceive seed, and was deliuered of a childe when she was past age, because she hidged him faithful, which had promised.

12 And therefore hang these of one, euen of one which was dead, so many as the starrs of the skie in multitude, and as the sand of the sea shore which is innumerable.

13 All these died in faith, and receiued not promises but saw them a farre off, and beleue-d not, and receiued them thankfull, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things, declare plainly that they seeke a country.

15 And if they had bene mindfull of that country, from whence they came out, they had leasure to haue returned.

16 But now they desire a better, that is an heauenly: wherefore God is not ashamed of them to be called their God: for hee hath prepared for them a citie.

17 By faith Abraham offered vp Isaac, when he was caryed, and he that had receiued the promise, offered his onely begotten sonne.

18 To whom it was said, In Isaac shall thy seed be called.

19 For hee considered that God was able to raise him vp euen from the dead: from whence he receiued him also after a sorte.

20 By faith Isaac blessed Iacob and Esau, concerning things to come.

21 By faith Iacob when hee was a dying blessed both the sonnes of Ioseph, and stauning on the end of his staffe, worshipped God.

22 By faith Ioseph when hee dyed, made mention of the departing of his children of Israel, and gaue commandement of his bones.

23 By faith Moses when hee was borne, was hid three moneths of his parents, because they saw hee was a proper childe, neither feared they the Kings commandement.

24 By faith Moses when hee was come to age, refused to be called the sonne of Pharaos daughter.

25 And chose rather to suffer aduersitie with the people of God, then to enjoy the pleasures of sinne for a season.

26 Esteeming the rebuke of Christ greater ri-chee, than treasures of Egypt: for hee had respect vnto the recompence of the reward.

27 By faith he forsooke Egypt, and feared not the fiercenesse of the king: for he endured, as hee saw him which is invisible.

28 Through faith hee ordained that Passoe-uer, and the first borne should be thar destroyed the first borne should touch them.

29 By faith they passed through the red sea as by dry land, when the Egyptians had assayed to doe they were swallowed vp.

30 By faith the wallles of Iericho fell downe after they were compassed about seuen dayes.

31 By faith the chariot of Rahab perished not with them which obeyed not, when she had receiued the spies peaceably.

32 And what shall I more say? for the time would be too short for me to tell of: Gedeon, of Barak, and of Sampson, and of Iephth, also of Daniel, and Samuel, and of the Prophets.

33 Which through faith subdued kingdomes, were made strong, obtained the promises, stopped the mouthes of Lyons,

34 quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, of weakes were made strong, of valiant in battell turned to flight, the armes of the aliantes.

35 The women receiued their dead raised to life: other also were racked, and would not bee deliuered, that they might receiue a better refusion.

36 And others haue benetried by mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover by bonds, and prisonment.

37 They were stoned, they were hewn asunder, they were tempted, they were slaine with the sword, they wandred vp and downe in sheepes skinner, and in goates skinner, being destitute, afflicted, and tormented.

38 Whom the world was not worthy of: they wandered in wildernesses and mountaines, and daunes, and caues of the earth.

39 And these all through faith obtained good report, and receiued not the promise.

40 God prouiding a better thing for vs, that they without vs should not be made perfit.

41 And we are not made perfit by our owne deeds exhibited to vs, so that their faith and ours is as one, as is also their confession and ours.

CHAP. XII.

The duty of early by the example of the fathers before recited as also vnto patience and constancie. 1. And also by the example of Christ. 2. That the chastenings of God cannot be rightly iudged by the outward sin of our flesh.

Wherefore, let vs also, seeing that we are compassed with so great a cloude of wicnesses, cast away every thing that presseth downe, sonne despise not the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him.

and he scourgeth every sonne that he receiueth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God offereth himselfe vnto you as vnto sonnes: for what sonne is it whom the father chasteneth not?

8 If therefore yee bee without correction, whereof all are partakers, then are yee bastards, and not sonnes.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF IAMES.

CHAP. I.

¶ The earnestness of patience, & of ioy, to and of lowliness of spirit in rich men. 1. That temptation come not of God for our euill, 17 because he is the author of all good. 21 In what manner the word of life shall be received.

IAMES a servant of God, and of the Lord Iesus Christ, to the twelve Tribes, which are scattered abroad, salutation.

¶ My brethren, count it exceeding ioy, when yee fall into diuers temptations,

¶ Knowing that the trying of your faith bringeth forth patience,

¶ And let patience haue her perfect worke, that ye may be perfect & entire, lacking nothing.

¶ If any of you lacke wisdom, let him aske of God, which giueth to all men liberally, and reprocheth no man, and it shall be giuen him.

¶ But let him aske in faith, and wauer not: for hee that wauereth, is like a wane of the sea, tost of the winde, and caried away.

¶ Neither let that man thinke that he shall receive any thing of the Lord:

¶ A double minded man is vnstable in all his wayes.

¶ Let the brother of lowe degree reioyce in that he is exalted.

¶ Again, hee that is rich, in that hee is made low: for as the floure of the grasse, shall he vanish away.

¶ For as when the sunne riseth with heate, then the grasse withereth, and his floure falleth away, and the goodly shape of it perisheth: euen so shall the rich man wither away in all his wayes.

¶ Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that loue him.

¶ Let no man say, when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with euill, neither tempteth he any man.

¶ But every man is tempted, when hee is drawn away by his owne concupiscence, and is enticed.

¶ Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sinne, and sinne when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

¶ Erre not my deare brethren,

¶ Every good giuing, and every perfect gift, is from aboue, and cometh downe from the Father of lights, with whom is no variablenesse, neither shadow of turning.

¶ Of his owne will begat hee vs with the word of truth, that wee should bee as the first fruits of his creatures.

¶ Wherefore my deare brethren, let every

¶ An argument taken of the very nature of the things themselves, for that they are most vaine and vncertaine.
¶ The conclusion
¶ Therefore we must patiently beare the cruell and hee addeth a fourth argument, which comprehendeth the sum of all the former, to wit, because we come by this way to the crowne of life, but yet of grace according to the promise.
¶ Affliction whereof the Lord trieth his that is, from affliction, whereby God tryeth vs, to inward, that is, to the heart, whereby we are stirred vp to do euill. The summe is this: Every man is the author of these temptations to himselfe, and not God: for we beare about in our bodies that wicked corruption, which taketh occasion by what means soeuer, to stirre vp euill motions in vs, whence out as length proceede wicked doings, and in conclusion, followeth death the iust reward of them. ¶ From this hee proceedeth to euill. ¶ Here is a reason shewed, why God cannot bee the author of euill doing in vs, because he desireth not euill. ¶ By this is shewed in another way, how God is the author of all goodnesse, and that he is alwayes like himselfe: how then can he be thought to be the author of euill? ¶ From him who is the fountaine and author of all goodnesse, ¶ As hee is in the Metaphors: for the sunne by his multitude and sundry kindes of beames, maketh fruit in many manner, yett light and darkness. ¶ The fourth part concerning the excellencie and fruit of the word of God. The summe is this: We must heare the word of God most carefully and diligently, seeing it is the seed, whereunto God of his free loue and love hath begotten vs, and of himselfe picking vnto us the number of his creatures. And the Apostle commendeth two fruites, which doe probably growe in this matter, to wit, let that vs to please our selues, that we haue rather feared our liues than let us Gods waking: yea, we iustifie and are iustified when we are reprobated, against which faulce, hee leaue a peaceable and gentle mind, and like an one as is desirous of purity. ¶ This is it that hee hath said, ¶ And hee hath said, ¶ The fruit of our saluation. ¶ And hee hath said, ¶ The fruit of our saluation.

man

12 There

12 There is one Lawgiver, which is able to save, and to destroy. ¶ Who art thou that indigest another man?

13 ¶ Goto now, ye that say, To day or to morrow we will goe into such a citie, and continue there a yeare, and buy and sell, and get gaine.

14 (And yet ye cannot tell what shall be to morrow. For what is your life? It is euen a vapour, y^e appeareth for a litle time, & afterward vanisbeth away)

15 For that ye ought to say, ¶ If the Lord will, and, If we live, we will doe this or that.

16 But now ye reioyce in your boastings: all such reioycing is euill.

17 ¶ Therefore to him that knoweth how to doe well, and doeth it not, to him it is sinne.

CHAP. V.

1 The rich shall weep, because they haue chosen their pride, & they shall weep, because they shall see the destruction of their riches.

2 ¶ Your riches are corrupt, and your garments are motheaten.

3 Your gold and silver is cankered, & the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh, as it were fire. Yee haue heaped vp treasure for the last dayes.

4 Beholde, the hire of the labourers, which haue reaped your fieldes (which is of you kept backe by fraude) cryeth, and the cries of them which haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lord of hostes.

5 Yee haue liued in pleasure on the earth, and in wantonnesse. Yee haue despised your hearts, as a day of slaughter.

6 Yee haue condemned, and haue killed the iust, and he hath not resisted you.

7 ¶ Be patient therefore, brethren, vnto the coming of the Lord. Beholde, the husbandman watcheth for the precious fruite of the earth, and hath long patience for it, vntill he receive the former, and the latter raine.

8 Be ye also patient therefore, and stille your hearts for the coming of the Lord, and heere

9 ¶ Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: beholde, the iudges standen before the doore.

10 ¶ Take, my brethren, the Prophets for an ensample of suffering aduersitie, and of long patience, which haue spoken in the Name of the Lord.

11 Behold, we count them blessed which endure. Yee haue heard of the patience of Iob, and haue known what send the Lord made. For the Lord is very pitifull and mercifull.

12 ¶ But before all things, my brethren, ¶ I sweare not, neither by heauen, nor by earth, nor by any other othe: but let your yea, be yea, and your nay, nay, lest yee fall into condemnation.

13 ¶ Is any among you afflicted? Let him pray. Is any merry? Let him sing.

14 ¶ Is any sicke among you? Let him call for the Elders of the Church, and let them pray for him, and anoint him with oyle in the Name of the Lord.

15 And the prayer of faith shall save the sicke, and the Lord shall raise him vp: and if hee haue committed sinnes, they shall be forgiven him.

16 ¶ Acknowledge your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that yee may be healed: for the prayer of a righteous man availeth much, if it be fervent.

17 ¶ Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and hee prayed earnestly that it might not raine, and it rained not on the earth for three yeeres and sixe monthes.

18 And he prayed againe, and the heauen gaue raine, and the earth brought forth her fruite.

19 ¶ Brethren, if any of you hath erred from the truth, and some man hath converted him,

20 Let him know that he which hath converted the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall save a soule from death, and shall hide a multitude of sinnes.

¶ We must goe, when we are distressed, to wit, to the prayers of the Elders, which then also could cure the body (for so much as the gift of healing was then in force) and take away the chiefest cause of sicknesses and diseases, by obtaining for the sicke through their pray, remission of sinnes. ¶ Marke 6.13.

¶ This was a signe of the gift of healing, and was fitting we haue the gift no more, for it is no longer necessary. ¶ The calling on the Name of the Lord. ¶ Hee hath reason in making mention of sinnes, for sinnes are for the most part sent because of sin.

¶ Because they persecuted their brethren which were converted, and acknowledged them, and therefore which indurte themselves, therefore the Apostle addeth, that we ought to pray for one another with another signifying those inward diseases, that we may helpe one another with our prayers.

¶ Hee commendeth prayers by the effects that come of them, that all men may vnderstand that there is nothing more efficacious than they are, so that they proceed from a pure mind. ¶ 1. Cor. 13.1, and 14.15. ¶ 1. Cor. 13.1.

¶ The taking away of an obediens: All reprobates are not condemned, seeing that on the contrary part there is nothing more acceptable to God, then to call him the way, & brother that was wandering out of the way. ¶ 1. Cor. 13.1.

¶ Because most men are wont to object, that it is good to repell injuries by what meanes we can, he setteth against that the examples of the Fathers, whose patience had a most happy end, because God as a most bountifull Father, neuer faileth his.

¶ What said the Lord gunt.

¶ Because euen the best men sometimes through impatience breake out into other sometime lesse, sometime greater, the Apostle warneth vs to detest such wickednesse, and to accustom our tongues to simple and true talke.

¶ Math. 5.34.

¶ That thou shalt not say or affirm, I sweare, or I curse, without an othe: and that thou shalt not curse, denie it simply and fully.

¶ Hee sheweth the best remedie against all afflictions, to wit, prayers, which haue their place both in sorrow and ioy.

¶ Hee sheweth peculiarly, to what physicians especially

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

CHAP. I.

1 ¶ Peter, an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to the elect strangers of the Dispersion, which are scattered abroad throughout Europe, Asia, and Africa, greeting.

2 ¶ According to the foreknowledge of God the Father, by the blood of Iesus Christ, the Son of God, ye have obtained an election, unto everlasting life, by the obedience of Iesus Christ, to the Father.

3 ¶ Wherein ye have received mercy, when ye were called out of all things, which were done unto you according to the Father's will, by the blood of Iesus Christ, the Son of God.

4 ¶ Who hath delivered us from all iniquities, unto himselfe, purifying vnto himselfe a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

5 ¶ Who hath called us by his own blood, unto himselfe, by the word of our Lord Iesus Christ, to obtaine the inheritance of glory, which he hath promised us in Christ Iesus our Lord.

6 ¶ Who hath delivered us from all iniquities, unto himselfe, purifying vnto himselfe a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

7 ¶ Who hath called us by his own blood, unto himselfe, by the word of our Lord Iesus Christ, to obtaine the inheritance of glory, which he hath promised us in Christ Iesus our Lord.

¶ Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father vnto sanctification of the Spirit, to speake of the duties of a Christian life, reformed of the principles and beginnings of all Christian actions, rising farre higher than nature, & carrying vnto all things above the same. For he sheweth that we which are otherwile of nature sinners, were through the free mercy of God's Father first chosen from everlasting: then according to that everlasting decree, were by a certain second election made his sonnes in Christ his only begotten, by whose Spirit we are inwardly changed, & by whose blood we are also reconciled, to the end, that as Christ himselfe rose againe from the dead, we also might be received into that same heavenly & everlasting glory.

¶ An adverting to the purpose of God who would alter nothing of his purpose. ¶ The being incorporated in the rest of the wicked world, through the working of Iesus Christ, they should be can sanctified. God. Eph. 1.1.

through obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Iesus Christ: Grace and peace bee multiplied vnto you.

3 Blessed bee God, euen the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten vs againe vnto a liuely hope, by the resurrection of Iesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance immortall and vndefiled, and that withereth not, reserved in heauen for vs,

5 Which are kept by the power of God through faith vnto saluation, which is prepared to be shewed in the last time.

6 Wherein ye reioyce, though now for a season (if need require) ye are in heauinesse, through manifold tentations,

7 That the trial of your faith, being much more precious then gold that perisheth (though it bee tried with fire) might be found vnto your prayle, and honour and glory at the appearing of Iesus Christ:

8 Whom yee haue not seene, and yet loue him, in whom now though yee see him not, yet doe yee beleue, and reioyce with ioy vnspokeable and glorious,

9 Receiuing the end of your faith, even the saluation of your soules.

10 Of the which saluation the Prophets haue enquired and searched, which prophesied of the grace that should come vnto you,

11 Searching when or what time the Spirit which testified before of Christ which was in them, should declare the sufferings that should come vnto Christ, and the glory that should follow.

12 Vnto whome it was revealed, that not vnto themselves, but vnto vs they should minister the things which are now shewed vnto you by them which haue preached vnto you the Gospel by the holy Ghost sent downe from heauen, the which things the Angels desire to behold.

13 Wherefore gird vp the loynes of your minde: bee sober, and trust perfectly on that grace that is brought vnto you, in the reuelation of Iesus Christ,

14 As obedient children, not fashioning your selues vnto the former lustes of your ignorance:

15 But as he which hath called you, is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conuersation, 16 Because it is written, Be ye holy, for I am holy.

17 And if ye call him Father, which without respect of person iudgeth according to euery mans worke, passe the time of your dwelling here in feare,

18 Knowing that yee were not redeemed with corruptible things, as siluer and golde, from your vaine conuersation, received by the traditions of the fathers,

19 But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lambe vndefiled, and without spot.

20 Which was ordeined before the foundation of the world, but was declared in the last times for your sakes,

21 Which by his meanes doe beleuee in God that raised him from the dead, and gaue him glory, that your faith and hope might be in God,

22 Having purified your soules in obeying the trueth through the Spirit, to loue brotherly without faining, loue one another with a pure heart feruently,

23 Being borne anew not of mortall seed, but of immortal, by the word of God, who lieth and endureth for euer.

24 For all flesh is as grasse, and all the glory of man is as the floure of grasse. The grasse withereth, and the floure falleth away.

25 But the worde of the Lord endureth for euer: and this is the worde which is preached among you.

8 Hee putteth from faith and hope, to the fruites of them both, which are vnderhood in the name of obedience: And it consisteth in two things, in reasoning our lustes, and liuing godly: which liues haue their beginning of that blindness wherein all men are borne: but holinesse proceedeth from the grace and fauour of GOD which aduoceth vs, and therefore regenerate us, that the father and the children may be of one disposition.

9 Hee sheweth that sanctification doth necessarily follow adoption.

10 As before he distinguished true faith and hope from false, so doth hee how obedience, setting the quicken and sharp sight of Gods against an outward make, and carnall reuenge, against vaine securitie.

11 If you will be called the sonne of the Father.

12 Deny.

13 An exhortation, wherein he letteth forth the excellencie and greatness of the benefite of God the Father, in sanctifying vs by the death of his owne Sonne.

14 And he partly letteth the puaityngs of the Law against the thing it selfe, that is, against the blood of Christ, and partly also against traditions, which he condemneth as vnto vaine and superstitious, be they neuer so olde and ancient.

15 The taking away of an objection: What was done to the world before that Christ was sent into the world? was there no holinesse before? and was there no Church?

The Apostle answereth, that Christ was ordeined and appointed to redeeme and deliuer mankind, before that mankind was: much lesse was there any Church without him before his coming into the flesh: yet wee are happiest about the rest, to whom Christ was exhibited indeede, in this that hee haue suffered and overcome death for vs, doeth now most effectually worke in vs by the verime of his Spirit, to create in vs faith, hope, and charitie.

16 Commendeth the practise of obedience, that is, charitie: earnestly drawing into their heads againe, that hee speaketh not of any common chasitie, and such as proceeded from that our corrupt nature, but of that whole beginning in the Spirit of God, which purifieth our soules through the word layde hold on by faith, and ingendeth also in yea spiritual and ouerlasting life, as God himselfe doth purg and truly liuing.

17 Chapter 2. 17. rom. 2. 10. eph. 2. 10.

18 A reason why wee haue neede of this heavenly generation, to wit, because that men, bee their glory neuer so great, are of nature voyde of all true and sound goodnesse.

19 The words (flesh) set forth the corruptness of our nature, which chiefly to be considered in the flesh is fleshly luste, which is a man should seeke that spirituall force and vertue in lained imaginations, the Apostle calleth vs backe to the worde of Gods teaching vs furthermore, that there is no other word of the Lord to be looked for, than this which is preached, in which only we must rest.

Having said for the foundation the Spirit of God actually working by the word, and having built thereupon three verities which are the grounds of all Christian actions, to wit, which hope, and charity now be proceeded to a general exhortation, the first member whereof is that which all shew, both of flesh and also of an inward. The second is, that which is begotten & borne of the new foode of the evermore word, drawing and sucking greedily the same word as milk, as should sweet and sweet as it were, prove vs in the spiritual life. And hee call

Wherefore ¶ laying aside all malicioufnesse, and all guile, and dissimulation, and envie, and all euill speaking,

¶ As ¶ new borne babes desire that sincere milke of the worde, that yee may growe thereby.

 therein shall not be ashamed.

¶ Vnto you therefore which beleene, it is precious: but vnto them which bee disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

¶ fifth argument, which also is of great force: Because the glory of God is greatly prophane men are brought vnto God and submit themselves vnto him. ¶ Mark

5. 19. ¶ When God shall also haue mercie on them. 15 That which hee sape generally, hee now expoundeth by partes, describing feuerally euery mans duties, and first of all hee speaketh of obedience which is due both to the Lawes, and also to the Magistrates both higher and lower. ¶ Rom. 13. 1. c. By ordinance, it meaneth the framing and ordering of ciuill governments, which hee callith ordinance of man, not because men inuente it, but because it is proper to men. 16 The first argument: Because the Lord is the author and reuenger of this policie of men, that is, which is set amongst men: and therefore the true seruants of the Lord must about all others be diligent obseruers of this order. 17 Hee preuenteth a cauil which is made by some, that say they will obey Kings and the higher magistrates, and yet contemne their ministers: As though the ministers were not armed with their authoritie which lent them. 18 The second argument, taken of the end of this order, which is not onely most profitable, but also very necessary: seeing that by this means vertue is rewarded, and vice punished: wherein the quiete and happinesse of this life consisteth. 19 Hee declarreth the first argument more amply, shewing that Christian liberty doeth amongst all things least, or not at all consist herein, to wit, to cast off the bridle of Lawes, (as at that time some altogether vs-skillfull in the kingdome of God reported) but rather in this, that lining holily according to the will of God, we should make manifest to all men, that the Gospel is not a cloke for sinne and wickednesse, seeing we are in such sort free, that yet we are still the seruants of God and not of sinne. 20 Hee diuideth the ciuill life of man, by occasion of those things which hee sape into two general partes: to wit, into those duties which pertaine men owe to their superiours, and especially the faithfull to the faithfull, and into that subiection whereby inferiours are bound to their su-

CHAP. III.

Forthwith, as then as Christ hath suffered for vs in the flesh, arme your selves likewise with the same minde, which is, that he, which hath suffered in the flesh, hath eased from sinne.

That he henceforth should live (as much time as) remaineth in the flesh) not after the lusts of men, but after the will of God.

For it is sufficient for vs, if we have spent the time past of the life, after the lust of the Gentiles, walking in wantonnes, lustes, drunkennes, in filthy drinkinges, in abominable idolatries,

10 8. Let every man as hee hath received the gift, minister the same one to another, ⁹ as good disposers of the manifold grace of God. —

14 If any man preake, let him preake as the words of God. If any man minister, let him doe it as of the ability which God ministreth, that God in all things may be glorified through Iesus Christ, to whom is praise and dominion for ever, and ever, Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF IOHN.

CHAP. I.

1. He testifieth that he hath kept the eternal words, wherein is life, and light. 2. God will be merciful unto the faithful, if growing under the burden of their sinnes, they learn to get unto the mercy.

IHat which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and these hands of ours have handled of that word of life.

2. (For that life was made manifest, and we have seen it, and bare witness, and shew vnto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was made manifest vnto vs.)

3. That, I say, which we have seen and heard declare we vnto you, that yee may also have fellowship with vs, and that our fellowship also may be with the Father, and with his Sonne Iesus Christ.

4. And these things write we vnto you, that that your ioy may be full.

5. This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare vnto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkenesse.

6. If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walke in darkenesse, we lie, and do not truly.

7. But if we walke in the light as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Iesus Christ his Sonne cleanse vs from all sinne.

8. If we say that we have no sinne, we deceive our selves, and the truth is not in vs.

9. If we acknowledge our sinnes, he is faithful and iust, to forgive vs our sinnes, & to cleanse vs from all vnrighteousnesse.

10. If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in vs.

CHAP. II.

1. Hee declareth that Christ is our mediator and advocate, 2. and sheweth that knowledge of God consisteth in holiness of life, 13. which hee testifieth to all sorts, 14. that hee hath come into the world, 15. then hee exhorted them to continue in the world, 16. hee giveth warning that Antichrist be avoided, 17. and that the law of the world be not obeyed.

MY little children, these things write I vnto you, that ye sinne not: and if any man sinne, we have an Advocate with the Father, Iesus Christ, the iust.

2. And he is the reconciler for our sinnes, and not for ours onely, but also for the sinnes of the whole world.

3. And hereby we are sure that we know him, if we keepe his commandments.

4. He that sayeth, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5. But he that keepeth his word in him is the love of God perfect indeede: hereby we know that we are in him.

6. He that saith he remaineth in him, ought even so to walke as he hath walked.

7. Brethren, I write no new commandment vnto you: but an old commandment, which yee have had from the beginning: this old commandment is that word, which yee have heard from the beginning.

8. Againe, a new commandment I write vnto you, that which is true in him, & also in you: for the darknes is past, & that true light now shineth.

9. He that saith that he is in that light, and hateth his brother, is in darknesse, vntill this time.

10. Hee that loveth his brother, abideth in the light, & there is none occasion of fall in him.

11. But he that hateth his brother, is in darknesse, and walketh in darknesse, and knoweth not whither hee goeth, because that darknesse hath blinded his eyes.

12. Little children, I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiven you for his Names sake, declaring what it is to walke in the light, to wit, to keepe Gods commandments. Wherby it followeth that holiness of life is the way to life, which men have desired, neither in a vain profession of the Gospel. This must be understood of such a knowledge, as each faithfull man, and not of a common knowledge. For the true is known by the fruit. 3. Holiness, that is, a life ordered according to the precept of Gods commandment, how weaker ever we be, is of necessity joined with faith, that is, with the true knowledge of the Father, in the Sonne. 4. He that keepeth Gods commandments, loveth God indeed. He that loveth God, is in God, or is joined together with God. Therefore he that keepeth his commandments, is in him. 5. Whosoever loveth God, 6. He that is one with Christ, must needs live his life, that is, must walke in his steps. 7. The Apostle going about to expound the commandment of charity one towards another, telleth first that when hee vergeth holiness he bringeth no new trade of life (as they do who do which devise traditions, one after another) but putteth them in mind of that same Lawe which God gave in the beginning to wit, by Moses, at that time that God began to give Lawes to his people. 8. He addeth that the doctrine indeed is old, but it is now after a sort new both in respect of Christ, and also of vs: in whom hee through the Gospel, engraven his Lawe effectually, not in tables of stone, but in our mindes. 9. Which thing (as the apostle saith) is the love of God, which we have in him and in you. 10. He becometh to the second table, that is, to charity one towards another, and denieth that that man hath true light in him, or is indeed regenerate and the sonne of God, which hateth his brother, and such an one wandereth miserably in darknesse, because hee never so great knowledge of God, for that wittingly and willingly hee calleth himselfe headlong into hell. 11. He returneth againe from sanctification to remission of sin, because that free reconciliation in Christ is the ground of our salvation, wherupon afterwards sanctification must be built as upon a foundation. 12. Therefore I write vnto you, because you are of them number whose God hath reconciled to himselfe. 13. For his sakes sake: And in that he name is Christ, he hath reconciled us all together, whether they be in heaven or earth.

1. It followeth not hereof that we must give our wicked nature the bridle, or smother much the more freely, because our sinnes are cleared away by the blood of Christ, but we must rather so much the more diligently resist sin. And yet we must not despair because of our weakness, for we have an advocate and a purger, Christe, Iesus the iust, and therefore acceptable vnto his father. 2. In that he name, which Christ be sanctified for all other. 3. Reconciliation and intercession go together, so give us so much heart that he is best advocate and his Priest. 4. For man of all sorts, of all ages, and all places, so that the benefit belongeth not to the few only of whom he speaketh as appeareth very 7. but also to all nations. 5. He returneth to the testimony of our communion with God, to wit, to sanctification, and to Gods commandments. 6. He that is one with Christ, must needs live his life, that is, must walke in his steps. 7. The Apostle going about to expound the commandment of charity one towards another, telleth first that when hee vergeth holiness he bringeth no new trade of life (as they do who do which devise traditions, one after another) but putteth them in mind of that same Lawe which God gave in the beginning to wit, by Moses, at that time that God began to give Lawes to his people. 8. He addeth that the doctrine indeed is old, but it is now after a sort new both in respect of Christ, and also of vs: in whom hee through the Gospel, engraven his Lawe effectually, not in tables of stone, but in our mindes. 9. Which thing (as the apostle saith) is the love of God, which we have in him and in you. 10. He becometh to the second table, that is, to charity one towards another, and denieth that that man hath true light in him, or is indeed regenerate and the sonne of God, which hateth his brother, and such an one wandereth miserably in darknesse, because hee never so great knowledge of God, for that wittingly and willingly hee calleth himselfe headlong into hell. 11. He returneth againe from sanctification to remission of sin, because that free reconciliation in Christ is the ground of our salvation, wherupon afterwards sanctification must be built as upon a foundation. 12. Therefore I write vnto you, because you are of them number whose God hath reconciled to himselfe. 13. For his sakes sake: And in that he name is Christ, he hath reconciled us all together, whether they be in heaven or earth.

13 I write vnto you, fathers, because ye haue knowen him that is from the beginning. 14 I write vnto you, young men, because yee haue ouercome that wicked one. 15 I write vnto you, little children, because ye haue knowen the Father.

16 I haue written vnto you, fathers, because ye haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I haue written vnto you, young men, because yee are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye haue ouercome that wicked one.

17 Loe not this world, neither the things that are in this world. If any man loue this world, the loue of the Father is not in him.

18 For all that is in this world, (as the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life) is not of the Father, but is of this world.

19 And this world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that fulfilleth the will of God, abideth euer.

20 Little children, 21 it is the last time, and as ye haue heard that Antichrist shal come, even now there are many Antichrists: whereby we know that it is the last time.

22 They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: for if they had bene of vs, they should haue continued with vs. 23 But this cometh to passe, that it might appeare, that they are not all of vs.

24 But yee haue an oyntment from that Holy one, and know all things.

25 I haue not written vnto you, because ye know not the trueth: but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the trueth.

26 Who is a liar, but he that denieth that Iesus is that Christ? the same is that Antichrist that denieth the Father and the Sonne.

27 Whosoever denieth the Sonne, the same hath not the Father.

28 Let therefore abide in you that same which ye haue heard from the beginning. If that which ye haue heard from the beginning, shall remaine in you, ye shall also continue in the Son, and in the Father.

29 And this is the promise that he hath promised vs, even that eternall life.

30 These things haue I written vnto you, concerning them that deceiue you.

31 But that anointing which ye received of him, dwelleth in you: and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and it is true & is not lying, and as it taught you, ye shall abide in him.

32 And now, little children, abide in him, that when he shall appeare, we may be bold, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

33 If ye know that he is righteous, know ye that he which doth righteously, is borne of him.

34 The same Spirit which endueth the elect with the knowledge of the trueth, and sanctifieth them, giueth them therewithall the gift of persequerance, to continue to the end.

35 The Spirit which you haue receiued of Christ, and which hath leide you into all trueth.

36 Ignorant of those things, and therefore I teach them not as things that were heard of, but call them to your remembrance as things which you doe knowe. 37 Hee commended both the doctrine which they had embraced, and also highly praised their faith, and the diligence of such as taught them, yet so, that hee take no nothing from the honour due to the holy Ghost. 38 The conclusion both of the whole exhortation, and also of the former treatise. 39 A passing ouer to the treatise following, which tendeth to the same purpose, but yet is more ample, and handleth the same matter after another order: for before he taught vs to goe vp from the causes to the cause, and in this that followeth, hee goeth downe from the causes to the effects. And this is the summe of this argument: God is the fountaine of all righteousness, and therefore they that giue themselves to righteousness, are known to be borne of him, because they relemble God the Father.

CHAP. III.

1 Setting downe the inestimable glory of this, that we are Gods Iouers, 2 he sheweth that newnesse of life must be iustified by good workes, wherof charity is a manifest token. 3 Of faith, 4 and praying vnto God.

Behold, 1 what looe the Father hath giuen to vs, that we should bee called the sonnes of God: 2 for this cause this world knoweth you not, because it knoweth not him.

3 Dearly beloved, now are we the sonnes of God, but yet it is not made manifest what we shall be: and we know that when he shall be made manifest, we shall be like him: for we shall see him as he is.

4 And every man that hath this hope in him, purgeth himselfe, euen as he is pure.

5 Whosoever committeth sinne, transgresseth also the Law: for sinne is the transgression of the Law.

6 And ye know that he was made manifest, that he might take away our finnes, and in him is no sinne.

7 Whosoever abideth in him, sinneth not: whosoever sinneth, hath not seene him, neither hath known him.

8 Little children, let no man deceiue you: he that doeth righteousness, is righteous, as hee

1 Hee beginneth to declare this agreement of the Father and the Sonne at the highest cause, to wit, at that free loue of God toward vs, wherewith he looueth vs, that also he adopteth vs to be his children.

2 What a gift of how great loue. 3 That we shoulde be the sonnes of God, and so that all the world may perceive we are so.

4 Before he declared this adoption he saith two things: the one, that this is great a dignitie is not to be esteemed according to the iudgement of the flesh, because it is unknown to the world, for y world knoweth not God the Father himselfe.

5 The other: This dignitie is not fully made manifest to vs our selues, much lesse to strangers, but we are sure of the accomplishment of it, in so much that we shall bee like to the Sonne of God himselfe, and shall enioy his sight in deed, such as he is now: but yet notwithstanding this is deferred vntill his next coming. 6 Like, but not equal. 7 For now we see with a glasse, 1. (or 13. 12.) 8 Now hee declarereth this adoption, (the glory wherof as yet consisteth in hope,) by the effect, to wit, because that whosoever is made the Sonne of God, endeauoureth to relemble the Father in puritie. 9 This words signifieth a likeness, but not an equalitie. 10 The rule of this puritie can from whence els be taken but from the Lawe of God, the transgression wherof is that which is called sinne. 11 Giueth not himselfe to puritie. 12 A short definition of sinne. 13 An argument taken from the materiall cause of our saluation: Christ in himselfe is most pure, and hee coma to take away our finnes, by sanctifying vs with the holy Ghost. Therefore, whosoever is truly partaker of Christ, doeth not giue himselfe to sinne: and contrariwise he that giueth himselfe to sinne, knoweth not Christ. 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100

74 Because we do not see in effect what we have for, the Apostle saith, we have faith, which he will have us proceed from faith and more, we to be concealed in such sort, that nothing be asked but that which is agreeable to the will of God: and such prayers cannot be vaine. Chap. 1. 11. We are to make prayers not only for our selves, but also for our brethren which doubt, that their sinnes be not vnto them, to death: and yet expecteth that sinne which is not yet done, or the sinne against the holy Ghost, that is to say, an inuicible and willfull falling away from the known truth of the Gospel. 1. Christe as much as it be good, let him desire the Lord to forgive him, and let him forgive him being so d. fro. 2. Math. 12. 31. Marke 9. 12.

that beleue in the Name of that Sonne of God, that ye may know that ye haue eternall life, and that ye may beleue in the Name of that Sonne of God.

14 And this is that assurance that we haue in him, & that if we aske anything according to his will hee heareth vs.

15 And if we know that he heareth vs, whatsoever we aske, we know that wee haue the petitions, that we haue desired of him.

16 If any man see his brother sinne a sinne that is not vnto death, let him aske, and he shall giue him life for them that sinne not vnto death.

17 There is a sinne vnto death, I say not that thou shouldest pray for it.

17 All vniuersall sinne is sinne, but there is a sinne not vnto death.

18 We know that whosoever is borne of God sinneeth not: but he is begotten of God keepeth himselfe, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

19 We know that we are of God, and this whole world lieth in wickednesse.

20 But wee know that that Sonne of God is come, and hath giuen vs a mind to know him, which is true, and we are in him that is true, that is, in that his Sonne Iesus Christ, the same is that very God, and that eternall life.

21 Little children, keepe your selues from idoles, Amen.

22 To say, made the sonnes of God in Christ, and being indued with his Spirit, they do not serue sin, neither are deadly wounded of Satan. 23 Every man must particularly apply to himselfe the general promises, that we may certainly perswade our selues, that whereas all the world is by sinne lost, we are freely made the sonnes of God, by the sending of Iesus Christ his Sonne vnto vs, of whom we are lightened with the knowledge of the true God, & eternall life. Luke 24. 45. The disciples of Christ must plainly promitt by this place. 24 Hee expecteth a phrase precept of taking heed of idoles, which he setteth against the onely true God, that with this scale as it were he might scale vp all the former doctrine.

24 The taking away of an oblation: Indeed all iniquitie is comprehended vnder the name of sin, but yet we must not despise therefore, because every sinne is not deadly, and without hope of remedie.

25 A reason why not all, nay rather why no sin is mortal to some: to wit, because they be borne of God, that with his Spirit, they do not serue sin, neither are deadly wounded of Satan. 26 Every man must particularly apply to himselfe the general promises, that we may certainly perswade our selues, that whereas all the world is by sinne lost, we are freely made the sonnes of God, by the sending of Iesus Christ his Sonne vnto vs, of whom we are lightened with the knowledge of the true God, & eternall life. Luke 24. 45. The disciples of Christ must plainly promitt by this place. 27 Hee expecteth a phrase precept of taking heed of idoles, which he setteth against the onely true God, that with this scale as it were he might scale vp all the former doctrine.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF IOHN.

1 This Epistle is written to a woman of great renowne, & who bringeth to her children in the name of God: & hee sheweth her to continue in Christian charitie, & that shee accompanye with such as do the same.

HELDER to the elect & Ladi, and her children, whom I loue in the truth: and not I only, but also all that haue knowne the truth.

2 For the truths sake which dwelleth in vs, and shall be with vs for ever.

3 Grace be with you, mercy and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ the Sonne of the Father, with truth and loue.

4 I reioyced greatly, that I found of thy children walking in truth as we haue received a commandement of the Father.

5 And now beseech I thee, Lady, (not as writing a new commandement vnto thee, but that same which we had from the beginning) that we love one another.

6 And now beseech I thee, Lady, (not as writing a new commandement vnto thee, but that same which we had from the beginning) that we love one another.

6 And this is that love, that we should walke after his commandements. This commandement is, that as ye haue heard from the beginning, ye should walke in it.

7 For many deceivers are entred into this world, which confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh. He that is such one, is a deceiver and an Antichrist.

8 Looke to your selues, that we looke not the things which we haue done, but that we may receiue a full reward.

9 Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God: He that continueth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Sonne.

10 If there come any vnto you, and bring not this doctrine, & receiue him not to house, neither bid him God speed.

11 For he that biddeth him God speed, is partaker of his euil deeds. Although I had many things to write vnto you, yet would I not write with paper and yunker: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake mouth to mouth, that our ioy may be full.

12 The sonnes of thine elect sister grette thee, Amen.

Antichrist fighting against the person and office of Christ, were already crept into the Church, in the time of the Apostles.

We ought to haue nothing to doe with them that defend peruerse doctrine. Rom. 16. 17.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF IOHN.

1 Hee commendeth Gaius for hospitality, & and reprehendeth Diotrephes for vaine glorie: 2. Hee exhorteth Gaius to continue in well doing: 3. and in the end commendeth Diotrephes.

HELDER vnto the beloued Gaius whom I loue in the truth.

2 Beloued, I wish chiefly that thou prosperedst and farest well as thy soule prospereth.

3 For I reioyced greatly when the brethren came & testified of the truth that is in thee, how thou walkest in the truth.

4 I haue no greater ioy then, that is, that I, to heare that my sonnes walke in the truth.

5 Beloued, thou doest faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers.

6 Which bare witness of thy loue before the Churches. Whom if thou bringest on their iour-ney as it becometh according to God, thou shalt doe well.

7 Because that for his Names sake they went forth, and tooke nothing of the Gentiles.

8 Wee therefore ought to receiue such, that are might be helpers to the truth.

9 I wrote vnto the Church, but Diotrephes which loueth to haue the preeminence among them, receiueth vs not.

10 Wherefore if I come, I will call to your remembrance his deeds which he doeth, prating against vs with malicious words, and not there with content, neither hee himselfe receiue the brethren, but forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the Church.

11 Beloued follow not that which is euill, but that which is good: he that doth well is of God: but he that doeth euill, hath not seene God.

That we are thus may help somewhat to the preaching of the truth.

2 Ambition and conceitfulness, two pestilentiall plagues, (especially in them which haue any Ecclesiastical function) are condemned in Diotrephes person. 3. Habitus known God.

12. Hieronimus hath good report of all men, and of the truth it false: yea, and wee our selues beare record, & ye know that our record is true.
13. I haue many things to write: but I wil not with ynke and pen write vnto thee:

14. For I trust I shal shortly see thee, & we shal speake mouth to mouth. Peace be with thee. The friends salute thee. Greete the friends by name.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF IUDE.

He warneth the godly to take heed of such men, & that make the grace of God a like for their wantonnesse: & that they shall not escape unpunished, for the contempt of his grace.
1. He preacheth by three examples: 1. And altogether the prophets of kinde. 2. And finally he sheweth the godly a meane to eschew all the foules of those doctours.

IUDE a seruant of Iesus Christ, and brother of Iames, to the which are called and sanctified of God the Father, and referred to Ie-
sus Christ:

2 Mercy vnto you, and peace and loue be multiplied.

3 Beloued, when I gaue all diligence to write vnto you of the common saluation, it was needfull for me to write vnto you, to exhort you, that ye should earnestly contend for the maintenance of the faith, which was once giuen vnto the Saints.

4 For there are certaine men crept in, which were before of olde ordeined to this condemnation: vngodly men they are, which turne the grace of our God into wantonnesse, and denie God the onely Lord, and our Lord Iesus Christ.

5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, forasmuch as yee once knew this, how that the Lord, after that hee had deliuered the people out of Egypt, destroyed them after ward which be-leued not.

6 The Angels also which kept not their first estate, but left their owne habitation, he hath reserved in euermlasting chaines vnder darkenesse vnto the iudgement of the great day.

7 As Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them, which in like manner as they did, committed fornication, and followed strange flesh, are set forth for an example, and suffer the vengeance of eternall fire.

8 Likewise notwithstanding these sleepers also defile the flesh, and despise gouernement, and speake euill of them that are in authoritie.

9 Yet Michael the Archangel, when hee stroue against the deuill, and disputed about the body of Moses, durst not blame him with cursed speaking, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.

10 But these speake euill of those things, which they know not: and whatsoever things they know naturally as beasts, which are without reason, in those things they corrupt themselves.

11 Wo be vnto them: for they haue followed the way of Cain, and are cast away by the deceit of Balaams wages, and perish in the gain-saying of Core.

12 These are rockes in your feastes of charity when they feast with you, without al feare, feeding themselves: cloudes they are without water, caried about of windes, corrupt trees and without fruit, twise dead, and plucked vp by the rootes.

13 They are the raging waues of the sea, foming out their owne shame: they are wandring starres, to whom is reserved the blacknesse of darkenesse for euer.

14 And Enoch also the seuenth from Adam, propheied of such, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with thousands of his Saints,

15 To giue iudgement against all men, and to rebuke all the vngodly among them of all their wicked deedes, which they haue vngodly committed, and of all their cruell speakings, which wicked sinners haue spoken against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their owne lustes: whose mouthes speake proud things, hauing mens persons in admiration, because of aduantage.

17 But, ye beloued, remember the wordes which were spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Iesus Christ:

18 How that they tolde you that there should bee mockers in the last time, which should walke after their owne vngodly lusts.

19 These are they that separate themselves from other naturall, hauing not the Spirit.

20 But, yee beloued, edifie your selues in your most holy faith, praying in the holy Ghost.

21 And keepe your selues in the loue of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Iesus Christ,
vnto eternall life.

22 And haue compassion of some, in putting differre:

23 And other saue with feare, pulling them out of the fire, & hate euen that garment which is spotted by the flesh.

24 Now vnto him th at is able to keepe you that yee fall not, and to present you faultlesse before the presence of his glory with ioy,

25 That is, to God onely wise, our Sauour, be glory, and maiestie, and dominion, and power, both now and for euer. Amen.

Christ appeare to their full saluation: 13. Among them which wander and goe astray, the godly haue to vse this choice, that they handle some of them gently, and that other some being euen in the very flame, they endeuour to saue with fiercer and sharper instruction of the present danger: yet so, that they do in such sort, as shew

Behold I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit fornication with her, into great affliction, except they repent them of their works.

And I will kill her children with death: and all the Churches shall know that I am he which search the reins and hearts: and I will give unto every one of you according unto your works.

And unto you I say, the least of them of Thyatira. As many as have not this learning, neither have known the deepensse of Satan (as they speake) I will put upon you none other burden.

But that which ye have already, holde fast till I come.

For hee that overcommeth and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I giue power over nations.

And he shall rule them with a rod of yron: and as the vessels of a potter, shall they be broken.

Even as I received of my Father, so will I giue him the morning starre.

Pet. 5. 10. The brightnesse of greatest glory and honour neereft approaching unto the light of Christ, who is the Sonne of righteoufnesse, and our head, Matth. 4.

CHAP. III.

The first Epistle sent to the Pastors of the Church of Sardis, 7 of Philadelphia, 14 and of the Laodiceans, 16. that they be not lukewarme, 20. but continue to further Gods glory.

And write unto the Angel of the Church which is at Sardis, These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven starres, I know thy works: for thou hast a name that thou livest, but thou art dead.

Be awake, and strengthen the things which remaine, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

Remember therefore, how thou hast received and heard, and holde fast and repent. If therefore thou wilt not watch, I will come on thee as a thiefe, and thou shalt not know what houre I will come vpon thee.

Notwithstanding thou hast a few names yet in Sardis, which haue not defiled their garments: and they shall walke with me in white: for they are worthy.

He that overcommeth, shall be clothed in white array, and I will not put out his Name of the booke of life, but I will confesse his name before my Father, and before his Angels.

Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

And write vnto the Angel of the Church which is of Philadelphia, These things saith he that is Holy, and True, which hath the key of David, which openeth, and no man shutteth, and shutteth, and no man openeth.

I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open doore, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my Name.

Behold, I will make them of the Synagogue of Satan, which call themselves Iewes, & are not, but doe lie: behold, I will make them that they shall come, and worship before thy feet, and shall know that I have loued thee.

Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, therefore I will deliuer thee from the houre of temptation, which will come vpon all the world, to trie them that dwell vpon the earth.

Behold, I come shortly: holde that which thou hast, that no man take thy crowne.

Unto him that overcommeth, will I make a pillar in the Temple of my God, and he shall goe no more out: and I will write vpon him the Name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is the new Hierusalem, which cometh downe out of heauen from my God, and I will write vpon him my new Name.

Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

And vnto the Angel of the Church of the Laodiceans write, These things saith Amen, the faithful and true witness, that beginning of the creatures of God.

I know thy works, that thou art neither colde nor hot: I would thou werst colde or hot.

Therefore, because thou art lukewarme, and neither colde nor hot, it will come to passe, that I shall spue thee out of my mouth.

For thou sayest, I am rich and increased with goods, & haue neede of nothing, and knowest not how thou art wretched and miserable, and poore, and blinde, and naked.

I counsell thee to buy of me gold tryed by the fire, that thou mayest be made rich: and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, & that thy filthy nakednesse doe not appeare: and anoynt thine eyes with eye salve, that thou mayest see.

As many as I loue, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore and amend.

Beholde, I stand at the doore, and knocke. If any man heare my voice, and open the doore, I will come in vnto him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

To him that overcommeth, will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I ouercame, and sit with my Father in his throne.

Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit saith vnto the Churches.

This must be taken after the manner of an allegorie, as Job 24. 23. 11. The conclusion, consisting of a promise, as Chap. 2. ver. 26. and of an exhortation. Thertoe hath bene the first part of the booke of the Apocalypse.

CHAP. IIII.

Another Epistle containing the glory of Gods Marry, 8. which is married of the four beasts, 10. and the four & twenty Elders, 11.

After this I looked, and behold, a doore was open in heauen, and the first voyce which I altogether propheticall, foretelling those things which were to come, as was said before, Chap. 1. 19. This is diuided into two histories: one common vnto the whole world, vnto the 5. Chapter: and another singular, of the Church of God, Iewes, vnto the 22. chapter. And these histories are said to be described in several bookes, chap. 5. 1. & 10. 1. Now this verse is as it were a passage from the former part vnto this second: where it is said, that heauen was opened, that is, that heavenly things were vnlodged, and that a voyce of a trumpet sounded in heauen to stirre up the Apostles, and call him to the vnderstanding of things to come. The first history hath two partes, one, of the capes of this booke, of this whole Reuelation, in this and the next chapter. Another of the same, in the next foure chapters. The punctionall causes according to the distinction of persons in the vniuers of the diuine essence, and according to the distinction of persons in the vniuers of the diuine essence, which none can deny, but that is, God the Father, of whom is spoken in this chapter. The other, the Son, who is the meane cause, easie to be approached vnto in respect of his nature, and his person, of whom, Chap. 5.

I will bring them to the city.

That is, fall down and worship either thee civilly, or Christ religiously at thy feet (and thus I had rather take it) whether here in the Church (which seemeth more proper to the argument of this place) or there in the world to come. For Christ verely shall satisfie his word.

Because thou hast bene patient & constant, as I would my seruants should be. The conclusion, which containeth a promise, and a commendement. That is, the new man shall be termed after his father, mother, and head, Christ.

The strength place is vnto the Pastors of the Church of Laodicea. The exordium is taken out of the verities of the 1. chapter. Amen, which is much in the Old Testament, as in the New Testament is little.

Of whom althings that are made, haue their testimony. The proposition of reproche is in this verse, where vnto is signified a threatening, ver. 16. with a confirmation on declaring the same, ver. 17. and of exhortation vnto faith and repentance, ver. 18. 19.

where vnto is added a conditionall promise, ver. 20. 13. The first small number of men, which are mentioned, expressed in three points: vnto which are matched as correspondent, those remedies which are offered, ver. 18. 4. Prayer 3. 12. ver. 12. 5. Zeale w. it against hotwar colde. 14. This must be taken after the manner of an allegorie, as Job 24. 23. 11. The conclusion, consisting of a promise, as Chap. 2. ver. 26. and of an exhortation. Thertoe hath bene the first part of the booke of the Apocalypse.

which are mentioned, expressed in three points: vnto which are matched as correspondent, those remedies which are offered, ver. 18. 4. Prayer 3. 12. ver. 12. 5. Zeale w. it against hotwar colde. 14. Thertoe hath bene the first part of the booke of the Apocalypse.

Hereafter followeth the second part of this booke, which is the 22. chapter. The punctionall causes according to the distinction of persons in the vniuers of the diuine essence, and according to the distinction of persons in the vniuers of the diuine essence, which none can deny, but that is, God the Father, of whom is spoken in this chapter. The other, the Son, who is the meane cause, easie to be approached vnto in respect of his nature, and his person, of whom, Chap. 5.

are opened. 125

3 And I saw another Angel come from the East, which had the seal of the living God, and he cried with a loud voice to the four Angels to whom power was given to hurt the earth, and the sea, saying,

4 Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, neither the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads.

5 And I heard the number of them, which were sealed, and there were sealed an hundred and four and forty thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

6 Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Nephtali were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand.

9 Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

10 After these things I beheld, and loe a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, & tongues stood before the throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with long white robes, & palmes in their hands.

11 And they cried with a loud voice saying, Salvation cometh of our God, that sitteth upon the throne, and of the Lambe.

12 And all the Angels stood round about the throne, and about the Elders, & the four beastes, and they fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God,

13 Saying, Amen, Praise, and glory, and wisdom, and thanks, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for evermore, Amen.

14 And one of the Elders spake saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in long white robes? and whence came they?

15 And I said unto him, Lord thou knowest. And he said unto me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their long robes, and have made their long robes white in the blood of the Lambe.

2 And I saw the seven Angels, which stood before God, and to them were given seven trumpets.

39 Then another Angel came and stood before the altar having a golden censer, and incensours was given vnto him, that he should offer with the prayers of all Saints vpon the golden altar, which is before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the odours with the prayers of the Saints, went vp before God, of the Angels hand.

And the Angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices and thundrings, and lightnings, and earthquake.

64. Then the seven Angels, which had the seven trumpets, prepared themselves to blow the trumpets.

7 So the first Angel blew the trumpet, and there was haile and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, & the third part of trees was burnt, and al greenie grasse was burnt.

1 The Temple is commanded to be measured. 2 The Lord stirreth up two witnesses. 3 Whom the beast murdereth. 4 And no man hurteth them. 5 God raiseth them to life. 6 And calleth them up to heaven. 7 The wicked are terrified. 8 By the trumpets of the seventh Angel: there is a great earthquake. 9 And judgments are described.

Then was given me a reede like vnto a rod, and the Angel stood by, saying, Rise and mete the Temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

But the Court which is without the temple leave out, and mete it not: for it is given vnto the Gentiles, and the holy citie shall they tread vnder foot, two and fourty moneths.

But I will giue power vnto my two witnesses, & they shall prophesie a thousand two hundred & threescore dayes clothed in sackcloth. 4 These are two olive trees, & two candlesticks, standing before the God of the earth. 5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouths, & deuoureth their enemies: for if any man will hurt them, thus must he be killed. 6 These haue power to shut heauen, that it raine not in the dayes of their prophesying, and haue power ouer waters to turne them into blood to fmitte the earth with all manner plagues, as often as they will. 7 And when they haue finished their testimony, the beast that commeth out of the bottomlesse pit, shall make warre against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them. 8 And their corpses shall lie in the streets of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where our Lord also was crucified. 9 And they of the people and kindreds, and tongues, and Gentiles shall see their corpses three dayes and an halfe, and shall not suffer their carkeises to be buried in graues. 10 And they that dwell vpon the earth, shall reioice ouer them and be glad, and shall send gifts one to another: for these two Prophets vexed them that dwell on the earth.

showing it selfe forth in heauen, earth and the sea, ver. 6. as it is described, 2. Cor. 10. 4. according to the promise of Christ, Mar. 14. 17. And this is the second place (as I sayd before) of the combats which the seruants of God must needs vndergoe in the executing of their calling, and of the things that follow the same combats. In the combats or conflicts are these things to overcome, in these two verses: to be overcome and killed, ver. 7. After the laughter follow these things, that the carkeises of the godly are layd abroad, ver. 8. being vnburied, are made a matter of scorn together of cursing and bitter execrations, ver. 9. and that therefore gratulations are publicly and priuately made, ver. 10. That is, when they haue spent those thousand two hundred and sixty yeres, mentioned ver. 2. & 3. in publishing their testimony according to their office. When they haue done their message. 11 Of which after, cha. 12. &c. That beast is the Romane Empire, made long ago of ciuil, Ecclesiastical: the chief head whereof was then Boniface the 8 as I said before: who lifted vp himselfe in so great arrogancy (sayth the author of Fasciculum temporum) that he called himselfe Lord of the whole world, as well in temporall causes as in spirituall: There is an extant of that matter, written by the same Boniface most arrogantly, shall I say, or most wickedly, causam suam extra de maiestate obediencia and in the sixt of the Decretals (which is from the same author) many things are found of the same argument. 12 He shal persecute most cruelly the holy men, and put them to death, & shal wound & pierce through with cursings, both their names and writings. And that this was done to very many godly men by Boniface and others, the histories do declare, especially since the time that the odious and condemned name amongst the multitude first of the brethren Waldenses or Lugdunenses, then also of the Fraticels, was pretended, that good men might with more approbation be massacred. 13 That is, openly at Rome: where at that time was most great concourse of people, the yere of Iubile being the first ordained by Boniface vnto the same end, in the yere of Christ 1300. example whereof is read Chap. 1. Extra de penitentijs & remissionibus. So by one act he committed double iniurie against Christ, both abolishing his truth by the restoring of the type of the Iubile, and triumphing ouer his members by most wicked superstition. O religious heart. Now that we should vnderstand the things of Rome, S. Iohn himselfe is the author, both after in the 17. Chap. almost throughout, and also in the circumscription now next following, when he saith, it is that great Citie (as Cha. 17. 18 he calleth it) and is spiritually tearmed Sodom and Egypt: and that spiritually (for that must here againe be repeated from before) Christ was there crucified. For the two first appellations signifie spirituall wickednesses: the latter signifieth the shewe and pretence of good, that is, of Christian and sound religion. Sodom signifieth most licentious in piety and iniustice: Egypt most cruell persecution of the people of God: and Ierusalem signifieth the most confident glorying of that Citie, as it were in true religion, being yet full of falshood and vngodlinesse. Now who is ignorant that these things do rather and more agree vnto Rome, then vnto any other Citie? The commendations of the City of Rome for many yeres past, are publicly notorious, which are not for me to gather together. This only I will say, that he long since did very well see what Rome is, who taking his leave thereof, vied these verses nesses, & they shall prophesie a thousand two hundred & threescore dayes clothed in sackcloth.

These are two olive trees, & two candlesticks, standing before the God of the earth.

And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouthes, & deuoureth their enemies: for if any man will hurt them, thus must he be killed.

These haue power to shut heauen, that it raine not in the dayes of their prophesying, and haue power ouer waters to turne them into blood to smite the earth with all manner plagues, as often as they will.

And when they haue finished their testimony, the beast that commeth out of the bottomlesse pit, shall make warre against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

And their corpses shall lie in the streets of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where our Lord also was crucified.

And they of the people and kindreds, and tongues, and Gentiles shall see their corpses three dayes and an halfe, and shall not suffer their carkeies to be buried in graues.

And they that dwell vpon the earth, shall reioice ouer them and be glad, and shall send gifts one to another: for these two Prophets vexed them that dwell on the earth.

showing it selfe forth in heauen, earth and the sea, ver. 6. as it is described, 2. Corin. 10. 4. according to the promise of Christ, Mar. 14. 17. And this is the second place (as I sayd before) of the combats which the seruants of God must needs vndergoe in the executing of their calling, and of the things that follow the same combats. In the combats or conflicts are these things to overcome, in these two verses: to be overcome and killed, ver. 7. After the slaughter follow these things, that the carkeies of the godly are layd abroad, ver. 8. being vnburied, are made a matter of scorn together of cursing and bitter execrations, ver. 9. and that therefore gratulations are publicly and privately made, ver. 10. 10 That is, when they haue spent those thousand two hundred and sixty yeres, mentioned ver. 2. & 3. in publishing their testimony according to their office. When they haue done their mes- sage. 11 Of which alter, cha. 13. de. That beast is the Romane Empire, made long ago of ciuill, Ecclesiastical: the chief head whereof was then Boniface the 8 as I said before: who lifted vp himselfe in so great arrogancy (sayth the author of Papisticus temporum) that he called himselfe Lord of the whole world, as well in temporall causes as in spirituall: There is an extant of that matter, written by the same Boniface most arrogantly, shall I say, or most wickedly, ca. vnam suam, extra de maiestate & obedientia and in the sixt of the Decretals (which is from the same author) many things are found of the same argument. 12 He shall persecute most cruelly the holy men, and put them to death, & shall wound & pierce through with cursing, both their names and writings. And that this was done to very many godly men by Boniface and others, the histories do declare, especially since the time that the odious and condemned name amongst the multitude first of the brethren Waldenses or Lugdunenses, then also of the Fraticels, was pretended, that good men might with more approbation be massacred. 13 That is, openly at Rome: where at that time was most great concourse of people, the yere of lubile being the first ordained by Boniface vnto the same end, in the yere of Christ 1300. example whereof is read Chap. 1. Extra de penitentijs & remissionibus. So by one act he committed double iniurie against Christ, both abolishing his truth by the restoring of the type of the lubile, and triumphing ouer his members by most wicked superstition. O religious heart. Now that we should vnderstand the things of Rome, S. Iohn himselfe is the author, both after in the 17. Chap. almost throughout, and also in the circumscription now next following, when he saith, it is that great Citie (as Cha. 17. 18 he calleth it) and spiritually tearmed Sodom and Egypt: and that spiritually (for that must here againe be repeated from before) Christ was there crucified. For the two first appellations signifie spirituall wickedness: the latter signifieth the shewe and pretence of good, that is, of Christian and sound religion. Sodom signifieth most licentious inpiety and iniustice: Egypt most cruell persecution of the people of God: and Ierusalem signifieth the most confident glorying of that Citie, as it were in true religion, being yet full of falshood and vngodlinesse. Now who is ignorant that these things do rather, and more agree vnto Rome, then vnto any other Citie? The commendations of the Citie of Rome for many yeres past, are publicly notorious, which are not for me to gather together. This onely I will say, that he long since did very well see what Rome is, who taking his leaue thereof, vied these verses

*Roma vnde, vidi, sicut est vidisse: vnde erat.
Quomodo meo meo extra, sicut in duero.*

Now farewell Rome, I haue thee scene: it was inough to see: I will returne when as I meane, band, harlot, knaue to be.

After a more secret kinde of meaning and vnderstanding. 14 Namely in his members, as also he said vnto Saul, Acts 9. 5. 15 That is, for three yeres and a halfe: for so many yeres Boniface liued after his lubile, as Bergomenus witnesseth.

16 So much the more shall they by this occasion exercise the iolity of their lubile. 17 The Gospel of Christ is the affliction of the world, and the ministry thereof, the fauour of death vnto death to those that perishe, 1. Cor. 2. 16.

*The authority of the late decrees being declared together with the necessity of that calling which was particularly imposed vpon S. Iohn, hereafter followeth the history of the estate of Christ his Church both conditione or warfaring, and overcoming in Christ. For both the true Church of Christ is sayde to fight against that which is falsely so called, ouer the which Antichrist ruleth, Christ Iesus ouerthrowing Antichrist by the spirit of his mouth: and Christ is sayde to overcome most gloriously vntill hee shall slay Antichrist by the apparance of his coming, as the Apostle excellently teacheth, 2. Thes. 2. 8. So this historie hath two parts: One of the state of the Church confiding with temptations vnto the 16. Chapter. The other of the state of the same Church obtaining victory, thence vnto the 18. Chapter. The first part hath two members most conveniently distributed into their times, whereof the first containeth an history of the Christian Church for 1260. yeres, whereto the Gospel of Christ was as it were taken vp from amongst men into heauen: the second containeth an historie of the same Church vnto the victory perfected. And these two members are briefly, though distinctly, propounded in this Chapter, but are both of them more at large discoursed after in due order. For we vnderstand the state of the Church confiding out of Chapters 12. and 13. and of the same growing out of afflictions, out of the 14. 15. and 16. Chapters. Neither did Saint Iohn at vnwares ioine together the history of these two times in this Chapter, because here is spoken of prophesie, which all cometh to bee but one iust and immutable in the Church, and which Christ commanded to be continuall. The historie of the former time reacheth vnto the 12. verse: the latter is set downe in the rest of this Chapter. In the former are shewed these things: the calling of the seruants of God in 4. verses: the conflicts which the faithful must vndergo in their calling, for Christ and his Church, thence vnto the 10. verse and their resurrection and receiving vp into heauen vnto the 14. verse. In the calling of the seruants of God are mentioned two things: the begetting and setting of the Church in two verses and the education thereof in two verses. The begetting of the Church is here commended vnto S. Iohn by signe and by speech: the signe is a measuring rod, and the speech a commandement to measure the Temple of God, that is, to reduce the same vnto a new forme: because the Gentiles are already entered into the Temple of Ierusalem, and shall shortly defile and ouerthrow the same vnto the 18. verse. 3 Either that of Ierusalem was a figure of the Church of Christ, as that heauenly example, whereof ver. 19. but the first liketh me better, and the things following do all agree thereunto. The sense therefore is, Thou seest all things in Gods house, almost from the passion of Christ to be disordered: and this not only the city of Ierusalem but also the court of the Temple is trampled vnder foot of the ratioules, and of prophane men whether Iewes or strangers: and that vnto the Temple, that is, the body of the Temple, with the altar, and a small company of good men which truly worship God, doe now remaine, whom God doeth liuifie and confirme by his presence. Measure therefore this euen, this true Church was in the true type of the true Church omitting the rest, and so describe all things from me that the true Church of Christ may be as it were a very little center, and the Church of Antichrist as the circle of the center, euery way in length and breadth compassing about the same, that by way of prophesie thou maiest fodeclare, that the state of the Temple of God and the faithful which worship him, in the Church, is much more straight then the Church of Antichrist. 3 As the should by it belongeth nothing vnto thee, to iudge those which are without, 1. Cor. 13. 12. which be innumerable: looke vnto those of the household only, or vnto the house of the liuing God. 4 He speaketh of the ouer court, which was called the peoples court, because all men might come in. 5 That is, counted to be cast out which in measuring refused as prophane. 6 To prophane persons wicked and vbelouers, aduersaries vnto the Church. 7 Or a thousand, two hundred & threescore dayes, as is said in the next verse: that is a thousand two hundred and threescore yeres, a day for a yere, as often in Ezekiel and Daniel, which thing I noted before. 8 The beginning of these thousand two hundredth and threescore yeres, were made of two one, Ephes. 2. 14. I say one focke vnder one shepherd, Ioh. 10. 16. and the end of these yeres precisely fallth into the Popedom of Boniface the 8th, who a little before the end of the yere of Christ a thousand two hundredth yeres, entered the Popedom of Rome, in the feast of S. Lucie (as Bergomenus sayth) having put in prison his predecessor Calistinus, whom by fraud, vnder colour of exile, hee deposed: for which cause, that was well said of him, Intrauit ut vniuersum populum in his mortuus esset vniuersum. That is, hee entered like a foxe, raiaged like a lion, and died like a dog. For if from a thousand two hundred ninety foure yeres thou take the age of Christ which he liued on the earth, thou shalt find there remaineth iust 1260. yeres, which are mentioned in this place and many others, I will rather translate it illud then illam, the temple then the citie: for God saith, I will giue that temple, and commit it vnto my two witnesses, that is vnto the ministers of the word, who are few indeed, weak and contemptible: but yet two, that liue both a member as one of them may helpe another, and one confirme the testimony of another vnto all men, that from the mouth of two or three witnesses euery word may be made good amongst men, 1. Cor. 13. 1.*

The Temple is commanded to be measured. 3 The Lord slayeth up two witnesses. 7 When the beast murdereth, 9 and shall be cast up to heaven. 11 God raiseth them to life, 12 and calleth them up to heaven. 13 The wicked are terrified 15 by the trumpets of the seventh Angel: there foretelling, 18 and judgement is described.

Then was given me a reede like vnto a rod, and the Angel stood by, saying, Rise and mete the Temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

But the Court which is without the temple I cast out, and mete it not: for it is given vnto the Gentiles, and the holy citie shall they tread vnder foot, two and forty moneths.

But I will giue power vnto my two wit-

The authoritie of the sacred relation being declared together with the necessity of this calling which was particularly imposed upon St. Iohn, hereafter followeth the history of the estate of Christ his Church both confiding or warfaring, and overcoming in Christ. For both the true Church of Christ is sayde to fight against that which is falsly so called, ouer the which Antichrist reuleth, Christ Iesus ouerthrowing Antichrist by the might of his spirit: and Christ is sayde to overcome most gloriously vntill hee shall slay Antichrist by the appearance of his coming, as the Apostle excellently teacheth, 2. Thes. 2. 8. So this historie hath two parts: One of the state of the Church confiding with temptations vnto the 16. Chapter. The other of the state of the same Church obtaining victorie, thence vnto the 20. Chapter. The first part hath two members most closely distributed vnto their times, whereof the first containeth an historie of the Christian Church for 1260. yeres, whar time the Gospel of Christ was as it were taken vp from amongst men into heauen: the second containeth an historie of the same Church vnto the victory perfected. And these two members are briefly, though diffusely, propounded in this Chapter, but are both of them more at large described after in due order. For we vnderstand the state of the Church confiding out of Chapters 11. and 12. and of the same growing out of afflictions, out of the 13. 14. and 15. Chapters. Neither did Saint Iohn at vntwaires ioine together the historie of these two times in this Chapter, because here is spoken of prophecy, which all cometh to bee but one iust and immutable in the Church, and which Christ commended to be continuall. The historie of the former time reacheth vnto the 12. verse: the latter is set downe in the rest of this Chapter. In the former are shewed three things: the calling of the seruants of God in 4. verses: the conflicts which the Church must vndergoe in their calling for Christ and his Church, thence vnto the 10. verse: and their resurrection and receiuing vp into heauen vnto the 14. verse. In the calling of the seruants of God are mentioned two things: the begetting and setting of the Church in two verses, and the education thereof in two verses. The begetting of the Church is here commended vnto S. Iohn by signe and by speech: the signe is a measuring rod, and the speech a commaundment to measure the Temple of God, that so to reduce the same vnto a new forme: because the Gentiles are already entered into the Temple of Ierusalem, and shall shortly defile and ouerthrow the same vnto the 15. verse. Either that of Ierusalem which was a figure of the Church of Christ, or that heauenly example, whereof verse 19. but the first liketh me better, and the things following do all agree therunto. The fence therefore is, Thou seest all things in Gods house, almost from the passion of Christ to be disordered: and that not only the city of Ierusalem but also the court of the Temple is trampled vnder foot of the ratioules, and of prophane men whether Iewes or strangers: and that way the Temple, that is, the body of the Temple, with the altar, and a small company of good men which truly worship God, doe now remaine, whom God doeth defend and confirme by his presence. Measure therefore this euen, this true Church we rather the true type of the true Church omitting the rest, and so describe all things from me that the true Church of Christ may be as it were a very little center, and the Church of Antichrist as the circle of the center, euery way in length and breadth compassing about the same, that by way of prophesie thou maiest so declare vnto the state of the Temple of God and the faithfull which worship him, that the Church, is much more strait then the Church of Antichrist. As the should say, it belongeth nothing vnto thee, to iudge those which are without, 1. Cor. 12. 2. which be innumerable: looke vnto those of the household only, or vnto the house of the liuing God. He speaketh of the outer court, which was called the peoples court, because all men might come: to that. But is counted to be cast out which in measuring is refused as prophane. 4 To prophane persons wicked and vnto beleeuers, adulterers vnto the Church. 5 Ora thousand, two hundred & threescore dayes, as is said in the next verse: that is a thousand two hundred and threescore yeres, a day for a yere, as often in Ezekiel and Daniel, which thing I noted before. 16. The beginning of these thousand two hundred and threescore yeres, we account from the passion of Christ, whereby (the partition wall being broken downe) we were made of two one, Ephes. 2. 14. I say one flocke vnder one shepherd, Ioh. 10. 16. and the end of these yeres precisely falleth into the Popedom of Boniface the eighth, who a little before the end of the yere of Christ a thousand two hundred and threescore yeres, entered the Popedom of Rome, in the feast of S. Lucie (as Bergomenus faith) having put in prison his predecessor Celestinus, whom by fraud, vnder colour of heretick, hee decouered: for which cause, that was well said of him, Interius vel vltimus pueri sui in mortuus est vbi canis. That is, hee entered like a foxe, raigned like a dog, and died like a dog. For if from a thousand two hundred ninety foure yeres thou shalt take the age of Christ which he liued on the earth, thou shalt find threescore and threescore yeres, which are mentioned in this place and many others. I had rather translate it illud then illam, the temple then the citie: for God faith, I will giue that temple, and commit it vnto my two witnesses, that is vnto the ministers of the word, who are few indeed, weak and contemptible: but yet two, that haue such a number as one of them may helpe another, and so confirme the testimony of another vnto all men, that from the mouth of two or three witnesses euery word may be made good amongst men, 1. king of France sent into Italy but with a very small power. 21 That is, the most griuous heat of afflictions & persecution shall stay for a while, for the great amaze when shall arise vpon that fudens and vnlooked for iudgement of God. 22 They were called by God into heauen & taken out of this malignant world, into the heauently Church, which also lieth hidden here in the earth, so exercit their calling secretly, so of whom this wretched world was vnworthy, Heb. 11. 38. For the Church of the iustified is by comparison called the earth or the world: 1. and the Church of the godly heauen. So in ancient time amongst the godly Israelites: so amongst the Iewes in the dayes of Manasses & other kings, when the earth refused the heires of heauen, we read that they lay hidden as heauen in the earth. 23 Yet could they not hinder the secret ones of the Lord, as the Psalmist called them, Ps. 83. 4) but that they went on forward in his worke. 24 Bergomenis faith, in the year of our Lord 1300, this yere a blasing starre foretelling great calamity to come, appeared in heauen: in which yere vpon the feast of S. Andrew, so great an earthquake arose, as never before, which also continuing by time for many daies, ouerthrew many lately buildes. This faith he of the yere next following the labile: which S. Iohn so many ages before, expressed well for vs. 25 They were in deed broken with pre-sente a bloudy death of mind, but did not carpselly repent as they ought to haue done.

26 Glorified Goddy court King in Rome. 27 He passeth vnto the second history: which is the second part of this Chapter. S. Iohn telleth these the second and third two hauing respect vnto Ch. 12. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. 9. 10. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100.

11 But after 12 three daies & an halfe, the spirit of life comming from God, shall enter into them, and they shall stand vp vpon their feete:
and great feare shall come vpon them which saw them.
12 And they shall heare a great voyce from heauen, saying vnto them, 21 Come vp hither.
And they shall ascend vp to heauen in a cloude,
22 and their enemies shall see them.
13 And the same houre shal there be a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the citie shall fall, and in the earthquake shalbe slaine in number seven thousand: & the remanent were sore feared, 23 and gaue glory to the God of heauen.
14 26 The second woe is past, and behold, the third woe will come anon.
15 27 And the seventh Angel blew the trumpet, & there were great voices in heauen, saying, 28 The kingdomes of the world are our Lords, and his Christs, and he shall reigne for euermore.
16 29 Then the foure and twenty Elders, which sate before God, on their seates, fell vpon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Saying, We giue thee thanks, Lord God almighty, Which art, and Which wast, and Which art to come: for thou hast receiued thy great might, and hast obtained thy kingdome.
18 30 And the Gentiles were angry, & thy wrath is come, & the time of the dead, that they should be iudged, & that thou shouldst giue reward vnto thy seruants y Prophets, & to the Saints, & to them that feare thy Name, to small and great, & shouldest destroy them, which destroy the earth.
19 Then the Temple of God was 31 opened in heauen, and there was seene in his Temple the Arke of his couenant: & there were lightnings, and voyces, and thundrings, and earthquake, and much haile.

sente a bloudy death of mind, but did not carpselly repent as they ought to haue done.

C. H. A. P. XII.
1 A woman, 2 approach travelling with child, 4 whole child the dragon would deuoure, 7 And Michael ouercometh him, 9 and casteth him out, 13 and the more he is cast downe and wounded, the more he will be exercised in his subtilities.
1 And there appeared a great wonder in heauen: 2 A woman clothed with the sun, and the moone was vnder her feet, and vpon her head a crowne of twelue starres.
3 And she was with child, and cried trauelling in birth, & was pained ready to be deliuered.
4 And there appeared another wonder in heauen: 4 for behold a great red dragon hauing 7 seuen heads, and ten 8 hornes, & seuen crownes vpon his heads:
5 And his taile drew the third part of the starres of heauen, & cast them to the earth. And the dragon 6 stood before the woman which was ready to be deliuered, 7 to deuoure her child, when she had brought it forth.
5 10 So he brought forth a man 11 child, which should rule all nations with a rod of yron: & that her child was take vnto God & to his throne.
6 12 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where shee hath a place prepared of God, that they should feede her there a thousand, two of the Christian Church we define to be from the first moment of the conception of Christ, vntill that time wherein this Church was as it were weined and taken away from the breast or milke of her mother: which is the time when the Church of the Iewes with their citie and Temple was ouerthrowne by the iudgement of God. So we haue in this chap. the story of 69 yeres and vpwards. The parts of this chapter are three. The first is the history of the conception and bearing in wombe, in 4 verses. The second, an history of the birth from the 5. ver. vnto the 12. The third, of the woman that had brought forth, vnto the end of the chapter. And these seuerall parts haue euery one their conflicts. Therefore in that first part are two things contained, one, the conception and bearing in wombe, in two verses: & another of the lying in waite of the Dragon against that should be brought forth in the next 2 verses. In the first point are these things, the description of the mother, verse 1. and the doctors of child birth, verse 2. all the wed vnto Iohn from heauen. 2 A type of the true holy Church which then was in the nation of the Iewes. This Church (as is the state of the holy Church Catholike) did in it selfe shine about with glory giuen of God, trod vnder teet mutability and changeableness, & possessed the kingdom of heauen as the heire thereof. 3 For this is that barren woman that brought not forth, of which Esa. 45. 1. & Gal. 4. 27. he cried out for good cause, and was iustified that time, when in the iudgement of all the seemed neere vnto death, & in maner ready to giue vp the ghost by reason of her weaknesse and poverty. 4 That is the deuill or Saran (as is declared ver. 9) mighty, angry & full of wrath. 5 Thereby to withstand those seuen Churches spoken of, that is the Catholike Church, and that with kingly iustitie and tyrannicall magnificence: signified by the crowne set vpon his heads, as if the same without controuersie belonged vnto him by the proper right: as also he looked vnto Christ, Mat. 4. 9. See also, vpon chap. 13. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. 9. 10. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100.

came man to

Daniel. Chap. 8.
In this verse a description of the battell: and the victory in the ten verses following. The first line might be taken to refer to this battell.
Philip 2. 6. 8.
and Paul Ephesians 4. 1. and Coloss. 2. 10.
11 The description of the victory by describing the things in this verse and by affirming the victory in the next verse. As that Satan gained nothing in heaven but was by the power of God
shewne downe into the world where he is the Prince. Christ hath his and his elect members standing still by the power of God.
12 They were cast out as that they were never first at any time in heaven.
13 The long of victory or triumph containing first a proposition of the glory of God and of Christ formed in the victory. Secondly, it containeth a revelation of the prophecy taken from the effects, as that the enemy is overcome in bat-tel, in this verse, and that the pulls are made conquerours (and more then conquerours, Rom. 8. 37.) verse 11.
Thirdly a conclusion
wherein is an exhortation vnto the Angels,
and to the Saints:
and vnto the world,
a prophesie of great miserie, and of destruction procured by the deuill against mankind, lest himselfe should shortly be miserable alone, ver. 12.
14 He is said in the Hebrew tongue
to lose his life,
that is, to lose his life: and on the other side,
he is said not to lose his life, who doth not to hazard, wherefore need requireth.
15 The third part is an historie of the woman deli-uered, consisting of two members,
the present battell of Satan against the Christian Church of the Iewish nation,
in foure verses:
and the battell intended against the seed thereof, that is against the Church of the Gentiles, which is called holy by reason of the Gospel of Christ in the two last verses. 16 That is, being strengthened with di-uine power: and taught by oracle,
the fled swiftly
from the assault of the deuill, and from the common destruction of Ierusalem, and went into a solitary Citie beyond Iorden called Pella, as Eusebius telleth in the first Chapter of the third booke of his Ecclesiasticall historie: which place God had commanded her by Revelation.
17 Into that place which God had appointed for her.
18 That is,
for three yeeres
and a halfe: so the same speech is taken Dan. 7. 25.
This space of time is reckoned in manner from that last & most griuous rebellion of the Iewes,
the destruction of the Citie and Temple, for their defection or falling away, began in the twelfth yeere of Nero, before the beginning whereof, many foreignes and predictions were shewed from heauen,
as Ioseph writeth,
lib. 7. cap. 11. &
Hegesippus lib.
5. cap. 44. among it which this is very memorabile,
then in the feall of Pentera not only a great sound & noise was heard in the Temple, but also a voice was heard of many out of the Sanctuary which cried out vnto al, Let vs depart hence.
Now three yeeres and a halfe after this defection was begun of the Iewes, and those wonders happened, the Citie was taken by force, the Temple ouerthrown, and the place forsaken of God: and this compass of time
Saint Iohn noted in this place.
19 That is, he encompassed the Romanes and nations, that they persecuting the Iewish people with cruel armes, might by the same occasion inuaide the Church of Christ, now departed from Ierusalem & out of Iudea.
For it is an usual thing in Scripture, that the raging tumults of the nations should be compared vnto waters. 21 That is, there was offered in their place other Iewes, vnto the Romanes & nations raging against that people: & so came to passe thereby that the Church of God was auoid whole from that violence, that most raging flood of persecution which the Dragon vnto being almost spent in the destruction of those other Iewes.

hundredth and threescore dayes.

And there was a great battell in heauen, Michael and his Angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon fought and his angels.

But they preuailed not, neither was their place found any more in heauen.

And the great dragon, that olde serpent, called the deuill and Satan, was cast out, which deceiueth all the world: hee was cast into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

Then I heard a loud voice in heauen, saying, Now is saluation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, which accused them before our God day and night.

But they overcame him by that blood of the Lambe, and by the worde of their testimony, and they loued not their liues vnto the death.

Therefore reioice, ye heauens, and yee that dwell in them. Woe to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuill is come downe vnto you, which hath great wrath, knowing that he hath but a short time.

And when the dragon saw that hee was cast vnto the earth, hee persecuted the woman which had brought forth the man child.

But to the woman were giuen two wings of a great Eagle, that shee might flie into the wilderness, into her place where shee is nourished for a time, and times, and halfe a time, from the presence of the serpent.

And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman, like a flood, that hee might cause her to bee caried away of the flood.

But the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed vp the flood, which the dragon had cast out of his mouth.

16. 21 But the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed vp the flood, which the dragon had cast out of his mouth.

Then the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the remnant of her seed, which keepe the commandments of God, and haue the testimonie of Iesus Christ.

And I stood on the sea sand.

Church of the Iewish remnant was come to nought, he resolved to fall vpon her seed, that is, the Church gathered also by God of the Gentiles, and the holy members of the same. And this is that other branch, as I said vpon the 13. ver. in which the purpose of Saints is shewed, verse 17. and his attempt, verse 18. 23 That is, as a most mightie tempest, that he rushed vpon the whole world (whose prince he is) to raise the floods and prouoke the nations, that they might with their furious bellows tosse vp and downe, drue here and there, and finally destroy the Church of Christ with the holy members of the same. But the providence of God resisted his attempt, that he might fauour the Church of the Gentiles, yet tender and as it were Greene. The rest of this story of the Dragon is excellently profected by the Apostle S. Iohn hereafter in the twentieth Chapter. For here the Dragon endeavouring to doe mischief, was by God cast into prison.

CHAP. XIII.

The beast with many heads is described, 12 which draweth the most part of the world to idolatrie, 11 The other beast rising out of the earth, 15 giueth power vnto him.

And I sawe a beast rise out of the sea, hauing seuen heads, and ten hornes, and vpon his head the name of blasphemie.

And the beast which I sawe was taken her beginning, doeth now passe vnto the story of the progresse thereof, as I shewed in the entrance of the former Chapter. And this historie of the progresse of the Church and the battell thereof, is set downe in this Chapter, but distinctly in two parts, one is of the small Roman Empire, vnto the tenth verse. Another of the body Ecclesiasticall or prophetically, thence vnto the ende of the Chapter. In the former part are shewed these things: First the state of that Empire, in foure verses: then the actes thereof in three verses: after the effraie: which is exceeding great glory, verse 8. And last of all is commended the vfe: and the instruction of the godly against the euils that shall come from the same, ver. 9. 10. The historie of the state, containeth a most ample description of the beast, first entire, verse 1, 2, and then restored after hurr, ver. 3, 4. 2 On the face whereof stood the deuill practising new tempests against the Church, in the verse next before going: what time the Empire of Rome was endangered by domesticall dissensions, & was mightily tossed, hauing euer and anon new heads and new Emperours. See in the seuenteenth chapter and the eight verse. 3 Hauing the same instruments of power, providence, and most expert government which the Dragon is said to haue had in the twelfth Chapter and in the third verse. 4 We read in the twelfth Chapter and third verse, that the Dragon had seuen crownes set vpon seuen heads: because the thiefe auoucheth himselfe to bee proper lord and prince of the world, but this beast is said to haue ten crownes set vpon seuerall, not heads but hornes: because the beast is beholde for all vnto the Dragon verse 2. & doth not otherwise raigne, then by lawe of subiection giuen by him, namely, that hee employ his hornes against the Church of God. The speech is taken from the ancient custome & forme of dealing in such case: by which they that were absolute kings did weare the diademe vpon their heads: but their vassals and such as raigned by grace from them, wore the same vpon their hoods: for so they might commodiously lay down their diademes when they came into the presence of their Soueraignes, as also the Elders are said, when they adored God which lay vpon the throne, to haue call done their crownes before him, Chap. 4. verse 10. 5 Contrary to that which God of olde commanded should be written in the head peece of the hie Priest, that is, Sanctitas, Iehoue, Holinesse vnto the Lord. The name of blasphemie imposed by the Dragon, is (as I thinke) that which S. Paul saith in the second Chapter of his second Epistle to the Thessalonians, the fourth verse, He sitteth as God, and healeth himselfe to bee God. For this name of blasphemie both the Roman Emperours did then challenge vnto themselves, as Suetonius and Dion doe report of Caligula and Domitian: and after them the Popes of Rome did with full mouth prolesse the same of themselves, when they challenged vnto themselves soueraignty in holy things: of which kind of sayings the first booke of the Decretals, the Clementines and the Extraneants, are very full. For these men were not content with that which Anglicus wrote in his Poetria (the beginning whereof is Papa super montes, The Pope is the wonder of the world) Nec Deus, nec homo, sed vniuersus inter vniuersos. Thou art not God, ne art thou man, but neuter mixt of both: as the glorie witnesseth vpon the sixt booke: But they were bold to take vnto themselves the very name of God, & to accept it giuen of other according as almost an hundred & twentie yeeres since there was made for Sixtus the fourth, when he should first enter into Rome in his dignitie Papall, a Pageant of triumph and cunningly fixed vpon the gate of the citie he should enter at, hauing written vpon it this blasphemous verse:

Oraculo vocis mundi moderari habenas,
Et merito in terris crederi esse Deum.

By oracle of thine owne voice the world thou govern'st all,
And worthily a God on earth, men thinke and doe thee call.

These six hundred the like who can impute vnto that modestly whereby good men of old would haue themselves called the seruants of the seruants of God? Verely either this is a name of blasphemie, or there is none at all.

6 Swift as the Leopard, easily clapping at things as the beere doeth with his spore, and tearing and devouring all things with the mouth as doth the Lion.

7 That is, he lent the same unto the beast toyle, when he perceived that himselfe could not escape, but must needs be taken by the hand of the Angel, and cast into the bottomless pit, Chapter 10. yet did not he abandon the same utterly from himselfe, but that he might use it as long as he could.

8 This is the other place, where appeareth to the beholder, that the beast is not a new creature, but a continuance of the same.

9 The beast is not a new creature, but a continuance of the same. The Empire which was shadowed in the two former verses, there was shadowed in this.

10 The beast is not a new creature, but a continuance of the same. The Empire which was shadowed in the two former verses, there was shadowed in this. The beast is not a new creature, but a continuance of the same. The Empire which was shadowed in the two former verses, there was shadowed in this.

11 That is, the holy Church, the true house of the living God. 12 That is, the godly in general who hid themselves from his cruelty. For this bloody beast (charged with the holy spirit) most fully with innumerable accusations for the Name of Christ as we read in Tertullian, Tertullian, Arnobius, Minutius, Eusebius, Augustine, & others: which examples the latter times followed most diligently, in destroying the Name of Christ: and we in our own memorie have found by experience, to our irreparable griefe. Concerning heauen, see in the eleventh Chapter and in the twelfth verse.

13 That is, such as are not from everlasting created in Christ Jesus. For this is that Lambe slain, of which Chapter 12. the 14. verse the text. These words I doe with Arctas, distinguish in this manner: Whose names are not written from the laying of the foundation of the world in the booke of life of the Lambe slain. And this distinction is confirmed by a like place hereafter, Chapter 13. the 8. verse. The conclusion of this speech of the first beast, consisting of two parts: the exposition of the true nature, in this verse, and a foretelling which partly sheweth the ending of the wicked, and partly comforts for those which in patience and faith shall abide for the glorious coming of our Lord and Saviour Christ, verse the tenth.

like a Leopard, and his feete like a beares, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: & the dragon gaue him his power and his throne, and great authoritie.

And I sawe one of his heads as it were wounded to death, but his deadly wound was healed, and all the world wondered and followed the beast.

And they worshipped the dragon which gaue the power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like vnto the beast? who is able to warre with him?

And there was giuen vnto him a mouth, that spake great things and blasphemies, and power was giuen vnto him, to doe two and fourtie moneths.

And hee opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God to blasphemie his Name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

And it was giuen to him to make warre with the Saints, and to overcome them, and power was giuen him ouer euery kinred, and tongue, and nation.

Therefore all that dwell vpon the earth, shall worship him: whose names are not written in the booke of life of that Lambe, which was slain from the beginning of the world.

And if any man shall beare, let him beare.

If any leade into captiuitie, hee shall goe into captiuitie: if any man kill with a sword, hee must be killed by a sword: here is the patience and the faith of the Saints.

The first member of this verse, vnto death, and was healed againe, as from heauen, is the figure of all men. This head was Nero the Emperour, in whom the rage of the Cesar fell. From the imperiall dignitie, and the government of the Common weale was translated vnto others: in whose handes the Empire was soe euer and returned vnto heauen, as hee seemed vnto all so much the more deeply rooted & grounded fast then euer before. And hence followed those effects, which are next spoken of. The first, admiration of certain power, as it were, sacred and divine, insomuch that hee was adored and governing it: Secondly, the obedience & submission of the whole world: Thirdly, the adoration of the Dragon, and most wicked worshipping of deities, confirmed by the Roman Emperours: Lastly, the adoration of the beast himselfe, which grew into a great estimation as that both the name and worship of a God was giuen vnto him, verse the fourth. Now there were two causes which brought in the minds of men this religion: the shew of excellencie, which bringeth with it reuerence: and the shew of power insensible, which bringeth feare. Who is like (say they) vnto the beast? Who shall be able to fight with him? 9 The second member containing an historie of the adoration of the beast, as I said verse 8. The historie of them is concluded in two points, the beginning and the manner of them. The beginning is the gift of the Dragon, who put into the beast both his impiety against God, and his inhumanitie and cruelty against all men, especially against the godly and those that were of the household of faith, verse the first. The manner of the adoration or actions done, is of two sorts, both impious in mnde, and blasphemous in speech against God, his Church and the godly, verse the six: and also most cruell and inuolent in deeds, even such as were done of mortraging enemies, and of most insolent and proude conquerours, verse the seventh.

Namely his actions and manner of dealing. As concerning those two and fourtie moneths, I have spoken of them before in the twelfth Chapter, and second verse.

That is, the holy Church, the true house of the living God. 12 That is, the godly in general who hid themselves from his cruelty. For this bloody beast (charged with the holy spirit) most fully with innumerable accusations for the Name of Christ as we read in Tertullian, Tertullian, Arnobius, Minutius, Eusebius, Augustine, & others: which examples the latter times followed most diligently, in destroying the Name of Christ: and we in our own memorie have found by experience, to our irreparable griefe. Concerning heauen, see in the eleventh Chapter and in the twelfth verse.

And I behelde another beast coming vp out of the earth, which had two hornes like the Lambe, but he spake like the dragon.

And he did all that the first beast could do before him, and he caused the earth, and them which dwell therein, to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

And he did great wonders, so that hee made fire to come downe from heauen on the earth, in the sight of men.

And deceiued them that dwell on the earth by the signes, which were permitted him to do in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make the image of the beast which had the wound of a sword, and did liue.

And it was permitted to him to giue a spirit vnto the image of the beast, so that the bed in this verse, there his acts in the verses following: and the whole speech is concluded in the last verse, 13. his beast is by his breed a sonne of the earth (as they say) obsequiously borne, and by little & little creeping vp out of his abject state. 15 That is, in shew he resembled the Lambe (for what is more mild or more humble then to be the servant of the servants of God) but indeed he played the part of the Dragon and of the Wolfe, Math. 7. 15. For euen Satan changed himselfe into an Angel of light, 2 Cor. 11. 14. and what should his honest disciples and seruants do? 17 The historie of the acts of this beast containeth in summe three things, hypocrisie, the witness of miracles, and tyrannie: of which the first is noted in this verse, the second in the three verses following: the third in the sixteenth & seventeenth verses. His hypocrisie is most full of leasing, whereby hee abused both the former beast and the whole world: in that albeit hee hath by his cunning, as it were by lime, made of the former beast a most miserable and a very anatomic, vsurped all his authoritie vnto himselfe & most impudently exercised the same in the fight and view of him: yet hee caried himselfe so, as if hee honoured him with most high honour, & did in very good truth cause him to be reuerenced of all men. 18 For vnto this beast of Rome, which of a ciuill Empire is made an Ecclesiasticall hierarchie, are giuen diuine honours: and diuine authoritie: so farre, as he is beleued to be about the Scriptures, which the gloffe vpon the Decretals declareth by this deuillish verse.

Articular solutio, synodiceque facti generalem. THAT IS,

Hee changeth the Articles of faith, and giveth authority to general Councils.

Which is spoken of the Papall power. So the beast is by birth, foundation, seat, and essentially substance, one: onely the Pope hath altered the forme and manner thereof, being himselfe the head, both of that tyrannicall Empire, and also of the false prophets: for the Empire hath hee taken vnto himselfe, and thereunto hath added this cunning deule. Now these words, whose deadly wound was cured, are put here for dissimulation sake, as alio sometimes afterwarde: that euen at that time the godly readers of this prophesie might by this signe be brought to see the thing as present: as if it were said, that they might adore this very Empire that now is, whose head we haue seene in our owne memorie to haue bin cured, & to be cured againe. 19 The second point of the things done by the beast, is the credite of great wonders or miracles, and appertaining to the strengthening of this impietie: of which figures some were giuen from above, as it is said, therefore was sent downe from heauen by false sorcerie, in this verse. Others were shewed here below in the fight of the beast, to establish idolatrie, and deceiue soules which part 3. John setteth forth, beginning (as they say) at that which is last, in this manner: First the effect is declared in these words, Hee deceiue the inhabitants of the earth. Secondly, the common manner of working in two sorts: one of miracles, For the signes which were giuen him to doe in the presence of the beast: the other of the words added to the signes, & teaching the idolatrie by those signes, saying vnto the inhabitants of the earth, that they should make an image vnto the beast, which was cured. Thirdly a special manner is declared: That it is giuen vnto him to put life into the image of the beast: and that such a kind of quickening that the same both speaketh by answer vnto those that aske counsell of it, & also pronounceth death against all those that doe not obey nor worship it: all which things oftentimes by false miracles through the procurement & inspiration of the Deuill, haue bin effected and wrought in images. The histories of the Papists are full of examples of such miracles, the most of them fained, many also done by the deuil in images, as of old in the Serpent, Gen. 3. 1. By which examples is confirmed, not the authoritie of the beast, but the truth of God and the prophesies. 20 That is, images, by number or change of the number: for the worship of them euer since the second Councell of Nice, hath bene ordained in the Church by public credit and authoritie, contrary vnto the Law of God. 21 In the Greeke the word is of the Darfene case, as much to say, as vnto the worship, honour, & obeying of the beast: for by this maintenance of images, this pseudo propheticall beast doth mightily profit the beast of Rome, of whom long agoe hee receiued them. Wherefore the same is hereafter very fully called the image of the beast, for that images haue their beginning from the beast and haue their forme or manner from the will of the beast, and haue their end & use fixed in the profit and commoditie of the beast. 22 And of this miracle of the images of the beast, that is, which the beast hath ordained to establish idolatrie, which miraculously speak of fine indgment, or rather manifestly by the fraud of the false prophets, the Papists books are full fraughted.

To giue life, in Images and Images or Images of the beast, that is, of the beast, which is the image of the beast.

15 The second member of the vision, concerning the ecclesiasticall dominion, which in Rome succeeded that which was politique, and is in the power of the corporation of false prophets, and of the lovers of false doctrine. Wherefore the same beast, and the body or corporation is called of S. Iohn by the name of false prophet, Chap. 16. ver. 13 and 19. ver. 20. The forme of this beast is first defined.

16 The whole speech is concluded in the last verse, 13. his beast is by his breed a sonne of the earth (as they say) obsequiously borne, and by little & little creeping vp out of his abject state. 15 That is, in shew he resembled the Lambe (for what is more mild or more humble then to be the servant of the servants of God) but indeed he played the part of the Dragon and of the Wolfe, Math. 7. 15. For euen Satan changed himselfe into an Angel of light, 2 Cor. 11. 14. and what should his honest disciples and seruants do? 17 The historie of the acts of this beast containeth in summe three things, hypocrisie, the witness of miracles, and tyrannie: of which the first is noted in this verse, the second in the three verses following: the third in the sixteenth & seventeenth verses. His hypocrisie is most full of leasing, whereby hee abused both the former beast and the whole world: in that albeit hee hath by his cunning, as it were by lime, made of the former beast a most miserable and a very anatomic, vsurped all his authoritie vnto himselfe & most impudently exercised the same in the fight and view of him: yet hee caried himselfe so, as if hee honoured him with most high honour, & did in very good truth cause him to be reuerenced of all men. 18 For vnto this beast of Rome, which of a ciuill Empire is made an Ecclesiasticall hierarchie, are giuen diuine honours: and diuine authoritie: so farre, as he is beleued to be about the Scriptures, which the gloffe vpon the Decretals declareth by this deuillish verse.

To giue life, in Images and Images or Images of the beast, that is, of the beast, which is the image of the beast.

image of the beast should speake, & should cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed.

16 And he made all, both small and great, rich and poore, free and bond, to receive a marke in their right hande or in their foreheads,

17 And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the marke or the name of the beast or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisdom. Let him that hath wit, count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man, and his number is fixe hundredth threescore and fixe.

21 The third place, is a most wicked and most unchristianly avowall by the four persons of men in this world, who under their goods and riches, and in the next verse, for he is called to bring vponal persons a tyrannous severed, as a bond slave they might serve the beast; also so to exercise over all their goods and riches, a pedler like abuse of indulgences and dispensations (as they terme them) amongst their friends & against others, to vse most violent laterations, and to shoot out curfings, even in small and small, private and publick occasions, wherein all good faith ought to have place. 24 That is, their Chrisme, by which in the Sacrament (as they call it) of Confirmation, they make seuerall vnto themselves the persons & doings of men signing them in their forehead & hands; and as for the signe left by Christ (Of which chapter 7.3) and the holy Sacrament of Baptisme they make avoid. For whis Christ hath joynd vnto himself by Baptisme this beast might challenge vnto them by his greasie Chrisme, which he doth not to preclude before Baptisme, both in authoritie and efficacy. 25 The mark of the name of the beast. 25 That is, have any trafficke or entercourse with men, but they only which have this anoynting and consecration of Clearlyly confesse, as they call it. Beate Graian di Consecratione, distict. 3. c. omnes. cap. spiritus. etc. of these matters. 26 Here the false prophets do require three things, which are set downe in the order of their greatness, a character, a name & the number of the name. The meaning is, that man that hath not their first anoynting and clerical tonsure or shining, should by holy oaths, by receiving wherof is communicated the name of the beast, finally hath not attained that high degree of Pontificall knowledge, and of the Law (as they call it) Canonically, & hath not as it were made vp in account and call the number of the mysteries thereof: for in these things consisteth the number of the name of the beast. And this is excellently set forth in the next verse. 27 That is, in this number of the beast consisteth that Popish wisdom, which vnto them is the greatest of all others. In these words S. Iohn expoundeth that saying which went before of the number of the beast, what it hath about his mishe or cognisance, and his name. These things, saith S. Iohn, the marke and the name of the beast, doe easily happen vnto any man, but to have the number of the beast, is wisdom, that is, ouerly the wife and such as haue vnderstanding, come by that number: for they must be most illuminate doctours that attaine thereto, as the words following doe declare. 28 How great and of what demonstration this number of the beast is, by which the beast accounteth his wisdom, S. Iohn declareth in these wordes, Doe thou demand how great it is? it is so great, that it occupieth the whole man: he is alway learning, & neuer cometh to the knowledge thereof: he must be a man in deed that doth attaine vnto it. As he that is of that denomination is it verely it standeth of fixe throughout, & perfectly visible in all the parts thereof in their severall denominations (as they terme them) it standeth of fixe by vanities, tens, hundreds, &c. so as there is no one part in the learning and order Pontificall, which is not either referred vnto the head, & as it were the top thereof, or contained in the same: so fitly do all things in this hierarchy agree one with another, and with their head. I therefore that cruel beast Boniface the eighth doth commend by the number of fixe those Decretals which he persecuted in the proce of the first booke. Which booke (saith he) being to be added vnto another booke of fixe (same volume of Decretals, we thought good to name Sextum the first & the same volume by addition thereof, containing a senarie, or the number of fixe booke (which is a number perfect) may yeide a perfect forme of maner, altho, and perfect discipline of beatus. Here therefore is the number of the beast, who powereth & on himselfe all his parts, & bringeth them all backe againe vnto himselfe by his discipline in most wise and cunning manner. If any man desire more of this, let him read the gloss vpon that place. I am not ignorant that other interpretations are brought vpon this place: but I thought it my due tie, with the good favour of all, and without the offence of any, to propound mine opinion in this point. And for this cause especially, for that it seemed vnto me neither profitable nor like to be true, that the number of the beast, or of the name of the beast should be taken as the common sort of interpreters doe take it. For this number of the beast, which is given out, importeth, as a publicke marke of such as be his, and cleareth that marke about all others, as the marke of them whom he loveth best. Now these other explications seem rather to be removed late from this proper condition of the number whether you respect the name Latinus, or Trium, or any other. For these the beast doth not teach, nor give forth, nor imprint, but most diligently forbiddeth to be taught, and audaciously denyeth: he approoveth neither, but reprooveth them; and hateth them that thinke so of this number, with a hatred greater then that of Paritius.

CHAP. XIII.

3 The Lambe standeth on mount Sion, 4 with his chaste worshippers. 5 One Angel preacheth the Gospel. 6 Another foretelleth the fall of Babylon: 7 the third warneth sheweth the beast to be avoided. 13 A voice from heaven pronounceth them happy, who dye in the Lord. 16 The Lords flock is brought into the harvest, 18 and into the vintage.

Then I looked, and loe, a Lambe stood on mount Sion, and with him an hundred, fourtie and four thousand, having his Fathers Name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen as the sound of many waters, and as the sound of a great thunder: and I heard the voyce of harpers, harping with their harpes.

3 And they sing as it were a new song before the throne, and before the foure beastes, and the Elders: and no man could learne that song, but the hundred, fourtie and foure thousand, which were bought from the earth.

4 These are they which are not defiled with women: for they are virgins: these follow the Lambe whithersoever he goeth: these are bought from men, being the first fruits vnto God, and to the Lambe.

5 And in their mouths was found no guile: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

6 Then I saw another Angel fly in the mids of heave, having an euerglasting Gospel to preach vnto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kinred, and tongue, and people,

7 Saying with a loude voyce Feare God, & give glory to him: for the hour of his iudgement is come: & worship him that made heaven and earth, and the sea and the fountaines of waters,

8 And there followed another Angel, saying, Babylon that great citie is fallen, it is fallen: for shee made all nations to drinke of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third Angel followed them, saying with a loud voyce, If any man worship the

1 The historie of the Church of Christ being finished for more then a thousand and three hundred yeres at which time Boniface the eighth lived as before hath bene said: there remaineth the rest of the historie of the conficting or militant Church, from thence vnto the time of the last victorie in three chapters. For first of all, as the foundation of the whole historie, is described the standing of the lambe with his armie & retinue in five verses, after his worthy aduise which he hath done, & yet doth in most mightie manner, whilst hee ouerthroweth Antichrist w the spirit of his mouth, in the rest of this chapter and in the two following. Vnto the description of the Lambe, are propounded three things, his situation, place and attendance: for the rest are expounded in the former visions, especially vpon the fifth chapter. 2 As ready girt to do his office (as actus. 56.) in the midst of the Church, which aforetime mount Sion did prefigure. 3 As before 7.2. This retinue of the Lambe is described first by diuine marke (as before 7.2. in this verse. Then by diuine occupation, in that all & every one in his retinue most vehemently & sweetly (verf. 2.) do glorify the Lambe w a special song before God and his elect Angels: which song flesh and blood cannot heare, nor vnderstand, verf. 3. Lastly by their deeds done before, and their sanctification in they were virgins, pure from spirittual & bodily fornication, that is, from impietie & vnrighteousnes. they followed the Lambe as a guide vnto all goodnesse, & cleaued vnto him: that they are holy vnto him, as of grace redeemed by him: in truth and in simplicity of Christ, they haue exercised all these things, sanctimony of life, & direction of the Lambe, a thankfull remembrance of the redemption by him: finally (to conclude in a word) they are blameless before the Lord, verf. 4. 5. The other part (as I said on first verf.) of the acts of the Lambe, & manner wherof is deliuered in two sorts, of his speech, & of his facts. His speeches are set forth vnto 13. verf. of this chapter, & his facts vnto the 14. chapter. In speech of the Lambe, which is 3 word of the Gospel, are taught in this place, the thing they the service of Godly consoling inwardly of reuerence towards God, & outwardly of glorifying of him: the visible signe of which is adoration, verf. 7. The overthrowing of wicked Babylon, verf. 18. and the fall of every one of the vngodly which worship the beast, verf. 9, 10, 11. Finally, the state of holy seruants of God both present verf. 11. and to come, most blessed, according to the promise of God, verf. 13. 3 This Angel is a type or figure of the good and faithfull seruants of God, whom God especially from that time of Boniface the eighth, hath raised vp to publishing of the Gospel of Christ, both by preaching and by writing. So God first, neere vnto the time of the same Boniface, vnto Peter Calsedorus an Italian: after, Arnold de villa noua a French man, then Ockā, Dante, Petrarch, after Jobannes de rupe casta, a Franciscan: after again, Iohn Wickliffe an Englishman, & so continually one or another vnto the restoring of the truth, and enlarging of his Church. 6 That is, Babylon is destroyed by the sentence & iudgement of God: the execution wherof S. Iohn describeth chap. 18. And this voice of the ministers of Christ hath continued since the time that Babylon (which is Rome) hath by deliberate counsell & manifest malice oppugned the light of the Gospel offered from God. P. ad. 1.45.6. & Mt. 14. 15. 11. 21. 9. iere. 51.8. chap. 18.2. a Of her fornication, w: craby God was pronounced to wrath. 7 That is, shall not worship God alone, but shall transfere his diuine honour vnto this beast, whether he doe it with his heart or counterfeiting in shew. For he (saith Christ) that denieth me before men, him will I denie before my Father & his Angels, Mat. 10. 32. And this is that voyce of the holy ministry, which at this time is very much vfed of & by holy & faithfull seruants of God. For hauing now sufficiently found out the publicke obfuscity of Babylon, they labor not any longer to thunder out against the same: but to save some particular members by terror (as Jude speaketh) & to pluck them out of the publicke flame, or els by vehement commiseration of their estate to lead the way they set before them eternal death, into which they rush vnto warre, unless in good time they returne vnto God, but Godly we are of their own flock, they exhort vnto patience, obedience, & faith in the Lord Iesus, & charge the to give light by their good example, of good life vnto others, a

beast and his image, and receiue his marke in his forehead, or on his hand,

10 The same shall drinke of the wine of the wrath of God, yea, of the pure wine, which is poured into the cup of his wrath, and he shall be tormented in fire and brimstone before the holy Angels, and before the Lambe.

11 And the smoke of their torment shall ascend euermore: and they shall haue no rest day nor night, which worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiue the print of his name.

12 ⁸ Here is the patience of Saints: here are they that keepe the comandements of God, and the faith of Iesus.

13 Then I heard a voice from heauen, saying vnto mee, Write, The dead which die ^b in the Lord, are fully blessed. Euen so saith the Spirit: for they rest from their labours, and their works follow them.

14 ⁹ And I looked, and behold, ¹⁰ a white cloud, and vpon the cloud one sitting like vnto the Sonne of man, ¹¹ hauing on his head a golden crowne, and in his hand a ¹² sharpe sickle.

15 ¹³ And another Angel came out of the Temple, crying with a loude voyce to him that sat on the cloude, ¹⁴ Thrust in thy sickle and reape: for the time is come to reape: for the harvest of the earth is ripe.

16 And hee ¹⁵ thrust in his sickle on the cloude, thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 ¹⁴ Then another Angel came out of the Temple, which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle.

18 And another Angel came out from the altar, which had power ouer fire, and cryed with a loude cry to him that had the sharpe sickle, and sayd, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyarde of the earth: for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the Angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut down the vines of the vineyarde of the earth, and cast them into that great winepresse of the wrath of God.

20 And the winepresse was troden without the citie, ²¹ and blood came out of the winepresse vnto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and sixe hundred furlongs.

8 The patience, sanctification, and iustification by faith: the consequence whereof are, rest, felicitie and glory eternall, in the heauenly fellowship of God and his Angels.

9 The second part of this Chapter, as I sayde verse 10. Of the acts and doings of Christ in overthrowing of Antichrist and his Church by the Spirit of his diuine mouth: seeing that hauing bene called backe by worde both publickly and privately vnto his due tie and admonished of his most certaine iudgement: he yet ceaseth not to maintaine and protect his owne adherents, that they may doe him seruice and to assist the godly with most barbarous persecutions. Of those things which Christ doeth, there are two kinde: one common or generall in the rest of this chapter, another particular against that sauege and rebellious beast and his worshippers in the 15. and 16. chapters. That common kinde, is the calamitie of wars, spread abroad through the whole earth, and filling all things with blood, and that without respect of any person. This is figured or shadowed out in two types, of the harvest and vintage. Since the time that the light of the Gospel began to shine out, and since prophetic or preaching by the grace of God was raised vp againe, how horrible warres haue bene kindled in the world? how much humane flesh hath bene thrown to the earth by this diuine reaping? how much blood (alas for woe) hath ouerflowen for these hundred yeres almost all histories doe cry out, and this our age (if euer before) is now in horror, by reason of the rage of that sickle which Antichrist calleth for. In this place is the first type, i. of the harvest. 10 Declaring his fiercenesse by his colour, like vnto that which is in the white or milke circkle of heauen, ^b That is, first the Lord. ^c By works he meaneth the reward which followeth good works. 11 As one that shall reigne ouer God, and occupie the place of Christ in this miserable execution. 12 I haue a most fit and commodious instrument of execution, destroying all by heuing and thrusting through, for who may stand against God? ¹³ ¹⁴ ¹⁵ ¹⁶ ¹⁷ ¹⁸ ¹⁹ ²⁰ ²¹ ²² ²³ ²⁴ ²⁵ ²⁶ ²⁷ ²⁸ ²⁹ ³⁰ ³¹ ³² ³³ ³⁴ ³⁵ ³⁶ ³⁷ ³⁸ ³⁹ ⁴⁰ ⁴¹ ⁴² ⁴³ ⁴⁴ ⁴⁵ ⁴⁶ ⁴⁷ ⁴⁸ ⁴⁹ ⁵⁰ ⁵¹ ⁵² ⁵³ ⁵⁴ ⁵⁵ ⁵⁶ ⁵⁷ ⁵⁸ ⁵⁹ ⁶⁰ ⁶¹ ⁶² ⁶³ ⁶⁴ ⁶⁵ ⁶⁶ ⁶⁷ ⁶⁸ ⁶⁹ ⁷⁰ ⁷¹ ⁷² ⁷³ ⁷⁴ ⁷⁵ ⁷⁶ ⁷⁷ ⁷⁸ ⁷⁹ ⁸⁰ ⁸¹ ⁸² ⁸³ ⁸⁴ ⁸⁵ ⁸⁶ ⁸⁷ ⁸⁸ ⁸⁹ ⁹⁰ ⁹¹ ⁹² ⁹³ ⁹⁴ ⁹⁵ ⁹⁶ ⁹⁷ ⁹⁸ ⁹⁹ ¹⁰⁰ ¹⁰¹ ¹⁰² ¹⁰³ ¹⁰⁴ ¹⁰⁵ ¹⁰⁶ ¹⁰⁷ ¹⁰⁸ ¹⁰⁹ ¹¹⁰ ¹¹¹ ¹¹² ¹¹³ ¹¹⁴ ¹¹⁵ ¹¹⁶ ¹¹⁷ ¹¹⁸ ¹¹⁹ ¹²⁰ ¹²¹ ¹²² ¹²³ ¹²⁴ ¹²⁵ ¹²⁶ ¹²⁷ ¹²⁸ ¹²⁹ ¹³⁰ ¹³¹ ¹³² ¹³³ ¹³⁴ ¹³⁵ ¹³⁶ ¹³⁷ ¹³⁸ ¹³⁹ ¹⁴⁰ ¹⁴¹ ¹⁴² ¹⁴³ ¹⁴⁴ ¹⁴⁵ ¹⁴⁶ ¹⁴⁷ ¹⁴⁸ ¹⁴⁹ ¹⁵⁰ ¹⁵¹ ¹⁵² ¹⁵³ ¹⁵⁴ ¹⁵⁵ ¹⁵⁶ ¹⁵⁷ ¹⁵⁸ ¹⁵⁹ ¹⁶⁰ ¹⁶¹ ¹⁶² ¹⁶³ ¹⁶⁴ ¹⁶⁵ ¹⁶⁶ ¹⁶⁷ ¹⁶⁸ ¹⁶⁹ ¹⁷⁰ ¹⁷¹ ¹⁷² ¹⁷³ ¹⁷⁴ ¹⁷⁵ ¹⁷⁶ ¹⁷⁷ ¹⁷⁸ ¹⁷⁹ ¹⁸⁰ ¹⁸¹ ¹⁸² ¹⁸³ ¹⁸⁴ ¹⁸⁵ ¹⁸⁶ ¹⁸⁷ ¹⁸⁸ ¹⁸⁹ ¹⁹⁰ ¹⁹¹ ¹⁹² ¹⁹³ ¹⁹⁴ ¹⁹⁵ ¹⁹⁶ ¹⁹⁷ ¹⁹⁸ ¹⁹⁹ ²⁰⁰ ²⁰¹ ²⁰² ²⁰³ ²⁰⁴ ²⁰⁵ ²⁰⁶ ²⁰⁷ ²⁰⁸ ²⁰⁹ ²¹⁰ ²¹¹ ²¹² ²¹³ ²¹⁴ ²¹⁵ ²¹⁶ ²¹⁷ ²¹⁸ ²¹⁹ ²²⁰ ²²¹ ²²² ²²³ ²²⁴ ²²⁵ ²²⁶ ²²⁷ ²²⁸ ²²⁹ ²³⁰ ²³¹ ²³² ²³³ ²³⁴ ²³⁵ ²³⁶ ²³⁷ ²³⁸ ²³⁹ ²⁴⁰ ²⁴¹ ²⁴² ²⁴³ ²⁴⁴ ²⁴⁵ ²⁴⁶ ²⁴⁷ ²⁴⁸ ²⁴⁹ ²⁵⁰ ²⁵¹ ²⁵² ²⁵³ ²⁵⁴ ²⁵⁵ ²⁵⁶ ²⁵⁷ ²⁵⁸ ²⁵⁹ ²⁶⁰ ²⁶¹ ²⁶² ²⁶³ ²⁶⁴ ²⁶⁵ ²⁶⁶ ²⁶⁷ ²⁶⁸ ²⁶⁹ ²⁷⁰ ²⁷¹ ²⁷² ²⁷³ ²⁷⁴ ²⁷⁵ ²⁷⁶ ²⁷⁷ ²⁷⁸ ²⁷⁹ ²⁸⁰ ²⁸¹ ²⁸² ²⁸³ ²⁸⁴ ²⁸⁵ ²⁸⁶ ²⁸⁷ ²⁸⁸ ²⁸⁹ ²⁹⁰ ²⁹¹ ²⁹² ²⁹³ ²⁹⁴ ²⁹⁵ ²⁹⁶ ²⁹⁷ ²⁹⁸ ²⁹⁹ ³⁰⁰ ³⁰¹ ³⁰² ³⁰³ ³⁰⁴ ³⁰⁵ ³⁰⁶ ³⁰⁷ ³⁰⁸ ³⁰⁹ ³¹⁰ ³¹¹ ³¹² ³¹³ ³¹⁴ ³¹⁵ ³¹⁶ ³¹⁷ ³¹⁸ ³¹⁹ ³²⁰ ³²¹ ³²² ³²³ ³²⁴ ³²⁵ ³²⁶ ³²⁷ ³²⁸ ³²⁹ ³³⁰ ³³¹ ³³² ³³³ ³³⁴ ³³⁵ ³³⁶ ³³⁷ ³³⁸ ³³⁹ ³⁴⁰ ³⁴¹ ³⁴² ³⁴³ ³⁴⁴ ³⁴⁵ ³⁴⁶ ³⁴⁷ ³⁴⁸ ³⁴⁹ ³⁵⁰ ³⁵¹ ³⁵² ³⁵³ ³⁵⁴ ³⁵⁵ ³⁵⁶ ³⁵⁷ ³⁵⁸ ³⁵⁹ ³⁶⁰ ³⁶¹ ³⁶² ³⁶³ ³⁶⁴ ³⁶⁵ ³⁶⁶ ³⁶⁷ ³⁶⁸ ³⁶⁹ ³⁷⁰ ³⁷¹ ³⁷² ³⁷³ ³⁷⁴ ³⁷⁵ ³⁷⁶ ³⁷⁷ ³⁷⁸ ³⁷⁹ ³⁸⁰ ³⁸¹ ³⁸² ³⁸³ ³⁸⁴ ³⁸⁵ ³⁸⁶ ³⁸⁷ ³⁸⁸ ³⁸⁹ ³⁹⁰ ³⁹¹ ³⁹² ³⁹³ ³⁹⁴ ³⁹⁵ ³⁹⁶ ³⁹⁷ ³⁹⁸ ³⁹⁹ ⁴⁰⁰ ⁴⁰¹ ⁴⁰² ⁴⁰³ ⁴⁰⁴ ⁴⁰⁵ ⁴⁰⁶ ⁴⁰⁷ ⁴⁰⁸ ⁴⁰⁹ ⁴¹⁰ ⁴¹¹ ⁴¹² ⁴¹³ ⁴¹⁴ ⁴¹⁵ ⁴¹⁶ ⁴¹⁷ ⁴¹⁸ ⁴¹⁹ ⁴²⁰ ⁴²¹ ⁴²² ⁴²³ ⁴²⁴ ⁴²⁵ ⁴²⁶ ⁴²⁷ ⁴²⁸ ⁴²⁹ ⁴³⁰ ⁴³¹ ⁴³² ⁴³³ ⁴³⁴ ⁴³⁵ ⁴³⁶ ⁴³⁷ ⁴³⁸ ⁴³⁹ ⁴⁴⁰ ⁴⁴¹ ⁴⁴² ⁴⁴³ ⁴⁴⁴ ⁴⁴⁵ ⁴⁴⁶ ⁴⁴⁷ ⁴⁴⁸ ⁴⁴⁹ ⁴⁵⁰ ⁴⁵¹ ⁴⁵² ⁴⁵³ ⁴⁵⁴ ⁴⁵⁵ ⁴⁵⁶ ⁴⁵⁷ ⁴⁵⁸ ⁴⁵⁹ ⁴⁶⁰ ⁴⁶¹ ⁴⁶² ⁴⁶³ ⁴⁶⁴ ⁴⁶⁵ ⁴⁶⁶ ⁴⁶⁷ ⁴⁶⁸ ⁴⁶⁹ ⁴⁷⁰ ⁴⁷¹ ⁴⁷² ⁴⁷³ ⁴⁷⁴ ⁴⁷⁵ ⁴⁷⁶ ⁴⁷⁷ ⁴⁷⁸ ⁴⁷⁹ ⁴⁸⁰ ⁴⁸¹ ⁴⁸² ⁴⁸³ ⁴⁸⁴ ⁴⁸⁵ ⁴⁸⁶ ⁴⁸⁷ ⁴⁸⁸ ⁴⁸⁹ ⁴⁹⁰ ⁴⁹¹ ⁴⁹² ⁴⁹³ ⁴⁹⁴ ⁴⁹⁵ ⁴⁹⁶ ⁴⁹⁷ ⁴⁹⁸ ⁴⁹⁹ ⁵⁰⁰ ⁵⁰¹ ⁵⁰² ⁵⁰³ ⁵⁰⁴ ⁵⁰⁵ ⁵⁰⁶ ⁵⁰⁷ ⁵⁰⁸ ⁵⁰⁹ ⁵¹⁰ ⁵¹¹ ⁵¹² ⁵¹³ ⁵¹⁴ ⁵¹⁵ ⁵¹⁶ ⁵¹⁷ ⁵¹⁸ ⁵¹⁹ ⁵²⁰ ⁵²¹ ⁵²² ⁵²³ ⁵²⁴ ⁵²⁵ ⁵²⁶ ⁵²⁷ ⁵²⁸ ⁵²⁹ ⁵³⁰ ⁵³¹ ⁵³² ⁵³³ ⁵³⁴ ⁵³⁵ ⁵³⁶ ⁵³⁷ ⁵³⁸ ⁵³⁹ ⁵⁴⁰ ⁵⁴¹ ⁵⁴² ⁵⁴³ ⁵⁴⁴ ⁵⁴⁵ ⁵⁴⁶ ⁵⁴⁷ ⁵⁴⁸ ⁵⁴⁹ ⁵⁵⁰ ⁵⁵¹ ⁵⁵² ⁵⁵³ ⁵⁵⁴ ⁵⁵⁵ ⁵⁵⁶ ⁵⁵⁷ ⁵⁵⁸ ⁵⁵⁹ ⁵⁶⁰ ⁵⁶¹ ⁵⁶² ⁵⁶³ ⁵⁶⁴ ⁵⁶⁵ ⁵⁶⁶ ⁵⁶⁷ ⁵⁶⁸ ⁵⁶⁹ ⁵⁷⁰ ⁵⁷¹ ⁵⁷² ⁵⁷³ ⁵⁷⁴ ⁵⁷⁵ ⁵⁷⁶ ⁵⁷⁷ ⁵⁷⁸ ⁵⁷⁹ ⁵⁸⁰ ⁵⁸¹ ⁵⁸² ⁵⁸³ ⁵⁸⁴ ⁵⁸⁵ ⁵⁸⁶ ⁵⁸⁷ ⁵⁸⁸ ⁵⁸⁹ ⁵⁹⁰ ⁵⁹¹ ⁵⁹² ⁵⁹³ ⁵⁹⁴ ⁵⁹⁵ ⁵⁹⁶ ⁵⁹⁷ ⁵⁹⁸ ⁵⁹⁹ ⁶⁰⁰ ⁶⁰¹ ⁶⁰² ⁶⁰³ ⁶⁰⁴ ⁶⁰⁵ ⁶⁰⁶ ⁶⁰⁷ ⁶⁰⁸ ⁶⁰⁹ ⁶¹⁰ ⁶¹¹ ⁶¹² ⁶¹³ ⁶¹⁴ ⁶¹⁵ ⁶¹⁶ ⁶¹⁷ ⁶¹⁸ ⁶¹⁹ ⁶²⁰ ⁶²¹ ⁶²² ⁶²³ ⁶²⁴ ⁶²⁵ ⁶²⁶ ⁶²⁷ ⁶²⁸ ⁶²⁹ ⁶³⁰ ⁶³¹ ⁶³² ⁶³³ ⁶³⁴ ⁶³⁵ ⁶³⁶ ⁶³⁷ ⁶³⁸ ⁶³⁹ ⁶⁴⁰ ⁶⁴¹ ⁶⁴² ⁶⁴³ ⁶⁴⁴ ⁶⁴⁵ ⁶⁴⁶ ⁶⁴⁷ ⁶⁴⁸ ⁶⁴⁹ ⁶⁵⁰ ⁶⁵¹ ⁶⁵² ⁶⁵³ ⁶⁵⁴ ⁶⁵⁵ ⁶⁵⁶ ⁶⁵⁷ ⁶⁵⁸ ⁶⁵⁹ ⁶⁶⁰ ⁶⁶¹ ⁶⁶² ⁶⁶³ ⁶⁶⁴ ⁶⁶⁵ ⁶⁶⁶ ⁶⁶⁷ ⁶⁶⁸ ⁶⁶⁹ ⁶⁷⁰ ⁶⁷¹ ⁶⁷² ⁶⁷³ ⁶⁷⁴ ⁶⁷⁵ ⁶⁷⁶ ⁶⁷⁷ ⁶⁷⁸ ⁶⁷⁹ ⁶⁸⁰ ⁶⁸¹ ⁶⁸² ⁶⁸³ ⁶⁸⁴ ⁶⁸⁵ ⁶⁸⁶ ⁶⁸⁷ ⁶⁸⁸ ⁶⁸⁹ ⁶⁹⁰ ⁶⁹¹ ⁶⁹² ⁶⁹³ ⁶⁹⁴ ⁶⁹⁵ ⁶⁹⁶ ⁶⁹⁷ ⁶⁹⁸ ⁶⁹⁹ ⁷⁰⁰ ⁷⁰¹ ⁷⁰² ⁷⁰³ ⁷⁰⁴ ⁷⁰⁵ ⁷⁰⁶ ⁷⁰⁷ ⁷⁰⁸ ⁷⁰⁹ ⁷¹⁰ ⁷¹¹ ⁷¹² ⁷¹³ ⁷¹⁴ ⁷¹⁵ ⁷¹⁶ ⁷¹⁷ ⁷¹⁸ ⁷¹⁹ ⁷²⁰ ⁷²¹ ⁷²² ⁷²³ ⁷²⁴ ⁷²⁵ ⁷²⁶ ⁷²⁷ ⁷²⁸ ⁷²⁹ ⁷³⁰ ⁷³¹ ⁷³² ⁷³³ ⁷³⁴ ⁷³⁵ ⁷³⁶ ⁷³⁷ ⁷³⁸ ⁷³⁹ ⁷⁴⁰ ⁷⁴¹ ⁷⁴² ⁷⁴³ ⁷⁴⁴ ⁷⁴⁵ ⁷⁴⁶ ⁷⁴⁷ ⁷⁴⁸ ⁷⁴⁹ ⁷⁵⁰ ⁷⁵¹ ⁷⁵² ⁷⁵³ ⁷⁵⁴ ⁷⁵⁵ ⁷⁵⁶ ⁷⁵⁷ ⁷⁵⁸ ⁷⁵⁹ ⁷⁶⁰ ⁷⁶¹ ⁷⁶² ⁷⁶³ ⁷⁶⁴ ⁷⁶⁵ ⁷⁶⁶ ⁷⁶⁷ ⁷⁶⁸ ⁷⁶⁹ ⁷⁷⁰ ⁷⁷¹ ⁷⁷² ⁷⁷³ ⁷⁷⁴ ⁷⁷⁵ ⁷⁷⁶ ⁷⁷⁷ ⁷⁷⁸ ⁷⁷⁹ ⁷⁸⁰ ⁷⁸¹ ⁷⁸² ⁷⁸³ ⁷⁸⁴ ⁷⁸⁵ ⁷⁸⁶ ⁷⁸⁷ ⁷⁸⁸ ⁷⁸⁹ ⁷⁹⁰ ⁷⁹¹ ⁷⁹² ⁷⁹³ ⁷⁹⁴ ⁷⁹⁵ ⁷⁹⁶ ⁷⁹⁷ ⁷⁹⁸ ⁷⁹⁹ ⁸⁰⁰ ⁸⁰¹ ⁸⁰² ⁸⁰³ ⁸⁰⁴ ⁸⁰⁵ ⁸⁰⁶ ⁸⁰⁷ ⁸⁰⁸ ⁸⁰⁹ ⁸¹⁰ ⁸¹¹ ⁸¹² ⁸¹³ ⁸¹⁴ ⁸¹⁵ ⁸¹⁶ ⁸¹⁷ ⁸¹⁸ ⁸¹⁹ ⁸²⁰ ⁸²¹ ⁸²² ⁸²³ ⁸²⁴ ⁸²⁵ ⁸²⁶ ⁸²⁷ ⁸²⁸ ⁸²⁹ ⁸³⁰ ⁸³¹ ⁸³² ⁸³³ ⁸³⁴ ⁸³⁵ ⁸³⁶ ⁸³⁷ ⁸³⁸ ⁸³⁹ ⁸⁴⁰ ⁸⁴¹ ⁸⁴² ⁸⁴³ ⁸⁴⁴ ⁸⁴⁵ ⁸⁴⁶ ⁸⁴⁷ ⁸⁴⁸ ⁸⁴⁹ ⁸⁵⁰ ⁸⁵¹ ⁸⁵² ⁸⁵³ ⁸⁵⁴ ⁸⁵⁵ ⁸⁵⁶ ⁸⁵⁷ ⁸⁵⁸ ⁸⁵⁹ ⁸⁶⁰ ⁸⁶¹ ⁸⁶² ⁸⁶³ ⁸⁶⁴ ⁸⁶⁵ ⁸⁶⁶ ⁸⁶⁷ ⁸⁶⁸ ⁸⁶⁹ ⁸⁷⁰ ⁸⁷¹ ⁸⁷² ⁸⁷³ ⁸⁷⁴ ⁸⁷⁵ ⁸⁷⁶ ⁸⁷⁷ ⁸⁷⁸ ⁸⁷⁹ ⁸⁸⁰ ⁸⁸¹ ⁸⁸² ⁸⁸³ ⁸⁸⁴ ⁸⁸⁵ ⁸⁸⁶ ⁸⁸⁷ ⁸⁸⁸ ⁸⁸⁹ ⁸⁹⁰ ⁸⁹¹ ⁸⁹² ⁸⁹³ ⁸⁹⁴ ⁸⁹⁵ ⁸⁹⁶ ⁸⁹⁷ ⁸⁹⁸ ⁸⁹⁹ ⁹⁰⁰ ⁹⁰¹ ⁹⁰² ⁹⁰³ ⁹⁰⁴ ⁹⁰⁵ ⁹⁰⁶ ⁹⁰⁷ ⁹⁰⁸ ⁹⁰⁹ ⁹¹⁰ ⁹¹¹ ⁹¹² ⁹¹³ ⁹¹⁴ ⁹¹⁵ ⁹¹⁶ ⁹¹⁷ ⁹¹⁸ ⁹¹⁹ ⁹²⁰ ⁹²¹ ⁹²² ⁹²³ ⁹²⁴ ⁹²⁵ ⁹²⁶ ⁹²⁷ ⁹²⁸ ⁹²⁹ ⁹³⁰ ⁹³¹ ⁹³² ⁹³³ ⁹³⁴ ⁹³⁵ ⁹³⁶ ⁹³⁷ ⁹³⁸ ⁹³⁹ ⁹⁴⁰ ⁹⁴¹ ⁹⁴² ⁹⁴³ ⁹⁴⁴ ⁹⁴⁵ ⁹⁴⁶ ⁹⁴⁷ ⁹⁴⁸ ⁹⁴⁹ ⁹⁵⁰ ⁹⁵¹ ⁹⁵² ⁹⁵³ ⁹⁵⁴ ⁹⁵⁵ ⁹⁵⁶ ⁹⁵⁷ ⁹⁵⁸ ⁹⁵⁹ ⁹⁶⁰ ⁹⁶¹ ⁹⁶² ⁹⁶³ ⁹⁶⁴ ⁹⁶⁵ ⁹⁶⁶ ⁹⁶⁷ ⁹⁶⁸ ⁹⁶⁹ ⁹⁷⁰ ⁹⁷¹ ⁹⁷² ⁹⁷³ ⁹⁷⁴ ⁹⁷⁵ ⁹⁷⁶ ⁹⁷⁷ ⁹⁷⁸ ⁹⁷⁹ ⁹⁸⁰ ⁹⁸¹ ⁹⁸² ⁹⁸³ ⁹⁸⁴ ⁹⁸⁵ ⁹⁸⁶ ⁹⁸⁷ ⁹⁸⁸ ⁹⁸⁹ ⁹⁹⁰ ⁹⁹¹ ⁹⁹² ⁹⁹³ ⁹⁹⁴ ⁹⁹⁵ ⁹⁹⁶ ⁹⁹⁷ ⁹⁹⁸ ⁹⁹⁹ ¹⁰⁰⁰

13 Christ giueth a commandment in this verse, and the Angel executeth it in the next verse. 14 The other type (as I sayde verse 14) is the vintage: the manner whereof is one with that which went before, if thou except this, that y grape gathering is more exact in seeking out euery thing, then is the harvest labour. This is therefore a most grieuous iudgement, both because it succeedeth the other, and because it is vnderstood to be executed with great diligence. 15 That is, it is overflowed very deepe, and very farre and wide, the speech is hyperbolical or excessive, to signifie the greatnesse of the slaughter. And these be those pleasant fruites forsooth, of the contempt of Christ, and despising of his blood: rather then him, which the miserable, mad, and blinde world doeth at this time reape.

CHAP. XV.

1 The seven Angels hauing the seven last plagues. 2 They that conquered the beast praise God. 3 Touchest the Angels, 7 seven vials full of Gods wrath are deliuered.

1 And I sawe another signe in heauen, great and marueilous, seven ² Angels hauing the seven last plagues: for by them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I saw 4 as it were a glassie sea, mingled with fire, and ⁵ them that had gotten victorie of the beast, and of his image, & of his marke, and of the number of his name, ⁶ stand at the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God,

3 And they sung 7 the song of Moses the ² seruant of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great & meruilous are thy works, Lorde God Almighty: iust and true are thy ^b wayes, King of Saints.

4 Who shall not feare thee, O Lord, and glorifie thy Name! for thou onely art holy, and all nations shall come and worship before thee: for thy iudgements are made manifest.

5 And after that, I looked, and behold, the Temple of the tabernacle of Testimony was open in heauen.

6 And the seven Angels came out of the Temple, which had the ¹² seven plagues, clothed in ¹¹ pure and bright linnen, and hauing their breasts ¹² girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the ¹³ foure beasts gaue vnto the seven Angels, seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, which liueth for euermore.

8 And the Temple was full of the smoke of the glory of God & of his power, and ¹⁴ no man was able to enter into the Temple, till the seven plagues of the seven Angels were fulfilled.

Secondly, the administrators or executors, come forth out of the Temple, ver. 6. Thirdly, they are furnished with instruments of the iudgements of God, and weapon fit for the manner of the same iudgements ver. 7. Finally, they are confirmed by testimony of the visible glory of God in the last verse. 1 The state of the Church militant being declared, now followeth the state of the Church triumphant and getting victory, as I shewed before in the beginning of the 12. chapter. This state is set forth in 4. chapters. As in the place before going noted, that in this historie the order of time was not always exactly observed; so same is to be understood in this history, that it is distinguished according to the persons of which it treateth, & that in the severall stories of the persons is severally observed in the time thereof. For first is delivered the story of Babylon destroyed in this and the next chapter, for this Babylon one of all doubt, shall perish before the two beasts and the Dragon. Secondly, is delivered the destruction of both the two beasts, Chap. 19. And lastly of the Dragon, Cha. 18. in the story of the spiritual Babylon are distinctly set forth 3. states thereof in this chap. & the overthrow done from God chap. 18. In this verse & that which followeth, is a transition or passage unto the first argument, consisting of the particular calling of the Prophet (as often heretofore) & a general proposition. 1. That is, that damnable harlot, by a name called Babylone. For S. Iohn as yet had not seen her. Although another interpretation may be borne, yet I like this better. 2. The sentence that is pronounced, & against this harlot. 3. Heretofore is propounded the type of Babylon, and the state thereof, in 4. verses. After a declaration of the type, in 5. rest of this cha. In the type are described two things, 1. A beast (of whom cha. 12. In the 1. ver. & the woman that sitteth upon the beast ver. 4, 5, 6. The beast in process of time, hath gotten somewhat more then was expressed in the former vision. For in that it is not read before that he was apparelled in scarlet, a robe imperial and of triumph. Secondly, in that this is full of names of blasphemy; the other carried the name of blasphemy only in his heads. So God did teach that this beast is much increased in impiety & iniquity, & doth in this last age, triumph in both these more insolently & proudly then ever before. 4. A scarlet colour, that is, with a red and purple garment: & surely it was not without cause that the Romish clergy were so much delighted with this color. 4. That harlot, the spiritual Babylon, which is Rome, she is described by her attire, profession, & deeds. 5. In attire most glorious, triumphant, most rich, & most gorgeous. 6. In profession the nourisher of all, in this verse, and reaching her myriads unto all, yet setting forth all things most magnificently, but indeed most pernicious begetting miserable men with her cup, and bringing upon them a deadly giddiness. 7. Deceiving with the title of religion, & public inscription of mystery which the beast in times past did not have. 8. An exposition: in which S. Iohn declareth what manner of woman this is. 9. In manner of deeds. She was red with blood, & the death is most licentious; and therefore is colored with the blood of the Saints as on the contrary part, Christ is set forth imbrued with the blood of his enemies, Eph. 5. 1. 10. A passage unto the second part of this chapter, by occasion given of S. Iohn, as the words of the Angel doe shew in the next verse. 11. The second part or place as I sayd ver. 1. The examination of the vision, promised in the verse following. Now there is delivered first an examination of the beast and his story unto the 14. ver. After, of the harlot unto the end of the chap. 13. The story of the beast hath a triple description of him. The first is a distinction of this beast from all that ever have been at any time: which distinction is contained in this verse. The second is a delineation or painting out of the beast by things present, by which he might even at that time be known of the godly: & this delineation is according to his heads, ver. 12, 13, 14. This beast is that Empire of Rome, of which I spake chap. 11. according to the mutations and changes whereof, which then had already happened, the holy Ghost hath distinguished and set out the time. The Apostle distinguisheth this beast from all others in these words: The beast which thou sawest, was and is not. For I expound the words of the Apostle for the euidency (as, as I will further declare in the notes following. 13. The meaning is, that beast which thou sawest before (chap. 11. 3. and which yet thou hast now scene, was (I say) even from Julius Caesar in respect of beginning, rising up, station, glory, domination, manner & stocke, from the house of Iulius: and yet is not now the same, if thou looke unto the house and stocke: for the dominion of this family was transferred unto another after the death of Nero from that other unto a third, from a third unto a fourth, and so forth, was varied and altered by innumerable changes. Finally the Empire is one, as it were one beast, but exceedingly varied by kindreds, families, and persons. It was therefore (sayth S. Iohn) in the kindred or house of Iulius: and now it is not in that kindred, but translated unto another.

Then there came one of the seven Angels, which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come: I will shew thee the damnation of the great whore that sitteth upon many waters, 1 With whom have committed fornication the kings of the earth, & the inhabitants of the earth are drunken with the wine of her fornication. 2 So he carried me away into the wilderness in the Spirit, & I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of Blasphemie, which had seven heads, and ten hornes. 3 And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and gilded with gold, and precious stones, and pearles, and had a cup of gold in her hand full of abomination, and filthinesse of her fornication. 4 And in her forehead was a name written, A mystery, that great Babylon that mother of whoredomes, and abominations of the earth. 5 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of Saints, and with the blood of the Martyrs of Iesus vs, & when I saw her, I wondered with great marvell. 6 Then the Angel said unto me, Wherefore maruest thou? I will shew thee the mystery of that woman, and of that beast that beareth her, which hath seven heads, and ten hornes. 7 The beast that thou hast scene, was, and is not, and shall ascend out of the bottomlesse pit, & shall goe into perdition, and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder (whose names are not written in the booke of life from the foundation of the world) 15 when they beholde the beast that was, and is not, and yet is. 16 Here is the mind that hath wisdom. The seven heads 17 are seven mountaines, whereon the woman sitteth: 18 they are also seven kings. 19 Five are fallen, and one is, and another is not yet come: and when he cometh, he must continue a long space. 20 And the beast that was, and is not, is even the eighth, and is one of the seven, and shall goe into destruction. 21 And the ten hornes which thou sawest, the beast remaining still, but tossed with so many and often alterations, as no man can but marvel that this beast was able to stand & hold out, in so many mutations, Verily no Empire that ever was told with so many changes, and as it were with so many tempests of the sea, ever continued so long. 15 That is, as many as have not learned the providence of God, according to the faith of the Saints, shall marvel at these grievous & often changes, when they shall consider the felle fate of this beast, which is the Romane Empire, to have bin, and not to be, and to be, and still rocked with perpetual mutation, and yet in the same to stand and continue. This in mine opinion, is the most simple exposition of this place, confirmed by the event of the things themselves. Although the last change also by which the Empire, that before was civil, became Ecclesiastical, is not obscurely signified in these words, of which two, the first exercised cruelty upon the bodies of the Saints, the other also upon their soules: the first by humane order & policy, the other under the colour of the Law of God, & of Religion, ragged & imbrued it self with the blood of the godly. 16 An exhortation preparing unto audience by the sum argument with that of Christ: He that hath eares to heare let him heare. Wherefore for mine owne part, I had rather read in this place, Let there be here a myra, &c. So the Angel passeth fully unto the second place of this description. 17 Very children know what the seven hills are, which is much spoken of, & whereof Virgils haue reported. And compassed seven towers in one wall: at as city is it, which when I saw wrote these things, had rule over the kings of the earth: it was, & is not, & yet it remaineth to this day, but it is declining to destruction. 17 This is the painting out of the beast by things present (as I said before) whereby S. Iohn endeavored to describe the same, that he might be both known of the godly in that age, and be further observed & marked of posterity afterwards. This delineation hath one type, that is, his heads, but a double description or application of the type: 1. one permanent, from the nature it selfe, the other changeable, by the working of men. The description permanent, is by the seven hills, in this verse, the other that fleeteth, is from the seven kings, ver. 10, 11. And here it is worthy to be observed, that one type hath sometimes two or more applications, as seemeth good unto the holy Ghost to expresse either one thing by diuers types, or diuers things by one type. So I noted before of the seven spirits, chap. 1. 4. Now this woman that sitteth upon seven hills, is y city of Rome, called in times past of Grecians, ἡ πάλαιος 1. of seven tops or crests & of Varro, septiceps, 1. of her seven heads (as heretofore seven heads, and of others septem colli 1. standing upon seven hills. 18 The beginning of these Kings or Emperours is almost the same with the beginning of the Church of Christ which I shewed before Cha. 11. 1. Namely from the yere 25. after the passion of Christ, what time the Temple & Church of the Iewes was overthrowen. In which yere it came to pass by the providence of God, that that saying, The beast was and is not, was fulfilled before that destruction of the Iewes immediately following came to passe. That was the yere from the building of the cite of Rome, 809. from which yere S. Iohn both numbrest the Emperours which hitherto had bene, when he wrote these things, and foretellet of two other next to come: and with this purpose, that when this particular prediction or foretelling of things to come, should take effect, the truth of all other predictions in the Church, might be more confirmed. Which signe God of old mentioned in the Law, Deut. 18. & Ieremie confirmed, Cha. 28. 19 Whose names are these, the first, Servus Sulpitius Galba, who was the seventh Emperour of the people of Rome, the second, Marcus Salinus Otis, the third, Anulus Vitellius, the fourth, Titus Flavius Vespasianus, the fifth, Titus Vespasianus his sonne, of his own name. 20 Flavius Domitian sonne of the first Vespasian. For in the latter end of his dayes S. Iohn wrote these things, as witnesseth Irenaeus Lib. 8. adversus haereses. 21 Nerva, the Empire being now translated from the familie of Flavianus. This man reigned onely one yere, foure moneths and nine dayes, as the historie writers doe tell. 22 This is spoken by the figure Synecdoche, as much to say, as that head of the beast which was and is not, because it is cut off, & Nerva in so short time extinguished. How many heads there were of many beasts there seemed to bee in one. See like speech in the third verse of the thirteenth Chapter. 23 Nerva Traianus, who himselfe in diuers respects is called here the seventh and the eighth. 24 Though in number and order of succession hee bee the eighth, yet hee is reckoned together with one of these heads, because Nerva and he were one head. For this man obtained authority together with Nerva, and was Consul with him, when Nerva left his life. 25 Namely, to monest with persecutions the Churches of Christ, as the histories doe accord, and I have briefly noted, Chapter 1. 10. 26 The third place of this description, as I sayd ver. 8. is a propheticall prediction of things to come, which the beast should doe, as in the words following Saint Iohn doeth not obscurely signifie, saying, which hath not yet received the kingdom, &c. For there is an Antithesis or opposition between these kings, and those that went before. And first, the persons are described in this verse, then their deeds, in the two verses following.

14 As if he should say, Alas this fate that is, shall shortly not be: but shall ascend out of the depth, or out of the sea (as was sayd, Chap. 12. 1.) that is, shall be a new flock from amongst the nations without difference, and shall in the same state goe unto destruction, or run and perish: and so shall successively new Princes or Emperours come and goe, arise, and fall, the body of the beast remaining still, but tossed with so many and often alterations, as no man can but marvel that this beast was able to stand & hold out, in so many mutations, Verily no Empire that ever was told with so many changes, and as it were with so many tempests of the sea, ever continued so long. 15 That is, as many as have not learned the providence of God, according to the faith of the Saints, shall marvel at these grievous & often changes, when they shall consider the felle fate of this beast, which is the Romane Empire, to have bin, and not to be, and to be, and still rocked with perpetual mutation, and yet in the same to stand and continue. This in mine opinion, is the most simple exposition of this place, confirmed by the event of the things themselves. Although the last change also by which the Empire, that before was civil, became Ecclesiastical, is not obscurely signified in these words, of which two, the first exercised cruelty upon the bodies of the Saints, the other also upon their soules: the first by humane order & policy, the other under the colour of the Law of God, & of Religion, ragged & imbrued it self with the blood of the godly. 16 An exhortation preparing unto audience by the sum argument with that of Christ: He that hath eares to heare let him heare. Wherefore for mine owne part, I had rather read in this place, Let there be here a myra, &c. So the Angel passeth fully unto the second place of this description. 17 Very children know what the seven hills are, which is much spoken of, & whereof Virgils haue reported. And compassed seven towers in one wall: at as city is it, which when I saw wrote these things, had rule over the kings of the earth: it was, & is not, & yet it remaineth to this day, but it is declining to destruction. 17 This is the painting out of the beast by things present (as I said before) whereby S. Iohn endeavored to describe the same, that he might be both known of the godly in that age, and be further observed & marked of posterity afterwards. This delineation hath one type, that is, his heads, but a double description or application of the type: 1. one permanent, from the nature it selfe, the other changeable, by the working of men. The description permanent, is by the seven hills, in this verse, the other that fleeteth, is from the seven kings, ver. 10, 11. And here it is worthy to be observed, that one type hath sometimes two or more applications, as seemeth good unto the holy Ghost to expresse either one thing by diuers types, or diuers things by one type. So I noted before of the seven spirits, chap. 1. 4. Now this woman that sitteth upon seven hills, is y city of Rome, called in times past of Grecians, ἡ πάλαιος 1. of seven tops or crests & of Varro, septiceps, 1. of her seven heads (as heretofore seven heads, and of others septem colli 1. standing upon seven hills. 18 The beginning of these Kings or Emperours is almost the same with the beginning of the Church of Christ which I shewed before Cha. 11. 1. And first, the persons are described in this verse, then their deeds, in the two verses following.

are ten kings, which yet have not received a kingdom, but shall receive power, as Kings ¹³ at one houre, with the beast.

13 ¹³ These have one minde, and shall give their power, and authoritie vnto the beast.

14 These shall fight with the ¹⁴ Lambe, and the Lambe shall overcome them: ¹⁵ for hee is Lord of Lords, and King of Kings: and they that are on his side, called, and choлен, and faithful.

15 ¹⁶ And he sayd vnto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, ¹⁷ are people, and multitudes and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten ¹⁸ hotnes which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate, and naked, and shall eat her flesh and burne her with fire.

17 ¹⁹ For God hath put in their hearts to fulfill his will, and to doe with one consent for to give their kingdom vnto the beast, vntill the words of God be fulfilled.

18 And that woman which thou sawest, is that ²⁰ great citie which reigned ouer the kings of the earth.

19 And the beast tooke the opportunitie offered, to vsurpe vnto himselfe all the power of the former beast. These kings long agoe, many haue numbered and described in his name, and a great part of the euents plainly testifieth the same in this our age. ²¹ That is, by consent and agreement, that they may conspire with the beast, and vpon his becke. Their storie is diuided into three parts, counselation and secrets. The counsels some of them consist in communicating of indigeneries and afflictions: and some in communicating of power, which they are sayd to haue giuen vnto this beast in this verse. ²² With Christ and his Church as discerned following doeth declare, and here are mentioned the facts and euents which followed for Christ his sake and for the grace of God the Father towards these ²³ are called, elected, and are his faithful in Christ. ²⁴ Chap. 19. 16. 1. sim. 5. 1. 5. This is the other member of the enarration, as I sayd verse 7. belonging vnto the harlot, shewed in the vision verse 3. In this historie of the harlot, these three things are distinctly propounded, what is her magnificencie, in this verse, what is her fall, and what is that happen vnto her, in the two verses following: & lastly, what is her end, in the last verse. This place which by order of nature should haue been the first, is therefore made the last, because it was more fit to be ioyned with this next Chap. ²⁵ That is, as vacant and variable as are the waters. Vpon this foundation sitteth this harlot as Queene, a vaine person vpon that which is vaine. ²⁶ The ten Kings, as verse 12. The accomplishment of this fact and e-uent is sayd to be increased in this our age by the singular prouidence & most mightie power of God. Wherefore the facts are propounded in this vers, & the cause of them in the verses following. ²⁷ A reason rendered from the chiefe efficient cause, which is the prouidence of God, by which alone S. Iohn by insertion of order directeth to haue come to passe, both that ²⁸ Kings should execute vpon ²⁹ harlot that which pleased God, & which he declared in the verse next before going: & also that by one consent and councell, they should giue their kingdom vnto the beast, as verse 13. 14. for as these being blinded haue before depended vpon the beast, so ³⁰ the beast lieth vpon the harlot, so it is sayd, that afterward it shall come to passe, that they shall turne backe and shall fall away from her, when their hearts shall be turned into better state by the grace & mercy of God. ³¹ That is, Rome the great citie, or only Citie (as Iustinian calleth it) the King and head whereof was the Emperour, but now the Pope, since that the condition of the beast was changed.

CHAP. XVIII.

¹ The horrible destruction of Babylon is set out. 11. 16. 18. The merchants of the earth, who were enriched with the pompe and luxurious life of it, weepe and waille: 20 But all the elect reioyce for that iust vengeance of God.

And after these things, I saw another Angel come downe from heauen, hauing great power, so that the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cryed out mightily with a loude voice, saying, Wee are fallen, it is fallen, Babylon that great city, and is become the habitation of deuils, and the hold of all foule spirits, and a cage of euery vnclane and hatefull bird.

3 For all nations haue drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the Kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voice fro heauen saying, Go out of her my people, ye be not partakers of her sins, & ye receiue not of her plagues.

5 For her sinnes are come vp into heauen, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

6 Reward her, euen as she hath rewarded you, & giue her double according to her works: and in the cup that she hath filled to you, fill her the double.

7 Inasmuch as she glorified her self, & liued in pleasure, so much giue ye to her torment & sorow: for she faith in her heart, I sit being a queene, and am no widow, and shal see no mourning.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come at one day, death, and sorow, and famine, and she shal be burnt with fire: for that God which condemneth her, is a strong Lord.

9 And the kings of the earth shall bewaile her, and lament for her, which haue committed fornication, and liued in pleasure with her, when they shall see that smoke of that her burning,

10 And shall stand as farre off for feare of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, that great citie Babylon, that mightie citie: for in one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the merchants of the earth shall weepe and waille ouer her: for no man buyeth their ware any more.

12 The ware of gold, and siluer, and of precious stone, and of pearls, and of fine linnen, and of purple, and of silke, and of skarlet, & of all manner of Thyne wood, and of all vessels of yuorie, and of all vessels of most precious wood, & of brasse, and of yron and of marble,

13 And of cinamon, and odours, and oymments, and frankincense, and wine, and oyle, and fine floure, and wheat, and beasts, and sheepe, and horses, & charets, and seruants, and soules of men.

14 And the apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, & all things which were fat and excellent, are departed from thee, and thou shalt finde them no more.

15 The merchants of these things which were waxed rich, shall stand a farre off from her, for feare of her torment, weeping and wailing.

16 The pronocation of the godly, and the commendement of executing the iudgement of God, stand vpon three cause: which are here expressed: the vniuersall wickednesse of the whore of Babylon, in this verse, her cursed pride opposing it selfe against God, which is the lomaine of all euill actions, verse 7. and her most iust damnation by sentence of God, verse 8. b With her selfe. I am full of people and mightie. d I shall taste of wine. e Shortly, and as queene I stand.

8 The circumstances following the fall of Babylon, or the consequences thereof (as I distinguished them, verse 4.) are two. Namely, the lamentation of the wicked, vnto the 19. verse: and the reioycing of the godly, verse 20. This most

forrowfull lamentation, according to the persons of them that lament, hath three members: the first whereof is the mourning of the kings and mighty men of the earth, in two verses: The second is the lamentation of the merchants that traffique by land, thence vnto the 16. verse: the third is, the wailing of those that merchandize by sea, verse 16. 17. 18. In euery of these the cause and manner of their mourning is described in order, according to the condition of those that mourne, with obseruation of that which best agreeth vnto them. 9 The lamentation of those that trade by land, as I distinguished immediately before. 10 An apotrophe, or turning of the speech by imitation, vnto more vehemencie, as if those merchants after the manner of mourners, should in passionate speech speake vnto Babylon, though now vnto fallen and overthrowen. So Eia 13. 9. and in many other places. f I say this is my woe, that Babylon which is next before the fall of the leaue, as when season fruits ripen, and the word of the prophet is such fruits as are long for.

16 And

Chap. 14. 8. f. 14. 21. 9. 10. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100.

The second prediction, which is of the circumstances of the ruine of Babylon: of these there are two kinds one going before it, as that before hand the godly are deliuered, vnto the ninth verse: the other following vpon her ruine, namely the lamentation of the wicked, and reioycing of the godly, vnto the twentieth vers.

5 Two circumstances going before the ruine are commanded in this place: one is, that the godly depart out of Babylon, as I mentioned Chap. 12. to haue bene done in time past, before the destruction of Ierusalem: this charge is giuen here, and in the next vers. The others, that euery one of them occupie themselves in their owne place, in executing the iudgement of God, as it was commanded the Leuites of old, Exo. 32. 27. and that they sanctifie their hands vnto

Lord, verse 6, 7, 8. 6 Of this commandement there are two causes, to auoid the contagion of sinne, and to shun the participation of those punishments that be long therunto.

a He wisheth a word which signifies the following of sins one after another, and rising one of another in such sort that they grow as long as to such an heap, that they came vpon them to be a u.

7 The pronocation of the godly, and the commendement of executing the iudgement of God, stand vpon three cause: which are here expressed: the vniuersall wickednesse of the whore of Babylon, in this vers, her cursed pride opposing it selfe against God, which is the lomaine of all euill actions, verse 7. and her most iust damnation by sentence of God, verse 8. b With her selfe.

I am full of people and mightie. d I shall taste of wine. e Shortly, and as queene I stand.

8 The circumstances following the fall of Babylon, or the consequences thereof (as I distinguished them, verse 4.) are two. Namely, the lamentation of the wicked, vnto the 19. verse: and the reioycing of the godly, verse 20. This most

forrowfull lamentation, according to the persons of them that lament, hath three members: the first whereof is the mourning of the kings and mighty men of the earth, in two verses: The second is the lamentation of the merchants that traffique by land, thence vnto the 16. vers: the third is, the wailing of those that merchandize by sea, verse 16. 17. 18. In euery of these the cause and manner of their mourning is described in order, according to the condition of those that mourne, with obser-

uation of that which best agreeth vnto them. 9 The lamentation of those that trade by land, as I distinguished immediately before. 10 An apotrophe, or turning of the speech by imitation, vnto more vehemencie, as if those merchants after the manner of mourners, should in passionate speech speake vnto Babylon, season fruits ripen, and the word of the prophet is such fruits as are long for.

16 And

and gather your felus together vnto the supper of the great God.

18 That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of high captaines, and the flesh of mightie men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all free men, and bond men, and of small and great.

19 And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their hosts gathered together to make battell against him that late on the horse, and against his armie.

20 But the beast was taken, and with him that false prophet that wrought miracles before him, whereby he deceived them that received the beastes marke, and them that worshipped his image. These both were aliae cast into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slaine with the sword of him that sitteth vpon the horse, which cometh out of his mouth, and all the fowles were filled full with their flesh.

22 That is, that both with seven heads, of which before, Chapter 13. 1. and 17. 3. 23 That is, that both with two heads, of which 13. 11. Looker more Chap. 16. 14.

CHAP. XX.

1 The Angel 2 bindeth Satan for a thousand yeeres. 3 Bring downe, he stirreth up Gog and Magog, that is, private endowments against the Saints, 11 but the vengeance of the Lord cutteth off their insulencie. 12 The bookes are opened, by which the dead are iudged.

And I saw an Angel come downe from heauen, hauing the key of the bottomlesse pit, and a great chaine in his hand.

2 And he tooke the dragon that old serpent, which is the deuill and Satan, and he bound him a thousand yeeres:

3 And cast him into the bottomlesse pit, and he shut him vp, and sealed the doore vpon him, that he should deceiue the people: no more, till the thousand yeeres were fulfilled: for after that he must be loosed for a little season.

4 And I saw a seales: and they sate vpon them, and I saw the foules of them that were beheaded for the witnesse of Iesus, and for the word of God, and which did not worship the beast, neither his image, neither had taken his marke vpon their foreheades or on their hands: and they liued, and reigned with Christ a thousand yeeres.

5 But the rest of the dead men shall not liue againe, untill the thousand yeeres be finished: this is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he, that hath part in the first resurrection: for on such the second death hath no power: but they shall be the Priests of God and of Christ, and shall reigne with him a thousand yeeres.

7 And when the thousand yeeres are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison,

8 And shall goe out to deceiue the people, which are in the foure quarters of the earth: Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battell, whose number is as the sand of the Sea.

9 And they went vp into the plaine of the earth, and they compassed the tents of the Saints about, & the beloued city: but fire came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them.

10 And the deuill that deceiued them, was cast into a lake of fire and brimstone, where that beast and that false prophet are, and shall be tormented euen day and night for euermore.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and one that sate on it, from whose face fled away both the earth and heauen, and their place was no more found.

12 And I saw the dead, both great and small stand before God: and the bookes were opened, and another booke was opened, which is the booke of life, and the dead were iudged of those things, which were written in the bookes, according to their workes.

13 And the sea gaue vp her dead, which were in her, and death and hell deliuered vp the dead, which were in them: and they were iudged euery man according to their workes.

14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire: this is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the booke of life, was cast into the lake of fire, for the finnes of men: vnto whom the faithfull (that haue associated themselves more then was meete, calling with them of their impuritie of doctrine and life. 16 The worke or acte of Sathan (which is the first member, as I distinguished in the verse before going) to deceiue the whole world, euen vnto the veriest nations thereof: to arme them against the people of God, in this verse, and to beseege and oppresse the Church, with his whole strength, in the verse following. By which 29. 2. b. Arise he said, in so much that the whole face of the earth, brought forth a new world.

17 The wrath of God, consuming the adulterers, and ouerthrowing all their enterprises, Heb. 10. 27. And this is the second member mentioned verse 7, the ouerthrow of Satan: 18 The third member, eternall destruction against those that are overcome: as I noted in the same place. 19 The second part of this Chapter, in which is described the iudge, in this verse, and the last iudgement in the verse following. 20 That is, a tribunall seat most Princelike and glorious: for so doth the Greeke word also signifie. 21 That is, Christ, before whom when hee cometh vnto iudgement, heauen and earth shall perill for the greatness of his maiestie. 22 That is, Christ the iudge, 1 Cor. 5. 10. 23 As it were, his bookes of reckoning or accompts, that is, the testimony of our conscience, and of our workes, which by no means can be anoyded. This is spoken after the manner of men. 24 Chap. 5. 5. and 21. 27. phis. 4. 3. 25 The booke of the eternall decree of God, in which God the Father hath elected in Christ according to the good pleasure of his will, those that shall be heirs of life. This also is spoken according to the manner of men. 26 This is a preuention or an answer to an objection: for haply some man will say, But they are dead, whom the sea, death and the graue hath consumed, how shall they appeare before the iudge? St. Iohn answereth, By resurrection from death, whereunto all things (whosoever repugnant) shall minister and serue at the commandement of God, as Daniel 12. 20 The last enemy which is death, shall be abolished by Christ (that he may no more make any attempt against vs) 1 Cor. 15. 26, and death shall feede vpon the reprobate in hell for euermore, according to the righteous iudgement of God, in the next verse.

CHAP. XXI.

1 He describeth new Hierusalem descending from heauen, 9 the bride the Lambe wife, 12 and the glorious building of the citie, 19 garnished with precious stones, 23 who shall see the Lambe.

Whofoeuer shall be dead in sin, and not know the truth of God. 11 They shall not be renewed with that newnesse of the life by the enlightening of the Gospel of the glory of Christ. For this is the first resurrection, by which foules of the dead doe rise from their death. In the second resurrection their bodies shall rise againe. 12 That whereby both body and soule, that is, the whole man is adorned and deliuered vnto eternall death. So Chapter 2. 11. 13 A returne vnto the intended history, by resuming the words which are in the end of the fourth verse. 14 The second history, of the latter victory of Christ, as was said verse 1. In which are summarily described the worke, ouerthrow and eternall punishment of Sathan. 15 Of which I spake, verse 2. Then therefore shall be giuen vnto him liberty to rage against the Church, and to molest the Saints.

And

And I saw a new heaven, and a new earth : for the first heaven, and the first earth were destroyed : and now I saw these things new.
 2 And I John saw the holy city new Hierusalem come downe from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride trimmed for her husband.
 3 And I heard a great voyce out of heauen, saying, Behold, the Tabernacle of God is with men, and he wil dwell with them; and they shall be his people, and God himselfe shall be their God with them.
 4 And God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes : and there shall be no more death, neither sorow, neither crying, neither shall there be any more paine : for the first things are passed.
 5 And hee that face vpon the throne, sayd, Behold, I make all things new : and he said vnto me, Write : for these words are faithfull & true.
 6 And he said vnto me, It is done, I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end : I will giue to him that is athirst, of the well of the water of life freely.
 7 He that ouercometh, shall inherit all things, and I will be his God, and he shall be my sonne.
 8 But the fearefull and the vnbeleeuing, and the abominable and murderers, and whoremongers, and forcerers, and idolaters, and all liars shall haue their part in the lake, which burneth with fire and brimstone, which is the second death.
 9 And there came vnto me one of the seuen Angels, which had the seuen vials full of the seuen last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come: I will shew thee the bride the Lambes wife.
 10 And hee caried mee away in the spirit to a great and high mountaine, and he shewed me that great city, that holy Hierusalem, descending out of heauen from God.
 11 Having the glory of God: and her shining was like vnto a stone most precious, as a iasper stone cleare as chrysell.
 12 And had a great wall and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates ^{twelve} Angels, and the names writte which are the twelve tribes of the children of Israel:
 13 On the East part there were three gates, and on the North side three gates, on the South side

14. And the wall of the citie had ¹² twelue foundations: & in them the names of the Lambes twelue Apostles.

15. ¹³ And hee that talked with me had a golden reede, to measure the citie withall, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16. ¹⁴ And the city lay ^b square, and the length is as large as the bredth of it, and he measured the city with the reede twelue thousand furlongs: and the length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equal.

17. And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred forty and foure cubites, by the measure of man, that is, of the ^c Angel.

18. ¹⁵ And the building of the wall of it was of iasper: and the citie was pure golde, like vnto cleare glasse.

19. And the foundations of the wall of the citie were garnished with all maner of precious stones: the first foundation was iasper, the second of Saphire: the third of a Chalcedonie: the fourth of an Emeraud:

20. The fift of a Sardonyx: the sixt of a Sardius: the seuenth of a Chrysolite: the eight of a Beryll: the ninth of a Topaz: the tenth of a Chrysolite: the eleuenth of a Iacynth: the twelfth an Amethyist.

21. And the twelue gates were twelue pearles, and euery gate was of one pearle, and the ^d streete of the citie was pure golde, as shining glasse.

22. And I saw no Temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lambe are the Temple of it.

23. ¹⁶ And this citie hath no neede of the sunne, neither of the moone to shine in it: for the glory of God did light it: and the Lambe is the light of it.

24. ¹⁷ And the people which are saved, shall walke in the light of it: and the kings of the earth shall bring their glory and honour vnto it.

25. And the gates of it shall not be shut by day: for there shall be no night there.

26. And the glory and honour of the Gentiles shall be brought vnto it.

27. And there shall enter into it none vnclere thing, neither whatsoeuer worketh abomination or lies: but they which are written in the Lambes booke of life.

This whole booke is concluded and made up, by confirmation, and a salutation. The confirmation hath three places:

The first of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The second of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The third of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The fourth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The fifth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The sixth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The seventh of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The eighth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The ninth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The tenth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The eleventh of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The twelfth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The thirteenth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The fourteenth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The fifteenth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The sixteenth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The seventeenth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

The eighteenth of the Angel vnto the 11. vers. the words of Christ: verse 16. 7. and the oblation made by S. Iohn himselfe.

4 And they shall see his face, and his Name shall be in their foreheads.

5 And there shall be no night there, and they need no candle, neither light of the Sunne: for the Lord God giueth them light, & they shall reigne for euermore.

6 And hee said vnto me, These words are faithfull and true: and the Lord God of the holy Prophets sent his Angel to shew vnto his seruants the things which must shortly be fulfilled.

7 Beholde, I come shortly Blessed is he that keepeth the wordes of the prophecie of this booke.

8 And I am Iohn, which saw and heard these things: and when I had heard and seene, I fell downe to worship before the feete of the Angel which shewed me these things.

9 But he said vnto me, See thou doe it not: for I am thy fellow seruant, and of thy brethren the Prophets, and of them which keepe the words of this booke: worship God.

10 And hee said vnto me, Seale not the words of the prophecie of this booke: for the time is at hand.

11 He is that vniust, let him be vniust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And behold, I come shortly, and my reward is with me, & to giue to every man according as his worke shall be.

13 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 Blessed are they, that doe his Commandments, 7 that their right may bee in the tree of Life, and may enter in through the gates into the City.

15 For without shall be dogs and enchanter, and whoremongers, and murderers, and Idolaters, and whosoever loueth or maketh lies.

16 I Iesus haue sent mine Angel, to testifie vnto you these things in the Churches: I am the root and the generation of David, and the bright morning Starre.

17 And the Spirit & the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come: and let him that is athirst, come: and let whosoever will, take of the water of life freely.

18 For I protest vnto every man that heareth the words of the prophecie of this booke, If any man shall addē vnto these things, God shall addē vnto him the plagues that are writtē in this booke.

19 And if any man shall diminish of the words of the booke of this prophecie, God shall take away his part out of the booke of life, and out of the holy City, and from those things which are writtē in this booke.

20 He which testifieth these things, saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Euen so, come Lord Iesus.

21 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ bee with you all, Amen.

THE END.

icipation of the good things of God, verse 17. E. 1. 5. 5. 1. The oblation of Saint Iohn (which is the third place of the confirmation as was noted verse 6.) ioyned with a curse of execration, to preserve the truth of this booke entire and vncorrupted, in two verses.

10 A diuine confirmation or sealing of the oblation: first from Christ anouching the same, and denouncing his coming against all those that shall put their sacrilegious hands hereunto: then from Saint Iohn himselfe, who by a most holy prayer calleth Christ to take vengeance of them.

11 The salutation Apostolicall, which is the other place of the conclusion, as I said verse 6. and is the end almost of euery Epistle: which we with vnto the Church, and to all the holy and clea members thereof in Christ Iesus our Lord, vntil his coming to iudgement, Come Lord Iesus and doe it. Amen againe, Amen.

THE END.

A briefe Table of the interpretation of the proper names which are chiefly found in the Old Testament, wherein the first number signifieth the Chapter, the second the verse.

WHereas the wickednesse of time, and the blindnesse of the former age hath bene such, that all things altogether haue bene abused and corrupted, so that the very right names of diuers of the holy men named in the Scriptures haue bene forgotten, and now seems strange vnto vs, and the names of infants, that should euer haue some godly aduertisements in them, and should bee memorials and markes of the children of God receiued into his household haue bene hereby also changed, and made the signes and badges of idolatrie and heathenish impietie: wee haue now set forth this Table of the names that bee most vsed in the Old Testament, with their interpretations, as the Hebrew importeth, partly to call backe the godly from that abuse, when they shall know the true names of the godly Fathers, and what they signifie, that their children now named after them, may haue testimonies by their very names, that they are within that faithfull familie, that in all their doings had euer God before their eyes, and that they are bound by these their names to serue God from their infancie, and haue occasion to prayse him for his workes wrought in them, and their fathers, but chiefly to restore the names to their integritie, whereby many places of the Scriptures and secret mysteries of the holy Ghost shal better bee understood. We haue medled rarely with the Greeke names, because their interpretation is uncer-taine, and many of them are corrupted from their originall, as we may also see these Hebrew names set in the margin of this Table, which haue bene corrupted by the Grecians. Now for the other Hebrew names that are not here interpreted, let not the diligent Reader bee carefull: for hee shall finde them in places most comenient amongst the annotations: at least so many as may seeme to make for any edification, and understanding of the Scriptures.
